(E's denial of unprecedented request for simultaneous leaves for Ees of all its 11 plants to attend meeting to prepare for future negotiations not violative, notwithstanding fact that E had granted individual requests for absences in past)

5072-8400 Interference with union contacting employees off employer's premises

Hackensack Hospital Association 264 NLRB No. 177
(telling Ees not to accept U literature from U organizer who was standing on public sidewalk outside hospital where Ees worked violative)

5072-8500 Interference with strike or picketing

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068
(threat to Ees that people wearing picket signs would be discharged violative)

Valley Plaza, Inc. d/b/a Captain Nemo's 258 NLRB No. 076
(requiring pickets to leave second-floor foyer in front of E's restaurant held not violative where GC did not attempt to make factual showing that pickets' presence in second-floor foyer was essential to their ability to communicate effectively with their intended audience)

Friday Canning Corporation 255 NLRB No. 052
(threatening Ees with discharge because they refused to return to work unless E would give them 30 cents per hour wage increase rather than 30 cents per hour bonus, violative)

Friday Canning Corporation 255 NLRB No. 052
(closing migrant workers' camp because Ees engaged in economic strike, violative, because this effectively severed indicia of continued employment (discharge) to which strikers are entitled; furthermore, location of barracks was away from production area and so their staying would not interfere with production process)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 034
(removing picket signs, violative)

Camay Drilling Company 254 NLRB No. 019
(E's soliciting of striking Ee to abandon ULP strike and threat to discharge him if he did not do so violative)

Inta-Roto, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 111
(where Ees engaged in economic strike, E's termination of collective-bargaining agreement violative)

Inta-Roto, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 111
(E's notification to ULP strikers that they had been permanently replaced is illegal threat of permanent replacement)

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 028
(threatening non-unit Ees with loss of jobs if they refused to cross picket line, violative)

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 190
(threatening attorney Ees with discipline for participating in clerical picket line, and entering notations in their personnel files that they had engaged in such activity, unlawful)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 081
(E which offered increased wages to picketing Ees if they returned to work violated Act)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(E's phone call to laid off discriminatee telling him don't walk the picket line, not violative, since nothing in statement constituted express or veiled threat of reprisal)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(throwing of picket signs into street, soliciting strikers to return to work with promises of wage increases, assaulting strikers and attempting to incite fight at strike locations by two supervisors, unlawful, but since acts isolated and counterproductive did not support issuance of R/O)

Giant Food Markets, Inc. and S. S. Kresge Company v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 18 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(remand for evidence on effect of relocating, pursuant to TRO, area standards pickets from private property near store entrance to public area across parking lot at entrance to 2-store shopping center and to determine, (1) whether picketing at store entrance is protected, and (2) whether E's peaceful demand that pickets leave, violated 8(a)(1))

Seattle-First National Bank v. N.L.R.B. 651 F.2d 1272 (C.A. 9, Nov 1980)
(E's threat to arrest economic strikers for picketing in foyer in front of restaurant located on 46th floor of office building violative; Section 7 rights and private property rights must be balanced and here U used only 2 pickets at a time and placing pickets in front of building would not reach restaurant customers as majority came from w/i building)

5072-8600 Retaliation for engaging in union or other protected activity

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077
(no violation where regional director of E, a U, prohibited regional representative from entering regional office w/o permission, notwithstanding regional director had previously unlawfully threatened regional represenative because of latter's protected activities; Bd found regional director would have made the prohibition regardless of regional representative's protected activities, in view of no direct expression of animus, and the director's suspicions of representative regarding items missing from the office safe)

5072-8600—Cont.

Transport Service Co. 263 NLRB No. 125
(discharge of Ee who refused to drive truck which was overweight and in violation of state law (though w/i tolerances allowed by states and therefore exempt from criminal prosecution), violative, as Ee was engaged in protected concerted activity when he refused to drive; refusals to violative state law are presumptively protected concerted actively; moreover, inquires into private motivations for asserting such reasons is limited to whether it was asserted in good faith or maliciously)

Steak and Ale Restaurant, Sharonville 263 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of Ees who engaged in protected concerted activity of protesting E's tip policy, lack of bus boy assistance and changes in health care programs, violative)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(disciplining Ee for allegedly discussing U with Ee who was working, violative)

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(where, upon ULP strikers' return to work pursuant to E's offer of substantially equivalent work at same rate of pay they received prior to strike, E offered them jobs on assembly line instead of their former service jobs, and Ees refused such jobs, E's request that they sign statements to that effect, unlawful)

Marion Rohr Corporation 261 NLRB No. 138
(telling Ees that U voted in it could not prevent him from timing bathroom visits, violative)

Marion Rohr Corporation 261 NLRB No. 138
(discharge of Ee because she had U card in her possession during nonwork-time, violative)

Marion Rohr Corporation 261 NLRB No. 138
(discharge for having U card placed in her possession during nonwork time, violative)

G & H Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 047
(discharge of probationary Ee in anticipation that he would join striking Ees at end of probationary period violative, as it was effectivated to discourage U activity in general)

M & G Convoy, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 145
(threatening Ees that he would not transfer them to new facility after he closed existing facility because they actively enforced contract terms)

Banner Tire Company 260 NLRB No. 096
(E who advised Ee he was going to be laid off and his job eliminated because his U had requested that he be paid according to U contract violated Act)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(Ee who engaged in non-violent concerted activity of joining in with 30 other non-Ee demonstrators and boisterously marching through E's restaurant during crowded dinner hour not protected where such conduct was disruptive of E's business and transgressed boundaries by which even non-violent conduct protesting E's ULP's is deemed protected by Act; therefore, discharge not violative)

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144
(after questioning Ees about their U activities, telling them that they were booked for raise violative, as it implied that benefits would be withheld because of U activity)

Hudson T. Marsden, A Sole Proprietorship 259 NLRB No. 118
(Ees who refused to work outside on rainy day and went home w/o informing E engaged in protected concerted activity and discharge violative)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 103
(reinstating striking Ees at lower pay than those Ees who did not strike and received raises violative)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 103
(where E permitted nonstriking Ees who were transferred to dayshift during strike to remain there, contrary to its prior policy forbidding shift changes, and denying returning strikers right to change shifts, it violated Act)

Truck Stations, Inc., d/b/a Woody's Truck Stops 258 NLRB No. 094
(where E issued warning to two Ees, one U member and one not and told non-U member that only reason she received warning was to avoid appearance of harrassing U member, statement violated Act as it could be construed as evidence of E's willingness to retaliate against Ees for their U activities and also to engage in subterfuge to avoid legal scrutiny of its actions)

R. C. Lapeer Builders, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 165
(refusal to reinstate sympathy strikers after un-conditional offer to return to work violative)

L & M Radiation, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 020
(layoff of Ees who had been very active in protesting about poor working conditions to management violative)

Smithfield Packing Co. 258 NLRB No. 022
(discharge of Ees who refused to work overtime more than the 8 hours E had predicted they would work violative as Ees were engaged in protected concerted activity as previous unannounced concerted refusal to work overtime prompted by dissatisfaction with E's overtime policies was presumptively concerted activity; moreover, their refusal to work does not lose its protected status because it took place during overtime hours and was not previously announced)

Continental Distributing Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 091
(discharge of Ee after he made inquiries about joining and attempted to join U, and called Bd to find out how to join U, violative where E's allegations about Ee's stealing goods from E not supported by evidence)

Rose's Stores, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 076
(unprecedented mass discharge of five Ees, who protested Sunday work assignment, assertedly because of their bad attitude held violative, where assertion was not real reason for discharge and E's unexplained failure to warn those five long-term Ees that they were in danger of discharge did not represent E's normal pattern of operations)

Town & Country LP Gas Service Co. 255 NLRB No. 144
(E's demand that Ee, who had successfully prosecuted grievance against E for earlier discharge, pay for taking E's pickup truck home at night violative, where Ees regularly drove truck home, this use was known to E, and he neither disciplined nor demanded payment from other Ees)

Vore Cinema Corp. 254 NLRB No. 167
(E's statement to Ee that she was permanently replaced because U had refused to give in to E's bargaining position, violative)

Robert Batchelor d/b/a Batchelor Electric Co., a sole proprietorship 254 NLRB No. 156
(discharge of electrician assertedly because of tardiness and failure to follow orders held violative where there was no evidence that Ee failed to follow orders, no other Ee had ever been discharged for similar record of tardiness and reason for discharge was Ee's not working in protest of E's refusal to pay Ee at prevailing wage rate on government projects; protest viewed as concerted activity objective which was matter of common interest and concern to all Ees)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 254 NLRB No. 043
(discharge of Ee after his election to U office and increased activity regarding safety conditions violative)

Maine Apple Growers, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 060
(delaying recall, after election, of seasonal apple packers, who had requested raise in wages and had directed grievance letter to E's board of directors, assertedly because they were responsible for low production held violative where E's business justification for its action had not been established; E's unlawful statement to Ees that agitation had to cease coupled with its unexplained deviation from its normal method of disciplining overly talkative Ees established E's unlawful motive)

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164
(reprimand of Ee E knew was strong U adherent, for entering engineering director's office on another Ee's behalf and proposing attempt be made to reach E's operations manager to clarify other Ee's job status held violative, since U adherent joined other Ee for purpose—of mutual aid or protection)

Red Ball Motor Freight, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 111
(discharge violative where another Ee was disciplined with only 1-day suspension for concerted activity similar to that of discharged Ee)

Red Ball Motor Freight, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 111
(discharge for Ee's alleged disruptive behavior and generally poor attitude which caused supervisor to watch her, held violative where Ee's propensity to engage in protected concerted activity caught attention of E which was motivated to engage in special surveillance of Ee's work performance and to seize upon her first alleged transgression as pretext to terminate her)

Wyman-Gordon Company 252 NLRB No. 168
(discharge of U adherent for failing to notify E that he did not attend classes for which he was subsequently paid, violative, where E's record keeping difficult to understand, Ee offered to return unearned money to E which offer refused and anti-U attitude of E)

Woonsocket Spinning Company 252 NLRB No. 163
(telling Ee he might have received bonus if he had not voted for U)

zabeth Motors, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 161
(revoking Ees privilege of working on their own cars in E's shop and using telephone for personal calls)

J. J. Security, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 180
(requiring Ees to sign resignation forms or else stop seeking improvements in their working conditions violative)

5072-8600—Cont.

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 253 NLRB No. 151
(requiring discriminatees entitled to reinstatement to be interviewed before they were allowed to return to work held violative where such requirement had no legitimate business justification)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 253 NLRB No. 151
(after her reinstatement, Ee's being assigned full time to arduous machine work when she had shared time on machine with other Ees and being denied same lunch break given other Ees in department held violative, since inference was warranted that Ee was being made to suffer for her concerted action and U activities)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 253 NLRB No. 151
(instructing Ees not to speak with reinstated Ee and to stay out of her department, held violative)

Albertsons, Inc. 252 NLRB NO. 081
(discharge of Ee for insistence on break periods provided for in collective-bargaining agreement violative)

United Services For The Handicapped 251 NLRB No. 117
(issuing reprimand and threatening to discharge Ee for not following grievance procedure, when he complained to CETA official that he, as recalled discriminatee, was working only two or three hours per day while newly hired drivers under CETA were working full time held violative, since Ee's activities in protesting his part-time status were protected activity)

Montoney (Formerly Seymour Packing Division of Seymour America, Inc.) 251 NLRB No. 047
(refusing to allow to return to work Ees who had walked off job to protest reduction in piecework rate violative and in effect constructive discharge)

Universal Service Contractors 247 NLRB No. 097
(threatening striking Ees with discharge if they did not return to work violative)

Bucyrus-Erie Company 247 NLRB No. 059
(discharge of probationary Ee violative where E asserted reason for discharge was crack in weld Ee had completed but no other Ee had ever been discharged for that reason and true motive for discharge was Ee's protesting unsafe working conditions, a protected concerted activity)

Bates & Cunningham, Inc. JD-589-81
(telling police officer who was investigating vandalism at E's premises that U adherents may have done it, violative where accusation made with no basis in fact but surely in retaliation)

Brodart, Inc. JD-148-81
(supervisor who threatened to discharge Ees for complaining about hazardous working conditions, a protected activity violated Act notwithstanding he had no authority to implement threat as Ees may not have been aware that he lacked authority)

New York State United Teachers JD-(NY)-83-81
(reprimand of Ee who had filed grievance regarding Ees' job assignments which was then in arbitration for telling delegates of affiliated organizations of E about arbitration case and which E did not want divulged, violative, since Ee's remarks concerned grievance, did not disparage his E nor reach level of impropriety or disloyalty to E which would result in remarks losing its protected nature)

Peninsula Association for Retarded Children and Adults JD-(SF)-269-80
(institution of written warning system in retaliation for filing of state back wage claims violative)

Monongahela Steel Corporation JD-392-80
(successor's refusal to hire applicant because while employed by predecessor he was leader of concerted group activity designed to establish level of wages and benefits and nature of working conditions under which they would be employed when successor took over, unlawful)

Dooley Equipment Corporation JD-218-80
(threatened discharge for voting in election)

The Berry Schools v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 966 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1980)
(failure to promote associate professor to full professorship allegedly in retaliation for organizational activity held not unlawful where record did not support finding especially in light of several good justifications of college's decision not to promote Ee)

Carlson Roofing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 77 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(in discussion with E Ees voicing their opposition in orderly fashion to E's interpretation of contract provision that Ees had to work alone on jobs and no Ee flatly refused to work alone, held protected concerted activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Greyhound Lines, Inc. 660 F.2d 354 (C.A. 8, Sep 1981)
(suspension of two Ees because they issued press release announcing intent of drivers to strictly obey speed limit over holiday weekend violative as Ees were engaged in protected activity where release related to ongoing labor dispute over 55 mph requirement, did not disparage E's reputation, and was not maliciously motivated)

Albertson's, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 930(T) (C.A. 9, Sep. 1981)
(discharge of Ee allegedly for engaging in protected activity of seeking enforcement of contract as to break periods, not unlawful, where evidence showed that Ee would have been fired for incompetence despite any U activity, and there was substantial doubt that alleged U activity was in fact more than Ee's pursuance of her own complaint of discontent)

N.L.R.B. v. W. Carter Maxwell, dba Pioneer Concrete Co. 657 F.2d 690 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(discharge of Ee for attempting to enforce overtime provisions of collective-bargaining agreement violative)

5072-8800 Supervisors' participation in intra-union activities

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 234
(fact that assertedly supervisory Ees signed ptn to E to recognize U held, in circumstances of case, not to have tainted ptn nor unduly influenced Ees who signed it)

5072-9200 Interference with intra-union activities

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(letter to dissident U Ee warning him of discipline connected with E's disparate enforcement of contractual limitation on use of bulleting board)

Camay Drilling Company 254 NLRB No. 019
(E who sent letter to ULP strikers stating that it would never settle with U unless U withdrew its fines on Ees who crossed picket line violated Act as E may not communicate with Ees on issue which is internal U affair while it is engaged in ULPs, letter is attempt to undercut U's status)

Welfare and Pension Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29 and Their Trustees Louis Sanzo, Amadio A. Petito, Paul Crowley, and Theodore King 251 NLRB No. 165
(Ee of U pension fund involved in protected intra-U activity when he protested to President of U.S. about loss of U jobs, how members were referred to jobs, sought reelection as secretary-treasurer of U; discharge for such activity violative)

Adbill Management Corporation d/b/a Limetree Beach Hotel JD-61-82
(E's asking Ees to declare their feelings on appointment of particular Ee as U steward and telling Ees that E would never have chosen her to be shop steward, violative; E was intruding into enclave which was business of no one but the U)

5072-9900 Interference with or attempt to influence intra-U election

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American Menswear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(E's statement to Ee who, during her campaign for U office distributed leaflet depicting E and U official in caricature with arms linked, that E could sue Ee for slander, not unlawful, where E's remark was not critical of leaflet's political message nor related to Ee's intra-U activities, but rather was directed to misspelling of his name and portrayal of him in caricature)

Botany 500, A Division of Rapid-American Menswear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 075
(E's statement to Ee, engaged in campaign for U office, ordering her back to her work area and stating he ought to have her locked up for damage she had already done, not unlawful, where E made no specific reference to Ee's electioneering, there was no evidence establishing that E knew Ee was campaigning, and there is no showing that Ee had campaign material in her possession at that time)

5078 INTERFERENCE WITH ELECTION OR REPRESENTATION PROCEEDINGS OF BOARD

5078-2000 Assistance to one of competing unions

St. Regis Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 487 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ees who struck E during critical period to gain recognition for U, rival of petitioner, not unlawful, since if E, during pendency of election proceedings, had recognized rival U as bargaining agent, it would have been guilty of interference with Bd's election procedures as well as ULP in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of Act)

5078-3000 Midwest piping doctrine

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116
(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

5078-6000 Efforts to influence result

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(where Ees are paid on commission basis, telling Ees before election that it had solved overstaffing problem by firing Ee, violation as it was grant of benefit by enlarged commission earning opportunities)

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138
(bonus given to Ee, unlawful, where bonus was not only unscheduled but also unprecedented, and Ee was puzzled by grant of bonus since he felt his work had not changed in either quantity or quality, which leads to conclusion that E was attempting to influence Ee's vote in coming election)

Duane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030
(conduct which does not interfere with conduct of election a fortiori, would not constitute violation of Sec. 8(a)(1))

Catalina Yachts 250 NLRB No. 048
(distributing Vote No buttons and T-shirts as well to Ees, unlawful since Ees were forced to manifest their choices and the shirts were of value to Ees and intended to influence their votes; inducement of Ee to wear Vote No button, unlawful for same reasons)

United Maintenance Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-82
(telling Ee that if E decided to vote in U election, he should vote no, violative)

Brueckner Sand & Gravel, Inc. JD-(SF)-312/81
(posting of notice suggesting and encouraging Ees to seek recall vote from Bd after U won election, violative)

5078-6020 Concessions to influence vote

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(granting Ees dental plan 16 days before election, violative where motivation was to head of U drive at store involved in instant case and at another chain in area that was part of same holding company)

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144
(after telling Ee that he could not give bonus because the NLRB will be on my ass, granting bonus with comment, I still don't know how you're going to go, i.e.; vote, violative as example of first inside velvet glove and related to vote in upcoming election)

Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 096
(E's announcement, during U campaign, that Ee would receive pay raise and improved group insurance not violative where benefits were given company wide to let Ees catch up to those Ees at unionized plants)

Duane Heating Corporation 254 NLRB No. 030
(excusing Ees from work rest of day after voting violative as economic benefit and creating belief that E was source of all largesse)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(bus service provided by E to its Ees week before election and continued only until after election found objectionable, since conduct provided preelection benefit and limited ability of U to communicate with Ees)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021
(bonus given to all Ees prior to election violative where past practice had been that only Ees who had been employed over 1 year received bonus)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(increase granted immediately prior to election while Ees were on strike violative)

J. H. Block & Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 041
(E who revoked written warning to Ee 1 week prior to election with purpose of causing Ees to reject U as their bargaining representative violated Act)

J. J. Cassone Bakery, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 032
(increase in excess of amounts required by newly announced federal minimum wage rate, not unlawful and not interference with election, where in accordance with E's prior bookkeeping procedures E essayed to pay wage increase in increments of 25 cents in order to simplify its payroll calculations, increases were not announced or paid prior to election, and there was otherwise no evidence that E had object of influencing Ees in their choice of representative)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
(instituting new educational program before election, unlawful)

John V. Lane, P.C. d/b/a American Dental Centers JD-(NY)-110-82
(announcing preexisting benefits to its Ees during U campaign not violative even if Ees not aware of these benefits as to prevent this would deprive E of legitimate campaign strategy. However, E must be legally committed to those benefits and not be able to discontinue them. Furthermore, E can not husband benefits until right before election and spring them on Ees in manner calculated to influence their choice)

5078-6025 Withholding benefits to influence vote

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 084
(telling strikers that he would not be hiring again until after U election, violative)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
(discriminatorily denying benefits of newly-instituted educational program to leader of organizing campaign, unlawful)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
(revising long-standing policy prohibiting beards, and shortly before election permitting Ees to grow beards, unlawful)

The Morley Boat Transfer Company JD-(SF)-243-80
(no violation where E who recently purchased plant promised that new wages and benefits package would take effect on certain date but before election told Ees that if U won, E would negotiate with U concerning wages and benefits, where E's package was discretionary and amount had not been determined before advent of U or election)

N.L.R.B. v. Travis Meat and Seafood Company, Inc. 683 F.2d 233 (C.A. 6, June 1980)
(telling Ees that company was not free to grant wage increases during organizing drive, violative)

Simpson Electric Company, a Division of American Gage and Machine Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 15 (C.A. 7, July 1981)
(E's announcing pay increase or withholding one with intent to influence ongoing (U) organizing drive or R election, violative)

5078-6030 Concessions to have employee refrain from voting

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144
(violation where manager, after soliciting grievances, told Ees that he would improve employment conditions if they would withdraw their support of U before election)

5078-6035 Accelerating effective date of wage increase

General Rental Co. d/b/a Avis Rent–A–Car 247 NLRB No. 188
(violation where E accelerated announcement and effective date of wage increase and added benefits in order to influence Ees during election campaign)

5078-6040 Electioneering

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(asking Ee whether he has read company campaign literature and insisting that he read it, violative and objectionable conduct)

5078-6050 Promise of or grant of benefit

Huntington Rubber Company, Division of New Idria, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 133
(E's announcement of new safety program in which it would provide Ees with safety glasses and shoes violative where announced in context of anti-U presentation and was attempt to dissuade Ees from supporting U)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(E's statement to Ees that he knew they were on his side and that they could work together, followed by statement that E would pay monthly insurance premium which up till then Ees had been expected to pay, unlawful; even though benefit was not expressly made dependent upon Ees' rejection of U, E's offer indicated a coercive purpose and intent to undermine support for U in subsequent election)

Richland Co. & Assoc., Division of McDonald Construction, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 026
(preelection promise to Ees of maternity insurance which was to take effect after election, and grant of such benefit after U lost election, unlawful)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(E's letter to Ees, before election, pleading with them to vote no in election and to give E a year to prove himself held violative, since latter statement conveyed promise to be responsive to Ee needs)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083
(formal promise to grant specific wage increase to avoid unionization, violative, notwithstanding that prior to organizing campaign E made vague promise of wage increase)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 090
(promising Ees wage increase if they withheld their support from Us, held violative)

St. Francis Hospital 249 NLRB No. 017
(working conditions would improve if U lost election)

Carbonex Coal Company 248 NLRB No. 107
(promise to Ees of tonnage bonus if U was defeated)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 018
(violation where at preelection meetings E impliedly promised and then granted benefits by soliciting presentation of, and adjusting, grievances in effort to discourage U support)

Harvard Cooperative Society, Inc. JD-246-82
(extending sales incentive bonus program to Ees other than managers after knowledge of U campaign and repeating program with payoffs shortly before election violative, as timing payoffs in second program shortly before election was attributed only to E's intent to influence election)

5078-4050—Cont.

Chef's Pantry, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 498 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(violation where E during critical period had promised and granted benefits, had solicited and adjusted grievances, and had threatened its Ees with imposition of more onerous working conditions)

Simpson Electric Company, a Division of American Gage and Machine Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 15 (C.A. 7, July 1981)
(E's announcing pay increase or withholding one with intent to influence ongoing (U) organizing drive or R election, violative)

Faith Garment Company, Division of Dunhall Pharmaceutical, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 630 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(notwithstanding decision to grant pension benefits was made prior to onset of organizational campaign, announcement of pension plan and presentation to Ees of misprinted certificates w/o comment on error during anti-U speech day before election held violative where these facts provide substantial support for Bd's finding that purpose of announcement was to cause Ees to reject U)

The Wackenhut Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 464 (C.A. 11, Jan. 1982)
(letter and leaflets distributed by E to its Ees, two weeks before election, announcing a better medical plan for Ees at increased cost to be absorbed by E, held violative and election set aside, since E may not grant new benefits on change existing conditions of employment during election campaign for purpose of influencing Ees' choice in election)

5078-4055 Threats

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 139
(supervisor's statement to Ee that Ee could save his job by telling E that Ee was going to vote for company instead of U, unlawful)

Alpha Cellulose Corporation 265 NLRB No. 010
(E's letter indicating to Ees not only that, if they struck, they could be permanently replaced, as is permitted, but that they could lose their jobs as result of striking held unlawful and interference with election, since such clear threats to sever employment relationships in event Ees engage in economic strike amount to unlawful threats of job loss)

Alpha Cellulose Corporation 265 NLRB No. 010
(E's letter to Ees held unlawful and basis for valid objection to election, where letter, when read in light of E's prior letter to Ees found unlawful herein because it stated that Ees could lose their jobs as result of engaging in economic strike, confirmed to Ees that an exercise of their right to strike would, as a matter of course, lead to permanent loss of their jobs and accompanying benefits)

Air Transit, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 064
(threatening Ees because they gave testimony at hearing in Bd R proceeding, unlawful)

M & G Fleet Service, Inc. JD-(ATL)-60-82
(telling Ee that he was going to have bad luck and be out of job if U won and that company president would shoot him if he talked about U at E's other facility violative in view of E's coercive interrogation of Ees and threats of plant closure, no bargaining or signing of contract and it conveyed impression of surveillance)

5078-4060 Expression of antagonism against petitioning union

N.L.R.B. v. Marine World USA 611 F.2d 1274 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1980)
(ct found that statements distributed in letters to Ees by E before election, though critical of U, did not on their face threaten reprisals or force or promise benefits depending on outcome of election; however, ct remanded to Bd issues of freedom of speech in context of labor relations under Sec. 8(c), general hostility in past association with U, and intended and understood message of E's memoranda with respect to whether they contained implied threats or promises)

5078-4070 Hiring or retaining antiunion employees

Airborne Freight Corporation 263 NLRB No. 181
(violation where E packed unit with Ees opposed to U immediately after U demanded recognition based on card majority as shown by wife of E's regional manager soliciting new hires at sports club because E wanted somebody part-time to vote against the union and her husband hiring inexperienced women thus solicited)

ABC Liquors, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 174
(hiring Ee so that he would be eligible to vote against U in election)

Trend Construction Corporation and General Electric Corporation, Individually and as Joint Employers 263 NLRB No. 044
(violation, where E paid travel expenses for individuals to come from distant state and hired them for construction job in preference to applicants from area, thus doubling size of unit where that quantity of Ees not needed for job and individuals hired unable to perform simplest tasks of craft for which hired, in order to pack unit and thwart obtaining U representation)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 061
(E's sudden and unprecedented attempt to pack bargaining units of salesmen and clerks with new Ees prior to election in two appropriate units held violative, since action was attempt to dilute, emasculate and destroy Us' majority status)

5078-4080 Changes in conditions of employment or threats thereof or statements made in connection with election

Gurabo Lace Mills, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 044
(E who issued warnings to two Ees two days after it received notice R hearing would be held found to have violated Act in as much as warnings were issued in retaliation for U activities; however, no evidence that warnings, standing alone, were issued for purpose of influencing outcome of hearing; therefore, R-hearing not tainted and evidence of supervisory status of Ee adduced at hearing considered along with evidence presented at ULP hearing for determination of supervisory status in second hearing)

Life Savers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 162
(letter to Ees stating that if Ees elected U it could jeopardize continued effectiveness of our plant and Ees' jobs and livelihoods could be affected, violative where E did not show that such prediction was based on objective facts)

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(violation where E told Ees during meeting that if E lost election E would tie up results for one or more years and cause wages and benefits to be frozen for that period)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(even assuming E could not be found to have initiated, promoted, aided, or participated in distribution of raffle tickets for all expense paid trip to E's new facilities in Hong Kong, and for signs appearing in plant stating Vote No or Move to Hong Kong and similar signs, raffle tickets and signs appearing 2 weeks before election held unlawful threats of plant closure, since E was aware of such activity and had duty to unequivocally disavow any responsibility for such material, but E failed to do so even though it had ample time)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E's preelection remarks to Ees at mass meeting, and distribution of leaflet, referring to high unemployment rate in State and corresponding loss of U membership throughout country, and statement that no company can possibly give what U promises and still stay in this competitive business held unlawful implied threat of plant closure)

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(discharging experienced clothing salesman who signed U card, discussed U with other Ees and had been steward at prior E violative where several shortcomings alleged at hearing were not stated at exist interview)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(E's statement to Ees on different occasions that, if he were able to remove 50 percent of U supporters, he would be able to win election, unlawful; such statement was highly persuasive of E's unlawful motive in refusing to recognize and bargain with U and in discharging or failing to retain certain U Ees who had been employed by predecessor E)

Gould, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 002
(threatening, before election, to eliminate E's open door policy for discussion of complaints and grievance, violative because it penalizes Ees for exercise of statutory rights, as Sec. 9(a) guarantees Ees right to bring problems directly to E as long as U agent has right to be present and adjustment is not contrary to contract. E was not discribing typical grievance procedure but was threatening total cessation of all contacts between management and Ees)

Halo Lighting Division of McGraw Edison Company 259 NLRB No. 006
(supervisor's preelection threat that, if E lost incumbent U's label as result of U's loss of election, E would have to lay off half of the Ees, and lay off some of the supervisors and reduce salaries, unlawful)

U.S. Contractors, Inc., and The Dow Chemical Company, U.S.A., Texas Division 257 NLRB No. 153
(supervisor's statement to Ee before election that if E's janitors unionized they would definitely go out the gate held violative, since supervisor admitted that he openly related unionism to (Ees') job uncertainty)

Richland Co. & Assoc., Division of McDonald Construction, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 026
(threat to discontinue paying Ee insurance premiums for which Ees would probably be billed if U won election, but that they would not have to pay if U lost, unlawful)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 064
(supervisors' pre-election statements to Ees to effect that if U got in, E's sole customer for steel cans would switch to less costly aluminum cans and (E) would be forced to shut down held violative, since E had not met its burden of providing objective factual basis for statements because it does not necessarily follow that a U election victory per se would increase E's labor costs disproportionately to customer's willingness to pay)

5078-4080—Cont.

Propellex Corporation, a Subsidiary of Essex Cryogenics Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 037

(election set aside and second election ordered, where prior to first election, E threatened Ees with loss of wages and overtime compensation, with loss of insurance, seniority, and vacation benefits, and with imposition of more onerous working conditions in event that Ees selected U as their bargaining agent)

Blue Bird Body Company 261 NLRB No. 196

(E's prepared anti U speech made to eligible voters prior to election, violative where E used symbol of living or dying Bluebird as reference to company E and such use was implied threat of plant closure or removal if Ees chose U to be their representative)

Charles Deem d/b/a Hopp Tapp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154

(foreman's threatening Ees that E would discharge Ees who voted for U held violative)

Charles Deem d/b/a Hopp Tapp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154

(telling Ee that Ee had better talk to his brother, fellow Ee, and get him to vote no in election or brother would not be working there any longer, violative)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153

(supervisor's statement to U advocate that he should not expect E to continue its practice of accomodating Ees, who also wanted to attend school, in event U was voted in, held violative, since statement suggested reprisals in form of denial of existing benefits in response to Ees' decision to select U)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040

(telling Ee that E intended to fire U activist if E lost R election)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040

(warning Ees, prior to rerun election, that if U was successful in organizing Ees and if they went on strike and no agreement reached on contract E could get rid of (them) and bring in a whole crew, held violative)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040

(assertion by E that if U represented Ees, E would be unable to make Ee transfers from one department to another and we would have to lay you off, held violative)

J. H. Black & Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 041

(E who revoked written warning to Ee 1 week prior to election with purpose of causing Ees to reject U as their bargaining representative violated Act)

J. H. Black & Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 041

(E's announcement to Ees that it had discharged both plant and production managers not violative absent evidence to show that they had mistreated Ees or how their discharges would benefit Ees)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(informing Ees that in event they selected U they would be unable to meet directly with management to talk about grievances and other matters, unlawful and interference with election; while E may explain that U will be participant in E-Ee relations generally, E cannot threaten to cut off unilaterally permissible direct dealing with Ees for selecting U)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82

(E did not interfere with election nor unlawfully threaten Ees with closure of its facility in order to influence Ees to vote against U, where statement regarding posibility of closure if certain Ees struck related to different group of Ees than those involved in organizational campaign, and due to E's adverse financial situation at the time, such statement was not an unreasonable prediction)

Dooley Equipment Corporation JD-215-80

(threatened discharge for voting in election)

N.L.R.B. v. Gibraltar Industries, Inc. and Case, Inc. 653 F.2d 1091 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(preelection speeches to E's Ees by another E at their E's request, and well-known to Ees as one of their E's principal customers, violative where such E's comments carried veiled but strong threat of serious economic repercussions if U won election and were based on unwarranted hypothetical assumptions; and his statements as to effect of U's bargaining demands on his own plant tended to characterise unionization at Ees' own plant as threat to their E's business, and in turn, to Ees' own livelihoods)

5078-4085 Inducing fraudulent vote

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003

(offering Ees money if they would vote against U violative)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 082

(willfully placing name of Ee, who was not eligible to vote, on voter eligibility list furnished Bd, unlawful, in view of E's hostility to U and knowledge that Ee intended to vote against U representation)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(E's submitting voting eligibility list, in connection with election, containing name of person who was never employed by E held violative, since conduct was attempt to fix election in favor of E and as such was deliberate abuse of Bd's processes)

5078-4090 Misrepresentations

Alpha Cellulose Corporation 265 NLRB No. 010

(E's letter to Ees declaring that wages and benefits would be frozen during contract negotiations held unlawful and interference with election, since E thereby misinformed Ees by stating that negotiations prevented wage increases and implied that rejection of U would free E to grant raises and other benefits, thereby leading Ees to conclude that penalty was attached to exercise of their rights in choosing U; E has general duty to proceed as it would have in absence of U and, even during negotiations, E may lawfully implement benefits which have become conditions of employment by virtue of prior commitment or practice)

5078-7000 Refusal to furnish Excelsior list

St. Francis Hospital 249 NLRB No. 017

(where excelsior list provided by E contained some incorrect and misleading information; such as, surnames and first and middle initials and E failed to inform R/O of corrected addresses, no violation as no evidence that E intended to willfully frustrate Bd processes; however, if facts revealed such willfulness violation could be found)

5078-8000 Restraining employees from voting

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 034

(telling strikers that he would not be hiring again until after U election, violative)

Mastercraft Leather Manufacturing Company, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 065

(statement by E president to U organizer, asking her whether she wanted to stay home on day of election and telling her she should do so if she desired, unlawful)

American Sunroof Corporation; et al. 248 NLRB No. 038

(interfering with Ee's right to vote in U election by questioning her eligibility while expressing opinion that she should not vote or that it would look bad for other departments or Ees for her to vote, unlawful)

New World's Restaurant d/b/a Sunbird Restaurant JD-(SF)-288-82

(violation, where E attempted to prevent discriminatees from voting in election by ordering them to leave restaurant and calling police to arrest them if they refused to leave)

United Maintenance Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-82

(telling Ee not to vote in U election, violative)

5078-8100 Curtailing employee's union activities by promotion to supervisor

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 145

(promotion of housekeeper who was U adherent to assistant executive housekeeper a few days before election and where position of a second assistant executive housekeeper had not existed before, violative, since purpose of promotion was to curtail her U activities)

5078-8800 Questioning employees on how they or their fellow employees would vote

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 268 NLRB No. 144

(supervisor's asking Ee how The girls are going to vote, violative)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(questioning Ees on day of election on whether they had voted or not, unlawful, where E offered no legitimate reason for interrogation and no legitimate purpose existed other than to coerce Ees into renouncing U; E gave no assurances against reprisals; and at least one interrogation of Ee was conducted in department manager's office constituting the locus of managerial authority)

Emerson G. M. Diesel, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 168

(demanding that Ees state whether they planned to vote for U and later attempting to verify their intentions, unlawful)

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. JD-(ATL)-99-81

(supervisor telling Ee that if he marked ballot no supervisor would mail ballot in, held coercive)

5078-9000 Questioning employees on how they voted

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(supervisor's questioning Ees on day of election whether or not they had voted in election, unlawful, when considered in light of E's other coercive conduct; and in view of supervisor's known opposition to U and her high-level supervisory status, her action could well be interpreted by Ees as an edict by E to vote against U)

5078-9000—Cont.

Catalina Yachts 260 NLRB No. 049
(distributing Vote No buttons and T-shirts as well to Ees, unlawful since Ees were forced to manifest their choices and the shirts were of value to Ees and intended to influence their votes; inducement of Ee to wear Vote No button, unlawful for same reasons)

Connecticut Foundry Company 247 NLRB No. 145
(E who asked returned striker if he had voted for U when Ee asked for raise violated Act)

5078-9300 Rewarding employees for union's defeat in election

M & G Fleet Service, Inc. JD-(ATL)-60-82
(telling Ees that they might get increased pay if U lost election, violative)

United Maintenance Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-82
(post-election promise to give raise to Ee because U lost election violative as it is unlawful to reward Ees for rejecting U representation)

5078-9900 Other

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 159
(supervisor's implied threats to Ee, in context of specific unlawful threats found herein, and supervisor's statement that E could look at Ee's U authorization card to verify his signature, and that supervisor could tell E how Ee voted, unlawful)

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205
(E's conduct in extracting from Ee a promise to vote against U, unlawful)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(E's letter directing its Ees to report their contacts with U during its organizational campaign, unlawful and interference with election, where E's claim that soliciting Ees to report any invasion of their privacy was lawful was too broad and could reasonably cover mere attempts by pro-U Ees to contact other Ees at their homes, which is contemplated by requiring E to furnish names and addresses of Ees eligible to vote under Excelsior rule)

Ellis Hospital JD-164-82
(E's distribution of literature indicating to Ees that it would be virtually impossible to decertify U and that fine could be imposed for attempting to do so, not unlawful and not interference with election, where E correctly paraphrased U's constitution)

5081 INTERFERENCE WITH BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Cortez Corporation JD-436-80
(Ee utilization of Bd's remedial processes is protected by Sec. 7 of Act, and there should be as great a freedom to ask Bd for relief as there is to petition any other department of government for redress of grievances; moreover, protection of Act is not limited to only meritorious pleas to Bd)

5081-1700 Interference with Board investigation

Morton Rosen, Selma Rosen and Sanford Rosen t/a
Sylvan Manor Health Care Center 264 NLRB No. 170
(notice posted by E stating that it knew that some Ees had received phone calls from persons stating they were from Bd asking them about work, that these calls were false and that Ees should hang up on caller and notify E, violative, notwithstanding there is no evidence it interfered with investigation since E knew that charge had been filed with Bd)

Hadison Manufacturing Co. 260 NLRB No. 137
(E who published in newspaper and posted on plant bulletin board notice requesting Ees who were interviewed by or gave statements to Bd agents to identify themselves to E violated Act because written request that Ees who have cooperated with Bd investigation into E's alleged ULP's identify themselves is coercive where E did not state purpose of request, no assurances against reprisal were given; such requests create fear that E may retaliate against Ees who gave statements)

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 258 NLRB No. 134
(discouraging Ees from giving affidavits to Bd investigators by telling them they would probably have to testify in court, unlawful)

Art Steel of California, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 140
(issuing warning notice to U adherent assertedly for leaving his department and going into another department w/o permission and —talking to a government person— in violation of E's rule, held violative, since Ee was involved in taking inventory and was not assigned to particular department, but instead, had to go from department to department; warning notice was given Ee after Ee had spoken to Bd agent investigating ULP charges against E)

SAS Ambulance Service, Inc., d/b/a Florida
Ambulance Service; et al. 255 NLRB No. 031
(threatening Ee with lawsuit because of his cooperation with Bd, violative)

Bechtel Power Corporation 248 NLRB No. 166
(E's insistence that supervisor who had filed charges with Bd could talk to Bd agent only in presence of company attorney, violative, since presence of company attorney would inhibit supervisor in giving information regarding charges filed in aid of all Ees)

Four Rivers Coal Company JD-289-80
(violation where E warned and instructed Ee not to sign statements for GC then investigating and prosecuting ULP case and requested a copy of any statement signed by such Ee)

Albertson's Inc. JD-(SF)-104-80
(questioning Ee about Ee's participation in Bd investigation, unlawful, since E did not show that questioning was for legitimate purpose and there was no requisite showing of voluntariness to Ee's participation in questioning)

N.L.R.B. v. Garry Manufacturing Company 630 F.2d 934 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(ct reversed Bd's finding that E's notice to Ees after U had lost election and after Bd's complaint against E had issued advising them they were not obligated to talk to Bd agent or sign anything, and that agent only wanted Ees' signatures to force E to recognize U was unlawful, especially because subsequent notice cured any coercive effect in first notice by stating Ees were free to talk to agent and that technically agent was assisting Bd attorney who would be presenting the case and would not actually be working for U)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)

(warning of harassment from Bd agents, violative)

5081-3300 Interference with testimony of Board witness

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 158
(violation where E discussed with Ees who were subpoenaed by Bd about enforceability of subpoenas and then voiced to Ees how decision of whether or not to go was theirs)

Sterling Sugars, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 071
(threatening Ee with unspecified reprisals and discharge if he testified against E, violative since it was clear attempt to interfere with Bd's processes)

Amoco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/
Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 036
(E who informed Ee she did not have to comply with Bd subpoena, and that she was free to decide herself whether to go to hearing violated Act)

Litton Mellonics Systems Division, A Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 004
(E's advice to individuals not to comply with Bd subpoenas, not unlawful, where E correctly believed subpoenas were invalid because they were blank and not accompanied by witness or mileage fees; moreover, E intended to quash subpoenas, high level management officials and direct supervisors were going to testify, and E advised individuals to remain near telephones in case ALJ did not grant mtn to quash and wanted them present at hearing)

Cumberland Farms Dairy of New York, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 120
(telling Ees that they would be fired if they testified in proceeding on behalf of fellow Ee who was discriminatorily discharged, violative)

St. Mary's Home, Inc. t/a St. Mary's Infant Home 258 NLRB No. 134
(discouraging Ees from testifying in support of ULP charges by telling them they would have knots in their stomachs as consequence of the grilling of lawyers, unlawful)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(E's owner asking Ee who was testifying at Bd hearing who is going to support your mother when you don't have a job unlawful, since reference to continued employment where not coupled with reference to Ee's taking time off from work that day)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033
(E's refusal to compensate Ee for wages lost while testifying in his capacity as U officer in Bd case to which E was not party, not unlawful, absent express contractual commitment and where not in retaliation for U activity or testifying; fact E had previously paid compensation to same officer in similar situation as result of grievance settlement did not establish precedent or law of the shop, nor did contract provision providing for compensation for loss due to jury duty or as witness subpoenaed by ct of law require payment)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033
(E's refusal to pay witness fees to compensate for lost wages to Ees subpoenaed for Bd hearing by oppositions not unlawful)

Building Material & Dump Truck Drivers, Local Union No. 420, Teamsters (Leonard
Worthington, an Individual) 257 NLRB No. 161
(discharge of Ee for not first consulting with E's counsel before giving sworn statement to Bd agent during investigation of charge against Ee's E violative since E never had rule requiring Ee to so consult)

Humana Corp. d/b/a Sunrise Hospital Medical Center 256 NLRB No. 176
(soliciting Ees to give false testimony before Bd concerning deauthorization pm)

5081-3300—Cont.

Rolligon Corporation 254 NLRB No. 004
(E's comments to Ees seeking time off to attend Bd hearing pursuant to Bd subpenas distributed by U, informing them that subpenas were invalid because they were not accompanied by witness and mileage fees and that Ees were free to dishonor them, not unlawful, where subpenas were defective on their face because not accompanied by such fees and, therefore, E's comments were accurate description of Ees' privilege not to comply with them, and E clearly informed Ees that they were free to honor subpenas and that no action would be taken against any Ee who chose to do so)

Post Manufacturing Company 251 NLRB No. 153
(no violation where in response to subpoenaed witness's question as to what could be done to her if she did not appear at hearing, E's lawyer said nothing much unless Bd sought enforcement, since attorney under no obligation to affirmatively advise witness of her obligation to honor subpoena in absence of question regarding whether to appear or not)

Delta Faucet Company, a Division of Masco Corporation of Indiana 251 NLRB No. 071
(suggesting to Ee that she could disregard Bd subpoena, encouraging her not to appear at Bd hearing and threatening her with reprisal unless she testified favorably to E, unlawful)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(E's suggestion to Ee, when Ee produced subpoena requiring his presence at Bd hearing, that Ee remember that E had told Ee to tell the guys to stay at the machines, held violative of 8(a)(1) but not 8(a)(4), since E thereby restrained and coerced Ee in exercise of protected right and obligation to give testimony under Act)

Rawhide Mining Corporation a/k/a Gex of Colorado, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 079
(violation where, when Ee mentioned that he had been subpoenaed and intended to try to stay close to what his affidavit to NLRB officer said when he testified, E's agent asked to see his affidavit; assurance that production of affidavit was voluntary did not exculpate request)

Sly's Foods Inc., d/b/a Scotty's I.G.A. 249 NLRB No. 132
(questioning Ee regarding investigation by Bd agent)

The Nestle Company 248 NLRB No. 106
(foreman's questioning U adherent, regarding Ee's testimony at Bd hearing held violative, since such interrogation interfered with Ee's right to participate in Bd processes, as well as the right to engage in U activity)

Coastline Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 100
(telling Ee that he would be reinstated if he withdrew his charge against E and that he should not testify against E in Bd hearing, unlawful)

Tarpon Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(asking Ee who was expected to be subpoened to testify at Bd hearing if she had received a paper about going to ct and that if it came by registered mail she did not have to pick it up at the post office and nothing could be done about it if she did not pick it up)

Mid-East Consolidation Warehouse, A Division of Ethan Allen, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 090
(refusal to permit subpoenaed Ee to attend Bd hearing, violative)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E's speech stating to Ees that it would learn at trial identity of Ees who made allegedly false accusations against E, unlawful, since it tended to create fear of retaliation in minds of Ees who identified themselves in such manner, and E thereby inhibited vindication of their statutory rights by their testimony at Bd hearing)

Hammond Plastic, Division of Carl Gordon Industries, Inc. JD-583-81
(instructing Ee not to attend NLRB representation hearing or to attend and give false testimony, unlawful)

Dubuque Packing Company JD-290-82
(threatening Ee with reprisal for testifying in Federal District at 10(j) proceeding violative)

Four Rivers Coal Company JD-289-80
(violation where E warned and instructed Ee not to sign statements for GC then investigating and prosecuting ULP case and requested a copy of any statement signed by such Ee)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(harassment of Ee about testimony adverse to E that she had given at prior Bd hearing, unlawful)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(soliciting Ees not to testify before Bd, violative)

5081-4300 Interference with Board-ordered remedies

Thermo Transport, Inc. JD-804-80
(private agreement between E and two of summarily-found discriminatees whereby, in lieu of backpay possibly due them by virtue of E's ULPs, discriminatees agreed to become equal partners with stock ownership in new E aided corporation held violative, since agreement interfered with application of Bd's remedies, which are provided as public right)

5081-4600 Soliciting employee's testimony at Board proceeding

Madison Manufacturing Co. 260 NLRB No. 137
(E who published in newspaper and posted on plant bulletin board notice requesting Ees who were interviewed by or gave statements to Bd agents to identify themselves to E violated Act because written request that Ees who have cooperated with Bd investigation into E's alleged ULP's identify themselves is coercive where E did not state purpose of request, no assurances against reprisal were given; such requests create fear that E may retaliate against Ees who gave statements)

Viracon, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 037
(soliciting Ees to testify on E's behalf at impending ULP hearing, violative)

5081-6700 Requesting copies of employees' statement to Board

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(E's request that Ees request from NLRB and furnish E copies of statements Ees had given to NLRB, not unlawful, in view of circumstances since no coercion where prior to request Ees were called individually to personnel office for meeting with E's attorney and personnel manager, told attendance was voluntary, purpose of questioning was to prepare for Bd hearing on objections to election, no conditions attached to talking with E, no promises given or threats made, and Ees asked if they had objection to NLRB giving E's lawyer copy of affidavit prior to hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. W. Carter Maxwell, dba Pioneer Concrete Co. 637 F.2d 698 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(E who requested Ee to obtain copy of his affidavit from Bd violated Section 8(a)(1) per se where he did not assure Ee that no reprisals would be taken against him, and did not show that requested statement was needed for trial preparation)

5081-7000 Interference with access to Bd processes

Salem Transportation Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 155
(telling Ee that he was harassing E by filing charges with governmental agencies, including NLRB, violative)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(threatening Ees with reprisals for engaging in protected activity of filing charges with Bd and grievance under contract, unlawful)

Cortez Corporation JD-426-80
(interrogating Ee concerning ULP charge he had filed against E with Bd, and threatening Ee with physical harm and referring to Ee in racially derogatory manner because he had done so, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Donald E. Hernly, Inc. 613 F.2d 457 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(enforcement denied where ct adhered to standards set down in Bourne in regard to whether E's interrogation of Ee violated 8(a)(1) and found that record in proceedings lacked substantial evidence to support conclusions contrary to those of ALJ, or to support view that interrogation in any way interfered with Ee rights)

5081-7800 Abuse or misuse of Board processes

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(soliciting and finally coercing Ee to sign false statement saying that U representative threatened to kill him if he did not vote for U and subsequently filing ULP charge against U regarding statement, violative)

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097
(when GC filed cross-exception to part of ALJ order, and Respondent filed document labeled answering brief which was not response to GC cross-exception but was instead reply to GC's answering brief to Respondent's exceptions, this is abuse of Bd's processes which limit parties to one brief in support of, and one brief in opposition to, each set of exceptions and cross-exceptions)

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cummins Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 065
(manager's falsely signing unit Ee's name, while in presence of another Ee, on showing of interest statement supporting decertification ptn)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(E's submitting voting eligibility list, in connection with election, containing name of person who was never employed by E held violative, since conduct was attempt to fix election in favor of E and as such was deliberate abuse of Bd's processes)

5081-8700 Inducement of withdrawal of charges

American Interstate Freight Lines 256 NLRB No. 131
(threat of discharge if Ee filed appeal to RD's dismissal of his charge, violative)

Shirt Shed, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 042
(threat to discipline Ee if she did not withdraw charges filed with Bd by U on her behalf violative)

5081-8700—Cont.

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072

(E's statement to Ee that he was creating a hell of an image... and not helping yourself by filing charges with Bd and grievance under contract, and that Ee should drop his charges with Bd, and that he could not win and was hurting himself in E's eyes, unlawful)

Coastline Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 100

(telling Ee that he would be reinstated if he withdrew his charge against E and that he should not testify against E in Bd hearing, unlawful)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

(E's owner threatening not to sign contract negotiated with Ee committee unless ULP charges and ptn withdrawn, stating ptn had been filed by outside U and there was no purpose in ptn since Ees had approved contract between E and committee, unlawful)

5082 ACTIONS AGAINST SUPERVISOR

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100

(in light of Bd's Parker-Robb Chevrolet decision issued subsequent to issuance of ALJ's decision, Bd reversed ALJ's finding that discharge of supervisor for participating in strike in protest over working conditions at E's plant violated 8(a)(1), since in Parker-Robb Bd held that discharge of supervisors for participating in U or concerted activity is not unlawful)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

(if Ee were found supervisory, as claimed by E, her discharge in mistaken belief that she was engaged in protected activity of organizing walkout in protest over working conditions, would be unlawful, since E engaged in misconduct against Ees and supervisors alike in order to undermine U)

Sheraton Puerto Rico Corp. d/b/a Puerto Rico Sheraton Hotel 248 NLRB No. 113

(discharge of Ees for drafting, mailing, and distributing letter which complained about manager's operation of hotel and which was signed by supervisors as well as other Ees and sent to E, violative since Ees' conduct constituted legitimate concerted activity w/i meaning of Sec. 7, and discharge of supervisory/managerial personnel for their participation was also violative because of natural tendency of these discharges to discourage Ees from exercising rights guaranteed them in Sec. 7)

DRW Corporation d/b/a Brothers Three Cabinets 248 NLRB No. 095

(vindication of Ees Section 7 rights is basis for reinstatement of violatively discharged supervisor not protecting supervisor for his engagement in U activity)

Childers Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-11-82

(discharge of Ee claimed by E to be supervisor, unlawful, where Ee in fact was not supervisor at time of discharge and E, having burden of proving that Ee was supervisory, did not produce sufficient evidence to do so; although Ee had been granted a supervisory job title, that would not suffice, in itself, to establish supervisory status of Ee; and Ee's issuance of single warning notice to an Ee was no more than isolated, sporadic incident not, of itself, sufficient to establish supervisory authority)

American Motor Inns, d/b/a Holiday Inn No. 4 - Airport JD-732-80

(resolving Ees' grievance by removing and retiring supervisor, who was so unpopular among her supervisees that it was most drastic step E could take to curry favor with Ees and lure them away from U, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Sheraton Puerto Rico Corp., d/b/a Puerto Rico Sheraton Hotel 651 F.2d 49 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(enforcement denied of Bd order in case involving discharge of supervisors and some Ees for writing letter to E's president criticizing general manager and requesting his removal from that position where there was not substantial evidence in record that such managerial protest concerned actual conditions of non-supervisory employment; ct noted that enforcement might have been granted if non-supervisory Ees had written letter, participated significantly in its drafting, or even had drafting taken place after consultation with them)

5082-2500 For activities inconsistent with status as supervisor

Times Herald Printing Company 252 NLRB No. 043

(discharge of supervisory Ees for engaging in U activities not violative where discharges in no way affected other Ees' rights)

Comfort Health Corporation d/b/a Kendallville Nursing Home JD-329-80

(discharge of supervisor solely for that supervisor's own U activities does not contravene...Act)

The Berry Schools v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 966 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1980)

(demotion of college department chairman from supervisory status allegedly for organizational activity held not ULP where Ee was unprotected by Act as supervisor)

Belcher Towing Company v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 88 (C.A. 5, Mar. 1980)

(E's discharge of ship's captain for refusal to enforce no solicitation rule requiring him to report all U activity on board his boat, unlawful, notwithstanding captain was supervisor since discharge motivated by his refusal to participate in unlawful surveillance)

5082-5000 For testimony adverse to employer

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 068

(at grievance hearing)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(cts have found that Es violated 8(a)(1) by conduct toward supervisors and ordered reinstatement in 3 basic situations; first, discipline of supervisor for refusing to commit ULP; second, discipline of supervisor for testifying before Bd; and third, discharge of supervisor as pretext for terminating pro-U crew which he had hired as his own crew)

5084 ASSISTANCE TO UNIONS

5084-0100 Generally

Argano Electric Corp. 248 NLRB No. 049

(E's recognizing and contracting with U which picketed E at construction site at time when E and another U were bound by current contract which E refused to honor held violative of Sections 8(a)(2), (3), (5) and (1) of Act)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81

(E's posting notice stating that if Ees did not join certain U, which E would join, Ees could strike for rest of their lives held violative, since E's notice suggested futility of selecting petioning U)

5084-2500 Assistance where 8(a)(2) not found

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064

(E violated Act where it supervisors routinely told Ees to sign dues-checkoff authorizations cards or face threat of withheld assignments)

5084-2567 Inside or favored union

Servair, Inc. and Servair Maintenance, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 093

(where U represented group of 30-35 Ees employed by E, group of 36 newly hired Ees not accretion as it is unlawful to accrete large group to small group; moreover, E failed to disclose to new Ees that contractual benefits they would receive, new janitor Ees would receive different wage rates than those provided for in contract and E solicited U membership cards from new Ees; thus by unlawfully assisting and recognizing U E violated Sections 8(a)(1) and (2) and by requiring new Ees to join U violated Section 8(a)(3))

United States Postal Service 248 NLRB No. 097

(postal service's conduct permitting outside U's representative, during new Ee orientation sessions, to make purportedly misleading or disparaging remarks about incumbent U's exclusive bargaining status, not unlawful; statements were not attributable to postal service and it made effort to dispel possible misunderstandings on part of new Ees, provided incumbent U opportunity to respond to reval U's remarks, and informed Us of consequences of iterating possibly disrespectful or misleading remarks)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81

5084-5000 Forms of assistance

C. Solari & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 053

(E violated Act when it continued to deduct U dues under merged U's checkoff clause after merger and Ees had signed valid revocations of their dues authorization cards)

5084-5033 Contract with assisted union

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097

(E who applied and enforced collective-bargaining agreement including provisions providing for U-security clause, dues checkoff and insurance, to Ees of new store which was found not to be accretion to unit consisting of E's other four stores violated Act; moreover, U which accepted all of foregoing also violated Act)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159

(E who recognized U and signed collective bargaining agreement prior to hiring of any Ees violated Act as mining does not fall w/i construction industry proviso)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149

(E who opened two new operations and extended U contract to cover these operations violated Act where units were not accretions and E provided U with room to meet Ees, paid Ees for time spent at meeting, solicited newly hired Ees to sign U dues checkoff authorization, withheld dues even without valid checkoff authorizations and applied U-security provisions of its existing contract; moreover, by acquiescing in above conduct and by accepting recognition and extending dues and U-security provisions of contract to Ees at new operations U also violated Act)

5084-5033—Cont.

Servair, Inc. and Servair Maintenance, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 093
(where U represented group of 30-35 Ees employed by E, group of 36 newly hired Ees not accretion as it is unlawful to accrete large group to small group; moreover, E failed to disclose to new Ees that contractual benefits they would receive, new janitor Ees would receive different wage rates than those provided for in contract and E solicited U membership cards from new Ees; thus by unlawfully assisting and recognizing U E violated Sections 8(a)(1) and (2) and by requiring new Ees to join U violated Section 8(a)(3))

Stroehmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139
(new owner of business entering into contract and honoring same with U purporting to cover unit of shipping Ees historically represented by another U, violative)

Campus Housekeeping, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 072
(U and E violated Act when they signed renewal contract which contained U security clause after U had lost its majority and E had knowledge of this)

Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 249 NLRB No. 046

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(Ee's would be discharged if they refused to sign checkoff authorization cards in favor of illegally recognized U)

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(E's statement that Ees must become members of illeg lly recognized U to keep their jobs violated Act)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's recognition of and negotiating agreement with Ee committee, unlawful, since committee at time of recognition did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, notwithstanding E's good faith belief committee represented majority and Ees' subsequent vote to be represented by committee, where E made no attempt to ascertain if committee represented majority, E was aware of campaign of outside U, and no evidence committee would have been formed w/o E's suggestion)

5084-5050 Exclusive recognition of minority union

Stroehmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139
(new owner's recognizing U as representative of shipping Ees who historically were in unit of another U, violative, where U did not represent uncoerced majority of shipping Ees)

Alfred Satin d/b/a Hillcrest Nursing Home (Local 875, Teamsters) 251 NLRB No. 014

Tower Hotel Company, d/b/a Holiday Inn Riverfront 250 NLRB No. 010
(no violation where E discussed with Ees their joining U after they expressed their positive feelings about U to him as E's conduct amounts to permissible cooperation)

5084-5050-3300 Good faith as to majority status immaterial

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 054

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's recognition of and negotiating agreement with Ee committee, unlawful, since committee at time of recognition did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, notwithstanding E's good faith belief committee represented majority and Ees' subsequent vote to be represented by committee, where E made no attempt to ascertain if committee represented majority, E was aware of campaign of outside U, and no evidence committee would have been formed w/o E's suggestion)

5084-5050-6700 Subsequent acquisition of majority status immaterial

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's recognition of and negotiating agreement with Ee committee, unlawful, since committee at time of recognition did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, notwithstanding E's good faith belief committee represented majority and Ees' subsequent vote to be represented by committee, where E made no attempt to ascertain if committee represented majority, E was aware of campaign of outside U, and no evidence committee would have been formed w/o E's suggestion)

5084-5067 Inducement of employees to join union

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(E violated Act where it supervisors routinely told Ees to sign dues-checkoff authorizations cards or face threat of withheld assignments)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(E who opened two new operations and extended U contract to cover these operations violated Act where units were not accretions and E provided U with room to meet Ees, paid Ees for time spent at meeting, solicited newly hired Ees to sign U dues checkoff authorization, withheld dues even without valid checkoff authorizations and applied U-security provisions of its existing contract; moreover, by acquiescing in above conduct and by accepting recognition and extending dues and U-security provisions of contract to Ees at new operations U also violated Act)

Banner Tire Company 260 NLRB No. 096
(E's statements during job interview that Ee must join Teamsters and would have no trouble transferring his membership from IAM violative as implied threat that he would not be hired if he did not do so, where as here Teamsters had no statutory or contractual right to represent him)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(threats of loss of employment if Ees did not join particular U are ULPs sufficient to taint particular U's claimed majority status on basis of signed authorization cards)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(statements to Ees and applicants for employment that they would have to join (particular) U as condition of employment and posting of letter threatening Ees that they would not be scheduled for work unless they joined U, held violative)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E offering wage increases during negotiations with Ee committee, unlawful, since made to discourage support for outside U in view of E's haste in presenting proposals after obtaining knowledge of outside U's organizing efforts)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-838-79
(E's alleged promise to obtain U membership cards to permit Ees to work unmolested on U jobs, not unlawful, where evidence showed that Ees did not reasonably believe that E proposed to foist U membership on them; although E initiated possibility of obtaining spurious U affiliation, Ees on own initiative sought genuine representation)

5084-5075 Permitting union control over hiring and employment

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 189
(E who signed contract containing U security clause and hiring hall provisions prior to hiring any Ees and then refused to employ any applicants who had not been referred through hiring hall, violated Act)

Cowlitz Studd Company JD-(SF)-141-80
(U's action in seeking removal of new Ee not violative where Ee was hired in abbrogation of collective-bargaining agreement which required vacant positions to be filled by seniority unless outside applicant highly qualified; U was fulfilling its duty to represent its constituency)

5084-5083 Solicitation of employees

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(soliciting and forcing Ees to sign authorization cards for U favored by E, violative)

Tower Hotel Company, d/b/a Holiday Inn Riverfront 250 NLRB No. 010
(no violation where E discussed with Ees their joining U after they expressed their positive feelings about U to him as E's conduct amounts to permissible cooperation)

5084-7580 Midwest Piping doctrine

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116
(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

N.L.R.B. v. Newport Div. of Wintex Knitting Mills, Inc. 610 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(where 2 competing U's had filed ULP charges against E, Bd postponed election until resolution of charges and while charges pending 1 U maintained active campaign and acquired majority of signed authorization cards while other U ceased organizing efforts, Bd's finding that qcr existed and E violated Act overruled for if 1 of 2 rival U's has demonstrated majority status w/o help from E, Bd's orders against E finding ULP on basis of such recognition and entering into bargaining agreement will be denied)

N.L.R.B. v. Newport Div. of Wintex Knitting Mi lls, Inc. 610 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(where 2 competing U's had filed ULp charges against E, Bd postponed election until resolution of charges and while charges pending (U maintained active campaign and acquired majority of signed authorization cards while other U ceased organizing efforts) Bd's finding that qcr existed and E violated Act overruled for if 1 of 2 rival U's has demonstrated majority status w/o help from E, Bd's order against E finding ULP on basis of such recognition and entering into bargaining agreement will be denied)

5090 CONTRACTS

5090-0800 Affirmative defenses

5090-0850 Contract provision

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Company 252 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of Ees who refused to work because of safety hazards violative where contract did not contain no-strike provision)

Tower Hotel Company, d/b/a Holiday Inn Riverfront 250 NLRB No. 090
(discharge of Ee because he failed to meet age requirements of U's apprenticeship program not violative where insufficient evidence exists to establish that contract provision is illegal)

Pioneer Finishing Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 199 (C.A. 1, Nov. 1981)
(where contract contained prohibitions against U officials distributing literature on E's premises, and official is also Ee, it will not be assumed that such Ee has waived any of his rights unless he has done so specifically or unless his activities are distructive to collective bargaining process)

Carlson Roofing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 77 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(in discussion with E Ees voicing their opposition in orderly fashion to E's interpretation of contract provision that Ees had to work alone on jobs and no Ee flatly refused to work alone, held protected concerted activity)

Roadway Express JD-(ATL)-25-81
(discharge not violative where Ee would have been discharged in accordance with contract even in absence of any protected conduct with respect to filing of grievances or workmen's compensation claim)

5090-7800 Union-security agreements

C. Solari & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 053
(E violated Act when it continued to deduct U dues under merged U's checkoff clause after merger and Ees had signed valid revocations of their dues authorization cards)

5090-7825 Execution or maintenance of invalid agreement

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(E who entered into contract containing U security clause with U which did not represent uncoerced majority of its Ees, and enforced that clause violated Act)

Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 249 NLRB No. 046
(enforcement of agreement with security clause where U did not have majority, unlawful)

5090-8750 Discriminatory maintenance of contract clause

Computer Sciences Corporation Applied Technology Division, Huntsville Center 258 NLRB No. 085
(stock purchase plan set forth in Ee handbook violated Act where it limited plan to those Ees who were not U members or not members of bargaining unit)

New York Laboratory Supply Company, Inc. JD-416-81
(E which maintained agreement with U that provided that the agreement applied only to members of U, and that Ees who are U members will receive different wages than Ees who are not U members violated Act as this encouraged membership in U and interfered with Ees Sec. 7 rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Maui Surf Hotel Company and ILWU Local 142 601 F.2d 603(T) (C.A. 9, 1979)
(Ee and U which enforced attendance at contractually mandated work stop meeting by requiring Ees who refused to attend meeting to sign out and lose 1 hour's pay violated Act because Ees who refused to sign out were threatened with disciplinary action)

Teamsters Local 20 v. N.L.R.B. 610 F.2d 991 (C.A.D.C.)
(granting preference in truck route assignments to U steward over more senior Ee pursuant to all purpose superseniority clause, unlawful, since clause, extending such preference beyond layoff and recall, was presumptively unlawful, and U failed to justify application of clause, notwithstanding its contention that preference in route assignments would facilitate steward's handling of Ee grievances by increasing his access to Ees and management representatives)

5090-8780 Superseniority

McQuay-Norris, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 191
(E and U violated Act by maintaining and enforcing superseniority clause which caused retention of Ee-U officials (trustee and guide) above other Ees with more seniority where U officials duties concerned organizational and internal functions of U and not contractual matters pertaining to bargaining and grievances)

Teamsters Local 20 v. N.L.R.B. 610 F.2d 991 (C.A.D.C.)
(granting preference in truck route assignments to U steward over more senior Ee pursuant to all purpose superseniority clause, unlawful, since clause, extending such preference beyond layoff and recall, was presumptively unlawful, and U failed to justify application of clause, notwithstanding its contention that preference in route assignments would facilitate steward's handling of Ee grievances by increasing his access to Ees and management representatives)

5096 VIOLENCE AND THREATS THEREOF

5096-1400 Arrests and roundups instigated or assisted by employer

Bates & Cunningham, Inc. JD-580-81
(telling police officer who was investigating vandalism at E's premises that U adherents may have done it, violative where accusation made with no basis in fact but surely in retaliation)

5096-2100 Arrest

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 186
(denial of access to non-Ee U representatives and causing their arrest, made in furtherance of impermissible refusal to grant access, unlawful)

Argo Company M/V Arctic Producer 265 NLRB No. 040
(E's statement which in effect notified Ees that the U would be denied reasonable access to Ees living on the ship and that a U organizer might be subject to arrest if he attempted to board the ship, unlawful)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 084
(violation, where guard hired by E from security firm, arrested, handcuffed, and took into custody Ee engaged in election day campaigning for crossing over line onto E's plant premises, since guard was agent of E, and spectacle of pro-U Ee being thus restrained by openly pro-company security guard in presence of other Ees who had not yet voted coerced Ees in exercise of their statutory rights and had chilling effect on pro-U Ees who would shortly be voting in election)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 017
(E's causing arrest and removal of non-Ee U representatives from its public snackbar, violative where they were not attempting to use snackbar inconsistent with its purpose, and move of one representative to table adjacent to his in response to questions by Ee was in no sense table hopping or solicitation of Ees table by table)

Carither's Stores, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 178
(arrest of U agent who was picketing E's store during economic strike, not violative, where E police acted on their own in making arrest and since for abuse of E's Ees and customers, rather than for interference with protected activity of Ees, in view of complaints regarding harrassment by agent and threats of violent retaliation against agent, and visible agitation of elderly customers)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 095
(threatening Ee with arrest if he engaged in U activities on company property, violative)

Joyhill Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 177
(calling police to plant who informed U adherent E wanted him out of shop and arrested, but although he was not going to be arrested, he had to leave and also sending home six days later w/o explanation, unlawful, since Ee was working at time w/o incident, no work related justification given)

Montgomery Ward & Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 134
(threatening to call police and have U organizers removed from public cafeteria in E's store if they did not leave voluntarily, violative, where U organizers were meeting with willing Ee patrons by appointment during their lunch break and in orderly, discreet fashion)

Pine Valley Meats, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 061
(threatening U adherent with arrest if he was in plant on off-duty hours following his attempt to distribute authorization cards in plant after his workday had finished, violative)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 056
(E's causing arrest of Ees for passing out U handbills on E's parking lot and trespassing, unlawful)

Villa Avila 253 NLRB No. 018
(E-who evicted U representatives from job site, threatened them with arrest, blocked egress from site violated Act where U representatives were performing legitimate duties on job site)

Charles Dean d/b/a Happ Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 184
(telling U adherent during U campaign that job he had anything to do with U, and if any tools were missing, U adherent would be accused of stealing because of U adherent's criminal record)

Schlegel Oklahoma, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 012
(threatening arrest of Ees for handbilling Ees on public thoroughfare adjacent to plant entrance, unlawful)

Montgomery Ward & Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 1115 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)
(ct held E's interference with organizers who were meeting with off-duty personnel in restaurant on E's premises in nondisruptive fashion and by engaging in unreasonably close observation of these organizers as they fa-ished their lunches violative; furthermore, E's threat of police action held unlawful)

5096-2100—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Alumina Ceramics, Inc. 690 F.2d 136 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1982)
(causing arrest of Ee as result of E's reporting to police that drunk Ee was sent home and was driving truck, not unlawful; although, if truly concerned about E's driving while intoxicated, E would have arranged for his transportation home rather than for his arrest, there was no evidence that report to police was motivated by any anti-U animus)

Seattle-First National Bank v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 1272 (C.A. 9, Nov 1980)
(E's threat to arrest economic strikers for picketing in foyer in front of restaurant located on 46th floor of office building violative; Section 7 rights and private property rights must be balanced and here U used only 2 pickets at a time and placing pickets in front of building would not reach restaurant customers as majority came from w/i building)

N.L.R.B. v. Schlegel Oklahoma, Inc. 644 F.2d 842 (C.A. 10, Mar 13, 1981)
(threatening Ee with arrest for handbilling on public thoroughfare in front of plant by stating that he was going to call police and have us moved violative, as statement was made for purpose of discouraging handbilling; statement have us moved did not negate any possibility of arrest)

5096-2800 Assault on, and abuse of, pickets

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(E's driving truck over picketing Ee in presence of other striking Ees, violative)

Highland Plastics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 028
(striking pickets with van)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(E's president's vehicular assault on picketing Ee and president's subsequent threat to run over Ee held violative)

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 002
(E who drove truck through picket line so recklessly that two pickets were hit violated Act)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 081
(where pickets belligerently prevented E from driving its truck through picket line, E's physical retaliation against pickets not violation of Act)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(threatening picket with vehicular assault by driving vehicle close to him at excessive speed, unlawful)

Seale Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(throwing of picket signs into street, soliciting strikers to return to work with promises of wage increases, assaulting strikers and attempting to incite fight at strike locations by two supervisors, unlawful, but since acts isolated and counterproductive did not support issuance of B/O)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(E manager driving truck through picket line striking pickets, violative, where assaults connected with Ees' U activities)

5096-7000 Inflicting, or inciting infliction of, violence on union adherents

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079
(supervisor's assaulting Ee in context of, and related to, Ee's unlawful discharge and because of his U activity held violative)

5096-7400 Assault on employees

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029

Hammond Plastic, Division of Carl Gordon Industries, Inc. JD-583-81
(hitting Ee in head with baseball bat because of Ee's U activities, unlawful)

5096-8000 Assault on union representative or threat thereof

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122
(E who pushed down non-Ee U organizer in parking lot after he refused to leave property violated Act as this conduct forcibly demonstrates E's opposition to U and its effect is to restrain Ees in exercise of their rights)

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(spraying mace on U representatives who were attempting to handbill and solicit Ee support, violative)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(violation, where guard hired by E during strike cursed U representatives who were in car on public street in front of E's premises, shouting we don't want to see you any more, and pounded on representatives' car in presence of strikers)

Graves Trucking, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 470 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1982)
(In affirming Bd finding the E was responsible for physical assault by supervisor on U steward who was engaged in protected concerted activity since incident pertained to matters w/i responsibilities E had conferred on supervisor, ct concluded that E's single expression of disapproval after the fact did not suffice as a repudiation where such disapproval was not made known to all Ees affected and, in any event, was accompanied and followed by reiteration of supervisor's authority)

5096-8400 Threats of bodily harm

Winer Motors, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165

Danish Creamery Association 265 NLRB No. 084
(threatening bodily harm because Ee questioned E's right under the contract to request doctor's note for sick leave, unlawful)

James Fuqua, Wilson Daniel, Dominic Guida and Gary Cicci, a California Partnership, d/b/a The Black Kettle, Ltd., d/b/a The Drying Shed 263 NLRB No. 57
(implying that Ees would be threatened or physically harassed because of their U activities, violative)

Hands and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 113

Broadway Catering Corp. d/b/a Studio 54 260 NLRB No. 166
(threatening U adherents with physical violence because of their U activities, unlawful)

Hochschild Kohn, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 260 NLRB No. 035
(supervisor, who retaliated against U adherent who had complained to management about supervisor's anti-U attitude, by following adherent in her car too closely and at dangerously high speed violated Act)

Walter Jack and Dixie A. Macy d/b/a 7-Eleven Food Store 257 NLRB No. 035
(threat to take care of U instigator, made to customer in presence of Ee, unlawful)

Walter Jack and Dixie A. Macy d/b/a 7-Eleven Food Store 257 NLRB No. 095
(threat of bodily harm to Ee's wife because E believed she and her father had conspired to bring in U, unlawful)

Price's Pic-Pac Supermarkets, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 123
(threatening Ee with physical attack if he continued to talk about the U, unlawful)

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 071
(threatening to inflict bodily injury upon strikers, violative)

Highland Plastics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 028
(carrying gun out to peaceful picketline, violative)

Jax Mold & Machine, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 129
(supervisor's asking Ee if he wanted to bring his gun to work and help protect Ees who wanted to cross picket line or if Ees wanted to go out with him and whip U people, violative)

Jax Mold & Machine, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 129
(telling Ee It looks like I'm going to have to shoot some of U instigators before Friday, held coercive as it was said in anger)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(E's president's vehicular assault on picketing Ee and president's subsequent threat to run over Ee held violative)

Overnite Transportation Company 251 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of Ee truckdriver and refusal to reinstate him assertedly because he refused to drive, unlawful where Ee was complaining with other Ees about threat to personal safety because of driving during strike; Ee was refusing to drive as part of concerted attempt, on behalf of both himself and other drivers, to have safer working conditions and Ee's discharge was to discourage Ee and other Ees from engaging in these activities)

McLane/Western, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 185
(E's remark that he wanted to punch Ee in the nose for initiating U campaign violative where remark could reasonably be construed by Ee and fellow Ees as threat rather than as joke that E alleged it was meant to be)

Kaufman DeDell Printing, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 002
(violation where E threatened to inflict physical injury on Ee because of his filing charge with Bd and telephoning state department of human rights in response to E's refusal to make Ee an apprentice printer and pay him the contractual wage rate)

Tennessee Cartage Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 018
(supervisor's firing pistol in air while conversing with Ee on picket line, unlawful)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(E's statement to picketing Ee that E would kill him if E found him anywhere around plant, not unlawful, since it was incredible that E literally intended to do so; however, such statement is not to be equated to lawful Ee picketing conduct)

5096-8400—Cont.

United Maintenance Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-82
(manager's warning Ee that if identity of U adherents was discovered, he . . . would burn us with green wood, violative)

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81

Metropolitan Teletronic Corp. JD-(NY)-12-81
(E's president's remarks to Ee that unless she caused charges before Bd to be withdrawn, that they would end up in knives and that he would kill her, violative)

Lauridsen Foods, Inc. JD-36-81
(threatening physical assault on Ee because of his U activities, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 646 F.2d 706 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(threatening U adherent that if he persisted in his U activity, E would break his legs, violative)

TRW, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 307 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(supervisor's statements to Ee that he needed to get some U hospitalization insurance because he was going to lose an arm or a leg not violative where part of chain of continuing hostility between involved parties)

N.L.R.B. v. M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 682 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, June 1982)
(supervisor's threatening striking Ees and damaging their property violative; E did not seek to sanction or penalize supervisor in any way)

N.L.R.B. v. Bolas Drainage, Inc. 639 F.2d 789(T) (C.A. 9, 1981)
(threatening discharge and physical violence if Ees persisted in concerted efforts to secure pay raises, violative)

5096-8500 Damage to property

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(E's backing truck into picketing Ee's automobile, violative)

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 071
(damaging striking Ees' property, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 682 F.2d 580 (C.A. 6, June 1982)
(supervisor's threatening striking Ees and damaging their property violative; E did not seek to sanction or penalize supervisor in any way)

5098 CONDUCT OF EMPLOYER OTHER THAN IMMEDIATE EMPLOYER OF EMPLOYEES

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011
(posting of statement made by general manager of company constituting single E with E herein, and attributable to latter, that E's practice of promoting Ees from w/i would end with U representation, unlawful, since statement's threat to withdraw existing benefit was not rooted simply in what had occurred at another location with manager's prior E but related to what was possible or impossible in a U organization and, as such, amounted to an unlawful threat)

Southland Corporation JD-341-82
(refusal to hire applicant who had taken grievance to arbitration on prior job not violative where E based decision on arbitrator's findings, supplied by former E in response to reference request, that discharge was lawfully based on poor attendance and emotional instability)

7500 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES TO CHARGES OF INTERFERENCE, RESTRAINT, OR COERCION

7525 NON-COERCIVE NATURE OF MISCONDUCT

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 262 NLRB No. 064
(E's statement to U adherent that they would have to bargain from scratch if U came in violative, notwithstanding the two had been close friends for 8 to 10 years)

The Celotex Corporation 259 NLRB No. 159
(threat by supervisor to Ee who opposed U during critical period that if U won, E would go by book, violative, because such threat might inhibit Ee from changing his mind about U)

The Swingline Company, Spotnails, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 119
(low level supervisor's questioning of Ee who had declared her U preference violative notwithstanding there were no threats of reprisals as it made Ee aware of her supervisor's position on U and possibility of discarding Ee existed)

Jax Mold & Machine, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 129
(supervisor's question, Do you reckon we could have chance to get rid of U held coercive, notwithstanding both may have been friends)

Pine Valley Meats, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 061
(E's grant to key Ees of wage increases prior to election vilative, notwithstanding Ees' threats to quit unless they received more money, E's specific disclaimer of any intention to bribe Ees for their support, and E's request to these Ees not to tell other Ees; defense that Ees testified that they did not consider additional earnings as bribes and were not influenced by them rejected, since finding of restraint or coercion does not depend on Ees' subjective impressions but rather on whether E's conduct reasonably tends to interfere with the free exercise of employee rights)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190
(contention that E's oral comments as to eliminating part-time Ees or their flexible work hours were not unlawful because Ees who heard remarks were not themselves part-time Ees, rejected, since it is reasonable to infer that E's remarks were passed along to part-time Ees, as they actually were; assuming that E did not thereby intend to threaten Ees and that Ees were not in fact coerced, such assumptions would not render threats herein lawful)

EMR Photoelectric, A Division of Sangamo Weston Inc. 251 NLRB No. 214
(although some Ees testified that they did not feel personally threatened by E's remarks against unionization, ALJ held focus of inquiry is not subjective reaction of Ee to electioneering but upon reasonable tendency of actions involved to interfere with Ees' rights)

General Therma, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 158
(assistant plant manager's interrogation of Ee as to his U activities, unlawful, notwithstanding social nature of occasion in which interrogation took place)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(foremen's instructing argumentative U steward to leave work area, not violative where steward was not threatened with disciplinary action upon failing to leave area and continued to act as U representative w/o any interference)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(foremen's instructing argumentative U steward to leave work area, not violative where steward was not threatened with disciplinary action upon failing to leave area and continued to act as U representative w/o any interference)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(payroll supervisor's response to U steward's request for his paycheck, to effect that —you're always in trouble, not violative, since it was passing remark by payroll supervisor, as contrasted with supervisor in area policed by U steward, and as such was not threat)

Worth Engineering, Inc. JD-295-80
(questioning of Ee by E about his U activities is inherently coercive and fact that supervisor and Ee are personal friends is immaterial)

Flexsteel Industries, Inc. JD-(SF)-274-79
(supervisor's friendly warnings to Ees about foremen being instructed to be on lookout for Ees distributing U literature, not unlawful)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(E's promulgation of overly broad no-solicitation and no distribution rule, not violative where rule was never enforced and evidence showed that Ees freely exercised their solicitation and distribution rights; mere enactment of overly broad rules was not violation of Act under facts of this case)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(E's photographic surveillance of Ees engaged in picketing E on behalf of U, not violative where evidence in record suggested that surveillance was undertaken to support attempt to obtain injunction against unlawful picketing and ALJ found that surveillance was mainly directed against two Ees whose later terminations were upheld)

N.L.R.B. v. Jarva Incorporated 628 F.2d 483 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(supervisor predicting to Ee and to another Ee that because Ee was instigator of U that Ee would be head committeeman once U got in, not unlawful, since statements made jokingly and Ees stated they felt no coercion)

N.L.R.B. v. General Thermodynamics, Inc. 670 F.2d 719 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(Bd's order requiring E not to display (overbroad) rules against solicitation and distribution enforced notwithstanding rules, which were posted on plant bulletin boards, were withdrawn before they were to technically become effective; there was no effective communication of the change of (E's) policy to the Ees which would guard against the chilling effect resulting from the overbroad rules)

7530 MISINTERPRETATION OF LAW

7530—Cont.

McAllen Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 185

(preelection threats to Ees that economic strikers may be permanently replaced and lose their jobs violative)

7550 MISCONDUCT OF EMPLOYEE

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077

(no violation where regional director of E, a U, prohibited regional representative from entering regional office w/o permission, notwithstanding regional director had previously unlawfully threatened regional representative because of latter's protected activities; Bd found regional director would have made the prohibition regardless of regional representative's protected activities, in view of no direct expression of animus, and the director's suspicions of representative regarding items missing from the office safe)

A. Dale Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092

(discharge of striker assertedly for picket line misconduct, unlawful, where striker threatened nonstriking Ee employed at E's nearby nonstruck facility, which was being picketed, with arson of Ee's home; such threat does not require different standard than other threats which unless accompanied by physical acts or gestures do not entitle E to discharge striker; nor does historical value of E's home required different result; consequently, striker's threat, while ill-considered and not to be condoned, was not sufficiently egregious to deny striker reinstatement)

A. Dale Pyle, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 092

(discharge of striker assertedly for assaulting supervisor with knife, unlawful, where ALJ discredited E's version of knife fight and specifically found that supervisor was in fact the aggressor and Bd agreed with ALJ that striker would not, but for the knife fight, have been discharged; and, even if striker used a knife, E had no honest belief striker had engaged in such physical misconduct as to lose protection of Act; and in any event, GC successfully carried burden of proving that striker did not, in fact, engage in disqualifying misconduct)

Morrison Construction Company JD-328-83

(no violation where Ees were discharged, not for complaining about the amounts withheld for income taxes from their paychecks, as alleged, but for violating rule that Ees not go to payroll office during working hours w/o permission from their supervisor)

7550-0100 Generally

Tyler Business Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 088

(discharge of Ee allegedly for spreading false rumors about personal lives of E's officials and also stating he believed E's failure to provide part-time Ees hospitalization benefits was unfair, unlawful, since Ee expressed concern on behalf of Ees other than himself and his remarks concerning personal lives of E's officials did not constitute conduct so outrageous as to render his protected activity unprotected where remark did not relate to E's product or operations, or constitute deliberate intent to impugne company)

7550-0125 Condonation vitiates defense

Davis and Burton Contractors, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 102

(refusal to recall Ee after layoff, violative, since reason was Ee's walking off job and setting up one-man picket line, which was honored by other Ees, in protest of E's issuance to Ee payroll check which was dishonored by bank; although Ee's action violated no-strike clause of U contract, E had condoned Ee's action by settling dispute over paycheck and allowing Ee to return to work the next day and to continue work until layoff)

Martin K. Eby Construction Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 149

(E's remarks blaming Ee for strike violative, since E had condoned Ee's conduct where, assuming Ee was responsible for work stoppage and work stoppage was violative of no-strike clause as contended, E had allowed Ee to return to work and Ee worked for several weeks)

Brunswick Corporation JD-680-80

(Ees' discharge not violative, where GC failed to sustain burden of providing that E had condoned, as asserted, Ees' unlawful work stoppage)

Cracker Barrel Old Country Store, Inc. JD-443-80

(defense of long break periods and criticism of management rejected, where management had condoned them prior to alleged unlawful discharge herein)

Owens-Corning Power and Process, a Division of Owens-Corning Fiberglas, Inc. JD-(SF)-288-80

(where Ees engaged in economic strike which was initially rendered unprotected by breach of no-strike clause, E's later condonation of strike by reinstatement of strikers and its agreement that the slate would be wiped clean estopped it from asserting unlawful nature of strike)

Super Valu Xenia, a Division of Super Valu Stores, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 13 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(contrary to Bd, ct held discharge of two Ees under mistaken belief they had engaged in strike misconduct, not unlawful, since Ees had participated in illegal wildcat strike and record evidence does not substantially support conclusion that E condoned or otherwise forgave Ees for their illegal conduct)

7550-0133 Lawful discipline or admonition

Woodruff & Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 043

(discharge of Ee truck driver who had previously complained of paycheck shortage and filed assault charge against supervisor, not unlawful, where decision to discharge Ee was made immediately after Ee caused major damage to his truck for second time that month; overwhelming evidence established E's reliance on legitimate reason for discharge as well as lack of evidence of animus, suspicious timing, or disparate treatment; furthermore, Ee forfeited Act's protection by opprobrious manner in which he pressed his paycheck complaint)

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Kay Motors 264 NLRB No. 137

(E's threat to discharge car salesmen if he were convicted of drunken driving, not unlawful where threat was part of E's lawful crackdown on salesmen's driving E's demonstration cars after drinking, and had legitimate business objective)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 263 NLRB No. 146

(written warning notice issued to hospital Ee for having received reagent having shorter shelf life than that required by hospital, not unlawful; even though Ee herself had brought matter to E's attention, it did not excuse her initial act of acceptance, and other Ees similarly situated had been equally reprimanded; fact that E chose to by-pass first step of its disciplinary policy and proceed with second step merely emphasized gravity with which E viewed such transgression)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 262 NLRB No. 123

(discharge violative, notwithstanding contention that reason was insubordination, since any insubordination on part of Ee was restricted to his asserting his Weingarten right by insisting on having an Ee of his choice present at his interview with E)

United States Postal Service 258 NLRB No. 193

(threatening U steward with discipline if he did not return to his work station not violative as steward was not engaged in protected activity at time)

Lucky Stores, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 179

(warning of disciplinary action if Ee continued to obstruct other Ees' work routines, while distributing literature for his campaign for shop steward, not unlawful)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 251 NLRB No. 090

(E's suspension of Ee for striking security guard and trespassing on company property during course of strike held not violative where GC failed to establish either that conduct did not occur or that alleged conduct was protected activity)

Wayne County Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 180

(defense by E, operating legal services as contractor of federal agency, on ground that statute establishing agency forbade Ee conduct for which they were allegedly unlawfully disciplined, rejected; enabling statute is construed to refer to NLRA, to have recognized its provisions, and to have incorporated various interpretations and applications of Sec.7)

Progressive Driver Service, Inc. JD-(ATL)-89-83

(although drivers herein had been threatened with discharge for concerted protected demands regarding contractual wages, their discharge was not violative, since it was for falsifying log entries and trip reports so as to get paid twice for same hours of work and for violating federal limits on number of hours driven by drivers of federally regulated motor carriers)

Enerhaul, Inc. JD-(ATL)-7-82

(discharge of Ee who had engaged in protected activity regarding condition of his truck not violative where Ee would have been discharged regardless of his protected conduct for abusing truck assigned to him)

James Kraus Contractor Company JD-(SF)-240-81

(discharge of flagger on highway paving project for assertedly complaining to state highway inspector about E's work break policy on a need basis, not unlawful, where E rebutted GC's prima facie case by showing Ee would have been discharged whether she had engaged in alleged concerted activity or not due to Ee's casual approach to her job which created unreasonable risk of accident)

Wise Machine Co., Inc. JD-389-81

(discharge of U adherent allegedly because Ee pursued claim for workmen's compensation benefits, not violative where no Ee ever had been disciplined by E for filing any claim whether for workmen's compensation, unemployment compensation or accident and sickness benefits; sole reason for Ee's discharge was his actually having worked for another E while off on disability claim)

Like Corporation JD-(SF)-69-80

(denying Ee, suspected of starting 2 fires in E's plant, access to E's parking lot when he was not working not violative)

Con-Tex Industries, A Division of Harvco Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 1183 (C.A. 8, July 1982)

(E did not violate Act when it discharged 13 Ees who shut off their extrusion machines and left work to protest their dissatisfaction with wages and holidays because Ees' action caused E to lose two days' production and Ees could have walked off job w/o shutting off machines as machines could run w/o supervision w/o damage; thus Ees did more than stop work-they interfered with company property and was usurpation of E's option of continuing production; thus Ees were engaged in unprotected activity)

7550-0133—Cont.

7550-0140 Disloyalty of employee

Pyromatics, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 141
(Ee's circulation of ptn to obtain time off during holiday season did not justify discharge on ground of disloyalty based on Ee's continued activity after E had explained that production requirements would not permit time off, and on Ee's statement that Ees, as group, would fake sickness so as not to report for work during holiday period; statement was not reason for discharge and, while Ee's desire for time off may have demonstrated bad judgment, it gave E only the right to refuse time off, not to discharge Ee for his protected concerted activity)

Hargrove Division of Dyck Security Service, Inc. JD-321-82
(discharge unlawful where it was disparately harsh discipline and would not have been meted out for reasons given by E had Ee not engaged in concerted protected activities of informing manager about Ees' ptn concerning working conditions and proposed meeting with E's client about the ptn; these activities did not lose protection because of involvement with client)

Planned Parenthood of Alameda and San Francisco Counties JD-(SF)-294-80
(informing Ee she was to be put on probation for failing to voice her concerns in constructive manner where she failed to attend meeting with management on her own time to discuss working conditions, and had allegedly made statements regarding incompetency of management to third parties, unlawful, since refraining from exercising her Section 7 right to attend meeting, protected; further, E lacked sufficient evidence of Ee's criticism to third parties on which to base honest belief of misconduct required for punitive action; fact probation never put into effect did not nullify unlawful threat to discipline)

Hotel & Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union Local 2 JD-(SF)-178-80
(discharge of Ee for participation and distribution of leaflet protesting discharge of fellow Ee violative; contention that Ee was discharged for disloyalty rejected)

N.L.R.B. v. Truck Drivers, Oil Drivers, Filling Station and Platform Workers Union, Local 705, Teamsters 630 F.2d 505 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(dismissal of Ees who had complained about staff salaries not unlawful, in view of Ees' injection of salary complaints at stewards' meeting which included attendance by stewards not employed by E, admittedly improper use of company CB radio regarding complaints, presentation of wage complaint letters at civic luncheon, general and repeated refusal to follow established, proper and known procedures for presenting wage complaints, coupled with their prior poor work records for which they had been given prior warnings and a second chance)

7550-0150 Good-faith belief as to misconduct may be defense

K & K Transportation Corp., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 182
(failure to reinstate ULP strikers husband and wife not violative, where E had sufficient basis to believe they had sabotaged E's trailer-truck causing serious damage to equipment and endangering safety of other motorists, and GC failed to prove that strikers were not in fact guilty of alleged misconduct; fact that misconduct occurred miles away from E's facility was apparently result of premeditated conduct engaged in far from picket line)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 261 NLRB No. 099
(E's disciplining Ees for alleged misconduct during strike, violative, where E failed to detail in record activity for which each striker was accused; E's honest belief that misconduct had occurred required some specifity in record linking particular Ees to particular allegations of misconduct in order to satisfy E's burden of proof)

N.L.R.B. v. E-Systems, Inc., ECI Division 642 NLRB No. 118 (C.A. 5, Apr 4, 1981)
(where no proof that striking Ee engaged in picket line misconduct which would bar reinstatement, he must be included on preferential hiring list; E violated Sec. 8(a)(1) by discharging him notwithstanding E had good faith belief that Ee had engaged in such conduct which would warrant his discharge)

7550-0170 Mistaken belief as to misconduct no defense if conduct in fact did not occur

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodkraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(regardless of E's motivation)

Stewart-Warner Corporation 253 NLRB No. 016

Huron Dressed Beef, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 001

Babcock & Wilcox Co. 249 NLRB No. 009
(discharge of U president because of E's erroneous belief that, while engaged in protected activities associated with his office of U president, he had instigated wildcat strike and promoted it w/i U, unlawful; in view of such finding and since remedy would be same, Bd found it unnecessary to decide whether or not E also violated 8(a)(3))

Geiger & Peters, Inc. JD-(SF)-246-81
(discharging sympathy strikers for refusing to cross another U's picket line at E's premises unlawful, since, notwithstanding E's good-faith belief to contrary, Ees' act was protected where picket line would not be unlawful w/i meaning of 8(b)(4)(D) and no JDP existed due to fact supervisor performed disputed work and dispute was therefore between E and picketing U rather than 2 Us)

Perry Cap & Set Screw Company JD-671-80
(suspension of U committeeman allegedly for walking off job because management failed to meet with him and other Ees, violative, where Ee tried to arrange meeting between Ees and management about working conditions and he had informed his supervisors of medical appointment and would not work that day of meeting)

7550-2500 Undermining or circumventing grievance procedure

United States Postal Service 250 NLRB No. 156
(U steward's action in refusing to leave office of E's station manager at grievance proceeding after manager cut off U steward's presentation, did not justify E's disciplinary action against him)

Charleston Area Medical Center, Inc. JD-606-82
(refusal to process Ee grievance because Ee had also filed charge with Bd over same issue not violative where it was E's established policy and there is no evidence of discrimination)

New York State United Teachers JD-(NY)-83-81
(reprimand of Ee who had filed grievance regarding Ees' job assignments which was then in arbitration for telling delegates of affiliated organizations of E about arbitration case and which E did not want divulged, violative, since Ee's remarks concerned grievance, did not disparage his E nor reach level of impropriety or disloyalty to E which would result in remarks losing its protected nature)

7550-3700 Violence or threats thereof

Amcar, Division of ACF Industries, Inc. JD-205-81
(discharging 2 Ees for assaulting supervisor away from plant, not violative, notwithstanding finding of not guilty verdict in trial on criminal assault complaint)

Fun Striders, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 716 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(E's discharge of and refusal to reinstate Ees for distributing leaflets during unannounced Ee work stoppage, urging Ees to engage in violent struggle against management, not violative where E reasonably believed that this advocacy threatened to inject violent confrontation into plant)

7550-5000 Insubordination

Good Samaritan Hospital & Health Center 265 NLRB No. 082
(discharge of two occupational therapists by coordinator of agency providing developmental therapy for learning disabled children, because therapists complained of coordinator's mismanagement of program and inappropriate treatment model to be used by agency held not violative, since therapists were in no way disturbed or troubled by any personal demands imposed on them by coordinator's policy decisions; welfare of children was therapists' concern; therapists criticisms and recommendations related to disputes outside objectives of mutual aid or protection provisions of NLRA)

Woodruff & Sons, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 049
(discharge of Ee truck driver who had previously complained of paycheck shortage and filed assault charge against supervisor, not unlawful, where decision to discharge Ee was made immediately after Ee caused major damage to his truck for second time that month; overwhelming evidence established E's reliance on legitimate reason for discharge as well as lack of evidence of animus, suspicious timing, or disparate treatment; furthermore, Ee forfeited Act's protection by opprobrious manner in which he pressed his paycheck complaint)

Northwest Engineering Company 265 NLRB No. 036
(suspension of Ee for insubordination by using vulgarity to supervisor at meeting called by Ee to discuss work rules not violative where E did not violate Act by having Ees attend meeting as this was not type of meeting to which Weingarten rights attach, notwithstanding insubordinate Ee had been singled out as one guilty of rule infractions because no discipline was intended for this conduct and thus presence of U representative unnecessary)

Benjamin Electrical Engineering, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 139
(where Ee's complaint to E was alleged to have concerned unsafe working conditions but was found to have been directed toward enforcement of U contractual conditions on the job, discharging Ee for making complaint held not unlawful, notwithstanding content of complaint might have been found protected, since discharge was not for content of complaint but for insubordinate manner in making it)

Cox Enterprises, Inc., d/b/a Atlanta Newspapers 264 NLRB No. 120
(discharging Ee allegedly for lying that she had not told supervisor about strike rumor held violative, where prior to this incident E had unlawfully questioned her about source of strike rumor and Bd found that she would not have been discharged but for her remark about strike rumor)

7550-5000—Cont.

Pacific Intermountain Express Co. 264 NLRB No. 047
(although protected activity of filing OSHA complaints was motivating factor in discharge decision, E would have discharged Ee even if he had not filed those complaints, as Ee was insubordinate for brazenly refusing to cancel physical therapy appointment on company time as he had been directed to do so by his supervisor)

American Steel Works 263 NLRB No. 108
(suspending for insubordination U safety officer for leaving work station to approach OSHA inspection team and for ignoring for only few minutes order to return to work held violative as such insubordination in context of protected activity cannot justify disciplinary action)

General Motors Corporation, Assembly Division 261 NLRB No. 075
(discharge of Ee for leaving plant to consult physician when injured, after being denied permission by supervisor, unlawful, where contract provided that supervisor must grant request to visit physician under such circumstances; whether Ee had punched out before seeking permission, immaterial)

Fibracan Corp. 259 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of Ee who, with other Ees, walked off job in protest over termination of shift supervisor, because Ee used profane and abusive language to plant manager, held not violative where profanity was directed at manager prior to walkout and again at interview to discuss Ee's continued employment; repeated and blatant use of profanity in reply to manager's statement of its objectivity amounted to insubordination)

Fibracan Corp. 259 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of Ee, who refused to scrape floor when requested not violative where she was discharged solely because of her insubordination rather than any U activity and it was part of her job)

Trans Air Supply Company, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 023
(Ee's use of profane epithet during argument over working conditions found not insubordinate and held protected as Ee's use of profane epithet occurred after discharge and supervisor had earlier referred to Ee with variation of same epithet)

United States Postal Service 252 NLRB No. 003
(U steward's suspension after attempting to perform her duties as steward, unlawful where she was engaged in protected activity, notwithstanding she did not seek permission of supervisor as required under contract and refused to obey several direct orders to return to work as supervisor was bent on preventing steward from performing her official duties so any request would be futile and neither refusal to work nor distuption of work production and her conduct did not exceed acceptable bounds to lose protection of Act)

Sullair P.T.O., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 104
(discharge of Ee unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that discharge was result of Ee's insubordination and abusive language directed at E's manager in Ee's protest of change in company policy affecting condition of employment, where Ee's language was generally directed toward company and not to E's manager and was type of language used commonly in Ee's shop)

United States Postal Service 250 NLRB No. 002
(suspending U steward for uttering obecenity toward supervisor in course of discussing possible grievance on behalf of unit Ee, unlawful)

Southwest Detroit Hospital 249 NLRB No. 071
(discharge of licensed pratical nurse who informed supervisor he was concerned he had not been put in charge of shift and received premium charge pay provided for under contract and that he thought supervisors had made stupid decision by placing nursing technician in charge not unlawful, where discharge for his precipitous decision to leave subsequent meeting with supervisor and reusal to discuss matter further rather than for invoking terms of bargaining agreement)

Hansen Rubber Company JD-290-82
(discharge of Ee for uttering obsenity during course of meeting with E dealing with contract provision concerning pay for negotiating sessions violative as Ee was engaged in protected concerted activity and his conduct was not so egregious to remove it from protection of Act where it was uttered in heat of an argument)

The Ohio Casualty Insurance Co. JD-292-81
(discharge of Ee who protested work assignment in loud, vulgar language not violative notwithstanding she was communicating with other Ees as this is mere griping which Act does not protect)

The Learning Castle, Inc. JD-669-80
(discharge of 2 Ees who refused to perform driving part of their job assignments not violative as this was true reason, not fact that Ees had telephoned insurance agent and State agency asking questions concerning driving on job)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-272-80
(suspending U president for replying None of your goddam business to supervisor who asked why he was on plant floor after shift and ordered him to get the hell out held violative, where swearing was common, language was part of res gestae of protected activity, Ee was gathering job data for International and E had refused data to U and Ee)

Roadway Express, Inc. JD-281-80
(discharge of Ee for refusing to obey order, lawful, notwithstanding Ee's contention that he was discharged for making a safety complaint to Department of Transportation since there was no basis for concluding that E had any knowledge of Ee's compalaint)

Best Foods CPC Company JD-148-80
(no violation where Ee was suspended w/o pay for her refusal to report to supervisor's office in connection with her alleged failure to punch out in violation of company rule)

N.L.R.B. v. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 694 F.2d 974 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1982)
(suspending Ee for alleged insubordination which occurred at disciplinary meeting concerning Ee's outbursts of day before during dispute over overtime work assignments, violative, where meeting was held to discipline Ee unlawfully for his conduct of previous day and clearly provoked outbursts that ostensibly justified suspension; doctrine of provoked insubordination applied)

Sullair P.T.O., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 500 (C.A. 7, Feb 19, 1981)
(discharging Ee for obscene language directed at management when he voiced concern about E's change in gasoline policy held not violative, as he had previously been warned about such behavior and complaint about gas policy was not even motivating factor in discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Truck Drivers, Oil Drivers, Filling Station and Platform Workers Union, Local 705, Teamsters 630 F.2d 505 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(dismissal of Ees who had complained about staff salaries not unlawful, in view of Ees' injection of salary complaints at stewards' meeting which included attendance by stewards not employed by E, admittedly improper use of company CB radio regarding complaints, presentation of wage complaint letters at civic luncheon, general and repeated refusal to follow established, proper and known procedures for presenting wage complaints, coupled with their prior poor work records for which they had been given prior warnings and a second chance)

N.L.R.B. v. Max Factor and Company 640 F.2d 197 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(discharge of U steward who vigorously processed grievances, violative, notwithstanding she spent more than 50 percent of work time doing so (much more than other stewards) and at meeting with E where he issued disciplinary warning to her for not working enough she responded with profane language, because excessive time spent on nonproduction activities and conduct at meeting were not so indefensible as to cause her to forfeit protection of Act)

7550-6000 Breach of employer's rules

International Business Machines Corporation 265 NLRB No. 107
(discharge of Ee for publishing E's confidential wage information which he had received annoymously, not unlawful, where E established legitimate business justification for its policy; E does not prohibit Ees from discussing own wages or attempting to determine what other Ees paid, rather has chosen not to inform Ees what it pays others; therefore, E treats as confidential information compiled for its internal use. Ee knew documents were confidential and was aware of prohibition against disseminating such material. Furthermore, under circumstance that info obtained, Ee couldn't believe possession authorized)

Stauffer Chemical Company 262 NLRB No. 179
(E's maintaining rule prohibiting Ees (environmental engineers) from contacting government agencies (poluting authorities of EPA) directly for information relating to occupational health and safety standards regarding removal of organic waste from effluent water held not violative, since rule was valid on its face and E demonstrated legitimate and substantial business justification for its rule; Ees used such information for interpreting EPA regulations for E's Environmental control Department; rule (in issue) operated to establish orderly way of obtaining work-related information)

Dupont Puerto Rico, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 135
(discharging Ee because of his violation of E's no-sleeping-on-the-job rule while on probation unlawfully imposed for making inquiry of warehouse manager with regard to denial of raise to fellow Ee because of his five absences and his inquiry as to E's personnel policy on sick leave, disability, and promotions, violative)

Transcon Lines 259 NLRB No. 166
(discharge of Ee in accordance with E's rules for having preventable accident, not violative, notwithstanding accident brought to E's attention while investigating EEOC complaint filed by another discharged Ee as rule had been strictly enforced in past and was not invoked to provide cover for discharge in EEOC complaint)

Le Mouns, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 007
(discharging Ees for breaking rule which made them subject to discharge for not calling in w/i first hour of workday about lateness or absence, not unlawful where publication of rule was not unlawful unilateral change, as alleged, but publication of prior practice, and discharge pursuant to published rule was continuation of prior practice)

7550-6000—Cont.

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 100
(discharge of U adherent for failure to report accident as required by E's rules not violative)

CTS Keene, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 141
(warning U adherent to observe E's no solicitation rule, unlawful, where given w/o any apparent basis)

New York Telephone Company JD-(NY)-76-82
(discipline of U steward for using his desk phone for U business not violative where no one was supposed to use office phones for personal or U business and there was phone available in Ee lounge which steward could use on his break or lunch time)

American Freight System, Inc. JD-481-81
(issuance of warning letter to Ee (who had long history of filing grievances) documenting his absences and stating that any further absences would result in discharge not violative notwithstanding prior to receipt of letter Ee had asked for and been refused permission to take time off to attend upcoming U meeting and subsequent discharge of Ee was found to be violative)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-272-80
(after E refused to supply data on job classification, brackets assigned to jobs, and wages to U president per request by International, his speaking with Ees on plant floor to obtain data, after end of shift, held protected, notwithstanding he violated plant rule by not securing foreman's permission to talk on plant floor)

Professional Job Counselors, Inc. d/b/a Bernard Haldane Associates, Inc. JD-(SF)-246-80
(discharge of Ee not violative where, contrary to contention, reason was not Ee's complaints about E's compensation system but was, rather, E's refusal to handle clients according to E's established counselling procedures)

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-273-79
(supervisor's attempt to enforce lawful rule proscribing Ees talking U business on company time, w/o permission of supervisor held not violative, since attempt did not unlawfully interfere with Ees' protected rights notwithstanding U steward was talking to Ee about grievance)

Texas Instruments Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 822 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(discharge of U adherents for violation of E's valid security rule not violative where: Ees published E's confidential wage survey report which Ees had obtained outside of normal course of employment (each page of report was stamped strictly private), Ee manual set forth E's rule against disclosure of confidential information; moreover, Ees' organizing activity not dependent on access to confidential information)

7550-7080 Offensive personal behavior

United States Postal Service 264 NLRB No. 091
(suspension of Ee who persisted on several occasions to seek clarification of poorly-observed work rule, violative, where rule was incorporated into collective bargaining agreement and questioning such rule was protected concerted activity since it applied not only to Ee but to fellow Ees as well; Ee's conduct in shouting for steward to pursue her inquiry, although seen as rash and ill-mannered, was not so offensive, defamatory or opprobrious as to remove her from the protection of the Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 694 F.2d 974 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1982)
(ct held Bd's findings that E unlawfully attempted to discipline Ee who used intemperate language during dispute concerning overtime work assignments was supported by substantial evidence where it is well settled that intemperate remarks of participants during informal negotiations of this kind fall w/i ambit of protection of Act unless Ee's language is actually indefensible under the circumstances)

N.L.R.B. v. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 694 F.2d 974 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1982)
(in enforcing Bd order concerning unlawful discipline of Ee for alleged insubordinate remarks during dispute concerning overtime work assignments where Ee's conduct was found herein not to be so indefensible under the circumstances as to deprive him of protection under Act, ct rejected E's contentions that indefensible test did not apply because Ee's remarkds constituted personal abuse, that this test did not cover negotiations in open work area, and discussion between E and Ee was not real negotiations because it was conducted outside formal grievance channels)

7550-7900 Strike misconduct

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-98-82
(E warning striker because of its good faith belief that striker had repeatedly flashed his vehicle lights from high beam to low beam while following E's truck, lawful, in view of danger caused by actions)

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-98-82
(warning striker based on his alleged placing nail on ground, unlawful, since insufficient evidence to establish E's good faith belief in striker's misconduct where E failed to produce or explain its failure to produce either nail which it alleged striker had placed on ground or guard who allegedly found nail)

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-98-82
(striker opening drain on trailer carrying oil leaving only dust cap as protection which might cause hot oil to spill on remover of dust cover sufficient misconduct to justify suspension of striker)

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-98-82
(suspension of striker for damaging winter front and bug screen of truck, unlawful, since E had honest belief that striker was responsible for damage, notwithstanding striker's statement that he only unsnapped two snaps on canvas winter front which held it to bug screen, in view of photograph of truck showing extensive damage, there was no reason to believe E was responsible for aggravation of damage between time striker admittedly touched it and when photograph taken and GC failed to prove striker's innocence)

K & K Transportation Corp., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 182
(failure to reinstate ULP strikers husband and wife not violative, where E had sufficient basis to believe they had sabotaged E's trailer-truck causing serious damage to equipment and endangering safety of other motorists, and GC failed to prove that strikers were not in fact guilty of alleged misconduct; fact that misconduct occurred miles away from E's facility was apparently result of premeditated conduct engaged in far from picket line)

Can-Tex Industries, Division of Harsco Corporation 256 NLRB No. 143
(discharge of one Ee for belief he was involved in upcoming shutdown of plant by Ees and of other Ees for engaging in shutdown, unlawful where Ees were striking to present grievances; and shutting down plant equipment to prevent its being damaged did not change Ees' activity from protected to unprotected status)

Fun Striders, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 087
(refusal to reinstate strikers who had distributed protected, but nontheless, politically inflamatory materials, violative)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 061
(where pickets belligerently prevented E from driving its truck through picket line, E's physical retaliation against pickets not violation of Act)

Unit Rig & Equipment Company JD-229-82
(no violation where E refused to reinstate striker who threw nails on E's driveway)

Unit Rig & Equipment Company JD-229-82
(no violation where E refused to reinstate striker who punctured tire of truck leaving E)

Unit Rig & Equipment Company JD-229-82
(throwing beer bottles on E's parking lot, committing physical assault on nonstriker and threatening nonstriker with bodily harm justified E's refusal to reinstate striker)

Triple A Machine Shop, Inc. JD-(SF)-220-80
(discharge of 3 striking Ees not violative where they engaged in life threatening picket line violence; fact that other nonstrikers engaged in some violence and were not discharged is not inconsistent where their behavior did not reach same level of violence)

Super Valu Xenia, a Division of Super Valu Stores, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 13 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(contrary to Bd, ct held discharge of two Ees under mistaken belief they had engaged in strike misconduct, not unlawful, since Ees had participated in illegal wildcat strike and record evidence does not substantially support conclusion that E condoned or otherwise forgave Ees for their illegal conduct)

7550-8700 Breach of no-strike clause or threat thereof

Bechtel Power Corporation 264 NLRB No. 098
(refusal to rehire Ee who, while acting in his capacity of U steward, threatened E with an unlawful work stoppage if E chose certain individual to become a supervisor, not unlawful, since Ee's threat was not protected by Act)

General Electric Company 258 NLRB No. 155
(questioning Ees about another Ee's statement that if they had good U leadership like old John L., men would probably hit the bricks until things straightened out, violative as statement was protected and as it arose in otherwise protected discussion and was not incitement to engage in wildcat strike, E was not free to interrogate its Ees)

ITT Continental Baking Company American Bakeries Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 149
(Ees' discharge for walkout in protest over alleged unsafe working conditions not violative where contract contains unambiguous no-strike clause over such matters while attempt is being made to resolve issues through use of mandatory arbitration and grievance procedure)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Company 253 NLRB No. 149
(discharge of Ees who refused to work because of safety hazards violative where contract did not contain no-strike provision)

7550-8700—Cont.

A & R Window Cleaning & Janitorial Services, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 078
(discharge of Ees who had engaged in work stoppage because of E's announcement that they would not be getting holiday pay for Thanksgiving because they had not been employed by E for 90 days, unlawful, notwithstanding bargaining agreement contained no-strike clause, where at time of work stoppage Ees were unaware of existence of bargaining agreement binding on them)

N.L.R.B. v. Maryland Shipbuilding and Drydock Company 683 F.2d 109 (C.A. 4, July 1982)
(Ee who stopped work for one-half hour to pursue grievance over work assignment which he believed violated safety provision of collective bargaining agreement was not engaged in protected activity where contract prohibited any work stoppage and established three step procedure for resolution of grievances; moreover, situation did not rise to level of abnormally dangerous which would protect stoppage in face of no-strike clause; thus suspension of Ee for work stoppage not violative)

Super Valu Xenia, a Division of Super Valu Stores, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 13 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(contrary to Bd, ct held discharge of two Ees under mistaken belief they had engaged in strike misconduct, not unlawful, since Ees had participated in illegal wildcat strike and record evidence does not substantially support conclusion that E condoned or otherwise forgave Ees for their illegal conduct)

7567 VOLUNTARY QUIT

Bechtel Power Corporation 264 NLRB No. 058
(refusal to rehire Ee who, in concert with other Ees, quit job and immediately attempted to obtain paycheck, not unlawful, where demand for immediate receipt of paycheck held not to be protest involving terms and conditions of employment)

Serendippity-Un-Ltd and Tigerrr, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 100
(E's defense that Ees who walked out to protest working conditions quit, rejected, where at the time Ees did not manifest desire to permanently sever their employment, never threatened to quit, did not remove their tools in face of E's imploring them to remain in employment, and there was no ambiguity created by walkout; rather, E was clearly retaliating against entire group for engaging in concerted protected activity, and E's payroll records concerning walkout did not record quit)

R. L. White Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 069
(Ee who was on sick leave at time strike began and never returned to work found to be striker where she had informed one Ee she intended to honor picket line and participated in picket line activities, notwithstanding she never attempted to inform E that she would not be returning to work because she was honoring picket line)

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079
(I'm kind of in a way sorry I quit)

Teresa Coal Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 067
(discharge of miners who had walked off job after E failed to comply with request that road into mine be repaired so that Ees could ride into mine in view of miners' fear that scoop being used to carry them into mine was unsafe and their concern about delay in carrying out injured Ee, and refusal to allow miners to work upon their return, unlawful, since miners' activities protected; E's contention miners voluntarily quit inasmuch as they were given reasonable alternative of walking in on paid time, rejected, since no requirement (that) Ees abjure colorable grievance merely because E presents alternative, though arguably reasonable)

Brookline Corporation d/b/a Hi Fi Buys 257 NLRB No. 166
(pre-planned agreement to quit if certain Ee was terminated)

True Drilling Company 257 NLRB No. 072
(permanently replacing and refusing to reinstate Ees who walked off job, stating they did not want to work on oil rig with Ee who was allegedly intoxicated, not unlawful, since Ees voluntarily quit; intoxicated Ee did not meet objective test of abnormally hazardous condition w/i Section 502, where only danger cited was that intoxicated Ee might fall from board above platform onto Ees where Ee did not wear hard hat, worked in that position only for short time and would be strapped to board)

Oakwood Manor, Inc., d/b/a Danville Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 108
(offering Ee alternative of quiting or being discharged for engaging in protected walkout, violative notwithstanding she signed resignation form)

Yellow Freight System, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 028
(no violation where driver refused or delayed work assignment and his termination -- whether it be deemed a quit or a discharge -- was based on E's legitimate interest in moving freight rather than, as contended, Ee's assertion of a contractual right)

Gar-Wood Detroit Truck Equipment Company JD-747-79
(Ee voluntarily quit when he refused job assignment well w/i his capability, stating he was going to punch out, and subsequently punched out, walked off job and premises, notwithstanding he had been informed by E that if he punched he would be considered as quitting his job)

N.L.R.B. v. Downslope Industries, Inc., and Greenbriar Industries, Inc. 676 F.2d 1114 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)
(female Ees who had complained about sexual advances of male supervisors were discharged, rather than quit, when they left plant after being told by E to work for offending supervisor or hit the clock; test of whether Ee was discharged depends on reasonable inferences that Ees could draw from language used by E. Taking all circumstances into account it is clear that Ees reasonably inferred that E had no intention of addressing their complaints and was firing them)

7575 MISCONDUCT OF UNION

Carither's Stores, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 175
(arrest of U agent who was picketing E's store during economic strike, not violative, where E police acted on their own in making arrest and since for abuse of E's Ees and customers, rather than for interference with protected activity of Ees, in view of complaints regarding harrassment by agent and threats of violent retaliation against agent, and visible agitation of elderly customers)

Louis Trauth, Inc. JD-369-82
(no violation where E threatened to sue U for interference with its business where U went to ex-customer in course of processing grievances and told ex-customer that if he ever wanted to become customer of E again to contact deliveryman rather than sales department)

7580 FAILURE TO APPLY FOR REINSTATEMENT

Bodolay Packaging Machinery, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 039
(E's obligation to reinstate discriminatee not extinguished by Ee's failure to respond to registered letter mailed to him offering reinstatement where evidence showed Ee never received letter)

Central Cadillac Company JD-345-80
(E's refusal to allow striking Ees to return to work w/o doctor's certificate, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that Ees made no valid unconditional offer to return to work, where strikers reported in body to E's premises at regular reporting time, most in work clothes; furthermore, medical certificate requirement instituted night before return and, subsequently, never enforced)

7587 WAIVER OF RIGHT UNDER COLLECTIVE-BARGAINING AGREEMENT

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015
(no waiver of right to participate in sympathy strike by prior failure to contend broad no-strike provision did not encompass sympathy strikes, notwithstanding prior to refusal herein no member of U with which E had agreement had refused to cross picket line established by Ees of another E on E's premises during 35 year bargaining relationship, nor had U ever contended it had right to engage in sympathy strikes or urged its members to do so as past failure by U to assert statutory right does not stop subsequent assertion of that right)

Inland Steel Company 264 NLRB No. 015
(E's discharge of Ee for refusal to cross picket line at E's premises resulting from strike against contractor performing work there and whose Ees were represented by local U other than local representing E's Ees, violative, notwithstanding no-strike provision in agreement between E and U, since agreement did not encompass sympathy strikes; right to participate in sympathy strike not otherwise waived, and picketing not in violation of Section 8(b)(4))

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 088
(E's maintenance and enforcement of rule prohibiting Ee solicitation during all paid nonworking time, unlawful, since it is facially invalid inasmuch as it prohibits U solicitation during working hours, and E admitted rule applies to authorized break periods for which Ees are paid; moreover, in view of SCt's decision in Magnavox, ban on solicitation was not rendered lawful by U contract provision waiving Ees' right to engage in solicitation)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(Weingarten rights not available to Ee being reprimanded for tardiness where Ee waived such rights by saying I'm late again then said I know I'm wrong and waived his right to a witness (to reprimand) when supervisor offered it: Ee's disclosure was not result of any E questioning; furthermore E had made up its mind already to issue reprimand when Ee told to sign written reprimand)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 012
(denial of Ee's request for U representation at disciplinary interview, unlawful, where there was no waiver of U representation consonant with Bd standards for waiver of Ee's Weingarten rights; even if contract could be interpreted as waiving Ee's rights of U representation, it was not clear that best copy available

7587—Cont.

waiver would apply herein since contract waiver was ambiguous; moreover, E had reasonable fear of discipline in view of prior similar situation, and E not only denied request but also failed to offer Ee option of continuing interview unaccompanied by U representative or having no interview at all)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 095
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ees who struck E, contrary to contractual no-strike clause, to protest failure of U's health and welfare fund to fulfill its contractual medical insurance obligations held violative, since no-strike pledge relied upon by E did not constitute clear and unequivocal waiver of Ees' right to strike against actions of third party (Fund) which affected terms and conditions of employment)

Pacemaker Yacht Co., A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 095
(U cannot waive Ees' right to strike over issue of medical payments from U fund to insurance carrier by ad hoc statements of purported intent of collective bargaining agreement in view of essentially conflicting interests of U and Ees regarding Fund)

Prudential Insurance Company of America 251 NLRB No. 213
(where contract provision which waived unit Ees right to Weingarten representation had been in contract since 19 years prior to that decision and U has consistently taken position that it was not waiving its rights, provision is not waiver of those rights)

Allied Supermarkets, Inc. JD-601-81
(E in bankruptcy, by preventing Ee from posting on bulletin board and distributing intra U election campaign material in cafeteria during non-work time and in non-work area violated Act as right to run in intra U election is protected and U has no power to waive these rights in contract, which, in effect U did by agreeing to overly broad no-solicitation no-distribution clause)

Pioneer Finishing Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 199 (C.A. 1, Nov. 1981)
(where contract contained prohibitions against U officials distributing literature on E's premises, and official is also Ee, it will not be assumed that such Ee has waived any of his rights unless he has done so specifically or unless his activities are distructive to collective bargaining process)

Prudential Insurance Company of America v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 398 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)
(right to U representation at investigatory interview effectively waived in agreement between insurance company and U by provision neither U nor its members shall interfere with right of E to interview any agent with respect to any phase of his work w/o grievance committee being present notwithstanding contention that waiver not clear and unmistakable, since it referred to grievance committee rather than U representative, right not focused on during negotiations, and provision predated Weingarten, where E had recognized grievance committee as essentially same as U representative)

Prudential Insurance Company of America v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 398 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)
(since right to U representation at investigatory interview only inheres at Ee's request, Ee's silence can be effective waiver of right)

N.L.R.B. v. Container Corporation of America 649 F.2d 1213 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(no waiver of U's right to post notices related to U business, namely, grievance procedure and U vice president's perception of E's attitude, where much earlier, by mutual agreement, parties agreed to eliminate bulletin board as battleground since that agreement was made during contract negotiations and was limited to those negotiations only)

N.L.R.B. v. Gould, Inc., Switchgear Division 638 F.2d 159 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(sympathy strike is not prohibited by no-strike clause where clause is tied to grievance procedure and dispute underlying sympathy strike is not subject to grievance-arbitration machinery of contract; strike was spontaneous action to honor own U's informational picket line at own E's premises)

7599 OTHER

Cook Paint and Varnish Company 258 NLRB No. 166
(where E unlawfully questioned and threatened U steward for not submitting information concerning consultations with Ee about his grievance, Bd rejected E's defense that, pursuant to bargaining obligation of Sec. 8(d), steward was obligated to turn over documents in his possession relating to grievance, obtained in course of representing Ee; no case supports proposition that notes kept by steward representing Ees are subject to requirements of supplying relevant information; and, even if information was relevant to bargaining and E was entitled to it, Act provides appropriate mechanism for E to assert its rights, but E rejected such course)

518 EMPLOYER DOMINATION, ASSISTANCE OR SUPPORT OF LABOR ORGANIZATION

0100 GENERALLY

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034

(vice of dominated labor organization is that E can discourage collective bargaining by holding organization out to his Ees as an instrument for that purpose which they can adhere to w/o incurring his disfavor; in effect the dominated labor organization discourages genuine collective bargaining by giving Ees only semblance of collective bargaining strength while ultimate control is still maintained by E)

0120 EMPLOYER'S OBLIGATION OF NEUTRALITY TOWARDS EMPLOYEE'S ORGANIZATIONAL ACTIVITIES (See also 518-4040-6701-3300)

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156

(Bd has long held that not all E assistance to a U may be sufficient to hold E in violation of Act. Thus, there have been cases where U's use of company time and property, provided by E, did not establish per se ULP. In finding such violation SCt has observed that there must be inference that E's assistance denied Ees their right to complete and unhampered freedom in choosing a bargaining representative w/o regard to their E's wishes. Each case must be judged according to its own particular facts)

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115

(Bd will no longer find Sec. 8(a)(2) violations in rival U, initial organizing situations when an E recognizes U which alone represents uncoerced, unassisted majority, before valid ptn for election has been filed with Bd; however, once notified of valid ptn, E must refrain from recognizing any of rival Us)

Ralph Nanner, M.D., Louis Orens, M.D. et al., A Partnership d/b/a Deepdale General Hospital 253 NLRB No. 092

(where E overly restricted U solicitation and distribution and gave encouragement to committee formed under its sponsorship, it violated Act)

0160 RELEVANCY OF EMPLOYER'S MOTIVATION

St. Joseph's Hospital 254 NLRB No. 077

(E under duty to protest composition of negotiating committee and refuse to deal with it after individual who was member of U negotiating committee had been held supervisor by RD, notwithstanding E was not responsible for individual's presence on committee, no apparent conflict of interest or communication with management)

2000 FORMS OF DOMINATION AND INTERFERENCE

2001 GENERALLY

South Nassau Communities Hospital 247 NLRB No. 067

(Act forbids E interference with formation of labor organization whether that interference be benevolent or malevolent)

2001-1400 Actual domination must be shown

Vinyl-Fab Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 133

(no violation where record did not demonstrate E dominated, controlled, or rendered unlawful aid, assistance and support to E's Ee group)

2001-2500 Totality of employer's conduct considered

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

(E held to have unlawfully dominated and assisted U which lacked officers, charter, bylaws, dues or rules other than those in its contract with E, had its election procedures overseen by E, met with E when E scheduled meetings, did not bargain with E at arms-length, had its pre-negotiation facilities provided by E, and had its members' wages and travel expenses paid by E, and even received offer of use of E's attorney)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

(domination rather than assistance where Ee committee's formation and continued existence was suggested, encouraged and inspired by management, contract proposals unilaterally prepared by E, committee did not meet or act except when E called meetings, meetings were held on E's premises on paid worktime with supervisors present, E controlled voting by procedure providing ballots, counting votes and providing place for balloting, there were no bylaws and no assets)

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

(domination found where E formed Shop Committee called for and conducted meetings, offered use of its lawyer, helped committee get on NLRB ballot, actively campaigned against U and for committee, discriminated in favor of committee in matters regarding Ee discipline and grievances; moreover fact that committee actually won some concessions from E during bargaining not controlling where 8(a)(2) already filed and E trying to create impression that committee independent)

2001-3300 Requires active management participation and control

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

(unaffiliated U of clerical Ees employed by local of Teamsters' U not assisted by E (local U of Teamsters) where no one in authority in Teamsters U in any way assisted in formation of unaffiliated U or suggested that it be formed; nonsupervisory office manager initiated formation of unaffiliated U of clerks)

Deister Concentrator Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 040

(where Ees formed shop committee circulated ptn asking for bonus to be reinstated w/o E's knowledge or consent; no attempt to bypass)

2017 EMPLOYER PARTICIPATION IN FORMATION OR INITIATION OF LABOR ORGANIZATION

2017-0100 Generally

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

(E's activity in formation of labor organization not prerequisite to finding of domination in administration of labor organization)

2017-1400 Initial suggestion or instigation by employer

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078

(E recognizing shop committee as bargaining representative while incumbent U enjoyed rebuttable presumption of majority status which E did not rebut, violative; furthermore, shop committee's ptn for E recognition came about as result of speech given by E's labor consultant to Ees which undermined incumbent's status and suggested that Ees organize among themselves to bargain with E w/o U)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

(initiating, forming, sponsoring and promoting shop committee unlawful)

Randall E. Wheeler, Kevin E. Wheeler, and Edmund J. Wheeler, A General Partnership d/b/a Wheelco Co. 260 NLRB No. 109

(E violated Act when it suggested, prior to election that Ees abandon U and form Ee committee for purpose of bargaining, and after U lost election encouraged Ees to continue with committee, instructed them to draw up contract proposal and said he was willing to bargain with them concerning terms and conditions of employment as this constitutes unlawful interference in formation and administration of labor organization)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

(unaffiliated U of clerical Ees employed by local of Teamsters' U not assisted by E (local U of Teamsters) where no one in authority in Teamsters U in any way assisted in formation of unaffiliated U or suggested that it be formed; nonsupervisory office manager initiated formation of unaffiliated U of clerks)

2017-1400—Cont.

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(E's suggesting in lieu of U organization, Ee grievance committee which did meet with E and present grievances, negotiating with committee, and offering to pay for lawyer to assist in formation of committee)

Walker Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 034
(establishing, recognizing and bargaining with Ee committee at time E obligated to bargain with U, violative)

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149
(E who initiated and encouraged formation of Ee committee, assisted with election of members of committee, negotiated with committee, granted changes in some conditions of employment, provided for committee to receive receipts from vending machines in lieu of its collecting dues, and executed contract with committee after election tainted by ULPs violated Act)

Ralph Nenner, M.D., Louis Orens, M.D. et al., A Partnership d/b/a Deepdale General Hospital 253 NLRB No. 092
(where E helped originate Ee committee, aided it, participated in its activities through management and supervisors, exercised control over activities, conducted election, it violated Act)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(E's announcement, prior to election, to Ees that it was forming Ee grievance committee to handle Ee problems held violative of Section 8(a)(1) but not Section 8(a)(2) since no such committee was actually formed)

Coating Products, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 170
(telling Ees to establish Ee committee and bargaining directly with committee on company time during U campaign violative)

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054
(E who initiated in-plant Ee committee plan, held to have unlawfully dominated and interfered with formation of Ee committee, constituting a labor organization, and contributed financial and other support to it by conducting elections for Ee representatives on committee on working time, and ballots were prepared, distributed, and counted presumably with assistance of senior Ees having supervisory status)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 247 NLRB No. 067
(E's suggesting to Ees, and formation of, Nursing Advisory Committee during U organizing campaign held unlawful, since committee was found to have been labor organization notwithstanding it collected no dues and received no income from either E or any other source)

Formalay Corp. JD-(ATL)-87-81
(formation of standing committee comprised of Ees selected by management and dominated by E to resolve Ee problems held violative)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Company 691 F.2d 288 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1982)
(no unlawful domination of labor organization why E's establishing and structuring Ee committee, since committee was not labor organization where its purpose was allowing Ees to communicate with E about working conditions rather than dealing with E about them)

N.L.R.B. v. Metropolitan Alloys Corporation 624 F.2d 743 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(violation where E introduced collective-bargaining agreement at office party, announced formation of U-like committee, conducted election for committee members, and then for 2 years ignored existence, only to reactivate it when U expressed interest in organizing its Ees, as committee was company-created sham; disestablishment proper remedy)

2017-2800 Direct participation of employer

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054
(E who initiated in-plant Ee committee plan, held to have unlawfully dominated and interfered with formation of Ee committee, constituting a labor organization, and contributed financial and other support to it by conducting elections for Ee representatives on committee on working time, and ballots were prepared, distributed, and counted presumably with assistance of senior Ees having supervisory status)

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Company 691 F.2d 288 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1982)
(no unlawful domination of labor organization by E's establishing and structuring Ee committee, since committee was not labor organization where its purpose was allowing Ees to communicate with E about working conditions rather than dealing with E about them)

2017-2850 Supervisor's participation or assistance in campaigning and soliciting for union

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 158
(store manager's warning Ee that her employment would be in jeopardy if she talked with U representatives on company time violative especially where he let representative of competing U speak to Ees for two hours on company time)

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(E violated Act where it threatened Ees with discharge if they did not sign U authorization cards)

Dubuque Packing Company JD-250-82
(E violated Act where, prior to opening of plant it gave Ees U authorization cards to sign; U violated Act by accepting E's assistance)

2017-5600 Attendance at organizing meetings of employer's supervisors and agents

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

2017-7000 Assistance with and participation in initial election

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149
(E who initiated and encouraged formation of Ee committee, assisted with election of members of committee, negotiated with committee, granted changes in some conditions of employment, provided for committee to receive receipts from vending machines in lieu of its collecting dues, and executed contract with committee after election tainted by ULPs violated Act)

Ralph Nenner, M.D., Louis Orens, M.D. et al., A Partnership d/b/a Deepdale General Hospital 253 NLRB No. 092
(where E helped originate Ee committee, aided it, participated in its activities through management and supervisors, exercised control over activities, conducted election, it violated Act)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's establishment of voting eligibility requirement, furnishing of ballots, assistance of supervisor in checking names off voting list and counting ballots indicative of E domination)

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Metropolitan Alloys Corporation 624 F.2d 743 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(violation where E introduced collective-bargaining agreement at office party, announced formation of U-like committee, conducted election for committee members, and then for 2 years ignored existence, only to reactivate it when U expressed interest in organizing its Ees, as committee was company-created sham; disestablishment proper remedy)

2017-8400 Purpose of establishment of labor organization to forestall outside union

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(E's suggesting in lieu of U organization, Ee grievance committee which did meet with E and present grievances, negotiating with committee, and offering to pay for lawyer to assist in formation of committee)

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149
(E who initiated and encouraged formation of Ee committee, assisted with election of members of committee, negotiated with committee, granted changes in some conditions of employment, provided for committee to receive receipts from vending machines in lieu of its collecting dues, and executed contract with committee after election tainted by ULPs violated Act)

Ralph Nenner, M.D., Louis Orens, M.D. et al., A Partnership d/b/a Deepdale General Hospital 253 NLRB No. 092
(where E helped originate Ee committee, aided it, participated in its activities through management and supervisors, exercised control over activities, conducted election, it violated Act)

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Metropolitan Alloys Corporation 624 F.2d 743 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(violation where E introduced collective-bargaining agreement at office party, announced formation of U-like committee, conducted election for committee members, and then for 2 years ignored existence, only to reactivate it when U expressed interest in organizing its Ees, as committee was company-created sham; disestablishment proper remedy)

2017-9600 Purpose of bringing in outside labor organizations to forestall incumbent union

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078
(E recognizing shop committee as bargaining representative while incumbent U enjoyed rebuttable presumption of majority status which E did not rebut, violative; furthermore, shop committee's ptn for E recognition came about as result of speech given by E's labor consultant to Ees which undermined incumbent's status and suggested that Ees organize among themselves to bargain with E w/o U)

2033 EMPLOYER'S RELATION TO OFFICERS, PROMOTERS, AND AGENTS OF UNION

2033-6000 Grant of superseniority to union promoters and agents

Chrysler Corporation-Amplex Division of Chrysler Corporation JD252-81
(superseniority clause valid where U adduced substantial justification for awarding superseniority to officers (of U) by showing that in their respective capacities as members of (U) Executive Board they were involved in effective representation of unit Ees at plant level in matters affecting administration of collective-bargaining agreement)

2033-8000 Union offices held by employer's agents

2033-8067 Supervisors

Ditzler Mechanical Contractors, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 084
(where U president was high level supervisor for E, E violated Act as his dual roles interfere with Ees free exercise of Sec. 7 rights)

2050 TIME OF ORGANIZATION

2050-6700 Concurrent with or immediately after organizational drive of outside union

Randall E. Wheeler, Kevin E. Wheeler, and Edmund J. Wheeler, A General Partnership d/b/a Wheelco Co. 260 NLRB No. 109
(E violated Act when it suggested, prior to election that Ees abandon U and form Ee committee for purpose of bargaining, and after U lost election encouraged Ees to continue with committee, instructed them to draw up contract proposal and said he was willing to bargain with them concerning terms and conditions of employment as this constitutes unlawful interference in formation and administration of labor organization)

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149

Ralph Nenner, M.D., Lewis Orens, M.D. et al., A Partnership d/b/a Dugdale General Hospital 253 NLRB No. 092
(where E helped originate Ee committee, aided it, participated in its activities through management and supervisors, exercised control over activities, conducted election, it violated Act)

Formaloy Corp. JD-(ATL)-87-81
(formation of standing committee comprised of Ees selected by management and dominated by E to resolve Ee problems held violative)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's recognition of and negotiating agreement with Ee committee, unlawful, since committee at time of recognition did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, notwithstanding E's good faith belief committee represented majority and Ees' subsequent vote to be represented by committee, where E made no attempt to ascertain if committee represented majority, E was aware of campaign of outside U, and no evidence committee would have been formed w/o E's suggestion)

2050-8300 While rival petition pending

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

2067 STRUCTURE AND BEHAVIOR OF ORGANIZATION

2067-0700 Bargaining

2067-0750 Absence of effort to bargain

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

2067-1400 Lack of constitution and bylaws

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

2067-2800 Dues

2067-2833 No provision for

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149
(E who initiated and encouraged formation of Ee committee, assisted with election of members of committee, negotiated with committee, granted changes in some conditions of employment, provided for committee to receive receipts from vending machines in lieu of its collecting dues, and executed contract with committee after election tainted by ULPs violated Act)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 247 NLRB No. 067
(E's suggesting to Ees, and formation of, Nursing Advisory Committee during U organizing campaign held unlawful, since committee was found to have been labor organization notwithstanding it collected no dues and received no income from either E or any other source)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

Classic Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 667 F.2d 205 (C.A. 1, Dec. 1981)

2067-3500 Election procedure

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054
(E who initiated in-plant Ee committee plan, held to have unlawfully dominated and interfered with formation of Ee committee, constituting a labor organization, and contributed financial and other support to it by conducting elections for Ee representatives on committee on working time, and ballots were prepared, distributed, and counted presumably with assistance of senior Ees having supervisory status)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's establishment of voting eligibility requirement, furnishing of ballots, assistance of supervisor in checking names off voting list and counting ballots indicative of E domination)

2067-4900 Grievance procedure

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(E's announcement, prior to election, to Ees that it was forming Ee grievance committee to handle Ee problems held violative of Section 8(a)(1) but not Section 8(a)(2) since no such committee was actually formed)

2067-5600 Inactivity of organization

N.L.R.B. v. Metropolitan Alloys Corporation 624 F.2d 743 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(violation where E introduced collective-bargaining agreement at office party, announced formation of U-like committee, conducted election for committee members, and then for 2 years ignored existence, only to reactivate it when U expressed interest in organizing its Ees, as committee was company-created sham; disestablishment proper remedy)

2067-7700 Nonparticipation of membership

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

2083 ADMINISTRATION OF ORGANIZATION

2083-3300 Dictation or guidance by employer

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(taking leaflets of U competing with incumbent U from Ees and tearing them up, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(admonishing Ees not to speak with representative of U competing with incumbent U, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(telling Ees that representative of U competing with incumbent U was from Mafia, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. JD-510-81
(taking leaflets of U competing with incumbent U from Ees and tearing them up, violative)

2083-3367 Legal advice furnished by employer

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

2083-5000 Interference without domination

South Nassau Communities Hospital 247 NLRB No. 067
(Act forbids E interference with formation of labor organization whether that interference be benevolent or malevolent)

2083-6700 Meetings

2083-6750 Called and attended by employer's representatives

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(domination of Ee Committee where E's owner sat behind desk at meetings, initiated topics for discussion, and Ees felt E controlled committee)

Formaloy Corp. JD-(ATL)-87-81
(formation of standing committee comprised of Ees selected by management and dominated by E to resolve Ee problems held violative)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(fact Ee committee never met on own initiative, meetings were always held on paid work time on E's property with supervisors present are indicative of domination)

2083-8300 Employer voice in affairs of employee committee

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(domination of Ee Committee where E's owner sat behind desk at meetings, initiated topics for discussion, and Ees felt E controlled committee)

4000 FORMS OF ASSISTANCE AND SUPPORT

4001 GENERALLY

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

(in assessing impact of E assistance to U, totality of circumstances must be considered in determining whether E's conduct was sufficiently pervasive to taint U's majority status. These circumstances include improper conduct of E both before and after recognition and execution of collective bargaining agreement)

4010 SUGGESTION OF FORMATION OR INITIATION OF UNION

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176

(giving card to Ees or suggesting that they form committees to deal with E, and recognizing and bargaining with Ee committees as exclusive bargaining representatives of its Ees, violative)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(violation where, pending outcome of E's objections to election of U, E provided forum, facilities, advice and suggestions which resulted in creation of Ee grievance committee and election of its representatives using work time and E's premises)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 247 NLRB No. 067

(E's suggesting to Ees, and formation of, Nursing Advisory Committee during U organizing campaign held unlawful, since committee was found to have been labor organization notwithstanding it collected no dues and received no income from either E or any other source)

Formaloy Corp. JD-(ATL)-87-81

(formation of standing committee comprised of Ees selected by management and dominated by E to resolve Ee problems held violative)

4020 PERMITTING USE OF COMPANY TIME, PREMISES OR FACILITIES

4020-0100 Generally

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156

(Bd has long held that not all E assistance to a U may be sufficient to hold E in violation of Act. Thus, there have been cases where U's use of company time and property, provided by E, did not establish per se ULP. In finding such violation SCt has observed that there must be inference that E's assistance denied Ees their right to complete and unhampered freedom in choosing a bargaining representative w/o regard to their E's wishes. Each case must be judged according to its own particular facts)

4020-0133 Contrasting treatment of competing unions

Halo Lighting Division of McGraw Edison Company 259 NLRB No. 086

(permitting incumbent U's officials, during U campaign, to enter plant and investigate grievance problems, while denying access to officials of rival U in election, not unlawful, since incumbent U's officials' failure, while exercising U's contractual rights, to refrain from campaigning during plant visits, did not, on balance between lawful and unlawful assistance, rise to level of unlawful assistance in context of E's affirmative attempts to restrict such activities and in absence of policy to permit campaigning by incumbent U while denying such permission to rival U)

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 155

(store manager's warning Ee that her employment would be in jeopardy if she talked with U representatives on company time violative especially where he let representative of competing U speak to Ees for two hours on company time)

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 155

(threatening Ees with discharge or discipline for talking with representatives of U, while granting Ees extended lunch hours and unscheduled coffee breaks to talk to representatives of favored U, letting favored U representative campaign in stores, violates Act as managers supported U in seeking Ee support)

P. C. Foods, Inc., d/b/a Price Crusher Food Warehouse 249 NLRB No. 060

(E's grant of access to its premises for organizational purposes to favored U while denying access to rival U, violative)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040

(offer of money to pro-U Ee if he would stay with the Company and implied threat of punishment if Ee supported petitioner rather than intervening U held violative where action was designed to coerce Ee to assist Intervenor rather than petitioning U)

Dubuque Packing Company JD-280-82

(E who afforded opportunity to U it favored to address Ees on company time while refusing to have any dealings with another U which had expressed interest in representing Ees violated Act; moreover, U which accepted assistance and coerced Ees into signing cards and stated that U already represented them violated Act)

4020-1700 Dues collection

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149

(E who opened two new operations and extended U contract to cover these operations violated Act where units were not accretions and E provided U with room to meet Ees, paid Ees for time spent at meeting, solicited newly hired Ees to sign U dues checkoff authorization, withheld dues even without valid checkoff authorizations and applied U-security provisions of its existing contract; moreover, by acquiescing in above conduct and by accepting recognition and extending dues and U-security provisions of contract to Ees at new operations U also violated Act)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80

(calling Ee at home to solicit payment of assisted U's dues under threat that he should look for employment elsewhere if he did not pay them, unlawful)

4020-5000 Facilities

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 080

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162

(violation where, pending outcome of E's objections to election of U, E provided forum, facilities, advice and suggestions which resulted in creation of Ee grievance committee and election of its representatives using work time and E's premises)

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81

(E setting aside special areas w/i store for local U representative to obtain membership applications from Ees at new stores, telling these Ees to cooperate with U; that they were already covered by agreement and that recognition was extended w/o need for vote, violative)

4020-5020 Bulletin boards

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 155

(removal of one U's literature from bulletin board while permitting literature of competing U to remain on board violated Act)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80

(permitting Ees to post notices calling for payment of assisted U's dues, unlawful)

4020-5030 Signs on premises

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097

(E who permitted U which it had prematurely recognized to post sign at its store stating that U represented Ees at that store violated Act for effect of sign would be to perpetuate unlawful recognition and discourage Ees and applicants for employment at that store from joining or supporting another labor organization)

4020-5060 Clerical, telephone, and other facilities

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

(typing and posting minutes)

Signode Corporation JD-161-80

(providing free use of clerical assistance and plant equipment to labor organization substantially controlled by and financially dependent on E, unlawful)

4020-6700 Meetings

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156

(violation, where E, after refusing to bargain in good faith with incumbent U, appealed to Ees to convert to another U at meeting arranted by its Ee-agent which was held on E's time and premises, and at which meeting were also present E's attorney who promised legal aid, and advised Ees to get rid of U, and officers of U favored by E who presented arguments in favor of converting to that U; these unlawful acts of assistance tainted favored U's later card solicitation and bargaining demand and made it impossible to raise qcr)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149

(E who opened two new operations and extended U contract to cover these operations violated Act where units were not accretions and E provided U with room to meet Ees, paid Ees for time spent at meeting, solicited newly hired Ees to sign U dues checkoff authorization, withheld dues even without valid checkoff authorizations and applied U-security provisions of its existing contract; moreover, by acquiescing in above conduct and by accepting recognition and extending dues and U-security provisions of contract to Ees at new operations U also violated Act)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142

(although permission to U to address Ees on company time is not per se unlawful, E's permitting U to meet with Ees on company premises during working hours, unlawful, even though contract authorized such meeting, where contract was invalid because executed with unlawfully assisted minority U)

4020-6700—Cont.

Child Day Care Center, Verona, Virginia and Baltimore Regional Joint Board, Amalgamated
Clothing and Textile Workers Union Health and Welfare Fund 252 NLRB No. 164
(allowing U to use premises for meetings during which Ees were paid)

Coating Products, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 170
(telling Ees to establish Ee committee and bargaining directly with committee on company time during U campaign violative)

Dubuque Packing Company JD-250-82
(E who afforded opportunity to U it favored to address Ees on company time while refusing to have any dealings with another U which had expressed interest in representing Ees violated Act; moreover, U which accepted assistance and coerced Ees into signing cards and stated that U already represented them violated Act)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(fact Ee committee never met on own initiative, meetings were always held on paid work time on E's property with supervisors present are indicative of domination)

4020-6750 Shutdown to permit attendance

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(permitting assembly of all Ees on company time and premises)

4020-8300 Organizational activities

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(violation where E's attorney solicited Ees to sign authorization cards and to enlist support of other Ees for one of two Us conducting organizing campaign; attorney represented and was found to be agent for both favored U and E)

4020-8333 Meetings

Allen Brooks, d/b/a A.T. & K. Enterprises and Urban Enterprises 264 NLRB No. 164
(E did not violate Act where it agreed to let Ees hold meeting at its office where it was unaware that purpose of meeting was to discuss U; also fact that supervisors distributed decertification ptn not violative as supervisors were U members, unit members and responsibility for such supervisor's conduct will not be imputed to E absent evidence that E encouraged, authorized or ratified such conduct)

Rosa M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064
(E's arrangement of meetings at which non-Ee representatives of favored U solicited all Ees, unlawful)

4020-8367 Solicitation

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156
(violation, where E, after refusing to bargain in good faith with incumbent U, appealed to Ees to convert to another U at meeting arranted by its Ee-agent which was held on E's time and premises, and at which meeting were also present E's attorney who promised legal aid, and advised Ees to get rid of U, and officers of U favored by E who presented arguments in favor of converting to that U; these unlawful acts of assistance tainted favored U's later card solicitation and bargaining demand and made it impossible to raise qcr)

Ford Brothers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 011
(E's requesting Ees to execute authorization cards accepting local U as their representative for purpose of collective bargaining, and acting as conduit for transmittal of executed authorization cards to local U, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan
Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(soliciting and forcing Ees to sign authorization cards for U favored by E, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan
Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(telling Ees that they could lose their jobs if they failed to sign authorization cards for U favored by E, violative)

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108
(violation where U accepted unlawful assistance from E of unlimited access to plant, made misleading and threatening statements to Ees that if card signed Ees would be guaranteed job but if not signed no promise could be made to coerce card signatures on which recognition was based, and executed contract on same day E extended recognition ot forestall organizing by U which represented Ees of predecessor E)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142
(E's extensive involvement in solicitation of authorization cards for favored U, accompanied by promise of wage raise and by precipitous recognition of U, unlawful)

Rosa M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064
(E's arrangement of meetings at which non-Ee representatives of favored U solicited all Ees, unlawful)

Fenestrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass
Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

P. C. Foods, Inc., d/b/a Price Crusher Food
Warehouse 249 NLRB No. 060
(E's assistance to favored U by soliciting authorization cards on its behalf from its Ees, violative)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157
(threatening Ees with discharge for not signing U application and checkoff cards where U did not have majority and prior to 30 days grace period)

Dubuque Packing Company JD-250-82
(E violated Act where, prior to opening of plant it gave Ees U authorization cards to sign; U violated Act by accepting E's assistance)

Knit Tuck Welt Ltd. JD-(NY)-42-81
(making premises available to favored U for organizational purposes in contrast to discharging Ees for supporting other U, unlawful)

Venture Stores, Inc. JD-81-80
(E's soliciting its Ees to join U and permitting U to solicit U membership while applicants were seeking employment with E and on E's premises, violative)

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees
Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(ct held clearly substantial evidence supported Bd's factual findings of unlawful E assistance to U where Bd found that U representatives, in soliciting U authorization cards, were provided with virtually unlimited access to E's facilities and had complete freedom to conduct organizing activities during working hours with full cooperation of E's supervisors)

4030 FINANCIAL SUPPORT

4030-0100 Generally

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

4330-6125 Receipt from vending machines

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149
(E who initiated and encouraged formation of Ee committee, assisted with election of members of committee, negotiated with committee, granted changes in some conditions of employment, provided for committee to receive receipts from vending machines in lieu of its collecting dues, and executed contract with committee after election tainted by ULPs violated Act)

4030-1400 Checkoff

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157
(threatening Ees with discharge for not signing U application and checkoff cards where U did not have majority and prior to 30 days grace period)

4030-1408 Deducting union dues without employee's checkoff authorizations

C. Solari & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 053
(E violated Act when it continued to deduct U dues under merged U's checkoff clause after merger and Ees had signed valid revocations of their dues authorization cards)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems
Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(notwithstanding presence of valid dues checkoff and U-security clause, U and E violated Act where E deducted dues and fees from Ees who had not signed check-off authorization and U accepted fees for first 45 days of employment when Ees had no obligation to honor checkoff and U security provisions)

Mashkin Freight Lines, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 193

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan
Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(deducting dues from Ees' paychecks w/o obtaining authorization from Ees to make such deductions, violative)

Yalec Mold & Die Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 058
(deduction of dues for incumbent U pursuant to checkoff authorizations under contract with incumbent containing U security clause after contract had expired when outside U had filed petition for election, not unlawful where Ees had not revoked checkoff authorizations)

Edward L. Nezelek, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 070
(E's deduction of dues w/o Ee's executing checkoff authorization and U's acceptance of dues for nonmembers w/o authorization violative)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch
Mappa, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a
Seaport Manor Home For Adults 248 NLRB No. 120
(violation where E deducted U dues w/o authorization from Ees and paid monies in nature of dues to U on Ees' behalf w/o deducting these sums from their wages or otherwise collecting those monies from authorizated peyroll deductions)

4030-1408—Cont.

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

Honeywell, Inc. - Tampa Operations JD-116-81
(deducting U dues from wages of Ees who had effectively resigned from U during hiatus period between contracts, violative)

4030-1433 Refusing permission to withdraw authorizations

C. Solari & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 053
(E violated Act when it continued to deduct U dues under merged U's checkoff clause after merger and Ees had signed valid revocations of their dues authorization cards)

United States Postal Service 248 NLRB No. 002
(E and U's maintaining check-off agreement whose revocation terms were changed after enactment date of Postal Reorganization Act from 6-month period to 1-year period of revocability, and refusing therefor to permit revocation of Ees' checkoff authorizations, not violative since, according to Bd's interpretation of exception to NLRA embodied in Section 1205(b) of PRA, Congress intended to permit changes in check-off revocation period so long as they complied with limitation set forth in last sentence of Section 1205(b))

4030-1467 Soliciting dues deduction authorizations

American Pacific Concrete Pipe Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 139
(E violates Act when it encouraged its Ees to support its preferred U by providing dues-checkoff and authorization cards to Ees, and also by signing collective-bargaining agreement without U at time when it was required to bargain with another U)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(where valid u-security clause existed, E did not violate Act by giving U membership forms and dues authorization forms along with other pre-employment forms to new Ees absent evidence of coercive conduct)

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(E violated Act where it threatened Ees with discharge if they did not sign U authorization cards)

Stroehmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139
(telling Ees that they had to join U and ratifying similar statements made by U agents when they distributed membership applications and dues-checkoff authorizations, violative)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157
(where minority U)

4030-1483 Implementation of without authorizations

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(notwithstanding presence of valid dues checkoff and U-security clause, U and E violated Act where E deducted dues and fees from Ees who had not signed check-off authorization and U accepted fees for first 45 days of employment when Ees had no obligation to honor checkoff and U security provisions)

4030-1485 Honoring dues checkoff authorizations for minority union

Rose M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

4030-3500 Donation of blank authorization cards

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(where valid u-security clause existed, E did not violate Act by giving U membership forms and dues authorization forms along with other pre-employment forms to new Ees absent evidence of coercive conduct)

4030-5600 Payment or granting of leave for time spent on union business

Yama Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161
(E continuing to grant Ee leave of absence to conduct business for local U after it had unlawfully withdrawn recognition from Ees local and its International who were joint representatives and recognized local which was now affiliated with another International as sole representative of Ees)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(payment of wages to members of committee for attending meetings and R and ULP hearing before Bd, held unlawful assistance)

Homemaker Shops, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 050

Marhoefer Baking Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 071
(E's inducing Ees to form E-Ee committee and management agents meeting twice with Ees so chosen during E-paid time, and discoursing on variety of straight conditions of employment with them, violative)

Child Day Care Center, Verona, Virginia and Baltimore Regional Joint Board, Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union Health and Welfare Fund 252 NLRB No. 164
(allowing U to use premises for meetings during which Ees were paid)

Edward A. Utlaut Foundation, Inc. d/b/a Edward A. Utlaut Memorial Hospital and Fair Oaks Nursing Home 249 NLRB No. 162
(violation where, pending outcome of E's objections to election of U, E provided forum, facilities, advice and suggestions which resulted in creation of Ee grievance committee and election of its representatives using work time and E's premises)

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054
(E who initiated in-plant Ee committee plan, held to have unlawfully dominated and interfered with formation of Ee committee, constituting a labor organization, and contributed financial and other support to it by conducting elections for Ee representatives on committee on working time, and ballots were prepared, distributed, and counted presumably with assistance of senior Ees having supervisory status)

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(Ees paid for attendance at U meetings)

Signode Corporation JD-161-80
(paying representatives of labor organization subject to substantial control by E for hours spent on organization's business, unlawful)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(paying members of Ee committee wages for time spent in bargaining sessions indicative of domination)

4030-9000 Other monetary contributions

Jackson Engineering Co. 265 NLRB No. 173
(E's concealed cash payments, involving large sums of money, made to U officials, representing 10-percent kickback from all business referred to E by U, unlawful, since there was no disagreement that such payments made to labor organization constitute violations of 8(a)(1) and (2), and 8(b)(1)(A); while Act does not regulate individuals acting in private capacity, conduct of officials can properly be imputed to U since they acted as agents of U and not as individuals engaged in individual frolic or personal adventure)

4040 RECOGNITION AND EXECUTION OF CONTRACT

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(ct held clearly substantial evidence supported Bd's factual findings of unlawful E assistance to U where Bd found that E, upon being presented by U with authorization cards representing majority of Ees, immediately recognized U as sole bargaining agent of Ees w/o verifying cards and then executed bargaining agreement with U containing checkoff provision and later entered into memorandum of understanding that expanded agreement to include all fulltime Ees)

4040-0100 Generally

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(test for determining whether recognition has been lawfully extended is: 1) at time of recognition job or job classifications designated for operation must be substantially filled (30 % of its Ee complement in 50% of its job classifications) and 2) operation must be in normal production)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(in deciding whether recognition has been improperly extended, Bd is attempting to protect rights of Ees who are working as well as those of future Ees)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176
(giving card to Ees or suggesting that they form committees to deal with E, and recognizing and bargaining with Ee committees as exclusive bargaining representatives of its Ees, violative)

Dubuque Packing Company JD-250-82
(entering into contract with unlawfully recognized U violative; U's entering into and maintaining agreement also violative)

4040-0147 Presumption of majority status at time of execution

Type Rite Ribbon Mfg. Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 087
(negotiating and entering into renewal contract with incumbent U, violative, where E knew that U did not represent majority of Ees covered by contract in view of statement signed by two-thirds of unit Ees whereby they expressly disavowed incumbent U; such statement overcame presumption of majority status arising out of U's certification)

Bill's Cabinet Shop 251 NLRB No. 212
(successor E's signing bargaining agreement with predecessor's U, not violative even if unit Ees had told E that they did not want to be in the Union, where E hired the only two Ees in unit when E took over business, and one Ee remained U member and the other an applicant for U membership on critical dates; moreover, contract was signed as normal transaction by U and by E, free of duress or misrepresentation)

4040-0167—Cont.

Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 249 NLRB No. 046
(presumption overcome where credited unrebutted testimony of majority of Ees was that they had never heard of U prior to appearance of U's agent at E's premises demanding that Ees sign checkoff authorization cards)

4040-1700 Premature when number of employees not representative complement

Ford Brothers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 011
(E's entering into bargaining agreement with local U in which E recognized local U as exclusive bargaining representative, prior to time that representative Ee complement had been employed at E facility, and prior to time that any Ee at such facility had executed authorization card for local U, violative)

Safeway Stores, Inc. 236 NLRB No. 146
(entering into prehire agreement with U representing Ees in bakery sales unit and prematurely recognizing that U as bargaining representative of delicatessen Ees, violative since delicatessen Ees were not lawful accretion to bakery sales unit)

P. C. Foods, Inc., d/b/a Price Crusher Food Warehouse 249 NLRB No. 060
(E's recognition and contracting with favored U at time when U did not represent uncoerced majority of its Ees and E did not employ representative segment of its ultimate Ee compliment, violative)

4040-1716 In absence of employees

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(E who recognized U and signed collective bargaining agreement prior to hiring of any Ees violated Act as mining does not fall w/i construction industry proviso)

Special Service Delivery, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 134
(violation, where E recognized U and executed bargaining agreement with it at time when E had no Ees, and maintained agreement after Ees were hired)

4040-1733 Expanding unit

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(where E recognized U and signed contract containing U security provision, on basis of 4 signed authorization cards out of contemplated unit of 7, it did not violate ACt, moreover, fact that unit eventually expanded to 14 or 16 does not warrant different conclusion as this increase was not anticipated by E. U also did not violate Act by entering into contract)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(E's execution of recognition agreement with minority U, unlawful, where E engaged in restraint, favoritism, coercion or interference when it recognized U with only 2 of 5 Ees having executed authorization cards; subsequent expansion of Ee complement took place w/i approximately 3 weeks of recognition and there was no lengthy period of time during which Ees would be w/o representation; and existence of arm's length bargaining herein was questionable)

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(U and E by executing contract when both parties knew that size of unit was going to increase violated Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(violation, where E recognized and signed contract containing security clause with U representing sincle plantwise unit of Ees consisting of 4 Ees one week before hiring 29 Ees, 27 of whom had worked for E's predecessor in 3 separate units and been represented by three separate locals who had made representative claims and E had not yet employed representative complement)

4040-2100 Coerced majority representative

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156
(E's granting recognition to another U and negotiating contract with it after contract with incumbent U had expired, unlawful, in view of E's unlawful refusal to bargain with incumbent U and unlawful assistance to favored U and absent objective considerations to rebut U's presumption of continuing majoirty status)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(entering into bargaining agreement with U for which authorization cards were solicited by supervisor)

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108
(violation where U accepted unlawful assistance from E of unlimited access to plant, made misleading and threatening statements to Ees that if card signed Ees would be guaranteed job but if not signed no promise could be made to coerce card signatures on which recognition was based, and executed contract on same day E extended recognition to forestall organizing by U which represented Ees of predecessor E)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142
(E's recognition of U and execution of U contract, unlawful, where U did not represent uncoerced Ee majority since Spanish-speaking Ees herein, who had no prior experience with Us or collective bargaining and could not read U authorization cards which were in English, found cards totally unintelligible and, consequently, did not knowingly designate U as their representative and, instead, signed cards in order to obtain promised wage increase)

Ross M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064
(recognition and signing of contract with U which did not have an uncoerced majority, unlawful; E had arranged for U to solicit authorization cards at meeting of its Ees and for E's representatives to witness Ees' signing of the cards)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157
(E's recognition by signing contract with security clause with U, unlawful, since it failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of lack of majority and in view of totality of circumstances where recognition was hasty w/o adequate card check, E assisted U in obtaining authorization and checkoff cards by threatening discharge of Ees if they did not sign, and deducted U dues w/o authorization)

Dubuque Packing Company JD-250-82
(recognition of U based on tainted authorization cards violative; moreover, U which accepted recognition also violated Act)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81

Knit Tuck Welt Ltd. JD-(NY)-42-81
(recognizing and signing contract with favored U which did not represent an uncoerced majority where other U had substantial representation claim, unlawful)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's recognition of and negotiating agreement with Ee committee, unlawful, since committee at time of recognition did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, notwithstanding E's good faith belief committee represented majority and Ees' subsequent vote to be represented by committee, where E made no attempt to ascertain if committee represented majority, E was aware of campaign of outside U, and no evidence committee would have been formed w/o E's suggestion)

4040-2500 Inappropriate unit

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115
(Bd will no longer find Sec. 8(a)(2) violations in rival U, initial organizing situations when an E recognizes U which alone represents uncoerced, unassisted majority, before valid ptn for election has been filed with Bd; however, once notified of valid ptn, E must refrain from recognizing any of rival Us)

4040-3900 Where bargaining representative is disqualified

Kaplan, Sicking, Hessen, Sugarman, Rosenthal & Zientz (Office and Professional Employees, Local No. 128) 250 NLRB No. 065
(where U retained labor law firm as its counsel and agent in labor and other legal matters, labor law firm's recognizing and bargaining with U as bargaining representative of law firm's Ees, violative, since U is incapable of approaching the bargaining table with the single-minded purpose of protecting and advancing the interests of the employees who have selected it as their bargaining agent. Cf. Bauch and Lomb Optical Co., 108 NLRB 1555)

4040-4100 Where another union certified

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 264 NLRB No. 062
(continuing to recognize Ees' former U which lost election as representative of commissary Ees despite Bd's certification of new U as exclusive bargaining representative of those Ees, violative)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 264 NLRB No. 063
(entering into and applying collective bargaining agreement, which contained U-security provision with Ees' former U which had lost election, and by enforcing that U-security provision, violative)

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161
(E entering into new agreement with recognition of new local as sole representative during existing terms of contract, violative, where international (the certified representative) and local (U that executed contract) were joint representatives, notwithstanding local disaffiliated itself from international since international never relinquished its status, no amendment made to certification, no schism, old local not defunct; therefore contract act as bar to attempt midterm modification of bargaining representative in contract)

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078

4040-4200 Where another union recognized

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156
(E's granting recognition to another U and negotiating contract with it after contract with incumbent U had expired, unlawful, in view of E's unlawful refusal to bargain with incumbent U and unlawful assistance to favored U and absent objective considerations to rebut U's presumption of continuing majoirty status)

4040-4200—Cont.

The Arundel Corporation 253 NLRB No. 059
(E's refusal of charging U's request to recognize it as representative of portion of unit at new operation at which E had assertedly precipitously recognized another U, not unlawful, where there was no unlawful intent, no logical basis exists for assuming that matter was rigged so as to exclude charging U since only 2 or 3 of 15 Ees would have been represented by it, and there was no contention raised based on Midwest Piping doctrine or on recognition of contracting U before E had representative complement in its employ)

Andersen Sand & Gravel Company JD-655-80
(E which was engaged in manufacture of prefabricated structual concrete signing contract with Laborers in regard to representation of Ees in new wet concrete operation, unlawful, since E had obligation to bargain with Teamsters where Ees in new operation part of existing unit represented by Teamsters; inasmuch as work was performed in same plant with same tools, basically same wages, under same general supervision and working conditions; nor was operation result of establishment of new division where operation neither physically nor functionally distinct, and E's proposal for new division during bargaining had been withdrawn)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(violation, where E recognized and signed contract containing security clause with U representing single plantwise unit of Ees consisting of 4 Ees one week before hiring 29 Ees, 27 of whom had worked for E's predecessor in 3 separate units and been represented by three separate locals who had made representative claims and E had not yet employed representative complement)

4040-4300 Where employer had 8(f) prehire contract with another union

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066
(violation, where contractor discharged Ironworker Ees, and rather than resolve dispute signed contract with Sheet Metal Workers over protest of Ironworkers, since E had short form contract with Iron Workers who had majority on job, notwithstanding Ironworker Ees walked off job, or that short form contract stated dispute provisions of master agreement were not binding; E's action could not be justified by existence of any jurisdictional dispute nor could Sheet Metal Workers contract be considered pre-hire contract under construction industry proviso for job herein where job between 34 to 40 percent complete when signed)

4040-4300 Where employer has valid contract with another union

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161
(E entering into new agreement with recognition of new local as sole representative during existing terms of contract, violative, where international (the certified representative) and local (U that executed contract) were joint representatives, notwithstanding local disaffiliated itself from international since international never relinquished its status, no amendment made to certification, no schism, old local not defunct; therefore contract act as bar to attempt midterm modification of bargaining representative in contract)

American Pacific Concrete Pipe Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 139
(E violated Act when it encouraged its Ees to support its preferred U by providing dues-checkoff and authorization cards to Ees, and also by signing collective-bargaining agreement with that U at time when it was required to bargain with another U)

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019
(violation where E recognized and executed contract with favored U to represent new Ees at new location and subsequently granted said U access to new plant in face of demand for recognition from U representing unit Ees at old facility who were discriminatorily denied transfers to new location)

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066
(violation, where contractor discharged Ironworker Ees, and rather than resolve dispute signed contract with Sheet Metal Workers over protest of Ironworkers, since E had short form contract with Iron Workers who had majority on job, notwithstanding Ironworker Ees walked off job, or that short form contract stated dispute provisions of master agreement were not binding; E's action could not be justified by existence of any jurisdictional dispute nor could Sheet Metal Workers contract be considered pre-hire contract under construction industry proviso for job herein where job between 34 to 40 percent complete when signed)

Argano Electric Corp. 248 NLRB No. 049
(E's recognizing and contracting with U which picketed E at construction site at time when E and another U were bound by current contract which E refused to honor held violative of Sections 8(a)(2), (3), (5) and (1) of Act)

4040-5000 Exclusive recognition of minority representative (see also 512-5084)

Type Rite Ribbon Mfg. Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 087
(negotiating and entering into renewal contract with incumbent U, violative, where E knew that U did not represent majority of Ees covered by contract in view of statement signed by two-thirds of unit Ees whereby they expressly disavowed incumbent U; such statement overcame presumption of majority status arising out of U's certification)

Regency Gardens Company 263 NLRB No. 164
(execution and maintenance of U security agreement not unlawful, where U official, after being told orally by majority of unit Ees that they wanted to be with U, informed E that U represented Ee majority, whereupon E recognized U as Ee representative, and both then agreed to be covered by existing master agreement containing U security provision; since there is no requirement that U must have, and show to E, majority of signed cards before U may be lawfully recognized, GC failed to prove that U did not represent Ee majority on date E recognized U)

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115
(Bd held that though E will no longer automatically violate Sec. 8(2) by recognizing one of several rival Us prior to filing of election ptn, E still cannot recognize U that does not have majority Ee support, and to do so violates Sec. 8(a)(2))

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(execution of recognition agreement, unlawful, where at the time U did not represent uncoerced majority and E did not employ substantially representative complement of anticipated Ees; only 2 of 5 Ees had executed authorization cards and, even assuming all 5 Ees had signed cards, they were not substantially representative of E's anticipated work force since, when contract was executed about a month later, E's complement exceeded 150 Ees and there were at most only 2 of 7 Ee contract classifications in existence; moreover, at time of recognition E was not engaged in normal operations due to plant renovations)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(execution of recognition agreement with minority U, unlawful, notwithstanding absence of U-security provision, since very existence of agreement with minority U, although not enforced, is sufficient to find violation inasmuch as recognition agreement could be used as bar to prevent another U from representing Ees and, therefore, is not w/o coercive effect; and assuming valid authorization cards were secured prior to subsequent execution of contract, this would not cure earlier illegal conduct)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(pre-hire agreement entered into with minority U and covering one of E's facilities, unlawful, where agreement was negotated in less than 2 days w/o Ee participation or consultation and prior to existence of facilitiy involved herein, and agreement was thereafter applied when facility became operational; and while pre-hire agreements have been permitted in construction industry and in some situations involving accretions, neither of such circumstances existed herein)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(recognizing and bargaining with shop and safety committee regarding wages, hours and terms of employment where committee had not demonstrated that it represented uncoerced majority of Ees and had not requested recognition, unlawful)

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 054
(where E consolidated 3 facilities into one facility at new location and different Us had represented 2 of the facilities, E's recognition of and contracting with one of above Us covering consolidated facility before facility opened, violative where U did not represent majority of Ees at new facility notwithstanding only 1 U requested recognition at new site)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(where E unlawfully refused to bargain with one U over effects of transfer of operations and recognized another U at new location before it became operational it violated Act notwithstanding that substantial majority of new Ees were members of recognized U as it is not possible to discern whether representative complement of Ees from first plant would have elected to transfer if given option)

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066
(violation, where contractor discharged Ironworker Ees, and rather than resolve dispute signed contract with Sheet Metal Workers over protest of Ironworkers, since E had short form contract with Iron Workers who had majority on job, notwithstanding Ironworker Ees walked off job, or that short form contract stated dispute provisions of master agreement were not binding; E's action could not be justified by existence of any jurisdictional dispute nor could Sheet Metal Workers contract be considered pre-hire contract under construction industry proviso for job herein where job between 34 to 40 percent complete when signed)

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(E who recognized U as exclusive bargaining representative of its Ees at time when U did not represent valid majority of Ees violated Act)

4040-5000—Cont.

Strochmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139
(new owner's recognizing U as representative of shipping Ees who historically were in unit of another U, violative, where U did not represent uncoerced majority of shipping Ees)

Strochmann Brothers Company 252 NLRB No. 139
(new owner of business entering into contract and honoring same with U purporting to cover unit of shipping Ees historically represented by another U, violative)

Alfred Satin d/b/a Hillcrest Nursing Home (Local 875, Teamsters) 251 NLRB No. 014

Tower Hotel Company, d/b/a Holiday Inn Riverfront 250 NLRB No. 010
(no violation where E discussed with Ees their joining U after they expressed their positive feelings about U to him as E's conduct amounts to permissible cooperation)

P. C. Foods, Inc., d/b/a Price Crusher Food Warehouse 249 NLRB No. 060
(E's recognition and contracting with favored U at time when U did not represent uncoerced majority of its Ees and E did not employ representative segment of its ultimate Ee compliment, violative)

Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 249 NLRB No. 016

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(violation by E and favored U where E recognized and executed agreement with such U when U did not represent majority of E's Ees)

Venture Stores, Inc. JD-81-80

N.L.R.B. v. Unit Train Coal Sales, Inc. 636 F.2d 1121 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(E's recognition of U not violative since U was validly designated as majority representative of the six unit Ees, of whom five had signed authorization cards for the U, nowithstanding contention that two of such five Ees had signed cards for another U while employed by E's predecessor, where dual card signers implicitly demonstrated repudiation of first cards by individually participating along with other members of unit in negotiating and signing agreement between E and U)

4040-5025 Good-faith belief as to majority status immaterial

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 054

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's recognition of and negotiating agreement with Ee committee, unlawful, since committee at time of recognition did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, notwithstanding E's good faith belief committee represented majority and Ees' subsequent vote to be represented by committee, where E made no attempt to ascertain if committee represented majority, E was aware of campaign of outside U, and no evidence committee would have been formed w/o E's suggestion)

4040-5050 Subsequent acquisition of majority status immaterial

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156
(violation, where E, after refusing to bargain in good faith with incumbent U, appealed to Ees to convert to another U at meeting arranted by its Ee-agent which was held on E's time and premises, and at which meeting were also present E's attorney who promised legal aid, and advised Ees to get rid of U, and officers of U favored by E who presented arguments in favor of converting to that U; these unlawful acts of assistance tainted favored U's later card solicitation and bargaining demand and made it impossible to raise qcr)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(authorization card majority obtained prior to execution of contract does not validate earlier illegal recognition which taints all that follows, and subsequent majority status at time of execution of contract is immaterial)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's recognition of and negotiating agreement with Ee committee, unlawful, since committee at time of recognition did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, notwithstanding E's good faith belief committee represented majority and Ees' subsequent vote to be represented by committee, where E made no attempt to ascertain if committee represented majority, E was aware of campaign of outside U, and no evidence committee would have been formed w/o E's suggestion)

4040-5088 Where another union certified as representative of unit found appropriate

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 264 NLRB No. 063
(continuing to recognize Ees' former U which lost election as representative of commissary Ees despite Bd's certification of new U as exclusive bargaining representative of those Ees, violative)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 264 NLRB No. 063
(entering into and applying collective bargaining agreement, which contained U-security provision with Ees' former U which had lost election, and by enforcing that U-security provision, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Carpenters' District Council of Greater St. Louis, AFL-CIO 622 F.2d 381 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(violation where E negotiated and antered into separate agreement with its own Ees after stating it would not sign U's new contract negotiated by U with multi-E association from which E had untimely withdrawn)

4040-6700 During existence of real question of representation (midwest piping doctrine, see also 512-5084)

4040-6701 Generally

Lutheran Hospital of Maryland, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 149
(signing of contract by E and incumbent U not violative, notwithstanding GC's contention that question concerning representation existed, since, in RCA del Caribe, Inc., Bd recently reexamined law applicable to situations where incumbent U is challenged by outside U and held that raising of question concerning representation will no longer require or permit an E to withdraw from bargaining, nor will an E be privileged to refuse to execute a contract with incumbent U; thus by executing contract, E did not violate 8(a)(2) and it necessarily follows that incumbent U did not violate 8(b)(1)(A))

4040-6701-3300 Employer obligation of neutrality

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116
(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115
(Bd will no longer find Sec. 8(a)(2) violations in rival U, initial organizing situations when an E recognizes U which alone represents uncoerced, unassisted majority, before valid ptn for election has been filed with Bd; however, once notified of valid ptn, E must refrain from recognizing any of rival Us)

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115
(duty of strict E neutrality and necessity for Bd conducted election attaches only when properly supported ptn has been filed by 1 or more of competing Us; where no ptn has been filed, E free to grant recognition to labor organization with uncoerced majority, so long as it does not render assistance which would otherwise violate Sec. 8(a)(2) of Act)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(offer of money to pro-U Ee if he would stay with the Company and implied threat of punishment if Ee supported petitioner rather than intervening U held violative where action was designed to coerce Ee to assist Intervenor rather than petitioning U)

Queen City Paving Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-156-80

4040-6701-6700 Question of representation for resolution by Board

N.L.R.B. v. Newport Div. of Wintex Knitting Mills, Inc. 610 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(where 2 competing U's had filed ULP charges against E, Bd postponed election until resolution of charges and while charges pending 1 U maintained active campaign and acquired majority of signed authorization cards while other U ceased organizing efforts, Bd's finding that qcr existed and E violated Act overruled for if 1 of 2 rival U's has demonstrated majority status w/o help from E, Bd's orders against E finding ULP on basis of such recognition and entering into bargaining agreement will be denied)

N.L.R.B. v. Newport Div. of Wintex Knitting Mi lls, Inc. 610 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, 1979)
(where 2 competing U's had filed ULp charges against E, Bd postponed election until resolution of charges and while charges pending (U maintained active campaign and acquired majority of signed authorization cards while other U ceased organizing efforts) Bd's finding that qcr existed and E violated Act overruled for if 1 of 2 rival U's has demonstrated majority status w/o help from E, Bd's order against E finding ULP on basis of such recognition and entering into bargaining agreement will be denied)

4040-6733 What creates real question of representation

4040-6733-3300 Colorable claim of competing union

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033
(E's recognition of U while incumbent U had not abandoned its claim to represent E's Ees notwithstanding its loss of majority status and while R ptn filed by U with which it had recognized was pending, unlawful, pending resolution of qcr)

4040-6733-3300—Cont.

New-Stan Dyeing and Finishing Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 140

(E's recognizing U which had represented predecessor E's Ees and entering into contract containing U security clause with such U before hiring any Ees, not unlawful since E was successor to prior E and intended to and did hire all of prior E's Ees; although successor discussed hiring a third company's Ees with U which represented them, since it did not hire them, there was no qcr or conflicting claims of two Us representing potential Ees of E found successor herein)

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 115

(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115

(duty of strict E neutrality and necessity for Bd conducted election attaches only when properly supported ptn has been filed by 1 or more of competing Us; where no ptn has been filed, E free to grant recognition to labor organization with uncoerced majority, so long as it does not render assistance which would otherwise violate Sec. 8(a)(2) of Act)

Knit Tuck Welt Ltd. JD-(NY)-42-81

(recognizing and signing contract with favored U which did not represent an uncoerced majority where other U had substantial representation claim, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Newport Div. of Wintex Knitting Mills, Inc. 610 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(where 2 competing U's had filed ULP charges against E, Bd postponed election until resolution of charges and while charges pending 1 U maintained active campaign and acquired majority of signed authorization cards while other U ceased organizing efforts Bd's finding that qcr existed and E violated Act overruled for if 1 of 2 rival U's has demonstrated majority status w/o help from E, Bd's orders against E finding ULP on basis of such recognition and entering into bargaining agreement will be denied)

N.L.R.B. v. Newport Div. of Wintex Knitting Mills, Inc. 610 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, 1979)

(where 2 competing U's had filed ULp charges against E, Bd postponed election until resolution of charges and while charges pending (U maintained active campaign and acquired majority of signed authorization cards while other U ceased organizing efforts) Bd's finding that qc existed and E violated Act overruled for if 1 of 2 rival U's has demonstrated majority status w/o help from E, Bd's order against E finding ULP on basis of such recognition and entering into bargaining agreement will be denied)

4040-6733-6700 Pendency of petition under section 9

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033

(E's recognition of U while incumbent U had not abandoned its claim to represent E's Ees notwithstanding its loss of majority status and while R ptn filed by U with which it had recognized was pending, unlawful, pending resolution of qcr)

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116

(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115

(duty of strict E neutrality and necessity for Bd conducted election attaches only when properly supported ptn has been filed by 1 or more of competing Us; where no ptn has been filed, E free to grant recognition to labor organization with uncoerced majority, so long as it does not render assistance which would otherwise violate Sec. 8(a)(2) of Act)

Queen City Paving Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-156-80

(E and Us violated Act by entering into, maintaining, and enforcing collective bargaining agreements covering bargaining units since qcr existed where petitions had been filed, elections held, and objections to election and challenged ballots were under Bd consideration; Sec. 8(f) was no defense because of existence of qcr)

4040-6767 Continued recognition of incumbent pending resolution of question

4040-6767-5000 For purposes of negotiation of renewal of contract

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116

(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

4040-7500 During insulated period of contract

4040-7501 Generally

Yates Industries, Inc., California Division 264 NLRB No. 161

(E entering into new agreement with recognition of new local as sole representative during existing terms of contract, violative, where international (the certified representative) and local (U that executed contract) were joint representatives, notwithstanding local disaffiliated itself from international since international never relinquished its status, no amendment made to certification, no schism, old local not defunct; therefore contract act as bar to attempt midterm modification of bargaining representative in contract)

4040-7567 With minority union

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028

(recognition of U and entering into collective bargaining agreement with U, which, on date of execution of contract, did not in fact represent majority of E's Ees and this was known by both parties, held violative as to both E and U)

4040-7567-3300 Where employer does not have knowledge of loss of majority

Clark Equipment Company 249 NLRB No. 094

(no violation of 8(a)(2) by E or 8(b)(1)(A) by incumbent U where they negotiated and executed new contract when incumbent no longer represented majority of E's Ees, since E lacked requisite knowledge of incumbent U's loss of majority support; dissidents' committee and its leader withheld from E during insulated period the very evidence that would have required E to cease negotiating with incumbent U)

4040-7567-6700 Where employer has knowledge of loss of majority

Campus Housekeeping, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 072

(U and E violated Act when they signed renewal contract which contained U security clause after U had lost its majority and E had knowledge of this)

4040-8300 Extension of contract to additional groups of employees

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108

(since original contract extending recognition to U was unlawful because of E assistance furnished U, memorandum of understanding signed when production started at plant which purported to expand original contract to include P&M Ees recently hired was likewise, invalid)

4040-8325 Where employees are represented by another union

Sun-Maid Growers of California v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 56 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(treating newly hired electricians as accretion to machinists unit violative as new Ees denied opportunity to choose their bargaining representative)

4040-8367 Where question of representation exists

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149

(E who opened two new operations and extended U contract to cover these operations violated Act where units were not accretions and E provided U with room to meet Ees, paid Ees for time spent at meeting, solicited newly hired Ees to sign U dues checkoff authorization, withheld dues even without valid checkoff authorizations and applied U-security provisions of its existing contract; moreover, by acquiescing in above conduct and by accepting recognition and extending dues and U-security provisions of contract to Ees at new operations U also violated Act)

King Radio Corporation 257 NLRB No. 070

(E which granted U recognition, w/o proof of majority status for P&M Ees at one of its plants not covered by previously negotiated contract for its other plant violated Act where plant was not accretion to first bargaining unit; accretion not found for following reasons: (1) plant was in operation prior to time E recognized U at other plant, and (2) unit always excluded from coverage because U did not present proof of card majority)

4050 UNION SECURITY AND PREFERENCE AGREEMENTS

4050-3300 Agreements legal on their face with assisted unions

4050-3325 In contract with favored union

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097

(E who applied and enforced collective-bargaining agreement including provisions providing for U-security clause, dues checkoff and insurance, to Ees of new store which was found not to be accretion to unit consisting of E's other four stores violated Act; moreover, U which accepted all of foregoing also violated Act)

4050-3325—Cont.

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(enforcing long dormant contract executed between E and favored U three years earlier in order to keep competing U from organizing its Ees, violative)

Ross M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 064
(incorporation in agreement with illegally assisted U a U-security clause requiring membership in such U as condition of continued employment, unlawful)

4050-3350 In contract with minority union

Type Rite Ribbon Mfg. Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 087
(violation where E deducted U dues and initiation fees pursuant to renewal contract which it entered into with knowledge that U did not represent majority of Ees covered by contract)

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 264 NLRB No. 063
(entering into and applying collective bargaining agreement, which contained U-security provision with Ees' former U which had lost election, and by enforcing that U-security provision, violative)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(E who signed contract containing U security clause and hiring hall provisions prior to hiring any Ees and then refused to employ any applicants who had not been referred through hiring hall, violated Act)

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(E unlawfully supported and assisted U by entering into and maintaining pre-hire agreement with minority U, containing U-security provision requiring membership as condition of employment and deduction of dues, fees, and assessments, and by deducting such monies)

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 054
(maintaining U security clause in contract with minority U violative)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142
(enforcement of terms of contract, executed with unlawfully assisted minority U, by maintaining U security clause and automatically deducting dues for remittance to U, unlawful)

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(E who entered into contract containing U security clause with U which did not represent uncoerced majority of its Ees, and enforced that clause violated Act)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157
(E's recognition by signing contract with security clause with U, unlawful, since it failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of lack of majority and in view of totality of circumstances where recognition was hasty w/o adequate card check, E assisted U in obtaining authorization and checkoff cards by threatening discharge of Ees if they did not sign, and deducted U dues w/o authorization)

Venture Stores, Inc. JD-81-80

N.L.R.B. v. Sanford Home For Adults 669 F.2d 35 (C.A. 2, Dec. 1981)

4050-3375 Union membership requirements

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(furthermore, even if recognized U has majority support Ees are only required to satisfy financial obligations of U membership and do not need to accept full U membership as condition of employment)

4050-3375-2000 Execution of

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116
(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

4050-3375-4000 Maintenance of

Servair, Inc. and Servair Maintenance, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 093
(where U represented group of 30-35 Ees employed by E, group of 36 newly hired Ees not accretion as it is unlawful to accrete large group to small group; moreover, E failed to disclose to new Ees that contractual benefits they would receive, new janitor Ees would receive different wage rates than those provided for in contract and E solicited U membership cards from new Ees; thus by unlawfully assisting and recognizing U E violated Sections 8(a)(1) and (2) and by requiring new Ees to join U violated Section 8(a)(3))

4050-3375-6000 Preferential hiring or referral provision

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(E who signed contract containing U security clause and hiring hall provisions prior to hiring any Ees and then refused to employ any applicants who had not been referred through hiring hall, violated Act)

4050-6700 Illegal union security agreements

4050-6750 Failure to provide 30-day period

4050-6750-6700 From execution of agreement

Visu-Craft By H.B.S., Inc. JD-887-79
(threatening Ee with discharge if he refused to sign checkoff authorization and U membership application violative, where U security clause unlawful because no grace period provided for unit members working at time contract executed; moreover, even if security clause had been valid, lack of voluntariness in signing checkoff authorizations made threat unlawful because Ee has right to decide how he will pay dues)

4060 PARTICIPATION OF SUPERVISORS IN AFFAIRS OF LABOR ORGANIZATION

4060-0100 Generally

St. Joseph's Hospital 254 NLRB No. 077
(RD's determination of supervisory status became immediately operative w/o affirmance by Bd; Hence, after RD's decision issued, continued participation of individuals held supervisors as members of negotiating committee and their participation in U contract ratification/strike vote, unlawful)

Dravo Corporation and J. D. Posillico Corp. 248 NLRB No. 094
(in refusing to adopt ALJ's interpretation of Bd's decision in Nassau and Suffolk Contractors Assoc., Inc., 118 NLRB 174, Bd pointed out that Nassau does not limit a finding of divided loyalty to the steward-supervisor's membership on U negotiating committee)

4060-1600 Solicitation of union membership and support

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(suspicions raised by alleged solicitation by supervisors of signed authorization cards from prospective Ees in pre-employment interviews held insufficient to warrant inference that E thereby assisted U where, unlike cases involving direct solicitation of several Ees by supervisors, solicitation of Ee groups by U representatives in supervisors' presence, or supervisors' discharge threats for failing to sign, there was only one situation herein involving direct evidence of solicitation in pre-employment interviews from which GC sought to establish that over 100 cards were secured in same fashion, but such sweeping generalization is not warranted)

Knit Tuck Welt Ltd. JD-(NY)-42-81
(supervisor's solicitation of Ees to sign authorization cards for favored U and promise of benefits for signing, unlawful)

Cashmere Lumber Company JD-(SF)-93-80
(supervisor's request that Ee support incumbent U officials in upcoming U election, made half-year before election, and unaccompanied by any kinds of threats or promises held not to violate 8(a)(2) nor 8(a)(1))

4060-1633 With acquiescence of employer

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(supervisor soliciting Ees to sign authorization cards for U favored by E, unlawful)

Russ Togs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(E's permitting supervisor to serve concurrently as shop steward where responsibilities of these positions were in conflict, unlawful; when two Ees grieved about E's underpayment of contractual wage raises and urged other Ees to grieve and stage protest slowdown about underpayment, supervisor-steward reported grievants' effort to promote a slowdown to E in his capacity as supervisor but did nothing in his capacity as steward about the grievance or E's underpayment)

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 249 NLRB No. 046
(violation, where Ees who were reluctant to sign membership and checkoff authorization cards for U w/o knowing more about organization and w/o seeing collective bargaining agreement which purportedly existed between U and E were threatened with loss of job or other reprisals by agents of U and E if they did not sign cards where U did not represent majority)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(E setting aside special areas w/i store for local U representative to obtain membership applications from Ees at new stores, telling these Ees to cooperate with U; that they were already covered by agreement and that recognition was extended w/o need for vote, violative)

4060-1633—Cont.

Industrial, Technical and Professional Employees Division, National Maritime Union of America, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 305 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(ct held clearly substantial evidence supported Bd's factual findings of unlawful E assistance to U where Bd found that U representatives, in soliciting U authorization cards, were provided with virtually unlimited access to E's facilities and had complete freedom to conduct organizing activities during working hours with full cooperation of E's supervisors)

4060-1667 Contrary to employer's known opposition to union

Smithtown General Hospital JD-752-80
(violation where supervisors signed cards and encouraged Ees to sign cards for job security and hospital administrator then encouraged Ees to rescind cards with promises of job security)

4060-2500 Voting in intra-union election

St. Joseph's Hospital 254 NLRB No. 077
(participation of individuals in U contract ratification strike vote who had been held supervisors and excluded from unit by RD, unlawful, notwithstanding supervisors did not attempt to influence Ees' votes or that one vote resulted in rejection of contract and supervisors' votes were not determinative in vote where contract ratified)

4060-5000 Serves as officer, or in other official capacity

Ditzler Mechanical Contractors, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 084
(where U president was high level supervisor for E, E violated Act as his dual roles interfere with Ees free exercise of Sec. 7 rights)

Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund d/b/a Three Hundred South Grand Company 257 NLRB No. 178
(violation, where E permitted supervisor to handle grievances of members of U in which supervisor held positions of president and member of executive board)

Russ Togs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(E's permitting supervisor to serve concurrently as shop steward where responsibilities of these positions were in conflict, unlawful; when two Ees grieved about E's underpayment of contractual wage rates and urged other Ees to grieve and stage protest slowdown about underpayment, supervisor-steward reported grievants' effort to promote a slowdown to E in his capacity as supervisor but did nothing in his capacity as steward about the grievance or E's underpayment)

O. B. Williams Company 252 NLRB No. 146
(E unlawfully interfered in administration of U by permitting supervisor to hold U office and by supervisor's direction of U steward to intercede on behalf of E)

Child Day Care Center, Verona, Virginia and Baltimore Regional Joint Board, Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union Health and Welfare Fund 252 NLRB No. 164
(E's recognition of U, unlawful where 1 individual carried dual role as one of E's trustees and as business agent of U)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(E's dealing with supervisor as president of U, unlawful)

4060-6700 Membership on negotiating committee

St. Joseph's Hospital 254 NLRB No. 077
(low level supervisor's continued participation in bargaining negotiations as member of U negotiating committee after she had been held supervisor by RD, unlawful, notwithstanding E not responsible for her presence on committee and no apparent actual conflict of interest or communication with management during negotiations)

St. Joseph's Hospital 254 NLRB No. 077
(E under duty to protest composition of negotiating committee and refuse to deal with it after individual who was member of U negotiating committee had been held supervisor by RD, notwithstanding E was not responsible for individual's presence on committee, no apparent conflict of interest or communication with management)

Drave Corporation and J. D. Pezzillico Corp. 248 NLRB No. 094
(in refusing to adopt ALJ's interpretation of Bd's decision in Nassau and Suffolk Contractors Assn., Inc., 118 NLRB 174, Bd pointed out that Nassau does not limit a finding of divided loyalty to the steward-supervisor's membership on U negotiating committee)

4060-6200 Participation in union meetings

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

4060-6700 Participation in Board proceeding

Classic Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 149
(encouraging and helping Ee committee to intervene in Bd representation election violative)

4070 DECLARATIONS OF UNION PREFERENCE

4070-2500 Favoring one faction of incumbent union over another faction

Howland Hook Marine Terminal Corporation 263 NLRB No. 040
(designation of agent of Ees' collective bargaining representative (appointment of interim steward) is purely internal U affair and resolution of dispute regarding who would be interim steward rested with U and not Bd; Section 8(a)(5) of Act not applicable to internal U dispute concerning who had authority to conduct business of local U and E not required to determine which of 2 representatives was the validly designated one)

4070-3300 Favoring outside union over incumbent

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156
(violation, where E, after refusing to bargain in good faith with incumbent U, appealed to Ees to convert to another U at meeting arranted by its Ee-agent which was held on E's time and premises, and at which meeting were also present E's attorney who promised legal aid, and advised Ees to get rid of U, and officers of U favored by E who presented arguments in favor of converting to that U; these unlawful acts of assistance tainted favored U's later card solicitation and bargaining demand and made it impossible to raise qcr)

4070-5000 Favoring one outside union over others

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(E's owner asking Ee to sign authorization card for U which owner favored and informing Ee if Ee did not sign card You can't work for me)

NAB Construction Corporation 258 NLRB No. 090
(where 2 Us were competing, E's threat that if particular local won it would subcontract out unit work violated Act)

NAB Construction Corporation 258 NLRB No. 090
(E who told Ees he wanted them to vote for one of two competing U's, asked one Ee to ask other Ees to vote for particular U, threatened Ees with discharge if supported wrong U and promised permanent employment for supporting favored U violated Act)

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

Dubuque Packing Company JD-250-82
(E who afforded opportunity to U it favored to address Ees on company time while refusing to have any dealings with another U which had expressed interest in representing Ees violated Act; moreover, U which accepted assistance and coerced Ees into signing cards and stated that U already represented them violated Act)

4070-6700 Favoring incumbent over outside union

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 084
(violation, where though U never represented uncoerced majority, E made Ees at new facility accessible to U and then joining U in their exhortation to Ees to sign membership cards under threat of discharge as conduct rendered aid to U)

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 155
(E may lawfully state its preference between competing U's in R election but here where E accorded encumbent U privileges and favored treatment to detriment of petitioning U it violated Act)

Yaloz Mold & Die Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 006
(statements that Ees were to report on any Ee speaking about petitioner and that any Ee voting for petitioner rather than for incumbent U would be discharged, unlawful)

4080 CHANGES IN TERMS OF EMPLOYMENT, OR PROMISES OR THREATS THEREOF, TO ASSIST LABOR ORGANIZATION

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(promise to restore hours of work, previously taken away to punish Ees for support of disfavored U, unlawful where promise was made to gain support for U favored by E)

4080-6200 Promise of benefits

Mego Corp. and Samet and Wells, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 031
(promising and granting benefits to Ees to induce them to refrain from joining U competing with U desired by E, violative)

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(promises of overtime work if Ees signed authorization cards of assisted U, unlawful)

4080-[illegible] Threat that proposed merger will not take place

4080-6500—Cont.

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E threatening that scheduled merger between it and another company would not take place if E's proposed contract with Ee committee were not ratified or if Ee voted to be represented by outside U, unlawful)

4080-7500 Threats of shutdown

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

4090 DISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT, OR THREATS THEREOF, TO ASSIST LABOR ORGANIZATION

4090-1400 Discharge, layoff, suspension, or refusal to hire for not supporting favored union

Ford Brothers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 011
(E's impliedly threatening Ee with discharge unless Ee executed authorization card accepting local U as his representative for purpose of collective bargaining by stating E would not allow non-U Ees to jeopardize E facility, violative)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(E's owner asking Ee to sign authorization card for U which owner favored and informing Ee if Ee did not sign card You can't work for me)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(laying Ee, and mother and daughter of Ee off because they rejected U favored by E and supported competing U, violative)

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 054
(violation, where though U never represented uncoerced majority, E made Ees at new facility accessible to U and then joining U in their exhortation to Ees to sign membership cards under threat of discharge as conduct rendered aid to U)

Yaloz Mold & Die Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 006
(hiring Ees who were for incumbent U to assist incumbent and defeat petitioner in Bd election violated Act and interfered with election)

Mego Corp. and Samet and Wells, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 031
(telling Ees they had join or pay dues to unlawfully recognized U in order to retain their employment, violative)

Corrugated Structures, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 079
(discharge of Ee for complaining to U concerning reduction in pay and discharge of 2 Ees because of their membership in such U, unlawful where such conduct was designed to and tended to encourage membership in favored U and to discourage membership in other U)

Fenetrol, Inc., A Subsidiary of Yonkers Plate Glass Co. 251 NLRB No. 113

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(threats of discharge if Ees did not sign authorization cards, of assisted U, unlawful)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his opposition to U as bargaining representative, objection to deduction of U dues w/o his consent, and filing charges with Bd rather than for his tardiness particularly in view of his prior excellent record and recommendation)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(statements to Ees and applicants for employment that they would have to join (particular) U as condition of employment and posting of letter threatening Ees that they would not be scheduled for work unless they joined U, held violative)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(calling Ee at home to solicit payment of assisted U's dues under threat that he should look for employment elsewhere if he did not pay them, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(threatening Ees with discharge if they did not complete U membership applications and dues checkoff authorizations for U which E had prematurely recognized and which was legitimate representative of Ees, unlawful)

4090-2800 Discharge or layoff or suspension for supporting rival union

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(laying Ee, and mother and daughter of Ee off because they rejected U favored by E and supported competing U, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(laying Ees off and subcontracting work out, violative, where such action was intended to stop competing U from organizing Ees and in retaliation for Ees support for that U and rejection of U favored by E)

4090-3700 Discharge or layoff for refusal to sign checkoff authorization

Visu-Craft By H.B.S., Inc. JD-887-79
(threatening Ee with discharge if he refused to sign checkoff authorization and U membership application violative, where U security clause unlawful because no grace period provided for unit members working at time contract executed; moreover, even if security clause had been valid, lack of voluntariness in signing checkoff authorizations made threat unlawful because Ee has right to decide how he will pay dues)

4090-4200 Preferential hiring of union adherents

The Mead Corporation 256 NLRB No. 108
(violation where U accepted unlawful assistance from E of unlimited access to plant, made misleading and threatening statements to Ees that if card signed Ees would be guaranteed job but if not signed no promise could be made to coerce card signatures on which recognition was based, and executed contract on same day E extended recognition ot forestall organizing by U which represented Ees of predecessor E)

4090-9100 Veiled threats

Mego Corp. and Samet and Wells, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 031
(warning Ees not to join or assist competing U, violative)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(offer of money to pro-U Ee if he would stay with the Company and implied threat of punishment if Ee supported petitioner rather than intervening U held violative where action was designed to coerce Ee to assist Intervenor rather than petitioning U)

4090-9900 Other

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(E boarding bus in pursuit of organizer of U competing with U favored by E to observe him talking to Ees, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(telling Ees not to talk about any U, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(telling Ee to advise E if Ee heard anyone discuss U competing with U favored by E, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(E boarding bus in pursuit of organizer of U competing with U favored by E to observe him talking to Ees, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(telling Ees not to talk about any U, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(telling Ee to advise E if Ee heard anyone discuss U competing with U favored by E, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan IndusInc. JD-510-81
(E boarding bus in pursuit of organizer of U compet U favored by E to observe him talking to Ees, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. JD-510-81
(E boarding bus in pursuit of organizer of U competing with U favored by E to observe him talking to Ees, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. JD-510-81
(telling Ees not to talk about any U, violative)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. JD-510-81
(telling Ee to advise E if Ee heard anyone discuss U competing with U favored by E, violative)

6000 STATUS OF SUCCESSOR TO DOMINATED OR ASSISTED LABOR ORGANIZATION

8000 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

R. J. E. Leasing Corp. 262 NLRB No. 049
(E's execution of pre-hire agreement with minority U not barred from consideration by Sec. 10(b); while actual date of its execution was not disclosed by evidence, Ees first became aware w/i 10(b) period that agreement was in effect; 6-month limitation does not begin to run until party affected by ULP is on actual or constructive notice of events giving rise to charges, thus estopping wrongdoer engaged in fraudulent concealment of wrongful conduct from using such concealment to permit 10(b) defense)

8000—Cont.

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028

8050 COMPLIANCE WITH CONTRACT

Tower Hotel Company, d/b/a Holiday Inn Riverfront 250 NLRB No. 010

(discharge of Ee because he failed to meet age requirements of U's apprenticeship program not violative where insufficient evidence exists to establish that contract provision is illegal)

524 EMPLOYER DISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT

0100 GENERALLY

0117 SCOPE OF PROSCRIPTION

0117-2500 Act does not touch normal exercise of the right of the employer to select its employees or to discharge them

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(E's filing of notice of arbitration concerning its intention to discharge Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee, not unlawful, where E's grounds for discharge were valid; Ee does not insulate himself from discharge for cause simply by virtue of fact that he had engaged in protected activity; misconduct which would justify discharge, absent any protected activity, will also justify discharge despite protected activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(purpose of section 10(c) is to make it abundantly clear that Bd is not to interfere with exercise by Es of their traditional right to discharge Ees for adequate cause)

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)
(E's asserted defense of business justification to discharge pursuant to valid rule is to be weighed with some delicacy and deference; Bd may not substitute its business judgment for E's, rather there must be weighing of relative strengths of good and bad motivations, not to determine how Bd would have behaved under similar circumstances, but to determine what in fact motivated E)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

0117-6200 Section 8(a)(3) not utilized for implementation or section 10(k) determination

Sullivan Transfer Co. 247 NLRB No. 117
(where actions of all parties are part of acute, bona fide jurisdictional dispute, E does not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) by choosing one group of Ees over another)

0117-8700 Prohibition not limited to discrimination against bare union membership but includes participation in union activities

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(refusing to pay registration fees and grant time off to two Ees to attend U-sponsored seminar held violative, since E, in past years, allowed Ees to attend U-sponsored seminars when there was no U activity among its Ees; E's motivation, regardless of whether Ee-applicants for seminar were pro-U or anti-U, was to take away benefits because of Ees' exercise of their Section 7 rights)

0133 INDIVIDUALS AFFECTED

0133-1200 Innocent bystanders

O'Dovero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101
(layoff of Ee who was not U adherent to cover up unlawfulness of layoff of U adherents and motivated by E's desire to reach and layoff steward who, pursuant to agreement, had to be laid off last)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(laid off Ees who were not affirmatively shown to be U supporters held discriminated against as if they had been U supporters, where they were caught up in their fellow Ees' U adherence and were victims of E's effort to crush U)

N.L.R.B. v. Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 667 F.2d 613 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(layoff of 2 Ees caused by reduction in work due to discriminatory discharge of 2 other Ees violative as layoffs would not have occurred but for discriminatory action)

0133-1600 Nonunit employees

Sealy Mattress Company of Michigan, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 011
(discharge of Ee for joining U violative notwithstanding he may not have been properly part of unit he sought to join since his efforts were protected activity against which E could not lawfully retaliate)

G & H Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 047
(discharge of non-unit clerical Ee who refused to perform struck plant work though she had performed such work prior to refusal and there was no-strike provision in contract violative, as clerical Ees are protected from crossing picket lines or refusing to perform struck work when they profess willingness to perform regular clerical chores)

0133-2500 Nonunion employees

New York Laboratory Supply Company, Inc. JD-416-81
(E which maintained agreement with U that provided that the agreement applied only to members of U, and that Ees who are U members will receive different wages than Ees who are not U members violated Act as this encouraged membership in U and interfered with Ees Sec. 7 rights)

0133-3100 Union employees

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 667 F.2d 955 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(E's refusal to retain Ees because they were U members and E wanted to avoid incurring duty to bargain with their U, unlawful; E let entire engineering staff go although he needed at least one experienced engineer to correct malfunction in air-conditioning system)

0133-5000 Relative of active union members

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of confidential Ee allegedly for leaking information, violative where real reason was her husband's U activities)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(failure to consider leading U advocate's wife's application for employment held violative, since inference was reasonable that she was not considered because of E's posture of hostility towards applicant's husband's U and protected concerted activities)

Motor Freight Express, Inc. JD-531-80
(E's refusal to continue to hire casual employee, brother of active U steward, violative where motivated by relationship to steward)

Ashtabula Forge, A Division of ABS Industries, Inc. JD-388-80
(E's discharge of Ee and subsequent refusal to reinstate him because his father was U president, unlawful)

The Royal General Company JD-17-80
(discharge of Ee because he was brother of U adherent, unlawful)

0133-6300 Employees anticipating change in status or tenure

Wright Plastic Products, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 151
(discharge for discriminatory reasons prior to time resignation effective, violative)

0133-7900 Applicants for employment

A & A Ornamental Iron, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 136
(refusing to hire job applicant because of his past or present U membership or affiliation, unlawful)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(failure to consider leading U advocate's wife's application for employment held violative, since inference was reasonable that she was not considered because of E's posture of hostility towards applicant's husband's U and protected concerted activities)

Finger Lakes Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc. 253 NLRB NO. 049
(E's conditioning employment on acceptance of wages and conditions of employment substantially inferior to those in expired U contract, unlawful)

Wyman-Gordon Company 252 NLRB No. 168

Martin K. Eby Construction Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 149
(where E refused to rehire millwright because of his activities as U steward, other millwrights lost work as consequence of E's discrimination and they too were discriminatees; millwrights would have performed work assigned to ironworkers but for E discrimination against steward)

0133-7500—Cont.

Central Transport, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 198
(refusal to hire applicant because he previously worked for organized E, violative)

Kenneth and Mary M. McGlaughlin, Copartners, d/b/a Hudson-High Super Duper 247 NLRB No. 199
(refusal to hire qualified job applicant because he was on strike at store where held part time job held violative where applicant's overall qualifications for position were unchallenged by E)

Southland Corporation JD-341-82
(refusal to hire applicant who had taken grievance to arbitration on prior job not violative where E based decision on arbitrator's findings, supplied by former E in response to reference request, that discharge was lawfully based on poor attendance and emotional instability)

Kenneth and Mary M. McGlaughlin, Co-Partners, d/b/a Hudson-High Super Duper v. N.L.R.B. questioning job applicant about his U activities and refusing to hire him violative notwithstanding job opening did not turn out to exist)

Ernestine Bentley, Bonnie Collins, Ben Hall and Vera Hall v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 243 (C.A. 6, 1981)
(although Bd found that three sisters had been discriminated against by E by its refusal to hire them because of their father's reputation as an active U supporter, substantial evidence supported conclusion that ULPs occurred more than 6 months before charges were filed, and were therefore barred by Sec. 10(b))

0133-7600 Probationary employee

G & H Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 047
(discharge of probationary Ee in anticipation that he would join striking Ees at end of probationary period violative, as it was effectiveated to discourage U activity in general)

Home Life Insurance Company of America JD-111-81
(discharge of probationary Ee for filing grievance violative, notwithstanding Ee had no standing by virture of terms of collective-bargaining agreement to file grievance during his probationary period)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)
(termination ofprobationary Ees who had not completed six months continuous service required to become regular Ees prior to their participation in protected economic strike and reinstating them as new hires, unlawful, in view of discouraging effect on concerted activities; further, E's contentions that action justified by business consideration of requirement that six months probationary period be continuous and compelled by bargaining agreement, rejected, since probationary policy unwritten and flexible, waiver of probationary Ees' right to strike was not explicit and in view of meager bargaining history)

0133-8700 Supervisory employees

Garaho Lace Mills, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 044
(issuance of warning to Ee found to be supervisor not violative of Sec. 8(a)(3) although in retaliation for engaging in U activities as supervisors are not protected under Act; warning also not violative under Sec. 8(a)(1) as Bd has disavowed integral pattern of conduct rationale as basis for finding violation of Sec. 8(a)(1). See Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 38 (1982))

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 095
(supervisors not protected by Act even if laid off for U or concerted activity as integral part of E's pattern of ULPs)

B. E. & K., Inc. 260 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of supervisory Ee rather then letting him return to rank-and-file position violative where Ee was U adherent and had only been promoted to supervisor 10 days earlier to remove him from protection of Act)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(discharge of supervisor for threatening to go to Bd because he had not received E's promised bonus, not unlawful; legislative and decisional law show that Bd's assumption of jurisdiction should be rejected; Bd was not applying broad statutory terms but was construing its own authority, and its interpretation of statute was not longstanding but of recent origin; and only supervisor's personal greivance and not rank-and-file Ees' interests were involved; consequently, Bd's lack of jurisdiction ended its power and, since it cannot manufacture its own jurisdiction, Bd, a fortiori, certainly cannot do so)

0133-8725 Not protected from discharge because of union membership or activity

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087

Master Food Services, Inc., Noah Robinson, and Al Williams d/b/a A & W Catering Co. 262 NLRB No. 185
(discharging statutory supervisor because he had signed card as did all other Ees who were also discharged, not violative notwithstanding discharge of supervisor is part and parcel of E's pattern of unlawful conduct directed against Ees)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of pro-U supervisor for threatening Ee with discharge after U got in, occurring in conjunction with supervisor's solicitation of Ee to sign U card, not unlawful, since E had no alternative but to discharge supervisor for such conduct, and it is irrelevant that supervisor had no authority over threatened Ee or that he was in no position to implement threat, nor is it relevant that E wanted to get rid of supervisor, as the least an E can expect from a supervisor is neutrality in a U election)

Times Herald Printing Company 252 NLRB No. 043
(discharge of supervisory Ees for engaging in U activities not violative where discharges in no way affected other Ees' rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(supervisors discharged for organizational activity not entitled to reinstatement, although it has been ordered where discharge had tendency to interfere with Sec. 7 rights of protected Ees)

0133-8750 Applicant for supervisory position

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073
(questioning applicant for supervisory position how he felt about U not violative, since such individuals must be treated as supervisors and not as Ees under Act notwithstanding he was subsequently hired as rank-and-file Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. R & R Theatre Company, Inc. 636 F.2d 149 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(refusal to hire applicant for projectionist-manager position, only position available, because applicant was member of U, not violative, since record indicated position was supervisory, and therefore, not protected under Labor Management Relations Act)

0133-8775 Prospective supervisor

Mr. Herbert of California, Inc. JD-(SF)-83-81
(informing leadman that his occupancy of prospective supervisory position would require him to resign from U and to forswear any U activity, not violative, since statement made in context of discussing managerial position with Ee)

0133-9300 Foreign nationals and illegal aliens

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(E's letter to INS held constructive discharge as this letter was motivated by anti-U animus and was proximate cause of Ees' leaving U.S.)

0150 WHAT CONSTITUTES DISCRIMINATION

0150-2500 Differentiation between employees

N.L.R.B. v. Delchamps, Inc. 653 F.2d 225 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(while E may exclude U supporters from meetings during working hours at which E expressed its opposition to U, and E's conduct in providing free meals to Ees during nonworking hours at campaign meetings does not per se constitute interference with election, combination of those 2 tactics, to which is added payment of wages to some, but not all, of its Ees for attendance at meetings during their scheduled off-hours constitutes violation of Act)

0150-2575 Discrimination based upon holding union office

Hamilton Die Cast Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 113
(discharging 2 Ees on same day for taking leave w/o written notice held violative as other Ees have not been similarly terminated; E's motivation was to penalize them for concerted activities as one Ee filed OSHA charge and other Ee was U steward whose performance E was critical)

Miller Brewing Company 254 NLRB No. 024
(imposition of more severe discipline on U stewards than that imposed on rank-and-file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout, violative, where record showed that stewards were not at fault for walkout but attempted to persuade Ees to remain on job; Indiana & Michigan Electric Company characterization of steward's greater responsibility and hence greater fault inapplicable)

South Central Bell Telephone Company 254 NLRB No. 032
(imposing longer suspensions on U stewards, who participated in sickout in violation of no-strike clause, than on other Ees who also participated held violative, since there was no evidence to indicate that U stewards engaged in activities different from those engaged in by other Ees such as urging support of or seeking to induce Ees to participate in work stoppage)

0150-2575—Cont.

United States Postal Service 252 NLRB No. 083
(U steward's suspension after attempting to perform her duties as steward, unlawful where she was engaged in protected activity, notwithstanding she did not seek permission of supervisor as required under contract and refused to obey several direct orders to return to work as supervisor was bent on preventing steward from performing her official duties so any request would be futile and neither refusal to work nor distuption of work production and her conduct did not exceed acceptable bounds to lose protection of Act)

Shelby Processing Company, A Whooly Owned Subsidiary of Fasano Industries JD-191-82
(successor E, who (using majority of predecessor's Ees) made same ultimate product as did predecessor albeit using changed processing (fresh apples rather than frozen) and packaging procedures, violated Act by refusing to hire and recall those Ees (of predecessor E) who were officials of incumbent U; credible evidence in record did not show legitimate and lawful considerations for successor E's determination or that such action would have taken place in absence of Ees' protected activity)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-40-81
(suspension of U officials for non-compliance with violatively promulgated illness rule violative where rule only applied to these officials)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(membership as used in Section 8(a)(3) refers not only to Ees basic decision whether to join U but also his decision as to level of his participation in U and U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(suspension of U stewards for mere participation in strike and/or for not taking affirmative steps to end strike in violation of no-strike agreement for longer period than supensions of other participants in strike, unlawful, absent affirmative contractual waiver of U officers' rights and/or breach of contractually imposed affirmative duties)

Ervin Stewczaga and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(discharge of U stewards rather than less severe discipline imposed on rank and file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout, violative, where stewards were not leaders of strike nor was there reasonable basis for E to believe they were leaders, and bargaining agreement imposed no special duty on stewards in connection with forbidden work stoppage; further, not clear that arbitrator's decision upholding discharges based on contract interpretation of required higher duty of stewards)

0150-2587 Discrimination based upon racial or other minority group considerations

Steelworkers v. Weber, et al. 443 U.S. 193 (June 1979)
(Title VII does not prohibit race conscious affirmative action plans; private E and U voluntarily agreed upon affirmative action plan that accorded preference to Black trainees in order to eliminate conspicuous racial imbalance segregated job categories upheld)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company 253 NLRB No. 003
(discharge of Ee because she insisted that black coworker go to supervisor to complain about racially derogatory remark by another Ee, violative, since her action constituted protected concerted activity)

0150-5000 Change in terms or conditions of employment

Tru-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(E's propogating oral and written work rules, after election of U, prohibiting smoking, personal telephone calls and reception of visitors on company premises, etc. which rules were more arduous and onerous than work rules in effect before advent of U held violative, since rules were propogated solely in retaliation for Ees' voting for U)

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Kay Motors 264 NLRB No. 137
(new rule prohibiting new car salesmen from soliciting used car customers, unlawful where latter salesman had been hired to pack bargaining unit and undermine U support rather than for legtimate business purposes)

General Warehouse Corp. 247 NLRB No. 142
(assignment of more onerous and undesirable work to leader of Ee movement rejecting E's request for Ees' waiver of cost of living increase held violative)

Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 076
(institution of new restroom use policy in pro-U department requiring Ees to sign out in order to use restroom and providing disciplinary action if Ees signed out more than five times each week, violative, where inference of unlawful motivation was supported by E's knowledge that department was markedly pro-U and E failed to substantiate defense of business justification of improving sagging production)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(lapse of time between E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and Ee's change in duties and discharge did not negate inference of E's anti-U motivation, since supervisor's harassment of Ee (U adherent) originated during, and continued throughout, unionization period)

0150-7500 Lack of change which would otherwise have occurred in terms and conditions

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(promotion to temporary supervisor because of Ee's efforts to oppose U while withholding promotion because of Ee's known U activities held violative)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115
(denial of announced wage increase because of Ees' U activities violative; moreover, fact that no past practice existed for granting wage increases immaterial)

0167 REQUIREMENT OF ENCOURAGEMENT OR DISCOURAGEMENT OF UNION MEMBERSHIP

0167-0500 Only Encouragement or Discouragement Resulting From Discrimination Prohibited

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Bd has burden of proving that discharge was motivated by anti-U animus)

0167-1000 Affirmative Showing of Prohibited Motive Required

Empire Pacific Industries, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 180
(withholding change in wages from represented Ees that was provided to unrepresented Ees, not unlawful in absence of proof of discriminatory motive; no evidence was offered to prove E's discriminatory motive either independently or in refutation of parties' stipulation that E's witnesses would testify that withholding was not designed to encourage represented Ees to reject U or support decertification)

Patby Lingerie, Inc. and Argus Lingerie Corp. 252 NLRB No. 032
(Bd held Ee was not discriminatorily laid off, where although she had signed U authorization card on second day of employment, there was no evidence that E had any knowledge of her signing such card prior to layoff, at end of second day of work Ee expressed clear lack of desire to perform work she had been assigned, and she failed to appear for work at scheduled time on third day; fact that E offered no explanation for her layoff is not probative of discriminatory motive under the circumstances)

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)
(threshold question where discharge was pursuant to rule prohibiting dissemination of E's strictly private material (classified wage survey data) is whether rule was prohibited by Act; invalid rule cannot support discharge even if E's only motivation in enforcing rule is not anti-U; only if rule is determined to be valid under Act, would Bd assess motive)

N.L.R.B. v. Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 635 NLRB No. 312 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(even when there is evidence of anti-U animus, Bd must still show discharges were improperly motivated, and when cause for discharge exists, Bd must show an affirmative and persuasive reason why E rejected good cause and chose a bad one)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(if Bd makes finding of discriminatory discharge, ct must enforce finding if reasonable person might have concluded from entire record that improper motive moved E to discharge Ee; but if ct decides that reasonable person could only have either concluded that proper motives moved E to discharge or been unable to conclude whether proper or improper motives moved E, ct must refuse to enforce Bd's finding of discriminatory discharge)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct rejected, as being unreasonable and not based on substantial evidence, Bd's conclusion that E's economic justification for discharges was sham; furthermore, Sec. 8(a)(1) violations alone are legally insufficient to show Bd met its burden of proof that Ees were discharged because of U activity)

Fun Striders, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 716 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(although anti-U motive is required in Sec. 8(a)(3) violations, it is not essential element of Sec. 8(a)(1) violations; nonetheless, motive is relevant)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)
(unlawful motivation is not lightly to be inferred and mere suspicions of unlawful motivation are not sufficient to constitute substantial evidence)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)
(although conversation between supervisor and Ee in which supervisor told Ee that E closed other plant because its Ees had voted for U and that if Ees supported U, Ee's plant would also be closed violated Sec. 8(a)(1), that conversation and letter from E advising Ees of scheduled election at plant, stating that E is opposed to U, and asking Ees to consider pros and cons of U representation before signing authorization cards were insufficient to establish motive to chill unionism in violation of Sec. 8(a)(3))

0167-1000—Cont.

0167-1017 Violation where action motivated in part by objective of encouragement or discouragement

Tru-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(discharge of principal U adherent, after election where U certified as bargaining representative, for having used profanity towards E, held violative, since prior to discharge of Ee no other Ee had ever been disciplined or discharged for use of profanities, use of profanity common, and E presented no evidence to indicate such conduct had not been previously condoned; E did not meet burden of showing Ee's discharge for using profanity would have occurred in absence of Ee's U activities; Fibracan Corp., 259 NLRB 161 (1981) inapplicable in instant case)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 036
(E's changing Ees' work week from four 10-hour days to five 8-hour days w/o notifying U held unlawful, since E was motivated by desire to punish its Ees because they voted for U to represent them and E did not afford U opportunity to bargain over action)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of U Ee because Ee refused to accept change in his pay rate, which had been accepted by non-U Ees, and discussing U with non U Ees held violative, since E was motivated by Ee's discusions of U and Ee's refusal to abide by changed working conditions was causing unrest among non-U Ees; Ee was accused of destroying E)

Royal Development Company, Limited 257 NLRB No. 149
(Bd found no need to decide here whether Wright Line test of dual-motivation discharges was appropriate for analyzing 8(a)(4) cases, since, although ALJ used Wright Line causation test in analyzing motivation for both 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(4) complaint allegations herein, there was no proof that E relied on any legitimate reason for its refusal to employ charging party)

Golden Beverage of San Antonio, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 081
(subsequent to issuance of ALJ Decision, Bd declared in Wright Line, 251 NLRB No. 150, that it was abondoning use of in part language; analysis requires determination of prima facie case and whether E has affirmative defense that action would have occurred absent protected activities)

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(where Respondent's motivations are mixed, Bd had held that legal effect of conduct is same as though illegal reason for its action was only operative reason; violation of Act is established where despite valid reason for discharge evidence shows that E has resorted to that reason as basis for buliding case against Ee due to his U activities)

John Canes, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(warning two Ees, who returned to work after recognition strike, that they should not be late again and that they would be discharged if they were late in future held violative, since progressive disciplinary system relating to Ees' tardiness was instituted to discourage membership in U)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(E's unlawful reasons for action must be motivating factor in its decision rather than constituting only part of reason; GC must make prima facie showing to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor... once this is established, burden shifts to E to demonstrate same action would have taken place absent protected conduct)

Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107
(where E had cause to fire Ee but did not do so until day after Ee attended U meeting, E violated Act as purpose was to discourage U membership)

Appalachian Power Company John E. Amos Plant 250 NLRB No. 038
(withdrawal, from some maintenance Ees, of permission to wash up five minutes before their usual quitting time held not violative of Section 8(a)(3), since evidence did not establish that foremen in cancelling washup privilege were motivated in whole or part by anti-U or retaliatory considerations)

Irwin County Electric Membership Cooperative 247 NLRB No. 195

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(discharge and layoff of U activist truck drivers because discharged Ee abandoned employment when he refused to drive unrepaired truck and other driver was laid off for lack of work held violative, since respondents did not show that Ees would have been discharged or laid off even if they had not been U activists or U sympathizers; no attempt made to recall discharged Ee after truck was repaired and 2 or 3 new drivers given opportunity to drive for Es before attempting to recall laid off Ee)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 4, Sept. 20, 1982)
(valid disciplinary rule does not constitute ULP absent affirmative and persuasive showing that enforcement was motivated by desire to discourage U activity rather than by supportable cause)

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(Wright Line rule found analytically sound and as there is reasonable basis in law for rule it may be applied, as it protects rights of Ees while preserving E's rights to discharge Ee for valid cause)

N.L.R.B. v. Wismer and Becker Contracting Engineers, and Electrical Workers Local Union 497 684 F.2d 731(T) (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(Section 8(a)(1), 8(a)(2), 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) are violated only when actor's true purpose in discriminating was to encourage or discourage U membership; intent must be proved specifically unless actor's conduct implied prohibited motive)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(Wright Line rule found consistent both with legislative history showing intent to require E to reveal that Ee was discharged for cause and with reality of E's having best access to proof of motivation; also it strikes acceptable balance between protecting Ees' rights and preserving E's rights to discharge Ees for valid business reasons)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(If discharge is motivated by both legitimate business consideration and protected U activity, improper motive must be shown to be dominant one for discharge to be violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)

0167-1033 Prohibited motive inferable from conduct Inherently destructive of employee rights

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 206
(E's granting preference to transfer to substantially equivalent positions to less senior Ee strikers who abandoned strike or who made individual offers to return at end of strike over senior Ee-strikers on whose behalf U made unconditional offer to return to work, was inherently destructive of rights of senior strikers and unlawful w/o proof of U animus)

Inland Steel Company 263 NLRB No. 147
(no per se illegality in commencing investigation of Ee who came to E's attention by engaging in U and other protected activities, nor does discharge resulting from such investigation fall w/i inherently destructive acts even w/o proof of specific discriminatory intent)

The General Tire & Rubber Company 262 NLRB No. 166
(discharging probationary Ees who honored strike and thereafter refusing to reinstate them, violative; E terminated only those probationary Ees who honored strike which was inherently destructive of Ee rights under Act)

Walter B. Cooke, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 074
(layoff of Ees and subcontracting of their work not unlawful conduct inherently destructive of Ees' rights, where business no longer was sufficient for full-time Ees, E could subcontract work more economically by the job, E lacked sufficient control of subcontractor's operations to be found joint E, and there was no evidence of U animus)

M K Laboratories, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 021
(denying Ees permission to attend discharged U steward's unemployment compensation hearing, coupled with threat of discipline for attending hearing found violative of 8(a)(1) herein held relevant for imputing U animus to E)

Mobile Home Estates, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 182
(denying reinstatement to probationary Ees after end of economic strike, violative where E has shown no legitimate and substantial business justification and Ees were never told prior to strike that their work was unsatisfactory; such denial is so inherently destructive of Ee rights that evidence of specific anti-U motivation was not needed)

Island Typographers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 003
(E's unilateral action of terminating hot-type method of production and laying of its hot type Ees while retaining non-U Ees using cold type method of printing to avoid paying U scale for cold type work, violative; no finding of anti-U animus necessary as conduct inherently destructive of Ees interest)

Henry Vogt Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 040
(withdrawal of cafeteria privileges after Ees chose U representative found inherently discriminatory since it contained clear and dramatic message for Ees who had chosen representation and for the remaining unrepresented Ees)

Freezer Queen Foods, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 045
(E assigning new hire dates upon recall to probationary Ees among strikers causing them to lose credit towards completion of probationary period for time employed prior to strike unlawful, notwithstanding no U animus or intent to discriminate, since action was inherently destructive of Ees' rights; E's contention that since contract required 60 consecutive days probation it was not possible to achieve its purpose by tolling probationary period during strike, rejected)

0167-1033—Cont.

Dixie Machine Rebuilders Inc. 348 NLRB No. 115
(penalizing Ee because U was actively organizing or was successful in Bd election is inherently distructive of important Ee rights and thus requires no proof of anti-U motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(applies only to challenge to overall policy of E rather than to individual discharge)

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)
(enforcing rule that could apply to those not engaging in protected activity as well as to Ee organizers could not be held to be inherently destructive)

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(conduct (of E) is inherently destructive if it carries with it unavoidable consequences which E not only forsaw but which he must have intended; such conduct is that which creates visible and continuing obstacles to future exercise of Ee rights)

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(refusal to pay strikers accrued vacation pay pursuant to expired contract not violative, as E had good faith belief that entitlement to and amount of vacation pay was to be determined under new collective bargaining contract if and when contract executed. Such conduct, unlike offering non-strikers benefits, or threatening strikers with loss of benefits if they did not return to work, is not inherently destructive of Ee rights so as to obviate need to show prohibited motive; furthermore, here E's good faith belief does not show anti-U motivation on part of E)

Baltimore Rebuilders, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 611 F.2d 1372 (C.A. 4)
(proof of subjective motive can, in limited situations, be made out from conduct itself)

Electric Machinery Company v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 958 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(conduct that directly and unambiguously penalizes or deters protected activity such as; discharging Ees for participation in U activities, granting superseniority to strike breakers or intention to operate open shop must be shown by GC before necessity to prove U animus is eliminated under Great Dane Trailers 388 U.S. 26 (1967))

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 618 F.2d 288 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(conduct held inherently destructive where E unilaterally ceased contributing to benefit funds and thus jeopardized U's position as bargaining agent and directly and unambiguously deterred protected activity)

C. H. Heist Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 657 F.2d 178 (C.A. 7, 1981)
(discharge of Ee solely because he was U steward and as such had participated in U strike where contract prohibited strikes and defined his duties as seeing to it that contract was complied with, held inherently destructive of his right to hold U office and unlawful; Ee had attempted throughout strike to persuade Ees to stop strike and, inabsence of contractual clause requiring him to cross picket line, had no higher responsibility to do so and would have been taking steps suicidal to his U stewardship and his capacity to enforce any provision of contract)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. American Postal Workers Union 618 F.2d 1249 (C.A. 8, 1980)

0167-1033-5000 Notwithstanding conduct motivated by substantial business justification

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discipline decision in dual motive case involves: (1) legitimate business reason, and (2) E's reaction to its Ees' engaging in U or other protected activities)

Carlson Roofing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 77 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(where E for substantial business justification layed off Ees engaged in protected activity, incumbent on GC to present evidence of antiunion motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Local 19, Hotel, Motel, Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union, AFL-CIO 628 F.2d 1357(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(where ALJ's decision to reject E's business justification reason for E's layoff not supported by substantial evidence and record contains no direct evidence of anti-U animous layoff's not violative)

0167-1067 Motive Must be proved where adverse effect of conduct comparatively slight and employer has proved substantial business justification

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discipline decision in dual motive case involves: (1) legitimate business reason, and (2) E's reaction to its Ees' engaging in U or other protected activities)

Burgess Mining & Construction Corp. 250 NLRB No. 033
(layoff of Ee, lawful, notwithstanding GC's contention that E laid off Ee because he had filed grievances, where there was no substantial evidence establishing animosity toward grievance procedure and against those who would invoke it and there was no disparate treatment demonstrating unlawful motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 1, Sep. 1981)
(E's discharging U advocate assertedly for violating E's rule against falsifying inspection reports, violative where apparent insignificance of rule along with E's history of treating rule as unimportant support inference that something more was involved than just breach of rule)

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)

Baltimore Rebuilders, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 611 F.2d 1372 (C.A. 4)
(where impact on protected rights is slight or indirect, or where it may be explained by reference to other lawful considerations, it is prima facie lawful, and an affirmative showing of improper motivation must be made)

Carpenters, Local # 308 v. N.L.R.B. 690 F.2d 661 (C.A. 8, July 1982)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. American Postal Workers Union 618 F.2d 1249 (C.A. 8, 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(burden (of proof) to establish that primary motivation for E's replacing sympathy striker was to penalize Ee for engaging in protected activity shifts to GC once E had demonstrated legitimate business reason for replacing Ee)

0167-3000 Intent need not be shown where encouragement or discouragement foreseeable consequence

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(conduct (of E) is inherently destructive if it carries with it unavoidable consequences which E not only forsaw but which he must have intended; such conduct is that which creates visible and continuing obstacles to future exercise of Ee rights)

0167-5000 Discrimination must be based on union animus or protected activity

Stokely-Van Camp, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 128
(anti U motivation established where supervisor told Ee that it was U's fault that Ee did not receive vacation pay to which he was entitled by placing onus on U for withholding of vacation benefits, E clearly demonstrated that its action taken in retaliation against U and to attempt to discourage Ees from striking)

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020
(in absence of evidence of animus or hostility towards Ee based upon Ee's U activity, discriminatory motive may not be inferred)

Albertsons, Inc. 253 NLRB NO. 081
(Section 8(a)(1) discharge of Ee for insisting on break periods provided for in collective-bargaining agreement not violative of Sec. 8(a)(3) where no evidence that discharge was motivated by Ee's U membership or activities in support of U)

Ferrum Industries, Inc. Textol Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-89-81
(no prima facie case in view of E's lack of knowledge of U activity, absence of U animus and valid reason for discharge, i.e., Ee-E heated discussion about wage increase and E's conclusion that Ee would not be satisfied with granted 50 cent raise)

New York Laboratory Supply Company, Inc. JD-416-81
(E which maintained agreement with U that provided that the agreement applied only to members of U, and that Ees who are U members will receive different wages than Ees who are not U members violated Act as this encouraged membership in U and interfered with Ees Sec. 7 rights)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)
(fact discharge of U steward was affected or motivated in part because he had filed charges with Bd and other government agencies falls short of holding that he was discharged because of these activities; where Ee's discharge is prompted by concurrent reasons, some permissible and some not, in order to support ruling of ULP Bd must find permissible reason proffered by E is merely pretext and that in fact Ee was disciplined because of anti-U sentiment)

0167-5000—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(finding of violation in refusal to rehire discharged Ee depends on assessment of E's motives at time of refusal and must be for different reasons than for discharge if discharge occurred outside 10(b) period)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameron, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(when discharge motivated by both legitimate business and anti-U animus, or when business reasons may be pretext for termination motivated by hostility toward U, ULP may be found only if anti-U animus was moving cause of discharge. Bd must make showing that U activity was motivating factor; then burden shifts to E to establish that terminations would have occured absent protected U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jun 1981)
(burden (of proof) to establish that primary motivation for E's replacing sympathy striker was to penalize Ee for engaging in protected activity shifts to GC once E had demonstrated legitimate business reason for replacing Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Adams Delivery Service, Inc. 623 F.2d 96 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(Bd has burden of proving that moving cause for discharge was anti-U animus)

0167-8000 Same principles apply to encouragement and discouragement

N.L.R.B. v. Wismer and Becker Contracting Engineers, and Electrical Workers Local Union 497 654 F.2d 731(T) (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(Section 8(a)(1), 8(a)(2), 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) are violated only when actor's true purpose in discriminating was to encourage or discourage U membership; intent must be proved specifically unless actor's conduct implied prohibited motive)

0167-9000 True purpose or real motive is test

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078
(where ALJ had found that E's defenses to discharges, layoffs, and refusal to rehire were pretexts, Bd concluded he clearly deemed such actions were wholly motivated by Ees' U activities notwithstanding his use of qualifying language in describing motivation, and Bd thus found that E's actions would not have occurred in absence of Ees' U activities)

Heartland Food Warehouse, Division of Purity Supreme Supermarkets 256 NLRB No. 145
(test in cases alleging violation of Section 8(a)(3) of Act where lawful as well as unlawful motive may exist for discharge, requires GC to make prima facie showing that Ees' protected activities motivated E's decision to discharge them. If the GC is successful, burden of proof is then shifted to E to show by preponderance of evidence that discharges would have occured even in absence of Ees' protected activities)

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(where Respondent's motivations are mixed, Bd had held that legal effect of conduct is same as though illegal reason for its action was only operative reason; violation of Act is established where despite valid reason for discharge evidence shows that E has resorted to that reason as basis for building case against Ee due to his U activities)

Boyer Ford Trucks, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 184
(Ee's discharge, violative where E's motive for discharge was Ee's U and concerted protected activities and E's reasons for discharge were mere afterthoughts advanced to conceal discriminatory motive)

Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 254 NLRB No. 109
(on reconsideration, Bd applied dual motivation theory and reaffirmed violation finding; although this is pretext case, layoffs were violative under any analysis in view of E's knowledge of Ees' U activities, U animus, timing w/i 3 weeks of R ptn filing, and E's false reason that both were least senior Ees)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 254 NLRB No. 043
(Bd took official notice of E's previous violations of Act as evidence of E's animosity toward U herein)

Joshua's, Inc. d/b/a Fitzwilly's 253 NLRB No. 082
(ALJ's finding of violations upheld where GC made showing that E's actions were motivated by anti-U considerations and E failed to demonstrate that it would have taken same action even in absence of its opposition to U as required under Wright Line 251 NLRB No. 150 (1980) test)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 121
(E's unlawful reasons for action must be motivating factor in its decision rather than constituting only part of reason; GC must make prima facie showing to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor... once this is established, burden shifts to E to demonstrate same action would have taken place absent protected conduct)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(test of causation for cases alleging violations of Section 8(a)(3) of act found through analysis akin to that of SCt in Mt. Healthy City School District Board of Education v. Doyle, 429 U.S. 274 (1977))

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discipline decision in dual motive case involves: (1) legitimate business reason, and (2) E's reaction to its Ees' engaging in U or other protected activities)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(under dominant motive test it is GC who in addition to establishing prima facie showing of unlawful motive, is further required to rebut E's asserted defense by showing that discharge would not have taken place in absence of Ees' protected activities)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(causation test to be followed in all cases alleging violations of Sec. 8(a)(3) or Sec. 8(a)(1) turning on E motivation: (1) GC required to make out prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected activity was a motivating factor in E's decision; and after this is established, (2) burden shifts to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place in absence of protected conduct)

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009
(question of motivation where alleged unlawful discharge involved is to be resolved by determination based on consideration and weighing of all relevant evidence and not one to be answered by crediting or discrediting E's professed reason for discharge)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 036
(Bd is not compelled to accept stated reason for which Ee was discharged when there is reasonable cause to believe ground put forward by E was not true one and real reason was E's dissatisfaction with Ee's U activity)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(refusal to rehire former U steward, who had held highest labor grade position at E's plant because he was hazard to himself and those around him, he had refused to work overtime and did not like overtime, held violative where E did not demonstrate refusal to rehire and would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected conduct; real motivation shown by unlawful interrogation of another Ee and comment that things would be quieter w/o him)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(in Royal Development Company, Ltd., 257 NLRB No. 149 (1981), Bd did not preclude analyzing 8(a)(4) cases under Wright Line test of dual motivation)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(discharge of Ee, U president, for varied reasons all of which proved invalid, held violative, since E did not demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct; real reason was E's attempt to rid itself of thorn in (its) side., namely, U president)

Tourism and Development Corporation d/b/a Newport Jai Alai JD-280-80
(E's refusal to reemploy Ee, lawful, notwithstanding E's knowledge of Ee's U activity, where Ee had been insubordinate and E had changed Ee's work schedule after U election, action it was not required to take, thus belying any animus against Ee because of her U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(in given discharge case it must be decided whether E acted because of Ee's U affiliation, or whether he acted because of some factor unrelated to Ee's U status)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(burden of persuasion with respect to ultimate question of determining causal link between bad motive and the discharge remains always with GC)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(Act is violated only when E with anti-U animus discharges Ee he would not have fired but for Ee's U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)
(ct will not engage in but for analysis where Bd found that impermissible ground was only basis for discharge and refusal to rehire; ct will look for substantial evidence to support pretext finding)

Baltimore Rebuilders, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 611 F.2d 1372 (C.A. 4)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(E can best show improper motives did not move it to discharge Ee by adducing proof that other Ees were discharged for same reason that Ee was discharged, where there is no suggestion that other Ees were discharged for improper motive)

0167-9000—Cont.

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(if Bd makes finding of discriminatory discharge, ct must enforce finding if reasonable person might have concluded from entire record that improper motive moved E to discharge Ee; but if ct decides that reasonable person could only have either concluded that proper motives moved E to discharge or been unable to conclude whether proper or improper motives moved E, ct must refuse to enforce Bd's finding of discriminatory discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)

(Wright Line rule found analytically sound and as there is reasonable basis in law for rule it may be applied, as it protects rights of Ees while preserving E's rights to discharge Ee for valid cause)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

(when discharge motivated by both legitimate business and anti-U animus, or when business reasons may be pretext for termination motivated by hostility toward U, ULP may be found only if anti-U animus was moving cause of discharge. Bd must make showing that U activity was motivating factor; then burden shifts to E to establish that terminations would have occured absent protected U activity)

Lippincott Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 112 (C.A. 9, Oct 1981)

(Bd's finding of violative discharge upheld where Bd found that Ee was discharged because of her U activity and chilling effect of that discharge on other Ees; fact that Bd did not explicitly state what test it employed in finding violation not controlling)

N.L.R.B. v. Wismer and Becker Contracting Engineers, and Electrical Workers Local Union 497 654 F.2d 731(T) (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(Section 8(a)(1), 8(a)(2), 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) are violated only when actor's true purpose in discriminating was to encourage or discourage U membership; intent must be proved specifically unless actor's conduct implied prohibited motive)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(E's statement to supervisor that he should find out who had been talking about U and get rid of her proof that motivation was illegal and fact that discriminatee was poor Ee irrelevant)

0183 ADEQUACY OF EVIDENCE TO ENCOURAGE OR DISCOURAGE UNION MEMBERSHIP

0183-0100 Generally

Stokely-Van Camp, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 128

(anti U motivation established where supervisor told Ee that it was U's fault that Ee did not receive vacation pay to which he was entitled by placing onus on U for withholding of vacation benefits, E clearly demonstrated that its action taken in retaliation against U and to attempt to discourage Ees from striking)

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020

(termination of technologically displaced telephone operator, U activist, subsequent to alleged refusal to transfer her to another clerical position w/i E's organization not violative where Ee refused to accept other clerical jobs offered by E; GC did not sustain burden of proving discrimination, since events relied on were outside 10(b) limitation period, and were subject to several inferrences none of which constituted ULP nor amplified character of any later conduct of E)

Building Material & Dump Truck Drivers, Local Union NO. 420, Teamsters (Leonard Worthington, an Individual) 257 NLRB No. 161

(Bd upheld ALJ's finding of ULP notwithstanding ALJ failed to articulate his analyses of E's motivation in terms of Wright Line where his findings satisfied analytical objectives)

N.L.R.B. v. Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 635 NLRB No. 312 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(under burden-shifting test Bd recently adopted for dual motivation cases in its Wright Line decision, E has demonstrated that its actions would have been the same in discharging Ee for cause even in absence of Ee's protected conduct)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(unlawful motivation is not lightly to be inferred and mere suspicions of unlawful motivation are not sufficient to constitute substantial evidence)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(finding of unlawful motivation cannot be based solely on anti-U stance of E)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(anti-U motivation not established by fact that layoffs coincided with U activity where closing was for valid economic reasons; given economic necessity which existed in case sub judice, it was management's function to decide at what point slowdown became sufficiently protracted to require decrease in personnel)

0183-3300 Burden of coming forward

N.L.R.B. v. Gorman Machine Corporation 682 F.2d 11 (C.A. 1, July 1982)

(remand for reconsideration in light of burdens of proof announced in NLRB v. Wright Line, 662 F.2d 899 held unnecessary because Bd did not rely on burdens of proof but found reason for discharge was pretext)

N.L.R.B. v. Gorman Machine Corporation remand for reconsideration in light of burdens of proof announced in NLRB v. Wright Line, 662 F.2d 899 held unnecessary because Bd did not rely on burdens of proof but found reason for discharge was pretext)

0183-3333 Burden of showing discriminatory motive on General Counsel

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82

(warning and suspension notices for strike misconduct issued to Ees who were stipulated to have participated in strike proved GC's prima facie case; need not include showing of explicit motivation to punish strikers for participating in strike)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

(Bd affirmed ALJ's findings of ULPs where GC's prima facie showing was sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's decision and E failed to show seme decision to change Ees conditions of employment would have occurred even in absence of protected conduct)

Wolf Street Supermarkets, Inc. d/b/a Jim's Big M; and Big M Supermarkets, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 150

(GC did not provide sufficient evidence to find prima facie case that E refused to hire Ees of former owner of store out of U animous where conclusion could also be derived from evidence that he refused to hire them because of their status as former Ees of an unsuccessful business)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152

(To establish violation of Section 8(a)(3) it is incumbent on GC to adduce evidence supporting contention that Ee was unlawfully discharged. Should prima facie case of unlawful discharge be shown, burden of persuasion shifts to respondent to establish lawful reason for discharge. However, in assessing whether prima facie case has been presented, ALJ must view GC's evidence in isolation, apart from respondent's proferred defense. It is only after GC's prima facie requirement has been met that ALJ must consider respondent's defense)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

(GC met burden by citing timing of layoff, E's proven deep hostility to U, and E's knowledge of U campaign at time of layoff)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

(shifting and contradictory explanations offerred by E for transfer of work strengthens inference of discrimination and reprisal)

Laran Hotel Corp. d/b/a Hotel Lafayette 261 NLRB No. 163

(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge)

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027

(where motivation for discharge is at issue GC must make a prima facie showing that protected activity was motivating factor in E's decision to discharge, and E then has burden of showing that Ees would have been discharged absent that protected activity)

Golden Beverage of San Antonio, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 081

(subsequent to issuance of ALJ Decision, Bd declared in Wright Line, 251 NLRB No. 150, that it was abondoning use of in part language; analysis requires determination of prima facie case and whether E has affirmative defense that action would have occurred absent protected activities)

Golden Beverage of San Antonio, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 081

(prima facie case was established by E's knowledge that Ees had signed cards, its expresion of anti-U animus, 8(a)(1) violations, and timing of discharged after E learned that 2/3 Ees supported U)

Mini-Industries, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 123

(discharging all Ees in midst of U campaign and rehiring only certain former Ees on or after plant reopened, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's undisputed anti-U animus and suspicious timing of discharges, where GC did not meet initial burden of making prima facie showing to support inference that U activity was a motivating factor, in view of record evidence that showed reason for E's actions was its deteriorating financial condition which was consistent with decisions made and production standards set prior to E's awareness of U campaign)

0183-3333—Cont.

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097
(GC must make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's decision; once this is established burden will shift to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct)

Bay State Gas Company 255 NLRB No. 099
(discharge of Ee who had filed charge with Bd not violative where discharge took place 1 month after charge withdrawn, discharged for excessive absenteeism and GC failed to establish prima facie case that Ee was discharged for protected activity)

Webb-Centric Construction 254 NLRB No. 159
(under test articulated in Wright Line GC is required to make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's action... once such a prima facie case is established, burden is shifted to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct. This shifting of burdens does not shift ultimate burden of GC to establish ULP by preponderance of evidence)

McCormick & Co., Inc., Grocery Products Division 254 NLRB No. 111
(disciplining and reducing economic striker's seniority, not unlawful, where Bd overruled ALJ and found that disciplining Ee was not strike-related or that E had any anti-U animus; GC failed to carry his burden of establishing prima facie case of discrimination)

Russ Togs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(GC made prima facie case of E's unlawful motivation by showing E's harassment of grievants, E's statement that grievant should have spoken to E rather than other Ees about its underpayment of contractual wages, and E's surveillance of those other Ees going to file wage grievances)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(causation test to be followed in all cases alleging violations of Sec. 8(a)(3) or Sec. 8(a)(1) turning on E motivation: (1) GC required to make out prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected activity was a motivating factor in E's decision; and after this is established, (2) burden shifts to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place in absence of protected conduct)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153
(changing location, during U campaign, of coffeebreaks from Ees' cafeteria to E's maintenance department in order to more closely observe Ees, not violative where record contained insufficient evidence to show E's motives were for purpose proscribed by Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(burden of persuasion with respect to ultimate question of determining causal link between bad motive and the discharge remains always with GC)

Electric Machinery Company v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 958 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(GC has burden of establishing that E's conduct was so egregious as to be inherently destructive of important Ee rights or that E acted with intent to discourage U membership)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(when E shows legitimate reason for discharge of Ee, burden shifts to GC to prove improper motive moved E to discharge Ee)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(fact that GC bears burden of persuading Bd improper motive moved E to discharge Ee means that Bd must find against GC if its collective mind is equipoise on question whether discharge stemmed from proper or improper motive)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, Mar 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Alumina Ceramics, Inc. 690 F.2d 136 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1982)

Anja Engineering Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 292 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)
(enforcement denied, since Bd's finding that GC had established prima facie case of wrongful discharge failed due to lack of substantial record evidence of E's knowledge of Ees' views on U representation at time of discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(GC carried burden of showing under Wright Line that E's anti-U animus motivated his decision not to retain engineers by introducing credible testimony that E intended to fire enough Ees to avoid duty to bargain, by showing that E had stated that hotel would be nonU and he was letting all engineers go, and by failing to discuss employment with any engineers despite his need for an engineer to correct malfunctioning system)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)
(in establishing that Ee's duties were changed and he was discharged in violation of Section 8(a)(1) and (3), Bd bears burden of proving that these actions were unlawfully motivated, and this burden must be met by substantial evidence)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)
(regardless of who has burden of going forward with evidence, GC must prove by substantial evidence in record as whole that U animus actuated plant closing)

0183-3333-3300 When employer's conduct causes comparatively slight harm to employee rights and E raises defense of business justification

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(under dominant motive test it is GC who in addition to establiching prima facie showing of unlawful motive, is further required to rebut E's asserted defense by showing that discharge would not have taken place in absence of Ees' protected activities)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 672 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)

Carlson Roofing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 77 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(where E for substantial business justification layed off Ees engaged in protected activity, incumbent on GC to present evidence of antiunion motivation)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(where E failed to offer strikers reinstatement as vacancies arose, finding of anti-U motivation unnecessary as harm to strikers is relatively great and no business justification shown by E)

0183-3333-6700 No burden where employer conduct inherently destructive of employer rights

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRP No. 093
(instituting policy of recalling laid-off Ees ahead of unreinstated economic strikers w/o regard to circumstances involved, violative, where such policy amounted to unlawful grant of superseniority to nonstrikers and replacements; furthermore, such policy was inherently discriminatory absent any legitimate business justification since it gives preference to laid-off Ees over unreinstated strikers in filling job vacancies unrelated to layoffs where qualifications or abilities of Ees were deemed relatively equal by E)

Island Typographers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 003
(E's unilateral action of terminating hot-type method of production and laying of its hot type Ees while retaining non-U Ees using cold type method of printing to avoid paying U scale for cold type work, violative; no finding of anti-U animus necessary as conduct inherently destructive of Ees interest)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discharge of Ee, in and of itself, not normally inherently destructive act which would obviate requirement for showing improper motive)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 672 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)

Electric Machinery Company v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 958 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(conduct that directly and unambiguously penalizes or deters protected activity such as; discharging Ees for participation in U activities, granting superseniority to strike breakers or intention to operate open shop must be shown by GC before necessity to prove U animus is eliminated under Great Dane Trailers 388 U.S. 26 (1967))

N.L.R.B. v. Borg Warner Corporation; et al. 660 F.2d 324 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(termination of Ees as result of transferring operations from unionized subsidiary to nonunionized subsidiary, violative, where E wished to hold wages paid to Ees at non-unionized subsidiary to levels below those then paid to unionized Ees; such refusal to transfer unionized Ees to other subsidiary w/o prior negotiations held inherently destructive of Ee rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Borg Warner Corporation; et al. 663 F.2d 666 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(termination of Ees as result of transferring operations from unionized subsidiary to nonunionized subsidiary, violative, where E wished to hold wages paid to Ees at non-unionized subsidiary to levels below those then paid to unionized Ees; such refusal to transfer unionized Ees to another subsidiary w/o prior negotiations held inherently destructive of Ee rights)

0183-3333-6700—Cont.

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(E's policy of offering special-rated jobs to unreinstated strikers only if none of permanent strike replacements were qualified for and wanted jobs, violative as these job openings were vacancies and required posting under expired contract; effect was to make it less likely that strikers would be reinstated to higher-paying positions and amounted to preference to those who did not strike; such preference was inherently distructive of Ee right eliminating necessity of proving discriminatory motivation of E)

0183-3367 Prima facie case places burden of coming forward on employer

Kay Fries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 132
(violation where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of unlawful discharge motivated by Ee's aggressive U grievance filing, his angered protest of E's enforcement of proof of death rule regarding funeral leave and his threat to go to Bd if he did not receive pay for death leave; E's contended reasons for discharge-foul, obscene, abusive and threatening language to-E held pretextual)

Windsor Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 145
(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie showing that Ees' U activities were motivating factors in E's decision to lay them off)

Tra-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(discharge of principal U adherent, after election where U certified as bargaining representative, for having used profanity towards E, held violative, since prior to discharge of Ee no other Ee had ever been disciplined or discharged for use of profanities, use of profanity common, and E presented no evidence to indicate such conduct had not been previously condoned; E did not meet burden of showing Ee's discharge for using profanity would have occurred in absence of Ee's U activities; Fibracan Corp., 259 NLRB 161 (1981) inapplicable in instant case)

Appleway Chevrolet, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 025
(discharge of U adherent violative, notwithstanding E had legitimate reason for discharge (i.e. Ees' disparagement of E) where preponderance of evidence shows Ee was terminated for his U activity and another Ee also made disparaging remarks about E and he was not discharged; thus E failed to prove that Ee would have been discharged in absence of U activities)

Mills Patrol Service, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 065
(discharging valuable Ee immediately after he asked E about obtaining sick benefits, medical coverage and U representation held prima facie showing that E was motivated by desire to discourage U activities)

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011
(Bd disavowed ALJ's statement that Wright Line decision applies only to discharge cases, and that, therefore, E had no burden to prove why it refused to give part-time Ee a full-time job)

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 182
(no violation where E effectively rebutted GC's prima facie case that night shift was eliminated in response to U organizing; proof of engineering turnover, inexperience and opposition to night work dealing with new process, was conclusive that decision was made for nondiscriminatory reasons)

Host Services, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 086
(notwithstanding GC presented prima facie case of unlawful motive in Ee discharge, Bd noted that case was weak one and that E had met its burden of persuasion, proving that it would have discharged him in absence of protected conduct where Ee's conduct-cursing supervisor-provided legitimate grounds for discharge and GC did not prove that other Ees were not discharged for similar misconduct and therefore E did not engage in disparate treatment)

Trexler Lutheran Home for Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 263 NLRB No. 042
(discharges of U adherents violative since GC made prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's decision and E did not demonstrate that its discharge of any of discriminatees would have taken place in absence of protected conduct)

L. A. Water Treatment, Division of Chromalloy American Corporation 263 NLRB No. 022
(discharge of U activist violative, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie showing that he was discharged because of his activities in support of decertification ptn)

Knogo Corporation 262 NLRB No. 171
(discharge of active U adherent for failing to get permission before leaving work early due to illness, violative where G.C. presented prima facie case of unlawful motivation and E offered no evidence to prove that other Ees who failed to obtain permission were similarly discharged and that Ee would have been discharged absent his U activities)

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(To establish violation of Section 8(a)(3) it is incumbent on GC to adduce evidence supporting contention that Ee was unlawfully discharged. Should prima facie case of unlawful discharge be shown, burden of persuasion shifts to respondent to establish lawful reason for discharge. However, in assessing whether prima facie case has been presented, ALJ must view GC's evidence in isolation, apart from respondent's proferred defense. It is only after GC's prima facie requirement has been met that ALJ must consider respondent's defense)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(discharge not violative where, notwithstanding GC made prima facie showing that E had unlawful motive for discharging Ee, E proved Ee would have been discharged because of long history of Ee's problems of discussions with other Ees while Ee was working, even in absence of Ee's protected activity; Ee was issued numerous lawful warnings concerning violation of E's lawful policy on solicitation in work areas on E's time)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 095
(prima facie showing of discrimination by E's closing of gambling casino coffee shop and resultant layoff of its Ees upon decision made after U campaign began, and disparate selection for layoff of such Ees from other food service Ees who had not participated in U activities, not rebutted under Wright Line, where although E may have had justification to restructure its food service operations, it was not established that coffee shop would have been closed absent its Ees' U activities)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 095
(admission by supervisor that he could not help laid off-Ee because of latter's involvement with U was prima facie showing of unlawfully motivated layoff under Wright Line and was not rebutted by E's claim that laid off-Ee was least senior Ee, where such would be true only if Ee's prior service were not considered, and E failed to show that its policy was to not consider prior service in determining seniority)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 095
(as required by Wright Line analysis, GC made prima facie showing of unlawful motivation for layoff of Ee where E showed antiU animus and awareness of laid-off Ee's U activity by enforcing unlawful no-solicitation rule against him, and showing was not rebutted by E's claim of Ee's poor performance where E had tolerated his work and granted him wage increase a week before layoff)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 027
(once GC has established prima facie case w/i teachings of Wright Line that motivating factor for discharge was to discourage U activities, burden will shift to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected activity)

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(notwithstanding Ee's overt involvement with U and E's unlawful threats and interrogations which supported finding of GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, discharge was not violative where E justified discharge on ground that Ee was responsible for series of mishaps when driving truck for E; E would have discharged Ee even if Ee had not engaged in U activities)

Blue Arrow, Inc., a Subsidiary of Kysor Industrial Corporation 261 NLRB No. 135
(violation where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case that E's real motive in discharging U steward was his U activity)

Grane Trucking Company 261 NLRB No. 059
(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case showing that U adherent truckdriver's protected concerted activity was motivating factor in E's decision to remove him from run and thereby cause him loss of overtime compensation)

T.H.E. Co. d/b/a L. D. Brinkman Southeast 261 NLRB No. 025
(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharges)

Danmor Company d/b/a Madison South Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 106
(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie showing that E, by not filling vacant positions for licensed practical nurses (LPNs) and not hiring LPNs, was motivated by desire to discourage membership in U and to erode bargaining unit)

Bedford Farmers Cooperative 259 NLRB No. 165
(discharge of U activist violative notwithstanding it occurred shortly after E and Ee engaged in argument in front of customers as no prior warning given; several weeks earlier E unlawfully warned activist about his U activities and E's desire to get rid of U. E did not establish that discharge would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected activities)

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 131
(E knowledge of discharged Ee's protected activity and E animus toward U, taken together, are sufficient to establish prima facie case that E was discharged in retaliation for U activity)

Magnesium Casting Company 259 NLRB No. 054
(E rebutted prima facie case of discriminatory layoff of U activist by showing that E had granted his request for transfer notwithstanding Ee's known U activities and that E used customary procedures in selecting 33 Ees for layoff for economic reasons, choosing alleged discriminatee as least senior Ee on his shift and E did not replace him with new hire)

0183-3367—Cont.

Parker Hannifin Corporation 259 NLRB No. 023

(discharge of U activist not violative where E rebutted GC's prima facie case of discrimination; Ee was warned, and then discharged, not because of her U activities, but because of her consistent refusal to stay at her work area and do her job and her defiance of instructions of her supervisors to return to work)

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027

(where motivation for discharge is at issue GC must make a prima facie showing that protected activity was motivating factor in E's decision to discharge, and E then has burden of showing that Ees would have been discharged absent that protected activity)

R. P. Scherer (Southeast) Corporation 258 NLRB No. 051

(Bd upheld ALJ's finding of violation notwithstanding ALJ did not apply precise Wright Line analysis where findings were sufficient to prove prima facie case against E and E did not rebut this finding)

Dimensions in Metal, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 078

(violation, where GC made prima facie showing that Ees' U activities were motivating factors in E's decision to discharge them and E failed to demonstrate that it would have taken same action against him if they had not engaged in U activities)

C. W. Sweeney & Co. 258 NLRB No. 096

(discharge of U steward for excessive absenteeism violative where GC established prima facie case showing that discharge was motivated by E's antagonism toward her U activities and E failed to rebut this by showing that Ee would have been discharged notwithstanding her U activities; moreover, incident immediately preceding her discharge when she protested E's request that she leave work on grounds that contract did not require her to do so was protected and her conduct was not so outrageous (no disruption of production or any Ee heard her remarks) as to remove her from protection of Act)

Litton Mellonics Systems Division, A Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 084

(transferring operations allegedly to avoid unionization, not unlawful, where E rebutted GC's prima facie case by showing that E's actions were motivated by legitimate business reasons and that E would have taken such actions even absent Ees' protected activities)

Valley Plaza, Inc. d/b/a Captain Nemo's 258 NLRB No. 076

(violation, where GC made prima facie showing that Ee's U activity was motivating factor in E's decision to discharge him and E failed to demonstrate that it would have taken same action against him had he not engaged in U activity)

Leisure Time Tours, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 128

(discharge of U adherent violative where GC established that U adherent's activities on behalf of grievance committee and his suspected involvement in U were motivating factors in E's decision to terminate him and E failed to meet its burden of demonstrating that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct)

Jackson Dairy Products Company 258 NLRB No. 172

(E failed to prove he would have discharged disabled Ee due to his disability but for Ee's known U organizing leadership where E gave inconsistent and conflicting reasons for discharge)

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 142

(Bd, contrary to ALJ, refused to assume from U's failure to list dischargee among other alleged discriminatory discharges in its election objections or in original charge that this Ee's discharge did not play role in undermining or dissipation of U's majority status and it subsequent loss of election; E did not meet its burden to show that Ee's termination one day after intensively surveilled U meeting which Ee attended was not widely known fact of significance to unit Ees)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 194

(E's contention that pharmacy manager mishandled incident with potential drug abuser-customer and was insubordinate to his superior in discussing incident failed to rebut prima facie case of discrimination where his contentions were not supported by evidence)

Scenic Manufacturing Company 258 NLRB No. 038

(discharge of Ee violative where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case that Ee was discharged because of her reference to U which E's vice president considered to be threat since it was his damn plant and I run it any damn way I want)

George W. Kugler, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 007

(E's alleged economic justification for layoffs failed to overcome GC's prima facie showing of discriminatory motive for layoffs where E instituted layoffs immediately upon reinstatement of an Ee after his successful exercise of grievance procedure)

Royal Development Company, Limited 257 NLRB No. 149

(Bd found no need to decide here whether Wright Line test of dual-motivation discharge was appropriate for analyzing 8(a)(4) cases, since, although ALJ used Wright Line causation test in analyzing motivation for both 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(4) complaint allegations herein, there was no proof that E relied on any legitimate reason for its refusal to employ charging party)

Royal Development Company, Limited 257 NLRB No. 146

(where GC made prima facie demonstration of discriminatory motivation by showing that E had admitted refusing to hire previously employed Ee for new opening because of his filing of grievances and ULP charge, E failed to meet its burden of showing that it would have acted thus even w/o Ees' filing of grievances and charges where E belatedly contended that Ee was incompetent and vacillated between that and other alleged causes)

Inland Steel Company 257 NLRB No. 013

(E must demonstrate that same action would have taken place in the absence of protected conduct and E bears burden of explaining its motivation; ALJ can not meet burden of E by supplying explanation which E himself did not advance)

Anja Engineering Corporation 256 NLRB No. 161

(E failed to rebut prima facie case of unlawful motivation in discharge of U activist; technical breach of unwritten rule on medical leave, extensions of which were routinely given, not justification for automatic termination on election day of excellent Ee known by E to be extremely ill)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111

(E failed to prove layoff was motivated by economic reasons, notwithstanding its showing of economic justification, where department manager admitted to his assistant that Ee was selected for layoff because he was U instigator)

Heartland Food Warehouse, Division of Purity Supreme Supermarkets 256 NLRB No. 145

(test in cases alleging violation of Section 8(a)(3) of Act where lawful as well as unlawful motive may exist for discharge, requires GC to make prima facie showing that Ees' protected activities motivated E's decision to discharge them. If the GC is successful, burden of proof is then shifted to E to show by preponderance of evidence that discharges would have occured even in absence of Ees' protected activities)

Southern Alleghenies Disposal Services, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 135

(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation for layoffs and to demonstrate that it would have taken same action against Ees in absence of their U activities)

Vee Cee Provisions, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 125

(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory layoff)

Golden Beverage of San Antonio, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 081

(subsequent to issuance of ALJ Decision, Bd declared in Wright Line, 251 NLRB No. 150, that it was abondoning use of in part language; analysis requires determination of prima facie case and whether E has affirmative defense that action would have occurred absent protected activities)

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center 256 NLRB No. 064

(demotion of Ee violative since E did not rebut GC's prima facie case of discrimination)

Wean United, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 134

(Bd adopted ALJ's finding that E failed to demonstrate that it would not have rehired Ee even absent his protected concerted activity; in so doing, Bd additionally relied on fact that, despite E's assertion that it rehired another Ee because he was a better Ee, it was clear that E found other Ee was better because he was not a troublemaker, i.e., one who too vigorously engaged in protected concerted activity)

Modesti Brothers, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 126

(layoffs of Ees after advent of U campaign violative where E did not meet Wright Line test and was unable to prove Ees would have been laid off even in absence of their activities on behalf of U)

Steinerfilm, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 017

(discharge of U adherent, violative, since E did not rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge where record showed that E's proffered justification for such discharge was pretextual)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097

(GC must make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's decision; once this is established burden will shift to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101

(finding of pretext necessarily means that reasons advanced by E either did not exist or were not in fact relied upon, thereby leaving in tact inference of wrongful motive established by GC)

Guardian Industries 255 NLRB No. 096

(although ALJ heard case before Wright Line decision, that analysis was appropriate [illegible] decision herein as it clarified and articulated the analysis to be used in cases turning on E motivation and was not new analysis)

0183-3367—Cont.

Gesko & Meyer, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 095
(discharge of striker violative since E did not rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge where it was shown that E's justification for such discharge was pretextual)

Webb-Centric Construction 254 NLRB No. 159
(under test articulated in Wright Line GC is required to make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's action... once such a prima facie case is established, burden is shifted to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct. This shifting of burdens does not shift ultimate burden of GC to establish ULP by preponderance of evidence)

General Motors Corporation 254 NLRB No. 148
(violation where GC made prima facie showing that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's decision to administer disciplinary action it took and E did not meet burden of demonstrating that same disciplinary action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct)

Mark Twain Marine Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 144
(transfer of U adherent not unlawful, where E rebutted prima facie case of discrimination by demonstrating that transfer was to separate U adherent from another Ee in order to alleviate their combined efforts to hassle a third Ee)

Kleinert's, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 107
(discharge of Ee, whose substantial U and other protected concerted activity was known to E, for Ee's alleged failure to give notice of absence due to illness as well as his failure to bring doctor's slip, violative where, contrary to E's contentions, E had no daily call-in requirement at time of discharge, Ee gave E requisite advance notice of intent to be absent, E had no fixed requirement for furnishing doctor's excuse as evidence of illness, and no time limit for furnishing such slip on return to work; E knew Ee's absence was due to illness, and such knowledge was normally a significant factor in determining whether to excuse absence w/o doctor's excuse)

The Board of Trustees of City Hospital, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 097
(discharge unlawful where GC made prima facie showing that Ee's protected activity was motivating factor in E's decision to discharge her and E did not establish affirmative defense nor did E carry out its burden of showing that its action concerning Ee would have been the same even in absence of protected conduct)

Overnite Transportation Company 254 NLRB No. 011

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 054
(discharge of U adherent, assertedly for his disruptive and offensive behavior, unlawful where GC made prima facie showing that Ee's U activity was motivating factor in E's decision to discharge him and E failed to demonstrate that it would have taken same action against him had he not engaged in U activities)

Doral Building Services, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 023

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(under dominant motive test it is GC who in addition to establishing prima facie showing of unlawful motive, is further required to rebut E's asserted defense by showing that discharge would not have taken place in absence of Ees' protected activities)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(causation test to be followed in all cases alleging violations of Sec. 8(a)(3) or Sec. 8(a)(1) turning on E motivation: (1) GC required to make out prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected activity was a motivating factor in E's decision; and after this is established, (2) burden shifts to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place in absence of protected conduct)

East Wind Enterprises 250 NLRB No. 101
(burden on E to show layoff was motivated by business considerations where GC had established prima facie case of unlawful layoff)

*Pre-Fab Transit Company and Tractor and Trailer
Leasing Co., Inc.* JD-353-82
(discharge of U adherent, violative where E did not rebut GC's prima facie case of discrimination against him)

C. Cowles & Company JD-(NY)-52-82
(layoff of active U protaganist because of downturn in sales of automotive parts manufacturer, not violative, since Ee was least senior in E's department being cut back because of depressed sales in automotive industry and E's usual custom was to use departmental seniority w/o bumping other Ees; E satisfied burden of proving lawful justificatiion for discharge)

U. S. Reduction Company JD-(ATL)-13-82
(issuance of warning to and demotion of U adherent, violative where GC's prima facie case of discrimination was not rebutted by E)

*Furriers Joint Council of New York, UFCW
International Union, AFL-CIO* JD-(NY)-24-82
(changing of U steward's work location to less desirable place in office, not violative where E rebutted GC's prima facie case of discrimination by showing that it would have transferred Ee even in absence of her actions as member of U bargaining committee)

*Furriers Joint Council of New York, UFCW
International Union, AFL-CIO* JD-(NY)-24-82
(forcing U steward to take vacation on certain day, not violative where E rebutted GC's prima facie case of discrimination by showing that she would have taken vacation at same approximate time even in absence of her actions on behalf of U)

Elder Moving & Storage Company, Inc. JD-129-82
(violation, where GC made prima facie showing that Ee's discharge was discriminatorily motivated, and E failed to meet burden of showing that Ee would have been discharged even if he had not engaged in U activity)

Berco Industries, Inc. JD-56-82
(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory layoff)

Franklin Art Glass Studios, Inc. JD-93-82
(issuance of warning letter to Ee with regard to his absenteeism not violative, since warning letter would have been issued to Ee even if he had nothing to do with U)

Ron Simmons, d/b/a Bell Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-296-81
(discharge of U adherent, violative since E did not rebut GC's prima facie showing of discriminatory discharge)

U.S. Postal Service JD-(SF)-269-81
(E's refusal to hire U steward as postal inspector, not violative, notwithstanding factors related to Ee's protected activities were considered by E, where E demonstrated that even absent those impermissable considerations, E's unfavorable action would have been the same)

Innovative Chemical Corporation JD-109-81
(discharge of U adherent violative, since E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case which established intense anti-U animus on part of E as being motivating factor for Ee's discharge)

E. M. J. Corporation JD-(ATL)-68-81
(layoff and failure to recall U steward, violative where GC's prima facie case of discrimination was not rebutted by E)

Packer Plastics, Inc. JD-(SF)-160-81
(E met burden of showing that Ee would have been terminated even in absence of his U activity where E showed that Ee not only started and left work early contrary to instructions but did so w/o notification, permission, or excuse; moreover he misled E into thinking he had not clocked in early and failed to service important customer by leaving early)

*Foote Mineral Company, Ferroalloys Division,
Graham Plant* JD-268-81
(E showed it would have fired Ee notwithstanding her U activities and filing of complaints with state human rights commission and Bd, where E eliminated switchboard which Ee operated to rid itself of unsatisfactory and troublesome Ee)

American Interstate Freight Lines JD-117-81
(violation, where GC made prima facie showing that motivating factor in E's decision to deny him work was his going to U concerning his employment complaints, filing grievances, and endeavoring to enforce collective bargaining agreement; and E failed to demonstrate that it would have denied Ee work had he not engaged in protected activity)

American Interstate Freight Lines JD-117-81
(violation where GC made prima facie showing that motivating factors in E's decision to discharge Ee were Ee's taking his grievance to grievance board and endeavoring to enforce work-guarantee provisions in agreement, and his appealing dismissal of his ULP charge; and E failed to demonstrate that it would have discharged Ee in absence of protected activity)

Surgery Center of Sacramento JD-(SF)-93-81
(discharge of U adherents violative, since motivating factor in their discharge and in one dischargee's subsequently limited utilization was inferred to be discriminatory and E did not meet its shifted burden of demonstrating that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct)

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81
(E did not meet Wright Line test where it failed to prove that terminated Ees would have been dismissed in absence of protected conduct)

*Domicile Manor, Inc. McCormick Health Centers,
Inc.* JD-(SF)-82-81
(discharge of Ee, violative since E did not rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge where it was shown that E's asserted reasons for discharge were pretextual)

E.T.V.B., Inc. JD-(SF)-83-81
(E failed to show that U leader would have been discharged absent his U activity, in view of haste of discharge and infirm reasons advanced by E)

Metropolitan Teletronic Corp. JD-(NY)-12-81
(E's imposition of less favorable conditions on Ees by revoking previously available privilege of entering plant at 8:00 a.m. and remaining inside premises until they commenced work, violative since reason was to discourage Ees' activities on behalf of U; E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of discrimination)

0183-3367—Cont.

Metropolitan Telctronic Corp. JD-(NY)-12-81

(E's refusal to reinstate leading U advocate, following her leave of absence, unlawful; E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of discrimination)

Roger Harmon Motors, Inc. JD-(SF)-7-81

(discharge of U adherents, violative, where GC's prima facie case of discrimination was not rebutted by E's pretextual economic justifications)

American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Council 79; etc. JD-(ATL)-28-80

(where GC established prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, Es failed to carry burden of rebutting GC's case, where Es simply seized upon variety of pretexts, most of them stale, in order to give air of legitimacy to their illegal conduct)

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 169 (C.A. 1, Oct. 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. Transportation Management Corp. 674 F.2d 130 (C.A. 1, Apr. 1982)

(ct remanded case to Bd for reconsideration under Wright Line standard where Bd based finding of violation on E's failure of overcoming GC's prima facie case; ct has upheld Bd's imposing burden of neutralizing GC's prima facie case on E but to impose a greater burden is outside Bd's authority)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)

(in given discharge case it must be decided whether E acted because of Ee's U affiliation, or whether he acted because of some factor unrelated to Ee's U status)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)

(E in section 8(a)(3) discharge case has no more than limited duty of producing evidence to balance, not to outweigh, evidence produced by GC; E has burden of going forward to meet prima facie case, but not burden of persuasion on ultimate issue of existence of violation; i.e., that there would be no discharge but for E's protected activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(E who suspended Ees for taking too long coffee break violated Act where GC made prima facie case that Ees were disciplined for their U activity and E could not rebut presumption because when incident occurred it made no attempt to reprimand Ees, but was more concerned with documenting delay)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)

(after GC establishes prima facie case burden shifts to E to come forward with enough evidence to convince trier of fact that, under the circumstances, there is no longer preponderance of evidence establishing violation)

N.L.R.B. v. Blackstone Company, Inc. 685 F.2d 102 (C.A. 3, Aug. 1982)

(where Bd found violation relying on Wright Line stating that E did not sustain burden of proof to show that Ee would have been discharged absent of his having engaged in protected activity after GC showed discriminatory motivation; remanded to Bd for reconsideration under Circuit's decision in Behring International No. 81-1937, which holds once GC has established prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, E should rebut this with evidence of legitimate business reason for its action but ultimate burden of proof does not shift from GC to E and E doesn't need to show lack of impermissible motive)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(Bd's Wright Line test represents substantial improvement over its prior practice and, except for its shifting burden of persuasion, meets with ct's approval; once GC has established prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, E should rebut this with evidence of legitimate business reason for its action; ultimate burden of proof does not shift from GC and does not devolve upon E at any stage)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(case remanded to Bd for reconsideration in light of ct's opn that Bd misallocated burden of proof; Bd held that E failed to substantiate its economic defense because it could not justify timing of discharges; relevance of that observation was not clear from Bd's decision since lay-offs occurred soon after election and, therefore, could not have affected it; E did articulate legitimate business reason for discharges, and GC did not prove that E's real motive was anti-U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Robin American Corporation 654 F.2d 1022 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(ct held that E did not rebut prima facie case that E closed department and discharged Ees for anti-U motives)

Republic Die and Tool Company v. N.L.R.B. 680 F.2d 463 (C.A. 6, June 1982)

(Wright Line need not be applied where ALJ found no legitimate reasons for Ees discharge and E was retaliating against Ee for filing grievance)

Borel Restaurant Corporation, d/b/a Rusty Scupper Restaurants v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 190 (C.A. 6, Apr. 1982)

(discharge of U organizer, assertedly for violation of no-drinking rule, violative, where record clearly established that E failed to carry burden of demonstrating that discharge would have occurred in absence of Ee's U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Gibraltar Industries, Inc. and Case, Inc. 653 F.2d 1091 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(prima facie case of unlawful discriminatory discharge proved where complaints about Ee's work began to materialize only after she continued to express her support for U in upcoming election which was further followed by series of warnings, suspension and discharge; ALJ properly determined that there was insufficient evidence of legitimate motivation for discharge)

Charge Card Association v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 272 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(GC did not make out prima facie case that E unlawfully suspended Ees for walkout protesting working conditions since Ees called E and falsely stated they were sick. In view of high absenteeism that day, E had right to demand Ees support their assertion of illness even if E suspected Ees were protesting working conditions. Had Ees said they were going to be absent in protest of working conditions, different result would obtain)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, Mar 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Webb Ford, Inc. 689 F.2d 733 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1982)

(ALJ erred when he imposed on E burden of demonstrating that decision to discharge Ees would have been same in absence of protected conduct, as this places burden of persuasion on E; E need only neutralize prima facie case by asserting legitimate reason for discharges; then burden of demonstrating by preponderance of evidence that reason is pretextual remains with Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(If a causal relationship between discharge and protected activity is established, E is responsible under Act unless he sustains burden of proof. Furthermore, E's explanation need not be accepted if there is a reasonable basis for believing explanation is pretext for retaliatory action)

Peavey Company v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 460 (C.A. 7, May 1981)

(discharge not violative where E proved Ee would have been discharged for cause notwithstanding she engaged in U activity especially in light of fact that she went to U after she received earlier disciplinary warnings)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

(when discharge motivated by both legitimate business and anti-U animus, or when business reasons may be pretext for termination motivated by hostility toward U, ULP may be found only if anti-U animus was moving cause of discharge. Bd must make showing that U activity was motivating factor; then burden shifts to E to establish that terminations would have occured absent protected U activity)

Doug Hartley, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 579 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)

(discharge of crew not unlawful, where reasons were insubordination and incompetence and discharge would have occurred regardless of fact that majority of crew had signed U authorization cards)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(E failed to meet his burden under Wright Line where he contended that he decided not to employ engineers because of their poor work attitude, added that they were overpaid and unnecessary, and told one of them that he could not hire him because of technicalities; E's case was weakened by asserted justifications that were shifting and unreliable)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 640 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 9, Apr 2, 1981)

(when motives are mixed improper motive must be shown to be dominant one L'eggs Products, Inc. v. NLRB 619 F.2d. 1337; this test adopted by Bd in Wright Line 250 NLRB No. 150)

0183-6700 Sufficiency of evidence

United Broadcasting Company of New Hampshire, INc. d/b/a WMUR–TV 253 NLRB No. 103

(discharge allegedly for protected activity not unlawful, since GC failed to make prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that Ee's protected activity was motivating factor for discharge; only evidence in regard to Ee's protected activity is that he had at one time been employed at unionized operation, and there is no showing of E hostility or animus toward U)

0183-6701 Generally

0183-6701—Cont.

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(if record sustains allegations of unlawful discrimination against discharged Ees, their testimony is not a sine qua non for relief under Act)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(if Bd makes finding of discriminatory discharge, ct must enforce finding if reasonable person might have concluded from entire record that improper motive moved E to discharge Ee; but if ct decides that reasonable person could only have either concluded that proper motives moved E to discharge or been unable to conclude whether proper or improper motives moved E, ct must refuse to enforce Bd's finding of discriminatory discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Alumina Ceramics, Inc. 690 F.2d 136 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1982)
(under standards to be followed by Bd in discharge cases involving evidence of both U and non-U motivation for discharge, GC has burden of proving that, but for U activities or membership, Ee would not have been discharged, and such burden can be satisfied by direct or circumstantial evidence; and Bd is permitted to draw reasonable inferences and choose between conflicting views of evidence, but it cannot rely on suspicion, surmise, implication, or plainly incredible evidence)

0183-6712 Circumstantial evidence

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(while knowledge of U activity is not to be lightly enferred, direct evidence of knowledge corroborated by credible witnesses is not required to show knowledge, since circumstantial evidence may supply the predicate for finding knowledge)

0183-6712-2500 Direct evidence rarely obtainable and not essential

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation is not necessary to support a finding of discrimination, and such intent may be inferred from record as a whole)

Charles Doen d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154
(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation may be inferred from record as whole; economic justification no defense to discriminatory discharges or lay offs if selection of those Ees effected was because of their U activities)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026

Irwin County Electric Membership Cooperative 247 NLRB No. 195
(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation is not necessary to support finding of discrimination and such intent may be inferred from record as a whole)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-835-79
(E's knowledge of Ees' U activities and sympathies may be inferred from circumstantial evidence and may be just as reliable as direct evidence)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(State of mind of E officials who make decision to discharge Ee reflects motive for discharge; GC will rarely be able to produce direct evidence of official's state of mind and therefore GC can only produce circumstantial evidence from which Bd can infer finding of improper motive)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(to prove knowledge of U activity Bd did not need to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that E was aware of Ee's involvement where record allows fair inference of discriminatory motivation. Circumstantial evidence of E's knowledge and motive sufficient to prove Sec. 8(a)(3) violation)

0183-6725 Inference of discrimination

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040
(where E presented evidence that discharge of Ee was for excessive absences and lateness, particularly in view of fact Ee's U activities limited to signing authorization card, its defense was accepted, but adverse inference, drawn from E's refusal to present time cards of other Ees which might show that Ees with equally bad attendance records not discharged, did not aid GC since adverse inference may not be used as substitute for affirmative evidence in establishing prima facie case; therefore no link to show that discharge was for U activities)

Aker Plastics Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 147
(inference of unlawful motivation can be raised if proffered reason for discharge is found to be false)

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation is not necessary to support a finding of discrimination, and such intent may be inferred from record as a whole)

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020
(in absence of evidence of animus or hostility towards Ee based upon Ee's U activity, discriminatory motive may not be inferred)

Stewart-Warner Corporation 253 NLRB No. 016
(unlawful motive may be inferred from falsity of stated motive; however, such inference is justified only where motive sought to be concealed by false reasons is unlawful)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(inference of discriminatory motive warranted where E would not reinstate Ee allegedly because E would no longer get along with Ee after Ee threatened ct action against E and, when considering how valuable Ee was to E, E would not so summarily have allowed Ee to leave had it not been for certain knowledge that E had of his very recent U activities)

Mark J. Leach d/b/a Mark J. Leach Electrical Contractors 251 NLRB No. 151
(inference of discriminatory motive for Ees' discharges warranted in view of closer scrutiny of Ees' work performance which followed closely in time on advent of Ees' U activities and resulted in sudden and constant criticism of their work, numerous threats of discharge, and close timing of discharges in relationship to Ees' U activities)

The Halloran House 249 NLRB No. 113
(discharge violative, where E had knowledge of Ee's U activity, acted immediately against Ee w/o warning, and failed to provide any plausible explanation for its conduct; under circumstances, it was proper to infer that E's motive was discriminatory)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(trier of fact may infer motive from total circumstances; if he finds stated motive for discharge is false, he can infer motive is unlawful where surrounding facts tend to reinforce such inference)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(fact that GC bears burden of persuading Bd improper motive moved E to discharge Ee means that Bd must find against GC if its collective mind is equipoise on question whether discharge stemmed from proper or improper motive)

0183-6750 Insignificance of discriminatee in union evidence of lack of prohibited motive

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040
(where E presented evidence that discharge of Ee was for excessive absences and lateness, particularly in view of fact Ee's U activities limited to signing authorization card, its defense was accepted, but adverse inference, drawn from E's refusal to present time cards of other Ees which might show that Ees with equally bad attendance records not discharged, did not aid GC since adverse inference may not be used as substitute for affirmative evidence in establishing prima facie case; therefore no link to show that discharge was for U activities)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115
(layoff of Ee in small unit where all Ees had signed U authorization cards violative, where E's U animus inferred from having unlawfully denied wage increase and timing of layoff, as layoff of any 1 Ee at time of U activity would have chilling effect on U activity of remaining Ees; notwithstanding laid off Ee was not U activist)

0183-6775 Union activities of employee plus discharge or discipline do not alone make out a case of prohibited discrimination

Standard Motor Products, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 068
(in finding discharge of Ee not unlawful, consideration was given to fact that E was not unhappy to be rid of Ee because of his prior U activity; fact that Ee is persona non grata does not per se establish that discharge was discriminatory where Ee gives valid independent reason for discharge by engaging in conduct for which he would have been discharged anyway; and, here, Ee committed dischargeable offense under E's rules, no ameliorating or mitigating circumstances existed, there was no evidence of disparate application of rule, and Ee had been warned about offensive conduct involved herein)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(discharge not violative where, notwithstanding GC made prima facie showing that E had unlawful motive for discharging Ee, E proved Ee would have been discharged because of long history of Ee's problems of discussions with other Ees while Ee was working, even in absence of Ee's protected activity; Ee was issued numerous lawful warnings concerning violation of E's lawful policy on solicitation in work areas on E's time)

Allied Eastern States Maintenance Corporation, A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Allied Maintenance Corporation 261 NLRB No. 167
(discharge not violative, since E, by preponderance of evidence met burden of demonstrating that Ee would have been discharged even in absence of protected conduct of advising Ees as to their U rights)

Fibracan Corp. 259 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of leading U supporter because plant manager believed she was responsible for malfunctions and breakdowns of production machinery not violative, since, facts of case failed to establish hostility or opposition to U strong enough to conclude that E was willing to violate law by discharging Ee to keep U out of plant)

0183-6775—Cont.

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(while discipline may be extreme it does not follow ascribed reason for discharge is pretextual)

Muncie Newspapers, Inc. JD-482-81

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)
(fact discharge of U steward was affected or motivated in part because he had filed charges with Bd and other government agencies falls short of holding that he was discharged because of these activities; where Ee's discharge is prompted by concurrent reasons, some permissible and some not, in order to support ruling of ULP Bd must find permissible reason proferred by E is merely pretext and that in fact Ee was disciplined because of anti-U sentiment)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(mere U membership or concerted activity does not insulate Ee from being disciplined for just cause, and when E has come forward with evidence of legitimate and substantial business justification for disciplining Ee, burden is on Bd not simply to declare disciplinary action pretextual because there is some evidence of improper motive, but to find an affirmative and persuasive reason why E rejected the good cause and chose a bad one; in carrying such burden, Bd must produce substantial evidence of anti-U motivation)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(discharge of Ee, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's knowledge that Ee had filed grievance seeking higher wages prior to discharge, where Ee had falsified time card, breach of E's rules for which E had never used any penalty less severe than discharge, and had done unsatisfactory work)

0183-6787 While activity no bar to discharge for legitimate reasons, it may disclose union animus when reasons given do not ring true

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(where Respondent's motivations are mixed, Bd had held that legal effect of conduct is same as though illegal reason for its action was only operative reason; violation of Act is established where despite valid reason for discharge evidence shows that E has resorted to that reason as basis for building case against Ee due to his U activities)

Dixie Machine Rebuilders Inc. 248 NLRB No. 116

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(discharge of Ee, U president, for varied reasons all of which proved invalid, held violative, since E did not demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct; real reason was E's attempt to rid itself of thorn in (its) side., namely, U president)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(but for standard requires determination by Bd, based on all evidence, that, wholly apart from alleged illegal motive, E would (or would not) have discharged Ee for conduct ascribed to him by E)

0183-6789 Lack of employer's specific knowledge of individual employees and differences in union activity between individual employees immaterial

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 132
(discharge of Ee who refused to sign authorization card for U favored by E, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's unlawful threat to discharge Ee if he did not sign card, as other Ees also threatened but were not subsequently discharged, in view of fact refusal to sign card only protected activity of Ee known to E, and absent evidence E had knowledge of Ee's support for another U; further, E has met burden of showing it would have discharged Ee absent protected activity in view of limited nature of only protected activity of which E was aware and prior warnings and complaints regarding Ee's performance)

La Habra Dodge, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 001
(discharge of Ee mechanic at automobile dealer for doing faulty work, not unlawful, where E had no knowledge of Ee's U activities)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115
(layoff of Ee in small unit where all Ees had signed U authorization cards violative, where E's U animus inferred from having unlawfully denied wage increase and timing of layoff, as layoff of any 1 Ee at time of U activity would have chilling effect on U activity of remaining Ees; notwithstanding laid off Ee was not U activist)

Wright Plastic Products, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 101
(discharge of Ees who signed U authorization cards violative and lack of specific evidence of E's knowledge of individual Ees or difference in U activity between individual Ees is immaterial where discharges occurred because of E's desire to frustrate and dissipate Ee support of U)

N.L.R.B. v. Willow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)
(to prove knowledge of U activity Bd did not need to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that E was aware of Ee's involvement where record allows fair inference of discriminatory motivation. Circumstantial evidence of E's knowledge and motive sufficient to prove Sec. 8(a)(3) violation)

1700 UNION OR OTHER PROTECTED UNION ACTIVITY OF DISCRIMINATEE

1701 GENERALLY

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(Bd held it was not necessary for ALJ to detail at length either the U activity of any particular discriminatee or E's knowledge of discriminatee's personal involvement in U activity, where all Ees were U members; E, who was successor E, desired a turnover of staff consisting of predecessor's Ees it initially hired as it considered such staff pro-U and wished to dissipate strength of pro-U sentiment; E took numerous adverse actions with that object in mind and such actions were part of pattern to reduce U support)

1717 ACTIVE PARTICIPATION IN UNION ACTIVITIES

1717-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(membership as used in Section 8(a)(3) refers not only to Ees basic decision whether to join U but also his decision as to level of his participation in U and U activities)

1717-1000 Officers or leaders in union affairs

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast Division 260 NLRB No. 098
(issuance of warning for talking on job to U vice-president and another Ee violative notwithstanding thay were talking for prolonged time and E had past practice of warnings for such conduct where E observed conversation for a time and never ordered Ees back to work but merely issued warning notices in retaliation for vice-president status and activities)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 234 NLRB No. 043
(discharge of Ee after his election to U office and increased activity regarding safety conditions violative)

Metropolitan Edison Company 252 NLRB No. 147
(disciplining U officers more severely than other Ees for participating in sympathy strike in violation of no-strike clause, violative)

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073
(reassignment of U officer from machine operation where her work and performance were satisfactory, to bench work which was distasteful to her, held violative, where purposes was to discourage Ee so she would quit)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(discharge of Ee, U president, for varied reasons all of which proved invalid, held violative, since E did not demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct; real reason was E's attempt to rid itself of thorn in (its) side., namely, U president)

Public Service Company of New Mexico JD-(SF)-157-80
(discharge of former U officer, not unlawful, where discharge not motivated by his U activities and was not for protected activity since his actions, statements and letters which precipitated discharge were not concerted nor for object of enforcing contract)

N.L.R.B. v. Triangle Sheet Metal Works, Inc. 607 F.2d 998(T) (C.A. 2, 1979)
(layoff of valuable Ee who was campaign manager for candidate for U president whom E opposed violative notwithstanding economic necessity for layoff since Ee's name not on original layoff list but his name was substituted thereon by president)

Metropolitan Edison Company v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 478 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order where E disciplined U officers more harshly than other Ees who participated in illegal work stoppage since (1) agreement did not expressly impose duty on U officers to attempt to halt illegal work stoppage, and (2) ct is not bound by two previous arbitral interpretations of no-strike clause placing greater responsibilities on U officials to take affirmative steps to end illegal work stoppage; furthermore, substantial evidence supports Bd finding that U officers were not leaders of strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Armour-Dial, Inc. 638 F.2d 51 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(suspension of 3 members of U executive committee who refused to unload truck of company which U had requested E to c/d/b not violative as their actions violated Section 8(b)(4) and their contract; committee members were disciplined not because of their illegal activities)

1717-1900 Conspicuous in unionizing effort

1717-1900—Cont.

Tre-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(E, who had demonstrated anti-U animus prior to U, issuing letter to leading U adherent which warned her that if she continued to disregard E's (unlawful) work rules, she would be summarily discharged held violative where letter could only be explaned as retaliatory and discriminatory measure against Ee as leading U adherent)

E. R. Carpenter Co. 260 NLRB No. 091
(E's failure to recall laid off U adherent during general recall not violative where E followed routine recall procedures and Ee was not home to receive phone call requesting return to work; moreover, fact that Ee was one of best workers not relevant where past work performance had no bearing upon order of recall)

Transportation Management Corporation 258 NLRB No. 061
(refusal to hire known U organizers for summer months and also for refusal to continue their regular employment in fall)

The Swingline Company; Speedmails, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 119
(discharge of very active U adherent not violative where E proved cause for discharge was Ee's continual lateness and absenteeism, moreover, E was very lenient with U campaigners regarding pro-U activities on work time)

Wyman-Gordon Company 252 NLRB No. 168
(discharge of U adherent for failing to notify E that he did not attend classes for which he was subsequently paid, violative, where E's record keeping difficult to understand, Ee offered to return unearned money to E which offer refused and anti-U attitude of E)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153
(failure to promote leading U proponent known to E and advising him he was not eligible for promotion until he became more versatile in his work held violative where E assigned Ee only one type of work (welding) and two full time Ees were needed to perform work which discriminatee had performed with only part-time assistance)

1717-2400 Grievance protest or acting as grievance committeeman

Rickel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 262 NLRB No. 93
(discharge of U steward who was attempting to press grievance, not unlawful, where steward refused to discuss grievance with immediate supervisor as provided in grievance procedure, and instead of obeying order to return to work by supervisor upon steward's refusal to discuss grievance with him, left area to discuss with overall supervisor and vented intense anger in abusive language)

Volkswagen of America, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 036
(violation, where Ee was discharged because of his status as U committeeman, and discharge was not justified by E's mistaken belief that U committeeman had actively encouraged Ees to participate in illegal walkout where he had merely apprised them of dangerous situation developing outside the plant, thus enabling them to assess situation facing them at end of work day while he himself stayed on the job; rather than being encouraged to leave, Ees also remained on the job)

Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 257 NLRB No. 177
(issuing warning letter to U-steward for spending too much work time on handling Ee grievances violative where contract provided U-steward with reasonable time and 1 hour per day not unreasonable considering large number of Ees)

Dravo Corporation, Engineering Works Division 255 NLRB No. 078
(where E had policy of assigning disabled Ees to light duty, its refusal to recall grievance committee Chairman to such work violative when in retaliation for his active pursuit of his duties)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(denial of promotions for Ees to available supervisory positions where they had filed grievance, contemplated further legal action and filed charge with Bd, unlawful)

Pullman Trailmobile, A Division of Pullman Incorporated 249 NLRB No. 059
(transfer of U steward to another job because of his conduct in filing grievances, unlawful)

General Motors Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 616 F.2d 967 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(Bd's holding that E's suspension of U district committeeman for his use of grievance procedure was violative is supported by substantial evidence, notwithstanding contention committeeman abused grievance procedure by taking too much time discussing grievance with grievant and refusing to comply with request that he submit this dispute on abuse of procedure to grievance procedure)

N.L.R.B. v. Pacific Coast Utilities Service, Inc. 638 F.2d 73 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1980)
(shop steward's advising Ees not to sign warning slips presented by another company's foreman until he could discuss the matter with his supervisor held protected, and discharge therefor unlawful)

1717-3300 Demanding compliance with bargaining contract

O'Dovero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101
(layoff and failure to recall Ees who were members of craft U, unlawful, where motivated by Ees, complaining to management and U about E's failure to abide by contract in regard to coffee breaks, overtime pay and increased payrate prescribed therein, and performance of their work by members of another U, rather than for business reasons, in view of amount of work to be done and hiring of other Ees during layoff, and absent evidence laid off Ees less efficient than other Ees)

Vincent Brass & Aluminum Co. 264 NLRB No. 070
(layoff and refusal to reinstate Ees, unlawful, since for assertion of their contractual right to job bidding procedure rather than for economic reasons, in view of E's U animus established by other violations and where layoffs occurred while orders increasing and overtime worked by other Ees during layoff, notwithstanding layoff in accord with contract and fact those laid off included Ees who had not attempted to assert their rights under contract)

Drury Construction Co. 260 NLRB No. 093
(layoff and failure to recall Ee who tried to get E to comply with collective bargaining agreement requiring it to assign certain work to Ee members of Teamsters violative)

W.J. Lewis Corp.—W. Lewis—J. Lewis, a Partnership 257 NLRB No. 076
(discharge of unreferred Ees whom E had hired directly, rather than through exclusive hiring hall of U, at below contract rate when one of the Ees sought U's assistance in obtaining contract rate; unlawful)

Western Marine Electronics, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of Ee who had joined U and filed grievance contending he was covered by bargaining contract and was not receiving contract wage or benefits, unlawful, since motivated by hostility towards Ee and unionization in non-U sector of plant, in view of E's other ULP's including transfer of Ee, recent good evaluation of Ee, and suddeness of discharge while Ee's assignment incomplete and prior to end of pay period)

Harper & Arterburn Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 105
(discharge of Ee who enlisted aid of U to get steward appointed for job violative)

Sullivan Transfer Co. 247 NLRB No. 117
(E's change in method of assigning work which resulted in constructive discharge of Ee violative where motivation was U's demand for compliance with wage provisions of contract and not presence of jurisdictional dispute)

Stearns-Roger, Inc. JD-10-81
(layoff of qualified pipefitter assertedly because his production was low held violative where other pipefitters were hired from U hall one week after Ee was laid off and precipitating cause of layoff was Ee's complaint that lifting of iron grates was being done by pipefitters rather than ironworkers which work Ee, and others considered to be w/i jurisdiction of ironworkers)

1717-3400 Participation in contract negotiations

Northwestern Dodge, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 118
(layoff of two salesmen not violative notwithstanding one of them active participant on U negotiating team and engaged in verbal altercation with E about negotiations where economic reasons for layoffs were substantiated, Ees were never replaced, and E followed terms of expired contract by selecting two least senior and productive Ees for layoff)

1717-3600 Participation in sympathy strike

St. Regis Paper Company 253 NLRB No. 162
(suspension or discharge of sympathy strikers for refusing to cross picket line at own E's premises in violation of no-strike clause not unlawful, where overall bargaining history pointed decisively to conscious waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes during contract period)

1717-5700 Participation in Board proceeding

Reeves Southeastern Corporation 256 NLRB No. 090
(discharge of Ee for testifying against E at Bd hearing violative)

Ledford Construction Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 193
(suspending Ees who testified against E at Bd hearing while permitting Ees who testified favorably to work)

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(discharge for participation in conference on representation ptn held at Bd office violative)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(violations where E transferred U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing to store in less desireable location, reduced their working hours to times when they could not use public transportation, added onerous janitorial duties and then discharged them)

1717-7100 Distribution

G. H. Bass & Co. 258 NLRB No. 036
(having Ee followed by head of plant security who removed pro-U letters Ee was posting on bulletin boards in response to anti-U letter of E and giving Ee written reprimand with warning, unlawful, where Ees had been allowed to post other materials; E's contention that permission to post letter denied since it would generate controversy deemed pretextual in view of E's expressed U animus and fact letter not offensive, defamatory or opprobrious)

1717-7100—Cont.

G. H. Bass & Co. 258 NLRB No. 036
(reprimanding Ee for distribution of pro-U letter in production area during lunch break in alleged violation of rule prohibiting distribution in work areas, unlawful, where production shut down for lunch break and all Ees off clock since in these circumstances production area at lunch break becomes non-working area, and absent resulting litter problem or impact on production)

Reeves Southeastern Corporation 256 NLRB No. 090
(discharge of Ee for passing out U authorization cards violative)

Guardian Industries 255 NLRB No. 086
(laying off two of four Ees in department violative, as decision to reduce department size was contemporaneous with Ee's request to post U poster on bulletin board)

Texas Instruments Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 822 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(discharge of U adherents for violation of E's valid security rule not violative where: Ees published E's confidential wage survey report which Ees had obtained outside of normal course of employment (each page of report was stamped strictly private), Ee manual set forth E's rule against disclosure of confidential information; moreover, Ees' organizing activity not dependent on access to confidential information)

1717-7200 Solicitation

Clinton Corn Processing Company, A Division of Standard Brands Inc. 253 NLRB No. 084
(warning Ee for failure to comply with unlawful overly broad no-solicitation rule which was not clarified to permit solicitation during break times and Ee had been soliciting only on his own time, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Westinghouse Electric Corporation 612 F.2d 1072 (C.A. 8)
(ct upheld Bd's determination that Ee was unlawfully discharged specifically for passing out authorization cards and not because Ee breached company's no-solicitation rule; furthermore, instances of solicitation for non-U purposes proscribed by rule were tolerated at plant)

1717-7600 Strike leadership

1717-7625 Leadership in spontaneous work stoppage

Richmond Tank Car Company 264 NLRB No. 025
(discharging U steward alone of 40 Ees who walked out to protest inadequate protection against runaway freight cars and toxic fumes because he induced walkout through his leadership position in the Union, unlawful notwithstanding no-strike clause, since walkout in good faith because of abnormally dangerous working conditions by express terms of Sec. 502 does not constitute a strike and discipline for violating no-strike clause violated 8(a)(3) where imposed on a leader because of his U status as steward)

Consolidation Coal Company 263 NLRB No. 188
(discharging U officers because they participated in unauthorized work stoppage with other rank-and-file Ees based on their status as U officers, violative)

American Steel Works 263 NLRB No. 108
(where ALJ found that prior U activity; such as, filing grievances, and filing charge with Bd was cause of Ee's discharge and that absent that activity he would not have been discharged for leading wildcat strike, Bd found that discharge was improperly motivated under Wright Line)

Guy F. Atkinson Company and Wright-Schuchart-Harbor, A Joint Venture 251 NLRB No. 043
(discharge and refusal to reemploy U steward for causing walkout in violation of no-strike clause, not unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Armour-Dial, Inc. 638 F.2d 51 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(suspension of 3 members of U executive committee who refused to unload truck of company which U had requested E to c/d/b not violative as their actions violated Section 8(b)(4) and their contract; committee members were disciplined not because of their illegal activities)

Ervin Szewczuga and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(discharge of U stewards rather than less severe discipline imposed on rank and file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout, violative, where stewards were not leaders of strike nor was there reasonable basis for E to believe they were leaders, and bargaining agreement imposed no special duty on stewards in connection with forbidden work stoppage; further, not clear that arbitrator's decision upholding discharges based on contract interpretation of required higher duty of stewards)

1717-7680 Non-ULP strike

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 039
(E who told striking Ees that it was firing them, handed out final paychecks in middle of pay period and ordered them off premises because they were no longer Ees, violated Act; notwithstanding Ees later met with E, terminated strike and returned to work)

1717-8100 Refusal to assist company or favored union

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for numerous deficiencies where deficiencies were longstanding and discharge took place notwithstanding E's continuing need for Ees with gun permit)

1717-9800 Union stewardship

Haco Engineering Company 265 NLRB No. 002
(refusal to hire former Ee because of his activity as U steward, violative)

O'Dovero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101
(layoff of Ee who was not U adherent to cover up unlawfulness of layoff of U adherents and motivated by E's desire to reach and layoff steward who, pursuant to agreement, had to be laid off last)

Rickel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 262 NLRB No. 93
(discharge of U steward who was attempting to press grievance, not unlawful, where steward refused to discuss grievance with immediate supervisor as provided in grievance procedure, and instead of obeying order to return to work by supervisor upon steward's refusal to discuss grievance with him, left area to discuss with overall supervisor and vented intense anger in abusive language)

Artley Incorporated 260 NLRB No. 107
(U steward who asserted good faith claim for premium pay under contract provision did not forfeit protection of Act when claim turned out not to be covered by contract and discharge violative)

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast Division 260 NLRB No. 098
(issuance of warning to U steward for use of profane language violative where issued in retaliation for having filed grievance over supervisor's alleged opening of U mail)

Clarklift of St. Louis, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 002
(discharge of U steward for instructing Ees to falsify work tickets and using his office as steward to gain special favors for himself not violative where sole cause for discharge was unprotected activity of steward)

Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 257 NLRB No. 177
(issuing warning letter to U-steward for spending too much work time on handling Ee grievances violative where contract provided U-steward with reasonable time and 1 hour per day not unreasonable considering large number of Ees)

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(discharge of Ee for volunteering to be U steward violative)

Hamilton Die Cast Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 113
(discharging 2 Ees on same day for taking leave w/o written notice held violative as other Ees have not been similarly terminated; E's motivation was to penalize them for concerted activities as one Ee filed OSHA charge and other Ee was U steward whose performance E was critical)

Miller Brewing Company 254 NLRB No. 024
(imposition of more severe discipline on U stewards than that imposed on rank-and-file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout, violative, where record showed that stewards were not at fault for walkout but attempted to persuade Ees to remain on job; Indiana & Michigan Electric Company characterization of steward's greater responsiblity and hence greater fault inapplicable)

South Central Bell Telephone Company 254 NLRB No. 032
(imposing longer suspensions on U stewards, who participated in sickout in violation of no-strike clause, than on other Ees who also participated held violative, since there was no evidence to indicate that U stewards engaged in activities different from those engaged in by other Ees such as urging support of or seeking to induce Ees to participate in work stoppage)

United States Postal Service 252 NLRB No. 063
(U steward's suspension after attempting to perform her duties as steward, unlawful where she was engaged in protected activity, notwithstanding she did not seek permission of supervisor as required under contract and refused to obey several direct orders to return to work as supervisor was bent on preventing steward from performing her official duties so any request would be futile and neither refusal to work nor distuption of work production and her conduct did not exceed acceptable bounds to lose protection of Act)

1717-9800—Cont.

Hammermill Paper Company 252 NLRB No. 172
(discharge of Ee for participation in unprotected work stoppage solely because of his position as U steward, violative)

Castle-Pierce Printing Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 172
(refusal of E to reinstate discharged U steward because of his total course of serious strike misconduct after U terminated its strike and offered unconditionally to return strikers to work including 5 other discharged strikers, not unlawful notwithstanding contention that he was singled out from among other Ees who also engaged in strike misconduct because of his U activities, where he committed far more frequent acts of misconduct and far more serious acts of misconduct than did other strikers)

Guy F. Atkinson Company and Wright-Schuchart-Harbor, A Joint Venture 251 NLRB No. 043
(discharge and refusal to reemploy U steward for causing walkout in violation of no-strike clause, not unlawful)

C. H. Heist Corporation 250 NLRB No. 185
(discharge of only U steward out of 25 Ees who engaged in work stoppage in violation of no-strike clause, unlawful, since discharge based on his being U official and not for his role in strike where steward was reluctant participant, not leader, in strike, counseled against strike and urged Ees to return to work though he did transmit messages to strikers from U)

McLean Trucking Company JD-460-81
(refusing clerical unit Ees' U steward access to E's private offices to investigate grievance not violative where steward was provided with information he sought or was (credibly) told information would be provided on (his) request)

L. R. Bob Spillers Painting Co. JD-(SF)-169-80
(discharge of Ee for vigorous pursual of duties as U steward violative)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for making changes in schedule sheet unlawful, since steward was performing customary duty in enforcing contract, and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(E's discharging U steward with clean work record for participation in refusal to perform assigned task rather than merely suspending him as it did other Ees involved who also had clean work records, unlawful since E may not single out for harsher punishment U officials who merely participate in illegal strike where bargaining agreement did not impose explicit duty on U officers and stewards to end any illegal work stoppage, and further, Ee was not serving as steward at time of work stoppage)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)
(E's singling out U steward for discharge for participation in work stoppage in violation of no strike clause and in contravention of his obligation as U officer to take steps to terminate work stoppage, not unlawful, since E entitled to take into considereation U official's greater responsibility, and hence greater fault, where basis for discharge was duty imposed by his office and not office as such; fact contract provision regarding obligation of U officers did not provide for discharge did not render discharge unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(suspension of U stewards for mere participation in strike and/or for not taking affirmative steps to end strike in violation of no-strike agreement for longer period than supensions of other participants in strike, unlawful, absent affirmative contractual waiver of U officers' rights and/or breach of contractually imposed affirmative duties)

N.L.R.B. v. Max Factor and Company 640 F.2d 197 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(discharge of U steward who vigorously processed grievances, violative, notwithstanding she spent more than 50 percent of work time doing so (much more than other stewards) and at meeting with E where he issued disciplinary warning to her for not working enough she responded with profane language, because excessive time spent on nonproduction activities and conduct at meeting were not so indefensible as to cause her to forfeit protection of Act)

Ervin Szewczuga and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(discharge of U stewards rather than less severe discipline imposed on rank and file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout, violative, where stewards were not leaders of strike nor was there reasonable basis for E to believe they were leaders, and bargaining agreement imposed no special duty on stewards in connection with forbidden work stoppage; further, not clear that arbitrator's decision upholding discharges based on contract interpretation of required higher duty of stewards)

1733 OPPOSITION TO BARGAINING REPRESENTATIVE

Dining and Kitchen Administration, d/b/a DAKA 257 NLRB No. 046
(terminating contract with joint E who operated cafeteria violative, where action was taken because U refused to agree to exclude students, residents of E's facility who worked in cafeteria, from certified unit, Ees voted for U and E only hired 1 Ee from unit when it took over cafeteria operation itself gave rise to inference that real reason for terminating contract was that E did not want to inherit joint E's bargaining obligation)

Herman Brothers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 201 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had actively sought defeat of proposed contract which both E and U desired violative where Ee was ostensibly discharged for his failure to call in after excused absence when he had never been required to do so prior to this, which was only 3 days after defeat of proposed contract)

1783 KNOWLEDGE OF EMPLOYER AS TO DISCRIMINATEE'S UNION ACTIVITY

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(E held to have been put on notice prior to effecting allegedly unlawful discharges herein, by means of telephone conversation with Bd agent, that ptn had been filed by U claiming to represent its Ees, notwithstanding E's professed failure to recall such conversation, since it strains credulity that E, as generally knowledgeable, effective, and far from naive businessman, could not recall whether Bd agent had explained Bd procedures, had asked E regarding willingness to agree to election, had mentioned U's name, or whether Bd agent's notation of date of conversation was correct)

Lee Industries 261 NLRB No. 166
(E's refusal to reinstate dischargee after U failed to assist her in filing grievance over her discharge because she was not U member not violative, where there was no basis for imputing to E knowledge of Ee's anti-U stance)

Nanticoke Homes, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 107
(direct knowledge shown by E's possession of map directing Ees to U meeting and his questions of and statements to Ees regarding U and U activities)

Go-Lightly Footwear, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 008
(E held to have knowledge of Ees' protected activity in view of his admissions in affidavit that he discharged Ees after he was told about their picketing and their leaving w/o punching out; moreover, Ees described their activities to supervisor before they were fired, and supervisor knew about discharged Ee's picketing and saw other fellow Ees leave plant together)

1783-0100 Generally

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(discharge of Ee who refused to sign authorization card for U favored by E, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's unlawful threat to discharge Ee if he did not sign card, as other Ees also threatened but were not subsequently discharged, in view of fact refusal to sign card only protected activity of Ee known to E, and absent evidence E had knowledge of Ee's support for another U; further, E has met burden of showing it would have discharged Ee absent protected activity in view of limited nature of only protected activity of which E was aware and prior warnings and complaints regarding Ee's performance)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(knowledge of Ee's U activity by any supervisor or management official, although not directly involved in subsequent action affecting Ee's job, may be imputed to supervisors who were so inovlved)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(Bd held it was not necessary for ALJ to detail at length either the U activity of any particular discriminatee or E's knowledge of discriminatee's personal involvement in U activity, where all Ees were U members; E, who was successor E, desired a turnover of staff consisting of predecessor's Ees it initially hired as it considered such staff pro-U and wished to dissipate strength of pro-U sentiment; E took numerous adverse actions with that object in mind and such actions were part of pattern to reduce U support)

Heatilator Fireplace, Division of Vega Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 047
(where it was alleged that E violated 8(a)(3) by discharging Ee, E does not have burden of proving ignorance of Ee's U activity but, rather, it is GC who has burden of establishing E's knowledge of Ee's U activity)

1783-0150 Employer chargeable with supervisor's knowledge

Magic Mountain Corporation JD-337-80
(general manager who discharged Ee charged with knowledge of Ee's U activity where supervisor's knowledge was imputed to general manager and inference was warranted that E knew of Ee's U activity where small work force was generally involved in Ee's U solicitation)

1783-0150—Cont.

Arco Chemical Company, A Division of Atlantic Richfield Company JD-(SF)-174-80
(although E's foreman declared, while a witness, that Ee had conceded some U connection, such declaration was vague as Ee having reported merely that he had called U; upon such limited record, foreman's newly-acquired information's legal imputation to managerial supervisors would not suffice to charge E with knowledge that Ee had become U adherent)

Neckover Trailer Manufacturing Company JD-256-80
(under peculiar circumstances of case, knowledge of Ees' U activity not imputed through their supervisors, who themselves were engaged in U activity, for anti-U purposes)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company v. N.L.R.B. 662 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)
(reprimands not violative where supervisors making reprimand decision were not shown to be aware of or have been told about reprimandees' U activities; in establishing knowledge element, Bd may not simply impute knowledge of low-level supervisors to decision-making supervisors)

1783-2900 Effect of absence of

Schwan's Sales Enterprises, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 165
(discharge of U adherent, not unlawful, where E had no knowledge of Ee's U activity at time of discharge and discharged Ee after his insubordinate outburst)

Heartland Food Warehouse, Division of Purity Supreme Supermarkets 256 NLRB No. 145
(discharge of U adherents who had been leaders in presenting grievances unlawful, notwithstanding E's lack of specific knowledge of adherents' U activities, economic justification for layoff of two Ees and E's contention that selection of adherents was for lawful reasons, since selection of adherents for discharge would not have occured absent their protected activities, where E was aware of Ee discontent and possibility of unionization and following discharge of adherents E transferred less experienced Ees to replace adherents; furthermore E departed from its normal layoff pollicy)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115
(layoff of Ee in small unit where all Ees had signed U authorization cards violative, where E's U animus inferred from having unlawfully denied wage increase and timing of layoff, as layoff of any 1 Ee at time of U activity would have chilling effect on U activity of remaining Ees; notwithstanding laid off Ee was not U activist)

Hassly Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-285-81
(layoffs of U adherents not unlawful, notwithstanding layoffs closely followed U meeting, absent E's knowledge of U activity and where justified by business considerations in view of order cancellations and declining sales)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company v. N.L.R.B. 662 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)
(discharge of U adherent not unlawful where ct found that supervisor making discharge decision did not know about dischargee's U activity)

1783-2550 Sustained as defense

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(presumption of due receipt by E of law firm's letter on behalf of U claiming majority representation of Ees, as basis for E's knowledge of Ees' U activities, held overcome, where E denied receipt of law firm's letter, and GC's proffered testimony that E, through one of its Ees, received letter from U, rather than from its law firm, did not warrant determination that law firm's letter had been delivered to E, in view of Ee's significantly restricted opportunity to discern whether rome particular letter from U or its law firm had really been delivered)

Sadloff Publications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 139

Complas Industries, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 186
(discharge of U organizer, not unlawful where he was not good Ee, and E's knowledge of his U activities was not proved)

Simpson Steel Fabricators & Erectors, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 164
(layoff not unlawful absent evidence of E's knowledge of U organization activity, where layoff due to sharp drop in orders and Ees who were laid off not qualified to perform available work)

Norym Company, Inc. JD-847-79
(discharge of Ees, not unlawful, since for excessive restroom breaks rather than for any protected activity where supervisor who discharged Ees had no knowledge of their prior U activities which has taken place over six months previously, and breaks were not for purpose of discussing U nor any other protected activity)

Anja Engineering Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 685 F.2d 292 (C.A. 9, Aug. 1982)
(enforcement denied, since Bd's finding that GC had established prima facie case of wrongful discharge failed due to lack of substantial record evidence of E's knowledge of Ees' views on U representation at time of discharge)

1783-5000 Belief that discriminatee engaged in union activity, where activity not proved

1783-5050 Sufficient to find discrimination

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(E had knowledge of Ee's pro-U sentiments where, upon being asked by one supervisor if Ee was for U, Ee answered affirmatively; and it is not necessary to show by direct evidence that supervisors who participated in discharge knew of Ee's U activity where, as here, it was shown that one supervisor knew of her U sentiments and practically all supervisors engaged in widespread ULPs)

1783-7500 Inferable

A To Z Portion Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, Mar. 18, 1981)
(ct found Bd's inference of E's prior knowledge of Ee's U activity based solely on ALJ's not crediting E's stated reasons for discharging U activist not supported by substantial evidence)

A To Z Portion Meats, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, Mar. 18, 1981)
(ct did not sustain Bd's finding of unlawful discharge where it found Bd's inference of E's knowledge of dischargee's U activity based solely on disbelief of E's stated reasons for discharge tantamount to compelling E to disprove prior knowledge)

1783-7533 From circumstances

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(E held to have had knowledge of U activity prior to effecting allegedly discriminatory discharges, where E's Ee complement was small, Ees discussed U while at work in E's physically circumscribed facility, E personally observed one alleged discriminatee in conversation about U meeting with another Ee during which authorization cards were passed from one Ee to the other and, w/i days of such occurrences, U protagonist who had hosted U meeting in his home was singled out for discharge)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(knowledge of discharged Ee's U activity inferred from fact that Ee was prime mover in contacting U, actively solicited U authorization cards, and was conspicuously active at Ee gathering in full view of E in recruiting Ees to go to U meeting; moreover, E made statement indicating that he knew identity of Ees who had signed U cards; fact that incident designated as cause for discharge had been excused before E gained knoweldge of U activity strongly indicates that the only intervening factor for reversal of E's decision was Ee's U activity)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030
(in view of unlawful layoff of group of Ees, not necessary for GC to establish that E knew of U activities on part of each laid off Ee)

Aker Plastics Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 147
(E held to have had prior knowledge of Ee's U activity where Ee was outspoken critic of working conditions, foremen engaged in practice of reporting such conduct to E, Ees quickly reported to foreman Ee's attempt to distribute U cards, supervisor hired from outside became aware of Ee's reputation as critic of working conditions soon after his appointment as supervisor, superintendent attempted to obtain information as to rumors in plant which was in commotion over Ee's organizing efforts, and other supervisors as well as other persons could reasonably be expected to have reported rumors of U activity)

C-E Cast Equipment-Furnace Systems, A Division of Combustion Engineering, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 065
(although E had no direct knowledge of Ees' U activity, such knowledge was properly inferred based upon E's agreement to meet with Ees to discuss shop problems, E's threats to fire Ees and close facility in event of unionization, likelihood that E's wife told him of her knowledge that Ees had voted to bring in U, and fact that Ees' protected activities could not have escaped E in view of small Ee complement)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(while knowledge of U activity is not to be lightly enferred, direct evidence of knowledge corroborated by credible witnesses is not required to show knowledge, since circumstantial evidence may supply the predicate for finding knowledge)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(in absence of direct proof, there was reason to believe that E was aware of Ees' U activity, in view of small size of E's facility and fact that Ees' conversations occurred at times and in places which were likely to have been observed by or reported to supervisory personnel)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(inference that E was aware of Ees' U activity supported by fact that Ees were only ones identified as U spokesmen)

1783-7533—Cont.

Eastern Steel Company 253 NLRB No. 163
(knowledge inferred from plant of 7 people and 3-man unit, E admitted he was interested in what was going on and interrogated entire unit about card-signers identify, U letter stated that 2 Ees had signed cards and E's son worked with Ees)

Franklin Foods, d/b/a B & F Cartage 251 NLRB No. 068
(successor E's refusal to employ predecessors Ees who were U adherents, violative; predecessors knowledge of such Ees' U sentiments was imputed to successor where anti-U reasons for predecessor's leaving business was clearly made known to successor)

Reinauer Fuel Transportation Corporation 251 NLRB No. 210
(knowledge of Ee's U activity was established by fellow Ee's report that all Ees had signed U authorization cards and by E's presence when informer was given card by discriminatee)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(knowledge inferred from relatively small number of Ees involved, occurrence of substantial U activity during working hours, and supervisors' practice of frequently talking to Ees and having coffee breaks with them)

Steiner-Liff Textile Products Company 249 NLRB No. 152
(where E was aware of unrest among Ees and that it involved U activity)

Smedberg Machine & Tool, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 076
(knowledge inferable from unlawful interrogation prior to layoff, post layoff threats of reprisal and plant closure, situs of Ee activities in workplace, small size of work force and shop, and occasional luncheon conversations of E with Ees)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company v. N.L.R.B. 662 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)
(reprimands not violative since surrounding circumstances did not support inference that decision-making supervisors were aware of reprimandees' U activities where E's asserted cause for reprimands occurred before even low-level supervisors knew of reprimandees' U activities, and low-level supervisor's statement to reprimandee that reprimand might have something to do with his U activities was merely suggesting possible explanation)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(while small plant doctrine will not in itself support inference of E's knowledge of U activity, which inference Bd had relied on herein, ct held Bd's finding of such knowledge could be reasonably inferred from circumstances which showed that initiator of organizational efforts was discharged shortly after such effort began, accompanied by E's commission of ULPs soon thereafter; Ee was competent Ee with good work record and was discharged as last man hired when retained fellow Ee was in that category; and instead of recalling Ee, E hired new Ees)

Marcel Schurman Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 310(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(supervisor's statement to Ee after Ee's discharge, maybe you (were) fired because you joined the union, held insufficient basis from which to infer that discharge was in response to Ee's U activities, where supervisor did not participate in decision to discharge Ee and supervisors who decided to terminate Ee did not know of his U activities; supervisor's knowledge cannot, w/o more, be imputed to those supervisors who made decision to discharge Ee)

1783-7567 From smallness of plant

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203
(E held to have had knowledge of U activity prior to effecting allegedly discriminatory discharges, where E's Ee complement was small, Ees discussed U while at work in E's physically circumscribed facility, E personally observed one alleged discriminatee in conversation about U meeting with another Ee during which authorization cards were passed from one Ee to the other and, w/i days of such occurrences, U protagonist who had hosted U meeting in his home was singled out for discharge)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(small plant doctrine held applicable at E's facility having total employment of 47 Ees)

Standard Motor Products, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 068
(E had no knowledge of dischargee's U activities on basis of small plant doctrine, since small size of plant does not warrant finding of knowledge of U activities of specific Ees absent supporting evidence showing that U activities were carried out in such manner or at such time as to compel finding that, in normal course of events, E must have noticed them; and, here, there was no such showing)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 263 NLRB No. 081
(small plant doctrine inapplicable to instant E's plant where approximately 300 Ees were employed)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078

Emory Nursing Home, Inc. d/b/a Emory Convalescent Home 260 NLRB No. 071
(in accepting ALJ's finding that Ee's discharge was discriminatory, Bd relied on fact that Ee had openly engaged in U activities on premises and distributed U cards to people on break and as they entered building; in conjunction with small plant doctrine, Bd inferred E had knowledge of Ee's U activities)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(small plant doctrine invoked in situation of merely sixteen Ees)

W. W. Grainger, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 145
(although plant involved is small enough for small-plant doctrine to apply, Ee's U activity was of such limited nature that inference cannot be drawn that E's management was aware of it)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 066
(in absence of direct proof, there was reason to believe that E was aware of Ees' U activity, in view of small size of E's facility and fact that Ees' conversations occurred at times and in places which were likely to have been observed by or reported to supervisory personnel)

Eastern Steel Company 253 NLRB No. 163
(knowledge inferred from plant with 7 people and unit of 3 Ees)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(not unreasonable to infer that other Ees were aware of E's unlawful conduct against their coworkers-discharges and delay in reinstatement of strikers-in view of small size of unit and severity of discriminatory practices)

Syracuse Dy-Dee Diaper Service 251 NLRB No. 135
(discharge of U adherents, violative, where E's knowledge of Ees passing out U cards and holding U meetings was inferred from small size of plant, reasons asserted for discharges were pretextual, and timing of discharges occurred w/i two weeks of organizational campaign)

Bacchus Wine Cooperative, Inc., and Bacchus Wine International 251 NLRB No. 207
(E's knowledge inferred from small size of Ee complement and E's warehouse with opportunities to overhear Ee conversations in context of antiU animus and ULPs)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(10 to 12 and 4 to 5 Ees employed respectively by each of two Ees constituting single integrated enterprise and/or joint E)

Smedberg Machine & Tool, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 076

DRW Corporation d/b/a Brothers Three Cabinets 248 NLRB No. 093
(fact that Ees attempted to conceal U activity from E does not eliminate weight to be accorded smallness of plant)

K & B Mounting, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 071
(inference concerning E's knowledge of Ee's U activities, not warranted where, although number of Ees in plant was about 20, Ees involved in organizing campaign attempted to keep their U activities secret even to point of not talking to other Ees whose loyalties were questionable, and there was no evidence that Ee involved herein did otherwise or that supervisory personnel were present during his U activities)

Custom Wood Interiors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 023

Florida Cities Water Company 247 NLRB No. 111

Robert E. Cashdollar, Sr., d/b/a Nelson Metal Fabricating 247 NLRB No. 099

Hersh's Orchard Inn, Inc. JD-447-81
(small plant rule was inapplicable where no Ee who testified was aware of U activities until after Ee was discharged, and all U activities were carried on away from restaurant)

Ferrum Industries, Inc. Textol Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-89-81
(small plant doctrine found not applicable notwithstanding there were only 15 production Ees of which 3 were relatives of owners where Ees conducted organizing campaign in selective and secretive manner)

Hassly Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-388-81
(inference of E knowledge not drawn on basis of small plant doctrine, notwithstanding work force of only 30-35 Ees, where Ees took care to conceal their U activities, and absent evidence such activities were ever carried out at E's facilities in such a manner that E would normally have become aware of them)

Magic Mountain Corporation JD-337-80
(general manager who discharged Ee charged with knowledge of Ee's U activity where supervisor's knowledge was imputed to general manager and inference was warranted that E knew of Ee's U activity where small work force was generally involved in Ee's U solicitation)

P.M.S. West, Inc. JD-(SF)-47-80
(small plant doctrine standing alone does not impute knowledge of U activity to E; there must be some direct evidence to support inference)

1783-7567—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 670 F.2d 1236 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(possibility of observation may be sufficient provided there is other, affirmative evidence indicating that E in fact knew)

N.L.R.B. v. Midland Ross, Inc. 644 F.2d 886(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 8, 1981)
(fact that plant had small work force of 3 Ees, Ee statement that U was needed here, and shortly thereafter U's demand for recognition helped sustain inference of E's knowledge that Ee was U activist and along with timing of discharge immediately after E stated that Ee was needed at work defeated E's defense of lack of work)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(while small plant doctrine will not in itself support inference of E's knowledge of U activity and does not permit finding that E had knowledge of U activities of specific Ees, doctrine may be material only if other evidence exists indicating a likelihood of such knowledge)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)
(knowledge inferred in where only 40 waitresses in close family managed restaurant and efforts at secrecy minimal)

3300 DISCRIMINATION FOR FILING CHARGES OR GIVING TESTIMONY

3301 GENERALLY

Cartex Corporation JD-436-80
(Ee utilization of Bd's remedial processes is protected by Sec. 7 of Act, and there should be as great a freedom to ask Bd for relief as there is to petition any other department of government for redress of grievances; moreover, protection of Act is not limited to only meritorious pleas to Bd)

3301-8000 Scope of proscription

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. 251 NLRB No. 173
(as to its application to supervisors)

Clark & Hinojosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 089
(complainants who mistakenly seek to invoke Bd processes considered w/i Sec. 8(a)(4)'s protective reach)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(in Royal Development Company, Ltd., 257 NLRB No. 149 (1981), Bd did not preclude analyzing 8(a)(4) cases under Wright Line test of dual motivation)

3325 EMPLOYEE ACTIVITY PROTECTED

Alabama By-Products Corporation JD-(ATL)-49-82
(E's filing suit in district ct against Ee and U alleging willful breach of settlement agreement to penalize Ee for participating in charge U had filed on his behalf with Bd and to discourage Ees from seeking access to Bd's processes, unlawful)

3325-1400 Filing charges or petition

Key Prim, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 132
(violation where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of unlawful discharge motivated by Ee's aggressive U grievance filing, his angered protest of E's enforcement of proof of death rule regarding funeral leave and his threat to go to Bd if he did not receive pay for death leave; E's contended reasons for discharge-foul, obscene, abusive and threatening language to-E held pretextual)

Humana of West Virginia, Inc. d/b/a Greenbrier Valley Hospital 265 NLRB No. 126
(discharge of individual found supervisor herein, not unlawful where Bd found, contrary to ALJ, that it was not due to U's filing charge on behalf of individual, since discharge was decided on by E before E became aware charge had been filed, and E welcomed filing of charge as means of showing that individual was statutory supervisor rather than Ee)

Read Memorial Hospital 265 NLRB No. 105
(requesting state licensing agency to inquire into Ee's professional behavior because she filed ULP charges with Bd, violative)

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077
(no violation where regional director of E, a U, sent warning letter to its regional representative requesting explanation of his interference in the affairs of a local to which he was not assigned, since Bd found that warning letter was not in retaliation for his filing ULP charge and for his other protected activities but was, rather in response to complaints from officers of the local concerning his interference)

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077
(no violation where regional director of E, a U, sent letter to regional representative stating that his failure to pass out organizational material provided by E could have been reason it lost an election, since Bd found that letter was not in retaliation for regional representative's filing ULP charge and for his other protected activities but was merely a reminder to use organizational materials provided by E in future campaigns)

McLean Hospital, A Division of Massachusetts General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 068
(no violation where suspension and discharge were not because dischargee had filed charges with Bd as alleged but because he failed to respond adequately to E's legitimate questions about his unauthorized entry with unidentified person into E's hospital's psychiatric unit contrary to rules against access by off-duty Ees and unauthorized entry by non-Ees; fact dischargee was accompanied by Bd attorney investigating his charge did not make entry protected or give him right to disregard rules)

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 121
(where E had policy of allowing friends and spouses of Ees to wait for them in restaurant until Ee come off duty, it violated Act when it refused to allow husband of principal U adherent, who had been subject of Bd settlement agreement over her U activities, to wait for her. Although spouse did engage in some U activity, it was never on restaurant premises and was only to assist his wife and he did not engage in any U activities independent of her; thus, spouse could not be treated as non-Ee U organizer)

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(E's acceding to U pressure and informing supervisor who was U vice-president and outspoken advocate of change in U administration and participated in filing of charges with NLRB and wrote U interference on discharge slips of Ees who had been discharged as result of U pressure, that supervisor would have to take position in gang outside U's jurisdiction, and when supervisor refused, discharged him, held unlawful, since offer of transfer constructive discharge since would have meant demotion, reduced wages and benefits and additional expenses resulting from working further from home and E motivated by supervisors participating in filing charges)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134
(discharge of drivers preceded by extraordinary surveillance, unlawful, where real reasons were for filing charges with Bd in prior case, U adherence, distribution of materials for dissident branch of U rather than for overstaying breaks on road and thereby failing to meet schedules, and for falsifying logs)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(directive that Ee work strict 40-hour work (i.e., w/o overtime) issued in response to his filing charge with Bd, unlawful)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(issuing unexcused absence slip, allegedly for failure to provide doctor's excuse although one had never before been required, violative of 8(a)(4) where E was influenced by Ee's filing of charge with Bd)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(disciplinary report based on Ee's alleged failure to comply with earlier unlawful warning, violative of 8(a)(4), since E was motivated by Ee's having filed charges with Bd)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(suspension based on Ee's alleged failure to comply with earlier, unlawful warning, violative of 8(a)(4) where E was motivated by Ee's having filed charge with Bd)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(replacing Ee's daytime delivery duties with demeaning nighttime chores, violative of 8(a)(4) where due to his having filed charge with Bd)

Electron Tube Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 149
(GC's argument that E retaliated against Ee by firing him after learning that his charge had been dismissed by Regional Counsel, and that E's retaliation violated Sec. 8(a)(4) because it was in response to filing of charge, rejected, where Ee created situation that gave rise to his discharge by claiming and accepting payment for sick leave used for personal business)

The Oakland Press Co., A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Capital Cities Communications, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 126
(discharge of Ee assertedly for abuse of sick leave privilege and dishonesty in connection with it not violative, since it was not invoked, as contended, as pretext because Ee had used part of sick leave day to file charge with Bd, where E had not tolerated Ee dishonesty in past, and has discharged Ees found engaging in it, including first offenders)

Overseas Motors, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 108
(threatening to discharge Ee if he filed charge with Bd and first suspending him and then discharging him after he filed charges violative notwithstanding original reason Ee wished to file charge involved denial of wage increase and concerned only himself and was not concerted activity)

St. Joseph Hospital Corporation 260 NLRB No. 089
(E's refusal to process, pursuant to contract's grievance-arbitration provision, Ee's grievance concerning her suspension, assertedly for filing charge with Bd, not unlawful, where in refusing to do so E was merely enforcing contract provision barring any further processing once grievant elects to pursue any legal or statutory remedy that might be available to resolve grievance; such provision, which seeks to prevent duplicative adjudication by election of remedies, is not impermissible especially where limitation being imposed is a contractual rather than a legal or statutory right)

3325-1400—Cont.

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009
(discharge of mail carrier, U adherent, who filed ULP charges against E with Bd, for failure to deliver postage due letters, loss of registered mail, and poor work held not violative absent evidence of anti-U motivation, or any evidence of disparate treatment)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(violation, where E revoked agreement condoning misconduct of Ee and discharged him because he had testified at Bd hearing contrary to interests of E and had filed new charge with Bd complaining of further misconduct by E)

NAB Construction Corporation 258 NLRB No. 090
(suspension of Ee who refused to withdraw charge filed with Bd violative)

American Interstate Freight Lines 258 NLRB No. 131
(threat of discharge if Ee filed appeal to RD's dismissal of his charge, violative)

Transportation Management Corporation 258 NLRB No. 061

Roadway Express, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 153
(denial of overtime pay to Ee, who had filed charges against E, for time spent discussing his grievance after working hours, not unlawful, where E had no policy for such pay)

Roadway Express, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 153
(suspension and subsequent discharge of Ee who had filed charges with Bd because he refused several times to operate different forklifts he said were unsafe, not unlawful, where Ee did not act in good faith and was not solely concerned for his own safety when he challenged safety of forklifts he was assigned to operate)

Royal Development Company, Limited 257 NLRB No. 149
(refusal to hire previously employed Ee for new opening because of his filing of ULP charge, unlawful)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reduction of Ees' job responsibilities by refusing to allow them to call U members about jobs, deal directly with E's accountant or bank, distribute pension checks, answer office door or telephone, get association's signature on certain documents, make out forms for members, send letters under own signatures to late-paying Es' and take care of petty cash fund, unlawful where motivated by Ees' testifying against E at workmen's compensation hearing, participating in Bd investigation, testifying at Bd hearing and filing ULP charge)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reducing Ees' employment benefits, and making their working conditions more onerous by failing to issue Ees keys to office, denying them $25 a week pay raises, requiring them to take vacations in July and August only, closing kitchen facilities, and denying sick leave benefits, and eliminating paid coffee breaks and paid check cashing time because Ees participated in Workmen's Compensation hearing, participated in Bd investigation, testified at Bd hearing, and filed ULP charges, unlawful)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080
(discharge for filing charge with Bd, unlawful)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080
(discharge of Ee for trying to get people to testify for daughter who had been fired and had filed a charge with Bd, unlawful)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E isolated U adherents from other Ees by creating new shift for them after they returned to work pursuant to settlement agreement which was result of Ees invocation of Bd processes)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E compelled U adherents, who had invoked Bd processes, to stand at their workplace on newly-created shift instead of using stools as Ees did on regular shifts)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E subjected U adherents, who had invoked Bd processes to new system of written warning notices)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E changed work assignments of U adherents, who had invoked Bd's processes, to jobs they had never done before)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(laying Ees off who had signed authorization cards and invoked Bd's processes violative, where E refused to allow Ees to finish work days; other Ees were invariably permitted to finish 40-hour week)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E required U adherents, who had invoked Bd processes and were recalled pursuant to settlement agreement, to take math tests and fill out new applications)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(E's cutting leading U activist's overtime immediately following receipt of his first ULP charge, violative)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of Ee assertedly for threatening shop foreman, violative where real reason was Ee's leading role in organizing U and filing ULP charges)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of student apprentice who had been told he would be getting permanent job and raise in pay and had received good evaluation, violative where he was discharged for U activities and for being named in filing of charge)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of Ee, assertedly because he threatened life of E's president and owner, violative where real reasons were Ee's U activities and having been mentioned in charge)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(denying Ee extended vacation because his name appeared in ULP charge, violative)

Town & Country LP Gas Service Co. 255 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee allegedly for lack of work, violative, where E's asserted economic reason for discharge was pretextual, in view of record evidence showing no decline in E's sales and pattern of retaliation against Ee for his filing charges with Bd and successfully prosecuting grievance)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(termination of Ee who filed charge, unlawful, in view of E's open and evident U animus and hostility)

Steinerfilm, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 017
(issuing written warning and discharging U adherent, violative, where real reasons for such discipline were Ee's U activities, his leadership in pressing Ees' grievances, and his filing charge with Bd)

Bay State Gas Company 255 NLRB No. 099
(discharge of Ee who had filed charge with Bd not violative where discharge took place 1 month after charge withdrawn, discharged for excessive absenteeism and GC failed to establish prima facie case that Ee was discharged for protected activity)

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132, AFL-CIO 255 NLRB No. 060
(E's suspension of Ee for filing charges with Bd, violative)

Roy H. Park Broadcasting of Roanoke, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 036
(discharge of Ee violative where motivated by resentment at Bd charges filed by Ee)

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011
(E violated 8(a)(1), but not 8(a)(4) by threatening to give Ee an unfavorable reference, when needed, in retaliation for filing charges with Bd)

L. M. Berry and Company 254 NLRB No. 083
(written reprimands to U adherent because of her U activities, including her testimony on behalf of U and her filing charges against E, violative)

Interlake, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 076
(three-day suspension of Ee for leaving plant w/o permission for purpose of filing ULP charge with Bd held violative where E has consistently permitted other Ees to leave work on U business during regular working hours w/o disciplinary action)

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 062
(while finding it unnecessary to pass on 8(a)(4) portion of complaint on basis of which ALJ found that U steward's suspension and discharge violated 8(a)(4); as well as 8(a)(3), Bd found that E interfered with statutorily protected right to file charges and present testimony to Bd by giving unexcused absences to Ees, who gave last minute notice from work, after E learned that they went to Bd's Regional Office)

Salem Transportation Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 155
(allegation of 8(a)(4) based on suspension of Ee dismissed, where such suspension was for poor record and not for filing charge with Bd, as alleged)

Civic Center Cleaning Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 110
(failing to employ Ee because he had filed ULP charges against previous E and U, violative)

Shirt Shed, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 043
(threat to discipline Ee if she did not withdraw charges filed with Bd by U on her behalf violative)

3325-1400—Cont.

Climate Control Corporation 251 NLRB No. 102
(denying vacation benefits in retaliation for U activity, instigation of ULP charge, and providing evidence to Bd, violative)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(suspension of U adherent who had filed charges with Bd, not unlawful, in view of Ee's stealing time by wasting time on job and continuing disregard for company rules despite several warnings, thereby prompting E to file notice of intent to arbitrate disciplinary action against Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee and then suspending Ee after receiving arbitrator's advice to do so)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(E's filing of notice of arbitration with regard to its intention to discharge Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee, not unlawful, since E's action was not prompted by Ee's U activities or filing of charges with Bd, where Ee's misconduct on job and disregard for company rules justified E's action)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(harassment of Ee and reprimand of him in retaliation for filing ULP charge, unlawful)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(denial of promotions for Ees to available supervisory positions where they had filed grievance, contemplated further legal action and filed charge with Bd, unlawful)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(E's refusal to promote Ees unlawful where refusal was attempt to punish them for pursuing grievance and filing ULP charge and they were highly qualified, experienced and recommended for promotion)

Delta Faucet Company, a Division of Masco Corporation of Indiana 251 NLRB No. 071
(refusal to grant Ee one day of leave and warning and suspending him as result of such refusal, unlawful where disciplinary measures were taken by E in retaliation for filing charge with Bd)

Kaufman DeDell Printing, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 002
(discharge for filing charges with Bd, unlawful)

Austell Box Board Corporation 249 NLRB No. 044
(E's suspension and discharge of Ee violative, where explanation advanced by E was pretextual and real reason was Ee's stated intention to complain to Bd about allegedly discriminatory treatment, in view of shifting reasons proferred by E, weakness of work deficiencies cited against Ee for which he was not disciplined at time of occurence and their remoteness in time, and fact that E's decision to suspend Ee came immediately after he threatened to go to the Bd)

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 248 NLRB No. 145
(plant manager's statement to U vice-president in presence of Ees, that there would be no meetings in (plant) lunchroom because U had filed charges against him held violative, since statement was not merely threat but actual revocation of permission to use lunchroom; notwithstanding alleged violation was couched in terms of threat, issue of use of lunchroom was presented and litigated as actual revocation)

Norman Mamikoff, Receiver in Bankruptcy for Mid-State Broadcasting Co., d/b/a WHLW 248 NLRB No. 155
(abrupt refusal to allow newscaster to leave on long scheduled vacation which had been approved by her immediate supervisor well in advance, assertedly because of E's lack of funds and/or because E was unhappy with Ee's replacements, violative, where Ee had filed charges and testified against E in prior Bd proceeding; E's defenses were shifting and inconsistent leading to inference of real reason for E's action)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch Mappo, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a Seaport Manor Home For Adults 248 NLRB No. 120
(violation where Ee was laid off for registering complaint with Division of Human Resources and for filing deauthorization ptn with Bd)

Medical Mutual of Cleveland, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 074
(although Ee was legitimately on probation for low production, his discharge was unlawful where termination occurred two days after ULP complaint had issued on Ee's charge and after she refused to assent to E's request for postponement of hearing on her cause)

Hilton Hotels Corporation, d/b/a The O'Hare Hilton 246 NLRB No. 031
(discharge of U steward for filing charges with the Bd against E, unlawful)

Sonoma Community Press d/b/a News Herald 247 NLRB No. 148
(discharge not unlawful, where it was established that Ee was discharged for work-related and incompatibility reasons, and decision to discharge Ee was made prior to and not because of Ee's participation in Bd proceedings)

Phillips Industries, Inc. Lau Division JD-426-82
(E's withholding of tuition payment for job related courses Ee was taking in retaliation for Ee's having filed charge with Bd violative)

Lorard Industries, Limited JD-293-81

Southwest Jefferson Community Hospital, Inc., a corporation wholly owned by Humana of Kentucky, Inc. JD-77-82

Transitank Car Corporation JD-(ATL)-8-82
(discharge of reinstated U adherent for U activities and for filing charges with Bd, unlawful notwithstanding assertion that discharge was for breach of drinking rule where dischargee was treated more harshly than other Ees who also breached E's drinking rule)

The Mining Journal JD-4-82
(suspension of U steward, unlawful where it was motivated by her filing of charge against E with Bd rather than as alleged for attending to personal business (by looking at her copy of U contract for personal reasons) on worktime)

Roland & Roland, Inc. JD-640-81
(denying Ee catchup wage increase because of his U activities and participation in and support of ULP proceeding unlawful)

Roland & Roland, Inc. JD-640-81
(notifications to Ee of his improper attire found mere supervisory instructions rather than unlawful warning reprimands due to Ee's U activities and filing of ULP charge)

Roland & Roland, Inc. JD-640-81
(suspension and subsequent discharge of Ee for filing ULP charge, unlawful)

Dravo-Groves Company JD-(ATL)-93-81
(complaint that Ee had been discharged by E a second time because he had filed charge with Bd after first discharge, dismissed in view of testimony of coworkers and supervisors that his work was inadequate and testimony of coworkers that he admitted not applying himself to his work)

American Interstate Freight Lines JD-117-81
(violation where GC made prima facie showing that motivating factors in E's decision to discharge Ee were Ee's taking his grievance to grievance board and endeavoring to enforce work-guarantee provisions in agreement, and his appealing dismissal of his ULP charge; and E failed to demonstrate that it would have discharged Ee in absence of protected activity)

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81
(cancellation of production bonus because Ee threatened to file charge with Bd unless he was recipient, violative)

Metropolitan Teletronic Corp. JD-(NY)-12-81
(conditioning Ee's reinstatement upon her withdrawing of charges before Bd and failing to reinstate her until she agreed to cause charges to be withdrawn, violative)

Planned Parenthood of Alameda and San Francisco Counties JD-(SF)-294-80
(E informing Ee that due to her filing charges with Bd it would not continue to process her grievances under its internal procedures, violative, notwithstanding its subsequent good faith effort to process grievances)

Henry Warshaw and Chester Latra, A Co-Partnership d/b/a Normandie Bar and Grill JD-551-80
(violation where E reduced Ee's work schedule because she had filed charge with Bd)

Clements Wire and Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-338-80
(E's refusal to reinstate leading U adherent, unlawful where she gave testimony at Bd proceeding and her name appeared on charges which E was aware of prior to date on which she was refused reinstatement)

Hotel & Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union Local 2 JD-(SF)-178-80
(discharge of Ee for advising other Ees of their right to file charges against U, violative)

Magic Mountain Corporation JD-337-80
(former ski patrol member constructively discharged where he clocked out upon his refusal to continue working in sewage bins, which job was assigned to him due to E's animus towards him for his U activity and filing charge with Bd)

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center v. N.L.R.B 621 F.2d 510 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(health care institution's denial of full-time positions to doctors because of their filing charges with Bd, unlawful)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)
(discharge of U steward who filed charges with Bd and other government agencies not unlawful where for violation of his contractual duty as U officer to take steps to terminate work stoppage)

The United Credit Bureau of America, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1981)
(E's filing civil action against Ee in retaliation for filing ULP charge, violative as Act require complete protection for Ees who in good faith file charges or testify)

3325-1400—Cont.

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(discharge of U adherent, violative, where E was aware that Ee filed complaints with Bd, threatened to file further complaints, and participated in Bd investigation)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1168 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(E's call in system which had previously preferred relatives of its Ees and was later based upon seniority, allegedly because Ee filed charges with Bd against E, changed to merit system, not unlawful, where casuals had no contractual right to be called in to work at all or in any particular priority)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had circulated ptn for U and filed charge with NLRB, unlawful, where for U activity and invoking Bd processes rather than for insubordination in bringing E's broken truck back to E's headquarters w/o proper authorization where Ee had tried to obtain authorization from proper party, and unauthorized individual who told him to bring truck in was not reprimanded)

N.L.R.B. v. Town & Country LP Gas Service Company 687 F.2d 187 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)

Nacker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(E's early issuance of oral and written warnings to discriminatee reinstated pursuant to Bd order following his initiation of Bd proceedings, unlawful; he alone was carefully supervised and given written, as well as oral, warnings for poor production; he was also assigned to job he was not accustomed to doing and reassigned to it even after accident to his hand impaired his ability to do it)

Nacker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(writing up for slow production of discriminatee reinstated, pursuant to Bd order following his initiation of Bd proceedings, unlawful when no other E had been assigned to job he was assigned to for long time and discriminatee had just returned to work after being out with injured hand and had given E doctor's report stating that he had not fully recovered use of hand required in doing that job)

Nacker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(assignment of discriminatee reinstated pursuant to Bd order after his initiation of Bd proceedings to job performance of which might expose him to further injury of his injured hand with ultimatum of doing it or going home with result that discriminatee went home held to constitute unlawful suspension when other jobs which would not expose him to injury were available for assignment)

N.L.R.B. v. Senftner Volkswagen Corporation 681 F.2d 557 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(withdrawing reemployment offer to Ee on layoff because Ee filed ULP charge, violative in view of timing and false explanations that business was slow and that president lacked authority to offer reinstatement)

N.L.R.B. v. Vulcan-Hart Corporation, (St. Louis Division) 642 F.2d 255 (C.A. 8, Mar 9, 1981)
(E's general manager's termination of right of Ees to hold U meetings in lunchroom, violative where termination resulted from his anger at filing of charge by U)

3325-2100 Consulting with Board agent

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161
(discharging Ee 2 weeks after he met with Bd agent violative; contention that he was discharged for not notifying E for absence from work; rejected where absence was due to bad sunburn and E did not return Ee's phone calls regarding absence)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reduction of Ees' job responsibilities by refusing to allow them to call U members about jobs, deal directly with E's accountant or bank, distribute pension checks, answer office door or telephone, get association's signature on certain documents, make out forms for members, send letters under own signatures to late-paying Es' and take care of petty cash fund, unlawful where motivated by Ees' testifying against E at workmen's compensation hearing, participating in Bd investigation, testifying at Bd hearing and filing ULP charge)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reducing Ees' employment benefits, and making their working conditions more onerous by failing to issue Ees keys to office, denying them $25 a week pay raises, requiring them to take vacations in July and August only, closing kitchen facilities, and denying sick leave benefits, and eliminating paid coffee breaks and paid check cashing time because Ees participated in Workmen's Compensation hearing, participated in Bd investigation, testified at Bd hearing, and filed ULP charges, unlawful)

Art Steel of California, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 140
(issuing warning notice to U adherent assertedly for leaving his department and going into another department w/o permission and —talking to a government person— in violation of E's rule, held violative, since Ee was involved in taking inventory and was not assigned to particular department, but instead, had to go from department to department; warning notice was given Ee after Ee had spoken to Bd agent investigating ULP charges against E)

Continental Distributing Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 091
(discharge of Ee after he made inquiries about joining and attempted to join U, and called Bd to find out how to join U, violative where E's allegations about Ee's stealing goods from E not supported by evidence)

Albany Steel and Brass Corporation JD-237-80
(discharge of admittedly very knowledgeable Ee assertedly because of his absenteeism and for his job deficiencies held violative where E terminated Ee forty minutes after being notified that Ee intended to seek assistance from Bd concerning his pension dispute with E; discharge was precipitous and in middle of pay period)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(refusing to allow Ees who notified E one half hour before start of shift that they would be 5-10 minutes late because of attendance at Bd hearing to work their shifts that day, unlawful, since in retaliation for assistance to U)

3325-2800 Announced intent to file charges

Overseas Motors, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 108
(threatening to discharge Ee if he filed charge with Bd and first suspending him and then discharging him after he filed charges violative notwithstanding original reason Ee wished to file charge involved denial of wage increase and concerned only himself and was not concerted activity)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. 251 NLRB No. 173
(discharge of supervisor for threatening that he was going to file charges with NLRB because E had not given him promised bonus, violative, as E's action became known to other Ees and coerced them in exercise of their rights; moreover fact that supervisors grievance was not covered under Act immaterial, since it is Bd's function, not E's to decide whether individual is covered by Act or claim has merit)

Borden Inc. Foods Division, Drake Bakeries 248 NLRB No. 162
(issuance warning to Ee who had previously filed charges with Bd for continual pattern of confrontations with management and supervisors, unlawful, where based on personnel data sheet, noting Ee's threat during grievance meeting to go to NLRB)

Clark & Hinojosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 089
(refusal to pay benefits to discharged Ee, to whom E promised one-half month's salary as post-termination pay, held violative inasmuch as E treated Ee differently than other discharged Ees because of Ee's expressed intent to seek redress from Bd)

Retail Delivery Service, Inc., and Robert A. Baime, Esq. JD-486-80
(discharge of Ee because he told E he intended to complain to and seek aid of U and Bd in his dispute with E, violative)

Shuttle Motor Corporation JD-327-80
(discharge of Ee who informed E he had contacted labor board after he had made inquiries of state agency regarding legality of back stubbing, not unlawful, absent evidence E believed C was to NLRB rather than to state agency or that Ee had filed or was about to file charge with NLRB; further, there was no history of U activity at E)

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 910 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(discharge of supervisor for threatening to go to Bd because he had not received E's promised bonus, not unlawful; legislative and decisional law show that Bd's assumption of jurisdiction should be rejected; Bd was not applying broad statutory terms but was construing its own authority, and its interpretation of statute was not longstanding but of recent origin; and only supervisor's personal greivance and not rank-and-file Ees' interests were involved; consequently, Bd's lack of jurisdiction ended its power and, since ct cannot manufacture its own jurisdiction, Bd, a fortiori, certainly cannot do so)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(discharge of U adherent, violative, where E was aware that Ee filed complaints with Bd, threatened to file further complaints, and participated in Bd investigation)

3325-4200 Giving testimony at Bd or other proceeding

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of Ees assertedly for violating rule, herein found unlawful, prohibiting dissemination of company information by providing Ee, whose discharge was subject of ULP charge herein, with information regarding company's operations, unlawful, in view of disparity of treatment and severity of discipline, E's U animus and knowledge of Ees' U activity and knowledge that information was obtained in course of concerted and U activity, that it was obtained for purpose of prosecuting instant case, and that Ees had or would testify in proceedings herein)

3325-4200—Cont.

Enterprise Products Company 263 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of Ees assertedly for violating unlawful rule, prohibiting dissemination of company information by providing Ee, whose discharge was subject of ULP charge herein, with information regarding company's operations, unlawful, even if rule was found not unlawful, where E knew that disclosure assertedly constituting misconduct occurred during U activity yet E presented no evidence that it, in good faith, believed that Ees engaged in breach of rule nor evidence upon which it based belief that Ees were involved other than that obtained in instant proceeding as to their participation therein; and Ees did not in fact commit suspected offense)

American Steel Works 263 NLRB No. 108
(Bd found discharge violative under Wright Line test in view of ALJ's finding that Ee's protected activities was a motivating factor for discharge and that Ee would not have been discharged but for his prior past election including filing of grievances, charge with Bd, and complaint with OSHA)

Tressler Lutheran Home for Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 263 NLRB No. 042
(discharge of Ee for testifying at Bd proceeding, violative)

Tressler Lutheran Home for Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 263 NLRB No. 042
(suspending Ee for testifying at Bd proceeding, violative)

U. S. Electrical Motors, A Division of Emerson Electric Co. 261 NLRB No. 184
(where E had policy that Ees would not receive holiday pay if they did not work on day before and day after a holiday, and Ee asked if he would receive holiday pay for Memorial Day if he attended Bd hearing on day after Memorial Day, supervisor's statement in reply that he might not receive it, not unlawful since some supervisory personnel were not familiar with holiday pay policy or aware that Bd-issued subpoena constituted excuse for not being present day after holiday)

Howard Johnson Motor Lodge 261 NLRB No. 123
(discharge of supervisor not violative of Section 8(a)(4) absent link with Ee's testimony before Bd one month earlier. Further, finding of violation would not alter remedy since discharge had been found violative of Section 8(a)(1) where proximate cause of discharge was Ee's refusal to disclose identities of Ees at U meeting)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078
(discharge for U activities and testifying on behalf of U at representative election hearing, unlawful)

Alcar Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 094
(discharge of most active U supporter who assisted U as election observer and testified at Bd hearing, not unlawful, where there was ample cause for discharge in that E believed that E had twice lied in same month when he called in sick in order to attend to personal business; no threats were made by E at time of election when tension existed at plant; and if E had wished to use any pretext that readily came to hand, it could have relied on first instance of E's abuse of sick leave)

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 180
(establishing closer supervision and stricter enforcement of plant rules against U adherents who had testified at Bd proceeding, violative)

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 180
(suspending and subsequently discharging U adherent who had testified at Bd proceeding, violative)

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 180
(transferring U adherents who had testified at Bd proceeding to different jobs, violative)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(violation, where E denied Ee leave w/o pay because Ee testified at Bd hearing)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(issuance of warning to Ee violative where warning flowed from E's resentment at Ee for his prior testimony before Bd)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(violation, where E changed Ee's shift and days off to retaliate against his testimony at Bd hearing and his elevation to acting presidency of U)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(violation, where E revoked agreement condoning misconduct of Ee and discharged him because he had testified at Bd hearing contrary to interests of E and had filed new charge with Bd complaining of further misconduct by E)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(issuing written warning for lateness to U adherent who had appeared at Bd hearing, violative where Ee had been given verbal permission for lateness and Ee had never been issued warning in past for being late)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(refusal to grant U adherent leave two days after Ee appeared at Bd hearing, violative)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(requesting doctor's note from U adherent who had appeared at Bd hearing, not unlawful, where E had rule which clearly stated that anyone who is ill a day prior to day off must submit such note before restarting duty)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(discharging U adherent who had appeared at Bd hearing for allegedly leaving sick patient in her care, violative since E's reason for discharge was pretext where Ee actually gave proper care to patient and was subsequently given permission to leave to attend ill mother)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033
(E's refusal to compensate Ee for wages lost while testifying in his capacity as U officer in Bd case to which E was not party, not unlawful, absent express contractual commitment and where not in retaliation for U activity or testifying; fact E had previously paid compensation to same officer in similar situation as result of grievance settlement did not establish precedent or law of the shop, nor did contract provision providing for compensation for loss due to jury duty or as witness subpoenaed by ct of law require payment)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033
(E's refusal to pay witness fees to compensate for lost wages to Ees subpoenaed for Bd hearing by oppositions not unlawful)

Clements Wire & Manufacturing Company, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 075
(discharging and refusing to reinstate leading U adherent because Ee invoked Bd processes, violative)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reduction of Ees' job responsibilities by refusing to allow them to call U members about jobs, deal directly with E's accountant or bank, distribute pension checks, answer office door or telephone, get association's signature on certain documents, make out forms for members, send letters under own signatures to late-paying Es' and take care of petty cash fund, unlawful where motivated by Ees' testifying against E at workmen's compensation hearing, participating in Bd investigation, testifying at Bd hearing and filing ULP charge)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reducing Ees' employment benefits, and making their working conditions more onerous by failing to issue Ees keys to office, denying them $25 a week pay raises, requiring them to take vacations in July and August only, closing kitchen facilities, and denying sick leave benefits, and eliminating paid coffee breaks and paid check cashing time because Ees participated in Workmen's Compensation hearing, participated in Bd investigation, testified at Bd hearing, and filed ULP charges, unlawful)

Reeves Southeastern Corporation 256 NLRB No. 090
(discharge of Ee for testifying against E at Bd hearing violative)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142
(disciplinary written notices given Ees who testified in government's behalf at preliminary inj proceedings, unlawful, notwithstanding contention that Ees failed to provide adequate notice, leaving E shorthanded in emergency, and that issue is moot because reprimands were withdrawn from company's files, where notices were not based on failure to give prior notice but for leaving; E failed to protest Ees' departure; other Ees who could have helped in emergency were released; reprimands were excessive for Ees with good work records; and abandonment of unlawful conduct does not make issue moot)

L. M. Berry and Company 254 NLRB No. 003
(written reprimands to U adherent because of her U activities, including her testimony on behalf of U and her filing charges against E, violative)

Fundacion Educativa Ana G. Mendez, Inc. d/b/a Colegio Universitario Del Turabo 251 NLRB No. 203
(no violation, where instructor at university was denied professional tenure, not because of his involvement with U or because he gave testimony under Act and/or participated in Bd proceedings, but because he failed to satisfy reasonable, non-discriminatory university requirements for attaining professional tenure)

Ledford Construction Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 193
(suspending Ees who testified against E at Bd hearing while permitting Ees who testified favorably to work)

3325-4200—Cont.

The Krebs School Foundation, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 187
(allegation that E violated Act by discharging Ee, in part because she had filed charges and given testimony under Act, dismissed where evidence of unlawful motivation consisted primarily of testimony that E told her that E could have cried when E heard Ees testify with misinformation about E)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(E's suggestion to Ee, when Ee produced subpoena requiring his presence at Bd hearing, that Ee remember that E had told Ee to tell the guys to stay at the machines, held violative of 8(a)(1) but not 8(a)(4), since E thereby restrained and coerced Ee in exercise of protected right and obligation to give testimony under Act)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(discharge of Ee on very day he testified in Bd hearing, assertedly because of damaged grease seal, held violative since Ee showed it was impossible to determine who was responsible for damaged seal and notwithstanding that discharge was withdrawn, E's actions delivered message to its Ees that they may not testify with impunity against E in Bd proceeding)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(discharge of Ee on very day he testified in Bd hearing, assertedly because of damaged grease seal, held violative since Ee showed it was impossible to determine who was responsible for damaged seal and notwithstanding that discharge was withdrawn, E's actions delivered message to its Ees that they may not testify with impunity against E in Bd proceeding)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(transfer of Ee, who was witness in Bd hearing, fromhis desired second shift to less desirable day shift held violative where trans fer occurred on heels of Ee's testifying at Bd hearing; inference drawn that shift of job was not solely for business reasons, since E was motivated by desire to punish Ee for testifying against E in Bd proceeding; action was taken w/o regard to Ee's seniority or other contractual provisions)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(transfer of Ee, who was witness in Bd hearing, from his desired second shift to less desirable day shift held violative where transfer occurred on heels of Ee's testifying at Bd hearing; inference drawn that shift of job was not solely for business reasons, since E was motivated by desire to punish Ee for testifying against E in Bd proceeding; action was taken w/o regard to Ee's seniority or other contractual provisions)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(E violated 8(a)(1) as well as 8(a)(4) where E, in furtherance of its state civil suit against Ees, obtained alleged discriminatee's deposition concerning matters relating to E's defenses in pending Bd ULP proceeding and inquired of fellow Ee whether supervisor involved in alleged ULPs knew that Ees were trying to organize; since it could reasonably be expected that Ee would, as she did, tell alleged discriminatee of conversation with E, question had its nexus in taking of deposition resulting from filing of state proceeding which was also found unlawful herein)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(violations where E transferred U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing to store in less desireable location, reduced their working hours to times when they could not use public transportation, added onerous janitorial duties and then discharged them)

Sonoma Community Press d/b/a News Herald 247 NLRB No. 148
(discharge not unlawful, where it was established that Ee was discharged for work-related and incompatibility reasons, and decision to discharge Ee was made prior to and not because of Ee's participation in Bd proceedings)

George Bush, George Phillip Bush, and Larry Bush, A Partnership, d/b/a Creamline Dairy Farms JD-449-82
(laying off U adherent and subsequently discharging him two days after he gave testimony adverse to E's interest at Bd hearing, violative)

George Bush, George Phillip Bush, and Larry Bush, A Partnership, d/b/a Creamline Dairy Farms JD-449-82
(violation where E discharged Ee who charged E with giving false testimony under oath at Bd hearing and led E to believe that he would testify in manner consistent with this accusation when hearing resumed)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(in Royal Development Company, Ltd., 257 NLRB No. 149 (1981), Bd did not preclude analyzing 8(a)(4) cases under Wright Line test of dual motivation)

Scoggin, Inc. JD-433-81
(E's reduction in work week of U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing from 40 to 20 hours, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's other ULPs, since for business reasons, where E was in dire financial situation to point of using monies withheld for payroll taxes for capital and E's president taking out personal loan when taxes due; further, Ees were not replaced)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson distribution Center JD-(SF)-12-81
(refusing to pay Ee regular wages for time he lost from work to testify at Bd hearing pursuant to subpoena issued by GC, not unlawful, where, notwithstanding E's policy of paying Ees who are absent from work due to jury duty or because of a death in the family, Ee witness was compensated for his time by GC, and additional compensation from E would in effect require litigent to subsidize its opponent)

Lauridsen Foods, Inc. JD-36-81
(discharge of U adherents for testifying at R case hearing and for their U activities, unlawful)

Bill Fox Chevrolet, Inc. JD-767-80
(E's deliberately depriving Ee of work, resulting in sharp dip in Ee's earnings for 2-week period, violative since reasons for E's action were Ee's show of U loyalty, his protected activities on behalf of U, and because he gave testimony to Bd)

Clements Wire and Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-330-80
(E's refusal to reinstate leading U adherent, unlawful where she gave testimony at Bd proceeding and her name appeared on charges which E was aware of prior to date on which she was refused reinstatement)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for making changes in schedule sheet unlawful, since steward was performing customary duty in enforcing contract, and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(discharge, assertedly because of poor work performance, of Ee who had given testimony in Bd proceeding and who supported U disfavored by E, unlawful, where Ee's job mistakes were not known to E at time of discharge, Ee had never been told that her work was unsatisfactory, and E harbored desire to retaliate against Ee for testimony in Bd proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Friendly Ice Cream Corporation 677 F.2d 170 (C.A. 1, May 1982)
(ct denied Bd's ptn for enforcement of its order finding E guilty of violating Secs. 8(a)(1), 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(4) of Act by giving allegedly retaliatory and discriminatory written warning to Ee for violating no-solicitation rule where Bd's decision specifically rested upon its conclusion that E had disabled itself from enforcing rule by reason of having tolerated breaches in past that did not relate to unionization and fact was that in two years rule was observed every day but two)

N.L.R.B. v. Joseph, d/b/a Meat Packers International 605 F.2d 466 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(discharge of Ee, who had testified at prior Bd proceedings, in order to make room for one reinstated disciminatee not violative where Ee was least competent of workers available; management was entitled to make such selection in order to comply with order of ALJ)

3325-4500 Attending Board proceeding

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087
(proximity between discharge and Ee attendance at Bd hearing, w/o more, is insufficient evidence to warrant finding of Section 8(a)(4) violation)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(disciplinary warnings issued to Ees because they attended Bd hearing held unlawful disparate treatment, where E routinely gave Ees permission to leave plant during working hours to go to ct or to attend to personal business, such permission was never denied, and Ees were not warned or disciplined for requesting such permission or for leaving under such circumstances; Bd found it unnecessary to rely on Earinghouse Imports, 227 NLRB No. 1107)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(discharge of Ee allegedly for attending Bd hearing instead of getting bed rest for fatigue resulting from working and then filing workman's compensation claim, unlawful, since no evidence Ee ever filed claim and also in view of timing, E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and baselessness of E's asserted reason)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(refusing to allow Ees who notified E one half hour before start of shift that they would be 5-10 minutes late because of attendance at Bd hearing to work their shifts that day, unlawful, since in retaliation for assistance to U)

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(discharge of 13 of 16 unit Ees for leaving work during working hours, contrary to express orders from E, to attend en masse R hearing, not unlawful, notwithstanding Ees agreed to makeup time lost since E had volunteered to permit one Ee to attend hearing in representative capacity and permitting essentially entire production force to defy E's instructions would disrupt E's productive ability; E's rights in instant case were paramount to Ees' rights; discrimination not in issue)

3325-4500—Cont.

3325-7000 Giving statement to Board agent

Airborne Freight Corporation 263 NLRB No. 181
(discharge of likely U supporter in upcoming election for giving affidavit to Bd agent, unlawful)

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(E's acceding to U pressure and informing supervisor who was U vice-president and outspoken advocate of change in U administration and participated in filing of charges with NLRB and wrote U interference on discharge slips of Ees who had been discharged as result of U pressure, that supervisor would have to take position in gang outside U's jurisdiction, and when supervisor refused, discharged him, held unlawful, since offer of transfer constructive discharge since would have meant demotion, reduced wages and benefits and additional expenses resulting from working further from home and E motivated by supervisors participating in filing charges)

Building Material & Dump Truck Drivers, Local Union No. 420, Teamsters (Leonard Worthington, an Individual) 257 NLRB No. 161
(discharge of Ee for not first consulting with E's counsel before giving sworn statement to Bd agent during investigation of charge against Ee's E violative since E never had rule requiring Ee to so consult)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176
(surveillance by supervisors of Ee who was at U hall for purpose of giving testimony to Bd agent, violative)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

Climate Control Corporation 251 NLRB No. 102
(denying vacation benefits in retaliation for U activity, instigation of ULP charge, and providing evidence to Bd, violative)

Triangle Pacific JD-(ATL)-22-80
(discharge, not unlawful where it was not for attempt to give evidence to Bd, as alleged, but for failure to deliver a load and unauthorized hauling of passengers in violation of company rules)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(discharge of U adherent, violative, where E was aware that Ee filed complaints with Bd, threatened to file further complaints, and participated in Bd investigation)

3325-9200 Cooperating with and assisting Board in its proceedings

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(discharge for participation in conference on representation ptn held at Bd office violative)

3350 FORMS OF DISCRIMINATION (SEE ALSO 524-5000)

3350-3100 Denial of vacation or overtime pay

Stokely-Van Camp, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 128
(withholding and deferring vacation pay of striking Ees violative where contract entitled them to paid vacations on request and but for strike vacation would have been allowed; contention that Ees cannot be on vacation and strike at same time so that E may maximize number of Ees available for work during strike, rejected)

Roadway Express, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 153
(denial of overtime pay to Ee, who had filed charges against E, for time spent discussing his grievance after working hours, not unlawful, where E had no policy for such pay)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(refusal to give vacation pay to Ee, witness against E in prior Bd proceeding, unless she agreed in writing to return it in event Bd should determine that there was no valid contract between E and assisted U, unlawful)

3350-3300 Denial of bonus

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81
(cancellation of production bonus because Ee threatened to file charge with Bd unless he was recipient, violative)

3350-5000 Conditioning employment upon withdrawal of charges

Metropolitan Teletronic Corp. JD-(NY)-12-81
(conditioning Ee's reinstatement upon her withdrawing of charges before Bd and failing to reinstate her until she agreed to cause charges to be withdrawn, violative)

3350-5600 Issuance of warning or reprimand

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077
(no violation where regional director of E, a U, sent warning letter to its regional representative requesting explanation of his interference in the affairs of a local to which he was not assigned, since Bd found that warning letter was not in retaliation for his filing ULP charge and for his other protected activities but was, rather in response to complaints from officers of the local concerning his interference)

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO, Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077
(no violation where regional director of E, a U, sent letter to regional representative stating that his failure to pass out organizational material provided by E could have been reason it lost an election, since Bd found that letter was not in retaliation for regional representative's filing ULP charge and for his other protected activities but was merely a reminder to use organizational materials provided by E in future campaigns)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146
(warning letters issued to U activists for infraction of E rule by overextending their lunch breaks, unlawful, notwithstand that similar punishment was given to Ees not actively supporting U, where extension of lunch break was common practice engaged in by supervisors and Ees, of which E was well aware; and, as shown by E's remarks in answer to Ee's inquiry about her similar situation, discipline of Ees herein was directly related to their U activities)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(issuing unexcused absence slip, allegedly for failure to provide doctor's excuse although one had never before been required, violative of 8(a)(4) where E was influenced by Ee's filing of charge with Bd)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(disciplinary report based on Ee's alleged failure to comply with earlier unlawful warning, violative of 8(a)(4), since E was motivated by Ee's having filed charges with Bd)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(issuance of warning to Ee violative where warning flowed from E's resentment at Ee for his prior testimony before Bd)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(issuing written warning for lateness to U adherent who had appeared at Bd hearing, violative where Ee had been given verbal permission for lateness and Ee had never been issued warning in past for being late)

Roadway Express, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 153
(issuing warning letter to Ees for insolent remarks to E and taking excessive breaks to use restroom, not unlawful, where there was no evidence that, contrary to contention, warnings were issued because Ee was U member or was scheduled to testify at Bd hearing)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E subjected U adherents, who had invoked Bd processes to new system of written warning notices)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142
(disciplinary written notices given Ees who testified in government's behalf at preliminary inj proceedings, unlawful, notwithstanding contention that Ees failed to provide adequate notice, leaving E shorthanded in emergency, and that issue is moot because reprimands were withdrawn from company's files, where notices were not based on failure to give prior notice but for leaving; E failed to protest Ees' departure; other Ees who could have helped in emergency were released; reprimands were excessive for Ees with good work records; and abandonment of unlawful conduct does not make issue moot)

Steinerfilm, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 017
(issuing written warning and discharging U adherent, violative, where real reasons for such discipline were Ee's U activities, his leadership in pressing Ees' grievances, and his filing charge with Bd)

L. M. Berry and Company 254 NLRB No. 003
(written reprimands to U adherent because of her U activities, including her testimony on behalf of U and her filing charges against E, violative)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(harassment of Ee and reprimand of him in retaliation for filing ULP charge, unlawful)

Delta Faucet Company, a Division of Masco Corporation of Indiana 251 NLRB No. 071
(refusal to grant Ee one day of leave and warning and suspending him as result of such refusal, unlawful where disciplinary measures were taken by E in retaliation for filing charge with Bd)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(E's threat that Ees would be severely punished if they left to attend Bd hearing on U's election ptn, and subsequent issuance of disciplinary warnings to Ees because they attended hearing, unlawful)

3350-5600—Cont.

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(warnings issued during U campaign to known leading U activists and other pro-U Ees, unlawful, where E's reasons for warnings were unpersuasive, warnings were prompted by minor and insignificant matters which would not ordinarily result in discipline and were issued to build record against Ees to support discharge on pretext, and other Ees engaged in similar conduct were not disciplined)

Southwest Jefferson Community Hospital, Inc., a corporation wholly owned by Humana of Kentucky, Inc. JD-77-82

N.L.R.B. v. Friendly Ice Cream Corporation 677 F.2d 170 (C.A. 1, May 1982)

(ct denied Bd's ptn for enforcement of its order finding E guilty of violating Secs. 8(a)(1), 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(4) of Act by giving allegedly retaliatory and discriminatory written warning to Ee for violating no-solicitation rule where Bd's decision specifically rested upon its conclusion that E had disabled itself from enforcing rule by reason of having tolerated breaches in past that did not relate to unionization and fact was that in two years rule was observed every day but two)

N.L.R.B. v. Ford Motor Company 683 F.2d 156 (C.A. 6, July 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(threatening remarks and written reprimands shortly after Ee indicated intent to file additional charges with Bd violative, in view of anti-U animus and timing of reprimand soon after Ee filed charge; fact that Ee had not received reprimand in 11 years tenure and reprimand was over minor work dispute indicates pretext)

Nacker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)

(E's early issuance of oral and written warnings to discriminatee reinstated pursuant to Bd order following his initiation of Bd proceedings, unlawful; he alone was carefully supervised and given written, as well as oral, warnings for poor production; he was also assigned to job he was not accustomed to doing and reassigned to it even after accident to his hand impaired his ability to do it)

Nacker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)

(writing up for slow production of discriminatee reinstated, pursuant to Bd order following his initiation of Bd proceedings, unlawful when no other E had been assigned to job he was assigned to for long time and discriminatee had just returned to work after being out with injured hand and had given E doctor's report stating that he had not fully recovered use of hand required in doing that job)

3350-5800 Threat of reprisal

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 256 NLRB No. 053

(telling another Ee that E was exploring possibility of filing charges against U president because he filed ULP charge against E, violative because it interfered with Ee's right to file and press charges before Bd)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 256 NLRB No. 053

(warning U president that E might file charges against him if he did not discuss matters with E before filing ULP charges, violative because it interfered with Ee's right to file and press charges before Bd)

Shirt Shed, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 042

(threat to discipline Ee if she did not withdraw charges filed with Bd by U on her behalf violative)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026

(E's threat to bring reprisals against Ee, clearly engaged in protected activities, which included filing of charge with Bd, unlawful)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026

(E's veiled threat to husband of Ee, both of whom picketed E, with respect to losing new home husband had just bought and that E would hate them to get hurt by all this, unlawful, where such statements presaged E's later action of filing of civil suit against Ees, and established that true purpose behind law suit was to punish picketers for engaging in protected concerted activity and to prevent them from further asserting such rights)

3350-6000 Layoff

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163

(laying Ees off who had signed authorization cards and invoked Bd's processes violative, where E refused to allow Ees to finish work days; other Ees were invariably permitted to finish 40-hour week)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch Mappa, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a Seaport Manor Home For Adults 248 NLRB No. 120

(violation where Ee was laid off for registering complaint with Division of Human Resources and for filing deauthorization ptn with Bd)

George Bush, George Phillip Bush, and Larry Bush, A Partnership, d/b/a Creamline Dairy Farms JD-440-82

(laying off U adherent and subsequently discharging him two days after he gave testimony adverse to E's interest at Bd hearing, violative)

Lorord Industries, Limited JD-293-82

3350-6200 Discharge or threat thereof

Kay Fries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 132

(violation where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case of unlawful discharge motivated by Ee's aggressive U grievance filing, his angered protest of E's enforcement of proof of death rule regarding funeral leave and his threat to go to Bd if he did not receive pay for death leave; E's contended reasons for discharge-foul, obscene, abusive and threatening language to-E held pretextual)

Humana of West Virginia, Inc. d/b/a Greenbrier Valley Hospital 265 NLRB No. 126

(discharge of individual found supervisor herein, not unlawful where Bd found, contrary to ALJ, that it was not due to U's filing charge on behalf of individual, since discharge was decided on by E before E became aware charge had been filed, and E welcomed filing of charge as means of showing that individual was statutory supervisor rather than Ee)

St. Jude Industrial Park Board 265 NLRB No. 087

(proximity between discharge and Ee attendance at Bd hearing, w/o more, is insufficient evidence to warrant finding of Section 8(a)(4) violation)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(discharge of Ees assertedly for violating rule, herein found unlawful, prohibiting dissemination of company information by providing Ee, whose discharge was subject of ULP charge herein, with information regarding company's operations, unlawful, in view of disparity of treatment and severity of discipline, E's U animus and knowledge of Ees' U activity and knowledge that information was obtained in course of concerted and U activity, that it was obtained for purpose of prosecuting instant case, and that Ees had or would testify in proceedings herein)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(discharge of Ees assertedly for violating unlawful rule, prohibiting dissemination of company information by providing Ee, whose discharge was subject of ULP charge herein, with information regarding company's operations, unlawful, even if rule was found not unlawful, where E knew that disclosure assertedly constituting misconduct occurred during U activity yet E presented no evidence that it, in good faith, believed that Ees engaged in breach of rule nor evidence upon which it based belief that Ees were involved other than that obtained in instant proceeding as to their participation therein; and Ees did not in fact commit suspected offense)

McLean Hospital, A Division of Massachusetts General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 068

(no violation where suspension and discharge were not because dischargee had filed charges with Bd as alleged but because he failed to respond adequately to E's legitimate questions about his unauthorized entry with unidentified person into E's hospital's psychiatric unit contrary to rules against access by off-duty Ees and unauthorized entry by non-Ees; fact dischargee was accompanied by Bd attorney investigating his charge did not make entry protected or give him right to disregard rules)

Airborne Freight Corporation 263 NLRB No. 181

(discharge of likely U supporter in upcoming election for giving affidavit to Bd agent, unlawful)

Trasler Lutheran Home for Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 263 NLRB No. 042

(discharge of Ee for testifying at Bd proceeding, violative)

Modern Manufacturing Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 078

(discharge for U activities and testifying on behalf of U at representative election hearing, unlawful)

Electron Tube Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 149

(GC's argument that E retaliated against Ee by firing him after learning that his charge had been dismissed by Regional Counsel, and that E's retaliation violated Sec. 8(a)(4) because it was in response to filing of charge, rejected, where Ee created situation that gave rise to his discharge by claiming and accepting payment for sick leave used for personal business)

The Oakland Press Co., A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Capital Cities Communications, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 126

(discharge of Ee assertedly for abuse of sick leave privilege and dishonesty in connection with it not violative, since it was not invoked, as contended, as pretext because Ee had used part of sick leave day to file charge with Bd, where E had not tolerated Ee dishonesty in past, and has discharged Ees found engaging in it, including first offenders)

Overseas Motors, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 108

Alcar Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 094

(discharge of most active U supporter who assisted U as election observer and testified at Bd hearing, not unlawful, where there was ample cause for discharge in that E believed that E had twice lied in same month when he called in sick in order to attend to personal business; no threats were made by E at time of election when tension existed at plant; and if E had wished to use any pretext that readily came to hand, it could have relied on first instance of E's abuse of sick leave)

3350-6200—Cont.

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 180
(suspending and subsequently discharging U adherent who had testified at Bd proceeding, violative)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(violation, where E revoked agreement condoning misconduct of Ee and discharged him because he had testified at Bd hearing contrary to interests of E and had filed new charge with Bd complaining of further misconduct by E)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(discharging U adherent who had appeared at Bd hearing for allegedly leaving sick patient in her care, violative since E's reason for discharge was pretext where Ee actually gave proper care to patient and was subsequently given permission to leave to attend ill mother)

Transportation Management Corporation 258 NLRB No. 061

Building Material & Dump Truck Drivers, Local Union No. 420, Teamsters (Leonard Worthington, an Individual) 257 NLRB No. 161
(discharge of Ee for not first consulting with E's counsel before giving sworn statement to Bd agent during investigation of charge against Ee's E violative since E never had rule requiring Ee to so consult)

Roadway Express, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 153
(suspension and subsequent discharge of Ee who had filed charges with Bd because he refused several times to operate different forklifts he said were unsafe, not unlawful, where Ee did not act in good faith and was not solely concerned for his own safety when he challenged safety of forklifts he was assigned to operate)

Clements Wire & Manufacturing Company, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 075
(discharging and refusing to reinstate leading U adherent because Ee invoked Bd processes, violative)

Reeves Southeastern Corporation 256 NLRB No. 090
(discharge of Ee for testifying against E at Bd hearing violative)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080
(discharge for filing charge with Bd, unlawful)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080
(discharge of Ee for trying to get people to testify for daughter who had been fired and had filed a charge with Bd, unlawful)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(discharge of Ee, not unlawful, where it was unnecessary to consider cause for discharge since E did not have knowledge of Ee's very weak U activity and, absent finding of discriminatory motivation, discharge stands; there was no evidence from which illegal motive for discharge could be inferred; and even if Ee engaged in sufficient U activity, he also engaged in conduct warranting discharge which cannot be held unlawful simply on basis of some U activity)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(E's contention that where Ee has engaged in conduct for which he would have been fired in any event, there is no room for discrimination to play a part, rejected, since firing of Ee can be discriminatory in such a case inasmuch as E might pass over in another instance conduct warranting discharge)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of Ee assertedly for threatening shop foreman, violative where real reason was Ee's leading role in organizing U and filing ULP charges)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of student apprentice who had been told he would be getting permanent job and raise in pay and had received good evaluation, violative where he was discharged for U activities and for being named in filing of charge)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of Ee, assertedly because he threatened life of E's president and owner, violative where real reasons were Ee's U activities and having been mentioned in charge)

Town & Country LP Gas Service Co. 255 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee allegedly for lack of work, violative, where E's asserted economic reason for discharge was pretextual, in view of record evidence showing no decline in E's sales and pattern of retaliation against Ee for his filing charges with Bd and successfully prosecuting grievance)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(termination of Ee who filed charge, unlawful, in view of E's open and evident U animus and hostility)

Steinerfilm, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 017
(issuing written warning and discharging U adherent, violative, where real reasons for such discipline were Ee's U activities, his leadership in pressing Ees' grievances, and his filing charge with Bd)

Bay State Gas Company 255 NLRB No. 069
(discharge of Ee who had filed charge with Bd not violative where discharge took place 1 month after charge withdrawn, discharged for excessive absenteeism and GC failed to establish prima facie case that Ee was discharged for protected activity)

Roy H. Park Broadcasting of Roanoke, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 036
(discharge of Ee violative where motivated by resentment at Bd charges filed by Ee)

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011
(probationary Ee held not unlawfully discharged for lack of U membership where E's letter to Bd agent, regarding instant case and infelicitously equating probationary status with lack of U membership, was not related to such status but used common parlance to describe Ee as being terminated during his probationary period while not yet having protection of just cause provision of contract)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

Hi-Craft Clothing Co. 251 NLRB No. 173
(discharge of supervisor for threatening that he was going to file charges with NLRB because E had not given him promised bonus, violative, as E's action became known to other Ees and coerced them in exercise of their rights; moreover fact that supervisors grievance was not covered under Act immaterial, since it is Bd's function, not E's to decide whether individual is covered by Act or claim has merit)

The Kroka School Foundation, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 187
(allegation that E violated Act by discharging Ee, in part because she had filed charges and given testimony under Act, dismissed where evidence of unlawful motivation consisted primarily of testimony that E told her that E could have cried when E heard Ees testify with misinformation about E)

Kaufman DeDell Printing, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 002
(discharge for filing charges with Bd, unlawful)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(discharge of Ee on very day he testified in Bd hearing, assertedly because of damaged grease seal, held violative since Ee showed it was impossible to determine who was responsible for damaged seal and notwithstanding that discharge was withdrawn, E's actions delivered message to its Ees that they may not testify with impunity against E in Bd proceeding)

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(discharge for participation in conference on representation ptn held at Bd office violative)

Austell Box Board Corporation 249 NLRB No. 044
(E's suspension and discharge of Ee violative, where explanation advanced by E was pretextual and real reason was Ee's stated intention to complain to Bd about allegedly discriminatory treatment, in view of shifting reasons proferred by E, weakness of work deficiencies cited against Ee for which he was not disciplined at time of occurence and their remoteness in time, and fact that E's decision to suspend Ee came immediately after he threatened to go to the Bd)

Norman Mesnikoff, Receiver in Bankruptcy for Mid-State Broadcasting Co., d/b/a WHLW 248 NLRB No. 155
(abrupt refusal to allow newscaster to leave on long scheduled vacation which had been approved by her immediate supervisor well in advance, assertedly because of E's lack of funds and/or because E was unhappy with Ee's replacements, violative, where Ee had filed charges and testified against E in prior Bd proceeding; E's defenses were shifting and inconsistent leading to inference of real reason for E's action)

Medical Mutual of Cleveland, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 074
(although Ee was legitimately on probation for low production, his discharge was unlawful where termination occurred two days after ULP complaint had issued on Ee's charge and after she refused to assent to E's request for postponement of hearing on her cause)

Hilton Hotels Corporation, d/b/a The O'Hare Hilton 248 NLRB No. 031
(discharge of U steward for filing charges with the Bd against E, unlawful)

Sonoma Community Press d/b/a News Herald 247 NLRB No. 148
(discharge not unlawful, where it was established that Ee was discharged for work-related and incompatibility reasons, and decision to discharge Ee was made prior to and not because of Ee's participation in Bd proceedings)

George Bush, George Phillip Bush, and Larry Bush, A Partnership, d/b/a Creamline Dairy Farms JD-449-82
(laying off U adherent and subsequently discharging him two days after he gave testimony adverse to E's interest at Bd hearing, violative)

George Bush, George Phillip Bush, and Larry Bush, A Partnership, d/b/a Creamline Dairy Farms JD-449-82
(violation where E discharged Ee who charged E with giving false testimony under oath at Bd hearing and led E to believe that he would testify in manner consistent with this accusation when hearing resumed)

3350-6200—Cont.

[illegible] Car Corporation JD-(ATL)-8-82
(discharge of reinstated U adherent for U activities and for filing charges with Bd, unlawful notwithstanding assertion that discharge was for breach of drinking rule where dischargee was treated more harshly than other Ees who also breached E's drinking rule)

Roland & Roland, Inc. JD-640-81
(suspension and subsequent discharge of Ee for filing ULP charge, unlawful)

Drave-Groves Company JD-(ATL)-93-81
(complaint that Ee had been discharged by E a second time because he had filed charge with Bd after first discharge, dismissed in view of testimony of coworkers and supervisors that his work was inadequate and testimony of coworkers that he admitted not applying himself to his work)

American Interstate Freight Lines JD-117-81
(violation where GC made prima facie showing that motivating factors in E's decision to discharge Ee were Ee's taking his grievance to grievance board and endeavoring to enforce work-guarantee provisions in agreement, and his appealing dismissal of his ULP charge; and E failed to demonstrate that it would have discharged Ee in absence of protected activity)

Lauridsen Foods, Inc. JD-36-81
(discharge of U adherents for testifying at R case hearing and for their U activities, unlawful)

Sprinkmann Sons Corporation of Illinois JD-763-80
(discharge of Ee allegedly because he filed charges with Bd, not unlawful, since, while receipt by company at home office of charge was as matter of law notice to company, it does not follow that, because it had such knowledge, it therefore discharged Ee inasmuch as general foreman at separately located construction site creditably testified that at time of discharging Ee, he knew nothing of charge being filed)

Triangle Pacific JD-(ATL)-22-80
(discharge, not unlawful where it was not for attempt to give evidence to Bd, as alleged, but for failure to deliver a load and unauthorized hauling of passengers in violation of company rules)

Hotel & Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union Local 2 JD-(SF)-178-80
(discharge of Ee for advising other Ees of their right to file charges against U, violative)

Magic Mountain Corporation JD-337-80
(former ski patrol member constructively discharged where he clocked out upon his refusal to continue working in sewage bins, which job was assigned to him due to E's animus towards him for his U activity and filing charge with Bd)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(discharge of Ee allegedly for attending Bd hearing instead of getting bed rest for fatigue resulting from working and then filing workman's compensation claim, unlawful, since no evidence Ee ever filed claim and also in view of timing, E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and baselessness of E's asserted reason)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(discharge, assertedly because of poor work performance, of Ee who had given testimony in Bd proceeding and who supported U disfavored by E, unlawful, where Ee's job mistakes were not known to E at time of discharge, Ee had never been told that her work was unsatisfactory, and E harbored desire to retaliate against Ee for testimony in Bd proceeding)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(discharge of U adherent, violative, where E was aware that Ee filed complaints with Bd, threatened to file further complaints, and participated in Bd investigation)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had circulated ptn for U and filed charge with NLRB, unlawful, where for U activity and invoking Bd processes rather than for insubordination in bringing E's broken truck back to E's headquarters w/o proper authorization where Ee had tried to obtain authorization from proper party, and unauthorized individual who told him to bring truck in was not reprimanded)

N.L.R.B. v. Town & Country LP Gas Service Company 687 F.2d 187 (C.A. 7, Aug. 1982)

N.L.R.B. v. Schaffner Volkswagen Corporation 681 F.2d 597 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(withdrawing reemployment offer to Ee on layoff because Ee filed ULP charge, violative in view of timing and false explanations that business was slow and that president lacked authority to offer reinstatement)

N.L.R.B. v. Joseph, d/b/a Meat Packers International 605 F.2d 466 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(discharge of Ee, who had testified at prior Bd proceedings, in order to make room for one reinstated discriminatee not violative where Ee was least competent of workers available; management was entitled to make such selection in order to comply with order of ALJ)

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(discharge of 13 of 16 unit Ees for leaving work during working hours, contrary to express orders from E, to attend en masse R hearing, not unlawful, notwithstanding Ees agreed to makeup time lost since E had volunteered to permit one Ee to attend hearing in representative capacity and permitting essentially entire production force to defy E's instructions would disrupt E's productive ability; E's rights in instant case were paramount to Ees' rights; discrimination not in issue)

3350-6300 Constructive discharge

Heck's Properties, Incorporated, Engineering Division and/or Mountaineer Investment Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 071
(Ee's quitting after his reinstatement pursuant to settlement agreement when E refused to continue its prior policy of furnishing free lodging for nonresident Ees when utlized on non-U jobs beyond commuting distance from their homes held unlawful constructive discharge since E's action had intent of frustrating settlement agreement so as to discourage Ees from seeking redress under Act)

3350-6500 Demotion

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(replacing Ee's daytime delivery duties with demeaning nighttime chores, violative of 8(a)(4) where due to his having filed charge with Bd)

3350-6600 Denial of promotion

Fundacion Educativa Ana G. Mendez, Inc. d/b/a Colegio Universitario Del Turabo 251 NLRB No. 203
(no violation, where instructor at university was denied professional tenure, not because of his involvement with U or because he gave testimony under Act and/or participated in Bd proceedings, but because he failed to satisfy reasonable, non-discriminatory university requirements for attaining professional tenure)

N.L.R.B. v. Ford Motor Company 683 F.2d 156 (C.A. 6, July 1982)
(refusal to promote Ees who had been recommended for promotion, unlawful, since for voicing their dissatisfaction with E's promotion policies, filing grievances and ULP charges, particularly in view of promotion of others with less seniority)

3350-7500 Failure to pay for time lost from work or mandated witness fees

U. S. Electrical Motors, A Division of Emerson Electric Co. 261 NLRB No. 184
(where E had policy that Ees would not receive holiday pay if they did not work on day before and day after a holiday, and Ee asked if he would receive holiday pay for Memorial Day if he attended Bd hearing on day after Memorial Day, supervisor's statement in reply that he might not receive it, not unlawful since some supervisory personnel were not familiar with holiday pay policy or aware that Bd-issued subpoena constituted excuse for not being present day after holiday)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 238 NLRB No. 033
(E's refusal to compensate Ee for wages lost while testifying in his capacity as U officer in Bd case to which E was not party, not unlawful, absent express contractual commitment and where not in retaliation for U activity or testifying; fact E had previously paid compensation to same officer in similar situation as result of grievance settlement did not establish precedent or law of the shop, nor did contract provision providing for compensation for loss due to jury duty or as witness subpoenaed by ct of law require payment)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 286 NLRB No. 053
(refusal to pay Ee pursuant to contract difference in amount of day's wages and witness fee collected from GC for testifying under subpoena not violative because E is not discriminating in respect to employment relationship by not paying Ee called as witness against it or if he paid Ee called by E more; on other hand, apart from matter of payment of witness fees and/or amount thereof, where opposing witness are denied benefit of turn or condition of employment which E's witnesses receive; E would be obstructing Bd process)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson distribution Center JD-(SF)-12-81
(refusing to pay Ee regular wages for time he lost from work to testify at Bd hearing pursuant to subpoena issued by GC, not unlawful, where, notwithstanding E's policy of paying Ees who are absent from work due to jury duty or because of a death in the family, Ee witness was compensated for his time by GC, and additional compensation from E would in effect require litigant to subsidize its opponent)

3350-7500—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(refusing to allow Ees who notified E one half hour before start of shift that they would be 5-10 minutes late because of attendance at Bd hearing to work their shifts that day, unlawful, since in retaliation for assistance to U)

3350-7700 Suspension

McLean Hospital, A Division of Massachusetts General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 068
(no violation where suspension and discharge were not because dischargee had filed charges with Bd as alleged but because he failed to respond adequately to E's legitimate questions about his unauthorized entry with unidentified person into E's hospital's psychiatric unit contrary to rules against access by off-duty Ees and unauthorized entry by non-Ees; fact dischargee was accompanied by Bd attorney investigating his charge did not make entry protected or give him right to disregard rules)

Transler Lutheran Home for Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 263 NLRB No. 042
(suspending Ee for testifying at Bd proceeding, violative)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(suspension based on Ee's alleged failure to comply with earlier, unlawful warning, violative of 8(a)(4) where E was motivated by Ee's having filed charge with Bd)

Overseas Motors, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 105

NAB Construction Corporation 258 NLRB No. 090
(suspension of Ee who refused to withdraw charge filed with Bd violative)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(suspension of known U adherent assertedly for violating rule on reporting in for absences, not unlawful, where Ee's intent was to report absences at his convenience w/o regard for rules; Ee's reliance on laxity in enforcement of rules was not supported by record; even assuming such laxity, an Ee would be held to higher degree of responsibility than that shown by Ee, and Ee's failure to report in prevailed in face of prior discipline for identical infraction)

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132, AFL-CIO 255 NLRB No. 060
(E's suspension of Ee for filing charges with Bd, violative)

Interlake, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 076
(three-day suspension of Ee for leaving plant w/o permission for purpose of filing ULP charge with Bd held violative where E has consistently permitted other Ees to leave work on U business during regular working hours w/o disciplinary action)

Salem Transportation Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 155
(allegation of 8(a)(4) based on suspension of Ee dismissed, where such suspension was for poor record and not for filing charge with Bd, as alleged)

Ledford Construction Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 193
(suspending Ees who testified against E at Bd hearing while permitting Ees who testified favorably to work)

Delta Faucet Company, a Division of Masco Corporation of Indiana 251 NLRB No. 071

Austell Box Board Corporation 249 NLRB No. 044
(E's suspension and discharge of Ee violative, where explanation advanced by E was pretextual and real reason was Ee's stated intention to complain to Bd about allegedly discriminatory treatment, in view of shifting reasons proferred by E, weakness of work deficiencies cited against Ee for which he was not disciplined at time of occurence and their remoteness in time, and fact that E's decision to suspend Ee came immediately after he threatened to go to the Bd)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021

The Mining Journal JD-4-82
(suspension of U steward, unlawful where it was motivated by her filing of charge against E with Bd rather than as alleged for attending to personal business (by looking at her copy of U contract for personal reasons) on worktime)

Roland & Roland, Inc. JD-640-81
(suspension and subsequent discharge of Ee for filing ULP charge, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(refusing to allow Ees who notified E one half hour before start of shift that they would be 5-10 minutes late because of attendance at Bd hearing to work their shifts that day, unlawful, since in retaliation for assistance to U)

Nacher Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 406 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(assignment of discriminatee reinstated pursuant to Bd order after his initiation of Bd proceedings to job performance of which might expose him to further injury of his injured hand with ultimatum of doing it or going home with result that discriminatee went home held to constitute unlawful suspension when other jobs which would not expose him to injury were available for assignment)

3350-8100 Transfer to another job

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 138
(transferring U adherents who had testified at Bd proceeding to different jobs, violative)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 142
(violation where E changed work assignments of U adherents, who had invoked Bd's processes, to jobs they had never done before)

3350-8500 Filing lawsuit

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(E's state civil lawsuit against alleged discriminatee, who had filed ULP charge against Ee, and against other Ees, unlawful, where lawsuit was attempt to penalize discriminatee for having filed charges with Bd and other Ees for assisting alleged discriminatee in her protest of ULP committed against her; E's lawsuit placed Ees on notice that by filing charges with Bd or making public a dispute with E, Ee subjects himself to possibility of concomitant expenses and possibility of reimbursement to Ee for legal fees and damages)

Alabama By-Products Corporation JD-(ATL)-49-82
(E's filing suit in district ct against Ee and U alleging willful breach of settlement agreement to penalize Ee for participating in charge U had filed on his behalf with Bd and to discourage Ees from seeking access to Bd's processes, unlawful)

Metro-Young Construction Company, A Division of Olson Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-12-82
(filing action in U.S. District Court joining discharged Ee as respondent along with U and seeking order to compel arbitration of Ee's discharge as provided for in collective bargaining agreement, violative, as Ee has Sec. 7 right to seek vindication of his discharge with NLRB; E's lawsuit was coercive under Sec. 8(a)(1) and discriminatory under Sec. 8(a)(4) as Bd does not defer under Collyer charges filed under Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3))

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. JD-14-81
(public policy considerations that dictate free access to Bd's processes under 8(a)(4) in case of individuals apply with equal force in case of labor organizations, which statement, however, does not mean that in filing civil suit against labor organization for filing ULP charges against E, E violates Sec. 8(a)(4); such holding would do violence to definition of such terms as discharge, otherwise discriminate, and employee which are part of Sec. 8(a)(4); rather, in filing such civil suit E interferes with, restrain, and coerces Ees in exercise of their Sec. 7 rights)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. JD-14-81
(E's filing of civil suit against U for filing ULP charges against E violative of 8(a)(1), but not 8(a)(4), where E's civil suit had unlawful objective as evidenced by fact that E presented no evidence to show reasonable basis for initiating suit, E offered no explanation for timing of suit in relation to filing of U's charge and adjournment of ULP hearing, allegations in ULP charge and complaint did not advert to matters forming gravamen of E's suit, and E's pre-trial attempts to obtain writings from U officials produced earlier in other proceedings suggested intent to harass)

The United Credit Bureau of America, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 643 F.2d 1017 (C.A. 4, Mar. 1981)
(E's filing civil action against Ee in retaliation for filing ULP charge, violative as Act require complete protection for Ees who in good faith file charges or testify)

3350-8600 Threatening to depose and deposing employee-defendants in civil law suit

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(threatening to, and deposing Ees in state civil proceeding, brought against Ees by E for libel and wrongful interference, regarding Ees' U activities relevant to pending Bd proceeding, unlawful; Bd's stricter discovery procedures pre-empt state's looser standard, federal interest underlying Bd's discovery rule is much greater than that underlying state rule, and danger of interference with Bd's administration of Act by failing to limit state ct discovery procedures is much greate than potential for interference with state proceedings)

3350-8700 Altering conditions of employment

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122
(where E had policy of allowing friends and spouses of Ees to wait for them in restaurant until Ee come off duty, it violated Act when it refused to allow husband of principal U adherent, who had been subject of Bd settlement agreement over her U activities, to wait for her. Although spouse did engage in some U activity, it was never on restaurant premises and was only to assist his wife and he did not engage in any U activities independent of her; thus, spouse could not be treated as non-Ee U organizer)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(directive that Ee work strict 40-hour work (i.e., w/o overtime) issued in response to his filing charge with Bd, unlawful)

3350-8700—Cont.

Riley-Beaird, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 180
(establishing closer supervision and stricter enforcement of plant rules against U adherents who had testified at Bd proceeding, violative)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(violation, where E changed Ee's shift and days off to retaliate against his testimony at Bd hearing and his elevation to acting presidency of U)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024
(harsh discriminatory treatment of Ee in assigning him tedious and unpleasant menial work for insisting on pressing grievance and expressing determination to distribute U literature on plant premises, not violative of Sec. 8(a)(4), where superintendent's remarks to Ee contained no reference to Ee's participation in prior Bd proceeding nor were any such references made in any other supervisor's remarks to Ee; rather, all of superintendent's remarks focused upon limitations on Ee's right to distribute U literature on plant premises and to talk about U during working hours at plant)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reduction of Ees' job responsibilities by refusing to allow them to call U members about jobs, deal directly with E's accountant or bank, distribute pension checks, answer office door or telephone, get association's signature on certain documents, make out forms for members, send letters under own signatures to late-paying Es' and take care of petty cash fund, unlawful where motivated by Ees' testifying against E at workmen's compensation hearing, participating in Bd investigation, testifying at Bd hearing and filing ULP charge)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters, Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29, etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(reducing Ees' employment benefits, and making their working conditions more onerous by failing to issue Ees keys to office, denying them $25 a week pay raises, requiring them to take vacations in July and August only, closing kitchen facilities, and denying sick leave benefits, and eliminating paid coffee breaks and paid check cashing time because Ees participated in Workmen's Compensation hearing, participated in Bd investigation, testified at Bd hearing, and filed ULP charges, unlawful)

Continental Distributing Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 091
(reinstatement of discriminatee to more onerous job and prohibiting him from speaking to other Ees violative where reinstatement occurred after Ee filed charges with Bd to protest his unlawful discharge and allegations of stealing and drinking on job not supported by record)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E compelled U adherents, who had invoked Bd processes, to stand at their workplace on newly-created shift instead of using stools as Ees did on regular shifts)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(violation where E required U adherents, who had invoked Bd processes and were recalled pursuant to settlement agreement, to take math tests and fill out new applications)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(E's cutting leading U activist's overtime immediately following receipt of his first ULP charge, violative)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(denying Ee extended vacation because his name appeared in ULP charge, violative)

Climate Control Corporation 251 NLRB No. 102
(denying vacation benefits in retaliation for U activity, instigation of ULP charge, and providing evidence to Bd, violative)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(E's refusal to promote Ees unlawful where refusal was attempt to punish them for pursuing grievance and filing ULP charge and they were highly qualified, experienced and recommended for promotion)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 188
(transfer of Ee, who was witness in Bd hearing, fromhis desired second shift to less desirable day shift held violative where trans fer occurred on heels of Ee's testifying at Bd hearing; inference drawn that shift of job was not solely for business reasons, since E was motivated by desire to punish Ee for testifying against E in Bd proceeding; action was taken w/o regard to Ee's seniority or other contractual provisions)

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 248 NLRB No. 145
(plant manager's statement to U vice-president in presence of Ees, that there would be no meetings in (plant) lunchroom because U had filed charges against him held violative, since statement was not merely threat but actual revocation of permission to use lunchroom; notwithstanding alleged violation was couched in terms of threat, issue of use of lunchroom was presented and litigated as actual revocation)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(violations where E transferred U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing to store in less desireable location, reduced their working hours to times when they could not use public transportation, added onerous janitorial duties and then discharged them)

Phillips Industries, Inc. Lau Division JD-424-82
(E's withholding of tuition payment for job related courses Ee was taking in retaliation for Ee's having filed charge with Bd violative)

Bill Fox Chevrolet, Inc. JD-767-80
(E's deliberately depriving Ee of work, resulting in sharp dip in Ee's earnings for 2-week period, violative since reasons for E's action were Ee's show of U loyalty, his protected activities on behalf of U, and because he gave testimony to Bd)

Henry Warshaw and Chester Latra, A Co-Partnership d/b/a Normandie Bar and Grill JD-551-80
(violation where E reduced Ee's work schedule because she had filed charge with Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Vulcan-Hart Corporation, (St. Louis Division) 642 F.2d 255 (C.A. 8, Mar 9, 1981)
(E's general manager's termination of right of Ees to hold U meetings in lunchroom, violative where termination resulted from his anger at filing of charge by U)

3350-8900 Denial of leave

American Geri-Care, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 147
(refusal to grant U adherent leave two days after Ee appeared at Bd hearing, violative)

3350-9200 Requesting state licencing agency to check employee's professional behavior

Road Memorial Hospital 265 NLRB No. 105
(requesting state licencing agency to inquire into Ee's professional behavior because she filed ULP charges with Bd, violative)

3350-9400 Refusal to employ, reemploye or recall from layoff

Royal Development Company, Limited 257 NLRB No. 149
(refusal to hire previously employed Ee for new opening because of his filing of ULP charge, unlawful)

Semetner Volkswagen Corporation 257 NLRB No. 038
(violation, where E withdrew offer to rehire supervisor as Ee because U filed ULP charges 2 weeks earlier alleging violation by E's refusal to hire him as Ee)

Clements Wire & Manufacturing Company, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 075
(discharging and refusing to reinstate leading U adherent because Ee invoked Bd processes, violative)

Civic Center Cleaning Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 110
(failing to employ Ee because he had filed ULP charges against previous E and U, violative)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(refusal to rehire unlawfully discharged U adherent, unlawful, where he made application for work at plant after discharge, and supervisor made it clear to him that he was not rehired because of his U activities and because ULP charges had been filed on his behalf)

Metropolitan Teletronic Corp. JD-(NY)-12-81
(conditioning Ee's reinstatement upon her withdrawing of charges before Bd and failing to reinstate her until she agreed to cause charges to be withdrawn, violative)

Planned Parenthood of Alameda and San Francisco Counties JD-(SF)-294-80
(refusing to hire Ee for hourly paid position where E had decided to eliminate salaried position held by Ee for business reasons and hire only on hourly basis, but had not hired replacement for Ee prior to time Ee had indicated willingness to take hourly paid position, and Ee had had no meaningful opportunity to submit application, unlawful, since refusal really for Ees' filing charges with NLRB)

Clements Wire and Manufacturing Company, Inc. JD-338-80
(E's refusal to reinstate leading U adherent, unlawful where she gave testimony at Bd proceeding and her name appeared on charges which E was aware of prior to date on which she was refused reinstatement)

Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center v. N.L.R.B 621 F.2d 510 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(health care institution's denial of full-time positions to doctors because of their filing charges with Bd, unlawful)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1168 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(E's call in system which had previously preferred relatives of its Ees and was later based upon seniority, allegedly because Ee filed charges with Bd against E, changed to merit system, not unlawful, where casuals had no contractual right to be called in to work at all or in any particular priority)

3350-9500 Isolation from other employees

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163

(violation where E isolated U adherents from other Ees by creating new shift for them after they returned to work pursuant to settlement agreement which was result of Ees invocation of Bd processes)

3350-9600 Opposing claim filed with other governmental agency

Haring Meats, Inc. JD-181-81

(opposing Ee's unemployment compensation claim because he filed ULP charge, violative)

3350-9700 Surveillance

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176

(surveillance by supervisors of Ee who was at U hall for purpose of giving testimony to Bd agent, violative)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066

3350-9800 Assault, abuse or harassment

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147

(requesting doctor's note from U adherent who had appeared at Bd hearing, not unlawful, where E had rule which clearly stated that anyone who is ill a day prior to day off must submit such note before restarting duty)

5000 FORMS OF DISCRIMINATION

5007 EMPLOYMENT REFERENCE

John Grissom, Mikos Doka-Suna, David Springer, and Richard Baker, A General Partnership d/
b/a Natural Heating Systems 252 NLRB No. 152

(denial of reference because Ee was attempting to organize Ees on behalf of one U while E was attempting to work out an arrangement with another U, violative)

5009 REQUIRING PHYSICAL, PSYCHOLOGICAL OR OTHER EXAMINATIONS

Southern California Gas Company 251 NLRB NO. 127

(discharge of Ee who refused to see E's doctor violative where no other Ee was ever terminated for such refusal and discharge occurred less than 2 weeks after Ee was threatened with termination for complaining to U about working conditions)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163

(violation where E required U adherents, who had invoked Bd processes and were recalled pursuant to settlement agreement, to take math tests and fill out new applications)

5010 ISSUANCE OF WARNING OR REPRIMAND LETTERS

Spring Valley Foods, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 182

(warning unlawful where it was issued to Ee because of his U activities rather than for insubordination when Ee told his wife not to pay attention to supervisor as alleged, since Ee and supervisor had often teased each other about their wives, and E siezed on this occasion to issue warning to Ee)

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 159

(issuance of warning letter to Ee assertedly for use of unauthorized color in painting his workplace, unlawful, where Ee, who acted as U observer and was otherwise ardent and active U supporter, was disciplined w/o opportunity to rebut charges, and E seized upon paint incident as pretext to punish Ee because of his U activities and to make it clear to him and others so inclined that advocacy of U would meet with same or similar treatment)

Winer Motors, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 185

(unilateral implementation of written warning system with its discriminatory application against pro-U Es, violative)

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO,
Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077

(no violation where regional director of E, a U, sent warning letter to its regional representative requesting explanation of his interference in the affairs of a local to which he was not assigned, since Bd found that warning letter was not in retaliation for his filing ULP charge and for his other protected activities but was, rather in response to complaints from officers of the local concerning his interference)

Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO,
Region 8 265 NLRB No. 077

(no violation where regional director of E, a U, sent letter to regional representative stating that his failure to pass out organizational material provided by E could have been reason it lost an election, since Bd found that letter was not in retaliation for regional representative's filing ULP charge and for his other protected activities but was merely a reminder to use organizational materials provided by E in future campaigns)

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011

(issuance of warning notice to Ee for unauthorized use of E's copying machine, unlawful, where ALJ found E violated 8(a)(1) when E told Ee a month later that such warning should be taken as a threat and that it was intended to show Ee what it would be like if Ees were represented by U; E's claim that warning was lawfully issued due to Ee's violation of unwritten company policy, rejected and, under the circumstances, E's admission regarding motive for warning was true reflection for motive underlying the warning)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146

(warning letters issued to U activists for infraction of E rule by overextending their lunch breaks, unlawful, notwithstand that similar punishment was given to Ees not actively supporting U, where extension of lunch break was common practice engaged in by supervisors and Ees, of which E was well aware; and, as shown by E's remarks in answer to Ee's inquiry about her similar situation, discipline of Ees herein was directly related to their U activities)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(warning letters and counselling various Ees for actions contrary to E's work rules and policies not violative where other Ees were warned and counselled for same offenses which were work related, were not discriminatory and did not involve Ees' protected activity)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128

(E's issuance of written warning to U activist for use of its truck and for use of its time for personal business, violative of 8(a)(3) where E showed anti-U motivation by referring to activist as source of its U problems)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128

(disciplinary report based on Ee's alleged failure to comply with earlier warning, violative of 8(a)(3), since earlier warning had been motivated by Ee's being believed to be the source of E's U problems and had violated 8(a)(3))

Kenco Plastics Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 194

(issuing written warning to U adherent for loitering around plant at time when E had observed Ee during unprecedented increase of visits to production area after U had filed representation ptn, violative, in view of E's knowledge of Ee's U activity, its expression of U animus, the precipitous timing of warning, and contrast between warning and E's previous apparent satisfaction with Ee's work)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 196

(issuance of reports to enforce unlawful no-distribution rule, unlawful)

Huntington Rubber Company, Division of New Idria, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 133

(warning letters issued to 3 U adherents, 2 of whom E had no knowledge of their U activity not violative where Ees had been harassing another Ee and E had legitimate reason to issue warning)

R. G. Barry Corporation 260 NLRB No. 023

(issuance of written warnings of suspension or termination to Ees for engaging in U solicitation during working time, unlawful, where warnings were contrary to E's progressive disciplinary system which was complied with in case of anti-U activities by other Ees and constituted a more severe reprimand than that given anti-U Ees; E did not possess good faith belief that Ees engaged in more serious misconduct than soliciting; and there was no reference to serious misconduct in warnings, no meaningful investigation, and no counseling of Ees required by E's personnel policies)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024

(issuance of disciplinary letters to Ee and loss of couple of days' pay for refusing to perform job assignment, unlawful, where actions were taken to punish Ee for insisting on pressing grievance and expressing determination to distribute U literature on plant premises; prior to Ee's refusal, Ee was selected to perform tedious and unpleasant menial job for unusually long period of 5-1/2 months, at same time E attempted to isolate Ee while so engaged, and E thereby calculated to deprive Ee of job satisfaction and to provoke him into refusing a work assignment which Ee finally did)

Webb Ford, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 062

(issuance of warnings because Ees filed grievances, unlawful)

Dimensions in Metal, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 078

(inserting reprimands in files of U adherents, assertedly for unauthorized absences, violative where reprimands were given for purpose of building case for their subsequent discriminatory discharge)

Arrow Automotive Industries 258 NLRB No. 116

(issuance of warning notices to and suspension and discharge of Ee allegedly for failure to communicate schedule delays, unlawful, where E never mentioned said failure to communicate until it found U literature in Ee's truck and admonished him about it)

Arrow Automotive Industries 258 NLRB No. 116

(issuance of written warnings about attendance and time spent off job, unlawful where purpose was to prevent Ee from attending U meeting and passing out U authorization cards at work)

Prentice-Hall, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 184

(E's warnings to U activist, unlawful where E failed to rebut evidence that E stated that Ee's attitude had created tension for six months, the same period of time that U campaign had lasted, that E's statement that these incidents must stop included reference to wearing of U buttons such as Ee wore, and that Ee was termed agitator by one supervisor)

5010—Cont.

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 194
(issuing warning letter to Ee in retaliation for his U activities, unlawful)

Brockwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 028
(reprimands of U activist, unlawful where reprimands came after U won election and were unprecedented in Ee's work history, and E failed to investigate mitigating factors)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045
(warnings unlawful where based on Ee's infraction of discriminatorily enforced unauthorized absence rule)

Borun Brothers, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Thrifty Corporation 257 NLRB No. 003
(issuance of written warnings in attempt to enforce invalid no-soliciation no-distribution rule, unlawful)

K-Mart Corporation 255 NLRB No. 112
(issuing warning to U adherent for not timely notifying personnel manager of absence, violative, where reason for warning was pretextual)

K-Mart Corporation 255 NLRB No. 112
(writing up interview with U adherent about wearing unsafe shoes to work w/o written excuse from doctor about Ee's severe foot problems and placing such record into E's personnel file, violative, where Ee had previously been told that doctor's excuse would not matter, and such write-up, contrary to E's contention, constituted disciplinary warning)

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(giving U supporter unwarranted written warning about being absent from work when she had been given permission for absence, unlawful)

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164
(written reprimand of Ee whom E knew was strong U adherent, for assisting another Ee concerning other Ee's job status held violative, since reprimand was in recrimination for U adherent's U activity although it was triggered by Ee's activity in aid of another Ee)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company 253 NLRB No. 003
(issuing written reprimands because of U activities, violative)

Reeves Rubber, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 026
(issuance of warning notice threatening termination for pro-U solicitation in work area on work time while permitting anti-U solicitation under same circumstances, unlawful)

Alfa Leisure, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 088
(issuance of warning notices to and suspension of Ee not violative where reason was Ee's lateness in returning from lunch after celebrating U victory in election for which he had been an observer, and for his insubordinate attitude)

Delta Faucet Company, a Division of Masco Corporation of Indiana 251 NLRB No. 071
(E giving Ee written warning and 3 day suspension in reprisal for his leading role in U organizational campaign, unlawful; E's contention that Ee produced less than other department Ees was pretext for warning and suspension)

United States Postal Service 251 NLRB No. 033
(issuance of written warnings for alleged insubordinate conduct during and after informal grievance meeting, violative, where conduct was not opprobious or extreme and Ees' continued discussion of grievance following meeting was part of res gestae of grievance meeting which had no consequential disruptive effect since Ees did return to work in response to direct order)

Bechtel Incorporated 248 NLRB No. 158
(E's issuance of warning slips for Ees' quitting early and subsequent discharge for their refusing to sign warning slips, not unlawful since discipline was for Ees' insubordinate refusal to obey supervisor's direct order to comply with work rules while eschewing available contractual grievance process)

Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 076
(giving Ee reprimands and subsequent suspension for allegedly abusing restroom policy unilaterally instituted, violative)

Chromalloy American Corporation-Liberty Radiator Division JD-(SF)-303-82
(supervisor's issuance of written warning for violation of plant rule against gambling unlawful, where plant rule had never been enforced and supervisor admittedly believed Ee was strike instigator and wanted to get rid of him and had threatened to issue warning in retaliation for Ee's filing of a grievance)

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-101-82
(E's issuing counselling letter to U vice president for inquiring of administrator outside chain of command about E's policies to determine whether fellow Ee had grounds for grievance, unlawful where vice president's conduct was consistent with his past practice and not specifically or inferentially prohibited by contract or otherwise, and chain of command rule was not shown to apply to his conduct or to justifiably be applied to concerted protected activity because of business considerations)

Oak Harbor Freight Lines, Inc. JD-(SF)-211-82
(issuing disciplinary letters to and imposing suspension on Ee, violative where Ee had instigated efforts to stop supervisor from doing unit work)

New York State United Teachers JD-(NY)-83-81
(reprimand of Ee who had filed grievance regarding Ees' job assignments which was then in arbitration for telling delegates of affiliated organizations of E about arbitration case and which E did not want divulged, violative, since Ee's remarks concerned grievance, did not disparage his E nor reach level of impropriety or disloyalty to E which would result in remarks losing its protected nature)

Ford Motor Company, Automotive Division, Twin Cities Plant JD-57-81
(issuing reprimand and warning to U caucus adherent because of her protests against one Ee's turning other Ees in and her association with U caucus, unlawful)

Ford Motor Company, Automotive Division, Twin Cities Plant JD-57-81
(issuing reprimands and warnings to Ee and placing warning in his file because he kept log of foremen doing U work, filed foreman-working grievances, and urged other Ees to do the same, unlawful)

U. S. Postal Service JD-(SF)-242-80
(supervisor held not to have threatened to retaliate against Ee because of U steward's insistence on investigating incident involving supervisor and Ee, or to have retaliated against attempts of U steward to investigate incident by issuing Ee a letter of warning, where Ee engaged in conduct which E reasonably viewed as insubordinate and supervisor immediately reported incident to his superiors at which time decision was made to discipline Ee, and such decision was reached several hours prior to steward's arrival at the scene)

Arvin Industries, Inc. JD-381-80
(issuance of written reprimands to Ees who attended U council meeting to discuss coordinated bargaining and to other Ees who attended U financial school after E had refused their request to be absent w/o pay violative, notwithstanding E's claim that such leave was not included in contractual leave provisions, since motivating reason for denying request was E's opposition to principle of coordinated bargaining; E had routinely granted leave for Ees to attend variety of U-related matters, and denying leave for Ees to attend financial school was to shore up a defense)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(issuing written warning to U adherent, violative; this was first written warning he had received for unsatisfactory work in his fifteen year career barely a week after announcing his support of U in presence of plant manager)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(although ct held record did not support Bd finding that two written warnings issued to U adherent unlawful, two other written warnings held unlawful since record supported discriminatory motivation in that E issued immediate warnings to U adherent for harassing fellow Ees while only giving anti-U Ee verbal warning for threatening and physically assaulting U adherent)

Pioneer Natural Gas Company v. N.L.R.B. 662 F.2d 408 (C.A. 5, Nov. 1981)
(reprimands not unlawful where decision-making supervisor had no knowledge of reprimandees' U activities)

Necker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(E's early issuance of oral and written warnings to discriminatee reinstated pursuant to Bd order following his initiation of Bd proceedings, unlawful; he alone was carefully supervised and given written, as well as oral, warnings for poor production; he was also assigned to job he was not accustomed to doing and reassigned to it even after accident to his hand impaired his ability to do it)

Necker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(writing up for slow production of discriminatee reinstated, pursuant to Bd order following his initiation of Bd proceedings, unlawful when no other E had been assigned to job he was assigned to for long time and discriminatee had just returned to work after being out with injured hand and had given E doctor's report stating that he had not fully recovered use of hand required in doing that job)

Coors Container Company v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 1283 (C.A.D.C.)
(reprimding Ee for engaging in protected activity of displaying sign urging boycott of E's product, unlawful; E's claim that verbal warning given Ee was not a written reprimand under its discipline and discharge policy, rejected)

5012 REFUSAL TO EMPLOY OR REEMPLOY

R & S Transport, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 069
(E's refusal to hire individuals based on adverse information obtained from individual's former E, not unlawful, where evaluations were not motivated by any U or protected activity on part of individuals, nor was E aware of any U activity on part of individuals known to E)

5012—Cont.

5012-0100 Generally

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 237 NLRB No. 843
(refusal to offer employment to and employ Ees at plant closed by lockout at new alter-ego operation violative where E failed to bargain with U over its decision to close first operation and open second as both actions together create inference that E's actions were clculated to discourage U membership)

5012-3000 After discharge, layoff, or suspension

American Pacific Concrete Pipe Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 139
(E who established alter ego in order to avoid its bargaining obligation and refused to recall laid-off Ees as required under collective-bargaining agreement with U violated Act)

Lee Industries 261 NLRB No. 166
(E's refusal to reinstate dischargee after U failed to assist her in filing grievance over her discharge because she was not U member not violative, where there was no basis for imputing to E knowledge of Ee's anti-U stance)

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(E's failure to reinstate U adherents who were temporarily laid off prior to first election for lack of work and failure to meet E's production standards, and then, prior to second election, conversion of such layoffs to permanent layoffs held violative where Ees were not advised of E's production standards and other Ees, who did not meet standards were retained in their jobs; customarily, Ees temporarily laid off for lack of work could expect to have been recalled when work picked up)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(denial of reemployment to two Ees pursuant to U's unconditional offer to return to work which it made on their behalf, violative, notwithstanding Ees had been lawfully laid off and then terminated, where both Ees were denied reemployment because they had engaged in picketing and other strike-related activities)

Stafford Construction Co. 250 NLRB No. 128
(refusal to reemploy U adherent because of his U activities violative)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(alleged breach of agreement to reinstate lawfully discharged Ee, not unlawful, where E's representative involved did not have either actual or apparent authority to bind E to such statement, and U also doubted representative's authority)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(refusal to rehire unlawfully discharged U adherents, unlawful, where numerous terminated Ees were rehired, there were numerous job vacancies and new hires during period in question, and E had no policy of automatically refusing to rehire discharged Ees)

Phillips Industries, Inc. Lee Division JD-424-82
(refusal to reinstate laid off Ee to former position because he filed grievance under collective-bargaining agreement violative)

Alpha Beta Company JD-201-82
(E's refusal to hire at one of its facilities truck driver who had been terminated, rehired and quit at another of E's facilities, lawful, notwithstanding contention refusal due to driver's U membership, where E showed he would have refused to hire Ee even absent his U membership, in view of his driving accident record, damage to goods and equipment, and poor attendance record when formerly employed by E)

Alpha Beta Company JD-201-82
(E's refusal to hire at one of its facilities Ees who had been laid off or formerly employed at another of its facilities at time when it was hiring at that facility, unlawful, since refusal due to Ees' U membership)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(refusal to rehire former U steward, who had held highest labor grade position at E's plant because he was hazard to himself and those around him, he had refused to work overtime and did not like overtime, held violative where E did not demonstrate refusal to rehire and would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected conduct; real motivation shown by unlawful interrogation of another Ee and comment that things would be quieter w/o him)

A & B Janitorial Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-81
(E's refusal to rehire Ee who was illegal alien, unlawful, notwithstanding contention employment of illegal alien would be illegal, since Bd has authority to order reinstatement of illegal aliens and E motivated by Ee's grieving discharge, and would not have reached same decision absent protected conduct in view of fact E had knowingly hired illegal aliens in past and had never exhibited concern with compliance with law as could have been shown by demanding green card rather than relying on assertion of applicant)

N.L.R.B. v. Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 635 NL[illegible] 312 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(E's suspension of Ee, engaged in U activities, for receiving speeding ticket driving E's vehicle and subsequent decision not to recall Ee, not unlawful, where after suspension E confirmed its information regarding Ee's speeding violations and learned E's motor vehicle record was encumbered with points as a result, which let insurer to take the position that Ee was virtually uninsurable; Bd must affirmatively show why E rejected good cause for discharge and chose a bad one, but it failed to do so herein)

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(although striking Ees who were terminated before effective date of health care amendments and were not entitled to reinstatement as returning Ees with right of restoration of seniority and other rights and privileges arising from former relationship, ct held that E discriminated against such Ees, who had made application for new employment with E after effective date of health care amendments, by refusing to hire the former Ees because of their prior concerted U activity)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(ALJ who, as trier of fact, may choose between conflicting views of evidence, properly found w/o merit E's business justification for making new hires instead of recalling unlawfully discharged Ee, purportedly because of E's policy not to reassign personnel from one job classification to another)

5012-3500 After leave of absence

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp.,
Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(known U protagonist)

Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. 231 NLRB No. 125
(refusal to reinstate U adherent at conclusion of ULP strike after she had been on leave due to illness and hospitalization violative, where E was aware of Ee's participation in strike, and untimeliness of Ee's notification to E of her continued interest in job as E's reason for failure to reinstate was pretextual)

Chromalloy American Corporation-Liberty Radiator
Division JD-(SF)-308-82
(violation where, although E had reinstated non-ULP striker to his former position as dispatcher after he returned from the strike, it refused to reinstate him to that position again after he stayed out from work 5-6 weeks on disability on doctor's orders, hired a replacement dispatcher 3 days before his return, offered him only a driver's position on return and failed to prove that it would have taken these actions had its supervisor not been hostile due to his belief that the striker had instigated the strike)

5012-3800 After filing of grievance

Royal Development Company, Limited 257 NLRB No. 149
(refusal to hire previously employed Ee for new opening because of his filing of grievances and ULP charge, unlawful)

Valley Cabinet & Mfg., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 098
(refusal to consider reemployment for Ee discharged at U's request for nonpayment of dues violative where E acted in retaliation for grievances Ee had filed before her discharge)

A & B Janitorial Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-169-81
(E's refusal to rehire Ee who was illegal alien, unlawful, notwithstanding contention employment of illegal alien would be illegal, since Bd has authority to order reinstatement of illegal aliens and E motivated by Ee's grieving discharge, and would not have reached same decision absent protected conduct in view of fact E had knowingly hired illegal aliens in past and had never exhibited concern with compliance with law as could have been shown by demanding green card rather than relying on assertion of applicant)

Albertson's Inc. JD-(SF)-104-80
(no violation, where E would have faced problems trying at another store to hire Ee who had filed grievance, because of E's full work force)

5012-3900 After voluntary quit

Inland Steel Company 257 NLRB No. 013
(refusal to hire violative, where E gave false reason and during Ee's prior employment E exhibited hostility to ee's participation in protected activity)

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 089
(E violated Act where reason for denial of reemployment after voluntary quit, pretextual, and Ees' U activity real cause)

Tarmac Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(refusal to rehire U adherent who had resigned twice, violative, since reason for refusal to rehire was Ee's U adherence, where E had promulgated no policy against rehire of Ees who had resigned twice, and in view of E's other unlawful conduct)

Alpha Beta Company JD-201-82
(E's refusal to hire at one of its facilities truck driver who had been terminated, rehired and quit at another of E's facilities, lawful, notwithstanding contention refusal due to driver's U membership, where E showed he would have refused to hire Ee even absent his U membership, in view of his driving accident record, damage to goods and equipment, and poor attendance record when formerly employed by E)

5012-3900—Cont.

L & N Custom Design, Inc. JD-(SF)-50-82
(supervisor's failure to rehire Ee who had voluntarily quit because of pregnancy, held not due to her prior U activities (as allegedly had been stated to her by supervisor) where alleged unlawful motivation was refuted by fact that E had previously reemployed Ee after her U activity)

Ferry Cap & Set Screw Company JD-671-80
(refusal to rehire or recall Ee who, after being unlawfully suspended for walking off his job, voluntarily quit, not violative, where there was no direct evidence that Ee was refused rehire for discriminatory reasons; refusal to rehire Ee was based in large part upon fact that Ee had walked out immediately after giving his 2-week notice of quitting)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)
(where U activist quit in protest over discharge of another U activist, refusal to rehire was not violative as his quit was serious breach of his employment obligation in that E was left with only one of three furnaces attended)

5012-4000 Discriminatory hiring practice (See also Union Security Requirements 524-5090)

Dunmor Company d/b/a Madison South Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 106
(violation, where E attempted to dissipate unit or undermine U's majority by failing to fill vacant positions in unit)

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 259 NLRB No. 019
(hiring Ees for new plant after unit Ees rejected proposed contract rather than moving unit Ees from closed facility to new location as previously intended, violative)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(E's refusal to hire individual, unlawful, since rejection based on fact he was U apprentice that U's business agent had requested E hire; contention that E did not discriminate because 10 days later he hired another Ee with same name, rejected, in view of E questioning latter individual before hiring and ascertaining he was not U member is evidence that E knew hired Ee was not same individual business agent requested)

Central Transport, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 198
(refusal to hire applicant because he previously worked for organized E, violative)

Galax Apparel Corporation 247 NLRB No. 026
(refusal to rehire Ees, violative, where E was prepared to rehire Ees as its records indicated, but retracted employment offer after receipt of U telegram informing E of organizing campaign and that members of Ees' family were part of U organizing committee)

Corbin-Dykes Electric Company JD-(SF)-208-82
(refusing to rehire Ee and placing Ee on E's ineligible for rehire list because he complained about safety of wiring in transfer switch box, violative, since complaints constituted protected concerted activity where safe operation of switch box was matter of common concern to other Ees who were obliged to operate switch; and moreover, Ee's complaints were also based on what Ee perceived to be violation of collective bargaining agreement which did not require Ees to perform work not in conformity with National Electrical Code and therefore, Ee was acting on behalf of all unit Ees and was engaged in protected concerted activity)

Ryder Truck Lines, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-82
(violation, where E refused to hire Ee as casual Ee because he was not current in his dues payments to U)

5012-5000 To avoid bargaining obligation

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068
(using subcontractor rather than recalling picketers for available work so as not to deal with U, violative)

American Pacific Concrete Pipe Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 139
(E who established alter ego in order to avoid its bargaining obligation and refused to recall laid-off Ees as required under collective-bargaining agreement with U violated Act)

M & G Convoy, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 145
(failing and refusing to transfer to new facility any former Ees of closed facility, violative as decision accomplished no legitimate business goal because it required hiring inexperienced Ees who required 3 weeks training and was motivated by E's expressed desire to keep new facility pure of U Ees at closed facility whom E viewed as troublemakers because they actively enforced contract terms)

Ah Cha Company 259 NLRB No. 025
(refusal to hire Ees of predecessor E after transfer of lease violative where sole reason for refusal was Ees membership in U which had represented them prior to transfer of lease; moreover where this refusal diluted U's majority and E refused to bargain with it E also violated Sec. 8(a)(5))

Servair, Inc. and Servair Maintenance, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 098
(winning contractor's refusal to hire losing contractor's Ees who are members of one U and constitute separate bargaining unit from E's other Ees because they refused to join U representing extant unit violative)

G and M Lath and Plaster Co., Inc. and Its Alter Ego, Central Texas Lath & Plastering Inc.; et al. 282 NLRB No. 137
(corporation and its alter ego's refusal to retain Ees on project doing plaster work, violative where president of corporation decided to make project non-U after corporation left completion of project, because of financial problems, to alter ego under supervision of corporate president)

Marvin J. Schiff Trust R-501, Marvin J. Schiff, Trustee, d/b/a Nevada Palace Casino & Motor Inn JD-(SF)-277-81
(terminating Ee, member of U, because E was a non-U hotel or that E was under new management, non-U house, held violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(successor E's refusal to hire Ees of predecessor who were members of local U with which predecessor E had contract, and who would have composed majority of Ees in unit represented by local at time bargaining obligation arose, unlawful, since refusal for purpose of avoiding recognition and bargaining)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(E's refusal to retain Ees because they were U members and E wanted to avoid incurring duty to bargain with their U, unlawful; E let entire engineering staff go although he needed at least one experienced engineer to correct malfunction in air-conditioning system)

5012-7000 Because of known union activities

Haco Engineering Company 265 NLRB No. 002
(refusal to hire former Ee because of his activity as U steward, violative)

Central Storage and Transfer Co. of Harrisburg 263 NLRB No. 089
(E's refusal to hire former Ee because it was aware that discriminatee was member of Teamsters for a Democratic U a reform group w/i U and opposed E's training program, length of workday and notion of giving up negotiated benefits if necessary to sustain economically troubled company, violative, as this refusal based on his expression of protected U-related matters including advocating strict adherence to Master Freight Agreement)

Atlas Railroad Construction Co. 262 NLRB No. 156
(refusal to reemploy Ee because of his prior activities as U steward, violative)

H. B. Zachry Company 261 NLRB No. 098
(refusal to rehire laid-off Ee who had been told by foreman to show up and he would be hired, unlawful where admitted reason was that Ee had signed U card)

H. B. Zachry Company 261 NLRB No. 098
(refusal to employ applicant because of his close relationship to U activists, including a brother, on job site, unlawful)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(removal of 6 temporary Ees from regular part-time Ee list because they were not available for work on specified day, violative where reason for such action was based on fact that two of temporaries attended final U meeting before election)

Transportation Management Corporation 258 NLRB No. 061
(refusal to hire known U organizers for summer months and also for refusal to continue their regular employment in fall)

Sunstar Volkswagen Corporation 257 NLRB No. 038
(where U steward was appointed supervisor with promise that he would be transferred to Ee status if he didn't like new job, E's refusal to rehire him as Ee held violative as apparent reason was Ee's potential for strengthening U's status as representative of rank-and-file Ees)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(refusal to hire Ee because she had engaged in picketing activity violative whether or not she was incumbent Ee)

Pine Valley Meats, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 061
(refusal to rehire U adherent, violative)

Wyman-Gordon Company 252 NLRB No. 160

Franklin Fouts, d/b/a B & F Cartage 251 NLRB No. 068
(successor E's refusal to employ predecessors Ees who were U adherents, violative; predecessors knowledge of such Ees' U sentiments was imputed to successor where anti-U reasons for predecessor's leaving business was clearly made known to successor)

Cedar Coal Company 251 NLRB No. 081
(refusal to rehire former Ee who had been militant U supporter, violative, where refusal based on E's fear that E would cause trouble for it)

5012-7000—Cont.

Stafford Construction Co. 260 NLRB No. 128

Kenneth and Mary M. McGloughlin, Copartners, d/ b/a Hudson-High Super Duper 247 NLRB No. 199
(refusal to hire qualified job applicant because he was on strike at store where held part time job held violative where applicant's overall qualifications for position were unchallenged by E)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(refusal to rehire U adherent who had resigned twice, violative, since reason for refusal to rehire was Ee's U adherence, where E had promulgated no policy against rehire of Ees who had resigned twice, and in view of E's other unlawful conduct)

Avon Mirror & Distributing Co. 247 NLRB No. 033
(E who refused to hire former U organizer because of his background violated Act)

Alpha Beta Company JD-201-82
(E's refusal to hire at one of its facilities truck driver who had been terminated, rehired and quit at another of E's facilities, lawful, notwithstanding contention refusal due to driver's U membership, where E showed he would have refused to hire Ee even absent his U membership, in view of his driving accident record, damage to goods and equipment, and poor attendance record when formerly employed by E)

Alpha Beta Company JD-201-82
(E's refusal to hire at one of its facilities Ees who had been laid off or formerly employed at another of its facilities at time when it was hiring at that facility, unlawful, since refusal due to Ees' U membership)

Transportation Manpower Services of Ohio, Inc. JD-(SF)-192-82
(successor E's refusal to hire Ees of predecessor for anti-U reasons, violative)

Carbin-Dykes Electric Company JD-(SF)-208-82
(refusing to rehire Ee and placing Ee on E's ineligible rehire list because he previously visited jobsite in presence of U official, violative)

Southland Corporation JD-341-82
(refusal to hire applicant who had taken grievance to arbitration on prior job not violative where E based decision on arbitrator's findings, supplied by former E in response to reference request, that discharge was lawfully based on poor attendance and emotional instability)

Butterfield Homes, Inc. JD-(SF)-181-82
(denying applicant employment because of his past activities on behalf of a U, violative)

Sahara Packing Company JD-(SF)-95-82
(E violated Act by withdrawing offer and refusing to hire applicant who had been member of U on his previous job)

Shelby Processing Company, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Fusano Industries JD-191-82
(successor E, who (using majority of predecessor's Ees) made same ultimate product as did predecessor albeit using changed processing (fresh apples rather than frozen) and packaging procedures, violated Act by refusing to hire and recall those Ees (of predecessor E) who were officials of incumbent U; credible evidence in record did not show legitimate and lawful considerations for successor E's determination or that such action would have taken place in absence of Ees' protected activity)

Don Dzekciorius, Stan Dzek, and Al Dzekciorius d/ b/a Multi Purpose Coatings Company JD-636-81
(E's refusal to hire Ee, assertedly because he was poor worker and inexperienced, violative, where real reason was because he had frequently made his attitude of strict adherence to U contract well known by repeated refusals to work for E under non-U conditions)

U.S. Postal Service JD-(SF)-268-81
(E's refusal to hire U steward as postal inspector, not violative, notwithstanding factors related to Ee's protected activities were considered by E, where E demonstrated that even absent those impermissible considerations, E's unfavorable action would have been the same)

Trapier Bros., Inc. -(SF)-274-80
(failure to hire applicant not violative where it was not, as contended, because of his membership in or support of U, but rather because of his proclivity for starting fights with his fellow workers)

Elco Electric, Inc. JD-530-80
(violation where E refused to hire applicant because of his filing grievance alleging U contract infraction by E on prior job rather than, as contended, because of his tardiness or poor productivity during prior employment with E)

Tourism and Development Corporation d/b/a Newport Jai Alai JD-260-80
(E's refusal to reemploy Ee, lawful, notwithstanding E's knowledge of Ee's U activity, where Ee had been insubordinate and E had changed Ee's work schedule after U election, action it was not required to take, thus belying any animus against Ee because of her U activity)

Beech Aircraft Corporation JD-612-79
(no violation where E refused to hire applicant not because, as contended, she had joined strike against previous E but because of her adverse medical history)

Reed Equipment, Inc. JD-616-79
(no violation where E refused to hire 15 applicants not because, as asserted, it was impelled by knowledge that they were members of U and it's desire to avoid dealing with such U, but rather because none met E's established qualifications or standards)

Wyman-Gordon Company v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 134 (C.A. 1, 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(finding of violation in refusal to rehire discharged Ee depends on assessment of E's motives at time of refusal and must be for different reasons than for discharge if discharge occurred outside 10(b) period)

Kenneth & Mary M. McGlaughlin, Co-Partners, d/ b/a Hudson-High Super Duper v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 673 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(questioning job applicant about his U activities and refusing to hire him violative notwithstanding job opening did not turn out to exist)

N.L.R.B. v. La-Z-Boy Tennessee 623 F.2d 30 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(although striking Ees who were terminated before effective date of health care amendments and were not entitled to reinstatement as returning Ees with right of restoration of seniority and other rights and privileges arising from former relationship, ct held that E discriminated against such Ees, who had made application for new employment with E after effective date of health care amendments, by refusing to hire the former Ees because of their prior concerted U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Pfizer, Inc. 629 F.2d 1272 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(E's refusal to hire laborer for vacant position where reference check disclosed former E found him to be trouble maker, mentioned his U activities and stated would not rehire Ee not violative where evidence to support finding of E's U animous based on inferences and not supported by substantial evidence)

Karl Kallmann, d/b/a Love's Barbeque Restaurant, No. 62 v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1094 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(successor E's refusal to hire former Ees because of their U affiliation, violative)

Osteopathic Hospital Founders Association, d/b/a Oklahoma Osteopathic Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 633 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(when plant director offered two U members jobs shortly after interview and subsequently, upon discovering that they were U members, informed them that he would not know whether he could hire them but would contact them that evening after he had discussed their application with chief engineer, plant director's failure to call U members thereafter regarding employment at E, violative)

5012-7050 Of relatives

Delta Hosiery, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 139
(E's failure to hire sister of Ee after telling her the day before that her sister was hired and should report for work violative, since E's reason for change of position was Ee's possible support of U as indicated in her answer to E's poll on the subject and E's concern over U's professed majority status and its request for recognition)

Motor Freight Express, Inc. JD-531-80
(E's refusal to continue to hire casual employee, brother of active U steward, violative where motivated by relationship to steward)

5012-7600 Refusal to hire predecessor's employees

Wintz Motor Freight, Inc./Wintz Transportation Company/U.S. Trustee William Westphal 260 NLRB No. 111
(violation where E, found successor herein, terminated and refused to accept employment applications from or to rehire all represented Ees of predecessor E while retaining unrepresented Ees)

Premium Foods, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 092
(successor E's exclusion of predecessor's Ees from its work force, not unlawful, where successor E selected personnel which it believed would work in harmony to achieve efficiency and good customer relations so that success of new venture would be enhanced and threat of financial loss minimized; E excluded Ees not because of their U or concerted activity but because it felt they would hinder rather than contribute to its objectives; and E, therefore, sustained burden of showing that exclusion would have occurred even if Ees had never engaged in U or concerted activities)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(where successor E operating nursing home interviewed but never hired nurse who was U member employed by predecessor, E held to have unlawfully failed to hire Ee because it sought to get rid of all U supporters as soon as possible; E's asserted reason for not retaining Ee, on ground that she had abused patients, held pretextual since, during approximately 3 years that nurse had worked for predecessor, there was no convincing proof that she was unsatisfactory Ee)

5012-7600—Cont.

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(failure of successor E operating nursing home to hire Ees who were U members employed by predecessor E, assertedly because E was overstaffed and Ees lived too far away from work and had no telephones, unlawful, since E's purpose was to undermine U; at the time E could not know that he would be overstaffed, other Ees lived farther away from work, and there was no showing why telephone issue suddenly became a problem; moreover, E was required to negotiate with U on which Ees, if any, should be laid off)

Vantage Petroleum Corp. 247 NLRB No. 202
(where E obtained state contract to operate gas stations previously managed by two companies and decided, before being approached by station attendants then working at the gas stations, that it would hire its own Ees complements rather than Ees then working at gas stations and that it would pay Ees according to its own wage structure starting from minimum wage, E's subsequent failure to hire former Ees of its predecessor gas companies who were represented by U, not violative, since E was not successor E to any of the gas companies and its actions did not result from U animus)

Croley Coal Corporation JD-285-82
(refusing to employ predecessor's Ees because they refused to abandon their U membership violative)

John Campbell t/d/b/a Chef John's Restaurant JD-49-81
(refusing to hire predecessor's Ees who picketed facility on behalf of U, violative)

5012-7700 Refusal to hire because of union opposition

Berry-Mahurin Construction, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 171
(refusal of E who had relied on U's referrals for Ees to hire qualified individual whom U had refused to refer because individual was not member of Local U and sought job directly with E rather than through U, unlawful)

Central Transport, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 130
(no unlawful constructive refusal to hire where E's vice-president stated to applicant who had been involved in intra-U rivalry that if after applicant was hired U requested applicant's discharge E's owner would direct vice-president to discharge applicant since vice-president did not intend to cause applicant to cease seeking employment but was merely speaking realistically and was trying to help applicant solve problem with U)

Carpenters, Local # 308 v. N.L.R.B. 690 F.2d 661 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(Bd's holding that E instructing applicant who was unlawfully refused referral by local U because of non-membership in local to straighten out problem with U and then come back, unlawful where supported by substantial evidence, since Bd's interpretation of statement as conditioning hiring on resolution of dispute was reasonable and thus acquiescence in local's unlawful refusal to refer, particularly where E knew U unlawfully used dues authorization forms as referral slips)

5012-7900 Refusal to hire because of lack of union membership

C. B. Display Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140
(E which refused to hire former U member because U refused to refer him from exclusive hiring hall violated Act where U's refusal to refer was unlawful since no U-security clause and E knew reason for refusal to refer was lack of U membership)

Berry-Mahurin Construction, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 171
(refusal of E who had relied on U's referrals for Ees to hire qualified individual whom U had refused to refer because individual was not member of Local U and sought job directly with E rather than through U, unlawful)

Carpenters, Local # 308 v. N.L.R.B. 690 F.2d 661 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(Bd's holding that E instructing applicant who was unlawfully refused referral by local U because of non-membership in local to straighten out problem with U and then come back, unlawful where supported by substantial evidence, since Bd's interpretation of statement as conditioning hiring on resolution of dispute was reasonable and thus acquiescence in local's unlawful refusal to refer, particularly where E knew U unlawfully used dues authorization forms as referral slips)

5012-8000 Use of application form requiring disclosure of union membership

N.L.R.B. v. Bighorn Beverage 614 F.2d 1238 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(where employment agency used application forms containing questions about applicant's U activities, E violated Act when it took no action to alleviate impression these forms made on applicants)

5017 Imposition of illegal conditions of employment (See also 524-5090)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(E's conditioning reinstatement of two unlawfully discharged U adherents upon relinquishment of right to support U in election, unlawful)

5017-1400 Abandonment of concerted activities

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(even if language of E's mailgram to strikers found violative of 8(a)(3) and (1), had created an ambiguity regarding strikers' employment status, burden of results of ambiguity must fall on E; from perspective of striking Ees, mailgram conveyed message that, if Ees did not abandon strike and report for work by specified date, they would no longer be in E's employ)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E's mailgram to striking Ees held unlawful attempt to break ULP strike by conditioning strikers continued employment upon their abandonment of strike, and mailgram unlawfully discharged strikers, in view of clear language of mailgram, E's subsequent conduct when it admitted that it deemed strikers to have quit their jobs upon their failure to report for work in response to mailgram, E's subsequent letter to strikers offering them reinstatement if they unconditionally abandoned strike immediately, and E's telling Ees upon their return to work that they were new hires and writing new hires on their time cards)

5017-2800 Abandonment of union activities or membership

Stafford Construction Co. 250 NLRB No. 120

Alabama By-Products Corporation JD-(ATL)-49-82
(requiring U representative for grievances to resign from committee and agree to accept no U position except recording secretary as price for reducing discharge to suspension, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Regis Paper Company 674 F.2d 104 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(coercing U member at non-U facility into resigning from U in order to avoid transfer to facility covered under collective bargaining agreement, violative)

5017-3500 Prematurely recognized union

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(unlawfully executed contract because it covered inappropriate unit and contained U-security clause)

5017-4200 Requiring union membership in favored organization

Servair, Inc. and Servair Maintenance, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 093
(winning contractor's refusal to hire losing contractor's Ees who are members of one U and constitute separate bargaining unit from E's other Ees because they refused to join U representing extant unit violative)

Knit Tuck Welt Ltd. JD-(NY)-42-81
(requiring Ees to join and maintain membership in favored U as condition of continued employment, unlawful)

5017-4500 Acceptance of wages and conditions of employment less than those provided for in contract

Finger Lakes Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc. 253 NLRB NO. 049
(E's conditioning employment on acceptance of wages and conditions of employment substantially inferior to those in expired U contract, unlawful)

5020 HARASSMENT OF UNION ADHERENTS

5020-3300 By employees

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 037
(discharge of U committeemen because other Ees would not work with them, violative)

5020-6000 By employer

Ebb Tide Processing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 100
(where Ee had transferred to avoid supervisor's retaliation for Ee's complaints that supervisor disregarded seniority in selecting Ees for layoffs and recalls, supervisor's having Ee reassigned to his department briefly each day to be his washer woman as part of campaign of harrassment against her, unlawful)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(forcing Ee to work harder and take fewer breaks than other Ees, and issuing Ee trumped up reprimands, unlawful, since for Ee's U adherance)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(assault and battery committed on Ee because of his remarks concerning U violative)

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164
(suspension and discharge of U adherent assertedly because she was absent from work w/o authorization and for her insubordination held violative where Ee's U sympathies were source of discomfort to manager who felt Ee's duties as his secretary were incompatible with her having U representation and E was intent upon building case against Ee; she was considered by manager to be very productive and valuable Ee)

Fremont Auto Center, Inc. d/b/a Fremont Mazda JD-(SF)-13-81
(forcing U adherents to submit to false credit checks, violative, where E's intention was to harass Ees to provoke them to quit)

5023 IMPOSITION OF DISCRIMINATORY WORKING CONDITIONS

5023-1200 Less desirable job or work shifts

Dannenely-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 112

(funeral home instructing Ees to clean chapel on day after election, not unlawful, since not in retaliation for their votes, where chapel was dirty and needed cleaning and no services scheduled)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128

(replacing U activist's daytime delivery duties with demeaning nighttime chores resulting in his isolation from other Ees whom E did not want him to influence, violative of 8(a)(3) where due to his U activities)

St. Alphonsus Hospital 261 NLRB No. 091

(reassigning U adherent from weekend to weekday day shift because of his U activities and because he voted in representational election, violative)

Caffe Giovanni, Inc. d/b/a Giovanni's 259 NLRB No. 031

(alleged assignment of waiter at E's restaurant to less desirable work stations because of his U activities, not unlawful, where Ee was often assigned to more desirable waiter stations, and after U lost election, such assignments were most lucrative with tips being equal to, if not greater than, at comparable time period during preceding year)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024

(treatment of Ee for insisting on pressing grievance and expressing determination to distribute U literature on plant premises, unlawful, where selection of Ee to perform tedious and unpleasant menial job for unusually long period of 5-1/2 months, including other similar jobs, and attempt to isolate Ee while so engaged, was claculated to deprive him of job satisfaction and to provoke him into refusing a work assignment, which Ee finally did, resulting in issuance of disciplinary letters and loss of pay)

Leisure Time Tours, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 128

(assignment of U adherent to less desirable work, occurring w/o regard to seniority and contrary to E's past practice, and w/o explanation by E as to why it chose to make this assignment at that time, held violative, since assignment was made in retaliation for Ee's having engaged in U activities and in order to create setting for his eventual discharge)

Sunise Care, Inc. d/b/a Parkview Acres Convalescent Center 255 NLRB No. 149

(requiring one of most active U adherents to work less desirable shift than she had previously worked, violative)

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 255 NLRB No. 010

(E who assigned U adherent maintenance work rather than his usual repair work, reduced his hours more than Ee desired to be reduced, conditioned his employment on hourly pay cut constructively discharged Ee)

Republic Die and Tool Company 252 NLRB No. 092

(assigning U adherent to spotting press work, admittedly the most undesirable work of diemaker, violative)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139

(E's assigning Ee to full-time duty on chopsaw and preventing him from performing leadperson function's because of his U activities and sympathies, violative)

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073

(reassignment of U officer from machine operation where her work and performance were satisfactory, to bench work which was distasteful to her, held violative, where purpose was to discourage Ee so she would quit)

Cable Vision, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 062

(assignment to stand-by position of known U activist hired as installer with understanding that as installer he would not have to work standby position held unlawful as discriminatory assignment and constructive discharge where E knew that assignment would interfere with Ee's outside work and E quit as result

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087

(suddenly transferring waiter and U organizer from his first choice station to another station for no reason and w/i 5 days after headwaiter learned of Ee's attending U meeting held violative)

Earl Kahne d/b/a Pransky's E & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167

(violations where E transferred U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing to store in less desirable location, reduced their working hours to times when they could not use public transportation, added onerous janitorial duties and then discharged them)

General Warehouse Corp. 247 NLRB No. 142

(assignment of more onerous and undesirable work to leader of Ee movement rejecting E's request for Ees' waiver of cost of living increase held violative)

General Meats, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 153

(harassment and assignment to less desirable job of Ee who asked critical questions at E sponsored meeting called to discuss profit sharing plan, found violative and her subsequent quitting found constructive discharge)

Bell Industries, Inc. JD-479-81

(discontinuing U adherent's sharing of truckdriving duties with E's regular truckdriver after driver's return following illness and assigning adherent to packing orders, unlawful, in view of E's U animus and fact change made w/i few days after receiving R ptn, particularly where a few days prior to receiving ptn E had informed Ees that rotation of driving between them would continue)

Oak Harbor Freight Lines, Inc. JD-(SF)-211-82

(reassigning Ee driver to less desirable route, violative where Ee had instigated efforts to stop supervisor from doing unit work)

Ford Motor Company, Automotive Division, Twin Cities Plant JD-57-81

(disqualifying Ee for certain positions and transferring him to lower-paying jobs, more difficult job, odd jobs and labor pool jobs because he kept log of foremen doing U work, filed foreman-working grievances, and urged other Ees to do the same, violative)

Penz Tool and Manufacturing Co., Inc. JD-644-80

(transfer of U adherent to less desirable job, not unlawful where transfer was based upon economic considerations and attempt to cut back in areas of employment where possible)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 928 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(removal of U adherent from driving assignment after U representatives communicated desire for recognition held violative where timing and circumstances supported finding that action was retribution for Ees U activities)

5023-1900 Closer supervision

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157

(E's unlawfully increased work surveillance and supervision shortly after U card signing, where supervisor whose duties previously had taken him over wider area tended to remain in work area of U adherents; kept close watch, and particularly if any Ee stopped, telling them to get back to work and not to leave area)

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164

(suspension and discharge of U adherent assertedly because she was absent from work w/o authorization and for her insubordination held violative where Ee's U sympathies were source of discomfort to manager who felt Ee's duties as his secretary were incompatable with her having U representation and E was intent upon building case against Ee; she was considered by manager to be very productive and valuable Ee)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153

(changing location, during U campaign, of coffeebreaks from Ees' cafeteria to E's maintenance department in order to more closely observe Ees, not violative where record contained insufficient evidence to show E's motives were for purpose proscribed by Act)

General Meats, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 153

(having special sign-in-out sheet whenever Ee left for nonwork purposes)

Oscar Roberts Company JD-334-82

(Ee hired just to watch discriminatee at work and report his observations to management)

5023-3300 More onerous conditions

T. L. C. Lines, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 150

(imposing more onerous working conditions by no longer allowing Ees to clean up and put away their tools before end of shift to discourage U support, violative)

Tru-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 009

(E's propogating oral and written work rules, after election of U, prohibiting smoking, personal telephone calls and reception of visitors on company premises, etc. which rules were more arduous and onerous than work rules in effect before advent of U held violative, since rules were propogated solely in retaliation for Ees' voting for U)

Gayston Corporation 265 NLRB No. 001

(assignment of known U activist to what to her constituted more onerous work in that it caused her to break out in a rash and resulted in her taking a forced leave of absence, unlawful)

Ford Paint and Varnish Company 264 NLRB No. 156

(transferring U adherent to dirty, more arduous position violative)

Service Spring Company, A Division of Garlock, Inc., A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Colt Industries 263 NLRB No. 183

(E whose new president implemented more rigid enforcement of discipline with respect to absenteeism and production mistakes coincident with U winning election did not violate Act where evidence established that policy was undertaken by E in attempt to improve production efficiency)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128

(requiring U activist to wear hard hat at all times when in warehouse, unlawful where it was motivated by his U activities)

5023-3300—Cont.

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115
(institution of requirement that Ee advise supervisor each time they intended to use bathroom, unlawful in context of antiU diatribe after U demand for recognition)

Amoco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/ Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 038
(taking away helper who assisted Ee when required)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(U Ees who quit their employment, in response to E's announcement that E was going non U and E asking Ees how they felt about it, held to have been constructively discharged, since E's conduct in support of statement were onerous changes in Ees' working conditions; E hired non U Ees to do work of U Ees and told Ees to give up U or give up work)

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company 258 NLRB No. 008
(imposing onerous and undesirable working conditions on Ee because of his activities as U steward, unlawful)

Kenosh Konner, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 008
(requiring truck department Ees all of whom had signed U cards and taken part in strike to use only front door of department when leaving and to refrain from leaving premises at any time during working hours, violative)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(cutting Ee's overtime and changing his work hours so as to impose more arduous working conditions upon him immediately after his U activity, violative)

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(E's conduct in assigning more arduous job tasks in retaliation against Ees because of their support of U, unlawful)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(leading U advocate being assigned to undesireable night shift, his demotion, disciplinary reprimands and eventual discharge held unlawful where valid grounds for E's actions were frequently false or exaggerated, adverse action against Ee occurred when Ee became in-plant spokesman for U and Ee who opposed advocate's election to U office was more tenderly treated for his acts of misconduct)

Overnite Transportation Company 254 NLRB No. 011
(instructing dispatcher to assign more onerous work to suspected U adherent, violative)

Omark-RCBS, A Division of Omark Industries 252 NLRB No. 089

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(violation where supervisor prohibited Ees of certain department from using restrooms between breaks w/o prior permission or doctor's certificate, and from smoking in their cars with windows rolled down, because of known U activities of large majority department)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(violations where E transferred U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing to store in less desireable location, reduced their working hours to times when they could not use public transportation, added onerous janitorial duties and then discharged them)

Sherwood-Trimble Medical Building 247 NLRB No. 160
(requiring U adherent to take breaks only at scheduled time, to record what she did in short segments, and restricting U adherent to her desk and extending restriction to others to disguise motivation, unlawful)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-292-80
(directing pump operator to squeegee out railroad tank cars allegedly for his refusal to withdraw several grievances, not unlawful, where evidence showed that it was standard requirement for Ees working as pump operators to use squeegees if vacuum pump did not completely empty car of its contents)

N.L.R.B. v. La-Z-Boy Tennessee 623 F.2d 20 (C.A. 6, June 1980)

5023-4100 Restrictions on coffee breaks

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 255 NLRB No. 010
(eliminating break time in retaliation for losing election)

5023-5000 Production quotas

Service Spring Company A Division of Garlock, Inc. A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Colt Industries JD-123-82
(imposing production standards on U activist that it did not impose on other Ees, violative)

5023-6700 Allotment of work

Standard Motor Products, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 060
(alleged assignment of more onerous work to active U adherent, not unlawful, since E rebutted GC's prima facie case based on timing of assignment, arduous nature of work assigned, and E's U animus, where record showed that job assignments were not more onerous, and Ee raised no objection thereto; moreover, work assigned was reasonably necessary to be performed, and similar work was assigned to other Ees)

Ford Paint and Varnish Company 264 NLRB No. 156
(removal of U adherent from job which has resulted in his earning several hours overtime per week violative)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(forcing Ee to work harder and take fewer breaks than other Ees, and issuing Ee trumped up reprimands, unlawful, since for Ee's U adherance)

Palomar Transport, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 177
(reducing number of field trips and charter trips of U adherents, violative)

5023-9700 Restriction of employees' movement in plant

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 059
(restricting U activist to remain in crane during downtime while other crane operators were only restricted to remain nearby, violative)

General Motors Corporation 254 NLRB No. 148
(E's issuing special instruction to Ee to remove him away from assembly line during break times to dicourage Ee from soliciting and encouraging involvement of other Ees in matter of line speed, violative)

Gibbs Die Casting Aluminum Corporation JD-267-82
(restricting U adherent's access to plant premises by prohibiting his presence after end of shift, violative)

The Mining Journal JD-4-82
(restricting Ee from entering office and talking with other Ees and from even mailing a letter, unlawful where restrictions were imposed because of Ee's diligence and effectiveness as U steward in insisting on compliance with U contract and working on grievances, rather than, as contended, because of excessive movement and conversations)

5026 DISCRIMINATION IN TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(refusing to pay registration fees and grant time off to two Ees to attend U-sponsored seminar held violative, since E, in past years, allowed Ees to attend U-sponsored seminars when there was no U activity among its Ees; E's motivation, regardless of whether Ee-applicants for seminar were pro-U or anti-U, was to take away benefits because of Ees' exercise of their Section 7 rights)

5029 ACTIONS AFFECTING EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS

5029-0100 Generally

Finger Lakes Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc. 253 NLRB NO. 049
(unilateral changes in wages, terms, benefits and condition of employment, unlawful because of E's desire to go non-union and its discrimination against those seeking and those obtaining employment thereafter)

5029-1200 Renumeration and benefits

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Kay Motors 264 NLRB No. 137
(E's announcing that it was attempting to obtain improved medical and dental benefits for its salesmen after U requested recognition violated 8(a)(1), but not 8(a)(3) where improved benefits were not implemented)

5029-1211 change in pay day or hour

Edgar L. Landen t/a Speed Mail Service 251 NLRB No. 064
(E's unexplained change w/o warning during U campaign of time of distribution of Ees' paychecks from Friday morning to Friday afternoon so that Ees could not cash them at noon held not de minimis or noncoercive; unlawful motive became unmistakably clear upon E's sudden resumption of its established practice of morning distribution after U lost election and it is unlikely Ees missed import of this sudden action)

5029-1212 Withholding of paychecks

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81
(delaying and withdrawing salesmen's draw checks after election won by U held violative, since E displayed strong anti-U animus prior to election and deviated from normal and established pay practice after salesmen selected U)

5029-1218 Failure to implement arbitration award

Autoprod, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 042
(refusing to pay entire amount of retroactive wage increases mandated by arbitration award to Ees who were active in U, violative)

5029-1225 Delay, denial, or withholding of wage increase

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(denying Ee anticipated annual wage increase because of his U activity, and informing Ee when Ee inquired about increase after election that increase could not be granted until U certified, unlawful)

5029-1225—Cont.

Nissan Motor Corporation in U.S.A. 263 NLRB No.
(E did not violate Act by withholding regularly scheduled benefits from Ees following election of U under unusual circumstances of this case where: there were no Sec. 8(a)(5) allegations, parties engaged in collective bargaining negotiations with no showing by GC that parties did not negotiate on wages, and absence of evidence that E withheld wage increases to undermine support for U or made comments implying that U or Ees selection of U was cause for withholding)

Nissan Motor Corporation in U.S.A. 263 NLRB No. 083
(E did not violate Act by withholding regularly scheduled benefits from Ees following election of U under unusual circumstances of this case where: there were no Sec. 8(a)(5) allegations, parties engaged in collective bargaining negotiations with no showing by GC that parties did not negotiate on wages, and absence of evidence that E withheld wage increases to undermine support for U or made comments implying that U or Ees selection of U was cause for withholding)

Management Training Corporation (Formerly Thiokol Corporation) 261 NLRB No. 013
(where E had policy of promoting Ees as vacancies occurred and of granting annual merit increases, its withholding of these promotions and benefits combined with statements that if U lost election they would be granted immediately, but if U won they would be deferred indefinitely, violated Act)

Huntington Rubber Company, Division of New Idria, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 133
(E's failure to grant Ee maximum allowable annual wage increase violative where Ee had been engaged in protected activity, E had issued 1 lawful reprimand and 1 unlawful reprimand to her and denial of increase based on her ostensibly poor attitude as all her other ratings were excellent and in past she had gotten full raise notwithstanding being rated less than excellent in attitude)

Progressive Supermarkets, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 074
(E who postponed scheduled payraise for Ees during critical period and placed onus on U violated Act)

The Ithaca Journal-News, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 060
(E's discontinuing merit increases for Ees during negotiations with U, not violative where E had no merit increase program that it was bound to continue during negotiations and two statements found to violate Sec. 8(a)(1) were insufficient to show U animus in light of U's position, manifested in exchange of correspondence initiated by U, that it was precluded by law from granting merit increases because of its bargaining obligations)

Empire Pacific Industries, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 180
(withholding change in wages from represented Ees that was provided to unrepresented Ees, not unlawful in absence of proof of discriminatory motive; no evidence was offered to prove E's discriminatory motive either independently or in refutation of parties' stipulation that E's witnesses would testify that withholding was not designed to encourage represented Ees to reject U or support decertification)

Palomar Transport, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 177
(delaying, until of after election, implementation of incentive plan and daily rates for route drivers violative where in prior years E implemented these changes soon after school year began)

Fry Foods, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 031
(failing to grant known U adherents pay raises, violative)

South Shore Hospital 256 NLRB No. 001
(withholding from unit Ees wage and benefits increases granted to non unit Ees, violative where Bd of Trustees authorized equivalent benefits for both groups before bargaining began and E called to unit Ees' attention to advantages gained by non unit Ees while at same time persisting in making wage offer below that offered non-unit Ees)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 183
(denial of wage increase to leading U activist, violative)

Jax Mold & Machine, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 129
(withholding wage increase, violative because when hired Ee was promised increase every 90 days, E blamed U and stated that it was not afraid of NLRB)

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 104
(withholding systemwide wage increase from Ees involved in organizational campaign, violative)

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 104
(withholding for 3 weeks, its system-wide wage increase because of U campaign and election, violative)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021
(telling Ee that she would have been highest paid cashier if it wasn't for this U business, violative)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(withholding of annual general wage increase from unit Ees during bargaining with U, unlawful, where E's official testified that w/o presence of U E would have granted increases, practice of granting increases was sufficiently established so as to constitute condition of employment, E never specifically proposed withheld increases as a bargaining proposal, E's conduct precluded unit Ees from ever recouping through bargaining by U losses E had imposed on them for selecting it, and E's motive was to discourage U activities as evidenced by its anti-U hostility)

Eastern Maine Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 024
(fact that E withheld wage increases from unit Ees during bargaining negotiations with U on advice of counsel held insignificant in determining that E's conduct was unlawful)

Republic Die and Tool Company 252 NLRB No. 092
(establishment of hourly wage rate at contractual minimum when U adherent became a journeyman, violative)

Republic Die and Tool Company 252 NLRB No. 092
(refusal to grant U adherent general wage adjustment, violative)

United Services For The Handicapped 251 NLRB No. 117

Northern Telecom, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 085
(denial of merit increase)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 250 NLRB No. 071
(withholding wage increase from Ees who had chosen U held violative where Ees would have been granted raises under E's usual business practice; E intended to punish Ees because they voted for U)

Olympic Medical Corporation 250 NLRB No. 011
(withholding periodic as well as retroactive wage increase, for purpose of inducing Ees to vote against U, violative)

Olympic Medical Corporation 250 NLRB No. 011
(withholding wage increase and instituting change in wage policies retroactively, violative in view of absence of business justification and presence of other ULP)

Conagra, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 085
(failure to grant wage increase during U campaign, not unlawful, where due to failure of personnel manager to make wage survey; notwithstanding statements of E that denial of increase was due to U campaign)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 118
(denial of announced wage increase because of Ees' U activities violative; moreover, fact that no past practice existed for granting wage increases immaterial)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(failure to grant wage increase to U adherent where 27 out of 33 Ees received increases, unlawful)

Hobart Mailing Service, Inc. JD-484-82
(E's departure from its past practice of conducting wage reviews each year and its withholding of any wage increase violative, where E placed onus on U in explaining to Ees that reason was because U and labor relations put a freeze on everything until election was over)

Brueckner Sand & Gravel, Inc. JD-(SF)-312-81
(withholding wage increases from Ees because of their U activities, violative)

Robert Bosch Corporation JD-220-81
(E's refusal to credit strike time as time worked for purpose of granting step progression increases and delayed such increases for period of time commensurate with strike did not violate Act as E handled laid-off Ees and those absent for other reasons in same manner and there was no showing of anti-U animous)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson distribution Center JD-(SF)-12-81
(refusing to grant annual wage increase because Ees chose U but which E would have granted during normal course of business, violative)

Chipmore Manufacturing Co., Inc. JD-432-80
(violation where wage increase was rescinded because of U campaign)

Guardian Industries Distribution Center, Inc. JD-(NY)-45-80
(statement that because of U's organization campaign, including pts for election, E could not at that time grant wage increase requested by Ee, not unlawful where no wage increase had been promised or scheduled at time statement was made)

Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. JD-800-79
(unilateral grant of wage increase to Ees and its rescission upon objections by U over lack of bargaining, violative)

Eastern Maine Medical Center v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(withholding wage increases for unit Ees while granting it for other Ees, unlawful where granting increases for all Ees had been standard practice before advent of U; contention that withholding was legitimate economic bargaining tactic, rejected since during negotiations E's obligation under Katz is to maintain the dynamic status quo)

South Shore Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 40 (C.A. 1, 1980)
(E's refusal to make proposed wage increases for represented Ees in its final offer retroactive so as to equal wage increases already granted its unrepresented Ees, unlawful where its stated business reasons that it would be disadvantageous for it to do so resulted from its own unlawful bargaining strategy)

5029-1225—Cont.

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(withholding of wage increase in face of U campaign, decided upon prior to and independently of any U activity, not unlawful, where withholding did not have an anti-U purpose or effect in view of Ees' lack of knowledge of E's decision to increase wages and then to withhold it, E's inability to predict whether implementation of previously adopted raise would be lawful, its reliance on good faith advice of counsel, and its pains to refrain from capitalizing on, and U's failure to complain about, the withholding)

The Catholic Medical Center of Brooklyn and Queens, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 20 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(E's 3-week suspension of salary review w/o consulting with U, unlawful and though inconsequential, it was distinguishable from violations where Bd applied de minimis doctrine)

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 637 F.2d 373 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order which found E had violated Act by refusing to follow its established practice of granting annual wage increases to Ees because they unanimously selected U)

Republic Die and Tool Company v. N.L.R.B. 680 F.2d 463 (C.A. 6, June 1982)

5029-1226 Evaluation of work

T. L. C. Lines, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 150
(reevaluating mechanic who was U adherent and placing him in lower classification, violative)

Joshua's, Inc. d/b/a Fitzwilly's 253 NLRB No. 082
(implementation of Ee evaluation system to be used in granting raises not violative despite E's other anti-U activities where, though plan did not cover entire work force, no evidence application based on illegal motive)

5029-1227 Failure to make evaluation for wage increase

Gassen Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041
(announcing that merit wages increases were frozen because of U organizing campaign, unlawful; since, although no regularity in merit increases after first 90 days of employment, merit review system as implemented became term and condition of employment and Ees had reasonable expectation merit raise system would continue where merit pay had assumed pattern based upon reward for good work)

5029-1231 Granting of wage increase

Documation, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 052
(disparately low wage increase because of Ee's U activities, unlawful)

Viracon, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 037
(E's suspension of wage reviews for 2 weeks with subsequent reviewing of Ees and granting of wage increases, not violative notwithstanding grants were made in midst of organizational campaign, where grants were consistent with E's wage plan both in amount of increase and timing and reasonably would have been granted whether election were held after or before actual date of election)

Delta Faucet Company, a Division of Masco Corporation of Indiana 251 NLRB No. 071
(GC's contention that E wide wage increase instituted at time of peak of U activity was unlawful, rejected, where U activity was taking place at only small part of E's enterprises)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 003
(payment to Ees at higher wage rate than rate negotiated, unlawful)

Hammond Plastic, Division of Carl Gordon Industries, Inc. JD-083-81
(grant of wage increase and issuance of paid up annuity certificates as quid pro quo for withdrawal of representation ptn, unlawful)

Bates & Cunningham, Inc. JD-589-81
(granting U adherents lower wage increases than anti U Ees)

Southside Electric Cooperative, Inc. JD-808-79
(unilateral grant of wage increase to Ees and its rescission upon objections by U over lack of bargaining, violative)

Hack Manufacturing Company v. N.L.R.B. 693 F.2d 1176 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1982)
(E's retroactively granting extra payments to nonstrikers for work done day before strike, violative, since grant discriminated among Ees solely on basis of U activities, and E failed to meet burden of showing other motivation; its proffered justification of business necessity did not apply here)

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(wage increases granted prior to election, not unlawful, where action was taken when Ees discovered disparity in their wages and protested strongly, and E was faced with dilemma of choosing between meeting protests or risk losing Ees at time when they were badly needed)

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)
(while wage increases granted prior to election generally carry a presumption of illegal motive, E is entitled to justify timing of increase and, under unusual circumstances herein involving E's dilemma of choosing between Ees' protests over disparity in their wages or risk losing Ees when they were badly needed, Bd should have considered justifications offered and should not have based finding of violation solely upon timing of increase)

5029-1236 Delay in benefit coverage

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(requiring former strikers to wait 90 days after reinstatement for resumption of health insurance coverage, unlawful, notwithstanding pursuant to provisions of pre-existing health plan regarding E coverage for Es who had ceased active work and E's contention that in view of administration of plan by third party it had no right to unilaterally change provisions, since no business justification and inherently destructive even absent U animus)

5029-1237 Denial of termination benefits

Clark & Hinojosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 089
(refusal to pay benefits to discharged Ee, to whom E promised one-half month's salary as post-termination pay, held violative inasmuch as E treated Ee differently than other discharged Ees because of Ee's expressed intent to seek redress from Bd)

5029-1259 Discriminatory maintenance of contract clause

Best Distributing Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 024
(failure of E to apply terms of collective-bargaining agreement to Ees with respect to wages, benefits, and terms and conditions of employment, solely because they were not members of U, violative)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 084
(refusal by E and U to permit drivers' helpers to become U members or to apply to them terms and conditions contained in drivers' contract, not unlawful, where U did not represent helpers or anyone else described in contract's boiler-plate preamble, helpers were outside unit and therefore U had no obligation to represent them nor any obligation to insist that E extend contract provisions to them; similarly, E had no obligation to extend contract's wage scale or other benefits to helpers or any other Ees outside unit)

Kaufman DeDell Printing, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 002
(refusal to pay nonU Ees contractual wage and accord them contractual benefits to which they were entitled as members of bargaining unit covered by contract, unlawful)

5029-1275 Reduction

Knogo Corporation 265 NLRB No. 130
(demotion and reduction in salary of U adherent not violative where such actions were taken because of Ee's poor work record and not because Ee engaged in U activities)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024
(deduction of 30 minutes' pay from wages of Ees who left work area before termination of shift to wash up as they had customarily done, unlawful, since such action was taken because of E's hostility toward pending grievance being pressed by some of the Ees)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 024
(issuance of disciplinary letters to Ee and loss of couple of days' pay for refusing to perform job assignment, unlawful, where actions were taken to punish Ee for insisting on pressing grievance and expressing determination to distribute U literature on plant premises; prior to Ee's refusal, Ee was selected to perform tedious and unpleasant menial job for unusually long period of 5-1/2 months, at same time E attempted to isolate Ee while so engaged, and E thereby calculated to deprive Ee of job satisfaction and to provoke him into refusing a work assignment which Ee finally did)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(changing method of pay from piecework to hourly basis which resulted in substantial loss in pay to Ees, unlawful, where instituted w/o business purpose at beginning of week immediately following organizing campaign)

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 258 NLRB No. 010
(E who assigned U adherent maintenance work rather than his usual repair work, reduced his hours more than Ee desired to be reduced, conditioned his employment on hourly pay cut constructively discharged Ee)

5029-1275—Cont.

Albion Corporation d/b/a Brooks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 104
(on ct remand, Bd affirmed ALJ's conclusion that E's treatment of new non-U Ees hired to replace strikers who had refused E's offer of reinstatement was neither discriminatory nor anti-U, where E applied to new Ees wage provisions of existing contract; E's failure to reduce their wages, while having U agree to reduction in wages because of E's precarious financial situation, was justified by fact that exclusion of new Ees from contract's fringe benefits gave strikers compensation at higher rate than new Ees when hourly fringe benefits rates are combined with hourly contract rates)

Han-Dee Pak, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 107
(notwithstanding Ees subsequent unlawful discharge, E's action of reclassifying Ee at lesser salary not unlawful absent evidence of discriminatory motivation and connection between wage reduction and Ee's U activities)

International Business Systems, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 102
(violation where E reduced Christmas bonus by half because of Ees' U activity and not because available cash was insufficient, as asserted)

Ford Motor Company, Automotive Division, Twin Cities Plant JD-57-81
(docking Ee's pay for keeping log of U work done by foremen, and filing grievances about such work and E's retaliation against him for filing grievances, violative)

Bill Fox Chevrolet, Inc. JD-767-80
(E's deliberately depriving Ee of work, resulting in sharp dip in Ee's earnings for 2-week period, violative since reasons for E's action were Ee's show of U loyalty, his protected activities on behalf of U, and because he gave testimony to Bd)

5029-1279 Denial of holiday pay

The Sherwin-Williams Company 260 NLRB No. 185
(withholding from Ee accrued holiday pay because fellow Ees had engaged in strike, violative)

Great Scot of Florida, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 126
(sending letter to Ees thanking them for voting against U and announcing that it was granting nonmeat department Ees time-and-one-half for work performed on Sunday and certain holidays and that it was recommencing program of merit wage increases but not granting such benefits to meat department Ees because of NLRB, violative, notwithstanding E's contention that it was following advice of attorneys and that it subsequently admitted this error to Ees and granted same benefits to meat department Ees effective retroactively back to same date used for other Ees)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(denying reinstated U advocate holiday leave pay and suspending her for three days w/o pay assertedly because she had typed letter announcing impending U meeting on company typewriter during working hours held violative where record established that other Ees made frequent use of company equipment w/o rebuke)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(withholding holiday pay from U adherent who had switched his allegiance from favored U to petitioner held violative where E had threatened Ee with punishment for supporting petitioner)

5029-1280 Denial of overtime pay

Grane Trucking Company 261 NLRB No. 009
(violation, where E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case showing that U adherent truckdriver's protected concerted activity was motivating factor in E's decision to remove him from run and thereby cause him loss of overtime compensation)

Radman Construction Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-105-80
(discharge of Ee who sought to implement contractual benefits regarding overtime pay violative irrespective of whether asserted claims are found meritorious)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1015 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)
(discharging Ees for concertedly refusing to work specific job on Saturday because it did not pay time and half held not violative where Ees knew that E would pay only straight time and rule that Saturday work was voluntary but if Ee signed up for that day must work on any job assigned by E and penalty for not working was discharge. Claim that Ees were engaged in 1 day strike rejected, since Ees only refused to work that specific job that day and not other jobs which was equivalent to Ees seeking to work under terms prescribed by them which is not protected activity)

5029-1283 Denial of vacation Pay

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165
(E, together with purchaser of part of E's operations, herein found alter ego of E, violated 8(a)(3), where E contravened its own avowed and established policy regarding vacation pay and denied such pay to discriminatorily discharged Ees; vacation pay policy had been carried out in practice until sham purchase transaction herein led to discriminatory discharge of Ees, and denial of vacation pay was part and parcel of E's illegal anti-U campaign and attempt to punish Ees for successfully supporting U)

Laredo Coca Cola Bottling Company 253 NLRB No. [illegible]
(denial of vacation benefits to reinstated ULP strikers not violative since requiring E to compensate Ees for their strike time would force E to finance strike and E was correctly implementing bargaining agreement by denying vacation benefits to Ees)

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty. Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 256 NLRB No. 193
(ceasing to provide such benefits as vacation pay as part of plan to break up unit and thwart Ees' desire for U representation, unlawful)

Ace Beverage Company, et al. 253 NLRB No. 124
(denial to reinstated economic strikers of pro rata vacation benefits for time worked prior to strike, not unlawful, where strikers were absent, by reason of strike, for more than 7 weeks during calendar year and had not worked 45 weeks necessary for accruing benefits as required by contract, nor were strikers eligible under contract's pro rata benefits provision which was limited to Ees who quit, retired, or surrendered their seniority; to find violation herein would give U through ULP proceeding what it sought, but could not achieve, through good faith negotiations)

Ace Beverage Company, et al. 253 NLRB No. 124
(contention that since contract did not expressly deny pro rata vacation benefits to strikers, Es could not lawfully deny such benefits to reinstated strikers while granting benefits to other Ees eligible under contract, and thereby E, in effect, penalized strikers, rejected, where contract provided for narrow pro rata exceptions for Ees who quit or retired, and U acquiesced in such result after failing during negotiations to prevail in its demand for pro rata benefits for all Ees)

Climate Control Corporation 251 NLRB No. 102
(denying vacation benefits in retaliation for U activity, instigation of ULP charge, and providing evidence to Bd, violative)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(refusal to give vacation pay to Ee, witness against E in prior Bd proceeding, unless she agreed in writing to return it in event Bd should determine that there was no valid contract between E and assisted U, unlawful)

5029-1294 Sick pay; denial, withholding, or change in practice or policy

Texaco, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 165
(when during course of economic strike, E ceased paying accident and sick benefits to 3 Ees who had been out of work on authorized sick leave prior to inception of strike it violated Act where it had no knowledge that Ees supported strike and fact that they were U members and had supported strikes in past not enough to show they supported this strike)

Virginia Electric and Power Company 260 NLRB No. 050
(announcement of new sick leave policy to all Ees, applicable not only to represented but also unrepresented Ees, allegedly unlawful because it affected represented Ees who sought to replace incumbent U with outside U, not unlawful, where E had legitimate business explanation for making change and, in view of large number of Ees affected by change and relatively small number of outside U activists, it does not appear that E, in order to discourage latter group, would do injury to great number of Ees affected by change)

Texaco, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 170
(coercion of Ees to refrain from declaring their position on strike by terminating their sick leave benefits while they were medically excused from work, unlawful)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 063
(E's discontinuance of contractual accident and sick benefits to Ees who were sick or disabled by other than industrial injuries at onset of strike and were unable to work during strike and did not affirmatively declare their support for strike, unlawful, since Ees had Section 7 right to refrain from declaring their position on strike while medically excluded, and for E to be justified in terminating disability benefits to those Ees unable to work it must show Ees have affirmatively supported strike; E's contentions of waiver and failure of Ees to keep E informed as to status of their disability, rejected)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(visit of Ee who had been on sick leave prior to strike to site of picketing w/o getting out of car did not establish support of strike that would justify termination of accident and sick benefits to Ee, since for E to justify termination of any disability benefits to Ees who are unable to work at start of strike it must show it has acquired information that Ee whose benefits were terminated had affirmatively shown support of strike)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 065
(whether date Ee, who was on sick leave at onset of strike and unable to work during strike, began to picket should be determinative of when he was able to return to work, thus ending his entitlement to sick benefits, or if he was medically able to return to work earlier, left to compliance stage)

Walter Motor Truck Company 256 NLRB No. 166
(E's stopping payment of sick leave benefits to Ees who were on sick leave immediately when other Ees went out on strike, unlawful, since E failed to show that it had obtained knowledge that Ees on sick leave had acted in any way to show public support of the strike and that it had stopped payment of sick pay benefits because of such conduct)

5029-1284—Cont.

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct held contrary to Bd that change in sick leave policy shortly after U victory in representation election was not unlawful, since timing alone did not justify conclusion that change was discriminatory, and record showed E's economic reason was to make department's policies on sick leave uniform with those of other departments)

5029-1285 Withholding guaranteed workweek pay

American Interstate Freight Lines 258 NLRB No. 121
(refusing assignment of work to Ee on many occasion because he went to U concerning his employment complaints, including contract provision that called for guaranteed work week, violative)

5029-1287 Change in basis of payment

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty. Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 258 NLRB No. 192
(changing from hourly to piecerate method of paying unit Ees as part of plan to dissipate unit by making Ees independent contractors and thwart Ees' desire for U representation, unlawful)

Joybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 187
(changing method of pay from piecework to hourly basis which resulted in substantial loss in pay to Ees, unlawful, where instituted w/o business purpose at beginning of week immediately following organizing campaign)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(cancellation of wage program, discontinuation of Christmas bonuses and turkeys, dismantling women's lounge w/o notice to U and in retaliation for U victory, violative)

Harvey & Madding, Inc., d/b/a Dublin Honda JD-(ATL)-97-81
(delaying and withdrawing salesmen's draw checks after election won by U held violative, since E displayed strong anti-U animus prior to election and deviated from normal and established pay practice after salesmen selected U)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1015 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)
(discharging Ees for concertedly refusing to work specific job on Saturday because it did not pay time and half held not violative where Ees knew that E would pay only straight time and rule that Saturday work was voluntary but if Ee signed up for that day must work on any job assigned by E and penalty for not working was discharge. Claim that Ees were engaged in 1 day strike rejected, since Ees only refused to work that specific job that day and not other jobs which was equivalent to Ees seeking to work under terms prescribed by them which is not protected activity)

5029-2500 Hours

5029-2525 Change in work schedule

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030
(E's changing Ees' work week from four 10-hour days to five 8-hour days w/o notifying U held unlawful, since E was motivated by desire to punish its Ees because they voted for U to represent them and E did not afford U opportunity to bargain over action)

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115
(institution of new rule requiring Ee to begin work upon punching in, unlawful in context of antiU diatribes after U demand for recognition)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 119
(transferring Ees from day to night shifts w/i one week after demand for recognition, violative)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(violation, where E changed Ee's shift and days off to retaliate against his testimony at Bd hearing and his elevation to acting presidency of U)

Inland Steel Company 259 NLRB No. 034
(reduction of lunch period from 30 to 20 minutes and elimination of wash-up time at end of shift, unlawful, where such strictures were imposed because of E's hostility toward pending grievance being pursued by a few Ees, and changes were made a few days after E had unlawfully threatened to make it more difficult for Ees if grievance continued to be pressed)

15 East 40th Restaurant, Inc., d/b/a Sagapo Restaurant and Sagapo Restaurant, Inc., its agent 257 NLRB No. 156
(transfer of U adherent from night shift to less desirable day shift and then discharging him violative)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 069
(establishing night shift for department and transferring Ee to work alone on shift immediately after discovering her U activities violative where E operated only day shift for 17 years)

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center 256 NLRB No. 060
(announcing and implementing changes in schedules and work rules, violative where changes were made in retaliation against Ees for engaging in U activity)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 189
(cutting Ee's overtime and changing his work hours so as to impose more arduous working conditions upon him immediately after his U activity, violative)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(leading U advocate being assigned to undesirable night shift, his demotion, disciplinary reprimands and eventual discharge held unlawful where valid grounds for E's actions were frequently false or exaggerated, adverse action against Ee occurred when Ee became in-plant spokesman for U and Ee who opposed advocate's election to U office was more tenderly treated for his acts of misconduct)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 084
(work schedule changes of two Ees, unlawful where motive was to avoid future problems in arranging or rearranging schedules if U was certified)

St. John Medical Center 253 NLRB No. 077
(change in work schedule which became permanent after Ee became leading U adherent, not unlawful where her change in schedule was economically justified)

Marriott In-Flight Services a Division of Marriott Corporation 249 NLRB No. 072
(requiring Ee believed to be U leader to return directly after lunch to airfield where he had no duties between 1:30 and 4:30 rather than to work in flight kitchen violative, since change in schedule was designed to keep him from having contact with Ees in flight kitchen)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(violations where E transferred U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing to store in less desireable location, reduced their working hours to times when they could not use public transportation, added onerous janitorial duties and then discharged them)

Sturdi-Craft, Inc. JD-(SF)-188-82
(institution of 10-hour work shifts in retaliation for Ees' U activities violative)

United States Postal Service JD-140-81
(changing starting time of work shift, not unlawful, where E wished to alleviate overtime problem which was source of recent grievances and there was no proof that E's actions were in retaliation of Ees' protected activity)

Retailer's Coupon Redemption Co., Inc. JD-194-80
(violation where E discontinued flexible work hours of U leaders, and sympathizers, while permitting other Ees to continue working flexible hours)

Southwest Research Institute JD-(SF)-276-79
(discontinuation of practice of accommodating work schedules of U adherents to their school schedules in accordance with its educational advancement program, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. American Postal Workers Union 618 F.2d 1249 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(E acceding to U's termination of temporary shift assignment, not unlawful, notwithstanding termination violative of 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) where E's action was not based on discriminatory motive, but rather on business justification of fear of legal or economic action; further, E did not know U had breached duty of fair R)

5029-2550 Reduction

Robert E. Johnson and Geneva H. Johnson, a Partnership, d/b/a Jolie Bolts Company 269 NLRB No. 141
(reducting Ee's hours of work after unlawfully threatening to do so because of his signing of U authorization card and dues-deduction card, violative since E presented no explanation for the reduction; mere fact that Ee was not shown to have worked fewer hours than other Ees did not rebut GC's prima facie case)

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205
(E's reduction of Ee's work hours after election, unlawful, since E did so to discourage support for U, where E summarily reduced Ee's hours w/o giving Ee any reason therefor, which suggests that reason was not economic; E offered no explanation at hearing why he could accomodate E's request before election for more hours and why he could no longer do so after election; and GC's prima facie case of violation was not rebutted by E who failed to demonstrate that hours would have been reduced notwithstanding evidence of unlawful motivation)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(taking away certain delivery routes from Ee in reaction to his U activities resulting in reduction of his hours of overtime work, unlawful)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(directive that U activist work strict 40-hour week, i.e., w/o overtime, issued because of his U activities, violative of 8(a)(3))

5029-2550—Cont.

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118
(reducing working hours of Ees w/i one week of U's demand for recognition, violative)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant [illegible] 260 NLRB No. 029
(reduction in hours of waitress who let customers leave before they paid their bill not violative especially when incident before E was aware of Ees U activities)

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132, AFL-CIO 258 NLRB No. 060
(E's reduction in Ee's workweek in retaliation for her attempt to collect U service fee from temporary Ee and thereby enforce existing collective bargaining agreement, violative)

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 258 NLRB No. 010
(E who assigned U adherent maintenance work rather than his usual repair work, reduced his hours more than Ee desired to be reduced, conditioned his employment on hourly pay cut constructively discharged Ee)

Oakwood Manor, Inc., d/b/a Danville Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 108
(after U activity began, E, by assigning less hours of work to U adherent than to less senior Ees, violated Act notwithstanding U adherent's hours worked was not less than before U activity commenced)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 054
(reduction of Ee's work hours in retaliation for U activity, violative)

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 092
(E violated Act where rehired striker changed from guaranteed 40 hours week and placed on seniority list which caused him to work less than 40 hours)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083
(reducing work of two U adherents assertedly because of business decline held violative where E effectuated his prediction that if he were compelled to accede to U economic demands he would be compelled to assign work to himself and another Ee and thus reduce work of least senior Ees)

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(exclusion of strikers from overtime work, unlawful)

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(reduction of hours to punish Ees for known support of one of two Us conducting organizing campaign where E favored and supported rival U, unlawful)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(where E reduced hours of 3 Ees out of work force of 25 for discriminatory reasons, this does not support finding that E reduced hours of all Ees; moreover, violations as to 3 Ees remedied by separate allegation in complaint)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169
(reduction of hours of leading U advocate, part time Ee with good employment record, in order to give less senior Ee a few hours held violative where E's action against seniority was contrary to its usual practice and was taken against Ee to straighten him up)

Knapp Foods, Inc. d/b/a Hi-Lo Foods 247 NLRB No. 146
(reducing hours immediately following U bargaining demand and until the union matter cleared up, violative, since the changes were instituted in response to Ees' U activity)

Frederick's Foodland, Inc. d/b/a Bucyrus Foodland North and Bucyrus Foodland South 247 NLRB No. 038
(reduction in two Ees' scheduled hours for U activities and for appearing in U's behalf at hearing, respectively, unlawful; fact one Ee increased hours actually worked by own efforts, no defense)

Bates & Cunningham, Inc. JD-590-81

Scoggin's, Inc. JD-433-81
(E's reduction in work week of U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing from 40 to 20 hours, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's other ULPs, since for business reasons, where E was in dire financial situation to point of using monies withheld for payroll taxes for capital and E's president taking out personal loan when taxes due; further, Ees were not replaced)

Material Transportation, Co., Inc. JD-470-80
(reducing Ees' work hours because of their U activities, violative)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-202-80
(changing starting time for Ee for allegedly refusing to withdraw several grievances, not unlawful, where grievant was not only Ee put on later starting time and change in mode of delivery of product from use of railroad to use of trucks made it unnecessary for Ee to report to work early; no evidence cast doubt of E's decision to effect small financial saving by cutting hour off combined shifts of Ees involved)

N.L.R.B. v. Jack August Enterprises, Inc. 583 F.2d 575 (C.A. 1)
(violation, where E changed work schedule and reduced work hours of U activists)

Massey Stores, Inc., d/b/a Kermit Super Valu v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 328 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1980)
(reduction of hours of Ee, unlawful, since for U activity where Ee had previously been coercively interrogated, manager informed Ee hours were reduced because cashiers had turned against him, and reduction took place shortly after Ee signed authorization card)

N.L.R.B. v. Hinky Dinky Super Markets 636 F.2d 231 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(reducing Ee's working hours because of his participation in U activity, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Maui Surf Hotel Company and ILWU Local 142 601 F.2d 603(T) (C.A. 9, 1979)
(where all non-essential Ees were required by contract to either sign out or attend work stop meeting, no discrimination as all Ees, including ones who protested were treated same way)

5029-3700 Bonuses

5029-3733 Discrimination in regard to

Deister Concentrator Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 040
(failure to grant accrued bonus to unrecalled economic strikers violative)

Florida Steel Corporation 249 NLRB No. 018
(E's denying accumulation of time bank credits to Ees who served on U negotiating committee for time they spent in negotiations which were held during working hours not violative, where attendance at bargaining negotiations did not fall w/i exceptions set forth to E's requirements that Ees were required to be present for all regularly scheduled hours during workweek in order to accrue time bank credit, absence to participate in bargaining was voluntary since E offered to meet outside working hours, and there was contention of discriminatory motivation in denial of credit)

5029-3767 Withholding of

Southern States Distribution, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 001
(E's discontinuance of its practice of giving Ees Christmas bonus and Thanksgiving turkeys not violative of Section 8(a)(3) since not in retaliation for Ee support of U absent U animus and in view of E's substantial losses due to Ee theft of its property)

Woonsocket Spinning Company 252 NLRB No. 163
(deprivation of Christmas bonus where E announced it intended to give one, granting bonus to salaried Ees, refusing to inform U basis on which bonus computed for salaried Ees and threats that Ees had lost bonus because they supported U violative)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 128
(cancellation of wage program, discontinuation of Christmas bonuses and turkeys, dismantling women's lounge w/o notice to U and in retaliation for U victory, violative)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 026
(violation where E discontinued Ee bonus payments and thereafter refused to pay Ees the bonus which had accrued prior to discontinuation in reprisal for Ees' voting for U)

Eight In One Pet Products, Inc. JD-(NY)-106-82
(no violation where E past practice was that of changing year end bonuses (turkeys, later on gift certificates, and finally paying for Christmas party))

5029-4300 Vacation pay, policy or practice

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146
(E's denial of one day of vacation to U proponent, unlawful, where Ee was permitted to take full complement of vacation days during each of 2 years w/o having to pay back one extra vacation day she had taken in year prior to those 2 years, and E deducted such extra day from Ee's requested vacation period after she became U activist; E's contention that Ees' accrued vacation days are not checked until they seek clarification or sever employment, both of which Ee did, rejected, since normal practice was to check records regarding vacation entitlement)

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 262 NLRB No. 064
(denial of change in vacation dates to leading U supporter, violative, where in past changes was made on request)

Quick Find Co. 262 NLRB No. 065
(E who denied 3 Ees their vacation pay did not violate Act where E had policy which required Ees to have worked 93% of work year before they were entitled to vacation pay and these 3 Ees had all worked less than 93% of year even giving them full credit for unlawful 7 week lay-off which occurred during work year)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodkraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(failure to pay accrued vacation pay to strikers who had satisfied requisites for vacation pay under expired contract, violative)

5029-4300—Cont.

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(denying Ee extended vacation because his name appeared in ULP charge, violative)

Overnite Transportation Company 254 NLRB No. 011
(denial of vacation pay to U adherent, violative)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(to Ee entitled to reinstatement where, but for E's unlawful refusal to reinstate her, she would have been eligible to receive here vacation pay)

Larsen Supply Co., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 175
(withdrawing advance vacation privileges)

General Time Corporation, Westclox Military Products Division 249 NLRB No. 178
(E's failure to pay accrued vacation pay to striking Ees violative where no business justification existed)

Borden, Inc., Borden Chemical Division 248 NLRB No. 069
(on ct remand, Bd held E's rejection of U's request at outset of strike to pay accrued vacation benefits to qualified Ees, unlawful; E showed its motive by stating that it would not pay vacation pay to strikers, and evidence of past practice indicated that purpose of contractual limitations on vacation pay were for purpose of assuring that time off was taken instead of being foregone for extra pay)

N.L.R.B. v. Borden, Inc., Borden Chemical Division 645 F.2d 87 (C.A. 1, Mar 31, 1981)
(E unlawfully delayed vacation pay to strikers notwithstanding E's justification that Ees had no qualifying vacation under bargaining agreement because they were on strike during period for which they requested vacation pay and strike did not constitute vacation; however, this contention was undercut by E's past indifference as to nature of vacations so long as Ees left work and did not claim double pay and, further contention that vacation payment at later date on ground that contractual vacation period had passed rejected, since this fact could not convert strike into vacation)

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(refusal to pay strikers accrued vacation pay pursuant to expired contract not violative, as E had good faith belief that entitlement to and amount of vacation pay was to be determined under new collective bargaining contract if and when contract executed. Such conduct, unlike offering non-strikers benefits, or threatening strikers with loss of benefits if they did not return to work, is not inherently destructive of Ee rights so as to obviate need to show prohibited motive; furthermore, here E's good faith belief does not show anti-U motivation on part of E)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(E's denial of vacation leave to Ees assertedly because Ees failed to give advance notice as required by E's policy, unlawful, where E's action was taken to prevent Ees from participating in U negotiations at E's other plants; E's leave policy was unfamiliar to one of the Ees herein and was not applied to other Ees requesting leave for same day which was known to E as day on which negotiations elsewhere were scheduled; other Ee had been told by his supervisor a week earlier that time of his notice would be sufficient, and Ee's absence would not have disrupted E's work schedule)

N.L.R.B. v. General Time Corporation, Westclox Military Products Division 697 F.2d 271 (C.A. 7, June 1981)
(failure to distribute accrued vacation benefits to strikers at customary time when plant closed for vacation and subsequently postponing payment to strikers, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that contract had expired; so no vacation currently specified, and its new porposals would have changed vacation period and pay. Pay due under old contract, and accrued benefits paid on certain date under past practice may not be conditioned on new contract; further , E's refusal discriminatory where all Ees had same vacation, thus shutdown of plant for vacation not bargained for item)

Vesuvius Crucible Company 252 NLRB No. 179
(refusal to pay economic strikers vacation pay accrued under expired contract, violative, fact contract limited vacation pay, computed on prior year's earnings, to its term did not free E from responsibility of paying these vacation benefits because they vested in Ees during term of contract and do not divest on expiration)

5029-4500 Withdrawal of privileges

Tra-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(E's propogating oral and written work rules, after election of U, prohibiting smoking, personal telephone calls and reception of visitors on company premises, etc. which rules were more arduous and onerous than work rules in effect before advent of U held violative, since rules were propogated solely in retaliation for Ees' voting for U)

Fairleigh Dickinson University 264 NLRB No. 098
(E withdrawing recognition from representative for its clerical and technical workers and barring its representatives from further participation on official university committees in retaliation against outside U's organizing campaign of these workers with assistance from representative violative, contention that representative was dominated organization, and therefore, E's action proper, rejected, in view of long time representative functioned; and E attempted to provide substitute organization; E may not exculpate itself for its violations on ground that its conduct was attempt to cure established pattern of conduct violative of Act)

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast Division 260 NLRB No. 090
(refusing to continue to let U officials use in-plant telephone system for official business and also discontinuing letting U stewards give documents to supervisors who, in turn, would photocopy Ees' doctor's excuses violative of Sec. 8(a)(3) where part of other anti-U conduct and no business justification existed; moreover, change in steward's role in obtaining photocopy of excuses by only letting Ee give it directly to supervisor, thus, bypassing steward, violated Section 8(a)(5))

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 255 NLRB No. 010
(eliminating break time in retaliation for losing election)

Larsen Supply Co., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 175
(E violated Act where prior to election which U won, Ees were allowed to take their lunch breaks whenevers it was convienent but afterwards required them to take it at specified time in retaliation for U vote and w/o E bargaining with U)

Henry Vogt Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 040
(withdrawal of cafeteria privileges after Ees chose U representative found inherently discriminatory since it contained clear and dramatic message for Ees who had chosen representation and for the remaining unrepresented Ees)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 119
(singling out 2 members of U organizing committee for admonition against using telephone for personal business, violative where there was no evidence to show that any problem existed which warranted issuance of warning)

Brueckner Sand & Gravel, Inc. JD-(SF)-312/81
(termination of drivers' fishing privileges on company property after U won election, violative where it was for discriminatory purpose and w/o notice to U)

United States Steel Corporation JD-(ATL)-96-81
(E's changing its practice of permitting Ees to swap shifts w/o permission or supervisory knowledge because Ees filed grievances pursuant to collective bargaining agreement, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Sacramento Clinical Laboratory, Inc. 623 F.2d 110 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(violation where Ee was hired with promise that she would be allowed to take off from work to attend trade fairs if a suitable replacement could be found, and was allowed to so take off prior to U campaign but was denied day off admittedly after E discovered she was proU)

5029-5000 Change in business methods or operations

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(conversion of Ees to independent contractor status and firing those Ees who refused to accept this status violative; there was substantial evidence to support Bd's finding that forced conversion and firing were motivated by intent to avoid unionization)

5029-5037 Transfer of unit work

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161
(reducing operations by selling some trucks, subcontracting, and transferring work formerly performed by discriminatee to other Ees w/o bargaining in order to avoid recalling discriminatee, violative)

Milwaukee Spring Division of Illinois Coil Spring Company 265 NLRB No. 028
(E's decision to relocate work from U to non-U plant, to layoff Ees as consequence during term of agreement solely because of higher labor costs, absent U's consent, is midterm repudiation of agreement in violation of Sec. 8(d), Sec. 8(a)(1), (3), (5); moreover, U did not waive right to bargain notwithstanding managements rights clause; such clause reserves for E right to decide whether and how products will be manufactured; it does not grant E right to transfer its operation. Thus, absent explicit language, U has not waived its right to object to E's decision)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(transferring unit work to new mine 5 miles away at time old one is struck in order to avoid bargaining with U and then hiring new Ees through unlawfully assisted U's hiring hall while refusing to hire striking Ees and those represented by certified striking U violates Act)

5029-5037—Cont.

Martin-Brower Company 261 NLRB No. 111

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 259 NLRB No. 142

(unilateral removal of operations to newly purchased facility, not unlawful, where move was temporary and necessitated by business reasons brought on by Ees' strike; E engaged in good faith bargaining after U's certification, reinstated strikers at end of strike, and continuously told U that it would provide work for Ees at old facility; moreover, its prior threat to close plant and cancel expansion was never implemented, and its move came when its continued viability was endangered)

Emerson G. M. Diesel, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 168

(transfer of work and layoff of Ees occasioned by Ees' selection of U, violative)

Glengarry Contracting Industries, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 156

(transfer of certain manufacturing equipment and operations unlawful, where motivated by Ees' U activities)

Lee Norse Company, a Subsidiary of Ingersoll Rand Company 247 NLRB No. 098

(refusal to transfer unit Ees to new location, not violative, since change in original bargaining unit was so fundamental and diverse that new location was not integral part of existing unit at original location)

St. Regis Paper Company 247 NLRB No. 105

(transferring work from one of E's plants to another of E's plants in another city to eliminate overtime, subject of an Ees' grievance, held violative, since grievance was protected activity)

J. H. Black & Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 041

(transfer of work from group of U adherents violative when done in retaliation for their U activities; fact that group, to whom work was transferred, was also active in U does not preclude finding)

Heat Transfer Group, Gulf and Western Mfg. Co. JD-381-82

(E's repudiating agreement by announcing its intention to and by commencing to relocate portion of unit work to another location for performance by non-unit Ees represented by another U with contract providing for less costly wages and benefits held violative, as E's purpose was to evade obligations and to frustrate Ees' right to refuse to make mid-term concessions)

5029-5050 Subcontracting

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161

(reducing operations by selling some trucks, subcontracting, and transferring work formerly performed by discriminatees to other Ees w/o bargaining in order to avoid recalling discriminatee, violative)

Walter B. Cooke, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 074

(layoff of Ees and subcontracting of their work not unlawful conduct inherently destructive of Ees' rights, where business no longer was sufficient for full-time Ees, E could subcontract work more economically by the job, E lacked sufficient control of subcontractor's operations to be found joint E, and there was no evidence of U animus)

St. John's Construction Corporation 258 NLRB No. 067

(terminating insulation and trucking business, selling trucks to former foremen as subcontractors and contracting out its service operations, violative, where such action was sham device in attempt to avoid possibility of dealing with U)

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty. Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 258 NLRB No. 192

(subcontracting work of unit Ees in order to break up unit and thwart Ees' desire for U representation, unlawful)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 088

(E unlawfully laid off its warehouse Ees and subcontracted its warehouse work where E's actions occurred shortly after unlawful threats and grants of benefits in response to U organizing campaign; Ees had been praised recently for quality of their work; Ees who attempted to forestall election were retained at higher rates of pay following subcontracting, while Ees who had not opposed U were laid off; and E can point to no contemporaneous event which might have motivated layoffs)

Tennessee Cartage Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 015

(terminating work of truckdrivers and warehousemen during period of U campaign and using Ees of Rent-A-Driver service for such work held violative where action taken to avoid U at E)

SFS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Seach d/b/a J. Seach Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 069

(unionized corporation's layoff of its Ees and subcontracting of their work to its nonU alter ego sole proprietorship, unlawful)

Carbonex Coal Company 248 NLRB No. 187

(E's subcontracting of 100 percent of its hauling operation which resulted in layoff of 2 Ees, violative)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 60

(closing of facility and subcontracting of Ee's work, unlawful, where E's defense that financial losses at facility necessitated such action, unlawful; it was fallacious to say, on one hand, that facility was such an economic disaster as to require its closing and, on the other hand, to subcontract its work; subcontractor did not prevent E from suffering financial losses; there was no diminution of work after subcontractor began performing it; and subcontractor's work force was substantially the same)

Atlas Inc. JD-890-79

(violation where, in order to avoid dealing with U, E laid off unit Ees, ceased operations, closed shop, refused to reinstate Ees, and subcontracted unit work and transferred all physical assets to another corporation, and the corporation, found herein to be successor to and alter ego of E, refused to reinstate E's Ees and subcontracted work formerly performed by some of E's Ees)

Nebraska Bulk Transport, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 311 (C.A. 8, 1979)

(unilateral changes in work assignments of unit Ees and subcontracting portion of unit work)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(E's sale of its trucks, discharge of drivers and contracting out of hauling after drivers signed U cards, unlawful)

5029-5051 Refusing new orders

Union Oil Company of California, Polymer PLant 258 NLRB No. 188

(changing shifts of Ees who supported U)

5029-5075 Partial closing of business

Monongahela Steel Company and Youngstown Steel Corporation 265 NLRB No. 031

(E's closing plant which, if permitted to survive, would have been integrated arm of E, and terminating plant's Ees held discriminatorily motivated, in view of E's threats to close rather than tolerate U, admission that labor problems caused closure, and choice of using its capital, which was sufficient to continue to operate plant, to discharge plant's liabilities because Ees had selected U)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179

(termination of U adherent employed in bakery operation at E's store upon closure of such operation, and refusal of Ee's request for transfer to similar operation at another store, not unlawful, where closure was unrelated to any U activity; no jobs were available at store to which she desired to be transferred and it was against company policy to have relatives working together which would have resulted from Ee's transfer)

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 039

(E's sale of 2 of its 30 trucks 3 months after strike which had no effect on Ee's job did not violate Act)

Pre-Fab Transit Company and Tractor and Trailer Leasing Co., Inc. JD-353-82

(E's elimination of short haul operation resulting in termination of Ees and then bargaining individually with Ees, resulting in destruction of unit, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(E's closing of part of business rather than deal with U and reopening department with new Ees violative at time of reopening as ct treated closing of 1 of 2 departments as temporary shutdown of total operation since closing of department not doncto dampen unionism in other department)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(Darlington establishes that partial closing is ULP under Sec. 8(a)(3) if motivated by purpose to chill unionism in any of remaining plants of single E and if E may reasonably have foreseen that such closing would likely have that effect; E action must be accompanied by specific motive to chill unionism at other plants, E action which has foreseeable consequence of discouraging concerted activities generally does not amount to violation of Sec. 8(a)(3))

5029-5077 Discontinuance of shift

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 183

(no violation where E effectively rebutted GC's prima facie case that night shift was eliminated in response to U organizing; proof of engineering turnover, inexperience and opposition to night work dealing with new process, was conclusive that decision was made for nondiscriminatory reasons)

5029-5087 Reorganization of work system

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 035

(requiring Ees to fill out new forms when they picked orders rather than continuing use of more familiar form not violative where use of new forms was operating policy of E's main customer, and instructions to use that form were issued for purpose of conforming with that policy and to get a better handle on the time situation)

5029-5087—Cont.

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020
(termination of technologically displaced telephone operator, U activist, subsequent to alleged refusal to transfer her to another clerical position w/i E's organization not violative where Ee refused to accept other clerical jobs offered by E; GC did not sustain burden of proving discrimination, since events relied on were outside 10(b) limitation period, and were subject to several inferrences none of which constituted ULP nor amplified character of any later conduct of E)

Jensen's Motorcycle, Inc. d/b/a Honda of San Diego 254 NLRB No. 165
(E's institution of new system having two grades of mechanics A & B rather than one grade A which resulted in layoff of 6 A mechanics violative where instituted in response to Ees' U activities)

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016
(institution of changes in methods of operation designed to change Ees' status to that of independent contractors, violative)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 051
(unprecedented reshuffling, prior to election, of automobile salesmen's jobs, transferring them from new to used cars sales or vice versa and replacing or augmenting salesmen with untrained novices with little or no qualifications unlawful, in view of salesmen's experience and expertise in jobs they held; E's actions were prejudicial to salesmen's earnings, based on commissions)

Knapp Foods, Inc. d/b/a Hi-Lo Foods 247 NLRB No. 146
(posting notices, immediately following U bargaining demand, that Ee drivers were not to punch in until their trucks were full loaded, and, upon returning from a run, were forbidden from punching in until their trucks had been re-loaded, violative; radical change in past practice was announced in response to Ees' U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(where E attempted to convert his Ees to independent contractors by increasing drivers discretion over daily routines it violated Act as changes were motivated by E's desire to thwart driver's organizational efforts)

5029-6200 Discontinuance of employee benefits

5029-6201 Generally

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 255 NLRB No. 010
(discontinuance of withholding and keeping monies used for Ee Fun Fund from Ees paychecks violative as it was job-related benefit and it occurred day after U won election)

5029-6206 Free uniforms

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty. Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 258 NLRB No. 192
(ceasing to provide such benefits as free uniforms as part of plan to break up unit and thwart Ees' desire for U representation, unlawful)

5029-6211 Free tools

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty. Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 258 NLRB No. 192
(requiring Ees to provide their own tools instead of having them provided by E as part of plan to break up unit and thwart Ees' desire for U representation, unlawful)

5029-6212 Free food

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003
(withdrawal of free coffee during U organizing campaign)

5029-6213 Use of subsidized cafeteria

Henry Vogt Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 040
(abrupt unilateral withdrawal of privilege of using E-subsidized cafeteria after Ees chose U representation, unlawful)

5029-6233 Payments to welfare and retirement fund

Texaco, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 165
(when during course of economic strike, E ceased paying accident and sick benefits to 3 Ees who had been out of work on authorized sick leave prior to inception of strike it violated Act where it had no knowledge that Ees supported strike and fact that they were U members and had supported strikes in past not enough to show they supported this strike)

5029-6241 Paid meal period

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-838-79
(violation where E after unsuccessful U election required Ees to work outdoors in extremely cold weather, broadened previously existing restrictions on moonlighting, prohibited Ees' stopping to purchase food en route to their morning assignments, required medical certificates for non-job-related disability, required immediate repayment of outstanding loan from Ee, and rescinded Ee's privilege of using company truck on nonworking time)

5029-6267 Profit-sharing plan, withholding of

Weirton Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation 239 NLRB No. 091
(depriving Ees of stock investment plan, violative where it was calculated discrimination in employment as coercive tactic to discourage U activities)

Motorway Freight Lines, Inc. JD-(SF)-193-82
(E's instituting profit sharing plan which excluded Ees covered by collective bargaining agreement, not unlawful, since plan was contract between E and carrier, E's Ees were not organized nor was there any contract between E and any U, and absent evidence any person would be discriminated against under plan)

Weirton Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 689 F.2d 504 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1982)
(enforcement denied, since Bd's determination that E had refused to grant salaried Ees SIP (stock option) benefit after unionization in violation of 8(a)(3) was error, where it was based on erroneous finding that E had refused to bargain about SIP in violation of 8(a)(5))

5029-6268 Employee grievance committee

General Electric Company 255 NLRB No. 092
(E's establishment and subsequent discontinuance of sounding board program upon U's filing of R ptn, unlawful, where purpose of program was to discourage support for U and discontinuance was in reprisal for Ee support of U; further, E's justification of discontinuance of program in order to avoid ULP charges, rejected, where program had been announced and implemented prior to filing of R ptn)

5029-6272 Company transportation and/or parking space

Penz Tool and Manufacturing Co., Inc. JD-644-80
(removal of reserved parking space from U adherent, unlawful, in view of E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and E's hostility toward Ee exercise of protected rights after the filing of ULP charges against E)

5029-6274 Disability benefits

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82
(termination of disability benefits to Ee who was ill at onset of strike, unlawful, notwithstanding provision in benefit plan that stated if benefits are being paid prior to strike or layoff, such benefits will cease for duration of strike or layoff. No benefits will be paid during time you are on strike or layoff, since Ee was not withholding services and thus not on strike, and these were accrued benefits as result of past work; Bd also ordered that benefits should not cease when Ee affirmatively supported strike date when disability was ended or benefits exhausted)

The Sherwin-Williams Company 260 NLRB No. 185
(withholding disability benefits to Ees who were physically unable to work on and after date of strike violative; E immediately terminated benefits upon commencement of strike when it had no knowledge as to whether disabled Ees ratified or actively supported strike)

Texaco, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 165
(when during course of economic strike, E ceased paying accident and sick benefits to 3 Ees who had been out of work on authorized sick leave prior to inception of strike it violated Act where it had no knowledge that Ees supported strike and fact that they were U members and had supported strikes in past not enough to show they supported this strike)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(E's discontinuance of contractual accident and sick benefits to Ees who were sick or disabled by other than industrial injuries at onset of strike and were unable to work during strike and did not affirmatively declare their support for strike, unlawful, since Ees had Section 7 right to refrain from declaring their position on strike while medically excluded, and for E to be justified in terminating disability benefits to those Ees unable to work it must show Ees have affirmatively supported strike; E's contentions of waiver and failure of Ees to keep E informed as to status of their disability, rejected)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(visit of Ee who had been on sick leave prior to strike to site of picketing w/o getting out of car did not establish support of strike that would justify termination of accident and sick benefits to Ee, since for E to justify termination of any disability benefits to Ees who are unable to work at start of strike it must show it has acquired information that Ee whose benefits were terminated had affirmatively shown support of strike)

Texaco Oil Company 259 NLRB No. 062
(whether date Ee, who was on sick leave at onset of strike and unable to work during strike, began to picket should be determinative of when he was able to return to work, thus ending his entitlement to sick benefits, or if he was medically able to return to work earlier, left to compliance stage)

5029-6275 Payment of insurance premiums

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 288 NLRB No. 192
(denial of health insurance coverage and other substantial rights to which ULP strikers were entitled for full reinstatement, violative)

5029-6276 Payment of witness fees

5029-6276—Cont.

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033

(E's refusal to compensate Ee for wages lost while testifying in his capacity as U officer in Bd case to which E was not party, not unlawful, absent express contractual commitment and where not in retaliation for U activity or testifying; fact E had previously paid compensation to same officer in similar situation as result of grievance settlement did not establish precedent or law of the shop, nor did contract provision providing for compensation for loss due to jury duty or as witness subpoenaed by ct of law require payment)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033

(E's refusal to pay witness fees to compensate for lost wages to Ees subpoenaed for Bd hearing by oppositions not unlawful)

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033

(E's refusal to pay witness fees to compensate for lost wages to Ees subpoenaed for Bd hearing by oppositions not unlawful)

5029-6280 Requiring sick leave authorization

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146

(E's requiring U activist to produce doctor's note after taking a day of sick leave, unlawful, where Ees not involved in U activity had been orally counseled about absenteeism and given fair warning of consequences, which was not done in U activist's case; and latter was never told, throughout all the years of her employment, that E was dissatisfied with her attendance, and even her performance appraisal form indicated good attendance)

5029-6281 Per diem and travel expenses

Midstate Telephone Company 262 NLRB No. 167

(E's refusal to pay to Ee U negotiating committee members per diem and travel expenses in accordance with past practice and supplementary agreement for negotiating sessions which occurred after U went out on strike, violative since, by discontinuing those benefits, E was in effect penalizing Ees for going out on strike, thereby discouraging future strikes and its action was inherently destructive of Sec. 7 rights)

5029-6286 Mileage allowance for use of personal automobile)

The Ithaca Journal-News, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 060

(E's not granting newsroom Ees who had selected U same increases in their mileage allowance for use of their personal automobiles that it granted to Ees in its advertising department, not violative where E had no established past practice of granting newsroom same mileage allowance it granted to advertising department)

5029-6287 Disadvantageous change in conditions connected with job

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Key Motors 264 NLRB No. 137

(establishing rule prohibiting salesmen from talking about the U on company time, violated 8(a)(3) and (1) where it was overly broad and discriminatorily and specifically aimed at U activities)

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189

(promulgating rule forbidding use by drivers of CB equipment in trucks at inception of U's campaign allegedly for reason that Ees' conversations on CB radios exposed E to fines by State police for excessive weight, violative, where real reason was to discourage U activities on part of drivers)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107

(supevisor's change in attitude toward Ee after latter became known as U adherent, resulting in Ee's loss of overtime work and less remunerative work during his regular shift, unlawful)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 119

(assignment of Ee to department where she was alone with no work, violative, where assignment was motivated by Ee's U activities and in order to isolate her from other Ees)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 119

(assignment of U adherents to take inventory in isolated room, violative, where E's motive was to isolate U supporters from other Ees)

Southwest Jefferson Community Hospital, Inc., a corporation wholly owned by Humana of Kentucky, Inc. JD-77-82

(E hospital's decision not to use U adherent as charge nurse, whenever possible, violative)

Bates & Cunningham, Inc. JD-589-81

(moving work station to cold drafty location in reprisal for Ee's U activities)

The Perlman-Rocque Company JD-613-81

(promulgating and distributing rules changing working conditions of Ees who had filed grievances, not unlawful, where rules promulgated several months after filing of grievances, there were business reasons for changes, such as growth of business which made written procedures appropriate, and procedures were not specifically prepared for Ees who had filed grievances)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-628-79

(violation where E after unsuccessful U election required Ees to work outdoors in extremely cold weather, broadened previously existing restrictions on moonlighting, prohibited Ees' stopping to purchase food en route to their morning assignments, required medical certificates for non-job-related disability, required immediate repayment of outstanding loan from Ee, and rescinded Ee's privilege of using company truck on nonworking time)

N.L.R.B. v. American Postal Workers Union 618 F.2d 1249 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(E acceding to U's termination of temporary shift assignment, not unlawful, notwithstanding termination violative of 8(b)(1)(A) and 8(b)(2) where E's action was not based on discriminatory motive, but rather on business justification of fear of legal or economic action; further, E did not know U had breached duty of fair R)

5029-6293 Use of company car or facilities

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Key Motors 264 NLRB No. 137

(enforcing stricter rule regarding condition of E's demonstration cars used by salesmen, after U requested recognition, unlawful)

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty, Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 258 NLRB No. 192

(requiring unit Ees to provide own trucks and material as part of plan to break up unit and thwart Ees' desire for U representation, unlawful)

Hayes International Corporation JD-(ATL)-29-81

(prohibition against Ee's use of E's typewriters for personal business during working hours not unlawful, since rule was based solely on need for productivity and was in no way motivated by Ee's activities on behalf of U)

Cardinal Heating and Cooling, Inc. JD-628-79

(violation where E after unsuccessful U election required Ees to work outdoors in extremely cold weather, broadened previously existing restrictions on moonlighting, prohibited Ees' stopping to purchase food en route to their morning assignments, required medical certificates for non-job-related disability, required immediate repayment of outstanding loan from Ee, and rescinded Ee's privilege of using company truck on nonworking time)

5029-6300 Loan policy

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040

(E's president informing Ees immediate repayment of loans was required since E couldn't have money out because of U, unlawful where loans only made to Ees and thus benefit of employment)

Mosey Stores, Inc., d/b/a Kermit Super Valu v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 328 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1980)

(E's demanding repayment of loan to Ee, unlawful, since for U activity where E's manager stated Ee had turned against him and no attempt to collect was made until Ee appeared on picket line)

5029-6300 Privileges

Kevah Konner, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 008

(discriminatorily restricting U activist's use of telephone for personal calls, unlawful)

Hayes International Corporation JD-(ATL)-25-81

(stricter enforcement of existing rule restricting use of E's telephone for personal calls following U activist's use of phone for personal calls, not unlawful where activist had abused privilege by making excessive personal calls)

Material Transportation, Co., Inc. JD-470-80

(restricting Ees to use of their break periods to drink coffee and soft drinks instead of while working as previously allowed violative, where reason was to discourage U membership and activities)

5029-6800 Participation in discriminatory administration of insurance, pension, and other benefit plans

Bayer Ford Trucks, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 186

(E's participation in fringe benefit program which excluded from eligibility Ees who elected to be represented by U, violative)

B. G. Costich & Sons, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 450 (C.A. 2) (1980)

(Es' contributions to pension fund on behalf of casual Ees who were U members but not on behalf of non-U casual Ees, not unlawful; even if improper motive were found, no 8(a)(3) violation could be made out since only such discrimination as encourages or discourages U membership is prohibited whereas, in instant case, benefit to U members would not induce non-U Ees to join U inasmuch as E's conduct had no immediately realizable impact on rights of such Ees who never held reasonable expectation of receiving benefits afforded only to U Ees)

5029-7000 Discipline

Robert Bosch Corporation 256 NLRB No. 150

(assessing early and late charges against Ee when he clocked in late and left early in order to attend to his duties as a U observer to the election, unlawful)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 056

(E's method of maintaining Ee information records documenting infractions of E's rules and supervisory counseling in regard thereto, not unlawful, where records were not surreptitiously maintained in order to have ready documentation to justify an adverse action against Ees, especially against U adherents; disclosure to Ee of information in record depended upon supervisor's personal approach to discipline and, although disclosure and acknowledgment by Ee might have been better practice, nothing in Act makes such practice mandatory nor proscribes E's codification of Ees' infractions)

5029-7500—Cont.

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(warning two Ees, who returned to work after recognition strike, that they should not be late again and that they would be discharged if they were late in future held violative, since progressive disciplinary system relating to Ees' tardiness was instituted to discourage membership in U)

Metropolitan Edison Company 252 NLRB No. 147
(disciplining U officers more severely than other Ees for participating in sympathy strike in violation of no-strike clause, violative)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discipline decision in dual motive case involves: (1) legitimate business reason, and (2) E's reaction to its Ees' engaging in U or other protected activities)

Weyerhaeuser Company 251 NLRB No. 097
(warning and suspension of U adherent for returning late from his break and eating at his work station, not unlawful, where E issued warnings long prior to U campaign and there was no conclusive evidence showing that such discipline was related to any crack down on Ees as result of U campaign)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(warning given to Ee over lateness, not violative, where alleged hostility against Ee arose from incident too remote in time (2 months) to have been significant factor)

AMCAR Division, ACF Industries, Incorporated 247 NLRB No. 138
(charging Ees with unexcused absences because of their refusal to cross picket line of U representing other Ees at E's plant, unlawful, where E was aware that Ees were engaged in honoring picket line and that its practice of charging Ees with unexcused absences was being challenged as unlawful before Bd)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(dismissals and other disciplinary action taken against U supporters for various asserted reasons, not unlawful, where Ees' U activities were slight and took place long before events leading to disciplinary action occurred, and E's treatment of Ees was in accordance with its policy and was not unreasonable in the circumstances)

Metropolitan Edison Company v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 478 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order where E disciplined U officers more harshly than other Ees who participated in illegal work stoppage since (1) agreement did not expressly impose duty on U officers to attempt to halt illegal work stoppage, and (2) ct is not bound by two previous arbitral interpretations of no-strike clause placing greater responsibilities on U officials to take affirmative steps to end illegal work stoppage; furthermore, substantial evidence supports Bd finding that U officers were not leaders of strike)

Northern Telecom, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 421 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discipline of four Ees and discharge of U activist in connection with all five Ees leaving work at approximately same time on Saturday morning, unlawful; it was company practice to let night shift Ees, like those involved here, leave work w/o specific permission of a supervisor when they had been called in for Saturday overtime work starting at 6:00 a.m. after working till midnight the preceding night)

Amcar Division, ACF Industries Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 561 (C.A. 8, Feb 9, 1981)
(warning Ees that they would be charged with unexcused absences if they engaged in sympathy strike and subsequently using absences occurring during period picket line was maintained in disciplining Ees, not unlawful, where Ees had waived their right to engage in sympathy strike in view of broad no strike clause, E's Absence Control Porgram, bargaining history, and fact that Ees were put on notice of such consequences by printed notice that was approved by U's chief negotiator and counsel)

5029-7525 Placing employee on probation

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 194
(placing Ee on probation in retaliation for his U activities, unlawful)

5029-7533 Reprimand or warning

Saint Vincent's Hospital 265 NLRB No. 006
(discipline of Ee pursuant to valid no-solicitation rule violative where rule is selectively applied to prohibit U activities)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 024
(although active U supporter violated company rule regarding distribution of U T-shirts on work time and was untruthful in her testimony regarding such incident, E held to have violated Act by orally warning and documenting warning for such conduct, since treatment of Ee was completely disparate inasmuch as other Ees distributing company T-shirts at work time were not disciplined)

Trexler Lutheran Home for Children t/a Frostburg Village of Allegany County Nursing Home 263 NLRB No. 043
(warning Ee for violating E's unlawful no-posting rule, violative)

Dimensions in Metal, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 078
(inserting reprimands in files of U adherents, assertedly for unauthorized absences, violative where reprimands were given for purpose of building case for their subsequent discriminatory discharge)

Presbyterian/St. Luke's Medical Center 258 NLRB No. 021
(reprimands based on invalid no-solicitation rule, violative)

Roadway Express, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 153
(issuing warning letter to Ees for insolent remarks to E and taking excessive breaks to use restroom, not unlawful, where there was no evidence that, contrary to contention, warnings were issued because Ee was U member or was scheduled to testify at Bd hearing)

Sioux Products, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 056
(reprimanding and discharging U adherent, violative)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours & Company, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 033
(issuing warning notice to U adherent and thereafter placing him on probation because he willfully refused to sign revisions on job cycle check lists to signify he had read them not unlawful)

General Electric Company 256 NLRB No. 092
(counseling Ee for allegedly harassing another Ee with U talk, unlawful, since Ee reprimand was based on report that did not indicate that Ee was engaged in other than lawful activity)

Florida Tile Company, Division of Sikes Corporation 255 NLRB No. 009
(written reprimands to and discharge of U adherent violative, where one reprimand was issued to her for using profanity but none were issued to other Ees using profanity in same incident which involved U adherent's solicitation of authorization cards; and two other reprimands were issued to her for pretextual reasons to make total of three to justify, under E's rules, her automatic discharge)

General Motors Corporation 254 NLRB No. 148
(E's issuance of reprimand pursuant to enforcement of previously issued unlawful special instruction removing Ee from assembly line, unlawful)

L. M. Berry and Company 254 NLRB No. 003
(oral reprimand to U adherent concerning unusually large number of closings in short period in regard to E's business of selling telephone directory advertising, not unlawful where E was properly concerned with apparent superficial sales contacts by Ee)

Joshua's, Inc. d/b/a Fitzwilly's 253 NLRB No. 082
(implementation of warning system designed to coerce and restrain Ees in violation of their Sec. 7 rights)

McLean Trucking Company 252 NLRB No. 104
(discharge of Ee and subsequent conversion of discharge to suspension and written warning for Ee's refusal to drive tractor-trailer violative, where Ee had good faith and reasonable belief that vehicle was unsafe, and E's adverse action was taken because Ee acted in reliance on U contract in concert with U officials)

United States Steel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 178
(violation where Ee was suspended and reprimanded for inquiring whether he would get contractual move-up pay for driving tractor, a task normally performed by another Ee at higher rate)

Republic Die and Tool Company 252 NLRB No. 092
(issuing written warnings to Ee because he filed contractual grievance, violative)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 145
(E's issuing warning to Ee and later discharging Ee for allegedly overstaying breaks and falsifying timecards, violative where E was motivated by unlawful reasons to find good cause to discharge Ee because of his activities in connection with PROD and Ussurge, as well as his participation in class action suit against E)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 251 NLRB No. 156
(issuance of written reprimand to U adherent for being out of position violative, in view of lack of evidence that other Ees had received write-ups for being out of position)

Certain-Teed Insulation Company 251 NLRB No. 208
(verbal warnings to U representative for alleged poor performance and being away from assigned work place, following his presentation of grievance, violative, where Ee was not reprimanded at time alleged infractions occurred, thus indicating that incidents were not considered significant by management, and there was no evidence of verbal warnings for similar offenses)

Certain-Teed Insulation Company 251 NLRB No. 208
(written warning to Ee who was picketing E's premises wearing sandwich board sign stating E was unfair to its Ees for entering unauthorized area of plant while on his way to restroom, violative, where E has no rule that prohibits Ees from going in plant to use restroom when they are not scheduled to work)

5029-7533—Cont.

Weyerhaeuser Company 251 NLRB No. 097
(warning Ees during U campaign about being away from work stations based on more stringent enforcement of rules, violative)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 053
(E's system of written warnings issued to ex-strikers, implemented until there were no longer any ex-strikers on payroll, unlawful, where E's action was result of change in warning procedure calculated to harass and provide grounds for discharging ex-strikers who were recipients of unprecedently large number and discrepant proportion of warnings)

IML Freight, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 111
(warning Ee for refusing work assignment, not unlawful, where GC failed to establish that warning was motivated by Ee's report to health authorities; Ee did not assert illness until after refusing to do cleanup job)

IML Freight, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 111
(warning letter to U stewards for participating in inpromptu meeting during work time to discuss grievance, not unlawful, where warning dealt solely with group meeting during work time in violation of contract and not about grievance being discussed of which E had no knowledge)

Borden Inc. Foods Division, Drake Bakeries 248 NLRB No. 162
(issuance warning to Ee who had previously filed charges with Bd for continual pattern of confrontations with management and supervisors, unlawful, where based on personnel data sheet, noting Ee's threat during grievance meeting to go to NLRB)

467 East Gilbert Street Corporation d/b/a Medical Center Convalescent Hospital 247 NLRB No. 074
(issuance of warnings to U activist, unlawful in view of unreasonable and implausible explanation by E)

Suburban Motor Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 002
(reprimand and discipline of Ee on two separate occasions held not unlawfully motivated by desire to retaliate against Ee for his efforts through U on behalf of fellow Ee, where reliability of Ee's recollection of events was suspect, valid basis for reprimands existed, and circumstances upon which reprimands and discharges were based did not support conclusion that they were based on unlawful reasons)

Franklin Art Glass Studios, Inc. JD-93-82
(issuance of warning letter to Ee with regard to his absenteeism not violative, since warning letter would have been issued to Ee even if he had nothing to do with U)

Ford Motor Company, Automotive Division, Twin Cities Plant JD-57-81
(issuing reprimands and warnings to Ee and placing warning in his file because he kept log of foremen doing U work, filed foreman-working grievances, and urged other Ees to do the same, unlawful)

Maremont Corporation JD-(ATL)-16-80
(issuing written warning to U adherent for allegedly loafing and unauthorized use of xerox machine, violative, where no evidence was offered that Ee neglected his work and record showed other instances of Ee use of xerox machine w/o disciplinary action)

Hunter Fan and Ventilating Company JD-525-80
(discipline of Ee not violative, where she was not singled out for disciplinary action because she filed a grievance as contended, but because she had violated company rules concerning which she had been previously cautioned)

Better-Bilt Aluminum Products Co., Inc. JD-228-80
(issuing warnings to U activist to correct her unsatisfactory work and taking prolonged breaks or more serious action will be taken held violative where supervisor had advised Ee that E was going to get rid of Ee because of her U activity and reasons for warnings smacked of pretense)

N.L.R.B. v. Friendly Ice Cream Corporation 677 F.2d 170 (C.A. 1, May 1982)
(ct denied Bd's ptn for enforcement of its order finding E guilty of violating Secs. 8(a)(1), 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(4) of Act by giving allegedly retaliatory and discriminatory written warning to Ee for violating no-solicitation rule where Bd's decision specifically rested upon its conclusion that E had disabled itself from enforcing rule by reason of having tolerated breaches in past that did not relate to unionization and fact was that in two years rule was observed every day but two)

N.L.R.B. v. Garry Manufacturing Company 630 F.2d 934 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(substantial evidence supported finding that issuance of written reprimands where oral reprimands were customarily issued in the first instance and where all but one who received written reprimands were U activists, was unlawful)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 689 F.2d 605 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(ct held substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that drivers were unlawfully disciplined for engaging in protected and concerted activity when they refused to drive tractor-trailor they believed to be unsafe pursuant to U instructions invoking provision of collective bargaining agreement; E's reliance on Jim Causley Pontiac, 675 F.2d 125 (6th Cir. 1982), unwarranted where ct held, inter alia, that E knew that drivers made their complaints pursuant to U activity; ct also reaffirmed its rejection of Interboro doctrine)

N.L.R.B. v. United Parcel Service, Inc. 677 F.2d 421 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(issuing final warning and then discharging Ee, assertedly because of repeated violations of E's rules with respect to overextension of permissible breaks by Ee, violative where substantial evidence supported finding of Bd that excessive surveillance of Ee and decision to discharge him were in retaliation for his U activities)

Clear Pine Mouldings, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 721 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(violation where Ee was reprimanded, not as alleged because of her U activities during working hours, and harassment of other Ees, but because of her status as a leading U activist)

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(ct enforced Bd's finding that Ee was reprimanded by E because he was suspected of engaging in U activities and E sought to deter him from such activities)

5029-8100 Assignment of work; withdrawals of, additions to, etc.

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 129
(E's failure to assign diving work to crew member on E's tug boats, unlawful, where crew member, who was active U adherent, had performed diving work for E on number of occasions, but after E acquired knowledge of his U activities, crew member was not used for diving work for 3 months; fact that E subsequently assigned him diving job following filing of charges herein did not mitigate prior discrimination)

Danzansky-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 112
(funeral home instructing Ees to clean chapel on day after election, not unlawful, since not in retaliation for their votes, where chapel was dirty and needed cleaning and no services scheduled)

Midstate Telephone Company 262 NLRB No. 167
(refusing to permit Ees to perform scheduled work because they reported to work wearing T-shirts on which appeared facsimile of E's logo depicting logo as cracked and displaying accompanying slogan, I survived Midstate strike of 1971-1975-1979, violative where T-shirts worn by Ees were clearly directed at promoting solidarity by publicizing that Ees had survived recent prolonged 5-month strike and there were no special circumstances which would warrant deviation from general rule protecting right of Ees to wear insignia at work pertaining to Us or working conditions)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(refusing to assign lucrative route to U activist and assigning it to less senior Ee who disavowed U instead, unlawful where E explained that he did not want activist in contact with other routemen and affecting their attitudes and used double rating standard adverse to activist)

Denny's Foods, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 197
(E violated Act when it removed Ee from her substitute position as alternate receiver, a higher paying job, and used her solely as cashier because this was in retaliation for her having filed a grievance under the contract)

American Interstate Freight Lines 258 NLRB No. 131
(refusing assignment of work to Ee on many occassion because he went to U concerning his employment complaints, including contract provision that called for guaranteed work week, violative)

American Interstate Freight Lines JD-117-81
(violation, where GC made prima facie showing that motivating factor in E's decision to deny him work was his going to U concerning his employment complaints, filing grievences, and endeavoring to enforce collective bargaining agreement; and E failed to demonstrate that it would have denied Ee work had he not engaged in protected activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)
(E did not overcome prima facie case of alleged unlawful assignment of Ee to standby duty for emergency service where Ees previously assigned such duty had more training than Ee; Ee was first one assigned standby duty after technological changes, claimed by E to make emergency repairs easier to carry out, occurred; E was unable to make more complex emergency repairs; strike replacement workers were not placed on standby roster until after Ee had been placed there; and during strike E did not use any Ees in Ee's job classification for emergency work)

5029-8700 Refusal to grant leave

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 262 NLRB No. 151
(denying reinstated Ee extended leave of absence and terminating her at time other Ees had been granted extended leaves of absence held violative)

5029-8900 Transfer or refusal of transfer

5029-8900—Cont.

Gerabo Lace Mills, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 044

Ford Paint and Varnish Company 264 NLRB No. 156
(removal of U adherent from job which has resulted in his earning several hours overtime per week violative)

Ford Paint and Varnish Company 264 NLRB No. 156
(transferring U adherent to dirty, more arduous position violative)

Ford Brothers, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 011
(E's transfer of Ees to new facility in such manner as to attempt to place them under jurisdiction of U other than that of their exclusive bargaining representative so as to evade contractual obligations, violative)

Petroleum Helicopters, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 009
(threat to transfer and transfer of Ee, who was member of U's board of directors and activities coordinator, to more distant location violative where Ee was informed by E that he was being transferred because he was a disruptive influence and later denial of retransfer because he was still being punished also violative)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(transferring unit work to new mine 5 miles away at time old one is struck in order to avoid bargaining with U and then hiring new Ees through unlawfully assisted U's hiring hall while refusing to hire striking Ees and those represented by certified striking U violates Act)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(termination of U adherent employed in bakery operation at E's store upon closure of such operation, and refusal of Ee's request for transfer to similar operation at another store, not unlawful, where closure was unrelated to any U activity; no jobs were available at store to which she desired to be transferred and it was against company policy to have relatives working together which would have resulted from Ee's transfer)

ITT Lighting Fixtures, Division of ITT Corporation 261 NLRB No. 034
(transfer of pro U activist from her position of group leader at E's main warehouse to smaller warehouse 8 miles distant from main warehouse, where, some 4 months later, she was promoted to supervisor at small warehouse held violative, since group leader was not supervisor as defined in Act, at time of transfer which concededly made to curb group leader's pro U activities)

M & G Convoy, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 145
(failing and refusing to transfer to new facility any former Ees of closed facility, violative as decision accomplished no legitimate business goal because it required hiring inexperienced Ees who required 3 weeks training and was motivated by E's expressed desire to keep new facility pure of U Ees at closed facility whom E viewed as troublemakers because they actively enforced contract terms)

Mathews Ready Mix, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 092
(transferring Ee to headquarters facility, 70 miles distant; violative where E told Ees that transfer was for making union troubles and to make an example of him)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 194
(transferring Ee to another store in retaliation for his U activities, unlawful)

S. W. Hart & Company, Pty. Ltd., d/b/a Solahart of Fresno 258 NLRB No. 192
(transferring some Ees to another facility as part of plan to break up unit and thwart Ees' desire for U representation, unlawful)

The Evening News Association 258 NLRB No. 020
(termination of technologically displaced telephone operator, U activist, subsequent to alleged refusal to transfer her to another clerical position w/i E's organization not violative where Ee refused to accept other clerical jobs offered by E; GC did not sustain burden of proving discrimination, since events relied on were outside 10(b) limitation period, and were subject to several inferrences none of which constituted ULP nor amplified character of any later conduct of E)

Cecil Walker Machinery Co. 257 NLRB No. 081
(transfer of Ee from truck to warehouse assertedly because E was concerned that Ee's attitude would have adverse effect on customer relations violative where there were no customer complaints about Ee and Ee was transfered for speaking out at U meeting)

Brodart, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 077
(transfer of Ee from payroll office to tax department for attending U meetings, violative)

Raley's, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 155
(transfer of vociferous U adherent from one store to another not violative where Ee had dispute with another U adherent over their preferences for different Us and purpose of transfer was to restore harmony; moreover after transfer Ee learned new skill and received merit increase)

St. Regis Paper Company 255 NLRB No. 072
(on reconsideration in light of Wright Line, 251 NLRB No. 150, Bd reaffirms finding of unlawful transfer of two Ees to another facility, as E admitted that Ees were selected because they were U members and absence of reference to any temporary need for these Ees at this facility)

J. C. Penney Company 252 NLRB No. 047
(refusal to transfer U-represented floor sales department Ees to new catalog sales department, violative, where E rejected such Ees applications for transfer to avoid having U adherents w/i its complement of catalog sales Ees)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(E's refusal to accede to request of former U president upon his return from strike to different shift, not unlawful, where refusal was because of need for close supervision in view of Ee's previous serious threat during strike upon life of non-striker)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(refusal to accede to request of Ee who had been member of U's negotiating committee for transfer to truck driving job, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that closer supervision needed than would be possible on outside job in view of ee's alleged strike misconduct)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(U council's transfer of Ee-staff members to different locations in their assignments of servicing U locals held not motivated by legitimate business considerations, where Ees were experienced lobbyists for council in state legislature in their original assignments; Ees were not given notice of intent to transfer them; only after council had taken issue with Ees' attendance at U meeting and after their return from unlawful suspension were transfers announced; and only Ees herein were singled out from among other Ees E intended to reassign)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(alleged complaints regarding servicing of locals against Ee-staff members of U council by rank-and-file members held not reason for discriminatory transfer of staff members, where council administrator never counseled one member concerning alleged servicing complaints nor tell him that such complaints were reason for transfer and, in discussing transfer with another member involved in transfer, administrator did not mention alleged servicing complaints as reason for transfer; in stead, administration had commended latter Ee on his work in his area)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(E's conduct in imposing conditions on transfer to other departments of press department Ees selected for layoff, whereby Ees would be permanently transferred, would forfeit seniority, and receive reduction in pay, unlawful, where such action was not in accord with E's past practice, E displayed pervasive U animus and had special awareness of U activity in press department, imposition of conditions was not based on economic considerations but on combating Ees' U activity, and E did not treat similarly situated Ees in another department in same manner)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(E's asserted reasons for imposing allegedly discriminatory conditions on transfer of Ees to other departments in lieu of laying them off, rejected, where there was no evidence to justify E's refusal, purportedly because of retraining expenses, to allow transferred Ees to return to their department when work became available; E's explanation for reducing transferees' wages was unconvincing since transferees, experienced in other work in plant, were to be paid as newly-hired Ees; and E did not impose any conditions on similar transfers involving Ees in another department)

Detroit Diesel Allison Division, General Motors Corporation 249 NLRB No. 089
(U's filing of grievance assertedly in order to cause transfer of Ee and his politically allied fellow Ee out of their department because Ee intended to run for election against incumbent U officer, and E's implementation of sustained grievance, not unlawful, where incumbent officer successfully handled financially rewarding grievance for Ee, thereby mitigating any inference of animosity on part of incumbent towards Ee; grievance was arguable and not unmeritorious; Ees' transfer resulted from drop in production; and Ees were not harmed by temporary transfer or inhibited in running for U office)

Pullman Trailmobile, A Division of Pullman Incorporated 249 NLRB No. 089
(transfer of U steward to another job because of his conduct in filing grievances, unlawful)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(violations where E transferred U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing to store in less desireable location, reduced their working hours to times when they could not use public transportation, added onerous janitorial duties and then discharged them)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(denial of U adherent's request for transfer to another job, unlawful, where E kept Ee in job, which was beyond his capabilities, until such time as it could discharge him for low production, and finding herein is supported by discriminatory treatment of Ee upon his request for reemployment after his discharge)

5029-8900—Cont.

Rainbo Baking Company JD-(SF)-117-82
(transferring Ee from one location to another location because Ee filed grievances with U, unlawful)

Bozzuto's Flour Foods JD-599-81
(violation where, notwithstanding Ee's protest, E transferred her from one store to another because she had used her U representative to complain about her work schedule)

Arco Chemical Company, A Division of Atlantic Richfield Company JD-(SF)-174-80
(temporary transfer of Ee to another of E's locations because Ee was uniquely qualified to perform project, because Ee was more readily available for temporary assignment, and because Ee would have less travel time to new location, not unlawful, notwithstanding GC's contention that E transferred Ee to neutralize his continued activity on U's behalf)

Georgetown Steel Corporation JD-819-79
(transfer of truck drivers into labor pool at lower pay held not unlawful since transfer was for economic reasons and not for Ees' U activities whereby they invoked U assistance to get them reinstated to their former jobs; E advanced plausible explanation for cost cutting in trucking department, there was no evidence that E had grudge against Ees or any U animus; instead E had good working relationship with U, and many Ees complained directly to U about E w/o refusals)

N.L.R.B. v. National Car Rental System, Inc. 673 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(refusal to transfer U members to new facility after closing old operation, unlawful, since there was substantial evidence of U animus, where E planned from the start, and did not change its plan, to make new operation non-U; and after sale of most of old operation's accounts to purchaser became likely, E flatly refused to consider transfer of unionized Ees; E's defenses on ground that it believed purchaser would hire all of its Ees and that it had harmonious relationship with U entire time it operated old facility, rejected)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)
(ct upheld Bd's finding that E unlawfully transferred Ee from day to night shift because he engaged in protected activity based on inference that legitimate business reasons did not motivate transfer because E did not replace Ee after he was terminated)

N.L.R.B. v. Big Bear Supermarkets #3 and its alter ego Richard Hemus 640 F.2d 924 (C.A. 9, Apr 8, 1980)
(transfer of unit Ees from one of E's stores which he franchised to individual with whom E constituted a single E, unlawful, where there was requisite proof of anti-U animus since E franchised store for purpose of evading its bargaining obligations with Us and transfer formed integral part of scheme to transform store into a non-U shop)

5029-9200 Denying use of tools of trade

Sprinkmann Sons Corporation of Illinois JD-763-80
(E and U held not to have violated Act by E's alleged failure to assign, at U's behest, non-U Ees working as journeyman's helpers to jobs requiring use of tools of trade, where E eliminated U steward from job for protesting use of tools by non-U Ees, non-U Ees either used tools or did not request assignment to work requiring their use, contract did not provide that helpers be assigned use of tools nor was it U policy that non-U men should not work with tools, and E determined which Ees would use tools on basis of efficiency and increased production)

5029-9400 Refusal to grant overtime

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(E's institution of night shift with shift differential and hiring temporary Ees for shift rather than permitting Ees to perform additional work at overtime rates, not violative of Section 8(a)(3), nor was unilateral implementation violative of Section 8(a)(5) where E had lawfully withdrawn recognition from U)

Mathews Readymix, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 092
(denying Ee opportunity to work overtime before and after unlawfully transferring him to another facility held violative)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 061
(crew foreman's maintenance of overtime list containing only names of U members and excluding U members of another local on traveler status, and his practice of giving overtime work to various individual U members asking for overtime work, held to constitute unlawful discrimination against U traveler)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 061
(construction company's alleged unlawful denial of overtime work to U members, as opposed to U members of other locals in traveler status, not unlawful, where power company for which construction company was performing work assigned overtime work, and construction company made assignments only when power company authorized it; and method of distributing overtime to Ees was not inherently destructive of Ees' statutory rights; instead, method of doing so sought to protect principle of equitable distribution of overtime)

German Machine Corporation 257 NLRB No. 010
(E's abrupt termination of overtime work immediately after U won election, violative where such termination of overtime was obviously in retaliation against Ees, majority of whom had voted in favor of U)

German Machine Corporation 257 NLRB No. 010
(elimination of overtime for assembly Ees, not violative where Ees who were assigned overtime, unlike assembly Ees, were familiar with work to be done and no assembly Ee had been previously informed that he would be working on date in question; E demonstrated that same action would have occurred even in absence of Ees' U activities)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(denial of overtime to U adherent, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that its action was governed by its rules and was management prerogative, where contradictions of E's voluntary overtime policy as to Ee were not explained; application of such policy in Ee's case was modified; and in absence of evidence establishing any personal reason for denying overtime, inference is that denial was motivated by impermissible reasons directly related to Ee's U activities)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(cutting Ee's overtime and changing his work hours so as to impose more arduous working conditions upon him immediately after his U activity, violative)

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132, AFL-CIO 255 NLRB No. 060

United Oil Manufacturing Co., Inc. 254 NLRB No. 179
(denying reinstated ULP strikers overtime benefits they had enjoyed prior to strike, violative)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(supervisor's change in attitude toward Ee after latter became known as U adherent, resulting in Ee's loss of overtime work and less remunerative work during his regular shift, unlawful)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(depriving U advocate of overtime assertedly because his machine had suffered oil leak held violative where other machine operators had suffered oil leaks earlier w/o repercussions from E)

Sprinkmann Sons Corporation of Illinois JD-763-80
(E and U held not to have violated Act by E's alleged denial of overtime to non-U Ees at U's behest, where E apportioned overtime based on production ability of E, neither contract nor U's by-laws required that U members be awarded overtime before non-U Ees, contract did not provide that overtime be awarded on basis of seniority, no pattern of discrimination in overtime against non-U Ees was apparent from work records, and one instance of excess in overtime by U member over non-U Ee was due to special circumstances)

Standard Plumbing and Sewer Cleaning, East Side Sewer and Drain Cleaning, and All City Plumbing, a Joint Venture, and Con-Co Plumbing, Inc. JD-664-80
(denying Ee overtime work after joining U and subsequent layoff violative where E produced no evidence to support claim of slack work and E maintained same number of Ees)

Penz Tool and Manufacturing Co., Inc. JD-644-80

5029-9500 Discontinuance or reduction of washup time

Appalachian Power Company John E. Amos Plant 250 NLRB No. 038
(withdrawal, from some maintenance Ees, of permission to wash up five minutes before their usual quitting time held not violative of Section 8(a)(3), since evidence did not establish that foremen in cancelling washup privilege were motivated in whole or part by anti-U or retaliatory considerations)

5029-9600 Requiring use of timeclock

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003

Kevah Konner, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 000
(telling U activist that he had to punch the time clock instead of keeping his own time sheet when other Ees in like situation did not have to do so, unlawful)

Weyerhaeuser Company 251 NLRB No. 097
(installation and required utilization of timeclock, not unlawful, where such change was based on desire of Ees initially expressed prior to U campaign and later voted on by Ees)

5029-9700 Change in job duties

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Key Motors 264 NLRB No. 137
(instituting rule requiring car salesmen to accompany customers on demo rides in retaliation for their U activities, unlawful)

5029-9700—Cont.

Danzansky-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 112

Amoco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/ Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 036
(changing work assignment of U adherent by removing him from position of substitute lead operator which was higher paying job, violative)

Virginia Electric and Power Company 260 NLRB No. 050
(removal of Ee from desired job assignment assertedly because of her U activities, not unlawful, where complaint contained no allegation of any wrongdoing regarding Ee, GC conceded in his belated contention concerning discriminatory motive that there was little direct evidence to support it and had stipulated that alleged sexual harassment had nothing to do with this case)

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center 256 NLRB No. 064
(announcing and implementing changes in schedules and work rules, violative where changes were made in retaliation against Ees for engaging in U activity)

International Union of Operating Engineers, Local Union No. 132, AFL-CIO 255 NLRB No. 060

Bell Industries, Inc. JD-479-82
(discontinuing U adherent's sharing of truckdriving duties with E's regular truckdriver after driver's return following illness and assigning adherent to packing orders, unlawful, in view of E's U animus and fact change made w/i few days after receiving R ptn, particularly where a few days prior to receiving ptn E had informed Ees that rotation of driving between them would continue)

N.L.R.B. v. Tid-Bit Products Company, et al. 620 F.2d 581 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(reassignment and subsequent layoff of Ee, unlawful, where at U meeting Ee asked whether contract provisions calling for overtime equalization pay by departments or classifications applied to her lab job, and action taken against Ee occurred because she raised such issue which offended chief steward whose roommate was Ee's coworker in lab and was beneficiary of favorable discrimination by receiving overtime pay under same conditions that overtime pay was denied to Ee)

5029-9900 Other

Acme Motors, Inc., t/a Acme Datsun 263 NLRB No. 077
(billing Ee for nonexistent or minor damage to his demonstrator automobile in retaliation for his U activity, violative)

5030 DUES CHECKOFF REVOCATIONS

C. Salari & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 053
(where dues checkoff authorization card contained language to be renewed each year, this provides for revocability w/i a year as required by Section 302(c)(4) of Act; thus these dues checkoff authorization cards continue in effect until specifically revoked)

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(E's cessation of checking off U dues after expiration of U security agreement not violative, since agreement had expired; Section 302(c)(4) of LMRA provides that life of checkoff authorization shall not be irrevocable for one year or termination date of applicable bargaining agreement, whichever occurs sooner)

Kenneth & Mary M. McGlaughlin, Co-Partners, d/b/a Hudson-High Super Duper v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 678 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(questioning job applicant about his U activities and refusing to hire him violative notwithstanding job opening did not turn out to exist)

5034 ACTIONS AFFECTING SENIORITY

5034-3300 Reduction of, or failure to grant seniority

Sedloff Publications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 139
(E formalizing previously unwritten seniority roster, and continary to prior policy, taking into consideration breaks in service when setting seniority dates, unlawful, since related to and prompted by Us organizing campaign inasmuch as written list made up because list might be useful in negotiating contract if U became bargaining representative and implementation was to detriment of some Ees as it resulted in their loss of hours)

Maywood, Inc. 231 NLRB No. 139
(stripping Ee of his leadperson duties because of his U activities violative)

5034-6700 Discriminatory seniority policy

Complete Auto Transit 257 NLRB No. 088
(violation, where E assigned position of rail lead man to U steward as result of superseniority not limited to layoff and recall, w/o adequate justification and denied position to Ee who had expressed preference for position which he was entitled to by natural seniority as against U steward)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 093
(instituting policy of recalling laid-off Ees ahead of unreinstated economic strikers w/o regard to circumstances involved, violative, where such policy amounted to unlawful grant of superseniority to crossovers and replacements; furthermore, such policy was inherently discriminatory absent any legitimate business justification since it gives preference to laid-off Ees over unreinstated strikers in filling job vacancies unrelated to layoffs where qualifications or abilities of Ees were deemed relatively equal by E)

General Grocer Company JD-891-82
(E's and U's action in changing system by which truckdrivers bid, on basis of seniority, for assignments to E's city run deliveries, not unlawful, since U's conduct, following its acquiescence to E's desire to change bidding system for economic reasons, was neither arbitrary, capricious, nor in bad faith, inasmuch as U justifiably viewed its position as effort, under agreement with E, to regain lost rights of its old members as opposed to rights of its members who had transferred from sister local)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 926 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)
(promulgating rules providing that members of existing work force made up of permanent replacements will be recalled in order of seniority in event of layoff even before unreinstated economic strikers, not unlawful, where such system assures replacements permanent status to which they are entitled under Mackay and, contrary to Bd finding, system does not discriminate between strikers and non-strikers nor does it deny unreinstated strikers right to reinstatement should vacancies occur in work force)

5034-6740 Strike seniority

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 262 NLRB No. 017
(denial of accrued seniority to returning strikers because they engaged in protected strike activity, violative)

George Banta Company, Inc. Banta Division 256 NLRB No. 055
(denying seniority and benefits of seniority for purposes of job assignment and computation of rates of pay to striking Ees, violative)

5034-6750 Superseniority

McQuay-Norris, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 191
(E and U violated Act by maintaining and enforcing superseniority clause which caused retention of Ee-U officials (trustee and guide) above other Ees with more seniority where U officials duties concerned organizational and internal functions of U and not contractual matters pertaining to bargaining and grievances)

George Banta Company, Inc. Banta Division 256 NLRB No. 055
(violation where E granted preferential reinstatement rights and preferential seniority rights to jobs and rates of pay to Ees who abandoned strike before strike ended)

Sheaffer Eaton Division of Textron, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 141
(following election, E's granting U steward top seniority in permanent job classification pursuant to contract's superseniority provisions which specifically apply to bump/layoff status found not violative, although it resulted in his transfer from lower paying job at which he had been working while in bump/layoff status and bumping Ee whom he replaced who had greater job seniority into lower paying job)

N.L.R.B. v. Stanley H. Egan and Donald R. Egan 658 F.2d 746 (C.A. 10, Aug 1980)
(application of contractual superseniority provision to U trustee and U guard for purpose of layoff and recall held violative, as these duties do not contribute in any meaningful way to implementation of collective bargaining agreement)

Teamsters Local 20 v. N.L.R.B. 610 F.2d 991 (C.A.D.C.)
(granting preference in truck route assignments to U steward over more senior Ee pursuant to all purpose superseniority clause, unlawful, since clause, extending such preference beyond layoff and recall, was presumptively unlawful, and U failed to justify application of clause, notwithstanding its contention that preference in route assignments would facilitate steward's handling of Ee grievances by increasing his access to Ees and management representatives)

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 10 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(granting preferential reinstatement and seniority rights to Ees who abandoned strike before it ended and crossed over picket line, violative notwithstanding E's contentions that its preferential reinstatement systems (PRS) gave Ees no prospective benefits and that PRS was justified by E's needs; ALJ correctly found that Management could have achieved essentially same business objectives w/o drawing line of demarcation between crossovers and returning strikers and whether benefit is current or prospective, relevant question is whether E has illegally burdened statutory right to strike)

5040 REFUSAL TO PROMOTE

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011
(refusing to make most active U adherent, employed part-time, into full-time Ee, not unlawful, where GC failed, by preponderance of evidence, to prove that E harbored pervasive animosity against Ee because of her U activities, and for that reason discriminated against her by ignoring her desire for full-time work; even if one supervisor expressed view that E deemed it inadvissible, during pendency of U campaign, to favor Ee with upward discrimination, no finding of violation would be made, since such action by E could be found to have bought Ee away from her U resolve)

5040—Cont.

Kesler Corporation, d/b/a Kesler Brass Company 263 NLRB No. 023
(denying Ee assignment to position of acting assistant foreman and refusing him promotion to position of permanent assistant foreman because of his support of U, violative)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(promotion to temporary supervisor because of Ee's efforts to oppose U while withholding promotion because of Ee's known U activities held violative)

Virginia Electric and Power Company 260 NLRB No. 050
(refusal to promote active U organizer, unlawful, where she was not promoted in part because of her U activities which constituted prima facie evidence of unlawful discrimination, and E did not offer any convincing evidence that refusal would have occurred absent her U activities; fact that another U supporter was promoted to job in question did not rebut prima facie showing, since discriminatee was primary and active U organizer, while promoted Ee's U activity was minimal, and E need not discriminate against all U activists or supporters before GC can establish discriminatory intent)

National Steel Products 252 NLRB No. 120

Coating Products, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 170
(refusal to promote Ee to leadman where he was already performing work until after U campaign violative)

Ford Motor Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(E's refusal to promote Ees unlawful where refusal was attempt to punish them for pursuing grievance and filing ULP charge and they were highly qualified, experienced and recommended for promotion)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153
(failure to promote leading U proponent known to E and advising him he was not eligible for promotion until he became more versatile in his work held violative where E assigned Ee only one type of work (welding) and two full time Ees were needed to perform work which discriminatee had performed with only part-time assistance)

N.L.R.B. v. Ford Motor Company 683 F.2d 156 (C.A. 6, July 1982)
(refusal to promote Ees who had been recommended for promotion, unlawful, since for voicing their dissatisfaction with E's promotion policies, filing grievances and ULP charges, particularly in view of promotion of others with less seniority)

Osteopathic Hospital Founders Association, d/b/a Oklahoma Osteopathic Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 633 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(violation where E refused to promote U activist as long as she was engaged in organizational activities for the Union)

5050 Demotion

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025
(violative where asserted grounds for action was theft of E's property but real reason was Ee's U activity)

Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 087
(demoting U organizer and president whose job had been unilaterally eliminated and refusing him opportunity to bump less senior Ees holding jobs he was qualified to fill, unlawful)

TRW-United Greenfield Division 260 NLRB No. 013
(demotion of Ee who engaged in U activity violative; subsequent discharge also violative where Ee was discharged for using profane language when he protested unlawful demotion as supervisor humiliated Ee and by his conduct provoked Ee)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 194
(demoting Ee in retaliation for his U activities, unlawful)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 064
(leading U advocate being assigned to undesireable night shift, his demotion, disciplinary reprimands and eventual discharge held unlawful where valid grounds for E's actions were frequently false or exaggerated, adverse action against Ee occurred when Ee became in-plant spokesman for U and Ee who opposed advocate's election to U office was more tenderly treated for his acts of misconduct)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 119
(demotion of leadperson because of his U activities and as part of E's efforts to chill U activity in plant, violative)

Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 076
(although record did not show that Ee with less seniority than discriminatee remained in department, Bd found demotion unlawful where timing of demotion, following interrogation about Ee's pro-U sentiments, coupled with E's failure to introduce evidence to negate inference of unlawful motivation, supported such finding)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(demotion unlawful where for U adherence rather than for customer complaints)

5053 Transfer

Ebb Tide Processing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 180
(causing Ee to transfer to avoid supervisor's retaliation for her complaints about his disregarding seniority in selecting Ees for layoffs and recalls found constructive transfer and unlawful)

International Business Systems, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 182
(E's listing Ee, who was known to be active U supporter, in nonlithographic department should it be determined that lithographic unit petitioned for was appropriate, not violative of Sec. 8(a)(3), nor change of job duties for discriminatory reasons, even if Ee's U activity might have affected E's determination as to which department to place him)

Ford Motor Company, Automotive Division, Twin Cities Plant JD-57-81
(disqualifying Ee for certain positions and transferring him to lower-paying jobs, more difficult job, odd jobs and labor pool jobs because he kept log of foremen doing U work, filed foreman-working grievances, and urged other Ees to do the same, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. St. Regis Paper Company 674 F.2d 104 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(choosing U members for transfer from non-U facility to facility covered under collective bargaining agreement, violative)

5056 Lockout

5056-0100 Generally

5056-0150 Not unlawful per se

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 063
(Ees were locked-out and not constructively discharged where plant remained intact and could have resumed operations at any time; moreover, E did not hire any replacements for plant)

5056-0175 Employer's motivation or intention

Dimo Ambulette Service, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 082
(E's lockout of its Ees because they joined U and because of visit of U representative, violative)

Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 083
(no lock-out where E, knowing that Ees would be attending U meeting before work usually started, moved up starting time of workday for that date, since E had valid business reason for doing so, had no knowledge when U meeting would end, and warehouse was locked because everyone was out on trucks working)

Iowa Parcel Service, Inc. and Iowa Express Distribution, Inc. JD-238-82
(lockout to force U to agree to unscheduled mid-term modification or termination of contract and to hurt Ees, unlawful)

5056-2200 In support of [illegible] bargaining position

Iowa Parcel Service, Inc. and Io[illegible] Express Distribution, Inc. JD-238-82
(lockout to force U to agree to unscheduled mid-term modification or termination of contract and to hurt Ees, unlawful)

5056-3800 Retaliatory and to avoid bargaining

Dimo Ambulette Service, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 082
(E's lockout of its Ees because they joined U and because of visit of U representative, violative)

5056-6400 For signing application for union membership

Wilson Trucking, Inc. JD-119-82
(locking Ees out of facility on day after E received U's letter stating that majority of Ees had designated U their collective bargaining agent together with confiscating Ees' keys to facility and expense money the day before held unlawful discharge)

5056-7000 Lockout to meet strike threat may be lawful

Armour Oil Company 253 NLRB No. 148
(transfer of 10 of 12 trucks normally housed at one of E's terminals to another of E's terminals in same state not lockout in violation of contractual —no lockout provision and not violative of Act where record established E had sound economic reason for transfer and had good reason to believe U would strike on expiration of pending contract and that vandalism which had occurred during strike at one of E's other terminals would be repeated; record did not establish that any Ee lost work because of transfer of trucks)

5056-8000 Shutdown or discontinuance of plant or department may be lockout

5056-8500—Cont.

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043

(Ees were locked-out and not constructively discharged where plant remained intact and could have resumed operations at any time; moreover, E did not hire any replacements for plant)

5059 SHUTDOWN OR TERMINATION OF OPERATIONS

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 263 NLRB No. 095

(prima facie showing of discrimination by E's closing of gambling casino coffee shop and resultant layoff of its Ees upon decision made after U campaign began, and disparate selection for layoff of such Ees from other food service Ees who had not participated in U activities, not rebutted under Wright Line, where although E may have had justification to restructure its food service operations, it was not established that coffee shop would have been closed absent its Ees' U activities)

Rebel Coal Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 033

(closing of auto repair shop and resulting layoff of Ees, assertedly for economic reasons, violative, since E showed no good cause for closing shop and Ees would not have been discharged, despite possible overall company financial problems, except for their pro-U activities)

U.S. Contractors, Inc., and The Dow Chemical Company, U.S.A., Texas Division 257 NLRB No. 152

(contractor, engaged in providing maintenance and construction services for facility of petro-chemical industry, who terminated its custodial business entirely and laid off its entire janitorial work force w/o consulting with certified U representing custodial Ees, not in violation of Act where marginal profitability of janitorial division had turned into loss; E's actions were founded upon substantial economic factors rather than being motivated by unlawful considerations)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation 253 NLRB No. 036

(layoff all but skeleton force one week after Bd agent scheduled pre-election hearing and closing plant after E lost election violative, in view of timing, E's vigorous campaign, economic issues were raised only after U won election and dissatisfaction with work quality was voiced only after U appeared)

Armored Transport, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 061

(shutdown of E's operation which resulted in layoff of all its Ees violative where E was retaliating for Ees actions of trying to form U)

Franklin Fouts, d/b/a B & F Cartage 251 NLRB No. 068

(termination of business, not unlawful, under Darlington doctrine since E terminated all operations, even though admittedly motivated by U animus, and ceased to exist except for moneys owed to it)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144

(shut down of job for remainder of day following E's vehemently stated opposition to U after U claimed majority, where there was no explanation of necessity for shutdown, unlawful; neither E's asserted ignorance of law nor fact all Ees included in shut down sustained as defenses)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060

(closing of facility and subcontracting of Ee's work, unlawful, where E's defense that financial losses at facility necessitated such action, unlawful; it was fallacious to say, on one hand, that facility was such an economic disaster as to require its closing and, on the other hand, to subcontract its work; subcontractor did not prevent E from suffering financial losses; there was no diminution of work after subcontractor began performing it; and subcontractor's work force was substantially the same)

Iowa Parcel Service, Inc. and Iowa Express Distribution, Inc. JD-238-82

(allegations of ULPs by company and its owner on and after date company went out of business, dismissed, notwithstanding technical admission of allegations where respondents failed to answer)

Atlas Inc. JD-890-79

(violation where, in order to avoid dealing with U, E laid off unit Ees, ceased operations, closed shop, refused to reinstate Ees, and subcontracted unit work and transferred all physical assets to another corporation, and the corporation, found herein to be successor to and alter ego of E, refused to reinstate E's Ees and subcontracted work formerly performed by some of E's Ees)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(E has absolute right under Act to liquidate his entire business for whatever reasons he chooses, even if his motivation is vindictiveness toward U; partial closing motivated by anti-U purposes is also not ULP unless runaway shop is involved or E uses closing to chill unionism in his other businesses)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(runaway shop exists when E, in retaliation against U activity, transfers work from closed facility to another plant or opens new plant to replace closed plant; if no transfer of work has taken place or if there is transfer of work but decision to transfer is made for business reasons unrelated to U activity at closed plant, then there has been no ULP)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(anti-U motivation not established by fact that layoffs coincided with U activity where closing was for valid economic reasons; given economic necessity which existed in case sub judice, it was management's function to decide at what point slowdown became sufficiently protracted to require decrease in personnel)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(valid economic decision to close plant may amount to Sec. 8(a)(3) violation if E uses plant shutdown to inhibit U activity at other plants)

5059-3300 Partial termination

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161

(reducing operations by selling some trucks, subcontracting, and transferring work formerly performed by discriminatee to other Ees w/o bargaining in order to avoid recalling discriminatee, violative)

S.M.C. Rest. Corp. d/b/a Poletti's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 051

(violations, where E following demanded by U for recognition called meeting of all Ees and interrogated Ees as to why they wanted U, promised to discuss benefits after Ees signed pts against U, threatened to close restaurant if U came in, and w/i five days w/o warning to Ees closed restaurant for two and a half weeks which had never been previously closed)

Le Roy Fantasies, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 036

(E's shutdown of its laundry operation with attendant dismissal of its Ee complement in laundry, violative notwithstanding fact that mechanical and other deficiencies might well have warranted temporary shutdown, where shutdown was accelerated because of advent of U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(E's sale of its trucks, discharge of drivers and contracting out of hauling after drivers signed U cards, unlawful)

5060 RELOCATION OF OPERATIONS

Milwaukee Spring Division of Illinois Coil Spring Company 265 NLRB No. 028

(E's decision to relocate work from U to non-U plant, to layoff Ees as consequence during term of agreement solely because of higher labor costs, absent U's consent, is midterm repudiation of agreement in violation of Sec. 8(d), Sec. 8(a)(1), (3), (5); moreover, U did not waive right to bargain notwithstanding managements rights clause; such clause reserves for E right to decide whether and how products will be manufactured; it does not grant E right to transfer its operation. Thus, absent explicit language, U has not waived its right to object to E's decision)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 199

(transferring unit work to new mine 3 miles away at time old one is struck in order to avoid bargaining with U and then hiring new Ees through unlawfully assisted U's hiring hall while refusing to hire striking Ees and those represented by certified striking U violates Act)

Litton Mellonics Systems Division, A Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 084

(transferring operations allegedly to avoid unionization, not unlawful, where E rebutted GC's prima facie case by showing that E's actions were motivated by legitimate business reasons and that E would have taken such actions even absent Ees' protected activities)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027

(systematic exclusion of E's garage Ees and mechanics at its closed truck rental facility for consideration for employment at E's relocated facility, violative where E had voiced desire w/i ranks of management to have nonU operation at relocated site)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153

(transfer of Ees from E to E's alter ego, unlawful, since E's purpose for transfer was to avoid its collective bargaining obligation to Ees represented by U)

5060—Cont.

Lee Norse Company, a Subsidiary of Ingersoll Rand Company 247 NLRB No. [illegible]
(refusal to transfer unit Ees to new location, not violative, since change in original bargaining unit was so fundamental and diverse that new location was not integral part of existing unit at original location)

5062 SUSPENSION

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 109
(suspension of Ee assertedly for workplace deficiencies, unlawful, where Ee, who acted as U observer and was otherwise ardent and active U supporter, was disciplined w/o opportunity to rebut charges and asserted deficiencies did not involve any serious expenditures by E; co-worker, who was equally responsible for workplace, was not suspended; and E seized upon workplace deficiencies as pretext to punish Ee because of his U activities and to make it clear to him and others so inclined that advocacy of U would meet with same or similar treatment)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(striker shouting over loudspeaker from across street from picketing that he was playing music for pickets, not scabs, calling police in strike area fucking pigs, and resisting arrest, insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and subsequent discharge of striker, since use of obscene language not accompanied by threats of force or violence, talk did not incite pickets; nor did brief scuffle with police either by itself or in combination with his use of loudspeaker justify striker's discharge)

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(suspension based on Ee's alleged failure to comply with earlier warning, violative of 8(a)(3), since earlier warning had been violative of 8(a)(3) where motivated by E's feeling that Ee was source of his U problems)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 196
(suspension to enforce unlawful no-distribution rule, unlawful)

United Technologies Corporation 260 NLRB No. 196
(suspending Ees for refusing to answer question when they were interrogated after being denied assistance of U representatives where they believed interrogation might result in disciplinary action, unlawful)

St. Joseph Hospital Corporation 260 NLRB No. 089
(Ee's suspension for violating no-strike clause by leading mass picketing demonstration in support of another U's organizational efforts at E's facility and for having violated E's rule prohibiting Ees from making vicious, false or malicious statements about E's Ees, not unlawful, where, although GC established prima facie case by showing that Ee's statements were protected and Bd found they were motivating factor in suspension, E met burden of establishing that Ee would have been disciplined for unlawful picketing, even absent her protected activity, since E's main concern related solely to illegal nature of demonstration)

St. Joseph Hospital Corporation 260 NLRB No. 089
(in finding Ee's suspension for violating no-strike clause by organizing mass picketing demonstration in support of another U's organizational efforts at E's facility, not unlawful, even though Ee's allegedly false statements in U newspaper constituted protected concerted activity and were motivating factor in Ee's suspension, Bd held significant factor in finding no violation was that while E, in warning Ee of illegal nature of demonstration, made no mention of Ee's false statements nor warned her that statements might be contrary E's work rules; moreover, E was not disciplined until after she participated in unlawful picketing)

St. Joseph Hospital Corporation 260 NLRB No. 089
(in finding Ee's suspension for violating no-strike clause by organizing mass picketing demonstration in support of another U's organizational efforts at E's facility, not unlawful, even though Ee's allegedly false statements in U newspaper constituted protected concerted activity and were motivating factor in Ee's suspension, Bd held fact that other Ees were not disciplined for taking part in unlawful picketing did not cast doubt on Bd's finding of no violation since suspended Ee, unlike other Ees, had been instrumental in organizing the picketing)

Model A and Model T Motor Car Reproduction Corporation 259 NLRB No. 077
(suspending U adherents for distributing U pamphlets because they violated invalid no-distribution rule, violative)

Arrow Automotive Industries 258 NLRB No. 116
(issuance of warning notices to and suspension and discharge of Ee allegedly for failure to communicate schedule delays, unlawful, where E never mentioned said failure to communicate until it found U literature in Ee's truck and admonished him about it)

Arrow Automotive Industries 258 NLRB No. 116
(suspension of Ee for alleged refusal to work overtime unlawful, since true motivating factor for suspension was Ee's known and admitted U support, where period of overtime involved was about 1-1/2 hours, E had no written policy regarding overtime, and over proceeding period of many months Ee had displayed no proclivity towards avoiding overtime)

United States Postal Service 256 NLRB No. 121
(supervisor's suspension of U steward assertedly because of bad attendance record, violative, where decision to suspend steward coincided with his filing grievance against supervisor)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. [illegible]
(E's requiring that its drivers take polygraph test about missing vending machine keys discovered in their trucks, suspending those who refuse, and discharging those who failed test repeatedly held not unlawful retaliation for U organizing activity, in view of prior policy of administering polygraph tests, nondiscriminatory application of test-taking requirement, and fact that vending machines appeared to have been robbed by use of keys)

Container Corporation of America 255 NLRB No. 104
(suspension of U steward for refusing to obey orders to return to work after general supervisor terminated grievance meeting, not unlawful, since general supervisor had acted in accordance with contractual grievance procedure in terminating grievance meeting and had not acted precipitously or in reprisal for steward's belligerent conduct or interfered with his protected participation in grievance meeting)

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(summary suspension, one week after election won by U, of U observer at election and Ee who had spoken in support of U, unlawful, where E, w/o any investigation, seized on untrue information from Ee-informant that she had been threatened by one of discriminatees, as pretext for suspensions)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 066
(during hiatus in trial, suspending prominent proU Ee for two instances of talking and wasting time, violative as E did not admonish other Ees talking and Bd chairman's involvement indicated special consideration and delicate handling)

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011
(suspension of Ees for refusing to cross picket line established at their own E's premises by fellow U members of struck E, unlawful, where E, by performing struck work for benefit of struck E, lost its neutrality and allied itself with latter E, thereby becoming subject to lawful picketing by its Ees in furtherance of their sympathy strike; Ees' right to engage in strike was not waived by contract since its general language prohibiting strikes and lockouts was qualified by language specifically preserving Ees' right to refuse to cross picket line at their own place of employment)

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 062
(suspension of U steward allegedly for insubordination in refusing, at E's request, to return copy of written disciplinary warning issued to him allegedly for bypassing first step of grievance procedure, unlawful, where there was longstanding controversy between E and U overapplication of contract, E exhibited animosity toward steward and his U activities, and grievance in question dealt with E's refusal to excuse steward and fellow Ee when they absented themselves from work, after giving notice to E, to go to Bd's office to give evidence, which constituted protected activity)

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 062
(suspension of U steward allegedly for insubordination in refusing, at E's request, to return copy of disciplinary warning issued to him allegedly for bypassing first step of grievance procedure, unlawful, where grievance dealt with E's refusal to excuse steward and fellow Ee when they absented themselves, after giving notice to E, to go to Bd's office to give evidence; E's decision not to excuse absence was discriminatory and inherently destructive of statutory rights, and their being at Bd office was but for cause, not only in their being unexcused but also in steward's activities to remedy claimed injustices)

McLean Trucking Company 252 NLRB No. 104
(discharge of Ee and subsequent conversion of discharge to suspension and written warning for Ee's refusal to drive tractor-trailer violative, where Ee had good faith and reasonable belief that vehicle was unsafe, and E's adverse action was taken because Ee acted in reliance on U contract in concert with U officials)

United States Steel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 178
(violation where Ee was suspended and reprimanded for inquiring whether he would get contractual move-up pay for driving tractor, a task normally performed by another Ee at higher rate)

Pittsburgh Press Company 252 NLRB No. 075
(suspension of U organizer, unlawful notwithstanding E's allegation that he was suspended for threatening Ee in context of U organizing activities and offering to falsify medical certificate for her)

Alfa Leisure, Inc. 251 NLRB No. [illegible]
(issuance of warning notices to and suspension of Ee not violative where reason was Ee's lateness in returning from lunch after celebrating U victory in election for which he had been an observer, and for his insubordinate attitude)

5062—Cont.

Weyerhaeuser Company 251 NLRB No. 097
(warning and suspension of U adherent for returning late from his break and eating at his work station, not unlawful, where E issued warnings long prior to U campaign and there was no conclusive evidence showing that such discipline was related to any crack down on Ees as result of U campaign)

Savannah Wholesale Company 251 NLRB No. 087
(suspension of known U adherent for unwarranted complaint against supervisor and for improper procedures in taking delivery of assertedly damaged merchandise, unlawful, where it was not shown that E had unusual policy of punishing Ees because their grievance against supervisor was not meritorious, Ee's testimony that merchandise was not damaged was credited, and E adduced no evidence of business motivation for its sudden decision to enforce work rules more stringently following U's victory in election)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 086
(suspension of U adherent who had filed charges with Bd, not unlawful, in view of Ee's stealing time by wasting time on job and continuing disregard for company rules despite several warnings, thereby prompting E to file notice of intent to arbitrate disciplinary action against Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee and then suspending Ee after receiving arbitrator's advice to do so)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(suspension of Ees by administrator of U council on ground that meeting called by Ees' U and held at parent organization's facility violated council's policy curtailing Ees' contacts with such organization, unlawful, where administrator knew that meeting was called for purpose of addressing fellow Ee's discharge, which was protected activity; unlawful motivation was shown by attempt, following suspensions, to prevent Ees from meeting with their attorney; and administrator's concern about U meeting included Ees' taking issue with his disciplining of Ees and soliciting aid from other sources)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(contention that U council's suspension of Ee-staff members on ground that, by holding U meeting at parent organizations facility, they engaged in disloyal act, rejected, since Sec. 7 of Act is broad enough to encompass Ees' decision to choose, free of E interference, situs of their U meeting)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(suspension of known U adherents who left work contrary to revised notice of vacation schedule, unlawful, where other Ees similarly absent were not warned or disciplined for their infraction of E's orders)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(suspension of known U adherents for absence from their work area, unlawful, where they were absent no longer than 10 minutes during their break period, their casual greeting of other Ees in another department did not constitute a work interruption, and no other Ee had been disciplined for asserted reason)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(suspension of Ee for engaging in horse play with air hose, which was potentially dangerous to fellow Ee, not unlawful, where E investigated incident, thereupon reduced discharge to suspension, and exercised reasonable exercise of its business judgment in maintaining proper discipline with due regard for safety of its Ees)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. (Local 806, Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 089
(suspension of Ees for 60 days for participation in ULP strike, violative)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 053
(suspension of formerly striking Ee assertedly because of damage to E's rental vehicle due to Ee's improper checking out of equipment before delivery to customer, unlawful, in view of E's animus toward ex-strikers, timing of suspension to Ee's activities as steward, absence of evidence of negligence on Ee's part and of precedent for punishment herein, E's predisposition to be punitive, and E's failure to place in evidence any written statement attributable to customer)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(suspension of U steward for making attacks on foreman and use of obnoxious obscenities while processing (Ee) grievances held not violative, since remarks were carried to point of insubordination and steward, by his continuing actions, interfered with foreman's job performance)

The Davis Company 249 NLRB No. 068
(suspension of U stewards for filing OSHA C and too many nuisance grievances, unlawful)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(suspending two waiters, principal U organizers, w/i 5 days after learning of their U activity, for no reason during busiest day of week, violative)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(suspension of U committeeman for allegedly stealing customer receipts, violative, when made w/o prior warning and Ee told that you have a lawyer referring to U's counsel)

Pay 'N Save Corporation 247 NLRB No. 184
(suspension and discharge of Ees for wearing U buttons on their store jackets, unlawful, since right to wear buttons is legitimate form of U activity, and there was no valid business consideration or other special circumstance warranting forbidding of wearing of U buttons by store Ees on salesfloor)

CTS Keene, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 141
(suspension of U adherent allegedly for disrupting production by talking about U to other Ees who, on their own volition, ceased work to listen, unlawful since suspension for U activity, where Ees ordinarily permitted to converse while working, other Ees involved not disciplined, adherent not given chance to defend herself; and suspension based on warnings which deviated from E's usual procedure)

Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 076
(giving Ee reprimands and subsequent suspension for allegedly abusing restroom policy unilaterally instituted, violative)

Mid-East Consolidation Warehouse, A Division of Ethan Allen, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 090
(suspension of driver, who had been involved in several accidents, held in reprisal for his U activities where other drivers had more serious accidents and were not disciplined, suspension closely followed Ee's request to attend Bd hearing and was in middle of number of discriminatory discharges, and latest accident was seized upon to disguise E's real motive in suspending Ee)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(suspension of U adherent assertedly because he did not bring proper tool to work, unlawful, where incident was contrived to punish Ee for his recent U activity in order to provide record of unsatisfactory performance preparatory to Ee's discharge)

Oak Harbor Freight Lines, Inc. JD-(SF)-211-82
(issuing disciplinary letters to and imposing suspension on Ee, violative where Ee had instigated efforts to stop supervisor from doing unit work)

ITT McDonnel and Miller, A Unit of Fluid Handling Division of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. JD-387-82
(threat of discharge and suspension of Ee when he interfered with supervisor's removal of grievances which Ee had posted on E's bulletin board, made available to U under contract, not unlawful, where Ee's conduct was unprotected because not reasonably related to enforcement of contract right nor otherwise reasonable; there was no hostility toward U, grievances, or bargaining; threat was made when Ee physically impeded supervisor from leaving bulletin board area; and supervisor's remark cannot be construed as threat to discharge Ee for exercising percieved contract right)

Alabama By-Products Corporation JD-(ATL)-49-82
(suspending Ee for challenging E representative's veracity at grievance meeting, unlawful, since Ee's activity was protected where he was acting as U representative and could only assure fair resolution of another Ee's grievance by such challenge, and his action was not so flagrant as to lose protection of the Act)

* Illinois Bell Telephone Company JD-178-82
(suspension assessed against Ees who had engaged in work stoppage in response to disciplinary suspension of fellow Ee, not violative where strike was in violation of no-strike clause and was not initiated nor authorized by contracting U; strike was unprotected activity for which E was entitled to institute discipline of participating Ees)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-40-81
(suspension of U officials for non-compliance with violatively promulgated illness rule violative where rule only applied to these officials)

Ford Motor Company, Automotive Division, Twin Cities Plant JD-87-81
(suspending Ee for keeping log of U work done by foremen, and filing grievances about such work and E's retaliation against him for filing grievances, violative)

Salem Gravure Division of World Color Press, Inc. JD-152-81
(suspension and reprimand of U shop steward for use of obscenity towards supervisor when supervisor handed him as U representative copy of notice relating to strict enforcement of E's rules towards Ees, not unlawful where U requested that it be given all notices that E made applicable to its Ees, and E voluntarily complied with request; U representative is not thereby authorized to spout every kind of obscenity which comes to mind and then request and obtain protection of Act)

Aydin Corporation, Vector Division JD-828-80
(no violation for suspending U officer for going to another work area where she was told not to go and for refusing to see supervisor about pay check error w/o written note or U witness present to hear grant of permission to go as Ee cannot set conditions to compliance with order from supervisor)

Taylor Implement Division, Pittsburgh Forgings Company JD-474-80
(Ee's suspension and discharge violative where reason was not, as contended, his parking his automobile in unauthorized location but was, rather, his active participation in U's second effort to represent Ees after an election loss)

5062—Cont.

Lester Industries, Inc. JD-97-80
(suspension of chief U protagonist purportedly for threatening anti-U fellow Ee, unlawful, where E seized upon anti-U Ee's belated, implausible account of purported threat as pretext for suspension of Ee for engaging in U organizing and protected concerted activity)

Vass Steel Corporation JD-216-80
(E delaying reinstatement of economic striker by suspending him beginning on date on which he would have returned to work with other strikers, not unlawful, where for throwing rock at truck entering E's property during strike)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of U adherent who, as result of sloppy compressed appearance of vacation sign up sheet, mistakenly thought he was to be on vacation and failed to report to work, where after error was discovered supervisor could have requested him to work and did not, there was interferance with production, and in view of e's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority and triviality of error)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for making changes in schedule sheet unlawful, since steward was performing customary duty in enforcing contract, and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 1009 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(suspension of Ees for refusing to perform job assignment for safety reasons, not unlawful, where ALJ's finding to the contrary lacked factual basis, and there was no contention that suspensions were so inherently destructive of Ee interests that anti-U motive is irrelevant)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(E's suspension of Ee assertedly because of his deliberate insubordination in twice absenting himself from work w/o leave, unlawful, where E denied leave in order to prevent Ee from participating in U's attempt at coordinated bargaining at another plant, discipline was disparately applied in Ee's own case, and E evidenced overall hostility to coordinated bargaining attempt; moreover reason for suspension was question of fact which was to be decided by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 635 NLRB No. 312 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(E's suspension of Ee, engaged in U activities, for receiving speeding ticket driving E's vehicle and subsequent decision not to recall Ee, not unlawful, where after suspension E confirmed its information regarding Ee's speeding violations and learned E's motor vehicle record was encumbered with points as a result, which led insurer to take the position that Ee was virtually uninsurable; Bd must affirmatively show why E rejected good cause for discharge and chose a bad one, but it failed to do so herein)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 689 F.2d 605 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(ct held substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that drivers were unlawfully disciplined for engaging in protected and concerted activity when they refused to drive tractor-trailor they believed to be unsafe pursuant to U instructions invoking provision of collective bargaining agreement; E's reliance on Jim Causley Pontiac, 675 F.2d 125 (6th Cir. 1982), unwarranted where ct held, inter alia, that E knew that drivers made their complaints pursuant to U activity; ct also reaffirmed its rejection of Interboro doctrine)

Nacker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 456 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(assignment of discriminatee reinstated pursuant to Bd order after his initiation of Bd proceedings to job performance which might expose him to further injury of his injured hand with ultimatum of doing it or going home with result that discriminatee went home held to constitute unlawful suspension when other jobs which would not expose him to injury were available for assignment)

John H. Fournelle v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 331 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1982)
(no violation by suspending U committeeman along with other Ees for breach of no-strike agreement, since, notwithstanding committeeman left premises to go to dentist, before doing so he joined strikers at U hall and gave TV interview in support of strike, thus violating contractual clause which precluded encouraging and sanctioning strike; ct rejected contentions that ALJ did not base finding on above-mentioned clause and that justifying suspension on basis of said clause constituted impermissible waiver of Sec. 7 rights)

5064 NONRENEWAL OF EMPLOYMENT CONTRACT

5064-5080 For union or other protected activity

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-319-82
(refusal to rehire principal dancer, member of U team negotiating with E for contract, for coming ballet season, assertedly because his technical ability was not as strong as needed, held violative where E's artistic director was shown to be unhappy with manner in which Ee carried out his representative functions)

5067 LAYOFF

Townsend and Bottom, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(layoff of non-U Canadian Ees, not unlawful, where E explained reason they were no longer employed was because their visas were expiring and would have required them to be laid off anyway, and E thereby met its burden by showing it would have taken the same action against them even absent nonmembership in U or absent preference for U members)

Townsend and Bottom, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(layoff not unlawful, since only 7 Ees were involved and, unlike other layoffs which included only nonmembers of U and were found discriminatory, layoff herein included 3 U members, and hence GC failed to establish prima facie showing that selection of Ees for layoff was discriminatorily motivated)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 086
(assuming that evidence reflected that co-E of E in joint E relationship laid off Ee because of his suspension by E, layoff not unlawful, since Ee's suspension by E was for legitimate reasons, and Ee's work with co-E was adjunct or extension of work with E, and when E suspended Ee, he did so from both jobs)

Noryan Company, Inc. JD-847-79
(selection of Ees for layoff out of seniority and refusal to reinstate them by E who manufactured knit shirts, not unlawful, where selection was for poor attendance record and due to anticipated move from area, and there had been no U activity on part of Ees during 10(b) period; nor was hiring of new Ees subsequent to lay off indicative of unlawful motive where E had, meanwhile, installed new type of machine requiring different skills to operate)

5067-0100 Generally

Trend Construction Corporation and General Electric Corporation, Individually and as Joint Employers 263 NLRB No. 044
(layoffs lawful where E had hired excess Ees to pack unit with anti-U Ees to thwart U representation but election had been indefinitely postponed; furthermore, E experienced slowdown because noncompletion of other work)

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 081
(contention that Ee was laid off rather than discharged, rejected where E sent letter referring to separation and stating, I can't make any sort of commitment to you as to hiring after outdoor theatre was closed for season, as discharge was implied in word, separation and also saying ...in wish job could have lasted longer all of which would logically lead a prudent person to believe his tenure has been terminated)

Townsend and Bottom, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(fact layoffs may be economically justified is no defense if selection of laid off Ees is for discriminatory reasons)

Hudson Manufacturing Company 260 NLRB No. 096
(laid off Ees who were not affirmatively shown to be U supporters held discriminated against as if they had been U supporters, where they were caught up in their fellow Ees' U adherence and were victims of E's effort to crush U)

N.L.R.B. v. Lloyd Wood Coal Co., Inc. 585 F.2d 752 (C.A. 5)
(layoffs not unlawful where E had incurred substantial losses and facility had been listed for sale before onset of U activity; and site of new operation was not ready for use at time of closing)

5067-0500 For not being union member

Townsend and Bottom, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(Ees laid off because of nonmembership in U and in order to give preference to U members, unlawful, where large number of Ees laid off were non-U Ees or members of other locals while no members of U were included in layoffs; pattern of layoffs was consistent with foreman's statement that non-U Ees would be laid off first; superintendent's layoff list reflected U status of Ees selected for layoff; and E proferred no evidence to establish specific reasons for selecting Ees for layoff)

Sprinkmann Sons Corporation of Illinois JD-763-80
(neither E nor U held to have violated Act by lay off of non-U Ee, where E creditably testified that no U representative talked with him as to who should, and who should not, be laid off; E cut Ee complement by 40% after completing, in major part, biggest and most complex part of construction job; and E kept U Ees on job because they were better suited than non-U Ee to complete final work on job)

5067-0500—Cont.

5067-1200 For union or other protected activity

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(layoff of U adherents because of E's concern about the economy and lack of work caused by alleged loss of principal customer, held violative where E's concern with the economy had apparently been no more than academic until inception of U activity; principal customer was not lost, it was not paying (E) according to schedule (customer's account was 90 days past due). U activity was straw that broke the camel's back rather than principal customer's delinquency)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(layoff of Ees assertedly for economic reasons, unlawful, where reason for action was to retaliate against Ees for their U activity; E's haste in concluding, upon learning of U activity and while investigating its impact upon its other facilities and in sending its refusal of recognition to U, all w/i same day, that immediate layoff was necessary w/o any supporting business reports or even inquiry at other sources, clearly indicated causal relationship and illegal motivation of layoffs)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(additional layoff of Ees, following prior layoff assertedly for economic reasons but found in retaliation for Ees' U activity, held unlawful, where E effected layoff w/o any studies or evaluation of business conditions and, instead, used fictional formula created from its own guesses; and claim that decision to layoff was based on giving remaining Ees living wage was belied by fact that no consideration of Ees' earnings was claimed at time of decision nor any consideration given to partial study that was being worked up)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(E's announcement of change of temporary layoff to permanent layoff status, unlawful, where E unlawfully stated that layoffs were intended to last until this mess is over, thereby indicating that laid off Ees would not be recalled until U activity had ceased; and some time between layoffs and preelection announcement of change in nature of layoffs, E became aware of voting rights of Ees in temporary layoff status)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(violation, where pursuant to layoff for economic reasons Ee laid off U adherents out of seniority order and rather than recalling adherents hired other Ees)

Ebb Tide Processing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 100
(violation where Ee was laid off because supervisor permanently transferred her to department whose Ees were being laid off to retaliate for her complaints of his disregarding seniority in selecting Ees for layoff and filing grievance about him; moreover Ee was entitled to transfer rather than layoff under contract)

Vincent Brass & Aluminum Co. 264 NLRB No. 070
(layoff and refusal to reinstate Ees, unlawful, since for assertion of their contractual right to job bidding procedure rather than for economic reasons, in view of E's U animus established by other violations and where layoffs occurred while orders increasing and overtime worked by other Ees during layoff, notwithstanding layoff in accord with contract and fact those laid off included Ees who had not attempted to assert their rights under contract)

Progressive Building Methods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 133
(layoff of Ee because he filed grievance with U, unlawful)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 096
(prima facie showing of discrimination by E's closing of gambling casino coffee shop and resultant layoff of its Ees upon decision made after U campaign began, and disparate selection for layoff of such Ees from other food service Ees who had not participated in U activities, not rebutted under Wright Line, where although E may have had justification to restructure its food service operations, it was not established that coffee shop would have been closed absent its Ees' U activities)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 095
(admission by supervisor that he could not help laid off-Ee because of latter's involvement with U was prima facie showing of unlawfully motivated layoff under Wright Line and was not rebutted by E's claim that laid off-Ee was least senior Ee, where such would be true only if Ee's prior service were not considered, and E failed to show that its policy was to not consider prior service in determining seniority)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 095
(as required by Wright Line analysis, GC made prima facie showing of unlawful motivation for layoff of Ee where E showed antiU animus and awareness of laid-off Ee's U activity by enforcing unlawful no-solicitation rule against him, and showing was not rebutted by E's claim of Ee's poor performance where E had tolerated his work and granted him wage increase a week before layoff)

Sahara-Reno Corporation, d/b/a Sahara Reno 262 NLRB No. 096
(layoff of sous chefs at gambling casino not unlawful since their supervisory status, although not directly raised as an issue, was shown by record evidence of their authority to give time off and enforce no-solicitation rule, and supervisors who are disciplined or discharged for U or concerted activity are not protected even if their layoff was an integral part of E's pattern of ULPs)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001
(layoff of U adherents two days after E learned large extent of Ees' U activity held violative absent legitimate justification for E's action)

Newtocks Homes, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 107
(layoff of Ees for protected work stoppage and U membership, unlawful)

S.M.C. Rest. Corp. d/b/a Polatti's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 081

Drury Construction Co. 260 NLRB No. 090
(layoff and failure to recall Ee who tried to get E to comply with collective bargaining agreement requiring it to assign certain work to Ee members of Teamsters violative)

Baich Pontiac Buick, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 062
(layoff, for seeking to unionize, of 8 out of 10 Ees only hours after election which U won, unlawful notwithstanding E's poor financial condition, where layoff was not consonant with E's past practice and not according to his financial advisers' recommendations)

Friederich Truck Service, Inc. and FTL, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 053
(laying off and refusing to reinstate Ees because of their refusal to acquiesce in E's proposed unilateral change in contract terms, unlawful)

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144
(violation where E laid off 5 Ees during critical period while storage space was available and delayed recall after new storage space became available where E had allowed inventory to reach higher levels before instituting short work weeks, but no layoffs)

Gerson Electric Construction Company 259 NLRB No. 088
(layoff of steward allegedly unlawful because motivated by his protected activity of seeking to enforce contract provision concerning starting time on construction job, not unlawful, where E's action was motivated by business considerations relating to problems on job; there was no doubt about E's good faith efforts to transfer all laid off Ees to other positions; and it is impossible to conclude that E would jeopardize its relations with construction ownere and with U simply because steward raised complaints about starting time previously approved by U itself)

Rebel Coal Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 033
(closing of auto repair shop and resulting layoff of Ees, assertedly for economic reasons, violative, since E showed no good cause for closing shop and Ees would not have been discharged, despite possible overall company financial problems, except for their pro-U activities)

Glengarry Contracting Industries, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 156
(layoffs to stop U activities and dissipate unit, unlawful; some layoffs resulted from E's unlawfully transferring part of unit Ees' work elsewhere because of U activities)

Timberline Energy Corporation 258 NLRB No. 037
(violation where layoffs were not for economic reasons but after E had knowledge of U activity and on same day that Ees met with U agent; past layoffs were never at this time of year)

Anjo Engineering Corporation 256 NLRB No. 161
(layoff of U activists whose work was transferred unlawful, where such Ees asked to be considered for work which E had available and which Ees were qualified to perform)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176
(layoff of Ee, assertedly because of decline in business, violative, where Ee was laid off 2 days after E engaged in surveillance of him at U hall, E had knowledge of its Ees' U activities and had demonstrated U animus)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(E's putting Ees on unwanted leaves of absence in order to ascertain who was behind the problem i.e. U organizing campaign, unlawful)

Guardian Industries 255 NLRB No. 086
(laying off two of four Ees in department violative, as decision to reduce department size was contemporaneous with Ee's request to post U poster on bulletin board)

The Bond Press, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 182
(E's layoff of U adherents violative, in view of E's knowledge of Ees' U activity through their participation in negotiating sessions and their persistent plant searches for use of U label, fact that layoffs eliminated all U influence in E's operations, timing of layoffs, E's exaggeration of Ees' lack of skills and versatility, and E's sudden intolerance of Ees' tardiness and absenteeism while tolerating similar behavior of other Ees)

General Motors Corporation 254 NLRB No. 148
(E's disciplinary 1-1/2 day layoff of Ee, violative where motivated by unlawful instruction to him not to take breaktime on assembly line)

Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 254 NLRB No. 109
(on reconsideration, Bd applied dual motivation theory and reaffirmed violation finding; although this is pretext case, layoffs were violative under any analysis in view of E's knowledge of Ees' U activities, U animus, timing w/i 3 weeks of R ptn filing, and E's false reason that both were least senior Ees)

5067-1200—Cont.

Quality Drywall Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 078
(layoff unlawful where reason was attempt to subvert U's apparently successful organizing campaign and to impede picketing on project jobsite)

Armored Transport, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 061
(shutdown of E's operation which resulted in layoff of all its Ees violative where E was retaliating for Ees actions of trying to form U)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 088
(E unlawfully laid off its warehouse Ees and subcontracted its warehouse work where E's actions occurred shortly after unlawful threats and grants of benefits in response to U organizing campaign; Ees had been praised recently for quality of their work; Ees who attempted to forestall election were retained at higher rates of pay following subcontracting, while Ees who had not opposed U were laid off; and E can point to no contemporaneous event which might have motivated layoffs)

B. E. & K., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 036
(preelection layoff of members of new crew created by E so as to be able to transfer Ees to and from such crew and thereby enable E to rid itself of some known U adherents by eliminating entire crew, unlawful; E's defense on ground layyoff was necessary because of unexpected need to curtail work because of delay in installing new equipment, rejected, in view of E's awareness of potential delay for sometime prior to layoffs)

Polly Lingerie, Inc. and Argus Lingerie Corp. 252 NLRB No. 032
(Bd held Ee was not discriminatorily laid off, where although she had signed U authorization card on second day of employment, there was no evidence that E had any knowledge of her signing such card prior to layoff, at end of second day of work Ee expressed clear lack of desire to perform work she had been assigned, and she failed to appear for work at scheduled time on third day; fact that E offered no explanation for her layoff is not probative of discriminatory motive under the circumstances)

Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 173
(layoff of helpers, unlawful since it was necessitated by discriminatory discharge of U leaders they helped)

Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 140
(violation where E discharged one U activist, laid off another and constructively discharged three more by revoking their reinstatements because of their U activities; E had stated that one activist was being discharged for starting the U in the warehouse)

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 057
(permanent layoff of U adherent in contrast to brief layoffs of coworkers, unlawful, in view of E's U animus and lack of business justification)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(layoff of Ees assertedly because they devoted too much time in repairing E's vehicle as result of which customer was not serviced, unlawful, where Ees were known active U supporters, they had attended U meeting shortly before layoff, and E had profound U animus)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(layoff of Ees assertedly because E lost contract with major customer, unlawful, where E failed to explain circumstances involved and to mention layoffs or any likelihood of loss of contract to Ees prior to layoff, and supervisors admitted to Ees that E would rather close operation than deal with U)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(shut down of job for remainder of day following E's vehemently stated opposition to U after U claimed majority, where there was no explanation of necessity for shutdown, unlawful; neither E's asserted ignorance of law nor fact all Ees included in shut down sustained as defenses)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 150
(layoff of known U adherent, assertedly because of seasonal decline in business and lack of work, unlawful, where E's U animus was evidenced by statement that it was against U, E engaged in coercive unlawful conduct before layoff, Ee was E's most senior Ee and had never been laid off during previous slow seasons, and, unlike other Ees selected for layoff, Ee was not asked by E about his slow season plans)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(layoff of Ee, assertedly because of lack of work, unlawful, where E now gives another reason for discharge relating to declining business, and E did not explain why it did not lay off Ees with less working tenure)

Sandberg Machine & Tool, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 076
(layoff of Ee, unlawful, in view of its timing in relation to Ee's protected activities and to work week and pay period, unlawful interrogation prior to layoff, and implied threats of reprisals and plant closure made following layoff)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch Mappa, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a Seaport Manor Home For Adults 248 NLRB No. 120
(layoff of shop steward for supporting rival of U which represented E's Ees and for having complained to U.S. Dept. of Labor about E's wage practices, violative)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(layoff of dishwasher, U solicitor of Spanish-speaking Ees, assertedly because business was really falling off drastically, violative, since layoff occurred soon after E learned of Ee's U activity; layoff actually was discriminatory discharge since E had no intention to recall Ee)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(permanent layoff of U adherent, unlawful, where layoff was effected in complete disregard of E's layoff, seniority, and bumping policies; despite job vacancies and new hires, Ee was never recalled to fill vacancies or other jobs which he could handle; and E treated Ee differently than other laid off Ees by contesting Ee's unemployment compensation)

Schneider, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 071
(layoff of Ee for activities whereby he persistently attempted to obtain U membership for other nonmember Ees and himself, unlawful)

Eastern Engineering & Elevator Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 004
(in overruling ALJ's credibility findings, Bd found based on reasonable inferences from record as a whole that E unlawfully laid off experienced Ee before new Ees in retaliation for Ee's filing internal U charges against fellow Ee and that E's reasons for Ee's layoff were pretexual)

Leland Detroit Mfg. Co. JD-459-82
(laying off and not recalling chief steward when other Ees were recalled although he was able to do the work they did, unlawful where it was prompted by his U activity as chief U spokesman who pressured E to negotiate and advised Ees of their rights)

All-Type Welding & Boiler Repair Co., Inc. JD-(NY)-78-82
(discharge of Ee for urging nonmembers to join U and for protesting E's failure to pay contractually agreed upon pay raises, unlawful; contention that Bd sould defer to settlement of Ee's grievance over discharge, rejected where it encompassed only payment of one week's earnings, was never reduced to writing, was based on E's version of reason for discharge, and never agreed to by Ee)

Lovard Industries, Limited JD-293-82
(post-election layoff of U adherents not violative where GC conceded that evidence of discrimination was not too clear and E's evidence of lawful economic causes preponderated over that of GC)

C. Cowles & Company JD-(NY)-52-82
(layoff of active U protaganist because of downturn in sales of automotive parts manufacturer, not violative, since Ee was least senior in E's department being cut back because of depressed sales in automotive industry and E's usual custom was to use departmental seniority w/o bumping other Ees; E satisfied burden of proving lawful justificatiion for discharge)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(discharge and layoff of U activist truck drivers because discharged Ee abandoned employment when he refused to drive unrepaired truck and other driver was laid off for lack of work held violative, since respondents did not show that Ees would have been discharged or laid off even if they had not been U activists or U sympathizers; no attempt made to recall discharged Ee after truck was repaired and 2 or 3 new drivers given opportunity to drive for Es before attempting to recall laid off Ee)

E. M. J. Corporation JD-(ATL)-68-81
(layoff and failure to recall U steward, violative where GC's prima facie case of discrimination was not rebutted by E)

Ele Corporation JD-(SF)-191-81
(layoff of Ee violative notwithstanding layoff justified by business conditions where selection of Ee for layoff was motivated by his protected activity)

Hasely Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-205-81
(layoffs of U adherents not unlawful, notwithstanding layoffs closely followed U meeting, absent E's knowledge of U activity and where justified by business considerations in view of order cancellations and declining sales)

Roach Manufacturing Corporation JD-15-81
(layoff of Ees including U organizer and U partisans as well as nonU supporters, violative; E's contention that layoffs were for economic reasons rejected, as E recalled 1 Ee next day and work of other laid off Ees assigned to night shift, an unusual practice; furthermore, layoff of nonU supporters also done to give color of legitimacy to E's action)

Stearns-Roger, Inc. JD-10-81
(layoff of qualified pipefitter assertedly because his production was low held violative where other pipefitters were hired from U hall one week after Ee was laid off and precipitating cause of layoff was Ee's complaint that lifting of iron grates was being done by pipefitters rather than ironworkers which work Ee, and others considered to be w/i jurisdiction of ironworkers)

5067-1200—Cont.

Material Transportation, Co., Inc. JD-670-80
(layoff of group of Ees because of their U activities, violative)

Wire Products Co., Inc. JD-537-80
(layoff violative where E though Ee instigated union talk)

Vulcan Fuel Corporation JD-842-79
(laying off two Ees with least seniority, violative, where economic reasons were found pretextual since lay-offs occurred, contrary to past practice, on eve of busy season; further, E saw one Ee as source of trouble where second to least seniority, proclaimed himself elevated to steward; inference drawn that Ee with least seniority was laid off to get rid of self-proclaimed steward)

Eastern Engineering & Elevator Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 191 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(layoff of Ee assertedly because he was not performing his duties adequately, not unlawful, where Bd's finding that Ee was laid off because he filed an internal U charge against fellow Ee was not supported by substantial evidence inasmuch as Bd's conclusion was improperly based on testimonial evidence not credited by ALJ)

N.L.R.B. v. Service Garage, Inc. 668 F.2d 249 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)
(layoff of U adherent allegedly in expectation of diminution of repair work when E eliminated outside repair work, not unlawful notwithstanding repair work did not diminish and E recalled laid-off Ee, since E's business justification was not contradicted, laid-off Ee was junior Ee and not leading U activist, and there was no showing of U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Century Moving & Storage, Inc. 683 F.2d 1087 (C.A. 7, July 1982)
(violation where day after second U meeting and immediately after U demanded recognition, E laid off two U adherents in fulfillment of E's prediction that if U came in he would have to do more driving himself and layoff Ees)

Hadley Fruit Orchards, Inc. JD-(SF)-121-82
(layoff in retaliation for Ee's having voted for U in election after being allowed to transfer as inducement to win her vote, unlawful)

5067-1900 For grievance participation or activity

Ebb Tide Processing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 100
(violation where Ee was laid off because supervisor permanently transferred her to department whose Ees were being laid off to retaliate for her complaints of his disregarding seniority in selecting Ees for layoff and filing grievance about him; moreover Ee was entitled to transfer rather than layoff under contract)

O'Dovero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101
(layoff and failure to recall Ees who were members of craft U, unlawful, where motivated by Ees, complaining to management and U about E's failure to abide by contract in regard to coffee breaks, overtime pay and increased payrate prescribed therein, and performance of their work by members of another U, rather than for business reasons, in view of amount of work to be done and hiring of other Ees during layoff, and absent evidence laid off Ees less efficient than other Ees)

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast Division 260 NLRB No. 061
(layoff of Ees in retaliation for U's pressing of legitimate complaint under contract, violative)

George W. Kugler, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 007
(layoff of seven Ees in retaliation for Ee's winning reinstatement through grievance procedure, unlawful)

General Fabrication Corporation 257 NLRB No. 012
(laying off one assembler and requiring another one to move to and bump someone from another shift in retaliation for U's filing grievance concerning hourly rate to be paid assemblers who performed general labor work, violative)

Town & Country LP Gas Service Co. 255 NLRB No. 144
(repeatedly laying Ee off after his successful prosecution of grievance concerning earlier discharge, violative, where E's business justification was found to be pretextual)

Russ Togs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(layoff of Ees for protected activity of grieving and urging other Ees to grieve over E's failure to pay contractual wage rates, unlawful)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch Mappa, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a Seaport Manor Home For Adults 248 NLRB No. 120
(layoff of shop steward for supporting rival of U which represented E's Ees and for having complained to U.S. Dept. of Labor about E's wage practices, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Tid-Bit Products Company, et al. 620 F.2d 981 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(acceding to U's demand that E post Ee's job for bids, with clearly foreseeable result that she would be laid off because of initiating grievance proceedings, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Tid-Bit Products Company, et al. 620 F.2d 981 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(reassignment and subsequent layoff of Ee, unlawful, where at U meeting Ee asked whether contract provisions calling for overtime equalization pay by departments or classifications applied to her lab job, and action taken against Ee occurred because she raised such issue which offended chief steward whose roommate was Ee's coworker in lab and was beneficiary of favorable discrimination by receiving overtime pay under same conditions that overtime pay was denied to Ee)

General Motors Corp. v. N.L.R.B. 616 F.2d 967 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(Bd's holding that E's suspension of U district committeeman for his use of grievance procedure was violative is supported by substantial evidence, notwithstanding contention committeeman abused grievance procedure by taking too much time discussing grievance with grievant and refusing to comply with request that he submit this dispute on abuse of procedure to grievance procedure)

5067-2800 To avoid dealing with union

Walter B. Cooke, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 074
(layoff of Ees and subcontracting of their work not unlawful conduct inherently destructive of Ees' rights, where business no longer was sufficient for full-time Ees, E could subcontract work more economically by the job, E lacked sufficient control of subcontractor's operations to be found joint E, and there was no evidence of U animus)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation 253 NLRB No. 036
(layoff all but skeleton force one week after Bd agent scheduled pre-election hearing and closing plant after E lost election violative, in view of timing, E's vigorous campaign, economic issues were raised only after U won election and dissatisfaction with work quality was voiced only after U appeared)

Armored Transport, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 061
(shutdown of E's operation which resulted in layoff off all its Ees violative where E was retaliating for Ees actions of trying to form U)

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 085
(E's economic defense to layoff of warehouse Ees on ground that subcontracting its warehouse labor ultimately could be financially beneficial, rejected, where E was motivated , at least in part, by desire to reduce possibility of another U election in future)

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(layoffs by E engaged in packing and wholesale distribution of meat allegedly because of shortage of meat, unlawful; since motivated by antagonism to U where it took place four days after U filed R ptn; subsequent recall of Ees was based on amount of adherence which was designed to scare Ees and exclude U sympathizers)

SPS Painting and Drywall, Inc.; James Sasch d/b/a J. Sasch Painting and Drywall 249 NLRB No. 009
(unionized corporation's layoff of its Ees and subcontracting of their work to its nonU alter ego sole proprietorship, unlawful)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 118
(layoff of Ee in small unit where all Ees had signed U authorization cards violative, where E's U animus inferred from having unlawfully denied wage increase and timing of layoff, as layoff of any 1 Ee at time of U activity would have chilling effect on U activity of remaining Ees; notwithstanding laid off Ee was not U activist)

Atlan Inc. JD-890-79
(violation where, in order to avoid dealing with U, E laid off unit Ees, ceased operations, closed shop, refused to reinstate Ees, and subcontracted unit work and transferred all physical assets to another corporation, and the corporation, found herein to be successor to and alter ego of E, refused to reinstate E's Ees and subcontracted work formerly performed by some of E's Ees)

5067-3700 Discrimination in selection in economic lay-off

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099
(concentration of selection for layoff on second shift, where E lost government contract, lawful, notwithstanding fact U activity centored on second shift, since second shift smaller, subject to limited supervision on regular basis by single individual, and in terms of unit costs less productive since second shift Ees were paid on parity with first shift Ees while working half hour less each day)

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099
(selection of Ee for layoff where E lost government contract, lawful, where Ee had received formal reprimand for leaving work w/o notifying supervisor and was on 30 day warning period when laid off and E retained Ee who had engaged in same U activity)

5067-3700—Cont.

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099
(selection of Ee for layoff where E lost government contracts, lawful, in view of her excessive absenteeism record; notwithstanding Ee was among those Ees initially contacted by U, solicited signatures on U authorization cards and had recently been given above average wage increase)

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099
(layoff of Ee where E lost government contract, not unlawful, since Ee had volunteered for lay off, notwithstanding E had prepared termination slip on Ee, where Ee had also prepared termination on Ee it retained)

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099
(selection of second shift Ee for layoff where E lost government contract, lawful, where selection of second shift Ees for layoff justified by business considerations and Ee had volunteered for second shift for personal reasons and her work could readily be absorbed by first shift)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 186
(layoff of welders who were U adherents when contracts cancelled, unlawful, in view of E's retention of less experienced Ees, fact E cut too deeply into personnel even for revised production schedule, and where contrary to its past policy substituted maintenance foreman for welder)

Holland American Wafer Company 260 NLRB No. 041
(delaying U activist's recall from or avoiding layoff status by refusing to permit him to use plantwide seniority, and bump into another classification, violative where E's published seniority provisions provided for plant-wide rather than department seniority)

Midwest Electric Manufacturing Corporation 260 NLRB No. 032
(layoff of Ee, not unlawful, where layoff was economically motivated, E followed established seniority policy, Ee was one of two most junior Ees at time of layoff and one Ee junior to him was laid off at same time as he, there was no recall of any Ee junior to Ee before he was recalled, he engaged in limited U activity of signing authorization card and attending one U meeting, and no other Ee who attended meeting was alleged to have been unlawfully selected for layoff)

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(Ees laid off because of nonmembership in U and in order to give preference to U members, unlawful, where large number of Ees laid off were non-U Ees or members of other locals while no members of U were included in layoffs; pattern of layoffs was consistent with foreman's statement that non-U Ees would be laid off first; superintendent's layoff list reflected U status of Ees selected for layoff; and E proferred no evidence to establish specific reasons for selecting Ees for layoff)

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 006
(permanent layoffs of extra Ees hired to deal with additional work associated with particular order which was deferred, not unlawful, notwithstanding occured shortly after ptn for election filed at time E was contracting out work since for business reasons, E had prior policy of contracting out work, selection made on basis of seniority except in case of Ee who had indicated her intention to quit where selection made to permit retention of Ee who would otherwise been laid off)

Northwestern Dodge, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 118
(layoff of two salesmen not violative notwithstanding one of them active participant on U negotiating team and engaged in verbal altercation with E about negotiations where economic reasons for layoffs were substantiated, Ees were never replaced, and E followed terms of expired contract by selecting two least senior and productive Ees for layoff)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111
(E failed to prove layoff was motivated by economic reasons, notwithstanding its showing of economic justification, where department manager admitted to his assistant that Ee was selected for layoff because he was U instigator)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(laying Ees off who had signed authorization cards and invoked Bd's processes violative, where E refused to allow Ees to finish work days; other Ees were invariably permitted to finish 40-hour week)

Suburban Chevrolet, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 016
(layoff of Ee allegedly for economic reasons, unlawful where E selected U adherent for layoff instead of Ee with less seniority)

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 066
(selection of Ees for economic layoff, unlawful where Ees were selected out of seniority, supervisor and general foreman told Ees that U supporters would not be called back to work and that reason for layoff was to get rid of people who were trying to organize U, E hired new Ees before offering Ees on layoff opportunity to be employed, Ees recalled were as new Ees w/o their prior benefits and for probationary period, and E hired new Ees while Ees were still on layoff)

K & B Mounting, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 071
(violation where, although E's decision to layoff six Ees was economically motivated, three Ees were discriminatorily selected by E in determining which Ees should be laid off)

Custom Wood Interiors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 021
(discharge of leading Ee bargaining negotiator unlawful where, contrary to past practice, president identified and personally selected Ee for layoff rather than selecting production classification which was overstaffed and leaving selection of Ees to supervisor; alleged reason of objectionable smoking habits of Ee rejected as E has tolerated Ee's smoking habits for years)

John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 128
(selection of U adherent for economic layoff, unlawful, since motivated by adherent's U activities where previous unlawful warning letters were factor, E's owner had suggested to adherent she might be happier working elsewhere and offered her severance pay to seek other employment)

N.L.R.B. v. Triangle Sheet Metal Works, Inc. 607 F.2d 990(T) (C.A. 2, 1979)
(layoff of valuable Ee who was campaign manager for candidate for U president whom E opposed violative notwithstanding economic necessity for layoff since Ee's name not on original layoff list but his name was substituted thereon by president)

5067-6200 Consequence of employer's unlawful transfer of work

Martin-Brower Company 261 NLRB No. 111

Emerson G. M. Diesel, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 168
(transfer of work and layoff of Ees occasioned by Ees' selection of U, violative)

St. Regis Paper Company 247 NLRB No. 185
(violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Don Burgess Construction Corporation, d/b/a Burgess Construction 596 F.2d 378 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(layoff of Ees at company covered by contract rather than those Ees that E thought were not covered at another company following shift of work from one company to other unlawful, where both companies constituted single E and Ees of both companies constituted single appropriate unit)

5067-6700 Consequence of employer's unlawful reduction of business

A & T Manufacturing Company 268 NLRB No. 281
(E failure to submit successful bid for work and consequently laying off Ees because of lack of work, not unlawful, where number of Ees laid off was reasonably related to amount of work lost and absent evidence of unlawful motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 667 F.2d 613 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(layoff of 2 Ees caused by reduction in work due to discriminatory discharge of 2 other Ees violative as layoffs would not have occurred but for discriminatory action)

5067-8700 To discourage support for disfavored union

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 097
(laying Ee, and mother and daughter of Ee off because they rejected U favored by E and supported competing U, violative)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch Mappa, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a Seaport Manor Home For Adults 248 NLRB No. 129
(layoff of shop steward for supporting rival of U which represented E's Ees and for having complained to U.S. Dept. of Labor about E's wage practices, violative)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(layoff of Ees, unlawful, notwithstanding contention layoff due to problems with production process, as layoffs took place w/o regard to seniority after Ees had rejected E's contract proposals to Ee committee and E gained knowledge of Ees' support of outside U, production problems had existed for some weeks prior to layoffs and E hired new Ees during period; further, Ees were recalled day after committee signed contract with E)

5073 Discharge

5073-0100 Generally

Marathon LeTourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 099
(E's contention that where Ee has engaged in conduct for which he would have been fired in any event, there is no room for discrimination to play a part, rejected, since firing of Ee can be discriminatory in such a case inasmuch as E might pass over in another instance conduct warranting discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 1, Sep. 1981)
(E in section 8(a)(3) discharge case has no more than limited duty of producing evidence to balance, not to outweigh, evidence produced by GC, E has burden of going forward to meet prima facie case, but not burden of persuasion on ultimate issue of existence of violation; i.e., that there would be no discharge but for E's protected activity)

5073-0100—Cont.

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct rejected, as being unreasonable and not based on substantial evidence, Bd's conclusion that E's economic justification for discharges was sham; furthermore, Sec. 8(a)(1) violations alone are legally insufficient to show Bd met its burden of proof that Ees were discharged because of U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(Wright Line rule found consistent both with legislative history showing intent to require E to reveal that Ee was discharged for cause and with reality of E's having best access to proof of motivation; also it strikes acceptable balance between protecting Ees' rights and preserving E's rights to discharge Ees for valid business reasons)

Arthur N. Stephenson v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(proper test in determining whether discharge of Ee is ULP is whether anti-U animus was moving cause, and not whether discharge is only partially motivated by anti-U animus; to give rise to ULP but-for cause of discharge is required)

5073-1100 What constitutes discharge

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(Ees who concertedly went out on strike in protest of discharge of U adherent and in protest over meeting in which E laid down working conditions to be followed on job held not to have been discharged, where none of the Ees stated that they had quit and were not told at any time that they were terminated, and E believed Ees quit when they walked out w/o any prior notice and, upon their return, E made conciliatory moves and stated that things would change)

Wilson Trucking, Inc. JD-119-82
(locking Ees out of facility on day after E received U's letter stating that majority of Ees had designated U their collective bargaining agent together with confiscating Ees' keys to facility and expense money the day before held unlawful discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Vanguard Oil and Service, Inc., et al. No. 75-4222, Sept. 2, 1980, C.A. 2, (unreported)
(E's statement to strikers such as this is your last chance, if you don't come back, you're out, you're fired, and I don't want any of you guys in here, together with letter informing strikers that permanent replacements had been hired, indicated to Ees that they had, in fact, been discharged; Ee is deemed to have been discharged if E's actions would reasonably lead Ee to such conclusion (civil contempt proceeding))

5073-1101 Generally

Brunswick Hospital Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 112
(in determining whether or not E has discharged striker, test to be used is whether (E's) acts, reasonably led strikers to believe they were discharged; events must be viewed through striker's eyes and not as E would have viewed them)

Brunswick Hospital Center, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 112
(no discharge of strikers where, in instant case, there was absence of consistent pattern of including unrequested pay for accrued vacation, sick leave benefits and other benefits in checks payable to strikers to demonstrate they were discharged, nor did cancellation of health insuance benefits by E)

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001
(contention that Ee was laid off rather than discharged, rejected where E sent letter referring to separation and stating, I can't make any sort of commitment to you as to hiring after outdoor theatre was closed for season, as discharge was implied in word, separation and also saying ...in wish job could have lasted longer all of which would logically lead a prudent person to believe his tenure has been terminated)

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 006
(fact laid off Ees offered reinstatement to diminish possible financial liability does not negate finding that layoffs were permanent in accordance with E policy)

Famous Supply Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 091
(paycheck covering all hours worked enclosed with letter to economic striking Ees that E expected them at work on Friday, usual payday, held reasonably construed by Ees as discharge if they failed to return since check was not sent in normal course of business)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130
(Ee discharged rather than quit or suspended where he was asked to turn in his badge, gun and uniform, and E never notified Ee he was suspended but only raised possibility of suspension in brief to Bd; there may be discharge even in absence of words; where such can be reasonably inferred from circumstances)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(layoff of dishwasher, U solicitor of Spanish-speaking Ees, assertedly because business was really falling off drastically, violative, since layoff occurred soon after E learned of Ee's U activity; layoff actually was discriminatory discharge since E had no intention to recall Ee)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)
(discharge rather voluntary quit where Ees as they walked out told manager they objected to discharge of U adherent and treatment of Ees and were told to pick up their checks next day)

5073-1114 Constructive discharge

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(2 elements must be proven to established constructive discharge 1) burdens imposed on Ee must cause, and be intended to cause, change in his working conditions so difficult or unpleasant as to force him to resign; and 2) it must be shown that those burdens were imposed because of Ee's U activities)

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(no constructive discharge where Ee who was U steward and was unlawfully denied right to assist another Ee during disciplinary interview, quit, because Ee who quits in protest over ULP is not deemed to have been constructively discharged. Further, representation rights accrue to Ee who is subjected to investigatory interview, not to individual who would be his representative; therefore, no illegal action directed against steward)

Redlands Construction Co., Inc., and Felix Construction Co. 265 NLRB No. 079
(E's giving Ees no choice but to quit or accept non-U conditions held unlawful constructive discharge)

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(violation where U adherent was forced to quit after being constantly harassed by supervisor)

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173
(E's acceding to U pressure and informing supervisor who was U vice-president and outspoken advocate of change in U administration and participated in filing of charges with NLRB and wrote U interference on discharge slips of Ees who had been discharged as result of U pressure, that supervisor would have to take position in gang outside U's jurisdiction, and when supervisor refused, discharged him, held unlawful, since offer of transfer constructive discharge since would have meant demotion, reduced wages and benefits and additional expenses resulting from working further from home and E motivated by supervisors participating in filing charges)

Campbell-Harris Electric, Inc. and Campbell Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 167
(offer by sole proprietorship, found alter ego of former partnership, to employ former Ees of partnership on an open shop basis, violative, where such offer and Ees' subsequent refusal constituted constructive discharge)

Remodeling By Oltmanns, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 169
(unlawful constructive discharge where strikers upon returning to work at E, which although not member of multiE association had abided by associations contract with U and had paid U wages and benefits, quit when told by E it was in process of withdrawing from U, was joining non-U E association and that if strikers returned to work they would be paid less than U wage scale and would not receive U benefits)

Remodeling By Oltmanns, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 169
(unlawful constructive discharge of striker who quit when informed by other Ees that E which previously had memorandum agreement with U and had paid U wages and benefits, was withdrawing from U and was joining non-U E association and if strikers returned to work they would be paid less than U wage scale and would not receive U benefits; unnecessary for constructive discharge that striker be directly confronted by E and further E meant its terms to be transmitted to striker)

Documation, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 052
(precipitately transferring U adherent who was admittedly excellent Ee to work under supervisor whom E knew he could not work with constituted constructive discharge)

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025
(voluntary resignation held to have been unlawful discharge where U adherent resigned in order to obtain good reference from E rather than be discharged on grounds of suspected theft as asserted by E)

Granite City Journal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 140
(Ee's quitting of her job held to constitute unlawful constructive discharge where she was subjected to almost daily pressures by E concerning her own U sympathies and with entreaties for her to spy on her co-workers; after a time, Ee reasonably could infer from E's comments to her that he had become suspicious of her own U predilections and was conditioning her continued employment on her willingness to spy on her fellow Ees' U activities; and choice E thus offered was sufficiently intolerable to cause Ee to resign which may be viewed as protesting against E's unlawful conduct)

Wolff & Munier, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 045
(assuming arguendo, that Ees quit, rather than being discharged, E's conditioning their employment upon their abandoning Sec. 7 rights to engage in U activities was equivalent to discharging them outright for U activity)

5073-1114—Cont.

Fred Lewis Carpets, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 190
(forcing U adherents to quit by making them believe by various unlawful remarks that they would not be welcome as Ees if they continued to support U, violative, where, notwithstanding E's offering Ees their former jobs back, such remarks were not withdrawn and remained conditions for reinstatement and continued employment)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(U member who stopped working because work was too heavy for her held to have been constructively discharged in violation of Act where E demonstrated anti-U motivation, particularly in statements, found unlawful herein, which E made to Ee; and the intolerable conditions consisted of the heavy work which Ee was unable to do and which no women had been asked to do before)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(Ee who quit because she could not work newly offered shift due to young child at home held constructively discharged in violation of Act where E sought to replace Ee so that there would be one less U supporter in bargaining unit, E's offer of different shift with 50 percent less worktime was no offer at all; while E has no duty to accomodate special personal needs of Ees, E's motivation was clearly expressed by statements he made to Ee and by intolerable conditions he created in order to force Ee to quit)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(U member who quit because she refused to accept changes made by E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, in her working conditions involving change in shifts, reduced number of work days, and work in another city held constructively discharged in violation of Act for refusing to accept unilateral change in her working conditions)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029
(Ee who was leader of U campaign not constructively discharged when he resigned 2 weeks after election where reason behind resignation was loss of election by U and not E's harassment of Ee as harassment, though unlawful; was not so egregious as to cause him to quit and also lengthy hiatus between end of harassment campaign and resignation)

General Baptist Nursing Home, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 132
(changing working schedule of known U adherent which affected her car pool and possibly her ability to get any transportation to work, as result of which she resigned, held to constitute unlawful constructive discharge)

Holiday Inn of Santa Maria 259 NLRB No. 089
(inducing Ee to resign by substantially reducing his hourly wage rate because he consulted with U concerning dispute over amount of overtime compensation due him, violative)

La Mousse, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 007
(E's calling immigration service to conduct raid to investigate which Ees were undocumented aliens 2 days before election held unlawful constructive discharge of illegal alien Ees because they supported U)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(U Ees who quit their employment, in response to E's announcement that E was going non U and E asking Ees how they felt about it, held to have been constructively discharged, since E's conduct in support of statement were onerous changes in Ees' working conditions; E hired non U Ees to do work of U Ees and told Ees to give up U or give up work)

J. D. Candler Roofing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 053
(constructive discharge where Ees left their employ because E was changing its status to non-U, and Ees would not have been able to maintain their U membership and continue to work for it)

Maidsville Coal Co., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 148
(Ee who quit after being continually harrassed about his U activities and then physically threatened about them to point that he became physically ill constructively discharged)

Whitehall Packing Company, Inc. and W.P.C., Ltd. 257 NLRB No. 043
(Ees were locked-out and not constructively discharged where plant remained intact and could have resumed operations at any time; moreover, E did not hire any replacements for plant)

Hayden Electric, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 194
(E's failing to offer reinstatement to Ees at correct rate of pay and making clear that it had no intention to offer reinstatement to any of its Ees at correct rates constituted unlawful constructive discharge)

S. Freedman Electric, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 068
(Ees who quit after E informed them that it was going non-U would not bargain with U, would discontinue contributions to pension plan, change overtime pay plan, advertised for non-U Ees, were constructively discharged)

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 034
(Ee's quit held constructive discharge where he was faced with alternative of quitting or accepting enforcement of unlawful unilateral change)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(forcing reinstated U adherents to resign by subjecting them to onerous working conditions, violative, where Ees were assigned to newly-formed third shift, isolated from other Ees, required to file as new applicants for work, made to work w/o stools at their workplace, subjected to newly-installed written warning system, lost overtime hours, and had their regular hours reduced; furthermore, one Ee was ridiculed for inability to perform unfamiliar job functions and other Ee was interrogated about U matters)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(no violation where, although U adherent quit job primarily because of his personal dislike for E and secondarily because E unlawfully assigned Ee to new shift, he worked new shift for two days and quit w/o giving reason)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163
(U adherent's quitting upon E's request for physician's excuse after he left work ill and brought up possibility of noxious effect of chemicals being used upon himself, not unlawful, where E's requirement of physician's clearance was neither illogical nor unreasonable)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 127
(refusal to accept less desireable and less frequent employment where change in status due to U adherence)

Jax Mold & Machine, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 129
(transferring Ee to shift that E knew was unacceptable held constructive discharge in view of timing, various reasons given for transfer and strong anti U animus)

K-Mart Corporation 255 NLRB No. 112
(violation where leading U adherent was pressured into quitting by E's continuous harassment such as following her and other Ees around store even on nonworking time, prohibiting Ee from freely leaving office and unlawfully issuing pretextual disciplinary warnings)

Association of Apartment Owners of The Whaler on Kaanapali Beach 255 NLRB No. 019
(E who assigned U adherent maintenance work rather than his usual repair work, reduced his hours more than Ee desired to be reduced, conditioned his employment on hourly pay cut constructively discharged Ee)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co. 253 NLRB No. 072
(Ee found to have quit rather than have been constructively discharged for U activity where after period of light duty due to injury, she was transferred back to her own more onorous position; Ee was fully healed, other Ees performed same work, and Ee had originally asked to be placed in that position)

Polly Lingerie, Inc. and Argus Lingerie Corp. 252 NLRB No. 033
(outspoken U supporter held constructively discharged where she quit her employment after E's owner, who had demonstrated U animus, subjected her to continued harassment, including giving her peculiar assignment, guarding her at work urging her to leave, telling her E would never fire her, and admonishing another Ee to listen to what was said, so that E would have a witness of whatever was going to happen)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(violation where E cancelled U advocate's status as leadperson trainee, ended his chances of wage increases or advancement, cursed him, revoked his promised wedding leave, and invited him to quit if he did not like it)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(no constructive discharge where Ee who reported herself absent because she was ill with stomach cramps and did not return to work or call in again, was terminated 8 days after date on which she reported sick; plant rule provided for termination after 3 consecutive days' absence w/o reporting in)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(violation where E, in retaliation against Ee for engaging in U activities, transferred her to more onerous job of working on core tables all day long in expectation that she would quit, and she quit when she couldn't handle it because it was too hard)

Coating Products, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 170
(transfer of U adherent to less desireable job on night shift which E knew he could not take because Ee already worked at another night job, violative)

Meatcorp (Formerly Seymour Packing Division of Seymour America, Inc.) 251 NLRB No. 047
(refusing to allow to return to work Ees who had walked off job to protest reduction in piecework rate violative and in effect constructive discharge)

La Habra Dodge, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 081
(held voluntary quit and not constructive discharge notwithstanding painter's helper in accordance with industry custom assumed he too was terminated when E discriminatorily discharged painter with whom he worked as E never discharged helper and E was his E and not painter)

Flippo's and Company, Presnell & Stowe Tank Company, Presnell & Stowe Welding Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 148
(E's offer of janitor's job or nothing to U adherent-welder upon latter's refusal to sign application containing non-competition clause when company was sold held constructive discharge and unlawful, E inquired into U adherent's U membership and later said he knew that latter had called the U but was not going to discharge him because E knew that he would go to Labor Bd)

5073-1114—Cont.

Logan Coca Cola Bottling Company 250 NLRB No. 164
(E's insistance that U adherent with back injury had quit his job rejected and held constructive discharge where Ee was injured on job, notified E, saw physician and received workman's compensation)

Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 140
(violation where E discharged one U activist, laid off another and constructively discharged three more by revoking their reinstatements because of their U activities; E had stated that one activist was being discharged for starting the U in the warehouse)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(unlawful constructive discharge not established in absence of intolerable working conditions and unlawful motive where, although Ee may have been given less overtime and less desirable work, her personal problems triggered her sudden decision to quit)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 083
(Ee's quiting held unlawful constructive discharge where E induced Ee to quit because of her striking and U activity subsequent to her reinstatement; harassment, vandalism, and obscenities inflicted upon Ee had management sanction and were meant to punish Ee for striking and other U activity and were so offensive and recurring as to make Ee's work situation intolerable)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(violation, where E's owner vehemently denounced U after U claimed majority and then shut down job, informed Ees that anyone who wanted to stay with him could contact him that night and at same meeting asked which Ees had signed cards for U, since Ees reasonably lead to believe that they were faced with choice between continued employment w/o U or no employment at all)

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(Ee offered reinstatement after discriminatory layoff to inferior position constructively discharged)

Bell of Mississippi, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 119
(violation where E provoked U adherent to quit by assigning her to department where she was isolated from other Ees and kept idle for lack of work)

Cable Vision, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 063
(assignment to stand-by position of known U activist hired as installer with understanding that as installer he would not have to work standby position held unlawful as discriminatory assignment and constructive discharge where E knew that assignment would interfere with Ee's outside work and E quit as result

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(U adherent's quitting job, not only because E denied Ee's vacation request, but also because of E's implicit rejection of Ee's plea for security at his work station, held constructive discharge)

R. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(constructive discharge of Ee to whom E offered wage rate lower than that provided for in U contract, unlawful, where Ee quit rather than relinquish statutory right to be paid in accordance with contract; fact that Ee intended to leave E's employment in future is no defense where decision to quit was hastened by his being compelled to accept lower wage rate contrary to his statutory right)

General Meats, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 153
(harassment and assignment to less desirable job of Ee who asked critical questions at E sponsored meeting called to discuss profit sharing plan, found violative and her subsequent quitting found constructive discharge)

St. Joseph's Hospital of The Franciscan Sisters of Milwaukee, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 136
(Ee's resignation resulting from E's refusal to reduce Ee's hours to accomodate his school schedule contending there were no part-time positions available and citing Ee's absenteeism record constituted unlawful constructive discharge where E's actual reason was Ee's recent support of U)

Sullivan Transfer Co. 247 NLRB No. 117
(E's change in method of assigning work which resulted in constructive discharge of Ee violative where motivation was U's demand for compliance with wage provisions of contract and not presence of jurisdictional dispute)

Leyendecker Paving, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 019
(absent evidence that Ee had specific function in E's employ, assignment to different work because of which Ee quit did not constitute unlawful constructive discharge, where assignment was not caused by Ee's U activities of which E had no knowledge)

McCormick-Boyett Plumbing Company JD-(ATL)-93-81
(unlawful constructive discharge where Ee, who was being paid U wage scale and benefits under multi-E bargaining agreement, stated he had no choice but to leave E upon being informed, after E's untimely withdrawal for multi-E bargaining, that E would have to run non-U shop because it had to cut down on wages in order to show profit, and that Ee would have to take considerable wage cut)

Medi-Mart, A Division of Stop & Shop Company, Inc. JD-314-81
(scheduling part-time student Ee and U sympathizer to work two consecutive Saturdays and forcing her to choose between quitting and cheerleading held not constructive discharge as he was short-handed and needed her those days)

Haym Salomon Home For The Aged, et al., d/b/a Lawton Life Extension Organization JD-(NY)-78-81
(forcing long-term Ees to file applications as new Ees, thereby affecting seniority and other terms of employment, constituted unlawful constructive discharge)

Scoggin, Inc. JD-433-81
(E's reduction in work week of U adherent who testified in Bd hearing thus causing adherent to leave employ of E, not unlawful constructive discharge, since reason for reduction in hours was financial situation of E rather than U activity)

North Oak Chrysler Plymouth 283-81
(E's repeatedly telling U adherent that E did not intend to have U and that if U were brought in, E would make life miserable for Ees and either replace or discharge them, and thereafter subjecting Ee to less desirable work assignments which caused him to leave, violative)

McMillan Cartage, Inc. JD-(ATL)-48-81
(telling Ee that if he wishes to work he must work under E's letter agreement rather than U's association contract held constructive discharge)

District 30, United Mine Workers of America (Beth-Elkhorn Corporation) JD-19-81
(U held to have caused constructive discharge, in violation of Sec. 8(a)(3), of nonmember of U because of unbearable pressure he experienced, where he knew he was reason for work stoppage, was verbally and physically abused at U hall, received threatening phone calls, was told by U officers that he had taken U member's job and other Ees would not work with him and that he might as well quit, and E finally invited him to do so)

Magic Mountain Corporation JD-337-80
(former ski patrol member constructively discharged where he clocked out upon his refusal to continue working in sewage bins, which job was assigned to him due to E's animus towards him for his U activity and filing charge with Bd)

K-P Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Impression Northwest JD-(SF)-187-80
(strikers who failed to return to their jobs by deadline set by E and who were replaced by E held to have been constructively discharged)

Albertson's Inc. JD-(SF)-104-80
(no constructive discharge, in the absence of an alleged calculated plan of harassment to cause Ee to quit)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-283-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

N.L.R.B. v. Cable Vision, Inc. 660 F.2d 1 (C.A. 1, Sept. 1981)
(Ee's resignation held unlawful constructive discharge where Ee, who was off-hour musician, resigned upon being assigned standby duty for emergency services and there was significant improper motivation for such assignment in view of prior nonassignment of Ees having limited technical abilities such as Ee's; E's knowledge that Ee's musician's job and standby duty were incompatible; Ee's important status in U and strike activities; assignment 3 days after strike ended; and E's U animus; and E thereupon failed to meet burden of proving that it had a good reason, sufficient in itself, to make the assignment)

Electric Machinery Company v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 958 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(Ees who quit their employment after first bargaining session and following E's proposals for new contract, were not constructively discharged, since they were informed by their own U officers to remain on job even if U and E had not yet arrived at agreement for new contract when current contract expired; U and E were still negotiating; facts did not support inference that E acted with anti-U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)
(Ees who resigned in response to E's decision to go open shop and to cease payment of contractual benefits held constructively discharged; while it is unnecessary to decide whether cessation of benefit payments alone creates intolerable conditions sufficient for such finding, open shop announcement forced Ees to choose between quitting or continuing in face of E's unlawful repudiation of its bargaining obligations; quitting in such circumstances constitutes constructive discharge and, since E's conduct was inherently destructive of important Ee rights, no proof of anti-U motivation was required)

5073-1114—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(E's contention that constructive discharges as result of Ees' resignations due to E's unlawful conduct should not be found unlawful because U contract contained grievance procedure, rejected, since contractual remedy does not deprive Bd of jurisdiction to condemn conduct which constitutes ULP)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 641 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, Apr. 1981)

(E's contention that constructive discharges as result of Ees' resignations due to E's unlawful conduct should not be found unlawful on ground Ees should have remained on job to mitigate E's liability, rejected, inasmuch as such argument is completely frivolous since it is totally at war with constructive discharge doctrine; E may not impose intolerable conditions in his work place and expect his Ees to remain and acquiesce)

N.L.R.B. v. Ridgeway Trucking Company 622 F.2d 122 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(based on test of whether Ees could reasonably infer from E's language that they were discharged, ct found that Ees were constructively and unlawfully discharged for protected strike where they indicated that they believed they were discharged by requesting their paychecks, removing their belonging from E's trucks and going to an attorney; if E had believed they were quitting, he reasonably should have asked about their intentions)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 618 F.2d 288 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(constructive discharge by E's creation of intolerable working conditions when it ceased paying contractual benefits; conduct was inherently destructive of Ee rights)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(E's imposition, after U had lost two certification elections, of so-called captain system and revised captain system which changed working conditions and method of compensating waiters and waitresses, not violative where new systems, although unpopular with some Ees, were no basis for constructive discharge, and were imposed equally upon all Ees, not only U sympathizers; E's motive was to increase sale of food and lack of discrimination detracted from E's anti-U animus)

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 458 (C.A. 7, July 1982)

(establishing constructive discharge requires E's challenged conduct to be so intolerable that Ee is forced to quit and that the conduct be undertaken with intent to encourage or discourage U membership)

Jack Thompson Oldsmobile, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 684 F.2d 458 (C.A. 7, July 1982)

(since E's rule requiring 50% reduction in salesmen's commission for failure to turnover purchaser to E's business manager for dealer financing and insurance was not sustained as unlawful, same result was reached regarding conclusion that the rule constituted so intolerable a working condition that it forced salesmen to resign)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(E's letter to INS held constructive discharge as this letter was motivated by anti-U animus and was proximate cause of Ees' leaving U.S.)

Western Pacific Roofing Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)

(Ees who, because they wanted to remain in U, quit when E-member of association unlawfully refused to be bound by contract negotiated by association with U held constructively discharged in violation of Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Tricor Products, Inc., and/or C & J Pattern Co. 636 F.2d 266 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(evidence supported Bd's finding of constructive discharge where Ee, upon return to work after a vacation, learned that new company, found herein alter ego of former company which it had absorbed, would not only be non-U but also would not pay U benefits contrary to owner's earlier promises; rather than work under such conditions, Ee quit)

Cartwright Hardware Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 268 (C.A. 10, 1979)

(constructive discharge under Act comprehends at least two distinct elements: (1) E's motivation to discourage U activity or membership; and (2) Ee's resignation prompted by E-created intolerable conditions; thus, forcing Ees to choose between working w/o rights guaranteed by Act or quit where E had unlawfully refused to bargain has been held unlawful constructive discharge since there is nexus between E's ULPs and Ees resignations)

Cartwright Hardware Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 268 (C.A. 10, 1979)

(ct held no unlawful constructive discharge where Ees who were U members quit, not because E imposed intolerable conditions but because they believed they could not under, U by-laws, work in open shop w/o sacrificing their U membership, where E did not know of bylaw provision and its allowing U shop provision to lapse was not motivated by U animus but by desire to hire more competent Ees than hiring hall had provided)

5073-1117 Discharge for cause

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company 262 NLRB No. 12

(discharge not unlawful where it was based on information other than that obtained during unlawful interview, namely misuse of company equipment and time, which was subject of interview but known to E before interview)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

(discharge of U member who argued with E in loud and disruptive voice about her refusal to participate in E's insurance program and also protested E's failure to provide paycheck stub with salary deductions listed, not unlawful, since essential element of unlawful motivation was not present; Ee's actions subsequent to discharge of demanding her final paycheck and engaging in conduct so as to make E believe he was physically threatened indicate that she had greater responsibility for the incident; moreover, Ee was engaged in individual rather than concerted action)

Fibracon Corp. 259 NLRB No. 014

(discharge of leading U supporter because plant manager believed she was responsible for malfunctions and breakdowns of production machinery not violative, since, facts of case failed to establish hostility or opposition to U strong enough to conclude that E was willing to violate law by discharging Ee to keep U out of plant)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001

(discharge of Ee assertedly for being out of his work area and for nonproductivity held not unlawful, even though Ee had engaged in protected concerted activity, where Ee's claim that he had to use toilet facility because of diarrhea was rejected where Ee admitted his need was not imminent; he had ample time to take care of his needs before then; and his testimony was untrustworthy leading to conclusion that pique about overtime work, not physical illness, caused his unprotected action in refusing to work and defying foreman's instructions to go to work)

Brilliant Electric Signs, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 018

(discharge of Ee, U member, by his supervisor for not paying his U dues and who thought Ee, recuperating from work accident, had quit held violative where there was no basis to assume Ee's status had changed and no evidence that Ee had quit his employment with E)

Rose's Stores, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 076

(mere presence of possible valid reason (bad attitude) for discipline does not insulate discharge (for protected activity) if those reasons were not, in fact, reasons for discharge)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080

(E's requiring that its drivers take polygraph test about missing vending machine keys discovered in their trucks, suspending those who refused, and discharging those who failed test repeatedly held not unlawful retaliation for U organizing activity, in view of prior policy of administering polygraph tests, nondiscriminatory application of test-taking requirement, and fact that vending machines appeared to have been robbed by use of keys)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080

(discharge of U activist for hitting supervisor not unlawful, notwithstanding some provocation for dischargee's action)

K & S Circuits, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 163

(discharging U adherent for scrapping 8 boards in one work period, not unlawful, where there was no evidence that any other Ee had scrapped as many boards at one time and was not disciplined)

Stewart Granite Enterprises 255 NLRB No. 091

(discharge of U adherent, not violative where Ee's discharge was solely for cause w/i meaning of Sec. 10(c))

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 066

(discharge of U advocates assertedly because one was unmarried woman and other was most undesirable Ee who did mediocre work in E's accounts receivable department, held violative, since unmarried woman argument was unjustified and other Ee had received very good to outstanding performance rating from her supervisor; defenses were contrived and incredible)

E.T.O. Corporation of Americana 254 NLRB No. 018

(discharge of guard, U adherent, because he was not on his post and was insubordinate to (assistant chief of security), not violative where guard's testimony that he was away (from his post) for 15-20 minutes could be considered excessive by E and record disclosed two prior incidents of discipline of Ees for leaving their post w/o permission)

Piezo Technology, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 122

(discharge of Ee not unlawful, notwithstanding his wearing of U button and U advocacy, where he had solicited on company time and had created two rather serious disturbances, in addition to threaten a fellow Ee)

Pork King Company, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 004

(E's discharge of driver of delivery truck, not unlawful where discharge was for abandoning E's truck at unauthorized stop and leaving keys on seat so as to permit theft of valuable quantity of E's products, rather than for actively processing Ee grievances against E as U shop steward: E's decision to follow driver, which resulted in his discovery of driver's abandoning truck, was due to legitimate concern about driver's work habits in light of his earlier record)

9073-1117—Cont.

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 231 NLRB No. 180
(discharge, soon after U election, of known U advocate whom supervisors considered to be admirable Ee, assertedly for violating plant rule against knowingly altering, or falsifying time cards and reports, as well as payroll records violative where E had displayed considerable animus towards Ee it considered to be U kingpin; E never previously discharged any Ee for similar violation except two Ees found guilty of embezzlement and forgery respectively)

Blue Bird Body Company 231 NLRB No. 196
(discharge of active U adherent for goofing off not violative where GC failed to prove by preponderance of evidence that discharge was motivated in whole or part by Ee's U activity)

Bullock's 231 NLRB No. 082
(discharge of Ee assertedly for demoralizing E's personnel by having copies of performance reviews in her possession and discussing them with fellow Ees, not unlawful, where dischargee surreptitiously and wrongfully obtained and copied fellow Ee's review, disseminated reviews' contents to another Ee, advising latter that her review was unfavorable in comparison with others, and dischargee's remarks leading Ee to believe that her job could be in a precarious position support conclusion that dischargee's conduct had disruptive and demoralizing effect on E's personnel)

Hotel St. Moritz, Inc. 231 NLRB No. 015
(no violation where E filed charges seeking discharge of hotel housemen's U delegate because of his threats and derogatory remarks to E when latter questioned his delegate status at E's meeting with lobby porter concerning porter's changing from membership in his own U to membership in delegate's U; accepting, arguendo, E's obligation to recognize and deal with delegate as representative of porter, who belonged to another U, delegate's actions were nevertheless so opprobrious as to render his conduct unprotected)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 230 NLRB No. 107
(physical assault upon supervisor held cause for discharge, where discharge was immediate and spontaneous reaction to attack, a normal reaction of supevisor with such authority, regardless of aggressor's U sympathies)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 230 NLRB No. 063
(discharge of truckdriver, prominent supporter of U, allegedly because he had too many accidents held violative where other Ees with poor driving records were transferred to work on loading dock rather than being discharged)

Neptune Waterbeds, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 168
(no violation where active U adherent was discharged for solicitation on E's time, violence toward other Ees, and lateness; although other Ees' work records showed deficiencies, no other Ee was shown to have work-related problems in as many areas as dischargee)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of U advocate for falsifying work order 4 days prior to his termination, not violative notwithstanding Ee was discharged on same day he solicited for U; no evidence in record that anyone responsible for Ee's discharge knew that he engaged in U activity)

Raimund Corsun Co., Inc. d/b/a Rayser Co. 249 NLRB No. 078
(no violation by discharge of two U adherents in pre-election period where discharge of one was for charging parts and labor on E's credit far in excess of amounts usually permitted and then failing to pay for them, and discharge of the other was for overordering parts for E and for covering up first Ee's overextension of credit)

Marriott In-Flight Services a Division of Marriott Corporation 249 NLRB No. 072
(discharge of known U adherent for refusals to work overtime, insubordination, and delaying flight, not unlawful in light of cumulative infractions and progressive discipline)

Schwebel Baking Company 249 NLRB No. 005
(termination of U steward held lawful for refusal of proper order to return to work during walkout over firing of fellow worker, rather than for his handling of discharged fellow worker's grievance as alleged)

Schwebel Baking Company 249 NLRB No. 005
(discharge of U steward held lawful for assault on company official, rather than, as alleged, for carrying out his duties as U steward)

Bechtel Incorporated 248 NLRB No. 158
(E's issuance of warning slips for Ees' quitting early and subsequent discharge for their refusing to sign warning slips, not unlawful since discipline was for Ees' insubordinate refusal to obey supervisor's direct order to comply with work rules while eschewing available contractual grievance process)

Landmark Beef Processors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 041
(discharge of lead person, who was U advocate, for single unexcused absence held not violative where E had demonstrated no anti-U animus and Ee held position of some responsibility for which she received higher pay than others)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 176
(termination of striking Ees for serious misconduct, not unlawful, where E reasonably believed that strikers were guilty of improper conduct in view of their gathering outside E's gates in contempt of ct injunction, damage done to suppliers' trucks by rocks thrown by Ees and subsequent guilty pleas in ct to charge of disorderly conduct)

International Medication Systems, Ltd. 247 NLRB No. 190
(discharge held for cause where Ee was not exemplary Ee even though timing of discharge, one month after Ee testified adversely to E in Bd proceeding, may appear suspicious; mere suspicion cannot substitute for ULP)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(dismissals and other disciplinary action taken against U supporters for various asserted reasons, not unlawful, where Ees' U activities were slight and took place long before events leading to disciplinary action occurred, and E's treatment of Ees was in accordance with its policy and was not unreasonable in the circumstances)

Krister Coal Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 049
(discharge of oiler, alleged U adherent, for failing to properly oil machinery and malingering on job not violative where Ee's only U activity was singing a U song and Ee's predecessor in job was discharged for identical reasons)

Suburban Motor Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 002
(reprimand and discipline of Ee on two separate occasions held not unlawfully motivated by desire to retaliate against Ee for his efforts through U on behalf of fellow Ee, where reliability of Ee's recollection of events was suspect, valid basis for reprimands existed, and circumstances upon which reprimands and discharges were based did not support conclusion that they were based on unlawful reasons)

Ryland Building Systems, A Division of The Ryland Group, Inc. JD-282-82
(discharge of Ee not violative, notwithstanding his U activities, E's knowledge of same, timing of discharge, and E's anti-U animus, where precipitating cause of discharge was fact that two of Ee's fellow workers sought transfers out of shipping department because he and another Ee were not carrying share of that department's workload)

Power Contractors, Ltd. JD-(SF)-109-82
(discharge of all U electricians comprising work force at jobsite and replacing them with work force drawn from non-U phase of operations, not violative where U electricians engaged in tacit refusal to work at rate and proficiency commanded by their craft status; to counter this impermissible conduct, E acted defensively to achieve work force necessary to meet approaching deadlines and demands of job)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Flambeau Micro Company JD-30-82
(discharge of Ee not unlawful where he was fired mainly, if not entirely, for threatening jobs of all Ees if he did not get 100% cooperation from them in signing U cards; other factors such as his poor work performance and his sexual harassment of co-worker may have played minor role, but fact that he was seeking to unionize E was not even a minor factor)

Modular Designs, Inc. JD-(SF)-271-81
(no violation where new manager's course of conduct involving oral and written reprimands which eventually lead to discharges was motivated by desire to improve efficiency and started when he obtained authority to run plant at least a month prior to U organizing campaign)

Packer Plastics, Inc. JD-(SF)-168-81
(E met burden of showing that Ee would have been terminated even in absence of his U activity where E showed that Ee not only started and left work early contrary to instructions but did so w/o notification, permission, or excuse; moreover he misled E into thinking he had not clocked in early and failed to service important customer by leaving early)

Hayes International Corporation JD-(ATL)-39-81
(discharge of U activist, not unlawful where Ee had been warned about possibility of discharge for refusing to obey supervisory instructions but continued to be insubordinate)

Sprinkmann Sons Corporation of Illinois JD-763-80
(discharge of non-U Ee held, not unlawful, notwithstanding U member, hired after non-U Ee started work, was retained, where at non-U Ee's request, E had given him a 10-day vacation instead of discharge slip Ee asked for; thereafter, due to unexpected decrease in number of journeymen on job, E did not need as many helpers such as non-U Ee for job, E made selection for termination on basis of job needs, and E had extended no favoritism to Ees because of U membership as evidenced by earlier lay off of two U members)

5073-1117—Cont.

Browning-Ferris Industries of Ohio and Michigan, Inc. JD-(SF)-313-80
(discharge of U steward and other Ee not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that U steward was in process of attempting to secure paycheck for other Ee at time of discharges, where Ees invited E outside to fight, repeatedly threatened to beat him up and persisted in obscene threats and gestures)

Nashover Trailer Manufacturing Company JD-286-80
(discharge for cause in view of Ee's attempted fraud of work time; blatant infraction of rule regarding Ees' use of scrap metal, both as it related to use of material for own purposes and taking of material from plant; and Ee's threats against supervisors)

Cedarwood Care Center JD-(SF)-315-79
(walking off job w/o complying with order to report to supervisor proper grounds for discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 943 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(discharge of U activist for fighting with supervisor, not unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 943 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(where director of E, w/o investigating reason for discharges of U activists reinstated them and then changed his mind and terminated them after finding out that they had been discharged as result of fight with supervisors, Bd's finding that second termination was due to anti-U animus held not supported by evidence, since supervisors objected to reinstatement on basis of legitimate hostility toward Ees, and director decided not to overrule them)

N.L.R.B. v. Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 646 F.2d 706 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(discharge of two U adherents assertedly for low productivity violative, where although plans had been made to fire some Ees for inefficiency, E failed to substantiate claim that U adherents herein fell into that category; and E had warned these Ees about their U activity two days before their discharge)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 10, 1981)
(discharging striking Ee for alleged involvement in rock-throwing incident which damaged truck, violative, where Bd found that Ee had left scene prior to incident)

Burlington Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 680 F.2d 974 (C.A. 4, June 1982)
(discharge not unlawful where during U campaign Ee, who had been warned to stay out of other departments, made trip through another department which was not work related, was given 4th reprimand in year, and was discharged pursuant to E's policy)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilker Brothers Company, Inc. 652 F.2d 640 (C.A. 6, June 1981)
(discharge of Ee not for U activities, but for not being very good worker and always being reprimanded, including being written up in three reports w/i 2 weeks of discharge date)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(discharge of leading U advocate, whom supervisor said was good and dependable worker for 8 years prior to U campaign, assertedly because of business retrenchment and Ee's poor performance held violative, since Ee was never recalled when subsequent increase in (E's) business necessitated hiring several new Ees and only w/i year prior to discharge did E find fault with Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Campbell 66 Express, Inc. 609 F.2d 312 (C.A. 7, 1979)
(Ee's discharge not violative since there was more than convincing evidence that E had good reason to discharge him, and there was no substantial evidence of anti-U animus)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discharge of U advocates assertedly for disparaging E, inducing parents to withdraw their children from E's day-care center and unsatisfactorily performing their work, violative where discharge followed immediately upon U organizing activity and E's anti-U bias was amply supported by record; false assertions of lawful purpose support inference that declarant's motive was unlawful)

5073-1120 Eviction from work by fellow employees

5073-1120-0000 Acquiescence by employer

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 097
(discharge of U committeeman because other Ees would not work with them, violative)

5073-1142 Impression of discharge conveyed to employee and acquiesced in by employer equivalent to discharge

Lucid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 099
(unlawful discharge where E's production manager informed U adherent who had been ordered to work night shift that he had quit when Ee handed production manager letter stating he had been hired for day work and requesting that E find another Ee to work night shift)

Famous Supply Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. [illegible]
(paycheck covering all hours worked enclosed with letter to economic striking Ees that E expected them at work on Friday, usual payday, held reasonably construed by Ees as discharge if they failed to return since check was not sent in normal course of business)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 140
(nonsupervisory assistant foreman held to have been unlawfully discharged, where, after he indicated he wanted to step down as assistant foreman, E paid Ee on next day for his accrued vacation pay, as well as his regular pay, but made no allowance for severance pay and Ee was under impression he had been fired)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 120
(Ee discharged rather than quit or suspended where he was asked to turn in his badge, gun and uniform, and E never notified Ee he was suspended but only raised possibility of suspension in brief to Bd; there may be discharge even in absence of words; where such can be reasonably inferred from circumstances)

5073-1156 Notice of termination to unreplaced economic strikers

Sadloff Publications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 120
(no unlawful coercion or discharge of strikers where they were notified by letters that they had been permanently replaced, notwithstanding contention replacements had not been hired when letters mailed, since replacements had received commitments of hire or had been hired when letters received by strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(no discharge where E's vice-president informed Ees who had walked off job to protest working conditions that Ees would lose their jobs unless they returned to work by a certain time absent evidence E or Ees considered Ees discharged, no final checks or termination notices sent)

5073-1162 Notice of termination to employees in layoff status

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(E's failure to reinstate U adherents who were temporarily laid off prior to first election for lack of work and failure to meet E's production standards, and then, prior to second election, conversion of such layoffs to permanent layoffs held violative where Ees were not advised of E's production standards and other Ees, who did not meet standards were retained in their jobs; customarily, Ees temporarily laid off for lack of work could expect to have been recalled when work picked up)

5073-1164 Notice of replacement to ULP strikes

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajeña 261 NLRB No. 161
(E's discharge of all ULP strikers held violative, since all strikers were terminated prior to being replaced)

Inta-Roto, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 111
(ULP strikers who were unlawfully notified that they had been permanently replaced found not violatively discharged because despite this notification, no evidence to show that request for reinstatement would be utterly futile and Ee required to request to be reinstated)

K-P Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Impression Northwest JD-(SF)-167-80
(strikers who failed to return to their jobs by deadline set by E and who were replaced by E held to have been constructively discharged)

N.L.R.B. v. Lyon & Ryan Ford, Inc. 647 F.2d 745 (C.A. 7, Apr 1981)
(E unlawfully discharged ULP strikers when it sent them letters indicating they would not be recalled)

5073-1166 Refusal to permit rescission of resignation

General Baptist Nursing Home, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 122
(refusing to permit U adherent to withdraw her resignation from work, herein found to constitute unlawful constructive discharge, unlawful, where E refused retraction of resignation on ground that Ee quit, and treatment afforded Ee contrasted starkly with treatment of another Ee who was taken back after leaving employment)

5073-1170 Pretext

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 280
(discharge of known U adherents assertedly for number of reasons variously applicable to each one (work attitude, tardiness, customer complaints, unsa-thorized purchases, deficient work performance, business retrenchment) held unlawful, since E's multiple reasons were not true ones and its real motivation was Ees' U activities; record warrants conclusion that E was attempting to substitute good reasons for real reasons; and E's citation of multiple reasons to justify dismissals reflected E's determination to marshal congeries of pretexts whereby patently unlawful motive might be concealed)

5073-1170—Cont.

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 084
(overreaction by E in disciplining Ee for violating work rule, even if valid, especially when rule had not been evenly enforced or necessary to maintain production standards, supports inference that Ee's violation of rule has been seized upon as pretext, and is supported only by invidious and discriminatory motive)

English Coal Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 165
(discharge of Ee violative where E believed Ee was participating in protected concerted activities inasmuch as E was required to rehire Ee on preferential basis pursuant to formal settlement agreement in earlier ULP case; contention that Ee was discharged because of his inability to operate loader rejected as pretextual)

Import Body Shop, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 150
(discharge of Ee because of his refusal to relinquish his reliance upon U as his bargaining agent, and his refusal to work upon E's terms during time when U still was representative of shop's Ees violative, notwithstanding E's claim that it discharged him for intentionally damaging hood hinges of automobile he was repairing, where such reliance was pretext designed to allow E to escape consequences of its prior unlawful discharge)

United Plastics, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 181
(upon reconsideration sua sponte before commencing enforcement proceedings, Bd again found violation where E's president discharged Ee upon being told that Ee had not done his work and that, when asked why by a fellow Ee, dischargee had mentioned that he had a U card or was member of U; Bd found one instance of Ee's failure to complete a work assignment was pretext put forth by E to justify discharge in view of E's president's repeated and vehement statements to dischargee and other Ee about dischargee's U involvement, and his other anti-U statements)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(ALJ's statement that by Bd's decision in Wright Line Bd has obviated the 'perceivable significance' between pretext and dual motive cases held overly broad; see Limestone Apparel Corp., 255 NLRB No. 101)

University Townhouses Cooperative 260 NLRB No. 187
(discharge of active U adherents allegedly for drinking beer on job and allowing an unauthorized person in shop, violative, where reasons for discharges were pretextual in light of E's condoning drinking on numerous occasions before and after U campaign, rule against unauthorized personnel in shop was virtually never enforced and former summer Ee who was in shop to inquire about future summer employment could hardly be deemed an unauthorized person)

Kenco Plastics Company, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 194
(terminating U adherent for use of obscenity during preelection campaign period, violative, where, contrary to E's progressive disciplinary system, E had seized incident as pretext to discharge Ee after one warning)

Bark Studios, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 044
(discharge of U adherent violative where E's asserted reason for lay off was entirely pretextual and Ee was discharged in retaliation for his U activities and also for purpose of conveying chilling message to other Ees who had voted for U)

Magnesium Casting Company 259 NLRB No. 064
(E's economic reasons for layoff not pretextual where reasons existed in fact and were relied upon by E who established need for layoff in department where charging party was least senior and least experienced Ee)

American Geri-Care, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 147
(discharging U adherent who had appeared at Bd hearing for allegedly leaving sick patient in her care, violative since E's reason for discharge was pretext where Ee actually gave proper care to patient and was subsequently given permission to leave to attend ill mother)

Piggly Wiggly, Tuscaloosa Division Commodores Point Terminal Corporation 258 NLRB No. 143
(rescinding agreement to permit U adherent to continue to work after Ee renounced his intention to quit, violative, where E seized upon Ee's renounced intention as pretext to discharge him after his attendance at U meeting had been observed by at least two management officials)

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 171
(discharge allegedly for lack of work, violative where E looked around for troublemaker after U filed election pin and E selected Ee because he was concurrently working part-time for U firm)

Grosse Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 103
(discharge of active U steward, violative, where E's contention that Ee was discharged for absenteeism was pretext)

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 098
(while discipline may be extreme it does not follow asserted reason for discharge is pretextual)

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 069
(ALJ application of Wright Line test to pretext case though unnecessary, did not alter correct result)

Town & Country LP Gas Service Co. 255 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee allegedly for lack of work, violative, where E's asserted economic reason for discharge was pretextual, in view of record evidence showing no decline in E's sales and pattern of retaliation against Ee for his filing charges with Bd and successfully prosecuting grievance)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(discharge of U adherent who was school bus driver for congregating with other drivers during standby time and leaving bus while children in it, unlawful, where Ees had never previously been disciplined for congregating during standby time and two other adherents discharged that day; fact there were children on bus did not change nature of incident so as to require such severe penalty)

United Plastic, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 026
(discharge of Ee violative where, in light of E's strong U animus, its singular concern with Ee's U remark at time of discharge, and its shifting and inconsistent reasons for Ee's discharge, motivation for discharge was E's perception of Ee's U participation and asserted reasons were merely pretextual)

Iglue Corporation 254 NLRB No. 078
(E's assigned reasons for discharge of two Ees were so unpersuasive, unreasonable and unnatural and so far removed from any justifiability in terms of past practice that they mandated conclusion that they were pretextual; such considerations coupled with E's knowledge of Ees' U activity and their relationship to U organizer warrant further finding that the two Ees were discharged in violation of Act)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(discharge of U advocate-waiter, who had served as interpreter for U organizing committee assertedly for error in his sign-in time on time sheet, violative, where time sheet was closely monitored by headwaiter and testimony of headwaiter and manager to effect they had no knowledge of U waiter's U activity, was discredited)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(discharge of well known U adherent assertedly because he used profanity against restaurant hostess after he broke E's rule regarding seating customers held violative where reasons for discharge were fabricated and shifting)

Production Plated Plastics, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 076
(discharge of U adherent for pretextual reason of Ee using restrooms prior to his break, violative, where Ee had never been disciplined previously for using restrooms during working time, and record showed that fellow Ee had been given at least six warnings for same conduct w/o having been discharged)

Keister Coal Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 069
(discharge of U adherents allegedly because E was overstaffed and Ees were unqualified for their jobs held violative where record showed one of discriminatees held miner's card from State and E hired replacements for discriminatees who would have to be trained and schooled at E's expense)

Golan Apparel Corporation 247 NLRB No. 026
(discharge of Ee, unlawful, where E suspected Ee of being U adherent because of her association with other known U adherents, and E's excuse for discharge of low production was pretextual)

N.L.R.B. v. Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 671 F.2d 657 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(Bd's finding that U adherent was unlawfully discharged supported by substantial evidence where two prior oral warnings were given several weeks after causative incidents and contrary to E's past practice, and last warning for insubordination which resulted in Ee's discharge was held pretextual in view of complaining supervisor's lack of recall of essential details of incident)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)
(when E's asserted justification is sham in that purported rule or circumstance advanced by E did not exist, or was not, in fact, relied upon, the reason advanced by E may be termed pretextual)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(discharge of Ees, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention discharges were for excessive absenteeism and that it was unaware of U activity at time of discharges, since reasons given are pretexts in view of timing, knowledge of U activities, and U animus)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)
(fact discharge of U steward was affected or motivated in part because he had filed charges with Bd and other government agencies falls short of holding that he was discharged because of these activities; where Ee's discharge is prompted by concurrent reasons, some permissible and some not, in order to support ruling of ULP Bd must find permissible reason proferred by E is merely pretext and that in fact Ee was disciplined because of anti-U sentiment)

5073-1170—Cont.

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(E's rationale for discharge of key U organizer held pretext, in light of Ee's history of high production, summary procedure used to dismiss him, lack of conclusive evidence that he knew he had been reported three times and had been given final warning, and differing explanations given for his discharge)

Banding, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 768 (C.A. 8)
(illegality of discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because of his refusal to obey order to assist with heavy unloading work upheld where substantial evidence justified Bd's conclusion that asserted reason for discharge was pretextual; discharge was mixed motive firing; E's anti-U animus and other anti-U actions justified Bd's conclusion)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(If a causal relationship between discharge and protected activity is established, E is responsible under Act unless he sustains burden of proof. Furthermore, E's explanation need not be accepted if there is a reasonable basis for believing explanation is pretext for retaliatory action)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)
(ct held that Bd had sufficient grounds to conclude that E's asserted reason for discharge, discriminatee's alleged refusal to perform work when called upon to do so, was a pretext due to timing of discharge, E's anti-U comments, and E's knowledge of Ee's willingness to do milling job indicating E's unlawful motivation)

N.L.R.B. v. Chem Fab Corporation 691 F.2d 1252 (C.A. 8, Nov. 1982)
(ct held that Bd reasonably concluded that alleged harrassment and insubordination incidents as reasons for discharging U adherent were pretextual)

5073-1184 Transfer to subcontractor

Liberty Homes, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 169
(E contracting out over-the-road delivery of its mobile homes and discharging drivers who performed delivery, not unlawful, notwithstanding subcontracting implemented after U had demanded recognition, where E had begun exploration of subcontracting and reached decision to subcontract prior to Ees seeking U representation and in view of E's financial losses and large capital outlay which would be required for desired replacement of inefficient gasoline powered tractors with diesel tractors)

Tennessee Cartage Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 015
(terminating work of truckdrivers and warehousemen during period of U campaign and using Ees of Rent-A-Driver service for such work held violative where action taken to avoid U at E)

5073-1200 For engaging in protected activity

Spring Valley Foods, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 182
(discharge unlawful, since it was not for horseplay with fellow Ee as alleged but for U activities, where horseplay was condoned and participated in by management, and dischargee was vociferous supporter of U discharged day before election)

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165
(E, together with purchaser of part of E's operations, held to have violated 8(a)(3), where purchaser was alter ego of E who engaged in sham purchase transaction herein in order to avoid its statutory obligations and to thwart Ees' successful organizational efforts, and discharge of Ees and refusal to reinstate them pursuant to such sham transaction was designed to retaliate against Ees for their U activities)

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205
(discharge of Ee who initiated U's drive at E's facility and who E claimed had quit, unlawful, where E specifically asked Ee whether he had signed U card when U's representative visited E's place of business; E thereafter committed series of ULPs; and 2 weeks after U demanded recognition, Ee was terminated 2 hours before end of his workday; moreover, E told one Ee that vengeful person was trying to bring U in and E had placed want ad in newspaper for filling E's position)

London Chop House, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 085
(threat to discharge, and discharge of bargaining committee member for distributing document informing fellow Ees, w/o authorization from committee, U, or E, about health care and other issues contained in proposed contract subject to Ee ratification, unlawful, since Act's protection is not lost because Ee opposed U while holding official position in U; Ee, who believed that distribution would result in rejection of contract, engaged in protected activity of opposing U which was concerted even though E acted alone; and fact that E initially supported, but later opposed, ratification is irrelevant and was not ethically and morally reprehensible)

Interior Alterations, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 098
(discharging Ees for protesting assignment of contractual unit work to non-unit Ees, violative)

De Queen General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 069
(E's treating U adherent's request for part-time work as resignation and terminating her employment, violative where decision was made in retaliation for Ee's support of U)

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 188
(discharging Ee who attempted to cause a walk out over refusal to process frozen beef, violative, where processing frozen beef is considered unsafe and therefore, instigating protest over such work is protected concerted activity)

Union Mining Company of Allegany County, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 082
(discharging Ee for filing grievances with U and voicing complaints about contract violations regarding work assignments and overtime, unlawful)

Milton J. Garon and Richard B. Bergman d/b/a Autoglass and Upholstery Co. 264 NLRB No. 122
(discharge of Ee who arranged for Ees meeting with U, unlawful)

English Coal Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 168
(discharge of Ee violative where E believed Ee was participating in protected concerted activities inasmuch as E was required to rehire Ee on preferential basis pursuant to formal settlement agreement in earlier ULP case; contention that Ee was discharged because of his inability to operate loader rejected as pretextual)

Campbell-Harris Electric, Inc. and Campbell Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 167
(discharge of U adherent, who is son of shareholders of 50-percent of closely held corporation, not unlawful, notwithstanding reason for discharge was to avoid bargaining obligation, since employed son is excluded under Sec. 2(3) from status of employee as an individual employed by his parent or spouse and therefore not protected by Act)

Inland Steel Company 263 NLRB No. 147
(no per se illegality in commencing investigation of Ee who came to E's attention by engaging in U and other protected activities, nor does discharge resulting from such investigation fall w/i inherently destructive acts even w/o proof of specific discriminatory intent)

Conn Fabricating & Engineering Company 263 NLRB No. 122
(discharge of president and shop steward of independent U for U activities of seeking contractual changes, signing representation pts for national U, filing grievances with E and charge with Bd, and appearing against E at workmen's compensation hearing, unlawful)

American Steel Works 263 NLRB No. 188
(where ALJ found that prior U activity; such as, filing grievances, and filing charge with Bd was cause of Ee's discharge and that absent that activity he would not have been discharged for leading wildcat strike, Bd found that discharge was improperly motivated under Wright Line)

Mueller Insulation Co. and The Mueller Company of Missouri, Inc., Successor Employer and/or Alter Ego 263 NLRB No. 095
(discharging Ee with history of lateness 3-4 days each week violative, where he had done extremely good work for 8 years, E gave no warning, did not inquire reason for lateness that morning and Ee had agressively enforced bargaining agreement for 3 months)

Babcock & Wilcox Company d/b/a B & W Construction Company 263 NLRB No. 061
(violation, where Ee was discharged because, in course of his attempt to implement bargaining agreement, he expressed intent to file intra-U charges against his foreman for violating agreement)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146
(discharge of U adherent assertedly for violating valid no-solicitation rule, unlawful, where Ee's protected activity of soliciting U cards occurred in non-work area on non-work time; E offered no explanation for its instantaneous action against Ee w/o ever giving Ee opportunity to be heard; on prior occasions when Ee had engaged in conduct worthy of discharge, Ee was only reprimanded after consultation; and violation existed even though Ee's U activity was limited to only one incident)

Aher Plastics Company, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 147
(unlawful discharge assertedly because of Ee's concerted activities not inferred where E was aware of such activities but neither expressed concern over them nor acted precipitately upon learning of such conduct as he did after learning of Ee's U card solicitations; while displeased with Ee's defacement with derogatory comments of announcement of Christmas party which Ees criticized because given in lieu of bonus, E did not discharge Ee for criticism of party or for any of her other complaints; moreover, Ee's comments on announcement did not constitute part of res gestae of protected activities)

C. R. Adams Trucking, Inc., and Michael Cates 262 NLRB No. 067
(discharging Ees for not complying with E's request that they falsify U membership applications by stating that they are in dependent contractors, so E would not have to pay to U health and welfare benefit payments, violative)

5073-2200—Cont.

Sealy Mattress Company of Michigan, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 011
(discharge of Ee for joining U violative notwithstanding he may not have been properly part of unit he sought to join since his efforts were protected activity against which E could not lawfully retaliate)

Eight-Gard Corporation 261 NLRB No. 177
(violation, where E discharged Ees for actual or suspected U activity and in attempt to prevent pro-U majority among members of unit sought to be represented by U)

IMCO/International Measurement & Control Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 180
(discharge of Ees who supported U in organizing effort and signed U cards, unlawful, particularly in view of E's expressed U animus as evidenced by giving of bonus/raise after U withdrawal of R ptn and use of unlawful shutdown as excuse for discharges and layoffs)

Mashkin Freight Lines, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 193
(discharge of Ee violative where E would not have discharged him but for his participation in Ee group and U that opposed E's proposals and actions regarding changes in working conditions)

Consir Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(discharge of ULP strikers who had previously been reinstated assertedly because they failed to return to work w/o proper notice to E after being granted legitimate leaves of absences, unlawful, where there were repeated instances of granting extended leaves for illness or other reasons to Ees who did not support U and had no difficulty in returning to work at conclusion of their approved leaves and, consequently, E's failure to accord same treatment to ULP strikers constituted disparate treatment and compels conclusion that E did so because of their support of U)

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(picketing by asking credit U members to withdraw money from Credit-U-E is simply asking them to c/d/b with E which is protected activity)

White Coffee Corporation 261 NLRB No. 149
(discharge unlawful where supervisor, on being asked, told U activist that he was discharged because of his fooling around in the back area, which was where Ee had distributed U cards and solicited signatures on them)

St. Alphonsus Hospital 261 NLRB No. 091
(discharge of U adherent because E thought Ee had disregarded its instruction not to support U and because he had disregarded its instruction not to vote in representational election, violative)

Volkswagen of America, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 036
(violation, where Ee was discharged because of his status as U committeeman, and discharge was not justified by E's mistaken belief that U committeemen had actively encouraged Ees to participate in illegal walkout where he had merely apprised them of dangerous situation developing outside the plant, thus enabling them to assess situation facing them at end of work day while he himself stayed on the job; rather than being encouraged to leave, Ees also remained on the job)

M K Laboratories, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 021
(discharge, allegedly for absenteeism, unlawful where E applied vague and imprecise absenteeism rule disparately to most active U steward at time of his newly increased authority and showed U animus by not letting other Ees attend steward's unemployment compensation hearing after said discharge)

General Indicator Corporation, Rodco Division 260 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of Ee for soliciting Ees to have U steward replaced, violative)

Broadway Catering Corp. d/b/a Studio 54 260 NLRB No. 166
(discharge of U adherent, unlawful, where one of E's stated reasons for discharge was that he had heard Ee was also working at another establishment similar to E's at which Ee was engaged in U activities, and among many 8(a)(1) violations committed by E were some threats of discrimination made directly to Ee herein)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U member on day after E was mistakenly informed that she told Ees to walk out in protest over working conditions, unlawful, where E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, never asked Ee what she had told Ees; moreover, if Ee had tried to organize walkout, it would have constituted protected concerted activity, and discharge in mistaken belief that Ee was engaged in such activity is unlawful)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U member by E who was engaged in conduct to undermine U unlawful, where E, assertedly having heard that she did not want to work, asked her to work only as a one-day replacement for another Ee, and when Ee accepted to come to work only if she could return to her job, E refused to allow her to do so; and there was no evidence to support E's belief that Ee did not want to work)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U member after she told E she would not be able to perform additional tasks which E had assigned her and still perform her principal job, unlawful, since E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, discharged Ee for refusing to accept a unilateral change in working conditions concerning which E was obligated to bargain; moreover, E's expressed desire for efficiency was pretextual)

Beck Studios, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 044
(discharge of U adherent violative where E's asserted reason for lay off was entirely pretextual and Ee was discharged in retaliation for his U activities and also for purpose of conveying chilling message to other Ees who had voted for U)

District #1, Pacific Coast District, Marine Engineers Beneficial Association 259 NLRB No. 169
(discharge of Ee, assertedly for unsatisfactory work violative, since real reason was her attempt to unionize E's staff, particularly in view of E's direct statements to her when she was discharged concerning her attempt to organize Ees, and absence of prior complaints to her about her work)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 181
(discharge of striker who merely disconnected air hose (which only took few seconds to reconnect)from tractor to trailer on truck entering E's plant held violative, since incident not significant enough to justify discharge)

Harbison-Walker Refractories Division of Dresser Industries, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 130
(discharging Ee for informing coworkers that he felt a grievance should be filed over foreman's work assignments, unlawful)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of Ee, assertedly for insubordination, violative where Ee was discharged for invoking grievance procedure and for complaining about casino operations to gambling inspector)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(discharge of office manager by U's Secretary-Treasurer because office manager favored another candidate for U office of Secretary-Treasurer and was instrumental in writing letter to U attorney in attempt to preserve jobs of office staff held violative because activities office manager undertook, in conjunction with other Ees, related to wages, hours, terms and conditions of employment and discharge was in derogation of office manager's right to form and support clerical Ee U)

Caffe Giovanni, Inc. d/b/a Giovanni's 259 NLRB No. 031
(discharge of Ee, who had previously been offered permanent employment and a raise, only after E became aware of Ee's picketing, not unlawful, notwithstanding fabricated nature of E's defenses, timing of discharge, and Ee's knowledge of Ee's picketing activities, where Ee was discharged in normal course of his temporary employment on a summer vacation relief basis; and, while offer of permanent employment and raise may have constituted unlawful inducement to forego supporting U, such was not intended as a genuine offer)

The Long Island Radio Company d/b/a All Shores Radio Corp. JD-(NY)-71-81
(discharge of U adherents, not unlawful, where discharges were result of E's desire, upon acquisition of radio station, to improve performance, ratings, and competitive position in industry by course of conduct which included review and consideration of staff replacements, changes in music format opposed by these Ees, and initiating regular critiques of each Ees' performance)

Webb Ford, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 062
(discharge of U activists for filing grievances, unlawful)

Cumberland Farms Dairy of New York, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 120
(discharge of Ee who was most vocal and persistent advocate of Ees' interests at time when E believed Ee was on verge of forming U, violative)

Valley Plaza, Inc. d/b/a Captain Nemo's 258 NLRB No. 076
(discharge of U adherents for purpose of undercutting U organizing drive, violative)

Leisure Time Tours, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 138
(discharge of U adherent violative where GC established that U adherent's activities on behalf of grievance committee and his suspected involvement in U were motivating factors in E's decision to terminate him and E failed to meet its burden of demonstrating that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct)

Arrow Automotive Industries 258 NLRB No. 116
(issuance of warning notices to and suspension and discharge of Ee allegedly for failure to communicate schedule delays, unlawful, where E never mentioned said failure to communicate until it found U literature in Ee's truck and admonished him about it)

Pantex Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113
(discharge of Ee held for engaging in U activities and not as contended for dereliction of duty)

A-W Washington Service Station, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of Ee violative where it was ordered in phone call from main office when that office called supervisor to ask about omission in employment application of new hire and was told that Ee was on leave to negotiate for U in regard to Ee's former place of employment)

5073-2200—Cont.

McLean Trucking Company 257 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of Ee because of his complaints about conditions covered by collective bargaining agreement, violative)

Greyhound Lines, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 065
(discharge of Ee for physically writing dictated letter from U to E concerning alleged harassment of Ees, violative)

Salem Paint, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 050
(terminating Ees so they would not be able to vote in U election, violative)

Brodart, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 077
(E's termination of Ee for attending U meetings, violative)

Sioux Products, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 096
(reprimanding and discharging U adherent, violative)

Boren Brothers, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Thrifty Corporation 257 NLRB No. 063
(discharge for distributing U sign-up cards in violation of no-solicitation no-distribution rule, unlawful where rule was discriminatorily enforced and was itself unlawful)

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(discharge of Ee who had taken active roll in presenting common grievances of Ees, checked out U rates of pay and argued with E to obtain such rates for Ees violative as Ee was engaged in protected concerted activity)

Anjo Engineering Corporation 256 NLRB No. 161
(termination of known U activist allegedly for violating unwritten rule that indefinite medical leaves, such as she was given, were granted for only 3 months and if overstayed resulted in automatic termination, unlawful where there was no evidence that rule was clearly established or uniformly enforced, and E, who routinely gave extensions of medical leave freely, terminated excellent Ee, known to be extremely ill, for technical breach on election day, 11 days after she allegedly should have returned to work)

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138
(discharge assertedly because Ee, originally hired to fill job of another Ee who was scheduled to be terminated, was not needed because E decided to retain other Ee, unlawful, where Ee, who had been terminated earlier for his U activities, was rehired only after he assured E that his attitude had changed; on another occasion, Ee was again rehired after telling E he was happy to leave his last job because it was U shop; E was informed that Ee was U organizer; and E failed to hire Ee when Ee whose job he was supposed to fill was terminated and when another vacancy occurred)

Turner Tool And Joint Rebuilders Corporation 256 NLRB No. 101
(asserted reason for discharge of U activist held pretext where Ee was discharged for being away from work area at time another supervisor had given permission to leave for purpose of making phone call and at time of discharge reference was made to previous day and Ee's talking about U then)

Town & Country LP Gas Service Co. 255 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee allegedly for lack of work, violative, where E's asserted economic reason for discharge was pretextual, in view of record evidence showing no decline in E's sales and pattern of retaliation against Ee for his filing charges with Bd and successfully prosecuting grievance)

Fruehauf Corporation 255 NLRB No. 125
(discharge of U steward not violative, where reason was her irregular attendance and not because of her U position or activities, as contended, in view of absence of U animus on part of E)

Steinerfilm, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 017
(discharge of U adherent, violative, since E did not rebut GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge where record showed that E's proffered justification for such discharge was pretextual)

Harper & Arterburn Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 105
(discharge of Ee unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that reason for discharge was Ee's alleged disruption of other Ees' work where real reason was Ee's enlisting U's assistance in appointment of steward and talking about U on job)

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. 090
(discharge of U adherents unlawful, where E had knowledge of Ees' U activities and harbored animus toward U and toward concerted activities of its Ees; E's affirmative defense of business considerations in terminating Ees w/o merit, and its claimed reasons pretexts to mask E's unlawful motive)

Florida Tile Company, Division of Sikes Corporation 255 NLRB No. 089
(written reprimands to and discharge of U adherent violative, where one reprimand was issued to her for using profanity but none were issued to other Ees using profanity in same incident which involved U adherent's solicitation of authorization cards; and two other reprimands were issued to her for pretextual reasons to make total of three to justify, under E's rules, her automatic discharge)

SAS Ambulance Service, Inc., d/b/a Florida Ambulance Service; et al. 255 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of Ees for distributing handbills violative, notwithstanding E's contention that handbills were defamatory)

Walther Die Casting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 086
(discharging striker who had been reinstated with loss of seniority violative as true reason was U activity)

United Plastic, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 036
(discharge of Ee violative where, in light of E's strong U animus, its singular concern with Ee's U remark at time of discharge, and its shifting and inconsistent reasons for Ee's discharge, motivation for discharge was E's perception of Ee's U participation and asserted reasons were merely pretextual)

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011
(supervisor's discharge of probationary Ee, assertedly for poor work performance, unlawful, where E's refusal to cross picket line in furtherance of sympathy strike directed at Ee's E was motivating factor as evidenced by supervisor's admission to other Ees that he was directed by E to fire Ee because of his refusal; contention that other probationary Ees who did not cross picket line were not fired, rejected, where they had worked part of the time during picketing or had worked in E's yard w/o taking trucks out)

Dimo Ambulette Service, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 082
(discharge of Ee ambulette driver violative, notwithstanding E's contention that it discharged Ee because of customer complaint, where real reason for discharge was his circulation of pts for U)

Dimo Ambulette Service, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 082
(discharge of Ees, for protesting discharge of another Ee who had been unlawfully discharged for circulating U pts, violative)

Pile Foundation Construction Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 177
(refusing to recall Ees who had complained about contractual work-rule violations in regard to manning certain jobs, violative)

Kleinert's, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 197
(discharge of Ee, whose substantial U and other protected concerted activity was known to E, for Ee's alleged failure to give notice of absence due to illness as well as his failure to bring doctor's slip, violative where, contrary to E's contentions, E had no daily call-in requirement at time of discharge, Ee gave E requisite advance notice of intent to be absent, E had no fixed requirement for furnishing doctor's excuse as evidence of illness, and no time limit for furnishing such slip on return to work; E knew Ee's absence was due to illness, and such knowledge was normally a significant factor in determining whether to excuse absence w/o doctor's excuse)

Magnetics International, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 062
(suspension and discharge of U steward because of activities in administering grievance provisions of bargaining agreement, violative; Wright Line cited, 231 NLRB No. 150)

Mayo Corp. and Sonnet and Wells, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 031
(discharging striking Ees because they engaged in protected economic strike and because they refused to join favored U, violative)

Lou Awald Chevrolet, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 113
(discharge unlawful where date of discharge was accelerated because of U activist's attempt to organize Ees; although activist was next in line for termination due to E's declining sales, timing of sudden and immediate discharge indicated E's frustration with Ee's U activities)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 065
(E's discharge of pharmacy managers for activities on behalf of guild, unlawful, notwithstanding RD's findings in underlying R case that pharmacy managers were supervisors and guild was not labor organization; E's contention that it was entitled to rely on RD's decision as defense because there was no request for stay of RD's order and because RD's decision could be relied on until reversed, rejected)

Ross M. Alexander d/b/a A & B Janitorial Service 253 NLRB No. 066
(discharge for soliciting in violation of E's invalid no-solicitation rule, unlawful)

OMC Stern Drive, A Division of Outboard Marine Corporation 253 NLRB No. 063
(discharge of unlawfully suspended steward allegedly for insubordination in refusing to leave plant at E's request upon his suspension, unlawful; although steward was insubordinate in refusing to leave, his insubordination was not so flagrant and was not sufficient, in circumstances of E's scheming to get rid of steward and rejection of conciliatory opportunity in favor of having steward arrested and removed by police, to forfeit Act's protection)

Semeric Corporation 253 NLRB No. 063
(terminating one Ee by eliminating his shift and transferring another Ee and subsequently promoting him to supervisory status, violative, where both were U adherents seeking representation election for unit comprising of only themselves)

9073-2200—Cont.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company 253 NLRB No. 080
(discharge of Ee because she insisted that black coworker go to supervisor to complain about racially derogatory remark by another Ee, violative, since her action constituted protected concerted activity)

John Grissom, Mihai Duba-Suna, David Springer, and Richard Baker, A General Partnership d/b/a Natural Heating Systems 252 NLRB No. 182
(discharge of Ee unlawful, where E resented Ee's interference with E's negotiations with one U by attempting to organize Ees on behalf of another U, and E considered such conduct rankest form of disloyalty which E believed fully justified Ee's termination)

McLean Trucking Company 253 NLRB No. 104
(discharge of Ee and subsequent conversion of discharge to suspension and written warning for Ee's refusal to drive tractor-trailer violative, where Ee had good faith and reasonable belief that vehicle was unsafe, and E's adverse action was taken because Ee acted in reliance on U contract in concert with U officials)

Hammermill Paper Company 253 NLRB No. 173
(discharge of Ee for participation in unprotected work stoppage solely because of his position as U steward, violative)

Republic Die and Tool Company 252 NLRB No. 093
(violation when E discharged Ee because he filed contractual grievance over prior discharge which had resulted in arbitration award granting him reinstatement with substantial backpay)

Corrugated Structures, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 079
(discharge of Ee for complaining to U about reduction in pay, violative)

Americana Health Care Corporation of Ohio d/b/a Barberton Manor 252 NLRB No. 067
(summary discharge of nursing aide violative, where reason was her U activities, and not, as contended, her patient abuse)

Palby Lingerie, Inc. and Argus Lingerie Corp. 252 NLRB No. 032
(discharge of leading U adherent for giving out pamphlets to Ees during lunchtime, violative even if she was paid staff worker of the Union, who obtained employment in order to assist in organization; being a paid staff worker of U does not denigrate from Ee's status as such)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 251 NLRB No. 196
(discharge of U activist assertedly for talking U on her break while Ee was working violative where U activist did not interfere with her own or other Ee's work)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(violation where E assigned U card signer to work full time on core table, refused thereafter to revoke the assignment, and finally discharged Ee; true motive was to get rid of a leader in campaign to organize plant)

Syracuse Dy-Dee Diaper Service 251 NLRB No. 135
(discharge of U adherents, violative, where E's knowledge of Ees passing out U cards and holding U meetings was inferred from small size of plant, reasons asserted for discharges were pretextual, and timing of discharges occurred w/i two weeks of organizational campaign)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092
(U's demand for and E's carrying out discharge of Ees who had resigned from U and were attempting to decertify U and replace it with another U, violative, since U's demand was erroneously based on U-security provision and inasmuch as there was no valid basis for discharge request, demand for and discharge of Ees was in retaliation for Ees' exercising their Sec. 7 right to displace incumbent with another U)

McLane/Western, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 185
(violation and interference where E was discharged, allegedly for breach of no-stealing rule by eating one cracker from damaged, unsalvageable carton, since E applied the rule in retaliation for Ee's suspected U support and as warning to other Ees)

Reinauer Fuel Transportation Corporation 251 NLRB No. 210
(discharge held solely for Ee's U activities and refusal to work overtime held to play no role in the discharge; no Ee had ever been disciplined for refusal to work overtime, Ee did not state at any time that he would no longer work overtime, and there was no conclusive evidence Ee had refused to work overtime as alleged)

Dennis G. Malatto and Frank M. Malatto t/a Malatto Contracting 251 NLRB No. 027
(discharge of U adherents, unlawful, where, even though their conduct was not exemplary, no one had previously been fired during entire year preceding U campaign, E's 8(a)(1) conduct had purpose of depleting U's ranks in order to rid itself of U, E seized upon supervisor's complaints about laid off Ees' work to discharge them because of their U activities, and firing of last U adherent completed E's prophecy that U's campaign would be finished)

Kaufman DeDell Printing, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 068
(violation where Ee was discharged for turning to U for help to obtain higher pay he thought he was entitled to be paid)

Martin K. Eby Construction Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 140
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ee because of his activities as U steward violative)

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 183
(Bd held that Ee's discharge, allegedly for his bad attitude and low production, was instead solely a result of E's unlawful production quota and disciplinary systems, since Ee's attitude toward E's unlawful production quotas caused his low production, and his attitude had developed, as reaction to E's counseling implemented as part of unlawful disciplinary system; Ee had refused counseling, as was his right, and his failure to accept it was not legitimate basis for discharge)

Ben J. Mauro d/b/a Warehouse Food Distributing Company 250 NLRB No. 177
(discharge of Ee for stating at U meeting that county was very organized and that people would honor picket line outside E's store, unlawful)

Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 180
(violation where E discharged one U activist, laid off another and constructively discharged three more by revoking their reinstatements because of their U activities; E had stated that one activist was being discharged for starting the U in the warehouse)

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065
(discharge of U adherent for refusing to allow her purse to be searched by supervisor, rather than by security guard, upon leaving Es warehouse, not violative, absent discriminatory motivation; fact E's vice-president offered to reemploy adherent and then withdrew offer not evidence of discriminatory motivation where withdrawal because vice-president felt personally insulted)

Coronet Instructional Media, A Division of Esquire, Inc. (Warehouse, Mail Order, Office Technical and Professional Employees Union, Local 743, Teamsters) 250 NLRB No. 133
(violation where group leader was discharged one hour after presenting his supervisor with U literature, and reasons for discharge given by E were shifting and pretextual)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(discharge of Ee to whom E attributed offensive conduct leading to his discharge, unlawful, where Ee had been object of extensive ULPs by E which coincided with similar ULPs directed against fellow Ees, and discharge of Ee was merely culmination of efforts to mute Ees who, by their protected activities, were source of irritation to E, and E failed to proffer convincing reasons for discharge; while Ee's pre-discharge conduct is not condoned, E will not be allowed to rely on such conduct since, but for E's ULPs, it would not have occurred)

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 116
(violation where 3 days after U's demand for recognition, E discharged 7 Ees, the 7th being one of most competent and the principal U activist; E showed discriminatory motivation by retaining less competent Ees, by the timing and impact of discharges on organized Ees and inconsistent explanations)

Clayton Construction Corporation 250 NLRB No. 121
(violation by discharge of U steward for protesting work assignment as contrary to contract)

E. A. Nord Company 250 NLRB No. 068
(discharge of Ee because of his expressed intent to file contractual grievance unlawful, conduct was concerted since it could establish precedent for other Ees)

Mediterranian Diner, Inc., t/a Bay Diner 250 NLRB No. 029
(discharge of U adherent, unlawful, where for his defense of U in argument in view of E's hostility towards U and U activities)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharge for allegedly soliciting signing of U cards on company time, unlawful, where E had no written rules forbidding or restricting solicitations on company premises, there was no interference with production, E allowed solicitation for other purposes, and particularly absent proof solicitation took place on work time as distinguished from company time)

The Halloran House 249 NLRB No. 113
(discharge violative, where E had knowledge of Ee's U activity, acted immediately against Ee w/o warning, and failed to provide any plausible explanation for its conduct; under circumstances, it was proper to infer that E's motive was discriminatory)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 119
(discharge of U supporter and member of U organizing committee assertedly for his misconduct, violative where misconduct was provoked by E and was not so serious as to warrant denial of reinstatement)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(discharge of Ee, assertedly because of seasonal decline in business and lack of work, unlawful, where E manifested animus towards unionization of Ees, E admitted to Ee that he was being discharged because he signed U card, and E had learned of Ee's U activity through widespread coercive interrogation of Ees)

5073-2200—Cont.

Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation 240 NLRB No. 088
(U's conduct in causing discharge of Ees, and E's discharge of Ees at U's request, unlawful, where U steward in requesting discharges was motivated by harassment flowing from Ees' continual accusation of steward's failure to adequately perform his steward's duties, their insistence on prompt grievance meetings, and attempt to unseat him as steward; moreover, even if no intraunion retaliation motivated steward in demanding discharges, but only that personal harassment was no longer bearable, U's demands for discharges would nevertheless be unlawful)

Clinton Inn 240 NLRB No. 022
(discharge motivated by Ee's U activities rather than his alleged unsatisfactory performance, in view of inconsistencies in E's business reasons for discharge and fact that discharge occurred 3 days after supervisor admittedly saw Ee sign U authorization card and that E exhibited strong animus toward U and its adherents)

Kroton Char-Broil, Inc., d/b/a Coram Pond Diner 248 NLRB No. 152
(violation where Ees who were outspoken in their demand for higher pay and better conditions of employment, were replaced while on authorized sick leave and were subsequently denied reemployment; E was motivated not by business necessity but rather by Ees' protected activities)

Portsmouth Lumber Treating, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 160
(discharge of 4 out of 10 Ees in unit, violative, in view of timing of discharge soon after supervisor became aware of R ptn; the abruptness of discharge in middle of workshift, and accompanying ULPs)

K & B Mounting, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 071
(violation where E discharged Ee because of its belief that she had engaged in U activities)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 047
(discharging Ee assertedly for his tardiness, absenteeism, and unreasonable demand for individual contract, violative, when E had rejected Ee's demands for improvements of wages, pensions and health benefits, had forbidden him to involve other Ees or to seek U assistance in regard to his demands, and discharged Ee only when he insisted that he would pursue the course of concerted action he had outlined contrary to E's order)

Hilton Hotels Corporation, d/b/a The O'Hare Hilton 248 NLRB No. 031
(discharge of U steward for questioning E's change in practice by denying unit member sandwich at end of 8-hour shift held discrimination against steward (as well as other Ees) to chill protected U organizational activity)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(constructive discharge of Ee to whom E offered wage rate lower than that provided for in U contract, unlawful, where Ee quit rather than relinquish statutory right to be paid in accordance with contract; fact that Ee intended to leave E's employment in future is no defense where decision to quit was hastened by his being compelled to accept lower wage rate contrary to his statutory right)

Lemon Electric Corporation 247 NLRB No. 203
(discharge of Ee lawful, since for his refusal to obey safety rule which required tying long hair up and back to prevent it from being caught in machinery, where Ee was not outstanding U activist and other Ees had been warned for refusal to abide by same rule)

Pay 'N Save Corporation 247 NLRB No. 184
(suspension and discharge of Ees for wearing U buttons on their store jackets, unlawful, since right to wear buttons is legitimate form of U activity, and there was no valid business consideration or other special circumstance warranting forbidding of wearing of U buttons by store Ees on salesfloor)

The Saloon, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 156
(discharge of Ee, unlawful, in view of its timing close to Ee's emergence as U proponent, E's resolve to rid itself of U, Ee's strong skills in his job, and implausibility of E's witnesses concerning timing of discharge, of decision to give Ee raise, and of hire of his replacement)

Bio-Medical Applications of New Orleans, Inc., d/b/a Greater New Orleans Artificial Kidney Center 247 NLRB No. 136
(discharge of economic strikers for persisting in striking in support of their bargaining agent, unlawful)

Anco Insulations, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of insulation installer because he had left his work area to observe insulating work being done by another contractor in nearby furnaces because of possible jurisdictional work question, not violative notwithstanding Ee told to check up on this matter by U, where other Ees had been discharged for leaving their work areas and there was no need for installer to inquire into any work jurisdictional question)

Mid-East Consolidation Warehouse, A Division of Ethan Allen, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 090
(even assuming E had business reason for reduction of truck routes, selection of drivers to be terminated violative, where each discharged driver was U supporter, E knew drivers were U adherents and discharges were not in accordance with seniority)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(discharge of known U adherents for various asserted reasons, unlawful, where Ees were experienced and had good work records, discharges occurred shortly after Ees engaged in open U activity, Ees were treated in disparate manner inasmuch as other Ees were not disciplined for same conduct, and asserted reasons for discharges were pretexts with real reason being Ees' U activities)

Blaw-Knox Foundry & Mill Machinery 247 NLRB No. 36
(discharge of probationary Ee for protected concerted activity of joining coworker in her complaint concerning offensive touching of her person by supervisor, unlawful)

Texas Instruments Incorporated 247 NLRB No. 037
(discharges based on E's invalidly applied dissemination of classified material rule, violative, since Ees were penalized for asserting their statutory rights by publishing confidential area wage survey; application of rule interfered with those rights and tended to inhibit Ees' protected activity)

Plaza Bay Enterprises, Inc. JD-(SF)-273-82
(discharge of Ee assertedly for punching out another Ee's timecard unlawful, where immediately upon being advised that Ee had attended U meeting the day before and also that she was instigator of the U, E directed her discharge, and to legitimaze such discharge directed discharge of the Ee whose timecard was punched out)

Hammond Plastic, Division of Carl Gordon Industries, Inc. JD-583-81
(discharge of U activist, unlawful where after advent of U, E accepted his resignation and ignored withdrawal of his resignation notice many weeks before)

Solid Rock Transit Mix JD-(SF)-234-82
(violation where antiU E, who had reneged on promises of how much he would pay Ees, discharged known U organizers upon learning that they were recording hours worked on time cards to prove their 70-80 hour workweeks)

Natico, Inc. JD-271-82
(discharges of part-time Ee upon belief or fear that Ee might obtain all benefits or rights to full employment if he obtained U membership, violative)

Wayne & Co. Installers JD-(SF)-170-82
(discharge of U job steward assertedly because he was unsatisfactory Ee violative, since motivating factor was found to be his protected concerted activities in complaining about violations of bargaining agreement; E failed to demonstrate that it would have taken same action against Ee in absence of his protected activities;

Rainbo Baking Company JD-(SF)-117-82
(discharge for exercising Weingarten rights, unlawful)

Kasler Corporation, Continental Heller Corp., and Fruin-Colnon Corp., A Joint Venture JD-(SF)-118-82
(violation where Ee was discharged for raising jurisdictional dispute issue with U steward of another trade)

Tops Industries, d/b/a Tops Market JD-(SF)-83-82
(discharge of Ee because of his U support and expressed unwillingness to forego continued activities on U's behalf, when ordered to do so, unlawful)

Metro-Young Construction Company, A Division of Olson Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-13-82
(discharging Ee from one jobsite and limiting duration of his employment at different jobsite by discharging him again held violative as reason for discharge was Ee's filing of U grievance involving rain gear two years earlier)

Exhibition, Inc. JD-543-81
(discharging Ee for fulfilling his duties as U steward by reporting to U that E had Ees work overtime w/o U approval in violation of contract and had instructed him as keeper of U stamp to stamp non-U work with U label)

Marvin J. Schiff Trust R-101, Marvin J. Schiff, Trustee, d/b/a Nevada Palace Casino & Motor Inn JD-(SF)-277-81
(terminating Ee, member of U, because E was a non-U hotel or that E was under new management, non-U house, held violative)

Ednamae Brewer d/b/a Kalama Cafe JD-(SF)-264-81
(discharge of Ee because she had filed grievance with U, violative)

Whitney Investments, Inc., a subsidiary of Whitney Fidalgo Seafoods, Inc. JD-240-81
(discharging and refusing to reinstate Ee because he filed grievance pursuant to collective bargaining agreement, violative)

Fleet Carrier Corporation JD-372-81
(discharge of U adherent, assertedly for dishonesty, violative where Ee was discharged for his U activities)

North Oak Chrysler Plymouth 382-81
(discharge of U adherent assertedly for insubordination, poor attitude, etc., violative, where Ee was discharged only because E wished to use Ee as example to other Ees of what would happen to anyone who remained steadfast in their support of and activities on behalf of U)

5073-2200—Cont.

Bredart, Inc. JD-148-81
(termination of Ee, solely for attending U meetings, violative)

Bredart, Inc. JD-148-81
(transfer of Ee, solely for attending U meetings, violative)

Normike Contractors, Inc. JD-(NY)-51-81
(closing plant one hour earlier than usual and docking one hour's pay of Ees because of U organizing campaign and E's desire to get even with its Ees for joining U constituted unlawful discharge)

Todd Pacific Shipyards Corporation JD-(SF)-99-81
(discharge for seeking U's help in obtaining an upgrading evaluation, a contractual benefit, unlawful)

Lauridsen Foods, Inc. JD-36-81
(discharge of U adherents because of their open and very active support for U, unlawful)

Liberty Parking, Inc. JD-4-81
(discharge of Ee who attended grievance proceeding for fellow Ee, not unlawful, where E denied Ee permission to be absent after being informed that Ee had not contribution to make at grievance hearing, and Ee left job anyway leaving it understaffed; contrary to contention Ee's shop steward candidacy was not factor in his discharge)

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company JD-620-80
(termination of Ee after being admonished to curtail his open association with U organizers at plant, violative)

Evans Plumbing Company JD-(ATL)-15-80
(discharge of Ees who questioned E about his failure to send payments to U's vacation fund as required in contract, violative)

Browning-Ferris Industries of Ohio and Michigan, Inc. JD-(SF)-313-80
(discharge of U steward and other Ee not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that U steward was in process of attempting to secure paycheck for other Ee at time of discharges, where Ees invited E outside to fight, repeatedly threatened to beat him up and persisted in obscene threats and gestures)

Taylor Implement Division, Pittsburgh Forgings Company JD-474-80
(Ee's suspension and discharge violative where reason was not, as contended, his parking his automobile in unauthorized location but was, rather, his active participation in U's second effort to represent Ees after an election loss)

Round Table Enterprises Inc. t/a Thrift T Mart JD-(NY)-62-80
(discharge of U activist violative, in view of supervisor's statement to another Ee that now we would have no more worries about the union)

J. Teixeira Construction, Inc. JD-(SF)-265-80
(discharge of Ee who protested E's failure to pay him for stand by time as provided under contract, violative)

Chipmore Manufacturing Co., Inc. JD-432-80
(discharge for refusing to work overtime unlawful, since discharges were connected with concerted protected activities in which both Ees had taken part, namely sick out in protest against making previously optional overtime mandatory, and with their U activities as well)

Falconer and Sons JD-(SF)-232-80
(discharge and refusal to rehire Ee because he refused to comply with E's condition that he resign his position as shop steward and because of his activities as shop steward, unlawful)

Ancher Contracting Corp. JD-231-80
(discharge of Ee who had filed grievances, unlawful, since for his protected activity rather than for alleged taking of unauthorized vacation or poor work where vacation authorized and in view of shifting reasons)

Public Service Company of New Mexico JD-(SF)-187-80
(discharge of former U officer, not unlawful, where discharge not motivated by his U activities and was not for protected activity since his actions, statements and letters which precipitated discharge were not concerted nor for object of enforcing contract)

U. S. Oil & Refining Company JD-(SF)-116-80
(discharging Ee in retaliation for U's pressing a claim for a change in his seniority status under bargaining agreement, unlawful)

Malibu Grand Prix Corp. JD-(SF)-90-80
(discharges for U-instigated concerted refusal to work overtime, unlawful)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-202-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(discharge, assertedly because of poor work performance, of Ee who had given testimony in Bd proceeding and who supported U disfavored by E, unlawful, where Ee's job mistakes were not known to E at time of discharge, Ee had never been told that her work was unsatisfactory, and E harbored desire to retaliate against Ee for testimony in Bd proceeding)

Sunnyvale Porsche Audi, Inc. JD-(SF)-9-80
(discharge of car salesman who was U adherent allegedly for failing to obtain signature of E's manager on car lease agreement, unlawful, in view of E's U animus, adherent had prior to his U activities delivered leased cars w/o signature by manager w/o being disciplined and no other salesman had ever been warned or disciplined for delivering car w/o prior signature of manager)

Public Services Planning and Analysis Corporation, d/b/a Airport Connection JD-(SF)-310-79
(discharge unlawful where E was more concerned with Ee's involvement and leadership potential in U organizing effort than with trivial incidents asserted by E as cause for discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 675 F.2d 426 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(discharge of two U adherents unlawful since for U activity rather than on basis of seniority, notwithstanding one adherent was lowest in seniority, where E failed to calculate seniority of other adherent and supervisor had stated that they had been discharged for U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 963 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(discharge of Ee who had signed U authorization card and been specifically warned by supervisor to give up U affiliation, unlawful where probative evidence specifically rebutted Ee's defenses to discharge and reasons therefor)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 963 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(discharge unlawful where motive was admitted to have been Ees trying to start a U)

N.L.R.B. v. Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 671 F.2d 657 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(Bd's finding that U adherent was unlawfully discharged supported by substantial evidence where two prior oral warnings were given several weeks after causative incidents and contrary to E's past practice, and last warning for insubordination which resulted in Ee's discharge was held pretextual in view of complaining supervisor's lack of recall of essential details of incident)

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(finding that allegedly insubordinate Ee would not have been discharged but for his U activities, affirmed where E had never disciplined Ee for other alleged past offenses or placed reprimand in his file notwithstanding its policy of providing documentation in support of its position in case of charges of discrimination)

N.L.R.B. v. Jack August Enterprises, Inc. 583 F.2d 575 (C.A. 1)
(discharge of Ee organizer for U assertedly because business was slow, violative, where shortly after the discharge E fired another Ee, not involved in U activity, to cover up termination of U organizer, and subsequently hired additional four Ees w/o recalling any of the discharged Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Porta Systems Corporation 625 F.2d 399 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(discharge of U adherents under newly promulgated 10% absenteeism rule, unlawful notwithstanding discharge of nonadherents also, in view of abruptness and timing of discharges during U campaign, disparate application of rule to U adherents, and lack of prior warnings)

N.L.R.B. v. Eastern Steel Company 671 F.2d 104 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(discharge of Ees because E knew or suspected that they had signed U authorization cards and discharges had purpose of destroying U's majority in unit, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Campo Slacks, Inc., and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 659 F.2d 1069(T) (C.A. 3, May 1981)
(no error in Bd's determination that Ee was discharged because of anti-U animus rather than, as contended, on basis of her lack of seniority)

The Babcock & Wilcox Company v. N.L.R.B. 680 F.2d 808 (C.A. 4, July 1982)
(ct found there was substantial evidence to support Bd's finding that gauge throwing incident was not, as alleged, reason for discharge of Ee whose pro-

5073-2200—Cont.

U sentiments were well known among his superiors, and that his discharge was discriminatory)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(discharge of key U organizer unlawful, in view of E's anti-U animus and its knowledge of dischargee's involvement in organizing the U)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(ct rejected E's contention that U adherent voluntarily quit since record supported Bd finding of unlawful discharge where E drew up papers stating that U adherent voluntarily quit over his protests to contrary less than a week after Ee had been involved in altercation with anti-U Ee)

Paramount Mining Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 346 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1980)
(no violation where U supporter was discharged for making vulgar threats and shaking or patting the head of fellow Ee in effort to persuade him to sign U card)

American Thread Company v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 316 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1980)
(discharge of known U advocate assertedly because he urinated outside the plant, but on the premises, in violation of E's indecent conduct rule, violative, in view of E's lack of concern when similar use was made of plant area in the past and E's failure to discharge or otherwise discipline two other Ees who were guilty of indecent conduct involving incident herein)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(discharge of Ee for conduct at E-Ee meeting violative as Ees were discussing employment terms with E)

N.L.R.B. v. Florida Tile Company, Division of Sikes Corporation 691 F.2d 34 (C.A. 6, Nov. 1982)
(ct held Bd's finding that E unlawfully discharged U adherent was supported by substantial evidence on record considered as whole)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 689 F.2d 605 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(ct held substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that drivers were unlawfully disciplined for engaging in protected and concerted activity when they refused to drive tractor-trailer they believed to be unsafe pursuant to U instructions invoking provision of collective bargaining agreement; E's reliance on Jim Causley Pontiac, 675 F.2d 125 (6th Cir. 1982), unwarranted where ct held, inter alia, that E knew that drivers made their complaints pursuant to U activity; ct also reaffirmed its rejection of Interboro doctrine)

United Services For The Handicapped v. N.L.R.B. 678 F.2d 661 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(discharge of Ee assertedly for job related reasons, unlawful, where Bd found that Ee was dismissed because of his U activities, and Bd's finding was supported by timing of discharge, together with discharge of other Ees for U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. United Parcel Service, Inc. 677 F.2d 421 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(issuing final warning and then discharging Ee, assertedly because of repeated violations of E's rules with respect to overextension of permissible breaks by Ee, violative where substantial evidence supported finding of Bd that excessive surveillance of Ee and decision to discharge him were in retaliation for his U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. Tri-State Carpenters & Joiners District Council 661 F.2d 585 (C.A. 6, Oct 1981)
(Bd's order which found that E violated Act by discharging Ee was supported by substantial evidence as she was engaged in U and other concerted, protected activities)

Miami Springs Properties, Inc., and James H. Kinley and Associates, Joint Employers v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 276 (C.A. 6, Aug 1981)
(discharge of Ees for protected, concerted activity and refusal to reinstate them, unlawful)

The Timken Company v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 900(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 8, 1981)
(violation where Ee was discharged for his U activities and not because of his absence from work as alleged)

Grief Brothers Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 551 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee for absenting himself from work to attend U meeting not violative, where he did so in face of denial of his request for leave and warning that his absence from work would result in disciplinary measures)

Accurplastics, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 4 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee violative, where despite her conflicts with fellow workers and fact that she was subject to discharge for long period prior to actual discharge, circumstances support conclusion that timing of her discharge was more a result of her U activity than her work performance)

Great Lakes Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 131 (C.A. 6, July 1980)
(ct upheld Bd finding that Ee's possession of pamphlet critical of E's ambulance policy with intent to distribute among other Ees was protected activity and subsequent discharge for such Ee activity violative as supported by substantial evidence on record)

N.L.R.B. v. Publishers Printing Company, Inc. 625 F.2d 746 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge for soliciting U cards, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Publishers Printing Company, Inc. 625 F.2d 746 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge allegedly for dual employment unlawful where dual employment had been knowingly tolerated until dischargee became involved in U activities)

Northern Telecom, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 421 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discipline of four Ees and discharge of U activist in connection with all five Ees leaving work at approximately same time on Saturday morning, unlawful; it was company practice to let night shift Ees, like those involved here, leave work w/o specific permission of a supervisor when they had been called in for Saturday overtime work starting at 6:00 a.m. after working till midnight the preceding night)

N.L.R.B. v. Memphis Furniture Manufacturing Company 616 F.2d 964 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharging shipping clerk because of his U association and because he had filed ULP charge against E for E's interrogating him about his conversation with U representatives, violative since, contrary to E's contention, substantial evidence supports Bd's finding that shipping clerk was nonsupervisory Ee)

Haven Coppetts, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 605 F.2d 712 (C.A. 6) (1980)
(violation in view of evidence that termination of Ee was prompted by anti-U reasons, rather than valid considerations as E contended)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(Bd's finding that discharge was not unlawful held proper where Bd concluded that evidence was insufficient to hold that E unlawfully retaliated against dischargee because of his son's protected activity; there was sufficient support in record for Bd's conclusion; and ct found logic in Bd's reasoning that discharge in large measure turned on legality of son's discharge which Bd found not unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Mutual Maintenance Service Co., Inc. 632 F.2d 33 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(although ct affirmed Bd's finding that U adherent was discharged because of his U activities, ct denied portion of Bd order concerning reinstatement of Ee where Ee defrauded federal government and former E of unemployment compensation benefits, notwithstanding that current E was aware and even encouraged this Ee to work for E under alias while collecting unemployment compensation)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1170 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(discharge of chief steward, a militant member of U negotiating committee, assertedly because of his instigation of and participation in illegal work stoppage and his picket line misconduct, violative, where about six weeks prior to steward's discharge E forgave any wrongdoing in steward's behavior and there was no evidence that steward committed strike misconduct)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(discharge of zealous supporter of picketing activities, four days after settlement of the strike, assertedly because of her leading illegal work stoppage and participating in picket line misconduct, violative in view of evidence that Ee did not engage in significant strike misconduct and that E condoned Ee's pre-strike activities about six weeks prior to her discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Clayton Construction Corporation 632 F.2d 6 (C.A. 8, June 1980)
(discharge of U steward for protesting E's assignment of work to certain Ees in violation of its agreement with U, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Hinky Dinky Super Markets 626 F.2d 231 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(discharge of Ee because of his participation in U activities, violative)

Nebraska Bulk Transport, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 311 (C.A. 8, 1979)

N.L.R.B. v. East Wind Enterprises 664 F.2d 754 (C.A. 9, Dec. 1980)
(discharge for U activities, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(E's refusal to retain Ees because they were U members and E wanted to avoid incurring duty to bargain with their U, unlawful; E let entire engineering staff go although he needed at least one experienced engineer to correct malfunction in air-conditioning system)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 350 (C.A. 9, Apr 28, 1981)
(discharge of signers of U authorization cards shortly after signing, unlawful)

5073-2200—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. The Saloon, Inc. 647 F.2d 171(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 1981)
(discharging U adherent violative, where record demonstrated unlawful motivation in view of seven weeks delay between incident which was alleged as basis for firing and firing itself, giving of substantial raise to Ee after time of incident alleged to be basis of firing, and proximity of firing of Ee to his verbal support of U at Ee-E meeting and his subsequent U organizing activities)

Pay'N Save Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 697 (C.A. 9, Mar 5, 1981)
(suspending and discharging U adherents for wearing U buttons, violative, where E's policy of prohibiting Ees from wearing political campaign buttons was unlawfully broadened to include all controversial buttons in direct response to U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Boise Drainage, Inc. 639 F.2d 789(T) (C.A. 9, 1981)
(facts provided substantial support for Bd's finding that Ees were not engaged in economic strike and its conclusion that they were not subject to replacement, but instead had been discharged for their U activities)

Stephens Institute, a corporation d/b/a Academy of Art College v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 720 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(violation where moving cause for discharge of instructor was his remarks to student group regarding ongoing labor dispute rather than for disparagement of E, as alleged)

Stephens Institute, a corporation d/b/a Academy of Art College v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 720 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(violation where moving cause for discharge of instructor was continuation of their U activities following faculty strike rather than under-enrolled classes, as alleged)

N.L.R.B. v. Pacific Coast Utilities Service, Inc. 638 F.2d 73 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1980)
(shop steward's advising Ees not to sign warning slips presented by another company's foreman until he could discuss the matter with his supervisor held protected, and discharge therefor unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Flite Chief, Inc.; et al. 566 F.2d 1182 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(discharge for U sympathies, unlawful)

Coors Container Company v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 1283 (C.A.D.C.)
(discharge of Ee for engaging in protected activity of displaying sign urging boycott of E's product, unlawful; E's contention that activity was unprotected because it was motivated by fear of picketing strikers rathr than by commitment to making common cause with them rejected; even if fear played a part in decision to display sign, it was not the sole motivating factor since Ees were also motivated by desire to encourage strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. J. D. Industrial Insulation Company, Inc. 615 F.2d 1289 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(discharge of U members to prevent economic loss by turning project into nonU job and avoid paying U wage scale and benefits, unlawful)

5073-2400 For refusing, to join or support favored union

Hillside Bus Corp. 262 NLRB No. 152
(discharge of Ee who refused to sign authorization card for U favored by E, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's unlawful threat to discharge Ee if he did not sign card, as other Ees also threatened but were not subsequently discharged, in view of fact refusal to sign card only protected activity of Ee known to E, and absent evidence E had knowledge of Ee's support for another U; further, E has met burden of showing it would have discharged Ee absent protected activity in view of limited nature of only protected activity of which E was aware and prior warnings and complaints regarding Ee's performance)

Versatile Services, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 109
(threatening Ees with and then discharging them for refusal to join U violative notwithstanding U security in collective-bargaining agreement where 30 day period had not yet expired; they had not been informed of their obligations under provision or given a reasonable time to comply with provision)

Mayo Corp. and Samet and Wells, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 031
(discharging striking Ees because they engaged in protected economic strike and because they refused to join favored U, violative)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 120
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 120
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for numerous deficiencies where deficiencies were longstanding and discharge took place notwithstanding E's continuing need for Ees with gun permit)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 187

5073-2800 For refusal to do struck work

G & H Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 047
(discharge of non-unit clerical Ee who refused to perform struck plant work though she had performed such work prior to refusal and there was no-strike provision in contract violative, as clerical Ees are protected from crossing picket lines or refusing to perform struck work when they profess willingness to perform regular clerical chores)

5073-3000 For not renouncing union membership or not engaging in antiunion activities

Mueller Insulation Co. and The Mueller Company of Missouri, Inc., Successor Employer and/or Alter Ego 263 NLRB No. 096
(constructive discharge found where E told Ees that he could not afford U and that Ees could apply for job with new company which would be non-U; Ees asked for one day to consider and did not return to work until U agent negotiated their return)

R. P. Scherer (Southeast) Corporation 256 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of Ee for threatening supervisor violative, where supervisor informed E that Ee had threatened him but actually supervisor had threatened Ee and true reason for threat was Ee's U activity)

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of U Ee because Ee refused to accept change in his pay rate, which had been accepted by non-U Ees, and discussing U with non U Ees held violative, since E was motivated by Ee's discussions of U and Ee's refusal to abide by changed working conditions was causing unrest among non-U Ees; Ee was accused of destroying E)

J. D. Candler Roofing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 055
(terminating Ee because of his U membership, violative)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 059
(percipitous discharge of 2 Ees w/o any investigation of their side who were not included in unit being organized for not attending anti U rally, violative)

Marvin J. Schiff Trust R-501, Marvin J. Schiff, Trustee, d/b/a Nevada Palace Casino & Motor Inn JD-(SF)-277-81
(successor E who on taking over bankrupt property and who was under obligation to recognize U but refused to do so and discharged Ees who informed E they were U violated Act because E's purpose behind discharges was to be non U)

5073-3300 For striking or during strike

Richmond Tank Car Company 264 NLRB No. 025
(discharging U steward alone of 40 Ees who walked out to protest inadequate protection against runaway freight cars and toxic fumes because he induced walkout through his leadership position in the Union, unlawful notwithstanding no-strike clause, since walkout in good faith because of abnormally dangerous working conditions by express terms of Sec. 502 does not constitute a strike and discipline for violating no-strike clause violated 8(a)(3) where imposed on a leader because of his U status as steward)

Consolidation Coal Company 263 NLRB No. 188
(discharging U officers because they participated in unauthorized work stoppage with other rank-and-file Ees based on their status as U officers, violative)

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(discharge and refusal to reinstate picket who defended herself against attack by Ee who, after driving through picket line to parking lot, returned to picket line to seek satisfaction because of names she had been called by pickets and struck out at first picket she reached, resulting in hair pulling and brief scuffle, unlawful, since incident trivial, isolated, and no injury resulted; E may not rely on picket's past record when E considered it only when U came on scene)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E's mailgram to striking Ees held unlawful attempt to break ULP strike by conditioning strikers continued employment upon their abandonment of strike, and mailgram unlawfully discharged strikers, in view of clear language of mailgram, E's subsequent conduct when it admitted that it deemed strikers to have quit their jobs upon their failure to report for work in response to mailgram, E's subsequent letter to strikers offering them reinstatement if they unconditionally abandoned strike immediately, and E's telling Ees upon their return to work that they were new hires and writing new hires on their time cards)

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 260 NLRB No. 037
(E's discharge of ULP strikers, unconditionally offering to return to work, allegedly for violating company rule for failure to notify E that they were not reporting for work on first day of strike, unlawful, where E had received prior written notice of U's intent to strike made in compliance with Act's requirements, U identified itself on picket line as striking against E, and E's reasons for discharging strikers was mere pretext to mask its intention of discharging them for engaging in protected concerted activity)

5073-3300—Cont.

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of striking Ees, violative where strike was in protest against substantial ULPs by E)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(discharge of ULP strikers as of time they went out on strike, unlawful, where E did not offer any of striking Ees reinstatement; in fact, E told Ees that they would be discharged and not reinstated if they struck and later told newsman strikers were discharged and, in combination with these actions, E changed locks on plant's doors, requested return of Ees' keys, and withdrew recognition from Us representing Ees)

Sanders Bus Line, Inc. JD-(SF)-120-82
(discharge of drivers, who were ULP strikers, unlawful, E's contention discharge was for driving vehicles to E's yard and leaving keys inside vehicles prior to going on strike held pretextual)

Triple A Machine Shop, Inc. JD-(SF)-220-80
(discharge of 3 striking Ees not violative where they engaged in life threatening picket line violence; fact that other nonstrikers engaged in some violence and were not discharged is not inconsistent where their behavior did not reach same level of violence)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(E's discharging U steward with clean work record for participation in refusal to perform assigned task rather than merely suspending him as it did other Ees involved who also had clean work records, unlawful since E may not single out for harsher punishment U officials who merely participate in illegal strike where bargaining agreement did not impose explicit duty on U officers and stewards to end any illegal work stoppage, and further, Ee was not serving as steward at time of work stoppage)

The Dow Chemical Company v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E's termination of strikers who walked out in protest over E's unilateral change in work schedule, in breach of contract's no-strike clause, not unlawful, where Boys Markets injunctive relief was not available to E because arbitration provision was not coextensive with no-strike clause, E resorted to operating plant with new Ees and rule protecting illegally striking Ees' employment status would effectively prevent E's resort to new hires, and SCt in its Mastro Plastic decision expressly acknowledged that U members violating no-strike clause lose their Ee status)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)
(E's singling out U steward for discharge for participation in work stoppage in violation of no strike clause and in contravention of his obligation as U officer to take steps to terminate work stoppage, not unlawful, since E entitled to take into consideration U official's greater responsibility, and hence greater fault, where basis for discharge was duty imposed by his office and not office as such; fact contract provision regarding obligation of U officers did not provide for discharge did not render discharge unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. 675 F.2d 1004 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1982)
(Ees who merely attended demonstrations during strike at which violent and destructive acts occurred type which had been found violative of Section 8(b)(1)(A) by Bd and against repetition of which ct had issued inj did not participate in misconduct warranting their discharge; E's contention discharge justified by Ees participation in crowd activity designed to block access to E's plant in violation of inj, rejected, since scope of Act's protection not defined by scope of inj)

5073-3325 Non-ULP strike

Sedloff Publications, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 139
(no unlawful termination or failure to recall economic striker where she was sent letter stating she was replaced which she received several days later, and since her departure, her part time, 1 day a week job has been performed by several other Ees)

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 039
(E who told striking Ees that it was firing them, handed out final paychecks in middle of pay period and ordered them off premises because they were no longer Ees, violated Act; notwithstanding Ees later met with E, terminated strike and returned to work)

5073-3325-0000 Strikers may not be discharged prior to replacement

Sedloff Publications, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 139
(no unlawful coercion or discharge of strikers where they were notified by letters that they had been permanently replaced, notwithstanding contention replacements had not been hired when letters mailed, since replacements had received commitments of hire or had been hired when letters received by strikers)

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 069
(discharging picketers by replacing them after they offered to return to work violative)

Jimmy Kilgore Trucking Company 254 NLRB No. 112
(discharge of economic strikers prior to time when their jobs are filled, unlawful; moreover, subsequent engagement in continued concerted strike or picketing activity is neither inconsistent nor incompatible with finding of earlier unlawful discharge of Ees for refusing to work)

Scioto Coca-Cola Bottling Company 251 NLRB No. 108

N.L.R.B. v. Mars Sales & Equipment Co. 626 F.2d 567 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(economic striker whose job has not been permanently promised to replacement at time striking Ee is discharged is entitled to reinstatement; determination of whether job has been permanently promised is question of fact for ct review to see if it is supported by substantial evidence)

5073-3350 Pursuant to no-strike agreement

Servair, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 014
(an ordinary no-strike clause does not constitute legitimate, substantial business reason that justifies discharge of Ees who strike in response to serious ULPs; therefore discharge of 19 strikers who were protesting discriminatory discharge of Ee violative)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 061
(discharge of strikers not violative where collective bargaining agreement contained no-strike clause and strike was not ULP strike because suspensions strikers were protesting were not ULPs)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 031
(discharge of Ees who supported non ULP strike in contravention of no-strike clause in collective-bargaining agreement not violative, notwithstanding they did not participate in strike)

C. H. Heist Corporation 250 NLRB No. 108
(discharge of only U steward out of 25 Ees who engaged in work stoppage in violation of no-strike clause, unlawful, since discharge based on his being U official and not for his role in strike where steward was reluctant participant, not leader, in strike, counseled against strike and urged Ees to return to work though he did transmit messages to strikers from U)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(no reinstatement of strikers though engaged in protected activity where bargaining agreement contained 2 no-strike clauses: (1) for arbitrable issues, and (2) for nonarbitrable issues as Ees unmistakeably waived their right to strike under agreement notwithstanding nonarbitrable issue which percipitated strike was not enumerated during negotiations as being covered by latter clause)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(where safety issue is one that must be submitted to binding arbitration, obligation not to strike over matter is considered to be coterminus and any stoppage violates implied no-strike clause unless safety hazzard suddenly arose and presented immediate threat; i.e., Washington Aluminum situation)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(2 requisites required for finding no-strike obligation; (1) contract imposes upon both parties duties of submitting to final and binding arbitration; and (2) matter is one which it has been agreed to will be covered by compulsory terminal arbitration)

Ervin Szewczuga and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(discharge of U stewards rather than less severe discipline imposed on rank and file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout, violative, where stewards were not leaders of strike nor was there reasonable basis for E to believe they were leaders, and bargaining agreement imposed no special duty on stewards in connection with forbidden work stoppage; further, not clear that arbitrator's decision upholding discharges based on contract interpretation of required higher duty of stewards)

5073-3367 Economic strike

The General Tire & Rubber Company 262 NLRB No. 166
(discharging probationary Ees who honored strike and thereafter refusing to reinstate them, violative; E terminated only those probationary Ees who honored strike which was inherently destructive of Ee rights under Act)

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090

Vulcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 262 NLRB No. 087

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 181
(discharge of economic strikers improper, since they did not in fact engage in strike misconduct for which they were terminated)

5073-3367—Cont.

Highland Plastics, Inc. 286 NLRB No. 028

Highland Plastics, Inc. 286 NLRB No. 028
(striking Ees found violatively discharged notwithstanding Ees were not present when other Ees were informed of discharge where it can be inferred that their fellow strikers informed them of their discharges)

Scioto Coca-Cola Bottling Company 251 NLRB No. 105
(discharge of economic strikers prior to replacement, unlawful)

Raimund Corsun Co., Inc. d/b/a Rayser Co. 249 NLRB No. 078
(discharge of economic strikers for not abandoning strike, unlawful)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 061
(discharge of Ees who participated in 1-day work stoppage in support of U's bargaining position violated Act as this is strike and not intermittent work stoppage which would be unprotected)

Sahara Tahoe Corporation d/b/a Sahara Tahoe Hotel JD-(SF)-269-82
(discharge of and refusal to reinstate striker, unlawful since his possession of concealed billy club on picket line was not misconduct so violent or serious as to justify refusal to reinstate him where there was no evidence of agressive conduct against nonstrikers, public or peace officer; as sole early morning picket he probably carried it as defensive weapon, as he testified, and there was no evidence that he knew he should not have it; he did not resist confiscation of club or arrest and would not have been arrested but for his refusal to tell the sheriff his age)

Quaker Rubber Company, Division of Minnesota Rubber Company JD-407-80
(discharge of economic strikers, unlawful; no evidence of alleged strike misconduct)

K-P Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Impressions Northwest JD-(SF)-187-80
(E's issuing letter to strikers informing them that if they did not return to work on particular day, they would be permanently replaced, and, if hired later, would be as new Ee held violative, since action interfered with Ees' rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Gulf States United Telephone Company 694 F.2d 92 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1982)
(ct held Bd's finding that Ee was unlawfully discharged for participating in protected strike activity, and not as contended for shoddy work, was supported by substantial evidence where Ee actively participated in strike activity, was only probationary Ee in this office discharged during strike, had been discharged twice w/o prior warnings about quality of work, had received no additional training upon rehire although ostensibly earlier discharge was for inadequate work performance, was discharged about five weeks after rehiring based on customer complaint, and customer could not identify Ee when asked by ALJ)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)
(termination ofprobationary Ees who had not completed six months continuous service required to become regular Ees prior to their participation in protected economic strike and reinstating them as new hires, unlawful, in view of discouraging effect on concerted activities; further, E's contentions that action justified by business consideration of requirement that six months probationary period be continuous and compelled by bargaining agreement, rejected, since probationary policy unwritten and flexible, waiver of probationary Ees' right to strike was not explicit and in view of meager bargaining history)

5073-3378 ULP strike

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(strike misconduct of strikers held insufficient to bar their reinstatement notwithstanding contention E should not be required to reinstate strikers since they had been convicted of misdemeanors and engaged in at least one of the following: implied or stated threats of physical contact with nonstriker, actual physical contact with nonstriker, caused or attempted to cause property damage, or has directly interfered with police officers attempting to maintain public order)

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(discharge of strike replacement because she later joined strike, violative)

White Coffee Corporation 261 NLRB No. 149
(E's refusal to allow Ee to return to work found discharge and unlawful, notwithstanding E's letter to Ee stating that he had not reported for work and was being replaced, where Ee's supervisor told him twice that he could not return to work because he had picketed (in ULP strike))

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 078
(discharge of ULP strikers for striking, unlawful)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(termination of ULP strikers who took temporary, part-time, short-term, nonsatisfactory, or not substantially equivalent employment with other Es, violative)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(terminating ULP strikers for taking employment elsewhere, violative)

Mark Twain Marine Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 166
(discharging Ees by informing strikers that they had been removed from payroll and replaced, violative, when in fact they had not been replaced)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 048
(discharge of Ees striking in protest of illegal termination of 2 fellow Ees because of their U activities, violative)

Berger Transfer and Storage, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 062
(E who sent telegram to ULP strikers informing them of their discharges violated Act, notwithstanding 5 days later he sent another telegram rescinding discharges)

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(violation where, pursuant to request of U to enforce U-security clause, E discharged for nonpayment of dues and initiation fees to U Ees who were not in bargaining unit represented by U and thus not covered by E's contract with U; E's purpose was to encourage membership in this U and discourage membership in another U which had demanded recognition as representative of these Ees)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. (Local 806, Allied Industrial Workers of America, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 089
(discharge of Ees for participation in lawful strike violative)

Bide-A-Wee Home Association 248 NLRB No. 110
(discharge of Ees engaged in protected strike which E termed U-called illegal strike, unlawful)

Anderson Sand & Gravel Company JD-658-80
(discharge of strikers, unlawful, since work stoppage protected ULP strike; E's contention unprotected since in contravention of no-strike agreement, rejected, where asserted no-strike agreement was in contract which expired by its own terms)

Arland R. Wells, Jr., d/b/a Sirimel Plumbing Company JD-636-79
(discharge of Ees for concerted refusal to work until E responded to Ees' demand for recognition of their chosen bargaining representative, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(layoff of Ees because of U organizational drive, notwithstanding where work available, unlawful)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)
(firing of strikers unlawful since they had walked out in protest and joined in picketing over discharge of U adherent and working conditions notwithstanding at time of walkout some Ees gave other reasons and did not present specific demands at time)

5073-3387 Sympathy strike

Famous Supply Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 091
(discharging economic striking Ees when they refused to cross picket line in sympathy with strikers of E's other two facilities, violative, and E must offer reinstatement, not Ee request reinstatement)

St. Regis Paper Company 253 NLRB No. 162
(suspension or discharge of sympathy strikers for refusing to cross picket line at own E's premises in violation of no-strike clause not unlawful, where overall bargaining history pointed decisively to conscious waiver of right to engage in sympathy strikes during contract period)

AMCAR Division, ACF Industries, Incorporated 247 NLRB No. 138
(discharge of 4 Ees and disciplinary suspensions of 20 others, for excessive unexcused absences, unlawful, where in each instance unexcused absences charged included days when Ees refused to, cross picket line of U representing other Ees at plant)

Pudd, Inc. d/b/a Truckee Meadows Construction Co. JD-(SF)-308-81
(discharge of Ee who refused to cross picket line at another E's where he was to make delivery violative)

Joseph Charles Tafarella A.K.A. Steve Rossi, and Total Productions Concepts, Inc. JD-(SF)-212-81
(discharge of U musicians for refusing to cross picket line of another U at hotel at which they were working)

5073-4300 For not signing union dues checkoff authorization

Herman Brothers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 064
(denial of dispatch to Ee who had not joined U as required by U-security clause and not signed dues-checkoff autorization card violative as Ees are entitled to notice of deficiencies and must be given opportunity to correct them before they are subject to discharge; furthermore, U security clause did not provide any penalties for not joining U)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his opposition to U as bargaining representative, objection to deduction of U dues w/o his consent, and filing charges with Bd rather than for his tardiness particularly in view of his prior excellent record and recommendation)

5073-4300—Cont.

Vim-Craft By H.B.S., Inc. JD-887-79
(discharge of Ee employed at effective date of contract pursuant to security clause which did not provide grace period before persons already employed by E at effective date could be compelled to join U, unlawful)

5073-4700 For refusing to accept onerous working conditions

F.M.I. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 063
(discharge of U Ee because Ee refused to accept change in his pay rate, which had been accepted by non-U Ees, and discussing U with non U Ees held violative, since E was motivated by Ee's discussions of U and Ee's refusal to abide by changed working conditions was causing unrest among non-U Ees; Ee was accused of destroying E)

W.J. Lewis Corp.—W. Lewis—J. Lewis, a Partnership 257 NLRB No. 076
(discharge of unreferred Ees whom E had hired directly, rather than through exclusive hiring hall of U, at below contract rate when one of the Ees sought U's assistance in obtaining contract rate; unlawful)

Western Marine Electronics, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of Ee who had joined U and filed grievance contending he was covered by bargaining contract and was not receiving contract wage or benefits, unlawful, since motivated by hostility towards Ee and unionization in non-U sector of plant, in view of E's other ULP's including transfer of Ee, recent good evaluation of Ee, and suddenness of discharge while Ee's assignment incomplete and prior to end of pay period)

McMillan Cartage, Inc. JD-(ATL)-44-81
(after Ees refused to sign E's proposed contract, telling Ees that there was no work under U contract held unlawful discharge)

5073-5000 For refusing to accept transfer to a different job

Danville Steel 256 NLRB No. 078
(discharge of Ee who walked off job to join picket line immediately after execution of contract with no strike clause, violative, where Bd has allowed such conduct in similar case in order to have period of time for air to clear)

5073-5200 Per se violation in application of discriminatorily promulgated plant rule

Foley-Wismer & Becker, A Joint Venture 263 NLRB No. 107
(warning and discharge for violating unlawful rule against discussing U, unlawful)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(violation, where supervisor refused to grant Ee's request that he be rotated during shift to different machines because he was taking medication that might make him drowsy and endanger himself and others and subsequently terminated Ee pursuant to unlawful unilaterally instituted rule that prohibited rotation during shift)

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)
(E's asserted defense of business justification to discharge pursuant to valid rule is to be weighed with some delicacy and deference, Bd may not substitute its business judgment for E's, rather there must be weighing of relative strengths of good and bad motivations, not to determine how Bd would have behaved under similar circumstances, but to determine what in fact motivated E)

5073-5300 For refusing to work assigned hours

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 089
(discharging Ee after she was unlawfully transferred to night shift and after experiencing problems with work wrote E that she requested transfer to old shift, another job, or termination, and E terminated her, violative)

Castle-Pierce Printing Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 172
(E's discharging Ees for refusing to work overtime, not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that U objected to absence rule, where E's institution of absence rule was found to be lawful)

St. Joseph's Hospital of The Franciscan Sisters of Milwaukee, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 136
(Ee's resignation resulting from E's refusal to reduce Ee's hours to accomodate his school schedule contending there were no part-time positions available and citing Ee's absenteeism record constituted unlawful constructive discharge where E's actual reason was Ee's recent support of U)

5073-5400 For refusal to accept unlawful conditions

Owen Lee Floor Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 070
(termination of Ees who refused to accept E's unlawfully unilaterally imposed conditions of employment, violative)

J. Teixeira Construction, Inc. JD-(SF)-268-80
(discharge of Ee who protested E's failure to pay him for stand by time as provided under contract, violative)

5073-6300 Familial relationship to union activist, office holder, steward, etc.

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 258 NLRB No. 103
(discharge of confidential Ee allegedly for leaking information, violative where real reason was her husband's U activities)

Akstabola Forge, A Division of ABS Industries, Inc. JD-388-80
(E's discharge of Ee and subsequent refusal to reinstate him because his father was U president, unlawful)

The Royal General Company JD-17-80
(discharge of Ee because he was brother of U adherent, unlawful)

5073-6600 Mass discharge

Cooperativa De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(E's discharge of all ULP strikers held violative, since all strikers were terminated prior to being replaced)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 097
(mass discharge of unit members of window and door installation crew which worked under supervision of Ee who had special incentive arrangement with E, unlawful, since E failed to overcome GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation where discharge was 4 days after majority signed authorization cards, notwithstanding crew's unacceptable work and failure to work on weekend, where E rehired crew members for jobs outside unit; nor did cancellation of agreement by crew's leader justify discharge absent agreement that crew went if leader left)

Comgeneral Corporation 251 NLRB No. 069
(mass discharge unlawful in view of timing immediately after upsurge of U activity, animus, and flimsy excuse, together with clear admissions of wrongdoing by supervisors who administered the ULPs)

Hayes Salomon Home For The Aged, et al., d/b/a Lawson Life Extension Organization JD-(NY)-78-81
(mass discharge of U supporters allegedly for lack of professionalism, poor work performance, and incompetence, just hours after E sent U telegram withdrawing recognition, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. ComGeneral Corporation 684 F.2d 367 (C.A. 6, July 1982)
(ct concluded that under either dominant motive test or shifting burden test, substantial evidence supported Bd's decision that reason for discharge of 10 Ees was to punish them for their U activities)

Doug Hartley, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 669 F.2d 579 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)
(discharge of crew not unlawful, where reasons were insubordination and incompetence and discharge would have occurred regardless of fact that majority of crew had signed U authorization cards)

5073-6800 To prevent employees from voting in election

World's Best Janitorial Services, Inc. JD-231-82
(supporters of disfavored U)

R.E. Peterson Products, Inc., and Will Products, Inc. JD-205-80
(discharge of U adherent, driver-warehouseman, assertedly because E could not insure its vehicles if Ee, with poor accident record, continued to drive for E held violative where Ee's termination was accelerated to prevent Ee from voting in impending R election)

5073-7100 Pursuant to unlawful no-solicitation rule

Hammary Manufacturing Corporation, A Division of U.S. Industries, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 183

John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 125
(reprimanding Ee who had solicited another Ee who was on work time, unlawful, since was addressed only to prime U adherent and was intended more to impede her U activities than to maintain production and order in restaurant; further, reprimand was to enforce unlawful rule)

5073-7200 To avoid dealing with union

Wintz Motor Freight, Inc./Wintz Transportation Company/U.S. Trustee William Westphal 265 NLRB No. 121
(violation where E, found successor herein, terminated and refused to accept employment applications from or to rehire all represented Ees of predecessor E while retaining unrepresented Ees)

Mueller Insulation Co. and The Mueller Company of Missouri, Inc., Successor Employer and/or Alter Ego 263 NLRB No. 096
(discharging and not reinstating U Ees because 2 of 5 U Ees said that they did not want to work with non-U Ees violative where real reason was that E wished to avoid U taint)

Master Food Services, Inc., Noah Robinson, and Al Williams d/b/a A & W Catering Co. 262 NLRB No. 188
(discharging all Ees violative where E told them they had signed themselves out of job by signing U cards)

5073-7200—Cont.

Liberty Homes, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 169

(E contracting out over-the-road delivery of its mobile homes and discharging drivers who performed delivery, not unlawful, notwithstanding subcontracting implemented after U had demanded recognition, where E had begun exploration of subcontracting and reached decision to subcontract prior to Ees seeking U representation and in view of E's financial losses and large capital outlay which would be required for desired replacement of inefficient gasoline powered tractors with diesel tractors)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097

(mass discharge of unit members of window and door installation crew which worked under supervision of Ee who had special incentive arrangement with E, unlawful, since E failed to overcome GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation where discharge was 4 days after majority signed authorization cards, notwithstanding crew's unacceptable work and failure to work on weekend, where E rehired crew members for jobs outside unit; nor did cancellation of agreement by crew's leader justify discharge absent agreement that crew went if leader left)

National Car Rental System, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 027

(systematic exclusion of E's garage Ees and mechanics at its closed truck rental facility for consideration for employment at E's relocated facility, violative where E had voiced desire w/i ranks of management to have nonU operation at relocated site)

Island Typographers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 003

(E's unilateral action of terminating hot-type method of production and laying of its hot type Ees while retaining non-U Ees using cold type method of printing to avoid paying U scale for cold type work, violative; no finding of anti-U animus necessary as conduct inherently destructive of Ees interest)

Tennessee Cartage Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 015

(terminating work of truckdrivers and warehousemen during period of U campaign and using Ees of Rent-A-Driver service for such work held violative where action taken to avoid U at E)

Atlas Inc. JD-690-79

(violation where, in order to avoid dealing with U, E laid off unit Ees, ceased operations, closed shop, refused to reinstate Ees, and subcontracted unit work and transferred all physical assets to another corporation, and the corporation, found herein to be successor to and alter ego of E, refused to reinstate E's Ees and subcontracted work formerly performed by some of E's Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(E's sale of its trucks, discharge of drivers and contracting out of hauling after drivers signed U cards, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. R & H Masonry Supply, Inc. 627 F.2d 1013 (C.A. 9, Sept. 1980)

(discharge of all but one Ee in unit and elevating remaining Ee to managerial position, in order to aovid dealing with U, unlawful)

5073-7300 To legitimatize unlawful discharge of other employee(s)

Plaza Bay Enterprises, Inc. JD-(SF)-273-82

5073-7700 Pursuant to illegal union-security agreement

Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 249 NLRB No. 046

(violation, where Ees who were reluntant to sign membership and checkoff authorization cards for U w/o knowing more about organization and w/o seeing collective bargaining agreement which purportedly existed between U and E were threatened with loss of job or other reprisals by agents of U and E if they did not sign cards where U did not represent majority)

Visa-Craft By H.B.S., Inc. JD-887-79

(discharge of Ee employed at effective date of contract pursuant to security clause which did not provide grace period before persons already employed by E at effective date could be compelled to join U, unlawful)

5073-8000 Pursuant to union demand because of employees opposition to union officer

Frank Mascali Construction G.C.P. Co.; Frank Mascali Construction Co., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 032

(U causing discharge of Ee who had previously worked 1 day for E as fill in not violative where U and E had hiring arrangement which only involved permanent Ees and 1 day's employment did not qualify Ee for continued employment with E)

5073-8200 Pursuant to union demand because employee-member did not comply with union rules

Glass Container Corporation JD-872-81

(discharge violative where Ee who was demoted from supervisor and returned to status of nonsupervisory Ee was discharged at U's request because she had not obtained U withdrawal card when she became supervisor as provided for in contract; therefore, discharged based on considerations of U status)

5073-8300 Pursuant to union demand because of employees lack of union membership

Versatile Services, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 189

(threatening Ees with and then discharging them for refusal to join U violative notwithstanding U security in collective-bargaining agreement where 30 day period had not yet expired; they had not been informed of their obligations under provision or given a reasonable time to comply with provision)

Port Jefferson Nursing Home and Health Related Facility 251 NLRB No. 092

(U's demand for and E's carrying out discharge of Ees who had resigned from U and were attempting to decertify U and replace it with another U, violative, since U's demand was erroneously based on U-security provision and inasmuch as there was no valid basis for discharge request, demand for and discharge of Ees was in retaliation for Ees' exercising their Sec. 7 right to displace incumbent with another U)

Standard Bridge Corporation JD-174-80

(U's and E's conduct violative, where U threatened to picket E's jobsite in attempt to cause and caused E to discharge Ees because they were not members of U notwithstanding that U had denied Ees membership and refused to provide them opportunity to tender dues and initiation fees pursuant to lawful U security agreement)

5073-8500 Pursuant to union demand because of employees intra-union troublemaking

H. H. Robertson Company 263 NLRB No. 173

(violation, where E condoned and participated in discrimination by U, with which it had exclusive hiring hall agreement, against Ees associated with U dissident by discharging Ees contrary to its usual seniority policy, since E knew its own termination procedure was not being followed and when E delegates hiring to U by utilizing Ee referral system to obtain Ees, it is responsible if U operates system in discriminatory manner even w/o such knowledge by E)

5073-8600 Pursuant to Union demand because of employee's dues delinquency

Big Rivers Electric Corporation 260 NLRB No. 059

(E's suspension of Ee for three days after receipt of notice from U that she be discharged for violation of U-security clause not violative where E could have terminated her but merely gave her an extended 3-day grace period in which she was to meet her obligation)

Valley Cabinet & Mfg., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 008

(where E discharged Ee pursuant to U's request because she was 6 months behind in payment of dues it did not violate Act because although U had failed to give Ee adequate notice of or opportunity to pay her arrearages E had no knowledge of this and Ee did not protest discharge to E)

Yellow Cab Company of Philadelphia (Debtor in Possession) JD-247-81

(discharging Ees pursuant to U's request, violative where E had reasonable grounds for believing that U did not give Ees adequate and correct notice of their dues obligations and reasonable opportunity to comply with those obligations; and two of the discharged Ees had met their dues obligations)

5073-8700 To discourage support for disfavored union

New-Stan Dyeing and Finishing Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 140

(discharge of Ees for signing and distributing cards of U which had charged E with 8(a)(2) violation, unlawful)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130

(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 051

(discharge of U adherent salesman for disloyalty because he tried to explain why he loaned demonstrator to customer, held violative where Ee was experienced salesman with unexceptionable performance record and E was attempting to harass Ee and cool ardor of all Ees for U representation)

5073-9200 As result of discriminatory enforcement of rule

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201

(discharge of active U supporter for his failure to call in when absent and insubordination (calling supervisor a brown nose –) held violative, since, although Ee's violation of absentee rule was valid reason to discharge Ee, credited testimony was clear that E had decided to discharge Ee before Ee's absences)

5073-9300 As result of plant relocation

5073-9300—Cont.

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(after merging with and moving operations to newly acquired facility, discharging and failing to transfer Ees held violative where only pro-U Ees were discharged, and in other merged facilities no full time Ees were discharged)

N.L.R.B. v. Borg Warner Corporation; et al. 660 F.2d 326 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(termination of Ees as result of transferring operations from unionized subsidiary to nonunionized subsidiary, violative, where E wished to hold wages paid to Ees at non-unionized subsidiary to levels below those then paid to unionized Ees; such refusal to transfer unionized Ees to other subsidiary w/o prior negotiations held inherently destructive of Ee rights)

N.L.R.B. v. Borg Warner Corporation; et al. 663 F.2d 666 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(termination of Ees as result of transferring operations from unionized subsidiary to nonunionized subsidiary, violative, where E wished to hold wages paid to Ees at non-unionized subsidiary to levels below those then paid to unionized Ees; such refusal to transfer unionized Ees to another subsidiary w/o prior negotiations held inherently destructive of Ee rights)

5073-9400 New job standard

N.L.R.B. v. Brewton Fashions, Inc., a Division of Judy Bond 682 F.2d 918 (C.A. 11, Aug. 1982)
(required Ees to push heavy carts w/o help)

5073-9500 As result of change in reprimand procedure

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 237 NLRB No. 045
(discharge unlawful where it would not have occurred but for warnings given for infraction of rule discriminatorily against U adherent and only during U campaigns)

5073-9600 As result of change in operations

Island Typographers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 003
(E's unilateral action of terminating hot-type method of production and laying of its hot type Ees while retaining non-U Ees using cold type method of printing to avoid paying U scale for cold type work, violative; no finding of anti-U animus necessary as conduct inherently destructive of Ees interest)

5073-9700 Resulting from reassignment of work due to jurisdictional dispute

Sullivan Transfer Co. 247 NLRB No. 117
(E's change in method of assigning work which resulted in constructive discharge of Ee violative where motivation was U's demand for compliance with wage provisions of contract and not presence of jurisdictional dispute)

5075 PREFERENTIAL REINSTATEMENT

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 206
(violation, by denying vacancies of substantially equivalent pre-strike jobs to qualified senior economic strikers by giving inter-plant preference to strikers who abandoned strike or who made individual offers to return to work and were reinstated, albeit to positions not substantially equivalent to pre-strike positions, over the former for whom U made offer to return to work)

George Banta Company, Inc. Banta Division 256 NLRB No. 055
(violation where E granted preferential reinstatement rights and preferential seniority rights to jobs and rates of pay to Ees who abandoned strike before strike ended)

George Banta Company, Inc., Banta Division v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 10 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(granting preferential reinstatement and seniority rights to Ees who abandoned strike before it ended and crossed over picket line, violative notwithstanding E's contentions that its preferential reinstatement systems (PRS) gave Ees no prospective benefits and that PRS was justified by E's needs; ALJ correctly found that Management could have achieved essentially same business objectives w/o drawing line of demarcation between crossovers and returning strikers and whether benefit is current or prospective, relevant question is whether E has illegally burdened statutory right to strike)

5077 REFUSAL TO PLACE DISCRIMINATEES ON PREFERENTIAL HIRING LIST

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(E violated Sec. 8(a)(1) when it created impression that economic strikers who were seeking to return to work were not being granted their Laidlaw preference in employment over new applicants and also by requiring returning strikers to fill out same employment register that all job applicants signed)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(where Ees were on inactive status due to E layoffs at time strike began, they must have engaged in overt conduct during strike which would give E reasonable notice of strike support before they need be placed on preferential hiring list)

5079 REFUSAL TO REINSTATE

5079-0100 Generally

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 139
(E's refusal to rehire strikers rather than six new Ees it did hire violative and it is immaterial in this situation whether they were economic or ULP strikers as no new Ees had been hired at time strikers made unconditional offer to return to work)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 259 NLRB No. 080
(where Ee had been discriminated against on 2 occasions valid offer of reinstatement must include reassurance that no further discrimination would occur)

Tri-State Warehouse & Distributing, Inc. and Public Warehousing Corp. JD-261-80

5079-1400 Following lay-off

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 063
(failure and refusal to recall senior Ee in layoff status, unlawful, where reason for failure to recall Ee was revealed in E's preelection speech when he stated that he understood that only Ees employed on election day could vote and stated his intent that votes of those in layoff status should not be counted and would be challenged)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(Ees who were on layoff status at time strike commenced found strikers where E routinely reemployed laid-off Ees, and when after strike began E offered them reemployment which they declined in support of U's strike)

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(layoff and refusal to reinstate U adherent assertedly for lack of work held violative where E had plentiful supply of raw materials and there was no evidence E's inventories were excessive; day after U adherent was terminated, he was replaced by new Ee who performed same work as U adherent)

Drury Construction Co. 260 NLRB No. 098
(layoff and failure to recall Ee who tried to get E to comply with collective bargaining agreement requiring it to assign certain work to Ee members of Teamsters violative)

NAB Construction Corporation 258 NLRB No. 090
(refusal to reinstate U supporter after layoff violative where E was aware of Ees' U allegiance and had previously threatened him with fact that he would not be rehired because he supported wrong U)

Wean United, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 134
(Bd adopted ALJ's finding that E failed to demonstrate that it would not have rehired Ee even absent his protected concerted activity; in so doing, Bd additionally relied on fact that, despite E's assertion that it rehired another Ee because he was a better Ee, it was clear that E found other Ee was better because he was not a troublemaker, i.e., one who too vigorously engaged in protected concerted activity)

Seaport Manor, Inc. and Martin Rosenberg, Baruch Mappe, and Emil Klein, a Partnership, d/b/a Seaport Manor Home For Adults 268 NLRB No. 139
(reinstatement of discriminatorily laid-off Ee to night shift when he had formerly worked on day shift, unlawful)

Noryen Company, Inc. JD-047-79
(selection of Ees for layoff out of seniority and refusal to reinstate them by E who manufactured knit shirts, not unlawful, where selection was for poor attendance record and due to anticipated move from area, and there had been no U activity on part of Ees during 10(b) period; nor was hiring of new Ees subsequent to lay off indicative of unlawful motive where E had, meanwhile, installed new type of machine requiring different skills to operate)

Chromalloy Mining and Minerals Alaska Division, Chromalloy American Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1120 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(violation where antiU E failed to rehire laid-off leading U supporter because of U activities rather than for not completing job assignment as alleged; E had decided previously that it could not afford to bring back Ees who were in on U and had thus hired two new Ees while failing to recall proU Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Senftner Volkswagen Corporation 681 F.2d 557 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(refusal to rehire U activist on layoff violative where president asked if he would rejoin U if he went back to work and told him that if he did U would be twice as strong; furthermore, E did not establish claims of poor work habits or that his inability to get along with people interfered with job proficiency)

5079-1450 Contrary to customary practice

5079-1450—Cont.

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(E's failure to reinstate U adherents who were temporarily laid off prior to first election for lack of work and failure to meet E's production standards, and then, prior to second election, conversion of such layoffs to permanent layoffs held violative where Ees were not advised of E's production standards and other Ees, who did not meet standards were retained in their jobs; customarily, Ees temporarily laid off for lack of work could expect to have been recalled when work picked up)

E. R. Carpenter Co. 260 NLRB No. 091
(E's failure to recall laid off U adherent during general recall not violative where E followed routine recall procedures and Ee was not home to receive phone call requesting return to work; moreover, fact that Ee was one of best workers not relevant where past work performance had no bearing upon order of recall)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lacorne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(known U protagonist)

Bedford Farmers Cooperative 259 NLRB No. 165
(E's failure to recall certain previously laid off Ees and unilaterally, w/o notice to or consulting with U, hiring new Ees not violative where record contained no evidence that failing to recall laid off Ees was change in E's past practice, much less unlawful unilateral change)

5079-2000 Non-ULP strikers

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(violation, where E labeled status of Ees who had either been discharged or voluntarily quit as on leave of absence in order to give false impression they were not new Ees when recalled by E and so did not need to recall unreinstated strikers)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(E's transfer of security guards hired after strike began to production jobs rather than recalling strikers for those positions, unlawful, absent substantial business justification, where E had not hired permanent replacements for production jobs)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 093
(instituting policy of recalling laid-off Ees ahead of unreinstated economic strikers w/o regard to circumstances involved, violative, where such policy amounted to unlawful grant of superseniority to nonstrikers and replacements; furthermore, such policy was inherently discriminatory absent any legitimate business justification since it gives preference to laid-off Ees over unreinstated strikers in filling job vacancies unrelated to layoffs where qualifications or abilities of Ees were deemed relatively equal by E)

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(E's refusal to reinstate economic strikers after they made unconditional offers to return to work, unlawful, where E falsely claimed that it had already permanently replaced all strikers and then belatedly hired new Ees who were promised permanent status; and E failed to meet burden of proof that his action was due to legitimate and substantial business justification)

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(failure to reinstate U supporter engaged in economic strike, unlawful, where striker was not permanently replaced and was never offered proper reinstatement to her former position after her unconditional offer to return to work; and it would have been futile for her to have applied again for reinstatement in view of her subsequent termination which E attempted to justify by fabricated testimony)

W. G. Best Homes Corporation 253 NLRB No. 123
(no obligation to reinstate Ees who participated in economic strike and were subsequently terminated when E subcontracted their work for economic reasons, since strike not converted into ULP strike by E's failure to bargain prior to subcontracting as U never requested bargaining on issue)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028
(refusal to reinstate 2 economic strikers immediately, unlawful, where unconditional offer to return to work was made on their behalf and E failed to meet its burden of justification for its failure to offer one Ee employment or for delay in reinstating other Ee)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028
(E's failure to offer position to former economic striker, unlawful, where E filled position with nonstriker after unconditional offer to return to work made on behalf of strikers)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060
(failure to recall strikers to work assertedly because of financial losses at E's facility, unlawful, where E unlawfully threatened to close plant, contention that decision to do so was made before U activity began was patent contrivance, E made statement to Ees that if they unionized E would padlock door and expressed antagonism toward U, and disparate nonclosure of another facility was based on lack of U activity threat)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(E's failure to consider striker for reinstatement after he withdrew his profit-sharing account, violative)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(E's failure to recall striker, violative where E hired new Ees after striker placed herself on any job list and there was no evidence that striker was unqualified for positions in which new Ees were hired)

N.L.R.B. v. W. C. McQuaide, Inc. 617 F.2d 349 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E's defense to its failure to offer reinstatement to economic strikers on ground that it was having trouble returning to full operations in wake of strike and caused delay in its ability to offer reinstatement, rejected, since merits of E's justification had previously been decided by Bd and ct against E)

N.L.R.B. v. W. C. McQuaide, Inc. 617 F.2d 349 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E's contention that it should be obligated to offer reinstatement only to those economic strikers who responded to its letter regarding reinstatement, rejected, where U's offer to return to work was bona fide and unconditional, E had no substantial business justification for failing to reinstate strikers, E's letter merely inquired into strikers' interest in future job openings and, consequently, strikers were under no obligation to respond to E's letter)

N.L.R.B. v. W. C. McQuaide, Inc. 617 F.2d 349 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(economic striker does not waive his right to be offered reinstatement due to his failure to respond to E's letter which did not offer reinstatement but merely inquired into strikers' interest in future job openings)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 926 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)
(promulgating rules providing that members of existing work force made up of permanent replacements will be recalled in order of seniority in event of layoff even before unreinstated economic strikers, not unlawful, where such system assures replacements permanent status to which they are entitled under Mackay and, contrary to Bd finding, system does not discriminate between strikers and non-strikers nor does it deny unreinstated strikers right to reinstatement should vacancies occur in work force)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(recall of permanent replacements from alleged leave of absence instead of reinstating economic strikers, violative because none of departures was originally placed on official leave of absence and retroactive grant of such leave cannot be permitted to avoid reinstating strikers)

5079-2001 Generally

Famous Supply Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 091
(discharging economic striking Ees when they refused to cross picket line in sympathy with strikers of E's other two facilities, violative, and E must offer reinstatement, not Ee request reinstatement)

N.L.R.B. v. Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. 675 F.2d 1004 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1982)
(Ees who merely attended demonstrations during strike at which violent and destructive acts occurred type which had been found violative of Section 8(b)(1)(A) by Bd and against repetition of which ct had issued inj did not participate in misconduct warranting their discharge; E's contention discharge justified by Ees participation in crowd activity designed to block access to E's plant in violation of inj, rejected, since scope of Act's protection not defined by scope of inj)

5079-2013 Where replaced

Sedloff Publications, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 139
(no unlawful termination or failure to recall economic striker where she was sent letter stating she was replaced which she received several days later, and since her departure, her part time, 1 day a week job has been performed by several other Ees)

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(Ee's right to reinstatement to his job preserved by Ee's statement that, he would be back in response to supervisor's asking would he (Ee) be back to work Monday therefore, Ee had right to work over replacement hired after Ee said he would be back to work though he reported late that day)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(E's failure to reinstate striker when opening occurred after striker's unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful, since E failed to establish business justification for failure to reinstate, or that striker had obtained equivalent employment elsewhere and where striker had decided to get out of business he had started during strike, and had never informed E he wished to continue venture; further, it is E's responsibility to ascertain availability of striker, nor is it defense to E's backpay liability that it sent letter to striker inquiring if still interested in job)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(E's failure to reinstate, w/o any business justification striker when replacement left after striker had unconditionally offered to return to work, unlawful, where E reinstated other strikers with less seniority and strikers who made later offers to return to work, nor did fact striker had taken another job justify E's failure to reinstate him since unlikely striker would have preferred other job inasmuch as he had less seniority at that job than had with E)

best copy available

5079-2813—Cont.

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(E's failure to reinstate striker when replacement left after striker made unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful, where E had reinstated another striker with les seniority who made offer to return to work simultaneously, and absent evidence striker had abandoned his job or acquired equivalent employment elsewhere; striker's failure to respond to E's letter inquiring about his present interest in job, which was not valid offer of reinstatement, did not relieve E of obligation to offer him reinstatement)

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068
(refusal to reinstate striker to former position at time when no replacements who were capable of performing his work had been hired violative)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(failure to recall strikers, not unlawful where replacements had been hired in November and December prior to receipt in January of strikers' unconditional offer to return to work; Bd inferred on basis of record that undated letter and letter dated in January, which contained said offers, were received by E in January, since GC had stated in opening statement that both letters were sent in January and GC's mtn that transcript be corrected to show receipt of undated letter in January was unopposed)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(initial failure to reinstate economic striker justified where position was open only occasionally, but later failure to reinstate him when vacancy in position existed and was filled by promoting strike replacement, unlawful)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(no violation by transferring guards to production jobs instead of reinstating economic strikers where guards had originally been hired as permanent replacements in production jobs before strikers offered to return to work, were temporarily transferred to jobs as guards, then returned to their original production jobs)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(E who refuses to reinstate economic strikers who make unconditional offers to return to work has burden of proving that strikers have been permanently replaced; burden not met where payroll records indicated E had work available for all striking Ees, no evidence of hiring of permanent replacements, or of decline in business or elimination of jobs)

Waveline, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 087
(refusal to reinstate probationary Ees who engaged in economic strike, violative, where Bd rejected E's contention that Ees who had not completed probationary term ipso facto do not have same rights to reinstatement after economic strikes as regular Ees; here in refusing to reinstate probationary Ees, E deviated from normal practice of allowing such Ees to complete their probationary terms before deciding whether to retain them)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145
(hiring new Ees as aides at time when all striker-aides not reinstated violative)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(E's failure to reinstate strikers where it temporarily transferred Ee from one department to another for short period of time to work on similar machine to satisfy production requirements, not unlawful; GC's contention that two vacancies created for which unreinstated strikers should have been recalled i.e. vacancy which gave rise to transfer and vacancy created by departure of Ee to department where production was requested, rejected, in view of E's past practice regarding transfers which were dictated by its production system)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(violation, where unreinstated strikers denied opportunity to bid for special rated jobs and E filled such jobs by first offering them to Ees on existing payroll rather than to qualified strikers awaiting reinstatement)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(no violation where E permanently transferred production workers w/i plant to another classification rather than recalling unreinstated economic strikers where no discriminatory motive present, E showed substantial and legitimate business reasons for doing so, and E did not agree to apply, nor was any strike settlement agreement executed calling for, application of recalls from layoffs provision of expired contract)

IPCO Hospital Supply Corporation, Cheshire Lake Division 255 NLRB No. 116
(refusing to offer immediate reinstatement to economic strikers after U offered their unconditional return to work, not violative as case was heard with understanding that some replacements were hired and E had no notice that number of available jobs was in issue; attorney's affidavit was admitted to establish that no jobs were then available)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRB No. [illegible]
(E's recall policy affording seniority preference for job vacancies to Ees who had been laid off over unreinstated (economic) strikers held violative, since policy constituted illegal grant of superseniority; policy was inherently discriminatory; E advanced no legitimate business justification in support of its policy; Bancroft Cap Company, 245 NLRB No. 86 (1979), distinguished to cover relatively short term layoffs)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 050
(E's refusal to reinstate strikers unlawful where U and strikers made unconditional offer to return to work on behalf of strikers prior to hiring of replacements, notwithstanding subsequent offers to return to work which were arguably conditioned on reinstatement of Ees whose lawful discharges precipitated strike; uncertainty resolved against E where it did not seek clarification of allegedly ambiguous offers)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 050
(striker replacement applicants who have accepted offers of employment but who have not yet reported for work are considered striker replacements since applicants obtain such status upon their acceptance of employment)

Murphy Bonded Warehouse, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 170
(E's refusal to reinstate participants in lawful economic strike, unlawful, where contract had been agreed upon where accepted E's final proposal and offered return to work of strikers, but E falsely claimed it had hired permanent replacements)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(upon their unconditional offer to return to work, economic strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement to their former positions, or, if those positions have been filled by permanent replacements, to full reinstatement upon departure of their replacements, unless E can show legitimate and substantial business reasons for not reinstating the Ees)

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. 005
(no conversion of economic strike to ULP strike where ULPs committed by E did not prolong strike)

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. 005
(temporary strike replacements' status converted to permanent status when E communicated such change to replacements who then acknowledged such change in writing; however, as to Ees hired thereafter as temporary and received no assurance that their employment was permanent regardless of intention of E, they retained their temporary status)

Roberts Oldsmobile, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 035
(failure to reinstate economic strikers upon their offer to return to work, not violative where striking Ees' offer to return to work was conditioned on reinstatement of certain Ee and discharge of strikers' replacements, and U's offer on behalf of strikers to return to work was premised upon E's agreeing to $200 weekly floating guarantee)

Scioto Coca-Cola Bottling Company 251 NLRB No, 105
(discharge of economic strikers prior to replacement, unlawful)

Owen Joint Corporation 248 NLRB No. 076
(violation where E refused to reinstate economic strikers, as their jobs for which they were qualified became available, following their unconditional offer to return to work)

Vinci Investment Co., d/b/a Pacific Honda JD-(SF)-56-81
(refusal to reinstate strikers who had been replaced not unlawful, where E's conduct was not so serious as to convert strike over wages and U security into ULP strike entitling strikers to immediate reinstatement)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(refusal to reinstate strikers who were held economic strikers, since strike not converted to ULP strike, where strikers had been permanently replaced and E stated it would reinstate strikers when openings occured)

N.L.R.B. v. W. C. McQuaide, Inc. 617 F.2d 349 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(existence of bona fide replacements for economic strikers did not justify E's failure to offer strikers positions available, since economic striker is entitled to reinstatement if and when a job for which he is qualified becomes available; fact that his old job is occupied is no excuse for refusing to make reinstatement offer)

N.L.R.B. v. W. C. McQuaide, Inc. 617 F.2d 349 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E was obligated to offer reinstatement to economic strikers where E failed to carry burden of showing that legitimate and substantial business reasons, including their replacement, justified its refusal to do so)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 304 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)
(ct found E's failure to reinstate replaced strikers not unlawful where it found E had not bargained in bad faith, and strikers were therefore non-UPL rather than ULP strikers)

5079-2813—Cont.

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(E's policy of offering special-rated jobs to unreinstated strikers only if none of permanent strike replacements were qualified for and wanted jobs, violative as these job openings were vacancies and required posting under expired contract; effect was to make it less likely that strikers would be reinstated to higher-paying positions and amounted to preference to those who did not strike; such preference was inherently distructive of Ee right eliminating necessity of proving discriminatory motivation of E)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(filling temporary job with strike replacements who had quit held not violative as temporary job was not vacancy to which striker should have been reinstated)

N.L.R.B. v. Vitronic Division of Penn Corporation 630 F.2d 561 (C.A. 8, 1979)
(E's refusal to retain replaced economic strikers on preferential hiring list and reinstate where former strikers had failed to comply with its requirement stated on initial request for reinstatement form sent to strikers that strikers renew their continued interest in reinstatement after six months, unlawful, since burden of notifying former strikers and verifying their continuing interest in reinstatement placed on E who may at most require former strikers, in response to appropriate notice, to indicate whether they continue to desire reinstatment)

Zapex Corporation and BDM Services Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 328 (C.A. 9, 1980)

5079-2819 To former or substantially equivalent position

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 206
(violation, by denying vacancies of substantially equivalent pre-strike jobs to qualified senior economic strikers by giving inter-plant preference to strikers who abandoned strike or who made individual offers to return to work and were reinstated, albeit to positions not substantially equivalent to pre-strike positions, over the former for whom U made offer to return to work)

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035
(qualified unreinstated striker is entitled to offer of reinstatement to newly created position resulting from expansion of unit; thus where E retained two permanent replacements and reinstated two strikers it essentially expanded size of unit and its failure to offer newly created positons (which were substantially equivalent to those strikers occupied before strike) to strikers awaiting reinstatement before placing in those positions new Ees hired after striker's unconditional offer to return to work violative)

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068
(reinstating striking Ee to position as laborer rather than his former position of laying tile, violative)

Green Country Casting Corporation 262 NLRB No. 010

Mobile Home Estates, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 182
(denying reinstatement to probationary Ees after end of economic strike, violative where E has shown no legitimate and substantial business justification and Ees were never told prior to strike that their work was unsatisfactory; such denial is so inherently destructive of Ee rights that evidence of specific anti-U motivation was not needed)

Waveline, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 087
(refusal to reinstate probationary Ees who engaged in economic strike, violative, where Bd rejected E's contention that Ees who had not completed probationary term ipso facto do not have same rights to reinstatement after economic strikes as regular Ees; here in refusing to reinstate probationary Ees, E deviated from normal practice of allowing such Ees to complete their probationary terms before deciding whether to retain them)

Deauville Hotel 256 NLRB No. 078
(reinstating striker to job other than job he had always held at lower rate of pay with little or no seniority, violative)

Reid J. Cavanaugh, Sole Proprietor 255 NLRB No. 020
(refusal to reinstate economic striker violative where, after striker had made unconditional offer to return to work, E hired non-striker to position involving work substantially equivalent to work striker had performed prior to strike)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(discriminatee, who was refused reinstatement, not obliged to inquire whether or not offer (to return to work) was to reinstate him to his former position)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(where subject of returning to work is put as question to Ee and not as offer, burden is not on discriminatee to inquire whether or not offer was to reinstate him to his former position inasmuch as offer does not constitute unconditional offer of reinstatement)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 083
(lesser jobs filled by temporary and seasonal workers held not substantially equivalent to strikers' former jobs so that failure to offer them to strikers not violative)

Jay-Em Corporation JD-847-81
(refusal to reinstate economic striker who had applied for and was qualified for position)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(striker recall system not unlawful, where there was no insistence by E on system, U raised no objections to it, those strikers who were reinstated to positions other than their pre-strike positions were subsequently offered their pre-strike positions when they became available, and great majority of strikers were reinstated w/o significant difficulty through recall procedure)

Graphic Components, Inc. JD-377-80
(refusal to reinstate economic striker, not unlawful, where striker would have been able to fill only temporary job that was not substantially equivalent to job striker previously held)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 304 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)
(failure to return non-ULP striker to same position after strike, not unlawful since changed business conditions eliminated need for Ee working fulltime in that position)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 304 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)
(failure to offer job to non-ULP striker better than poor job he had been given on reinstatement when better job opened up, not unlawful, since E knew that job similar to that which Ee had held before strike and to which he wished to return would soon be opening up, and exercised its business judgment accordingly and subsequently placed Ee in such job)

5079-2825 Except as new employees

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174
(where sole proprietorship dissolved its company during strike and formed new corporate entity, found its alter ego herein, which was subsequently leased by another E, all three Es held liable for unlawful acts of formed corporate entity and lessee E in requiring striking Ees to file new job applications as condition of employment, since newly-formed corporate entity and lessee E were found joint Es and each was found alter ego of original proprietorship)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(refusal of E, which had instituted fixed shifts to allow reinstated strikers to use their seniority to transfer to prefered shifts, as provided in terminated bargaining agreement, unlawful, notwithstanding contention no violation in view of lack of agreement regarding seniority and absent U animus, since change in policy regarding shift preference based on seniority had destructive impact on strike and U activity since it operated to discreiminate between strikers and nonstrikers and no overriding business justification for continuing fixed shifts)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(requiring former strikers to wait 90 days after reinstatement for resumption of health insurance coverage, unlawful, notwithstanding pursuant to provisions of pre-existing health plan regarding E coverage for Es who had ceased active work and E's contention that in view of adminictration of plan by third party it had no right to unilaterally change provisions, since no business justification and inherently destructive even absent U animus)

Freezer Queen Foods, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 045
(E assigning new hire dates upon recall to probationary Ees among strikers causing them to lose credit towards completion of probationary period for time employed prior to strike unlawful, notwithstanding no U animus or intent to discriminate, since action was inherently destructive of Ees' rights; E's contention that since contract required 60 consecutive days probation it was not possible to achieve its purpose by tolling probationary period during strike, rejected)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115

K-P Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Impression Northwest JD-(SF)-187-80
(E's issuing letter to strikers informing them that if they did not return to work on particular day, they would be permanently replaced, and, if hired later, would be as new Ee held violative, since action interfered with Ees' rights)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(treating returning strikers as new Ees for purposes of department and shift assignments, violative; contention that E can unilaterally cease abiding by provision in expired contract rejected and, while adverse effect on Ee rights may have been comparatively slight, E did not demonstrate business purpose for action)

5079-2825—Cont.

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)

(treating returning strikers as new Ees for insurance purposes wherein no coverage for first 60 days, not violative as insurance contract did not permit their coverage w/o new waiting period; therefore, E had legitimate and nondiscriminatory business reason)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)

(termination ofprobationary Ees who had not completed six months continuous service required to become regular Ees prior to their participation in protected economic strike and reinstating them as new hires, unlawful, in view of discouraging effect on concerted activities; further, E's contentions that action justified by business consideration of requirement that six months probationary period be continuous and compelled by bargaining agreement, rejected, since probationary policy unwritten and flexible, waiver of probationary Ees' right to strike was not explicit and in view of meager bargaining history)

5079-2828 Job absentees during strike

United Aircraft Corporation (Pratt and Witney Division) 247 NLRB No. 174

(E's reinstatement of nonstriking Ees who were absent from work during part or all of economic strike period, and failure to offer such jobs to strikers awaiting reinstatement, held, lawful, where E offered reinstatement only to absentee individuals who supplied satisfactory proof that their absence was due to factors which would have been acceptable to E prior to strike and, hence, there was no evidence that E extended unlawful preference to individuals in the group as compared to strikers)

5079-2831 Unconditional offer to return to work

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(offer to return to work which is conditioned on removing cause of strike, not unconditional offer)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(no valid offer to return to work on behalf of all strikers by former U steward since steward not designated as representative of strikers where Ees had withdrawn from U for which had been steward and former steward at time of alleged offer was not acting as steward for any U's nor had strikers requested that former steward speak for them)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(offer not unconditional where strikers' offer to return to work was clearly stated to be in order to facilitate negotiations)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(E's failure to reinstate striker when opening occurred after striker's unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful, since E failed to establish business justification for failure to reinstate, or that striker had obtained equivalent employment elsewhere and where striker had decided to get out of business he had started during strike, and had never informed E he wished to continue venture; further, it is E's responsibility to ascertain availability of striker, nor is it defense to E's backpay liability that it sent letter to striker inquiring if still interested in job)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(E's failure to reinstate, w/o any business justification striker when replacement left after striker had unconditionally offered to return to work, unlawful, where E reinstated other strikers with less seniority and strikers who made later offers to return to work, nor did fact striker had taken another job justify E's failure to reinstate him since unlikely striker would have preferred other job inasmuch as he had less seniority at that job than had with E)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(E's failure to reinstate striker when replacement left after striker made unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful, where E had reinstated another striker with les seniority who made offer to return to work simultaneously, and absent evidence striker had abandoned his job or acquired equivalent employment elsewhere; striker's failure to respond to E's letter inquiring about his present interest in job, which was not valid offer of reinstatement, did not relieve E of obligation to offer him reinstatement)

Continental Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 017

(unconditional offers to return to work from strike can be worded in many different ways, and no specific words are required to make an offer unconditional; an application for reinstatement will not be treated as conditional unless an Ee, or his agent, has given E reason to conclude that any offer of equivalent employment would be rejected)

Continental Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 017

(E's contention that letter, brought by striking Ee to plant, containing unconditional offer to return to work on behalf of all Ees, was meaningless because it had not come through mail from U, rejected; whether letter came through mail or was personally delivered by striking Ee, it was indisputably a communication from bargaining agent selected by Ees, and was, on its face, unconditional offer to return to work)

Continental Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 017

(although U's offer to return to work which was presented to E by striking Ee was, on its face, unconditional offer to return to work on behalf of all Ees, E held not to have unlawfully refused to reinstate Ee delivering letter, where Ee excepted himself from offer in letter and conditioned his own response upon assignment of job he held before strike as leadman of crew, a job that was filled, rather than any substantially equivalent employment)

Continental Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 017

(E's failure to recall striking Ee upon whose behalf unconditional offer to return to work was made, unlawful, where E told Ee that he wanted to see if Ees senior to her wished to return to work before he reinstated her, and it was thereafter that E made commitments for other strikers, having less seniority than Ee, to return to work; and E failed to meet burden of proof that it had no need for Ee in preference to junior Ees, and such burden was not relieved because, as E claimed, U did nothing to assist in devising fair method as to which Ees were to be given first preference for vacancies)

Continental Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 017

(while striking Ee's application for specific job that was filled, rather than for any substantially equivalent employment, was conditional, E unlawfully failed to reinstate Ee upon subsequent receipt of unconditional offer, which included Ee, where E transferred presently employed worker to fill vacant job, which Ee herein was qualified to fill, instead of offering such job to Ee)

Presto Casting Company 262 NLRB No. 047

(refusal to reinstate economic strikers, violative; while not specifically alleged in complaint, matter was litigated at hearing and E failed to show why strikers could not be immediately reinstated)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094

(failure to recall strikers, not unlawful where replacements had been hired in November and December prior to receipt in January of strikers' unconditional offer to return to work; Bd inferred on basis of record that undated letter and letter dated in January, which contained said offers, were received by E in January, since GC had stated in opening statement that both letters were sent in January and GC's mtn that transcript be corrected to show receipt of undated letter in January was unopposed)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094

(E held not to have unlawfully failed to reinstate replaced economic striker where striker's position had been filled with replacement and, when E offered striker another position he did not respond to E's offer for 2 months during which time E hired additional Ees; Bd found that striker's offer to return was negated by his failure to respond to E's job offer and was not reinstated until he did respond)

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174

(formal written applications for employment from economic strikers considered equivalent to unconditional offers to return to work)

Denzil S. Alkire, a Sole Proprietorship; et al. 259 NLRB No. 174

(U representative's asking E if it intended to employ two economic strikers who had not submitted applications for employment constituted a showing that these two Ees were interested in returning to work and satisfied requirement of unconditional offers to return to work)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(unconditional offer to return to work where U representative said to E there's men outside. They want to go back to work. Would you put them back to work and stated later he wanted to put strikers back to work and U had authorization cards from 65 out of 66 strikers)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(unconditional offer to return to work where strikers went to plant and stated they were coming back to work)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(unconditional offer to return to work where U representative asked E why don't you put workers back to work and offer not conditioned on increased wages or other improvements in working conditions nor on reinstatement of all strikers; notwithstanding Ees' revocation of membership in U which had made offer on their behalf where revocation not conveyed to U nor had U abandoned striking Ees prior to offer)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(where striking Ees have signed U authorization cards, and joined in strike under U supervision, general agency is created which empowers U through its representatives to offer to return to work on behalf of all striking Ees w/o obtaining specific authorization from Ees to do so)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083

(E's refusal to reinstate economic strikers unlawful where unconditional offers to return to work had been made both by strikers themselves and by U's which represented them, and absent evidence strikers had been replaced or jobs abolished)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 148

(failure to recall Ee to former position violative, not withstanding Ee had made statement that she was not really interested when this statement had been made at time when no job offered to her)

5079-2831—Cont.

Highland Plastics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 028

(mailing letter to striking Ees stating that their jobs were at this time available...that effective immediately, we will begin to hire permanent replacements... not valid offer of reinstatement since strikers not afforded reasonable time to consider E's offer)

Kevah Konner, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 068

(refusing to reinstate or recall economic striker who had applied unconditionally to return to work when opening in his classification occurred and hiring new Ees instead, unlawful)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 050

(E's refusal to reinstate strikers unlawful where U and strikers made unconditional offer to return to work on behalf of strikers prior to hiring of replacements, notwithstanding subsequent offers to return to work which were arguably conditioned on reinstatement of Ees whose lawful discharges precipitated strike; uncertainty resolved against E where it did not seek clarification of allegedly ambiguous offers)

Kuno Steel Products Corp. etc. 252 NLRB No. 127

(Es failed to rebut GC's prima facie case establishing that Es did not meet their obligation to reinstate economic and unfair labor practice strikers to conditions current at time of strike by showing substantial business justification and thereby violated Act)

Roberts Oldsmobile, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 035

(failure to reinstate economic strikers upon their offer to return to work, not violative where striking Ees' offer to return to work was conditioned on reinstatement of certain Ee and discharge of strikers' replacements, and U's offer on behalf of strikers to return to work was premised upon E's agreeing to $200 weekly floating guarantee)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080

(discriminatee, who was refused reinstatement, not obliged to inquire whether or not offer (to return to work) was to reinstate him to his former position)

Appalachian Power Company John E. Amos Plant 250 NLRB No. 038

(five day delay in returning either ULP or economic strikers to work after E had accepted their unconditional offer to return to work held not violative in view of fact that all strikers, in instant case, were duly returned to work)

Owen Joint Corporation 248 NLRB No. 076

(violation where E refused to reinstate economic strikers, as their jobs for which they were qualified became available, following their unconditional offer to return to work)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 053

(refusal to reinstate economic strikers unconditionally offering to return to work, unlawful)

Madison Newspapers, Inc. JD-157-82

(failing to recall 3 striking journeymen from preferential hire list and hiring 3 apprentices, instead, unlawful)

Illinois Valley Electric Cooperative, Inc. JD-281-81

(refusal to reinstate economic stikers, violative where strikers were not permanently replaced nor were strikers denied reinstatement on basis of legitimate and substantial business justifications)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80

(E's continued hiring of new Ees before date at which all strikers had not been recalled and at which time unreinstated strikers sought recall to any job they could do, violative where E showed no legitimate business justification)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(U request for strikers to return to work held unconditional, notwithstanding name of one Ee who was disqualified by strike misconduct for reinstatement appeared on list, since at no time did U ever state that no striker would return to work unless all listed in offer were returned; nor could such implication be drawn from U's letter protesting E's desire to conduct interviews before deciding whether or not to reinstate them)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(burden on E for showing that offer to return was not unconditional)

5079-2837 Under terms of strike settlement agreement

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090

(failure to recall economic strikers pursuant to strike settlement agreement as vacancies occurred instead of hiring inexperienced new Ees, unlawful)

United Aircraft Corporation (Pratt and Witney Division) 247 NLRB No. 174

(In view of ct remand, Bd applied law as it stood before Bd Fleetwood and Laidlaw decisions issued, and affirmed its original decision that E's overall administration of strike settlement agreements with Us was lawful where agreements granted economic strikers greater reinstatement rights than those ordinarily accorded strikers under then-existing and applicable labor laws, and terms of agreement did not discriminatorily affect one group or classification of former strikers as opposed to other strikers or to nonstriking Ees)

United Aircraft Corporation (Pratt and Witney Division) 247 NLRB No. 174

(contrary to E's contention that any breaches by it of strike settlement agreements with Us were nothing more than violations of U's private contract rights, Bd held such breaches were w/i cognizance of Act and must be remedied in the public interest; accordingly, since E's violations of agreements denied reinstatement of economic strikers who had done no more than engage in protected concerted activity, E's conduct was unlawfully discriminatory)

United Aircraft Corporation (Pratt and Witney Division) 247 NLRB No. 174

(E held to have unlawfully breached terms of strike settlement agreements by promoting junior active Ees when senior former strikers were awaiting reinstatement to those jobs, and by personnel adjustments involving certain types of job transfers)

United Aircraft Corporation (Pratt and Witney Division) 247 NLRB No. 174

(E's reinstatement of nonstriking Ees who were absent from work during part or all of economic strike period, and failure to offer such jobs to strikers awaiting reinstatement, held, lawful, where E offered reinstatement only to absentee individuals who supplied satisfactory proof that their absence was due to factors which would have been acceptable to E prior to strike and, hence, there was no evidence that E extended unlawful preference to individuals in the group as compared to strikers)

5079-2850 Failure to honor promise to reinstate replaced strikers as vacancies occur

Carruthers Ready Mix, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 090

(failure to recall economic strikers pursuant to strike settlement agreement as vacancies occurred instead of hiring inexperienced new Ees, unlawful)

Nelson Filter, A Division of Nelson Industries, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 131

(hiring new Ees instead of reinstating strikers according to settlement agreement, violative, where strikers' right to reinstatement, contrary to E's contention, was not effected by passage of time, by decertification of U that had represented them, or by fact that some former strikers had not returned E's questionnaire regarding their desire to return to work)

N.L.R.B. v. Aluminum Cruiser, Inc. 620 F.2d 116 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(refusal to reinstate any of five economic strikers on preferential hiring list to available position, not violative since none of the strikers were qualified to assume the position)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)

(E's policy of offering special-rated jobs to unreinstated strikers only if none of permanent strike replacements were qualified for and wanted jobs, violative as these job openings were vacancies and required posting under expired contract; effect was to make it less likely that strikers would be reinstated to higher-paying positions and amounted to preference to those who did not strike; such preference was inherently distructive of Ee right eliminating necessity of proving discriminatory motivation of E)

5079-2874 Not unlawful if legitimate and substantial business justification

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001

(failure to reinstate economic strikers, not unlawful, where E had built up and had on hand substantial inventory in anticipation of strike at termination of bargaining agreement)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001

(no violation where E permanently transferred production workers w/i plant to another classification rather than recalling unreinstated economic strikers where no discriminatory motive present, E showed substantial and legitimate business reasons for doing so, and E did not agree to apply, nor was any strike settlement agreement executed calling for, application of recalls from layoffs provision of expired contract)

Copeland Corporation JD-81-81

(E did not violate Act when it refused to reinstate economic striker at end of strike where it had reduced number of positions striker could fill and as soon as position did become available did reinstate him; E had no obligation to layoff Ee to make room for striker merely because he had more seniority than Ee who had not gone out on strike)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)

(transfer of security guards into production jobs because E didn't need them after strike, violative because they were hired as temporaries. E's asserted good faith in hiring them and not wishing to terminate them does not constitute business reason for transferring them into available production positions instead of reinstating strikers)

5079-2875 Not unlawful absent discriminatory motivation

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068
(refusal to recall picketers to available work because they had engaged in protected strike activity violative)

Mobile Home Estates, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 182
(denying reinstatement to probationary Ees after end of economic strike, violative where E has shown no legitimate and substantial business justification and Ees were never told prior to strike that their work was unsatisfactory; such denial is so inherently destructive of Ee rights that evidence of specific anti-U motivation was not needed)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(refusal of E, which had instituted fixed shifts to allow reinstated strikers to use their seniority to transfer to prefered shifts, as provided in terminated bargaining agreement, unlawful, notwithstanding contention no violation in view of lack of agreement regarding seniority and absent U animus, since change in policy regarding shift preference based on seniority had destructive impact on strike and U activity since it operated to discreiminate between strikers and nonstrikers and no overriding business justification for continuing fixed shifts)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(no violation where E permanently transferred production workers w/i plant to another classification rather than recalling unreinstated economic strikers where no discriminatory motive present, E showed substantial and legitimate business reasons for doing so, and E did not agree to apply, nor was any strike settlement agreement executed calling for, application of recalls from layoffs provision of expired contract)

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. 005

Bio-Medical Applications of New Orleans, Inc., d/b/a Greater New Orleans Artificial Kidney Center 247 NLRB No. 136
(E's contentions in defense of its failure to reinstate discharged strikers that it was economically justified and operated normally w/o them found contradicted by significant increase in costs for overtime paid remaining Ees and hiring of nonunit Ees whose primary function was same as that of strikers)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(E's refusal to consider striker for reinstatement, not unlawful where Ee had other employment and her name was not included in list of Ees desiring reinstatement after strike)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(no violation where Ee received job offer in department other than his prestrike department but he insisted on his old job; no new hires went into his old job, or subsequently into his old department after he broadened his reinstatement request to include any job in same department; at time of hearing Ee was awaiting reinstatement pursuant to last request)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(recall rights not violated, where no new Ees were hired during time Ee was on same job list and E made reasonably attempt to recall him soon after he appeared on any job list)

Ferry Cap & Set Screw Company JD-671-80
(refusal to rehire or recall Ee who, after being unlawfully suspended for walking off his job, voluntarily quit, not violative, where there was no direct evidence that Ee was refused rehire for discriminatory reasons; refusal to rehire Ee was based in large part upon fact that Ee had walked out immediately after giving his 2-week notice of quitting)

5079-2881 Disqualified by strike misconduct

Authur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(striker temporarily blocking passage into plant by E's owner who was attempting to assist Ee in crossing picket line by striker spreading his jacket and forcing supervisor to reach around him, raising arm, and verbal confrontation with owner, not sufficient misconduct to justify refusal to reinstate, particularly in view of E's condonation when he subsequently offered to allow striker to return to work if he would get rid of U)

Authur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(striker jamming locks of E's plant so that E's owner was unable to enter and services of locksmith were required, held misconduct that justified refusal to reinstate)

Catalytic, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 154
(refusal to reinstate economic striker for strike-related behavior violative although striking Ee made profane, vulgar phone call to wife of non-striking Ee, this single, brief, anonymous phone call contained no threats and does not rise to level of misconduct so violent or serious as to render him unfit for futher service)

Catalytic, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 154
(refusal to reinstate economic striker who allegedly threw rocks at nonstrikers cars violative where striker, in fact, did not throw any objects at nonstrikers and only raised his hand in protest, conduct not serious enough to warrant discharge)

Schreiber Manufacturing Co., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 134
(discharging economic strikers for throwing missiles in direction of office entrance on final day of strike, violative where no showing of what object was thrown, at what and how hard it was thrown, lack of physical damage, and recovery of only one items, i.e., ball bearing from area which was not attributable to Ee did not amount to strike misconduct of a serious nature)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(discharge of economic strikers improper, since they did not in fact engage in strike misconduct for which they were terminated)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(hitting non-striking Ee outside plant)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(punching passenger in car and trying to pull him out amounts to serious strike misconduct)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(strikers, in drunken state and in presence of non-striker's wife and daughter, said non-striking Ee was screwing them out of their—damn money and that they would take care of non-striking Ee if he returned to work; action of strikers was isolated incident of verbal abuse; remarks were ambiguous and unaccompanied by violence or physical gestures)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(discharge of strikers for calling industrial relations manager f— bitch when she crossed picket line and on other occasions, not violative, since conduct, although insulting and abusive was not accompanied by violence and was not sufficiently egregious to warrant discipline)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(strikers' stopping only 2 trucks, while on picket line, out of 125 vehicles entering and leaving E's plant daily, held insufficient to prove blocking of access to plant or to establish mass picketing)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(throwing rock at, and hitting, supervisor's car as he was leaving E's plant grounds for discharge)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(striker's clenching his fist and pointing gun at plant manager)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(threatening statements made to other Ees rather than to supervisors themselves not grounds for discharge)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(insulting and abusive remarks about supervisor made to other Ees but w/i hearing of supervisor)

IPCO Hospital Supply Corporation, Cheshire Labs Division 255 NLRB No. 116
(strikers who showed up at ball game held away from plant during nonwork time, carried on in obscene manner and on having ball park after being told to do so threw nails on roadway, not entitled to reinstatement because of strike misconduct)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(refusal to reinstate ULP striker who had served prison term for manslaughter and who allegedly had threatened nonstriking Ee, violative, where nonstriker did not work in vicinity of striker; E knew that apology had been effected between striker and nonstriker and there was no apparent reason for residuary bad blood between them; misconduct of striker not so violent or serious as to render him unfit for employment)

Castle-Pierce Printing Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 172
(refusal of E to reinstate discharged U steward because of his total course of serious strike misconduct after U terminated its strike and offered unconditionally to return strikers to work including 5 other discharged strikers, not unlawful notwithstanding contention that he was singled out from among other Ees who also engaged in strike misconduct because of his U activities, where he committed far more frequent acts of misconduct and far more serious acts of misconduct than did other strikers)

Midwest Solvents, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 171
(refusal to reinstate three economic strikers allegedly for egregious strike misconduct violative, where first striker's isolated threat to customer making deliveries to blow up, or burn up his combine w/o attempt to interfere with deliveries held type of minor misconduct Congress contemplated in providing right to strike; second striker's isolated mild intimidation of strike breaker to watch himself, that some of the boys might get rowdy held impulsive trivial misdeed; and third striker's parking his car in authorized parking place where it inconvenienced customer did not warrant job loss)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(although Ee may actually have engaged in misconduct he or she may not be denied reinstatement absent showing that misconduct was so violent or of such serious nature as to render Ee unfit for future service)

5079-2881—Cont.

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(mere verbal abuse, unaccompanied by any physical actions or gestures that add meaning to words, does not arise to level justifying disqualification from reinstatement)

Sahara Tahoe Corporation d/b/a Sahara Tahoe Hotel JD-(SF)-269-82
(discharge of and refusal to reinstate striker, unlawful since his possession of concealed billy club on picket line was not misconduct so violent or serious as to justify refusal to reinstate him where there was no evidence of agressive conduct against nonstrikers, public or peace officer; as sole early morning picket he probably carried it as defensive weapon, as he testified, and there was no evidence that he knew he should not have it; he did not resist confiscation of club or arrest and would not have been arrested but for his refusal to tell the sheriff his age)

Unit Rig & Equipment Company JD-229-82
(no violation where E refused to reinstate striker who threw nails on E's driveway)

Unit Rig & Equipment Company JD-229-82
(no violation where E refused to reinstate striker who punctured tire of truck leaving E)

Unit Rig & Equipment Company JD-229-82
(throwing beer bottles on E's parking lot, committing physical assault on nonstriker and threatening nonstriker with bodily harm justified E's refusal to reinstate striker)

Unit Rig & Equipment Company JD-229-82
(damaging nonstriker's vehicle as he passed through picket line justified E's refusal to reinstate striker)

Triple A Machine Shop, Inc. JD-(SF)-220-80

Star Meat Company v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 13 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(E's failure to reinstate economic striker who had grabbed replacement Ee and pushed him backward to prevent him from going to work, unlawful where his actions were limited in time and did not produce violent retaliation by other Ees, and he had limited language ability and stated that he was ignorant of Act's provisions not allowing him to physically restrain nonstriking Ees)

5079-2900 Preconditions to reinstatement

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 078
(terminating recall rights of economic strikers by E's six-month renewal notification requirement by which Ees were obligated to notify E of their interest to remain on preferential hire list, violative, where such requirement was inherently destructive of Ee reinstatement rights under Laidlaw and E gave no sufficient business justification to shift such burden of notification to Ees as prerequisite to preserve statutory recall rights; remedy not barred by Sec. 10(b) of Act)

Presto Casting Company 262 NLRB No. 047
(requiring that economic strikers sign company-prepared request for reinstatement as condition of reinstatement, violative)

Green Country Casting Corporation 262 NLRB No. 010
(failure to recall economic strikers because of their striking and filing workmen's compensation claims, unlawful; contention that E doubted their physical fitness for work, rejected where, notwithstanding their claims were filed for pre-strike injuries, all claimants but one were performing their regular duties when strike began, but E disregarded their medical releases, held them to discriminatorily rigorous fitness standard, and refused to hire them until they dropped their claims)

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(requiring returning ULP strikers to report either to personnel department or to plant cafeteria to fill out insurance and tax forms, unlawful, since E thereby placed further conditions on reinstatement of strikers)

Channel Island Development Corp., d/b/a The Lobster Trap & Casa Sirena Marina Hotel 259 NLRB No. 160
(conditioning reinstatement of unlawfully discharged Ees on their refraining from any effort to secure U representation, unlawful)

Jaybil Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157
(E's conditioning reinstatement of two unlawfully discharged U adherents upon relinquishment of right to support U in election, unlawful)

Roberts Oldsmobile, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 035
(E's proposed strike settlement agreement not violative of 8(a)(3) nor 8(a)(5) notwithstanding that the proposal included provision for withdrawal of ULP charges pending as result of the strike, where contrary to GC's contention there is no evidence that E established, as unyielding term of reinstatement of strikers, that ULP charges be withdrawn by U or that E insisted on such withdrawals as condition precedent to resumption of bargaining)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(discriminatee, who was refused reinstatement, not obliged to inquire whether or not offer (to return to work) was to reinstate him to his former position)

John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 128
(violation, where E, in recalling U adherent, warned her regarding deficiencies in grooming, abuse of other Ees, and customer complaints, since motivated by U activities and decision influenced by prior unlawful warning letters)

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-219-82
(offer of reemployment to principal dancer for coming season at salary which was less than salary he received from E during past season, not valid offer of reinstatement, since offer, in effect, required Ee to take demotion; Ee's refusal to accept offer cannot be deemed willful loss of employment)

Sunnyland Foods, Inc. JD-(ATL)-36-80
(E's failure to consider Ee for reinstatement, violative, notwithstanding fact that Ee's withholding of her services during strike was coextensive with her maternity leave and she failed to give notice to E at conclusion of her leave period that she was supporting strike since her Ee status and her obligation to report at conclusion of specified period was no different from that of any active Ee who joins strike w/o specifically advising E of reason for absence from work)

N.L.R.B. v. Senftner Volkswagen Corporation 681 F.2d 557 (C.A. 8, July 1982)
(refusal to rehire U activist on layoff violative where president asked if he would rejoin U if he went back to work and told him that if he did U would be twice as strong; furthermore, E did not establish claims of poor work habits or that his inability to get along with people interfered with job proficiency)

N.L.R.B. v. Vitronic Division of Penn Corporation 630 F.2d 561 (C.A. 8, 1979)
(E's refusal to retain replaced economic strikers on preferential hiring list and reinstate where former strikers had failed to comply with its requirement stated on initial request for reinstatement form sent to strikers that strikers renew their continued interest in reinstatement after six months, unlawful, since burden of notifying former strikers and verifying their continuing interest in reinstatement placed on E who may at most require former strikers, in response to appropriate notice, to indicate whether they continue to desire reinstatment)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 053
(no duty to reinstate Ee not shown to have made unconditional offer to return to work)

5079-4200 ULP strikers

Pace Motor Lines, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 189
(violation where E rejected applications for employment of ULP strikers w/o legitimate and substantial business reasons)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(failure to return ULP strikers to jobs to which they were entitled, violative, notwithstanding pay was same at both jobs)

Albion Corporation d/b/a Brooks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 104
(on ct remand, Bd affirmed ALJ's conclusion that refusal to reinstate strikers during negotiations except on condition that U agree to contract acceptable to E was not justified by its precarious financial situation; while E's economic situation may have justified its proposing reduction in wages, it was not established that economic necessity justified its refusal to reinstate strikers except on its own terms; E's position that to reinstate strikers at higher rates was unrealistic was w/o merit, since mutually acceptable agreement may have been reached if E had met its statutory obligation)

Albion Corporation d/b/a Brooks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 104
(on ct remand, Bd affirmed ALJ's conclusion that refusal to reinstate strikers during negotiations except on condition that U agree to contract acceptable to E was not justified by its precarious financial situation; while E could avoid such a situation by discharging strikers and replacing them with individuals willing to work at lesser rates, such conduct would constitute a unilateral action frustrating negotiations and an evasion of duty to bargain on questions which are subject to compulsary bargaining)

Pease Company 251 NLRB No. 080
(reinstatement of ULP strikers to E's non-U plant at lower wage, with different duties, and further commuting distance, unlawful, where E's failure to fully reinstate them was motivated by desire to deny them U representation)

Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 048
(failure to reinstate ULP striker, unlawful, where job available for which he was qualified and other strikers with less seniority recalled)

N.L.R.B. v. James R. McCaffrey and Edward A. Cook, d/b/a ABC Concrete Company 619 F.2d 620 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(violation where E refused to reinstate Ees discharged unlawfully for protected concerted activity who subsequently engaged in ULP strike because of discharges)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(termination of ULP strikers who had been threatened with discharge during strike for recognition upon their failure to report to work in response to E's request held unlawful discharge rather than voluntary quit in view of total atmosphere of hostility engendered by E's ULPs)

5079-4200—Cont.

5079-4201 Generally

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170
(casual Ee who did not report for work during strike and who was not for or against strike, held ULP striker as he was in fact striking whether or not he supported U as he has Sec. 7 right to engage in or refrain from engaging in protected activity)

Into-Roto, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 111
(ULP strikers who were unlawfully notified that they had been permently replaced found not violatively discharged because despite this notification, no evidence to show that request for reinstatement would be utterly futile and Ee required to request to be reinstated)

5079-4217 Where replaced

Airport Parking Management 264 NLRB No. 002
(refusal to reinstate ULP strikers upon unconditional offer to return notwithstanding they had been replaced to work, unlawful; contention that parties should defer to strike settlement agreement rejected, since it would extinguish strikers' rights, and settlement agreement did not constitute waiver of those rights)

Consair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E unlawfully discriminated against ULP strikers by continuing to employ replacement Ees 5 days after strikers unconditionally offered to return to work until date on which each striker resumed employment; 5-day period is reasonable period of time in which to effect orderly reinstatement of ULP strikers and to accord some consideration to replacement of Ees who must be terminated, and administrative difficulties are no basis for delay beyond 5-day period)

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115
(failure to terminate strike replacements and reinstate ULP strikers, on unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful)

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 260 NLRB No. 037
(E's contention that there was no unconditional offer to return to work because U's business agent who made offer did not talk to certain strikers who wanted to return to their same positions, rejected; business agent was given ample opportunity to request reinstatement for all ULP strikers and, as such, they were immediately entitled to get back their jobs or substantially equivalent employment; and burden is on E to offer reinstatement to ULP strikers, notwithstanding that it might have to terminate striker replacements to make room for returning strikers)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

Ricks Construction Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 043
(refusal to reinstate replaced ULP strikers upon their unconditional application, unlawful, notwithstanding no discriminatory intent, since such treatment of ULP strikers inherently discriminatory, and absent evidence work unvailable or that strikers casual Ees)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(E's refusal to reinstate strikers upon strikers' unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention strikers replaced since strikers held ULP strikers)

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(E's refusal to discharge strike replacements in order to reinstate ULP strikers to same or substantially equivalent jobs upon strikers' unconditional request for reinstatement, unlawful)

Shaw Industries, Inc., a Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; et al. 255 NLRB No. 117
(refusal to reinstate Ees who had engaged in ULP strike upon unconditional offer to return to work, violative)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 253 NLRB No. 080
(striker replacement applicants who have accepted offers of employment but who have not yet reported for work are considered striker replacements since applicants obtain such status upon their acceptance of employment)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(E's failure to terminate replacements and reinstate ULP strikers upon their unconditional request for reinstatement, unlawful, notwithstanding at time of request for reinstatement E believed strikers were economic strikers)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(upon unconditional offer to return to work, ULP strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement to their former jobs or if such jobs no longer exist to substantially equivalent positions; further, burden is upon E to offer immediate and unconditional reinstatement, even if striker replacements must be terminated to make room for returning strikers)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(permanently replacing and refusing to reinstate ULP strikers, unlawful)

Van-Note Harvey Associates and Nassau Surveying 247 NLRB NO. 139
(failure to reinstate striker assertedly because no work was available held violative where E's alter ego (reactivated to avoid U) had available work; alter ego had crew of nine Ees doing unit work after strike had ceased)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(Ees who did not respond to E's letter which was mere invitation to apply for work rather than unconditional offer to return did not waive right to reinstatement because their response would have been futile as those who responded were merely placed on preferential hiring list since their jobs had been filled by strike replacements)

N.L.R.B. v. Laredo Coca Cola Bottling Company 613 F.2d 1338 (C.A. 5) (1980)
(where U struck principally over E's unlawful unilateral discriminatory changes, replaced striking Ees held entitled to reinstatement even if alleged ULP was only one of many causes of the strike)

5079-4233 Rehired as new employees

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(rehiring of ULP strikers only as new Ees, violative and operated to prolong ULP strike)

Mark Twain Marine Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 144
(requiring replaced ULP strikers to complete new job application forms before being reconsidered for reinstatement, violative)

Safeway Trails, Inc. JD-462-82
(letter from E to discriminatee (striker) that he would be considered for reinstatement, not valid offer, since it did no more than inform discriminatee that he would be considered for rehire)

Weather Tec Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 868(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(E's offer to reinstate ULP strikers who applied for new employment held violative)

5079-4250 Unconditional offer to return to work

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111
(violation where E refused to reinstate Ees who walked off their jobs in protest over discharge of other Ees, despite their unconditional offers to return to work)

Cooperative De Credito Y Ahorro Vegabajena 261 NLRB No. 161
(back pay not tolled where tentative settlement agreement conditioned strikers' reinstatement on their accepting other terms of settlement agreement; thus, it was conditional, rather than unconditional, offer of reinstatement)

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 260 NLRB No. 037
(E's contention that there was no unconditional offer to return to work because U's business agent who made offer did not talk to certain strikers who wanted to return to their same positions, rejected; business agent was given ample opportunity to request reinstatement for all ULP strikers and, as such, they were immediately entitled to get back their jobs or substantially equivalent employment; and burden is on E to offer reinstatement to ULP strikers, notwithstanding that it might have to terminate striker replacements to make room for returning strikers)

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 070

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037

Newtown Corporation 258 NLRB No. 068
(refusing to rehire ULP strikers upon their unconditional offer to return to work, violative, where, contrary to E's contention, there was no evidence that Ees engaged in picket-line misconduct)

International Business Systems, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 017
(E's refusal to reinstate strikers upon strikers' unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention strikers replaced since strikers held ULP strikers)

Research Products/Blankenship Company 258 NLRB No. 083
(E's failure and refusal to reinstate ULP strikers upon their application, discharging if necessary any strike replacements, violative)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 193
(violation, where E substantially failed to offer or grant valid, bona fide, and full reinstatement to strikers upon their unconditional applications; to have made valid and good-faith offer, it was incumbent upon E clearly and specifically to disabuse strikers of effects of its past unlawful rejection of its reinstatement obligations, and to provide strikers with effective assurance that there would be no reprisals for their having engaged in strike)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 193
(U's outstanding application on behalf of strikers to return to work was withdrawn only for period commencing with U's letter to E stating that certain ULP strikers withdrew their prior unconditional applications and decided to continue to strike and ending with U's letter to E that strikers expected to report to work)

5079-4250—Cont.

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(individual who was laid off for lack of work and would be considered for rehire, held Ee in layoff status when she joined picket line and was therefore entitled to reinstatement upon U's unconditional application made on her behalf)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(failure to reinstate ULP strikers who made unconditional offer to return to work and whose actions during strike were demonstrations of animal exuberance (lying down in front of truck or standing in front of truck) violative, since there was no violence, damage to persons or property, or actual or implied threats of harm in Ees' strike behavior)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 050
(where reinstatement offers are made regarding all striking Ees, or the members, and similar collective designations or lists of Ees, Bd does not infer that reinstatement of one is conditional on reinstatement of all)

Mark Twain Marine Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 144
(failure to reinstate ULP strikers after U representatives met with some members of E committee to reach agreement to settle strike and return strikers back to work, violative, where U efforts constituted unconditional to return to work despite fact that E did not have full committee to negotiate such settlement since someone had to run the plant)

Appalachian Power Company John E. Amos Plant 250 NLRB No. 038
(five day delay in returning either ULP or economic strikers to work after E had accepted their unconditional offer to return to work held not violative in view of fact that all strikers, in instant case, were duly returned to work)

Bide-A-Wee Home Association 240 NLRB No. 110
(violation by refusal to reinstate strikers who were discharged while engaged in protected strike and subsequently replaced, upon their appearance at E's facility and announcement that they were ready to work)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(offer by U on behalf of all ULP strikers sufficient)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(once offer made to return to work by strikers, burden shifts to E to reinstate them)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(refusal to reinstate replaced ULP strikers after they made unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful)

Circle X Corporation JD-(SF)-222-80
(refusal to reinstate U campaign leader and member of negotiating committee to former job upon unconditional offer to return towork after ULP strike and offering her only more onerous position, instead, unlawful)

Lucy's, Inc. JD-832-79
(E's refusal to reinstate ULP strikers unlawful, where strikers had made unconditional offer to return to work)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(refusal to reinstate sympathy strikers who held status of ULP strikers, violative, where E's letter offering return to work was mere invitation to apply for work and thus did not discharge E's obligation to make unconditional offer and in fact those Ees who did respond to offer were place on preferential hiring list rather than obtaining immediate reinstatement)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(Ees who did not respond to E's letter which was mere invitation to apply for work rather than unconditional offer to return did not waive right to reinstatement because their response would have been futile as those who responded were merely placed on preferential hiring list since their jobs had been filled by strike replacements)

Weather Tec Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 868(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(E's failure to reinstate economic strikers despite availability of jobs converted strike to ULP strike, strikers thereby became discriminatees and E's failure to einstate them violated Act)

5079-4267 Strike prolonged by ULP, employer's right to choose his employees

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(rehiring of ULP strikers only as new Ees, violative and operated to prolong ULP strike)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 170

5079-4283 Disqualified by strike misconduct

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(discharge and refusal to reinstate picket who defended herself against attack by Ee who, after driving through picket line to parking lot, returned to picket line to seek satisfaction because of names she had been called by pickets and struck out at first picket she reached, resulting in hair pulling and brief scuffle, unlawful, since incident trivial, isolated, and no injury resulted; E may not rely on picket's past record when E considered it only when U came on scene)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(even if it is assumed that ULP striker, who was arrested on picket line on charge of resisting arrest and later pleaded guilty to loitering in violation of ordinance, did in fact loiter or resist arrest, it would not cause him to forfeit his right to reinstatement, since misconduct which does not seriously damage property, intimidate nonstrikers, or prevent them from entering E's property does not warrant discharge)

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115
(striker's unprovoked throwing of bottle at guard and guard dog, breaking of truck window, and menacing of guard with meat cleaver found not self defense and thus disqualified striker for reinstatement)

Laredo Coca Cola Bottling Company 258 NLRB No. 069
(E's refusal to reinstate ULP strikers not violative where strikers had engaged in threats and actual acts of violence)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 170
(ULP striker who threw rock through non-striking Ees windshild and later hit Ee disqualified for reinstatement)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(failure to reinstate ULP strikers who made unconditional offer to return to work and whose actions during strike were demonstrations of animal exuberance (lying down in front of truck or standing in front of truck) violative, since there was no violence, damage to persons or property, or actual or implied threats of harm in Ees' strike behavior)

Mark Twain Marine Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 144
(refusal to reinstate ULP striker after unconditional offer to return to work, violative, where contrary to Es contention, Ee's picket line misconduct, such as carrying stick, throwing snow balls, shouting obscenities at Ees who crossed picket line and striking two or more vehicles as they entered E's facility, was not sufficiently egregious in character to strip Ee of protection of Act)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(refusal to offer reinstatement to ULP strikers, notwithstanding there was some violence on picket line, violative, where no showing that they engaged in unprotected activity warranting their termination)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(where Ee's picket line misconduct insufficient to justify discharge, E's refusal to reinstate ULP strikers, violative)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(refusal to reinstate not unlawful where E did not condone picket line misconduct and misconduct of such nature as to remove perpetrators from protection of Act)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(involvement in exchange of words and threats with nonstriker not bar to reinstatement and backpay where nonstrikers were agressors and strikers act was in self defense, further, incident too minor to bar reinstatement on backpay where no blows struck, and no damage to property or person)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(ULP striker spitting at foreman and using profane language towards superintendent not sufficient misconduct to bar reinstatement, particulary since ULP striker)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(ULP striker striking side of non-striking Ee's car as non-striking Ee passing through gate of E's plant)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(discharge of and refusal to reinstate strikers for allegedly violently assaulting fellow Ee during strike, not lawful, where Ee alleged to have been assaulted had swung her pocketbook at strikers and in fact assault as alleged had not taken place; notwithstanding dischargees found guilty of alleged assault in municipal ct)

G. J. Aigner Company JD-(ATL)-63-82
(refusal to reinstate ULP strikers, unlawful; none of various incidences of strike misconduct attributed to strikers above level of mere animal exuberance)

Glydon's, Inc. JD-(SF)-142-81
(failure to reinstate wrongfully discharged Ee who captained strike during which rocks and bottles were hurled into E's parking lot, E's operations manager was spat upon and obscenities yelled at him, and strike captain was arrested and booked by police, not violative since Ee was involved in sufficiently serious misconduct warranting denial of his reinstatement)

5079-4283—Cont.

Vass Steel Corporation JD-216-80
(E delaying reinstatement of economic striker by suspending him beginning on date on which he would have returned to work with other strikers, not unlawful, where for throwing rock at truck entering E's property during strike)

5079-4291 Availability for work

Hooks and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 113
(ULP striker found not to have quit as claimed by E but to have stated he would take another job if he could find it; his failure to take issue with E's self-serving letter confirming his alleged quit found proper since he was subsequently seen picketing by E, and was obviously available for work, making E's refusal to reinstate him on application unlawful)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(refusal to reinstate casual Ee after ULP strike violative notwithstanding Ee made no contact with E during strike where standard practice was for Ee to show up for work on his days off from his main job and his nonappearance was result of his refusal to cross picket line)

Birmingham Ornamental Iron Company 251 NLRB No. 115
(termination of ULP striker pursuant to three-day absence rule, not unlawful, where striker travelled for several days making no effort to contact E or U to ascertain if his employment in which he claimed to retain continued interest was still subject to strike; although E has initial duty to notify ULP striker of date upon which he should return to work, under these circumstances some responsibility remains with Ee)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(requiring ULP strikers to fill out availability for work forms as precondition to reinstatement violative)

5079-4500 Following discharge

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165
(E, together with purchaser of part of E's operations, held to have violated 8(a)(3), where purchaser was alter ego of E who engaged in sham purchase transaction herein in order to avoid its statutory obligations and to thwart Ees' successful organizational efforts, and discharge of Ees and refusal to reinstate them pursuant to such sham transaction was designed to retaliate against Ees for their U activities)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161
(failure to reinstate discriminatees, violative where lack of work was result of unlawful reduction of operations by selling several trucks in order to avoid recalling discriminatees and by unlawful subcontracting)

Cimpi Transporation Company 256 NLRB No. 173
(reinstatement of discriminatee, because he had violations on his driver's license, prior felony conviction which was unrevealed on his job application, and caused security problems for U.S. Postal Service with which E had contracted, not barred, since E was aware of Ee's misconduct and had not disciplined or discharged Ee on such grounds; Ee had been declared good Ee before discharge and problems with Postal Service had been resolved before discharge)

Valley Cabinet & Mfg., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 068
(E's refusal to reinstate Ee discharged at U's request for nonpayment of dues not violative where U's request for termination had not been rescinded and E had no knowledge that U's original request was violative)

P. J. Gear & Sons, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 028

Guy F. Atkinson Company and Wright-Schuchart-Harbor, A Joint Venture 251 NLRB No. 043
(discharge and refusal to reemploy U steward for causing walkout in violation of no-strike clause, not unlawful)

Martin K. Eby Construction Co., Inc. 250 NLRB No. 149
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ee because of his activities as U steward violative)

Kenkin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(discriminatee who was driver not reinstated since E's insurance carrier subsequent to discharge excluded from liability coverage any vehicle driven by discriminatee)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 053
(no duty to reinstate picketer who was former Ee and considered himself on furlough but was not Ee when strike began)

Sea-Land Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-271-82
(refusal to settle grievance and reinstate grievant discharged for cause not discriminatorily motivated by grievant's choice of representative, as alleged, where E had stated intent to contest grievance and not reinstate grievant several times before knowing who representative was; E's questioning representative's ability and right to represent grievant did not warrant inference its decision to contest grievance was discriminatorily motivated)

Miami Springs Properties, Inc., and James H. Kinley and Associates, Joint Employers v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 276 (C.A. 6, Aug 1981)
(discharge of Ees for protected, concerted activity and refusal to reinstate them, unlawful)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discriminatees' asserted misconduct did not bar their reinstatement with backpay where E's violations were egregious; and Ees' conduct was not of quality or extent that might reasonably be thought to threaten future amicable relations between E and Ees; E acted with flagrant disregard for its Ees' rights under Act refusal (by Bd) to reinstate discriminatee would put premium on E's misconduct)

Western Clinical Laboratory, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 225(T) (C.A. 9, 1980)
(substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that Ee was competent medical technologist and entitled to reinstatement)

5079-4900 Strikers in unprotected strike

St. Regis Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 487 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ees who struck E during critical period to gain recognition for U, rival of petitioner, not unlawful, since if E, during pendency of election proceedings, had recognized rival U as bargaining agent, it would have been guilty of interference with Bd's election procedures as well as ULP in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of Act)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 140 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(discharge of Ees who participated in strike not unlawful since strike unprotected, notwithstanding contention strike ULP strike and no waiver, where contract provided there would be no strikes until grievance procedure exhausted and grievance on underlying dispute was pending; nor was E's unlawful unilateral changes regarding transfers serious labor dispute w/i Mastro Plastics so as to preclude waiver of right to strike regarding ULP)

5079-8400 Following temporary shutdown

Dravo Corporation, Engineering Works Division 255 NLRB No. 078
(where E had policy of assigning disabled Ees to light duty, its refusal to recall grievance committee Chairman to such work violative when in retaliation for his active pursuit of his duties)

5079-8600 Following quit

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009
(E violated Act where reason for denial of reemployment after voluntary quit, pretextual, and Ees' U activity real cause)

Ferry Cap & Set Screw Company JD-671-80
(refusal to rehire or recall Ee who, after being unlawfully suspended for walking off his job, voluntarily quit, not violative, where there was no direct evidence that Ee was refused rehire for discriminatory reasons; refusal to rehire Ee was based in large part upon fact that Ee had walked out immediately after giving his 2-week notice of quitting)

N.L.R.B. v. The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Memphis 616 F.2d 949 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(violation where E threatened with discharge, and delayed reinstatements of, several Ees who were engaged in ULP strike)

5080 RECLASSIFICATION OF EMPLOYEES

The Lutheran Home of Kendallville, Indiana, A Division of Lutheran Homes, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 076
(creation of new supervisory positions which would have removed 7 out of 57 Ees from bargaining unit not violative absent proof of E intent to sap U's strength, especially where E did not require that the unit Ees become supervisors and loss of 7 unit Ees would not weaken U, or reduce its effectiveness in advent of strike)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 084
(changing Ee's status from full-time to part-time Ee with consequent loss of benefits, unlawful since motivation for action was Ee's activities on behalf of U)

5084 FAILURE TO OR DELAY IN RECALL

5084-3300 Laid-off employee

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(no unlawful discrimination in selection of Ees for recall absent evidence E used any criteria other than experience, ability, attendance, and disciplinary record; further, E recalled U supporters)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 030
(violation, where pursuant to layoff for economic reasons Ee laid off U adherents out of seniority order and rather than recalling adherents hired other Ees)

5084-3300—Cont.

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049
(Ee who was on layoff status at time strike began and never responded to E's offer to return to work during strike and found other equal employment held not to be striking Ee entitled to preferential treatment)

Earle Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 163
(E's failure to reinstate U adherents who were temporarily laid off prior to first election for lack of work and failure to meet E's production standards, and then, prior to second election, conversion of such layoffs to permanent layoffs held violative where Ees were not advised of E's production standards and other Ees, who did not meet standards were retained in their jobs; customarily, Ees temporarily laid off for lack of work could expect to have been recalled when work picked up)

Holland American Wafer Company 260 NLRB No. 041
(delaying U activist's recall from or avoiding layoff status by refusing to permit him to use plantwide seniority, and bump into another classification, violative where E's published seniority provisions provided for plant-wide rather than department seniority)

Belford Farmers Cooperative 259 NLRB No. 168
(E's failure to recall certain previously laid off Ees and unilaterally, w/o notice to or consulting with U, hiring new Ees not violative where record contained no evidence that failing to recall laid off Ees was change in E's past practice, much less unlawful unilateral change)

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144
(violation where E laid off 5 Ees during critical period while storage space was available and delayed recall after new storage space became available where E had allowed inventory to reach higher levels before instituting short work weeks, but no layoffs)

Timberline Energy Corporation 258 NLRB No. 037
(refusal to recall Ees active in U organizing violative where E, during cross, examined each file and could not give reason for selecting most Ees for layoff)

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(recall on basis of U adherence after layoff which was motivated by E's antagonism to U campaign, unlawful)

Narym Company, Inc. JD-847-79
(selection of Ees for layoff out of seniority and refusal to reinstate them by E who manufactured knit shirts, not unlawful, where selection was for poor attendance record and due to anticipated move from area, and there had been no U activity on part of Ees during 10(b) period; nor was hiring of new Ees subsequent to lay off indicative of unlawful motive where E had, meanwhile, installed new type of machine requiring different skills to operate)

5084-5000 Replaced economic strikers when replacement leaves

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(failure to reinstate economic strikers, not unlawful, where E had built up and had on hand substantial inventory in anticipation of strike at termination of bargaining agreement)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(violation, where E labeled status of Ees who had either been discharged or voluntarily quit as on leave of absence in order to give false impression they were not new Ees when recalled by E and so did not need to recall unreinstated strikers)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(no violation where E premanently transferred production workers w/i plant to another classification rather than recalling unreinstated economic strikers where no discriminatory motive present, E showed substantial and legitimate business reasons for doing so, and E did not agree to apply, nor was any strike settlement agreement executed calling for, application of recalls from layoffs provision of expired contract)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 093
(E's recall policy affording seniority preference for job vacancies to Ees who had been laid off over unreinstated (economic) strikers held violative, since policy constituted illegal grant of superseniority; policy was inherently discriminatory; E advanced no legitimate business justification in support of its policy; Bancroft Cap Company, 245 NLRB No. 86 (1979), distinguished to cover relatively short term layoffs)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(upon their unconditional offer to return to work, economic strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement to their former positions, or, if those positions have been filled by permanent replacements, to full reinstatement upon departure of their replacements, unless E can show legitimate and substantial business reasons for not reinstating the Ees)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 926 (C.A. 7, Apr. 1982)
(promulgating rules providing that members of existing work force made up of permanent replacements will be recalled in order of seniority in event of layoff even before unreinstated economic strikers, not unlawful, where such system assures replacements permanent status to which they are entitled under Mackay and, contrary to Bd finding, system does not discriminate between strikers and non-strikers nor does it deny unreinstated strikers right to reinstatement should vacancies occur in work force)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(recall of permanent replacements from alleged leave of absence instead of reinstating economic strikers, violative because none of departures was originally placed on official leave of absence and retroactive grant of such leave cannot be permitted to avoid reinstating strikers)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(transfer of security guards into production jobs because E didn't need them after strike, violative because they were hired as temporaries. E's asserted good faith in hiring them and not wishing to terminate them does not constitute business reason for transferring them into available production positions instead of reinstating strikers)

5084-6700 Economic strikes

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 078
(terminating recall rights of economic strikers by E's six-month renewal notification requirement by which Ees were obligated to notify E of their interest to remain on preferential hire list, violative, where such requirement was inherently destructive of Ee reinstatement rights under Laidlaw and E gave no sufficient business justification to shift such burden of notification to Ees as prerequisite to preserve statutory recall rights; remedy not barred by Sec. 10(b) of Act)

Brinkerhoff Signal Drilling Co. 264 NLRB No. 049

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068
(refusal to recall picketers to available work because they had engaged in protected strike activity violative)

J. E. Steigerwald Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 068
(using subcontractor rather than recalling picketers for available work so as not to deal with U, violative)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145
(hiring new Ees as aides at time when all striker-aides not reinstated violative)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145
(transfer of Ee to vacancy rather than recalling striker who had formerly held position violative)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145
(removal of economic strikers name from recall list violative)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145
(E who hired new Ee before recalling striking Ees violated Act as this action delayed their reinstatement)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(E's failure to reinstate strikers where it temporarily transferred Ee from one department to another for short period of time to work on similar machine to satisfy production requirements, not unlawful; GC's contention that two vacancies created for which unreinstated strikers should have been recalled i.e. vacancy which gave rise to transfer and vacancy created by departure of Ee to department where production was requested, rejected, in view of E's past practice regarding transfers which were dictated by its production system)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(E's transfer of security guards hired after strike began to production jobs rather than recalling strikers for those positions, unlawful, abent substantial business justification, where E had not hired permanent replacements for production jobs)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(no violation where E premanently transferred production workers w/i plant to another classification rather than recalling unreinstated economic strikers where no discriminatory motive present, E showed substantial and legitimate business reasons for doing so, and E did not agree to apply, nor was any strike settlement agreement executed calling for, application of recalls from layoffs provision of expired contract)

Giddings & Lewis, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 093

Kuno Steel Products Corp. etc. 252 NLRB No. 127
(E's defense to its refusal to offer strikers reinstatement is that U's offer to return to work is untimely, is without merit where unremedied ULPs committed by Es prolonged strike; U was involved in protracted Bd proceeding and offer to return to work made just over a month after ct decision)

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Mason City, Iowa 251 NLRB No. 028
(refusal to reinstate 2 economic strikers immediately, unlawful, where unconditional offer to return to work was made on their behalf and E failed to meet its burden of justification for its failure to offer one Ee employment or for delay in reinstating other Ee)

5084-6700—Cont.

Copeland Corporation JD-51-81
(E did not violate Act when it refused to reinstate economic striker at end of strike where it had reduced number of positions striker could fill and as soon as position did become available did reinstate him; E had no obligation to layoff Ee to make room for striker merely because he had more seniority than Ee who had not gone out on strike)

Vone Steel Corporation JD-216-80
(E delaying reinstatement of economic striker by suspending him beginning on date on which he would have returned to work with other strikers, not unlawful, where for throwing rock at truck entering E's property during strike)

N.L.R.B. v. Aluminum Cruiser, Inc. 620 F.2d 116 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(refusal to reinstate any of five economic strikers on preferential hiring list to available position, not violative since none of the strikers were qualified to assume the position)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(E's policy of offering special-rated jobs to unreinstated strikers only if none of permanent strike replacements were qualified for and wanted jobs, violative as these job openings were vacancies and required posting under expired contract; effect was to make it less likely that strikers would be reinstated to higher-paying positions and amounted to preference to those who did not strike; such preference was inherently distructive of Ee right eliminating necessity of proving discriminatory motivation of E)

5084-7500 ULP strikers

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(E's refusal to discharge strike replacements in order to reinstate ULP strikers to same or substantially equivalent jobs upon strikers' unconditional request for reinstatement, unlawful)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(E's failure to terminate replacements and reinstate ULP strikers upon their unconditional request for reinstatement, unlawful, notwithstanding at time of request for reinstatement E believed strikers were economic strikers)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(upon unconditional offer to return to work, ULP strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement to their former jobs or if such jobs no longer exist to substantially equivalent positions; further, burden is upon E to offer immediate and unconditional reinstatement, even if striker replacements must be terminated to make room for returning strikers)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 029
(E's delay in reinstating striker who had been on U's negotiating committee after end of strike and upon recall assigning him to lesser paying job, unlawful, absent proof job had been abolished by subcontracting during strike; further, any subcontracting was accomplished w/o bargaining with U and hence violative of Section 8(a)(5))

Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 045
(E's failure to reinstate ULP striker, not unlawful, where neither striker's former position nor substantially equivalent position available, and no contention E discriminatorily abolished striker's job)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(termination of ULP strikers who had been threatened with discharge during strike for recognition upon their failure to report to work in response to E's request held unlawful discharge rather than voluntary quit in view of total atmosphere of hostility engendered by E's ULPs)

5084-8700 Economic strikers

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(violation, where unreinstated strikers denied opportunity to bid for special rated jobs and E filled such jobs by first offering them to Ees on existing payroll rather than to qualified strikers awaiting reinstatement)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(failure to reinstate economic strikers, not unlawful, where E had built up and had on hand substantial inventory in anticipation of strike at termination of bargaining agreement)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(filling temporary job with strike replacements who had quit held not violative as temporary job was not vacancy to which striker should have been reinstated)

5090 UNION SECURITY REQUIREMENTS

5090-0100 Generally

Musicians Union Local 47, etc. (American Broadcasting Company, etc.) 255 NLRB No.
(nothing in Act or its legislative history indicates that U-shop provisions in Sec. 8(a)(3) and 8(b)(2) were designed to give Es and Us license to use various discriminatory devices, short of discharge, to require Ees to join or maintain their U membership)

Albion Corporation d/b/a Brooks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 104
(no authority exists for proposition that E, in compliance with U security provision, has statutory duty, absent valid request, to notify U when new unit Ees are either hired or when they complete their initial 30 days of employment)

5090-1700 Scope of proviso

5090-1725 Discrimination for noncompliance with equal membership requirements prohibited (Proviso A)

5090-1725-5000 Tender of dues and fees not required

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(furthermore, even if recognized U has majority support Ees are only required to satisfy financial obligations of U membership and do not need to accept full U membership as condition of employment)

5090-1775 Proviso available only to compel tender of dues and fees

5090-1775-0100 Generally

Big Rivers Electric Corporation 260 NLRB No. 059
(E's suspension of Ee for three days after receipt of notice from U that she be discharged for violation of U-security clause not violative where E could have terminated her but merely gave her an extended 3-day grace period in which she was to meet her obligation)

5090-1775-8800 Time of tender

Big Rivers Electric Corporation 260 NLRB No. 059
(E's refusal to accept Ee's tender of delinquent dues not violative where Ee had already missed deadline and discharge process had been completed day before tender of dues)

5090-3300 Types of union-security provisions or practices

5090-3380 Effect under 14(b) of state regulation of membership requirements

C. B. Display Serice, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140

Plumbers, Local Unions Nos. 141, 229, 681 and 706 (International Paper Company, Southern Kraft Division) 252 NLRB No. 181
(R fee clause requiring Ees who are not U members to pay pro rata service fee at rate less than monthly dues, though permissible under 8(a)(3) is violative of state laws enacted pursuant to Sec. 14(b) and cannot be enforced through invocation of N.L.R.B.)

Plumbers, Local Unions Nos. 141, 229, 681, and 706 v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 1257 (C.A.D.C., Apr. 1982)
(while representation Ees for non-U Ees permissible under Section 8(a)(3) proviso, such fees are violative in right-to-work states under Section 14(b))

5090-5000 Prerequisites for validity of union-security requirements

5090-5030 Appropriate unit considerations

Andersen Sand & Gravel Company JD-655-80
(E which was engaged in manufacture of prefabricated structual concrete signing contract with Laborers in regard to representation of Ees in new wet concrete operation, unlawful, since E had obligation to bargain with Teamsters where Ees in new operation part of existing unit represented by Teamsters; inasmuch as work was performed in same plant with same tools, basically same wages, under same general supervision and working conditions; nor was operation result of establishment of new division where operation neither physically nor functionally distinct, and E's proposal for new division during bargaining had been withdrawn)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(violation, where E recognized and signed contract containing security clauses with U representing single plantwise unit of Ees consisting of 4 Ees one week before hiring 29 Ees, 27 of whom had worked for E's predecessor in 3 separate units and been represented by three separate locals who had made representative claims and E had not yet employed representative complement)

5090-5033 Majority status of contracting union at time of execution

5090-5033—Cont.

Bob's Big Boy Family Restaurants, A Division of Marriott Corporation 264 NLRB No. 063
(entering into and applying collective bargaining agreement, which contained U-security provision with Ees' former U which had lost election, and by enforcing that U-security provision, violative)

Regency Gardens Company 263 NLRB No. 164
(execution and maintenance of U security agreement not unlawful, where U official, after being told orally by majority of unit Ees that they wanted to be with U, informed E that U represented Ee majority, whereupon E recognized U as Ee representative, and both then agreed to be covered by existing master agreement containing U security provision; since there is no requirement that U must have, and show to E, majority of signed cards before U may be lawfully recognized, GC failed to prove that U did not represent Ee majority on date E recognized U)

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116
(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

Mego Corp. and Samet and Wells, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 031
(recognizing and executing contract with U for Ees at new plant when said U did not represent majority of Ees, violative)

Sanford Home For Adults 253 NLRB No. 153
(E who entered into contract containing U security clause with U which did not represent uncoerced majority of its Ees, and enforced that clause violated Act)

Campus Housekeeping, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 072
(U and E violated Act when they signed renewal contract which contained U security clause after U had lost its majority and E had knowledge of this)

Alfred Satin d/b/a Hillcrest Nursing Home (Local 875, Teamsters) 251 NLRB No. 014
(where E recognized minority U and executed contract containing U security clause it violated Act as existence of such provision discriminatorily encourages Ees to join minority U)

P. C. Foods, Inc., d/b/a Price Crusher Food Warehouse 249 NLRB No. 060
(execution of contract containing U-security clause when U did not represent uncoerced majority of Ees, violative, notwithstanding subsequent deletion of such clause)

Cas Walker's Cash Stores Inc. 249 NLRB No. 041
(E and assisted U's inclusion of U security provision in their agreement, not unlawful, notwithstanding agreement itself was unlawful because U lacked majority status at time of execution, where there was no proof that the provision was ever enforced or any Ee discriminated against by its application)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(E setting aside special areas w/i store for local U representative to obtain membership applications from Ees at new stores, telling these Ees to cooperate with U; that they were already covered by agreement and that recognition was extended w/o need for vote, violative)

Venture Stores, Inc. JD-81-80
(execution of contract containing U-security clause with assisted minority U and deduction of dues pursuant thereto, unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Hudson River Aggregates, Inc. 639 F.2d 865 (C.A. 2, 1981)
(violation, where E recognized and signed contract containing security clause with U representing single plant-wise unit of Ees consisting of 4 Ees one week before hiring 29 Ees, 27 of whom had worked for E's predecessor in 3 separate units and been represented by three separate locals who had made representative claims and E had not yet employed representative complement)

5090-6700 Execution or maintenance of invalid union-security agreement

5090-6710 Contract providing for discharge for reasons other than nonpayment of dues and initiation fees

Glass Container Corporation JD-572-81
(discharge violative where Ee who was demoted from supervisor and returned to status of nonsupervisory Ee was discharged at U's request because she had not obtained U withdrawal card when she became supervisor as provided for in contract; therefore, discharged based on considerations of U status)

5090-6720 Contract with assisted union

Save-It Discount Foods, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 097
(E who applied and enforced collective-bargaining agreement including provisions providing for U-security clause, dues checkoff and insurance, to Ees of new store which was found not to be accretion to unit consisting of E's other four stores violated Act; moreover, U which accepted all of foregoing also violated Act)

Carbonex Coal Company 262 NLRB No. 159
(E who signed contract containing U security clause and hiring hall provisions prior to hiring any Ees and then refused to employ any applicants who had not been referred through hiring hall, violated Act)

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(E who opened two new operations and extended U contract to cover these operations violated Act where units were not accretions and E provided U with room to meet Ees, paid Ees for time spent at meeting, solicited newly hired Ees to sign U dues checkoff authorization, withheld dues even without valid checkoff authorizations and applied U-security provisions of its existing contract; moreover, by acquiescing in above conduct and by accepting recognition and extending dues and U-security provisions of contract to Ees at new operations U also violated Act)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(enforcing long dormant contract executed between E and favored U three years earlier in order to keep competing U from organizing its Ees, violative)

McKesson Drug Company 257 NLRB No. 054
(maintaining U security clause in contract with minority U violative)

Hollander Home Fashion Corp. 255 NLRB No. 142
(enforcement of terms of contract, executed with unlawfully assisted minority U, by maintaining U security clause and automatically deducting dues for remittance to U, unlawful)

Servair, Inc. and Servair Maintenance, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 093
(where U represented group of 30-35 Ees employed by E, group of 36 newly hired Ees not accretion as it is unlawful to accrete large group to small group; moreover, E failed to disclose to new Ees that contractual benefits they would receive, new janitor Ees would receive different wage rates than those provided for in contract and E solicited U membership cards from new Ees; thus by unlawfully assisting and recognizing U E violated Sections 8(a)(1) and (2) and by requiring new Ees to join U violated Section 8(a)(3))

Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 249 NLRB No. 046

Baine Service Systems, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(unlawfully executed contract because it covered inappropriate unit and contained U-security clause)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(E setting aside special areas w/i store for local U representative to obtain membership applications from Ees at new stores, telling these Ees to cooperate with U; that they were already covered by agreement and that recognition was extended w/o need for vote, violative)

Venture Stores, Inc. JD-81-80
(execution of contract containing U-security clause with assisted minority U and deduction of dues pursuant thereto, unlawful)

5090-6722 While question of representation pending

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033
(E's recognition of U while incumbent U had not abandoned its claim to represent E's Ees notwithstanding its loss of majority status and while R ptn filed by U with which it had recognized was pending, unlawful, pending resolution of qcr)

5090-6725 Members only contracts

New York Laboratory Supply Company, Inc. JD-416-81
(E which maintained agreement with U that provided that the agreement applied only to members of U, and that Ees who are U members will receive different wages than Ees who are not U members violated Act as this encouraged membership in U and interfered with Ees Sec. 7 rights)

5090-6750 Failure to provide 30-day grace period

Versatile Services, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 109
(threatening Ees with and then discharging them for refusal to join U violative notwithstanding U security in collective-bargaining agreement where 30 day period had not yet expired; they had not been informed of their obligations under provision or given a reasonable time to comply with provision)

Visu-Craft By H.B.S., Inc. JD-887-79
(threatening Ee with discharge if he refused to sign checkoff authorization and U membership application violative, where U security clause unlawful because no grace period provided for unit members working at time contract executed; moreover, even if security clause had been valid, lack of voluntariness in signing checkoff authorizations made threat unlawful because Ee has right to decide how he will pay dues)

5090-8300 Illegal enforcement of valid union- security agreement

5090-8307 Extension of contract to nonconsenting employees

O.K. Machine & Tool Corp. and Gyrotronics, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 030
(violation where E applied contract with U security clause covering bargaining unit of P&M workers -- all female -- to male set-up workers -- who were like tool-and-die, rather than P&M, workers -- to encourage male Ees' membership in U representing female Ees and discourage their membership in other U which had demanded recognition as male Ees' representative)

5090-8314 Discharge for reasons other than nonpayment of fees and dues

Versatile Services, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 109
(threatening Ees with and then discharging them for refusal to join U violative notwithstanding U security in collective-bargaining agreement where 30 day period had not yet expired; they had not been informed of their obligations under provision or given a reasonable time to comply with provision)

5090-8317 Discharge for nonpayment of dues

Western Publishing Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 145
(discharge of Ee for failure to meet dues obligations, violative in view of E's failure to investigate circumstances surrounding U's request for discharge before honoring it)

Yellow Cab Company of Philadelphia (Debtor in Possession) JD-247-81
(discharging Ees pursuant to U's request, violative where E had reasonable grounds for believing that U did not give Ees adequate and correct notice of their dues obligations and reasonable opportunity to comply with those obligations; and two of the discharged Ees had met their dues obligations)

5090-8328 Hiring procedure resulting in exacting union payments within 30-day grace period

General Instrument Corporation, Amtote Systems Division 262 NLRB No. 149
(where valid u-securityclause existed, E did not violate Act by giving U membership forms and dues authorization forms along with other pre-employment forms to new Ees absent evidence of coercive conduct)

5090-8342 Knowledge of employer that proviso (A) and (B) requirements not met

C. B. Display Serice, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140
(E which refused to hire former U member because U refused to refer him from exclusive hiring hall violated Act where U's refusal to refer was unlawful since no U-security clause and E knew reason for refusal to refer was lack of U membership)

5090-8350 Unauthorized deduction of union dues

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087
(deducting dues from Ees' paychecks w/o obtaining authorization from Ees to make such deductions, violative)

Yalor Mold & Die Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 006
(deduction of dues for incumbent U pursuant to checkoff authorizations under contract with incumbent containing U security clause after contract had expired when outside U had filed petition for election, not unlawful where Ees had not revoked checkoff authorizations)

American Nurses' Association 250 NLRB No. 175
(parties did not intend to allow for escape period during interim between agreements, where all dues checkoff authorizations were executed subsequent to effective date of contract)

Sira Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

Honeywell, Inc. - Tampa Operations JD-116-81
(deducting U dues from wages of Ees who had effectively resigned from U during hiatus period between contracts, violative)

5090-8350-5000 After revocation

C. Solari & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 053
(E violated Act when it continued to deduct U dues under merged U's checkoff clause after merger and Ees had signed valid revocations of their dues authorization cards)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(E's continuing to remit dues to U pursuant to checkoff agreement, unlawful, where Ees had revoked checkoff authorizations via letters notwithstanding bargaining agreement required revocations to be on form provided by U; particularly where forms were only available at U headquarters which was inconveniently located and prior to revocation activity Ees were not informed regarding procedures to follow to obtain forms)

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order holding E and incumbent U jointly and severally liable to reimburse Ees who had effectively revoked their check-off authorizations although on non-U forms in contravention of provision in extended bargaining agreement, where substantial evidence showed that such provision which required use of U revocation forms was facially invalid under LMRA Sec. 302(c)(4) and revocation procedure as actually enforced was ULP, in view of Ees' lack of easy, general access to U forms, Ees were not sufficiently informed about revocation requirement, and Ees had to appear personally at U hall to sign forms)

5090-8366 Applicability to after-acquired locations

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(E setting aside special areas w/i store for local U representative to obtain membership applications from Ees at new stores, telling these Ees to cooperate with U; that they were already covered by agreement and that recognition was extended w/o need for vote, violative)

5090-8396 Union membership terminated without discriminatee receiving adequate notice and opportunity to comply

Harsh Investment Corporation d/b/a The Claremont Resort Hotel and Tennis Club 260 NLRB No. 034
(E who discharged Ee after receiving notice from U that he had lost his U membership for nonpayment of U dues violative where Ee had paid his back dues and informed E of this and E made no effort to ascertain if this was correct before it discharged him)

5096 HIRING, CLEARANCE AND REFERRAL AGREEMENTS AND PRACTICES

5096-0100 Generally

5096-0114 Not illegal absent actual discrimination

Bechtel Power Corporation 248 NLRB No. 166
(absent any recall rights and statistical analysis of actual recall of laid-off Ees showing discrimination towards swing shift Ees, either individually or as group, GC failed to sustain burden proving such discrimination by U hiring hall practices, and thus by E)

5096-2500 Types of agreements and practices

5096-2584 Delegation to union of employment control

5096-2584-5000 Appointment of stewards

Howland Hook Marine Terminal Corporation 263 NLRB No. 066
(designation of agent of Ees' collective bargaining representative (appointment of interim steward) is purely internal U affair and resolution of dispute, regarding who would be interim steward rested with U and not Bd; Section 8(a)(5) of Act not applicable to internal U dispute concerning who had authority to conduct business of local U and E not required to determine which of 2 representatives was the validly designated one)

5096-2584-8000 Employer's responsibility for union's actions

Q.V.L. Construction, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 139
(E's telling individual to apply for job through referral system run by U, which subsequently discriminated against him because he was not U member violative, and E held jointly and severally liable with U for discriminatory operation of referral system; U held primarily, and E secondarily liable for any backpay due individual because of discriminatory operation of referral hall, since even if E had investigated U's operation of referral system, it would not have discovered discrimination against Ee)

Frank Mascali Construction G.C.P. Co.; Frank Mascali Construction Co., Inc. 251 NLRB No. 032
(where E delegates hiring to U under U referral system it is responsible if U operates system discriminatorily, even if E has no knowledge of U's discrimination, and thus U and E are normally jointly and severally liable for any back pay due, but here where even if E had investigated it would have been unable to discover discriminatory practices of U, U will be held primarily liable and E secondarily liable)

5096-5000 Execution and maintenance of invalid agreements and practices

Colonial Baking Company of Springfield 264 NLRB No. 072
(E's and U's maintaining and giving effect to bargaining agreement which conditioned hire and tenure of Ee upon membership in or clearance by U, violative)

5096-7500 Illegal enforcement of valid agreements

5096-7525 Discriminatory operation of hiring hall

C. B. Display Serice, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140
(E which refused to hire former U member because U refused to refer him from exclusive hiring hall violated Act where U's refusal to refer was unlawful since no U-security clause and E knew reason for refusal to refer was lack of U membership)

5096-7525—Cont.

Painters' Local No. 64, etc. (Marine Industries Northwest, Inc.) JD-(SF)21-81

(craft U's refusal to issue a job dispatch to female applicant already hired by E, and E's termination of applicant because of U's refusal, not unlawful, since U would not have dispatched any job applicant in classification other than journeyman, in view of custom and practice of dispatching only journeyman painters, U's offer to dispatch applicant as such but E ommitted to make such request, U's legitimate desire to maintain its practice of dispatching only journeymen, and fact that no causal relationship to applicant's sex or nonmembership in U existed)

5096-7550 Discriminatory seniority practices

United States Postal Service 254 NLRB No. 010

(E's acquiescence in U's appointment of various Ees as U stewards by improperly invoking provisions of contract to favor junior over senior Ees in regard to involuntary transfers, not unlawful, where E was not in position to question U's unlawful motives in appointing stewards)

5096-7562 Employer's knowledge of discrimination by union

United States Postal Service 254 NLRB No. 010

(E's acquiescence in U's appointment of various Ees as U stewards by improperly invoking provisions of contract to favor junior over senior Ees in regard to involuntary transfers, not unlawful, where E was not in position to question U's unlawful motives in appointing stewards)

6700 INDICIA OF INTENT TO ENCOURAGE OR DISCOURAGE UNION MEMBERSHIP

6703 ACTION BY EMPLOYER AGAINST SELF-INTEREST

M & G Convoy, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 145

(failing and refusing to transfer to new facility any former Ees of closed facility, violative as decision accomplished no legitimate business goal because it required hiring inexperienced Ees who required 3 weeks training and was motivated by E's expressed desire to keep new facility pure of U Ees at closed facility whom E viewed as troublemakers because they actively enforced contract terms)

6705 ADVANCE INDICATION OF INTENTION TO DISCHARGE

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056

(E's filing of notice of arbitration with regard to its intention to discharge Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee, not unlawful, since E's action was not prompted by Ee's U activities or filing of charges with Bd, where Ee's misconduct on job and disregard for company rules justified E's action)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056

(E's filing of notice of arbitration concerning its intention to discharge Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee, not unlawful, where E's grounds for discharge were valid; Ee does not insulate himself from discharge for cause simply by virtue of fact that he had engaged in protected activity; misconduct which would justify discharge, absent any protected activity, will also justify discharge despite protected activity)

6708 ANTIUNION ATTITUDE OF EMPLOYER

Eastern Steel Company 253 NLRB No. 163

(animus shown by E's threats to stop Xmas bonuses, withdraw pension and insurance benefits, to be less lax, by identifying Ee who probally started U and calling him no-ggod bum and stating U men are usually low-life)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

(GC carried burden of showing under Wright Line that E's anti-U animus motivated his decision not to retain engineers by introducing credible testimony that E intended to fire enough Ees to avoid duty to bargain, by showing that E had stated that hotel would be nonU and he was letting all engineers go, and by failing to discuss employment with any engineers despite his need for an engineer to correct malfunctioning system)

6708-0100 Generally

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 203

(Bd has considered E comments regarding Ee's purportedly poor attitude as patently euphemistic references to Ee's presumptive or known pro-U activities; absent particularized specification by E persuasively supportive of its judgment with respect to Ee's attitude, such comment by E may reasonably be considered calculated to convey E's displeasure with respect to Ee's U activities)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004

(overreaction by E in diciplining Ee for violating work rule, even if valid, especially when rule had not been evenly enforced or necessary to maintain production standards, supports inference that Ee's violation of rule has been seized upon as pretext, and is supported only by invidious and discriminatory motive)

Stokely-Van Camp, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 128

(anti U motivation established where supervisor told Ee that it was U's fault that Ee did not receive vacation pay to which he was entitled by placing onus on U for withholding of vacation benefits, E clearly demonstrated that its action taken in retaliation against U and to attempt to discourage Ees from striking)

The Martin-Brower Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1161 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(supervisors' favorable action in behalf of dischargee, despite their knowledge of his U activity, demonstrated lack of anti-U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(various sorts of unlawful conduct both before and after election reflects anti-U animus)

Arthur N. Stephenson v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 9) (1980)

(proper test in determining whether discharge of Ee is ULP is whether anti-U animus was moving cause, and not whether discharge is only partially motivated by anti-U animus; to give rise to ULP but-for cause of discharge is required)

6708-0150 Antiunion background alone insufficient to sustain finding of discrimination

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1168 (C.A. 4, 1980)

(superintendent threatening jobs of casual Ees unless one casual worker dissuaded another casual from presenting charges to Bd and urging another casual to discourage same Ee from pursuing charges against E before Bd, not unlawful, where casual workers lost nothing through appeals of superintendent and continued working)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(finding of unlawful motivation cannot be based solely on anti-U stance of E)

Weather Tamer, Inc. and Tuskegee Garment Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 483 (C.A. 11, May 1982)

(anti-U motivation not established by fact that layoffs coincided with U activity where closing was for valid economic reasons; given economic necessity which existed in case sub judice, it was management's function to decide at what point slowdown became sufficiently protracted to require decrease in personnel)*

6708-3700 Antiunion conduct found in prior Board decisions

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 007

(Bd found U animus in instant case relying on finding of U animus in earlier case that was based on threat to close plant if Ees obtained U representation, and by promising increased wages and better working conditions if they did not support U)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 254 NLRB No. 043

Marriott Corporation 251 NLRB No. 180

(prior Bd decision holding that E's In-Flight Services Division had violated Secs. 8(a)(1) and (3) of Act at E's Tampa facility not taken into account in instant case, since: (a) issue of E's motive was not litigated; (b) acts in issue occurred in Tampa, not San Juan; (c) even in Tampa, E did not demonstrate general disregard for its Ees' rights)

6708-5000 Antiunion conduct and remarks subsequent to discrimination

Cardio Data Systems Corp. 264 NLRB No. 011

(issuance of warning notice to Ee for unauthorized use of E's copying machine, unlawful, where ALJ found E violated 8(a)(1) when E told Ee a month later that such warning should be taken as a threat and that it was intended to show Ee what it would be like if Ees were represented by U; E's claim that warning was lawfully issued due to Ee's violation of unwritten company policy, rejected and, under the circumstances, E's admission regarding motive for warning was true reflection for motive underlying the warning)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146

(supervisor's remarks to Ee who was not U supporter, after supervisor had issued warning letters to U activists assertedly for breaching E rule, that Ee, who had similarly breached rule, was doing a fine job and was not involved in anything, and that management was looking at certain people held to lead to conclusion that E's issuance of warning letters unlawfully coerced and was in retaliation against U activists)

Timberline Energy Corporation 288 NLRB No. 037

(E's response to auto carvan of laid-off Ees by returning their remark, stick it... and accompanying gesture showed anti U animus but was not unlawful interference)

6708-5000—Cont.

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(discharge of Ees assertedly because of their absences immediately prior to and after vacation period, unlawful, where real motive for discharge was revealed through E's comments to one of the Ees that all this would not have happened if Ees had not tried to get U in plant)

6708-5600 Antiunion conduct and remarks at time of discrimination

Wayne Construction, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 082
(termination of truck driver, active U adherent with allegedly poor driving record, who walked off job after E's project superintendent admittedly told Ee that he would close down job before going U and said that Ee was through for good, we've got ways of taking care of things like this, and admitted driving record of Ee was used as pretense to discharge Ee, held violative)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discharge of U advocates assertedly for disparaging E, inducing parents to withdraw their children from E's day-care center and unsatisfactorily performing their work, violative where discharge followed immediately upon U organizing activity and E's anti-U bias was amplysupported by record; false assertions of lawful purpose support inference that declarant's motive was unlawful)otive was unlawful)

6708-6200 Antiunion conduct and remarks prior to discrimination

Tra-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(E, who had demonstrated anti-U animus prior to U, issuing letter to leading U adherent which warned her that if she continued to disregard E's (unlawful) work rules, she would be summarily discharged held violative where letter could only be explened as retaliatory and discriminatory measure against Ee as leading U adherent)

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 116
(E showed antiU animus by interrogating Ee as to U leadership and organization among Ees for whom U had demanded recognition, accelerating RIF among them and choosing U activists for RIF, and discharging Ee who threatened to organize another group of Ees)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167
(discharge of Ee after store he was responsible for was burglarized violative where E had interrogated Ee about signing U card, indicated its intention to use pretexts to fire U activists, was aware that Ee had signed card, assigned Ee additional work, made no attempt to investigate circumstances surrounding burglary and additionally had not fired another Ee for similar negligence which led to major theft)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and Vork Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(discharge and layoff of U activist truck drivers because discharged Ee abandoned employment when he refused to drive unrepaired truck and other driver was laid off for lack of work held violative, since respondents did not show that Ees would have been discharged or laid off even if they had not been U activists or U sympathizers; no attempt made to recall discharged Ee after truck was repaired and 2 or 3 new drivers given opportunity to drive for Es before attempting to recall laid off Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Spielberg Manufacturing Company 673 F.2d 244 (C.A. 8, Mar. 1962)
(discharg for tardiness of key organizer in election U lost almost one year earlier in which E expressed intent to resist afterwards any further U activity violative, where shortly before discharge Ee told vice president that dissatisfaction with new controller's efforts to correct attendance problems might generate renewed U organizational effort, controller told her he would build case of absenteeism and discharge her unless her attitude improved, and supervisor told her she had been discharged for U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Heatilator Fireplace, Division of Vega Industries, Inc. 646 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 8, Apr 1981)
(E showed anti U animus by testimony that it made many attempts to discourage U activity by attempting to dissuade Ees from attending U meetings and signing cards, by coercive interrogation and unlawful espionage)

6710 CONTRASTING TREATMENT

United States Gypsum Company 259 NLRB No. 148
(in showing disparate treatment GC need not show identical situation with diametrically opposite result; rather only need show pattern of treatment by E in handling similar type incident)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)
(a practice applied uniformly to all Ees may be discriminatory and violate the Act just as a discriminatory practice may be held to be perfectly innocuous)

6710-2500 Of discriminatee and other employees

Knogo Corporation 265 NLRB No. 130
(harsher discipline to pro-U employees)

Autoprod, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 042
(refusing to pay entire amount of retroactive wage increases mandated by arbitration award to Ees who were active in U, violative)

Appleway Chevrolet, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 025
(discharge of U adherent violative, notwithstanding E had legitimate reason for discharge (i.e. Ees' disparagement of E) where preponderance of evidence shows Ee was terminated for his U activity and another Ee also made disparaging remarks about E and he was not discharged; thus E failed to prove that Ee would have been discharged in absence of U activities)

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122
(where E had policy of allowing friends and spouses of Ees to wait for them in restaurant until Ee come off duty, it violated Act when it refused to allow husband of principal U adherent, who had been subject of Bd settlement agreement over her U activities, to wait for her. Although spouse did engage in some U activity, it was never on restaurant premises and was only to assist his wife and he did not engage in any U activities independent of her; thus, spouse could not be treated as non-Ee U organizer)

Village IX, Inc. d/b/a Shenanigans 264 NLRB No. 122
(failure to timely mail invitation for E's anniversary party to U adherents, so that invitation arrived after party, violative as it was benefit granted to Ees)

The Moore Company, Inc., Div. of Easco Corp. 264 NLRB No. 159
(discharge of Ee for refusing to work mandatory overtime, unlawful, since E motivated by U aminus where E knew of Ee's U sympathies and had committed other ULPs, Ee attempted to get substitute; was never warned she would be discharged if she did not work and no written policy dictating discharge; further, another Ee had refused to work overtime and was not discharged, and fact other Ee obtained substitute did not alter nature of her refusal)

Huttig Sash and Door Company 263 NLRB No. 163
(violation for discharging initiator of U drive for delivering mudstained products and insubordination by not completing delivery, in view of timing soon after election, his assistant carried product through mud and was not disciplined, supervisor was unable to complete deliver for same reason next day and was not disciplined)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(forcing Ee to work harder and take fewer breaks than other Ees, and issuing Ee trumped up reprimands, unlawful, since for Ee's U adherance)

Roma Baking Company 263 NLRB No. 094
(layoffs of two U adherents allegedly because they were legally under age to operate machinery they were operating violative where third underage Ee was merely transferred to position which did not require operating of machinery)

Arthur H. Fulton, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 134
(discharge violative where Ee was subjected to disparate treatment as of 46 reasons asserted for discharge were common to undischarged drivers; another, failure to turn in logs for one month was suspect in view of E's policy of withholding pay when logs were overdue; and failure to report accident promptly was excuse as it was broken mirror which occured when vehicle was parked and unattended which Ee did not consider to be an accident)

Arthur H. Fulton, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 134
(discharge violative where Ee was subjected to disparate treatment as of 46 reasons asserted for discharge were common to undischarged drivers; another, failure to turn in logs for one month was suspect in view of E's policy of withholding pay when logs were overdue; and failure to report accident promptly was excuse as it was broken mirror which occured when vehicle was parked and unattended which Ee did not consider to be an accident)

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(warning letters and counselling various Ees for actions contrary to E's work rules and policies not violative where other Ees were warned and counselled for same offenses which were work related, were not discriminatory and did not involve Ees' protected activity)

Foothills Care Center, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 082
(discharge of U adherent for leaving nursing shift violative, where Ee left for personal emergency only after diligently attempting to obtain coverage and E had granted other Ees permission to leave in similar circumstances)

6710-2500—Cont.

M K Laboratories, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 021
(discipline found disparate where active U steward was only Ee discharged for absenteeism alone)

Webb Ford, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 062
(violation where E disparately issued warnings to U activists and used said warnings as basis for disparately discharging them alone where other Ees had similar records but had not received warnings, and, if they had received warnings, had not been discharged)

Wisdom Industries, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 164
(discharge of principal U advocate and Ees' chief contact with U, driver of E's tractor-trailer, assertedly because he had too many costly accidents held violative where prior history of E's treatment of Ees involved in more than one costly vehicular accident showed that no Ee was ever fired for having such accidents)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 059
(restricting U activist to remain in crane during downtime while other crane operators were only restricted to remain nearby, violative)

Monroe Medi-Trans, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 107
(discharge of U activist, unlawful notwithstanding E's contention that it had policy of discharging Ees after three infractions of its rules, since E's testimony showed variations in applications of the alleged policy and failed to show Ees knew of the policy)

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 025
(discharging Ee for leaving keys on school bus parked in garage in violation of company policy, held pretext as E made decision to discharge before learning that Ee left his keys that day and it was common practice for drivers to leave keys on bus)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(E's initial denial of vacation leave to reinstated U activist stemming from unlawful motive held violative although E subsequently reversed its decision; E's rule concerning vacation leave had been bent on more than one occasion)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(denying reinstated U advocate holiday leave pay and suspending her for three days w/o pay assertedly because she had typed letter announcing impending U meeting on company typewriter during working hours held violative where record established that other Ees made frequent use of company equipment w/o rebuke)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(leading U advocate being assigned to undesireable night shift, his demotion, disciplinary reprimands and eventual discharge held unlawful where valid grounds for E's actions were frequently false or exaggerated, adverse action against Ee occurred when Ee became in-plant spokesman for U and Ee who opposed advocate's election to U office was more tenderly treated for his acts of misconduct)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(discharge of U activist for taking his lunchbreak when scheduled rather than to remain in his work area until malfunctioning press was repaired as instructed, held violative where Ee had compelling medical reason for disregarding instruction and other Ees who had left their work stations w/o permission were not similary disciplined)

*Gemco Company, a Division of the United States
Gypsum Company* 254 NLRB No. 041
(discharge for alleged violation of safety rules where Ees engaged in horseplay, unlawful, since in retaliation for Ee changing his mind about voting against U where no other Ees had not been discharged for recent violations of safety rules)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 138
(where Ees participated in work stoppage in violation of no-strike provision of contract and E disciplined U official with 10 day suspension and all others with 5 day suspension it violated Act as his punishment based on his position in U)

S. L. Industries Inc. and Extruded Products, Corp. 252 NLRB No. 151
(denying reinstated Ee extended leave of absence and terminating her at time other Ees had been granted extended leaves of absence held violative)

Great Dane Trailers Indiana, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 015

*PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass
Division* 251 NLRB No. 156
(discharge of known U supporter for sleeping on worktime, not violative notwithstanding contention that E reprimanded rather than discharged one other Ee for sleeping on worktime, where E terminated 34 Ees in past 10 years for sleeping on job, and sleeping on job was against company policy; moreover, U supporter who had not asked for permission as requested by E to take his break in a work area was discovered sleeping in secluded area of plant 10 minutes after break was scheduled to end, and had to be awakened by supervisor)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discharge, soon after U election, of known U advocate whom supervisors considered to be admirable Ee, assertedly for violating plant rule against knowingly altering, or falsifying time cards and reports, as well as payroll records violative where E had displayed considerable animus towards Ee it considered to be U kingpin; E never previously discharged any Ee for similar violation except two Ees found guilty of embezzlement and forgery respectively)

Southern California Gas Company 251 NLRB NO. 127
(discharge of Ee who refused to see E's doctor violative where no other Ee was ever terminated for such refusal and discharge occurred less than 2 weeks after Ee was threatened with termination for complaining to U about working conditions)

Swift and Company 250 NLRB No. 152
(discharge of U steward, who prior to stewardship was considered excellent Ee, assertedly because he disregarded E's rule concerning unexcused absences held violative where rule had been disobeyed by other Ees w/o E taking any disciplinary action of E failed to investigate defense to discharge that answering machine which received absentee reports had malfunctioned)

Keeshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(alleged rear end collision pretext for summary suspension of and subsequent denial of work to driver where E had no policy of automatic suspension for rear end collisions, action taken w/o discussion of facts and other Ees involved in accidents not suspended)

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 087
(permanent layoff of U adherent in contrast to brief layoffs of coworkers, unlawful, in view of E's U animus and lack of business justification)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 063
(discharge of truckdriver, prominent supporter of U, allegedly because he had too many accidents held violative where other Ees with poor driving records were transferred to work on loading dock rather than being discharged)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of suspected U smypathizer allegedly for poor attendance, unlawful, since discharge for U activities where she had never been warned regarding attendance and her record was not materially different from Ees retained)

Neptune Waterbeds, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 168
(no violation where active U adherent was discharged for solicitation on E's time, violence toward other Ees, and lateness; although other Ees' work records showed deficiencies, no other Ee was shown to have work-related problems in as many areas as dischargee)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 056
(allegedly discriminatory conditions imposed on transfer of Ees from their department, which was U stronghold, to other departments in lieu of laying them off, were not imposed on similar transfers of Ees from another department)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(depriving U advocate of overtime assertedly because his machine had suffered oil leak held violative where other machine operators had suffered oil leaks earlier w/o repercussions from E)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U advocate assertedly because his machine had suffered oil leak held violative where other Ees were not punished for same offense and disparate treatment followed E's threat of reprisal for Ee's U activity)

*Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's
News Stand* 247 NLRB No. 167
(discharge of Ee after store he was responsible for was burglarized violative where E had interrogated Ee about signing U card, indicated its intention to use pretexts to fire U activists, was aware that Ee had signed card, assigned Ee additional work, made no attempt to investigate circumstances surrounding burglary and additionally had not fired another Ee for similar negligence which led to major theft)

General Meats, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 153
(having special sign-in-out sheet whenever Ee left for nonwork purposes)

Wolverine Worldwide, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 137
(disparate administration of disciplinary system where merely arbitrary and not caused by Ees U activities or sympathies, not violative and Ee discharges due to disparate actions also not violative)

Florida Cities Water Company 247 NLRB No. 111
(where there were 2 probationary Ees who were both U adherents and only 1 was discharged, this does not preclude, under the circumstances, Bd's finding that discharge of one such Ee was violative)

Clark & Hinojosa, Attorneys at Law, A Professional Corporation 247 NLRB No. 069
(refusal to pay benefits to discharged Ee, to whom E promised one-half month's salary as post-termination pay, held violative inasmuch as E treated Ee differently than other discharged Ees because of Ee's expressed intent to seek redress from Bd)

6710-2500—Cont.

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(failure to grant wage increase to U adherent where 27 out of 33 Ees received increases, unlawful)

Anco Insulations, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of insulation installer because he had left his work area to observe insulating work being done by another contractor in nearby furnaces because of possible jurisdictional work question, not violative notwithstanding Ee told to check up on this matter by U, where other Ees had been discharged for leaving their work areas and there was no need for installer to inquire into any work jurisdictional question)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Michael Bahm Jr., d/b/a M & M Bahm and Associates JD-638-81
(discharge of painter, leading U advocate, because of his chronic tardiness, erratic performance, complaining, attitude and insubordination held violative where tardiness was general problem, and Ee was singled out for discharge; there was no evidence that other reasons for discharge were significant influence upon E in discharging Ee; in discharging Ee, E said this talk of U is the last straw)

Brockway Glass Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-117-81
(discharge of probationary Ee, hired to do carton assembling, assertedly for complaining about this being assigned to janitorial work, for going to the U, and refusing to perform assigned janitorial work, held unlawful, where other unsatisfactory probationary Ees were granted extensions of their probation when their work was unsatisfactory, there was no credible evidence to support finding that Ee refused to do assigned work or was insubordinate, and Ee had statutory right to engage in U activities)

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81
(discharge of U adherent for absenteeism violative where other Ees with poorer attendance records than discriminatee were not discharged)

Triple A Machine Shop, Inc. JD-(SF)-220-80
(discharge of 3 striking Ees not violative where they engaged in life threatening picket line violence; fact that other nonstrikers engaged in some violence and were not discharged is not inconsistent where their behavior did not reach same level of violence)

American Metal Processing Company JD-159-80
(discharge of known U organizer allegedly for sleeping on job, unlawful since, under ordinary circumstances, this was not dischargeable offense and a few days later another Ee was caught sleeping while still on the clock, and nothing happened to him)

Public Service Planning and Analysis Corporation, d/b/a Airport Connection JD-(SF)-310-79
(asserted incidents of misconduct on part of Ees held no defense justifying their discharge where other Ees were routinely guilty of similar infractions w/o being disciplined or discharged therefor)

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-273-79
(letter warning Ee of discipline for his irregular attendance held not to have been pretext to disguise E's unlawful conduct where other Ees received similar letter for their irregular attendance; letter was not arbitrary nor unrelated to E's ordinary business practices)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(E's discharging U steward with clean work record for participation in refusal to perform assigned task rather than merely suspending him as it did other Ees involved who also had clean work records, unlawful since E may not single out for harsher punishment U officials who merely participate in illegal strike where bargaining agreement did not impose explicit duty on U officers and stewards to end any illegal work stoppage, and further, Ee was not serving as steward at time of work stoppage)

American Thread Company v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 316 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1980)
(discharge of known U advocate assertedly because he urinated outside the plant, but on the premises, in violation of E's indecent conduct rule, violative, in view of E's lack of concern when similar use was made of plant area in the past and E's failure to discharge or otherwise discipline two other Ees who were guilty of indecent conduct involving incident herein)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 238 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1982)
(discharge of U activists, assertedly for faulty work, unlawful, in view of E's history, if not policy, of suffering these experienced Ees' minor infractions – until the U ferment began; by contrast less outspoken Ees with comparably blemished records remained on payroll)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(after merging with and moving operations to newly acquired facility, discharging and failing to transfer Ees held violative where only pro-U Ees were discharged, and in other merged facilities no full time Ees were discharged)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(discharge of transport pilot, leading U advocate, assertedly because he had blown out two vacuum pumps during flight subsequent to his U organizing efforts held violative, since Ee was regarded as competent pilot by fellow pilots and his immediate supervisor, other pilots who were guilty of same or worse conduct were not fired)

N.L.R.B. v. Brewton Fashions, Inc., a Division of Judy Bond 682 F.2d 918 (C.A. 11, Aug. 1982)
(Bd's finding that two women who were discharged for refusing to push heavy cart were treated differently from others who also refused held supported by substantial evidence on record as whole but not bey everything in record and court will not displace Bd's choice)

John H. Fournelle v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 331 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1982)
(E's selective suspension of U committeeman, not unlawful, since parties to contract may legitimately agree that U officials may be selectively punished for breach of no-strike clause, permanent arbitrator had authoritatively interpreted contract as imposing special duties on U officials, and that interpretation had value of precedent and was thereafter included in contract)

6710-5600 Of union and nonunion employees

Peabody Coal Company 265 NLRB No. 013
(withholding benefits from U Ees because they chose U while granting them to nonU Ees, unlawful)

Danzansky-Goldberg Memorial Chapels, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 112
(E continuing to allow anti-U Ee to use areas other than Ee lounge to relax after informing Ees at meeting and issuing memorandum stating only Ee lounge would be used to lounge, not unlawful, where memorandum precipitated by anti-U Ee falling asleep in public area, pro-U Ees preferred not to have anti-U Ee in lounge-which was known to management, and no Ee, either pro or anti-U, has been disciplined for using areas other than lounge for relaxation since issuance of memo)

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(layoff not unlawful, since only 7 Ees were involved and, unlike other layoffs which included only nonmembers of U and were found discriminatory, layoff herein included 3 U members, and hence GC failed to establish prima facie showing that selection of Ees for layoff was discriminatorily motivated)

Best Distributing Co., Inc. 258 NLRB No. 024
(failure of E to apply terms of collective-bargaining agreement to Ees with respect to wages, benefits, and terms and conditions of employment, solely because they were not members of U, violative)

Staats and Staats, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 108
(discharge of three U adherents assertedly because they left their work stations and engaged in altercation with anti-U sympathizer, held violative where anti-U Ee had no legitimate business at site of encounter nor was anti-U Ee discharged for fighting or leaving his work station)

Reeves Rubber, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 026
(issuance of warning notice threatening termination for pro-U solicitation in work area on work time while permitting anti-U solicitation under same circumstances, unlawful)

Lee Norse Company, a Subsidiary of Ingersoll Rand Company 247 NLRB No. 090
(where E's relocation of plant was based on legitimate economic reasons and E was under no legal duty to transfer unit Ees to new location, E's failure to transfer unit Ees while transfering non-unit Ees, not violative, notwithstanding that E did not offer legitimate business reasons for its disparate treatment of unit and not-unit Ees; GC did not claim that disparate treatment was illegally motivated, and it is presumed that an action was taken for lawful reasons, absent evidence of illegality)

Motorway Freight Lines, Inc. JD-(SF)-193-82
(E's instituting profit sharing plan which excluded Ees covered by collective bargaining agreement, not unlawful, since plan was contract between E and carrier, E's Ees were not organized nor was there any contract between E and any U, and absent evidence any person would be discriminated against under plan)

Retailer's Coupon Redemption Co., Inc. JD-194-80
(violation where E discontinued flexible work hours of U leaders, and sympathizers, while permitting other Ees to continue working flexible hours)

6710-5000—Cont.

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(E may lawfully treat differently U and non-U Ees in different bargaining units, where legitimate business justification is shown for such action, and absent bad faith or anti-U motive)

B. G. Costich & Sons, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 613 F.2d 450 (C.A. 2) (1980)
(Es' contributions to pension fund on behalf of casual Ees who were U members but not on behalf of non-U casual Ees, not unlawful; even if improper motive were found, no 8(a)(3) violation could be made out since only such discrimination as encourages or discourages U membership is prohibited whereas, in instant case, benefit to U members would not induce non-U Ees to join U inasmuch as E's conduct had no immediately realizable impact on rights of such Ees who never held reasonable expectation of receiving benefits afforded only to U Ees)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 4, Sept. 28, 1982)
(discharge of U adherent for receiving 4 warnings pursuant to E's disciplinary policy violative where 3 warnings were in themselves violations and 4th warning was given to him but not to non-U Ee who was guilty of same misconduct)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(E's imposition, after U had lost two certification elections, of so-called captain system and revised captain system which changed working conditions and method of compensating waiters and waitresses, not violative where new systems, although unpopular with some Ees, were no basis for constructive discharge, and were imposed equally upon all Ees, not only U sympathizers; E's motive was to increase sale of food and lack of discrimination detracted from E's anti-U animus)

6710-7800 Of striking and nonstriking employees

Kaiser Steel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 085
(refusing to permit striking Ees to remove their personally owned tools from plant during strike held violative of Sections 7 and 13 where non striking Ees were permitted to remove tools, as use of such economic weapon frustrated strikers' ability to find other employment during strike)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 103
(reinstating striking Ees at lower pay than those Ees who did not strike and received raises violative)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 103
(where E permitted nonstriking Ees who were transferred to dayshift during strike to remain there, contrary to its prior policy forbidding shift changes, and denying returning strikers right to change shifts, it violated Act)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145
(transfer of Ee to vacancy rather than recalling striker who had formerly held position violative)

Deister Concentrator Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 040
(failure to grant accrued bonus to unrecalled economic strikers violative)

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. 005
(notwithstanding substantial strike violence, requirement that economic strikers, as precondition to reinstatement, must take polygraph test, violative, where most questions asked involved employment relationship (stealing, slowdowns, etc.) and were required only of strikers for which E furnished no justification; thus, strikers had to prove their innocence of both strike-related and nonstrike related misconduct)

General Time Corporation, Westclox Military Products Division 249 NLRB No. 178
(E's failure to pay accrued vacation pay to striking Ees violative where no business justification existed)

N.L.R.B. v. General Time Corporation, Westclox Military Products Division 657 F.2d 271 (C.A. 7, June 1981)
(failure to distribute accrued vacation benefits to strikers at customary time when plant closed for vacation and subsequently postponing payment to strikers, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that contract had expired; so no vacation currently specified, and its new porposals would have changed vacation period and pay. Pay due under old contract, and accrued benefits paid on certain date under past practice may not be conditioned on new contract; further , E's refusal discriminatory where all Ees had same vacation, thus shutdown of plant for vacation not bargained for item)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)
(fact that E stigmatizes striking Ees while leaving nonstriking Ees untouched may be an indication of E's hostility toward U, but such disparity of treatment is not necessary to find a section 8(a)(3) and (1) violation..(where) all Ees went on strike E could not have discriminated against striking Ees and in favor of nonstriking Ees..where all Ees engage in concerted activity, requisite disparity is between treatment of all Ees before and after concerted activity)

6710-8700 Of steward and other strikers or employees

South Central Bell Telephone Company 254 NLRB No. 032
(imposing longer suspensions on U stewards, who participated in sickout in violation of no-strike clause, than on other Ees who also participated held violative, since there was no evidence to indicate that U stewards engaged in activities different from those engaged in by other Ees such as urging support of or seeking to induce Ees to participate in work stoppage)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(suspension of U stewards for mere participation in strike and/or for not taking affirmative steps to end strike in violation of no-strike agreement for longer period than supensions of other participants in strike, unlawful, absent affirmative contractual waiver of U officers' rights and/or breach of contractually imposed affirmative duties)

6713 DELAY IN DISCIPLINARY ACTION

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(discharge assertedly for strike misconduct, lawful where, contrary to complaint allegations, misconduct was found to have occurred; ALJ's reliance on delay in discharge to find discharge unlawful, unwarranted; complaint alleged nonoccurrence of misconduct rather than delay in discharge, neither party addressed delay issue, and record was silent as to reason for delay)

6713-3300 After knowledge of facts relied upon to justify discipline

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(acting on alleged reason for discharge 27 days after incident occurred held pretext)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharges unlawful since for U activities rather than for lack of business in view of E's U animus and ULPs and where it failed to act when surplus of Ees arose but acted only after it acquired knowledge of U organizing campaign, and, after discharges, hired new Ees)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-279-81
(discharge of U adherent, bus driver, assertedly because he had no school bus driver's permit from state held violaive where E had retained Ee on payroll for at least 5 months after learning Ee had no permit, retained Ee on payroll after E learned Ee could not timely obtain such permit and then discharged Ee after he received his permit and had conversed with suspected U activist)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(E who suspended Ees for taking too long coffee break violated Act where GC made prima facie case that Ees were disciplined for their U activity and E could not rebut presumption because when incident occurred it made no attempt to reprimand Ees, but was more concerned with documenting delay)

6713-6700 After knowledge of offense relied upon to justify discipline

Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107
(where E had cause to fire Ee but did not do so until day after Ee attended U meeting, E violated Act as purpose was to discourage U membership)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for numerous deficiencies where deficiencies were longstanding and discharge took place notwithstanding E's continuing need for Ees with gun permit)

Irwin County Electric Membership Cooperative 247 NLRB No. 195
(discharge by utility company of Ee allegedly for criticizing company in violation of rule for showing favoritism in restoring service w/o payment to those customers on whose behalf members of its board intervened, unlawful, since discharge was for Ee's U activities in view of E's U animus, prior threats of discharge or suspension for U activity, precipitousness of discharge, delay in discharging after Ee's criticism of it, and fact no other Ees had been discharged for voicing criticism)

6715 DEPARTURE FROM ESTABLISHED PROCEDURES AND STANDARDS

6715-0100 Generally

St. Francis Hospital 263 NLRB No. 109
(refusing to pay registration fees and grant time off to two Ees to attend U-sponsored seminar held violative, since E, in past years, allowed Ees to attend U-sponsored seminars when there was no U activity among its Ees; E's motivation, regardless of whether Ee-applicants for seminar were pro-U or anti-U, was to take away benefits because of Ees' exercise of their Section 7 rights)

Herman Brothers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 201 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had actively sought defeat of proposed contract which both E and U desired violative where Ee was ostensibly discharged for his failure to call in after excused absence when he had never been required to do so prior to this, which was only 3 days after defeat of proposed contract)

6715-0100—Cont.

6715-0600 Periodic wage review

Smith & Smith Aircraft Company 264 NLRB No. 073

(violation where E ceased its established wage increase policy during U campaign as E failed to inform Ees until approximately 2 months after time of postponement that sole reason for its action was to avoid appearance that it seeks to intervene in election. Explanation must be given at time of postponement and can only last for duration of campaign. Here there was delay in announcement and E informed Ees that program would not be reinstated until C against it of refusal to bargain, adjudicated; however, policy would be reinstated if Ees got rid of U, thus shifting onus on abandonment of wage policy on to U)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 250 NLRB No. 071

(withholding wage increase from Ees who had chosen U held violative where Ees would have been granted raises under E's usual business practice; E intended to punish Ees because they voted for U)

Hobart Mailing Service, Inc. JD-484-82

(E's departure from its past practice of conducting wage reviews each year and its withholding of any wage increase violative, where E placed onus on U in explaining to Ees that reason was because U and labor relations put a freeze on everything until election was over)

6715-1600 Job posting

Ralph Nenner, M.D., Louis Orens, M.D. et al., A Partnership d/b/a Deepdale General Hospital 253 NLRB No. 092

(transfer of anti-U Ee to better position where she lacked knowledge of requirements for job and E did not follow its own posting policy, violative)

6715-2000 Discharge procedure

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001

(discharge of Ee who signed U card at request of supervisor allegedly because he closed one theatre for winter and, therefore, needed to reduce staff, violative where E traditionally employed 3 during winter and discharge left him with only 2 Ees; E had not discharged anyone in 18 years, and Ee was hired as replacement for another)

Brockwood Furniture, Division of U.S. Industries 258 NLRB No. 028

(discharges of U activists, unlawful where E departed from discharge policy)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054

(discharge of valuable Ee, front-line U adherent, assertedly for removing anti-U posters from wall and shaking Ee who placed such posters held violative where E failed to investigate Ee's actions, contrary to E's usual practice)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169

(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because of his insubordination when he showed his displeasure over learning his hours had been reduced by exhibiting nonverbal show of temper, held violative, since he was good Ee fired w/o warning, his show of temper was not serious and E, upon learning of Ee's U activity, suggested Ee seek other work)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82

(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Brockway Glass Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-117-81

(discharge of probationary Ee, hired to do carton assembling, assertedly for complaining about this being assigned to janitorial work, for going to the U, and refusing to perform assigned janitorial work, held unlawful, where other unsatisfactory probationary Ees were granted extensions of their probation when their work was unsatisfactory, there was no credible evidence to support finding that Ee refused to do assigned work or was insubordinate, and Ee had statutory right to engage in U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

(termination of Ees, unlawful, since for U activity, notwithstanding E had decided on staff reductions for economic reasons prior to knowledge of U activity; where after U's demand for recognition, E increased number of Ees to be laid off in department for which U sought recognition, made selection on basis of seniority rather than on basis of work performance as in other departments in order to reach U adherent, contrary to usual custom termination forms contained no indication of Ees' eligibility for rehire, and terminations were w/o advance warning)

6715-2800 Layoff procedure

Holland American Wafer Company 260 NLRB No. 041

(delaying U activist's recall from or avoiding layoff status by refusing to permit him to use plantwide seniority, and bump into another classification, violative where E's published seniority provisions provided for plant-wide rather than department seniority)

Heartland Food Warehouse, Division of Purity Supreme Supermarkets 256 NLRB No. 148

(discharge of U adherents who had been leaders in presenting grievances unlawful, notwithstanding E's lack of specific knowledge of adherents' U activities, economic justification for layoff of two Ees and E's contention that selection of adherents was for lawful reasons, since selection of adherents for discharge would not have occured absent their protected activities, where E was aware of Ee discontent and possibility of unionization and following discharge of adherents E transferred less experienced Ees to replace adherents; furthermore E departed from its normal layoff policy)

Sunco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046

(selection of Ees for economic layoff, unlawful where Ees were selected out of seniority, supervisor and general foreman told Ees that U supporters would not be called back to work and that reason for layoff was to get rid of people who were trying to organize U, E hired new Ees before offering Ees on layoff opportunity to be employed, Ees recalled were as new Ees w/o their prior benefits and for probationary period, and E hired new Ees while Ees were still on layoff)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

(termination of Ees, unlawful, since for U activity, notwithstanding E had decided on staff reductions for economic reasons prior to knowledge of U activity; where after U's demand for recognition, E increased number of Ees to be laid off in department for which U sought recognition, made selection on basis of seniority rather than on basis of work performance as in other departments in order to reach U adherent, contrary to usual custom termination forms contained no indication of Ees' eligibility for rehire, and terminations were w/o advance warning)

6715-3000 Disciplinary policy

Quality Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 142

(issuing verbal warning to U activist for talking to Ee at another plant, issuing written warning next day restraining her from going to other plant, violative in view of E's animus and policy of giving written warnings only if Ee fails to correct conduct after verbal warning)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 080

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLPB No. 079

(reprimanding U adherent for leaving his department and talking to other Ees held violative where reprimand was given as final warning notice, departing from E's usual policy concerning discharge after three written warnings; other Ees continually talked to each other outside department w/o reprimand)

Virginia Apparel Corporation 264 NLRB No. 030

(discharging U activist for allegedly wasting time and showing contempt for supervisors held pretext where E demonstrated vindictiveness by publicly and loudly humiliating Ee by discharging her on work floor in presence of other Ees, did not consult with immediate supervisor before discharging her, and E did not discharge, suspend or warn other Ees for poor performance or work habits even in flagrant cases)

Colorado Forge Corporation 260 NLRB No. 096

(written warnings for absences, unlawful where they were contrary to E's usual practice and resulted from Ees' attendance at U meeting which was known to E)

South Central Bell Telephone Company 254 NLRB No. 032

(imposing longer suspensions on U stewards, who participated in sickout in violation of no-strike clause, than on other Ees who also participated held violative, since there was no evidence to indicate that U stewards engaged in activities different from those engaged in by other Ees such as urging support of or seeking to induce Ees to participate in work stoppage)

Keshin Charter Service, Inc. 230 NLRB No. 117

(alleged rear end collision pretext for summary suspension of and subsequent denial of work to driver where E had no policy of automatic suspension for rear end collisions, action taken w/o discussion of facts and other Ees involved in accidents not suspended)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 069

(discharge of truckdriver, prominent supporter of U, allegedly because he had too many accidents held violative where other Ees with poor driving records were transferred to work on loading dock rather than being discharged)

CTS Keene, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 141

(suspension of U adherent allegedly for disrupting production by talking about U to other Ees who, on their own volition, ceased work to listen, unlawful since suspension for U activity, where Ees ordinarily permitted to converse while working, other Ees involved not disciplined, adherent not given chance to defend herself; and suspension based on warnings which deviated from E's usual procedure)

6715-3000—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Garry Manufacturing Company 630 F.2d 934 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(substantial evidence supported finding that issuance of written reprimands where oral reprimands were customarily issued in the first instance and where all but one who received written reprimands were U activists, was unlawful)

Northern Telecom, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 421 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discipline of four Ees and discharge of U activist in connection with all five Ees leaving work at approximately same time on Saturday morning, unlawful; it was company practice to let night shift Ees, like those involved here, leave work w/o specific permission of a supervisor when they had been called in for Saturday overtime work starting at 6:00 a.m. after working till midnight the preceding night)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(disciplinary warning notices issued by E to Ee (U ringleader) because of Ee's lateness, held violative where notices did not begin until commencement of U campaign; Ee had frequently been late prior to U campaign and had received no such notices)

Peavey Company v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 460 (C.A. 7, May 1981)
(E's tolerating Ee's misconduct does not extinguish E's right to discipline Ee whose conduct continues to worsen)

N.L.R.B. v. Heatilator Fireplace, Division of Vega Industries, Inc. 646 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 8, Apr 1981)
(although absenteeism was problem, Ee was unlawfully discharged day after he attended U meeting of which company had advanced knowledge and asked 2 Ees not to attend, wives of 2 supervisors attended meeting, meeting was discussed at plant on next day, and E did not follow new policy of warnings and discharges for absences)

6715-4000 Enforcement of plant rules

CTS Keene, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 141
(suspension of U adherent allegedly for disrupting production by talking about U to other Ees who, on their own volition, ceased work to listen, unlawful since suspension for U activity, where Ees ordinarily permitted to converse while working, other Ees involved not disciplined, adherent not given chance to defend herself; and suspension based on warnings which deviated from E's usual procedure)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(discharge of Ee, U's financial secretary, assertedly because Ee had driven forklift at speed in excess of that permitted, damaged E's machinery and had record of habitual tardiness held violative since other Ees were not disciplined for same conduct; all discipline issued for damage to E's property occurred after Ee was discharged; E did not demonstrate same action would have taken place absent protected conduct)

Sunnyvale Porshe Audi, Inc. JD-(SF)-9-80
(discharge of car salesman who was U adherent allegedly for failing to obtain signature of E's manager on car lease agreement, unlawful, in view of E's U animus, adherent had prior to his U activities delivered leased cars w/o signature by manager w/o being disciplined and no other salesman had ever been warned or disciplined for delivering car w/o prior signature of manager)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 691 F.2d 1133 (C.A. 4, Sept. 20, 1982)
(where E enforced its unauthorized absence rule more entensively during U campaign than at other times, it violated Act notwithstanding it was enforced against pro-and anti-U Ees equally as such balket enforceemnt would have been most effective means of discouraging unionization)

6715-4025 Imposition of more stringent rules

Tre-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(E's propogating oral and written work rules, after election of U, prohibiting smoking, personal telephone calls and reception of visitors on company premises, etc. which rules were more arduous and onerous than work rules in effect before advent of U held violative, since rules were propogated solely in retaliation for Ees' voting for U)

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Kay Motors 264 NLRB No. 137
(E's imposing new rules that prohibited salemen from using their demonstration cars after drinking any liquor and restricted use of general manager's office to cross from one showroom to another after U requested recognition, not unlawful where rules had legitimate business objectives of minimizing hazardous operation of company owned vehicles and curtailing unnecessary traffic through general manager's office)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004
(issuing and posting on bulletin boards, after U won election, of rule authorizing safety committee to issue warnings to fellow Ees for infractions of safety rules, not unlawful, where committee existed and was described in Ee handbook before U campaign began, and change in enforcement of rule imposing new penalties was mere change in form rather than substance and was such minuscule part of committee's function as to preclude finding of retaliation against Ees' U activities; while questionably post-election timing was present, other circumstances combined to outweigh inference of discriminatory conduct or intent)

Service Spring Company, A Division of Garlock, Inc., A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Colt Industries 263 NLRB No. 103
(E whose new president implemented more rigid enforcement of discipline with respect to absenteeism and production mistakes coincident with U winning election did not violate Act where evidence established that policy was undertaken by E in attempt to improve production efficiency)

Service Spring Company, A Division of Garlock, Inc., A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Colt Industries 263 NLRB No. 103
(discipline of Ee during U campaign pursuant to new stricter Ee rules not violative where rules themselves found not to be violative)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110
(warning two Ees, who returned to work after recognition strike, that they should not be late again and that they would be discharged if they were late in future held violative, since progressive disciplinary system relating to Ees' tardiness was instituted to discourage membership in U)

Hall of Mississippi, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 119
(announcing strict adherence to company rules concerning break periods, violative, where such announcement represented change in existing practice and more stringent enforcement of company rules because of Ees' U activities)

6715-5000 Layoff or discharge during slack period

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(layoff of welders who were U adherents when contracts cancelled, unlawful, in view of E's retention of less experienced Ees, fact E cut too deeply into personnel even for revised production schedule, and where contrary to its past policy substituted maintenance foreman for welder)

Quick Find Co. 259 NLRB No. 144
(violation where E laid off 5 Ees during critical period while storage space was available and delayed recall after new storage space became available where E had allowed inventory to reach higher levels before instituting short work weeks, but no layoffs)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(defense to unlawful imposition of restrictive conditions on transfer of Ees to other departments in lieu of layoffs on ground that E had no obligation to offer Ees transfers and could have laid them off w/o offering them alternative employment, rejected, where E had, as past practice, always offered Ees transfer, as alternative to layoff, free of conditions imposed on Ees herein)

Custom Wood Interiors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 023
(discharge of leading Ee bargaining negotiator unlawful where, contrary to past practice, president identified and personally selected Ee for layoff rather than selecting production classification which was overstaffed and leaving selection of Ees to supervisor; alleged reason of objectionable smoking habits of Ee rejected as E has tolerated Ee's smoking habits for years)

6715-5500 Allotment of work

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169
(reduction of hours of leading U advocate, part time Ee with good employment record, in order to give less senior Ee a few hours held violative where E's action against seniority was contrary to its usual practice and was taken against Ee to straighten him up)

6715-6000 Leave practice

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 056
(discharge of known U adherent not violative in absence of disparate treatment; fact that E's policy on absenteeism was not uniform did not lead to inference that discharge was for U activity since no one with more absenteeism had been retained, nor fact that E ignored its recently enacted absenteeism procedure can be ascribed to anti U reasons since E has never utilized this procedure for any of its Ees)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(E's initial denial of vacation leave to reinstated U activist stemming from unlawful motive held violative although E subsequently reversed its decision; E's rule concerning vacation leave had been bent on more than one occasion)

467 East Gilbert Street Corporation d/b/a Medical Center Convalescent Hospital 247 NLRB No. 074
(requiring U adherent to secure doctor's certificate in order to return to work after one day's absence, violative, where certificates were never required in past and obviously E instigated such policy because of Ee's U activities)

6715-6050 Payment of witness fees

6715-6050—Cont.

Consolidated Aluminum Corporation 258 NLRB No. 033
(notwithstanding E's previous payment pursuant to grievance settlement of compensation for wages lost while testifying at Bd hearing, E's subsequent refusal to pay compensation in similar circumstances not unlawful, absent express contractual commitment and where not in retaliation for U activity or testifying; contract provision stating circumstances in which grievance settlement shall not be deemed precedent did not manifest intent that all other grievance resolutions were to become precedent)

6715-7080 Recall after layoff

Quality Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 142
(failing to recall Ees by seniority after economic layoff, violative, where no specific reason was given, more senior Ees brought U in, and basis for this recall; namely, attitude and work performance had not been used before)

Bedford Farmers Cooperative 259 NLRB No. 165
(E's failure to recall certain previously laid off Ees and unilaterally, w/o notice to or consulting with U, hiring new Ees not violative where record contained no evidence that failing to recall laid off Ees was change in E's past practice, much less unlawful unilateral change)

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(recall on basis of U adherence after layoff which was motivated by E's antagonism to U campaign, unlawful)

6715-8000 Reemployment after sick leave

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp.,
Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(known U protagonist)

Dravo Corporation, Engineering Works Division 255 NLRB No. 078
(where E had policy of assigning disabled Ees to light duty, its refusal to recall grievance committee Chairman to such work violative when in retaliation for his active pursuit of his duties)

6715-9000 Reporting requirement in case of illness

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast
Division 260 NLRB No. 098
(discharge of U adherent for failing to call in sick violative where Ee did call in and was back at work before more than 3 day time limit had expired and no Ee was ever disciplined who was not absent for more than 3 consecutive work days without calling in)

6718 DIFFICULTY IN SECURING EQUALLY EXPERIENCED REPLACEMENTS

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for numerous deficiencies where deficiencies were longstanding and discharge took place notwithstanding E's continuing need for Ees with gun permit)

6720 DISCRIMINATION AGAINST MEMBERS OF OTHER THAN FAVORED UNION

Banner Tire Company 260 NLRB No. 096
(discharge of Ee who had refused to quit U he had membership in and join U E preferred violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Paris Systems Corporation 625 F.2d 399 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(absenteeism rule disparately applied to U adherents)

6723 DISCRIMINATORY TREATMENT OF OTHER EMPLOYEES

Danmar Company d/b/a Madison South
Convalescent Center 260 NLRB No. 106
(discharge of Ees, assertedly for their inability to cooperate with fellow Ees, violative where real reason was effort to mask illegal discharges of two other Ees for their U activities)

Great Scot of Florida, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 126
(sending letter to Ees thanking them for voting against U and announcing that it was granting nonmeat department Ees time-and-one-half for work performed on Sunday and certain holidays and that it was recommencing program of merit wage increases but not granting such benefits to meat department Ees because of NLRB, violative, notwithstanding E's contention that it was following advice of attorneys and that it subsequently admitted this error to Ees and granted same benefits to meat department Ees effective retroactively back to same date used for other Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 667 F.2d 613 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(layoff of 2 Ees caused by reduction in work due to discriminatory discharge of 2 other Ees violative as layoffs would not have occurred but for discriminatory action)

6725 DISPROPORTIONATE NUMBER OF UNION'S MEMBERS IN GROUP DISCRIMINATED AGAINST

6725-2500 Discriminatory basis for reinstating strikers

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. [illegible]
(notwithstanding substantial strike violence, requirement that economic strikers, as precondition to reinstatement, must take polygraph test, violative, where most questions asked involved employment relationship (stealing, slowdowns, etc.) and were required only of strikers for which E furnished no justification; thus, strikers had to prove their innocence of both strike-related and nonstrike related misconduct)

6725-5000 Only union members discharged

Island Typographers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. [illegible]
(E's unilateral action of terminating hot-type method of production and laying of its hot type Ees while retaining non-U Ees using cold type method of printing to avoid paying U scale for cold type work, violative; no finding of anti-U animus necessary as conduct inherently destructive of Ees interest)

6725-7500 Unit (departmental or plantwide) in which disproportion is significant

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. [illegible]
(illegal motivation inferred from permanent layoff that affected almost exclusively U adherents)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(layoff of 21 Ees 19 of whom had signed U cards indicated high probability that layoff was discriminatorily motivated)

6728 EXONERATION OF EMPLOYEE FROM CHARGES ALLEGED AS REASON FOR DISCHARGE

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134
(reliance on earlier disciplinary letter issued to discriminatee as basis for later discipline of Ee is proof of E's unlawful motivation, as Bd had found in prior case that discipline which resulted in this letter being issued was unlawful)

Anchor Contracting Corp. JD-231-80
(discharge of Ee who had filed grievances, unlawful, since for his protected activity rather than for alleged taking of unauthorized vacation or poor work where vacation authorized and in view of shifting reasons)

6730 FAILURE TO DISCIPLINE SAME EMPLOYEE FOR EARLIER CONDUCT OF SAME CHARACTER AS THAT RELIED ON

Spring Valley Foods, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 182

Keahin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his U activities, rather than for suspension of necessary driver's license, where E had accomodated Ee during prior similar problem by giving him inside work and assisting him in obtaining hardship license; subsequent refusal of E's insurance carrier to issue liability coverage for vehicle driven by Ee did not justify discharge since not true at time of discharge)

Peavey Company 249 NLRB No. 110
(discharge of Ee unlawful in view of E's U animus and where motivated by Ee's protected activities as E had tolerated Ee's poor job performance for over 18 months until Ee instituted inquires into Ees' work grievances)

DRW Corporation d/b/a Brothers Three Cabinets 248 NLRB No. 055

The Royal General Company JD-17-80
(discharge of U adherent unlawful since for U activities rather than for absenteeism where E had condoned his absenteeism until he actively engaged in U activities)

Sunnyvale Porsche Audi, Inc. JD-(SF)-9-80
(discharge of car salesman who was U adherent allegedly for failing to obtain signature of E's manager on car lease agreement, unlawful, in view of E's U animus, adherent had prior to his U activities delivered leased cars w/o signature by manager w/o being disciplined and no other salesman had ever been warned or disciplined for delivering car w/o prior signature of manager)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(disciplinary warning notices issued by E to Ee (U ringleader) because of Ee's lateness, held violative where notices did not begin until commencement of U campaign; Ee had frequently been late prior to U campaign and had received no such notices)

6730—Cont.

Purvey Company v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 460 (C.A. 7, May 1981)
(E's tolerating Ee's misconduct does not extinguish E's right to discipline Ee whose conduct continues to worsen)

6733 FAILURE TO GIVE BOARD EXPLANATION FOR DISCHARGE

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 056
(discharge of chief U organizer assertedly to make way for E returning from disability leave whom Ee herein had replaced, unlawful, in view of abruptness and timing of discharge, absence of explanation for summary termination a week before replaced Ee's scheduled return, and failure to give reason why Ee could not complete workweek)

Austell Box Board Corporation 249 NLRB No. 044
(E's suspension and discharge of Ee violative, where explanation advanced by E was pretextual and real reason was Ee's stated intention to complain to Bd about allegedly discriminatory treatment, in view of shifting reasons proferred by E, weakness of work deficiencies cited against Ee for which he was not disciplined at time of occurence and their remoteness in time, and fact that E's decision to suspend Ee came immediately after he threatened to go to the Bd)

6735 FAILURE TO TELL EMPLOYEE AT TIME OF DISCHARGE REASON THEREFOR

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(alleged complaints regarding servicing of locals against Ee-staff members of U council by rank-and-file members held not reason for discriminatory transfer of staff members, where council administrator never counseled one member concerning alleged servicing complaints nor tell him that such complaints were reason for transfer and, in discussing transfer with another member involved in transfer, administrator did not mention alleged servicing complaints as reason for transfer; in stead, administration had commended latter Ee on his work in his area)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(E's defense of economic necessity for layoff or discharge of Ees rejected as pretextual, where E failed to submit any documentary evidence of alleged adverse business conditions claimed as reason for its action; and, although E asserted it had decided to lay off Ees several weeks prior to date layoffs were effected, E did not mention such decision or alleged underlying business conditions to Ees until date of their termination)

6738 FAILURE TO WARN EMPLOYEE PRIOR TO DISCIPLINE

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 025
(discharging Ee stopping briefly at home en route to garage at end of work day, violative, as E did not confront him with evidence, warn him with evidence, warn him of possible disciplinary action, or follow its regular practice of three written warnings before discharge)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of suspected U smypathizer allegedly for poor attendance, unlawful, since discharge for U activities where she had never been warned regarding attendance and her record was not materially different from Ees retained)

6740 FALSE EXPLANATION INDICATES ANTIUNION MOTIVE

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001
(shifting and contradictory explanations offerred by E for transfer of work strengthens inference of discrimination and reprisal)

Stewart-Warner Corporation 253 NLRB No. 016
(unlawful motive may be inferred from falsity of stated motive; however, such inference is justified only where motive sought to be concealed by false reasons is unlawful)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(when asserted reasons for discharge fail to withstand examination, inference can be drawn that there is an unlawful reason, which E seeks to conceal, for discharge)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(where asserted motive for discharge is false, trier of fact can infer that there is an unlawful motive which E desires to conceal)

Apollo Clothes, Inc. JD-286-82
(shifting explanations for Ee's discharge, resting on self-serving inaccurate and inconsistent testimony, are evidence that E seeks to conceal true reasons for discharge because true reasons or causes (protesting homework and pursuing duties as U steward) are improper)

6740-5000 Pretext

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162
(circumstances, including timing of discharges upon E's learning of Ees' U activity and false explanation for discharges, size of plant, and fact Ees not circumspect in their discussions of U warrant inference that E's reference to Ees' attitude, as grounds for action, was allusion to their U sympathies)

Senetner Volkswagen Corporation 257 NLRB No. 038
(E's asserted reasons for refusing to reemploy former supervisor as Ee were found afterthoughts, and hence, pretextual)

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 025
(discharging Ee for leaving keys on school bus parked in garage in violation of company policy, held pretext as E made decision to discharge before learning that Ee left his keys that day and it was common practice for drivers to leave keys on bus)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(finding of pretext necessarily means that reasons advanced by E either did not exist or were not in fact relied upon, thereby leaving in tact inference of wrongful motive established by GC)

Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 254 NLRB No. 109
(on reconsideration, Bd applied dual motivation theory and reaffirmed violation finding; although this is pretext case, layoffs were violative under any analysis in view of E's knowledge of Ees' U activities, U animus, timing w/i 3 weeks of R ptn filing, and E's false reason that both were least senior Ees)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(pretext is when E asserts what appears to be legitimate business reasons for its actions, but on examination of the evidence reveals, however, that purported rule or circumstance advanced by E did not exist or was not relied upon by E)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of U adherent held unlawful where personnel record of adherent stated he was discharged for distributing literature on company time and E testified she was discharged for allowing unreasonable backlog in her work to accumulate since where shifting explanations offered for discharge of known U adherent Bd is justified in concluding neither reason is real reason and discharge was discriminatorily motivated)

Norman Mesnikoff, Receiver in Bankruptcy for Mid-State Broadcasting Co., d/b/a WHLW 248 NLRB No. 155
(severe reaction and total intransigency to alleged problem (leaving on long scheduled vacation) which at best was precipitated by E's own management is clear evidence of pretext)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of well known U adherent assertedly because he used profanity against restaurant hostess after he broke E's rule regarding seating customers held violative where reasons for discharge were fabricated and shifting)

Custom Wood Interiors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 023
(discharge of leading Ee bargaining negotiator unlawful where, contrary to past practice, president identified and personally selected Ee for layoff rather than selecting production classification which was overstaffed and leaving selection of Ees to supervisor; alleged reason of objectionable smoking habits of Ee rejected as E has tolerated Ee's smoking habits for years)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169

General Warehouse Corp. 247 NLRB No. 142
(discharge of vociferous leader of Ees opposed to waiving E's cost of living increase, assertedly because of his absenteeism, held violative where discharge came on heels of Ees' rejection of E's attempts to avoid cost of living increase, followed by E's changing its check cashing policy and eliminating rotating Ees for work they considered undesirable)

Service Garage, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 115

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(where reasons advanced by E for personnel actions are not persuasive, protected or U activity may well disclose real motive behind E's actions and show that reasons are pretextual)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(discharge of Ee, U president, for varied reasons all of which proved invalid, held violative, since E did not demonstrate that same action would have taken place even in absence of protected conduct; real reason was E's attempt to rid itself of thorn in (its) side., namely, U president)

Better-Bilt Aluminum Products Co., Inc. JD-228-80
(issuing warnings to U activist to correct her unsatisfactory work and taking prolonged breaks or more serious action will be taken held violative where supervisor had advised Ee that E was going to get rid of Ee because of her U activity and reasons for warnings smacked of pretense)

6740-5000—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)

(when E's asserted justification is sham in that purported rule or circumstances advanced by E did not exist, or was not, in fact, relied upon, the reason advanced by E may be termed pretextual)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)

(fact discharge of U steward was affected or motivated in part because he had filed charges with Bd and other government agencies falls short of holding that he was discharged because of these activities; where Ee's discharge is prompted by concurrent reasons, some permissible and some not, in order to support ruling of ULP Bd must find permissible reason proferred by E is merely pretext and that in fact Ee was disciplined because of anti-U sentiment)

TRW, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 307 (C.A. 5, 1981)

(very nature of pretext is false or sham reason. When E advances legitimate reason for discharge which is not shown to be untrue, case must be considered as dual-motive case)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(If a causal relationship between discharge and protected activity is established, E is responsible under Act unless he sustains burden of proof. Furthermore, E's explanation need not be accepted if there is a reasonable basis for believing explanation is pretext for retaliatory action)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(threatening remarks and written reprimands shortly after Ee indicated intent to file additional charges with Bd violative, in view of anti-U animus and timing of reprimand soon after Ee filed charge; fact that Ee had not received reprimand in 11 years tenure and reprimand was over minor work dispute indicates pretext)

Peavey Company v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 460 (C.A. 7, May 1981)

(pretext found to exist when purported rule or circumstance advanced by E did not exist, or was not, in fact relied upon)

6740-5050 Raised for first time at Board hearing

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130

(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

6743 GOOD EMPLOYMENT RECORD OF DISCRIMINATEE

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072

(alleged complaints regarding servicing of locals against Ee-staff members of U council by rank-and-file members held not reason for discriminatory transfer of staff members, where council administrator never counseled one member concerning alleged servicing complaints nor tell him that such complaints were reason for transfer and, in discussing transfer with another member involved in transfer, administrator did not mention alleged servicing complaints as reason for transfer; in stead, administration had commended latter Ee on his work in his area)

Harvey's Wagon Wheel, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 550 F.2d 1139 (C.A. 9, 1980)

6743-0900 Absence of complaints

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130

(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 051

Mansfield Services, Inc. JD-734-80

(discharge of U adherent assertedly for poor work habits held violative where no evidence that Ee, prior to election, was thought to have bad work habits; Ee was precipitately discharged following trivial incident concerning assignment of work orders)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)

(discharge of waitress who was U adherent allegedly for violation of restaurant rules, unlawful since for U activity where she was senior waitress, worked desireable shift was one of two out of forty waitresses in E's employ who had received bonus, and had not been previously reprimanded; other waitresses who violated rules were only reprimanded)

6743-3600 Award for merit and ability

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)

(discharge of waitress who was U adherent allegedly for violation of restaurant rules, unlawful since for U activity where she was senior waitress, worked desireable shift was one of two out of forty waitresses in E's employ who had received bonus, and had not been previously reprimanded; other waitresses who violated rules were only reprimanded)

6743-4500 Favorable comment

6743-4533 By supervisors

Mueller Insulation Co. and The Mueller Company of Missouri, Inc., Successor Employer and/or Alter Ego 263 NLRB No. 093

(discharging Ee with history of lateness 3-4 days each week violative, where he had done extremely good work for 8 years, E gave no warning, did not inquire reason for lateness that morning and Ee had agresively enforced bargaining agreement for 3 months)

Western Marine Electronics, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 057

(discharge of Ee who had joined U and filed grievance contending he was covered by bargaining contract and was not receiving contract wage or benefits, unlawful, since motivated by hostility towards Ee and unionization in non-U sector of plant, in view of E's other ULP's including transfer of Ee, recent good evaluation of Ee, and suddeness of discharge while Ee's assignment incomplete and prior to end of pay period)

Cimpi Transporation Company 256 NLRB No. 173

(reinstatement of discriminatee, because he had violations on his driver's license, prior felony conviction which was unrevealed on his job application, and caused security problems for U.S. Postal Service with which E had contracted, not barred, since E was aware of Ee's misconduct and had not disciplined or discharged Ee on such grounds; Ee had been declared good Ee before discharge and problems with Postal Service had been resolved before discharge)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150

(discharge, soon after U election, of known U advocate whom supervison considered to be admirable Ee, assertedly for violating plant rule against knowingly altering, or falsifying time cards and reports, as well as payroll records violative where E had displayed considerable animus towards Ee it considered to be U kingpin; E never previously discharged any Ee for similar violation except two Ees found guilty of embezzlement and forgery respectively)

Lane Trenching, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 183

(discharge of admittedly good Ee assertedly for incompetence and insubordination held violative where Ee had attempted to assert contractural overtime claims, his work was satisfactory, he was never warned or disciplined during his employment, and E's excuse that truck which Ee drove was broken down was frame up to lay groundwork for discharge of Ee)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 157

(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his opposition to U as bargaining representative, objection to deduction of U dues w/o his consent, and filing charges with Bd rather than for his tardiness particularly in view of his prior excellent record and recommendation)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-379-81

(discharge of U adherent, bus driver, assertedly because Ee, w/o permission, took day off to be with his hospitalized daughter held violative where Ee had only 1 day off in prior year, was never admonished for absenteeism, and E relied on Ee to relieve sick drivers or to run charters)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 651 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(discharge of leading U advocate, whom supervisor said was good and dependable worker for 8 years prior to U campaign, assertedly because of business retrenchment and Ee's poor performance held violative, since Ee was never recalled when subsequent increase in (E's) business necessitated hiring several new Ees and only w/i year prior to discharge did E find fault with Ee)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(discharge of transport pilot, leading U advocate, assertedly because he had blown out two vacuum pumps during flight subsequent to his U organizing efforts held violative, since Ee was regarded as competent pilot by fellow pilots and his immediate supervisor, other pilots who were guilty of same or worse conduct were not fired)

6743-4567 By fellow employees

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)

(discharge of transport pilot, leading U advocate, assertedly because he had blown out two vacuum pumps during flight subsequent to his U organizing efforts held violative, since Ee was regarded as competent pilot by fellow pilots and his immediate supervisor, other pilots who were guilty of same or worse conduct were not fired)

6743-4567—Cont.

6743-6600 High rating or classification

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(refusal to rehire former U steward, who had held highest labor grade position at E's plant because he was hazard to himself and those around him, he had refused to work overtime and did not like overtime, held violative where E did not demonstrate refusal to rehire and would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected conduct; real motivation shown by unlawful interrogation of another Ee and comment that things would be quieter w/o him)

6743-8100 Promotions and wage increases or promises thereof

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

6745 INVESTIGATION OF EMPLOYEE'S CONDUCT

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 154
(discharging one of key U organizers 2 weeks before election assertedly for chipping brick from customer's loading dock held pretext as safety supervisor reported that no damage occurred, customer's E and Ee both laughed about incident at time and E never sought Ee's version of accident)

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(failure to investigate Ee's side of incident before discharging her)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(discharge of active U supporter, lawful, where he was discharged for not performing work, falsifying production records, and giving false information when confronted by supervisor, since he would have been discharged even absent protected activity and notwithstanding protected activity prompted supervisor to scrutinize work and reports, results of which lead to discharge, inference is not warranted that Ee would have been discharged if less than dischargable offense had been uncovered and where other Ees had been discharged for similar offenses)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of store Ee who was U adherent assertedly for being rude to customer at check-out resulting in customer's rescission of his purchases, unlawful, where customer complaints about Ees were rather common, other Ees had not been fired because of such conduct; and E reacted to incident and made decision to discharge Ee w/o any further investigation of incident or w/o obtaining Ee's version)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U member on day after E was mistakenly informed that she told Ees to walk out in protest over working conditions, unlawful, where E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, never asked Ee what she had told Ees; moreover, if Ee had tried to organize walkout, it would have constituted protected concerted activity, and discharge in mistaken belief that Ee was engaged in such activity is unlawful)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 050
(percipitous discharge of 2 Ees w/o any investigation of their side who were not included in unit being organized for not attending anti U rally, violative)

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(E failed to investigate information, herein found untrue, obtained from Ee-informant that she had been threatened by discriminatee, which E used as pretext in suspending discriminatee)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(discharge of valuable Ee, front-line U adherent, assertedly for removing anti-U posters from wall and shaking Ee who placed such posters held violative where E failed to investigate Ee's actions, contrary to E's usual practice)

Pittsburgh Press Company 252 NLRB No. 075
(lack of more thorough investigation, including failure to get Ee's version of facts regarding incident leading to his suspension, indicated discriminatory basis for suspension of Ee)

Fixture Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107
(subjecting Ee to polygraph test because of his U activities and then discharging him after discovering from test that he was involved in theft of E's property violative because discharge direct product of unlawfully motivated test)

Swift and Company 250 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of U steward, who prior to stewardship was considered excellent Ee, assertedly because he disregarded E's rule concerning unexcused absences held violative where rule had been disobeyed by other Ees w/o E taking any disciplinary action of E failed to investigate defense to discharge that answering machine which received absentee reports had malfunctioned)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(E's willingness to rely, w/o question or further investigation, on unsubstantiated alleged incidents which E proffered as reasons for discharge, draws into question E's asserted reasons for discharge)

Keshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(alleged rear end collision pretext for summary suspension of and subsequent denial of work to driver where E had no policy of automatic suspension for rear end collisions, action taken w/o discussion of facts and other Ees involved in accidents not suspended)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(although ct held record did not support Bd finding that two written warnings issued to U adherent unlawful, two other written warnings held unlawful since record supported discriminatory motivation in that E issued immediate warnings to U adherent for harassing fellow Ees while only giving anti-U Ee verbal warning for threatening and physically assaulting U adherent)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(discharge of U adherent unlawful since for U activity rather than for drinking while operating E's trucks in view of lack of investigation by E of alleged drinking and other Section 8(a)(1) violations by E)

6750 OFFER OF REINSTATEMENT ILLEGALLY CONDITIONED

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(E's condition that employment applications be prepared and filed by returning ULP strikers as new or former Ees as prerequisite to reinstatement, unlawful, since main reason for E's action was one of retaliation against strikers for supporting U)

6750-2500 Surrender of previous rights and privileges

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001
(refusal of E, which had instituted fixed shifts to allow reinstated strikers to use their seniority to transfer to prefered shifts, as provided in terminated bargaining agreement, unlawful, notwithstanding contention no violation in view of lack of agreement regarding seniority and absent U animus, since change in policy regarding shift preference based on seniority had destructive impact on strike and U activity since it operated to discreiminate between strikers and nonstrikers and no overriding business justification for continuing fixed shifts)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(E's policy of offering special-rated jobs to unreinstated strikers only if none of permanent strike replacements were qualified for and wanted jobs, violative as these job openings were vacancies and required posting under expired contract; effect was to make it less likely that strikers would be reinstated to higher-paying positions and amounted to preference to those who did not strike; such preference was inherently distructive of Ee right eliminating necessity of proving discriminatory motivation of E)

6750-2600 Taking polygraph test

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. 005
(notwithstanding substantial strike violence, requirement that economic strikers, as precondition to reinstatement, must take polygraph test, violative, where most questions asked involved employment relationship (stealing, slowdowns, etc.) and were required only of strikers for which E furnished no justification; thus, strikers had to prove their innocence of both strike-related and nonstrike related misconduct)

6750-3800 Refrain from Union activities

Volcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 262 NLRB No. 017
(offering to reinstate discharged striker upon condition that he resign from U office and agree not to run for office during following three-year period, unlawful; contrary to ALJ, Bd found E engaged in egregious conduct fit for redress)

Sycon Corporation 258 NLRB No. 154
(conditioning reinstatement of terminated Ee on his signing agreement not to serve as chairman or committeeman of U at E's plant, violative; even assuming as E contended that U had collaberated with E or initiated agreement restricting Ee's U activities, E still would have violated Ee's Sec. 7 rights)

Acme Apparel, Inc. and Harry A. Meyer, an Individual JD-(SF)-91-81
(after unlawfully discharging Ee because she solicited members for U, but then further checking with Ees who told E he was wrong, telling discriminatee Well if you didn't invite them to I.L.G.W.U., I apologize. Please go back to work at your machine, use of word if conditioned reinstatement in that Ee would have to refrain from U solicitation)

6750-3800—Cont.

6750-7800 Requiring physical exam

A-1 Building Materials 256 NLRB No. 114
(conditioning discriminatee's reinstatement on doctor's verification of ability to perform work held not valid offer where initial offer was made when E believed that Ee would reject offer contained no such requirement)

6750-9000 Conditioned on resignation of union steward

Associated Truck Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 884(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 9, 1981)

6753 OFFER OF REINSTATEMENT SUBSEQUENT TO FILING OF CHARGES

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(original rejection of unconditional request for reinstatement with No, we don't have a job for you, but then after ULP charge filed E informed Ee that it had a position available and inquired whether he wanted to return to work, violative as offer vague and not tendered in good faith)

6758 CHANGE OF PRIOR ATTITUDE TOWARD EMPLOYEE

Swift and Company 250 NLRB No. 152
(discharge of U steward, who prior to stewardship was considered excellent Ee, assertedly because he disregarded E's rule concerning unexcused absences held violative where rule had been disobeyed by other Ees w/o E taking any disciplinary action of E failed to investigate defense to discharge that answering machine which received absentee reports had malfunctioned)

Keshin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his U activities, rather than for suspension of necessary driver's license, where E had accomodated Ee during prior similar problem by giving him inside work and assisting him in obtaining hardship license; subsequent refusal of E's insurance carrier to issue liability coverage for vehicle driven by Ee did not justify discharge since not true at time of discharge)

6760 PRIOR QUESTIONING OR WARNING

6760-1400 Questioning employee concerning union

Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107
(subjecting Ee to polygraph test because of his U activities and then discharging him after discovering from test that he was involved in theft of E's property violative because discharge direct product of unlawfully motivated test)

6760-3600 Threats of discharge or layoff, etc.

Mark J. Leach d/b/a Mark J. Leach Electrical Contractors 251 NLRB No. 151
(inference of discriminatory motive for Ees' discharges warranted in view of closer scrutiny of Ees' work performance which followed closely in time on advent of Ees' U activities and resulted in sudden and constant criticism of their work, numerous threats of discharge, and close timing of discharges in relationship to Ees' U activities)

Irwin County Electric Membership Cooperative 247 NLRB No. 195
(discharge by utility company of Ee allegedly for criticizing company in violation of rule for showing favoritism in restoring service w/o payment to those customers on whose behalf members of its board intervened, unlawful, since discharge was for Ee's U activities in view of E's U animus, prior threats of discharge or suspension for U activity, precipitousness of discharge, delay in discharging after Ee's criticism of it, and fact no other Ees had been discharged for voicing criticism)

John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 125
(issuing warning letter to U adherent regarding wearing dirty uniform and abuse of other Ees, unlawful, notwithstanding adherent's admitted grooming deficiencies, since warning motivated by her U activities, reporting of alleged violations by E to government agency, owner also threatened layoff and offered Ee adherent severance pay to induce her to seek other employment)

John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 125
(violation, where E, in recalling U adherent, warned her regarding deficiencies in grooming, abuse of other Ees, and customer complaints, since motivated by U activities and decision influenced by prior unlawful warning letters)

6763 PRIOR SURVEILLANCE

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134
(discharge of drivers preceded by extraordinary surveillance, unlawful, where real reasons were for filing charges with Bd in prior case, U adherence, distribution of materials for dissident branch of U rather than for overstaying breaks on road and thereby failing to meet schedules, and for falsifying logs)

6765 REINSTATEMENT AFTER DISCHARGE

Campbell-Harris Electric, Inc. and Campbell Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 167
(where son of principal stockholders of former entity had not lost employment as an employee as result of ULP or as result of labor dispute, new E entity, found alter ego, had no obligation to offer Ee reinstatement)

Allied Eastern States Maintenance Corporation, A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Allied Maintenance Corporation 261 NLRB No. 167
(fact that unlawfully discharged Ee was subsequently re-hired 4 months later and after charges filed, not conclusive proof of E's unlawful motivation)

6765-5000 As new employee

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046

6768 REPLACEMENT OF DISCRIMINATEE

6768-1400 Additions to staff from which discriminatee was laid off for alleged lack of work

O'Dovero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101
(layoff and failure to recall Ees who were members of craft U, unlawful, where motivated by Ees, complaining to management and U about E's failure to abide by contract in regard to coffee breaks, overtime pay and increased payrate prescribed therein, and performance of their work by members of another U, rather than for business reasons, in view of amount of work to be done and hiring of other Ees during layoff, and absent evidence laid off Ees less efficient than other Ees)

Van-Note Harvey Associates and Nassau Surveying 247 NLRB NO. 139
(failure to reinstate striker assertedly because no work was available held violative where E's alter ego (reactivated to avoid U) had available work; alter ego had crew of nine Ees doing unit work after strike had ceased)

Norym Company, Inc. JD-847-79
(selection of Ees for layoff out of seniority and refusal to reinstate them by E who manufactured knit shirts, not unlawful, where selection was for poor attendance record and due to anticipated move from area, and there had been no U activity on part of Ees during 10(b) period; nor was hiring of new Ees subsequent to lay off indicative of unlawful motive where E had, meanwhile, installed new type of machine requiring different skills to operate)

6768-2800 After layoff for slack

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharges unlawful since for U activities rather than for lack of business in view of E's U animus and ULPs and where it failed to act when surplus of Ees arose but acted only after it acquired knowledge of U organizing campaign, and, after discharges, hired new Ees)

6768-4200 By inexperienced person

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(discharge of two long-term Ees, who were U adherents, because of E's planned redistribution of their functions held violative where they were only Ees E was able to identify from enlarged photograph of Ees who attended U sponsored rally and those two were immediately replaced by other Ees with little or no experience at work they assumed)

6768-5600 By new man

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(layoff and refusal to reinstate U adherent assertedly for lack of work held violative where E had plentiful supply of raw materials and there was no evidence E's inventories were excessive; day after U adherent was terminated, he was replaced by new Ee who performed same work as U adherent)

H. B. Zachry Company 261 NLRB No. 098
(replacement of U activist allegedly riffed because of economic difficulties with higher paid new hire showed discriminatory motive for rif)

Norym Company, Inc. JD-847-79
(selection of Ees for layoff out of seniority and refusal to reinstate them by E who manufactured knit shirts, not unlawful, where selection was for poor attendance record and due to anticipated move from area, and there had been no U activity on part of Ees during 10(b) period; nor was hiring of new Ees subsequent to lay off indicative of unlawful motive where E had, meanwhile, installed new type of machine requiring different skills to operate)

6770 INABILITY OF EMPLOYER TO KEEP UP PRODUCTION AFTER LAYOFF

6770—Cont.

Vincent Brass & Aluminum Co. 264 NLRB No. 070

(layoff and refusal to reinstate Ees, unlawful, since for assertion of their contractual right to job bidding procedure rather than for economic reasons, in view of E's U animus established by other violations and where layoffs occurred while orders increasing and overtime worked by other Ees during layoff, notwithstanding layoff in accord with contract and fact those laid off included Ees who had not attempted to assert their rights under contract)

Roach Manufacturing Corporation JD-15-81

(layoff of Ees including U organizer and U partisans as well as nonU supporters, violative; E's contention that layoffs were for economic reasons rejected, as E recalled 1 Ee next day and work of other laid off Ees assigned to night shift, an unusual practice; furthermore, layoff of nonU supporters also done to give color of legitimacy to E's action)

N.L.R.B. v. Rich's Precision Foundry, Inc. 667 F.2d 613 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)

(layoff of 2 Ees caused by reduction in work due to discriminatory discharge of 2 other Ees violative as layoffs would not have occurred but for discriminatory action)

6773 SHORTAGE OF LABOR AT TIME OF LAYOFF

O'Dovero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101

(layoff and failure to recall Ees who were members of craft U, unlawful, where motivated by Ees, complaining to management and U about E's failure to abide by contract in regard to coffee breaks, overtime pay and increased payrate prescribed therein, and performance of their work by members of another U, rather than for business reasons, in view of amount of work to be done and hiring of other Ees during layoff, and absent evidence laid off Ees less efficient than other Ees)

6775 RETENTION OF LESS QUALIFIED EMPLOYEE AT TIME OF LAYOFF

Heartland Food Warehouse, Division of Purity Supreme Supermarkets 256 NLRB No. 145

(discharge of U adherents who had been leaders in presenting grievances unlawful, notwithstanding E's lack of specific knowledge of adherents' U activities, economic justification for layoff of two Ees and E's contention that selection of adherents was for lawful reasons, since selection of adherents for discharge would not have occured absent their protected activities, where E was aware of Ee discontent and possibility of unionization and following discharge of adherents E transferred less experienced Ees to replace adherents; furthermore E departed from its normal layoff pollicy)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100

(layoff of Ee, assertedly because of lack of work, unlawful, where E now gives another reason for discharge relating to declining business, and E did not explain why it did not lay off Ees with less working tenure)

6780 RETENTION OR REINSTATEMENT OF OTHER EMPLOYEE GUILTY OF SAME OFFENSE

Roma Baking Company 263 NLRB No. 004

(layoffs of two U adherents allegedly because they were legally under age to operate machinery they were operating violative where third underage Ee was merely transferred to position which did not require operating of machinery)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)

(discharge of waitress who was U adherent allegedly for violation of restaurant rules, unlawful since for U activity where she was senior waitress, worked desireable shift was one of two out of forty waitresses in E's employ who had received bonus, and had not been previously reprimanded; other waitresses who violated rules were only reprimanded)

6783 DISREGARD OF SENIORITY

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 206

(violation, by denying vacancies of substantially equivalent pre-strike jobs to qualified senior economic strikers by giving inter-plant preference to strikers who abandoned strike or who made individual offers to return to work and were reinstated, albeit to positions not substantially equivalent to pre-strike positions, over the former for whom U made offer to return to work)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020

(violation, where pursuant to layoff for economic reasons Ee laid off U adherents out of seniority order and rather than recalling adherents hired other Ees)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(E's failure to reinstate, w/o any business justification striker when replacement left after striker had unconditionally offered to return to work, unlawful, where E reinstated other strikers with less seniority and strikers who made later offers to return to work, nor did fact striker had taken another job justify E's failure to reinstate him since unlikely striker would have preferred other job inasmuch as he had less seniority at that job than had with E)

Documation, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 052

(E's failure to utilize seniority as basis for selecting Ees for layoff not evidence of discriminatory motive where there was uncontradicted testimony that E has not and does not utilize seniority as basis for selecting Ees for layoff)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188

(layoff of welders who were U adherents when contracts cancelled, unlawful, in view of E's retention of less experienced Ees, fact E cut too deeply into personnel even for revised production schedule, and where contrary to its past policy substituted maintenance foreman for welder)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001

(refusal of E, which had instituted fixed shifts to allow reinstated strikers to use their seniority to transfer to prefered shifts, as provided in terminated bargaining agreement, unlawful, notwithstanding contention no violation in view of lack of agreement regarding seniority and absent U animus, since change in policy regarding shift preference based on seniority had destructive impact on strike and U activity since it operated to discreiminate between strikers and nonstrikers and no overriding business justification for continuing fixed shifts)

Burns Motor Freight, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 048

(failure to reinstate ULP striker, unlawful, where job available for which he was qualified and other strikers with less seniority recalled)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158

(transfer of Ee, who was witness in Bd hearing, fromhis desired second shift to less desirable day shift held violative where trans fer occurred on heels of Ee's testifying at Bd hearing; inference drawn that shift of job was not solely for business reasons, since E was motivated by desire to punish Ee for testifying against E in Bd proceeding; action was taken w/o regard to Ee's seniority or other contractual provisions)

Gerber Scientific Instrument Company, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Gerber Scientific, Inc. JD-188-82

(layoff of U adherent not unlawful in view of cancelled orders and since E properly used as seniority basis rehire date where adherent had previously left E's employment voluntarily)

Palau Corporation JD-(SF)-28-82

(inference, that foreman's action against Ees was motivated by his animus towards Ees, bolstered by foreman's disregard of seniority provision under contract)

N.L.R.B. v. Porta Systems Corporation 625 F.2d 399 (C.A. 2, 1980)

6785 LACK OF APPARENT REASON OR ADEQUATE EXPLANATION FOR ACTION

Brilliant Electric Signs, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 018

(discharge of Ee, U member, by his supervisor for not paying his U dues and who thought Ee, recuperating from work accident, had quit held violative where there was no basis to assume Ee's status had changed and no evidence that Ee had quit his employment with E)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80

(suspension of U adherent who, as result of sloppy compressed appearance of vacation sign up sheet, mistakenly thought he was to be on vacation and failed to report to work, where after error was discovered supervisor could have requested him to work and did not, there was interferance with production, and in view of e's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority and triviality of error)

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)

(ct affd Bd's finding that Ee was fired for his U activities; ct's conclusion rested on evidence of anti-U animus in dismissal just prior to filing of election ptn and patent implausibility of alternative rationales proffered by E)

6788 SHIFT OF GROUND IN EXPLAINING EMPLOYER'S ACTION

McLean Trucking Company 261 NLRB No. 112

(where E offered different reasons for Ees discharge at grievance proceeding and Bd hearing, such shifting of defenses indicates that Ee was unlawfully discharged)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072

(an unfavorable inference can be drawn from an E's shifting explanations for its treatment of an Ee)

6788—Cont.

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(inference drawn that Ee was discharged for U activity where E offered a myriad of reasons which E did not consistently maintain throughout hearing; rather, E vocillated over reasons underlying its discharge decision)

Roadside Mining Corporation a/k/a Gex of Colorado, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 079
(violation by discharge of U pusher where E vacillated between two asserted separate reasons for discharge-Ee's absenteeism and his lying about seriousness of his father's illness as reason for his absence; E called management meeting upon U pusher's return to work before knowing he had lied about his father's being hospitalized, then relied upon the lie as the reason for discharge notwithstanding lenient policy about excusing absences)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(layoff of Ee, assertedly because of lack of work, unlawful, where E now gives another reason for discharge relating to declining business, and E did not explain why it did not lay off Ees with less working tenure)

Austell Box Board Corporation 249 NLRB No. 044
(E's suspension and discharge of Ee violative, where explanation advanced by E was pretextual and real reason was Ee's stated intention to complain to Bd about allegedly discriminatory treatment, in view of shifting reasons proferred by E, weakness of work deficiencies cited against Ee for which he was not disciplined at time of occurence and their remoteness in time, and fact that E's decision to suspend Ee came immediately after he threatened to go to the Bd)

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 248 NLRB No. 037
(discharge of two Ees two days after manager learned they were leading contenders for vacant (U) steward's job, allegedly because of their poor workmanship, tardiness and absenteeism held violative where Ees' time cards and register tapes were not offered into evidence; management's reasons for firing Ees were shifting, belated and unsubstantiated)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townhouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(E failed to meet his burden under Wright Line where he contended that he decided not to employ engineers because of their poor work attitude, added that they were overpaid and unnecessary, and told one of them that he could not hire him because of technicalities; E's case was weakened by asserted justifications that were shifting and unreliable)

6788-5000 Conflicting reasons or inconsistent theories

Russ Togs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(defenses found shifting where E first contended that layoff was due to lack of work, then to laid-off Ees' intimidation of co-worker, than to their alleged promotion of a slowdown)

Swift and Company 250 NLRB No. 152

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 116
(violation where 3 days after U's demand for recognition, E discharged 7 Ees, the 7th being one of most competent and the principal U activist; E showed discriminatory motivation by retaining less competent Ees, by the timing and impact of discharges on organized Ees and inconsistent explanations)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of U adherent held unlawful where personnel record of adherent stated he was discharged for distributing literature on company time and E testified she was discharged for allowing unreasonable backlog in her work to accumulate since where shifting explanations offered for discharge of known U adherent Bd is justified in concluding neither reason is real reason and discharge was discriminatorily motivated)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073

Norman Mennikoff, Receiver in Bankruptcy for Mid-State Broadcasting Co., d/b/a WHLW 248 NLRB No. 155
(abrupt refusal to allow newscaster to leave on long scheduled vacation which had been approved by her immediate supervisor well in advance, assertedly because of E's lack of funds and/or because E was unhappy with Ee's replacements, violative, where Ee had filed charges and testified against E in prior Bd proceeding; E's defenses were shifting and inconsistent leading to inference of real reason for E's action)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of well known U adherent assertedly because he used profanity against restaurant hostess after he broke E's rule regarding seating customers held violative where reasons for discharge were fabricated and shifting)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of bartender-U adherent, assertedly for being away from his work, using customers', rather than Ees', restroom and not being properly attired held violative where shifting reasons were adopted by E to conceal discriminatory motive)

Apollo Clothes, Inc. JD-296-82
(shifting explanations for Ee's discharge, resting on self-serving inaccurate and inconsistent testimony, are evidence that E seeks to conceal true reasons for discharge because true reasons or causes (protesting homework and pursuing duties as U steward) are improper)

Anchor Contracting Corp. JD-231-80
(discharge of Ee who had filed grievances, unlawful, since for his protected activity rather than for alleged taking of unauthorized vacation or poor work where vacation authorized and in view of shifting reasons)

6790 STATEMENT MADE BY EMPLOYER CONCERNING DISCHARGE

Brooks Brothers, a Division of Garfinckel, Brooks Brothers, Miller & Rhoads 261 NLRB No. 130
(discharging experienced clothing salesman who signed U card, discussed U with other Ees and had been steward at prior E violative where several shortcomings alleged at hearing were not stated at exist interview)

6790-3300 After discharge

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(Ee's U activity was motivating factor for her discharge where, subsequent to discharge assertedly for tardiness and long coffee breaks, supervisors made statements to the effect that E was looking for reason to get rid of Ee because she was a U supporter and that, while Ee was dishcarged primarily because of tardiness, another reason was because E had known Ee had talked to another Ee about U)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 043
(E's statements to Ees that real reason for layoffs and department shutdown was because E could not afford to pay U wages and that E could not operate under U)

Southwest Detroit Hospital 249 NLRB No. 071
(fact that supervisor failed to state succintly proximate cause of discharge does not allow for invocation of pretext or shifting reasons theory against E)

6790-6700 Prior to or at time of discharge

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of formerly striking Ee assertedly for threatening violence against E's wife and house, unlawful, where Ee's denial of threat was credited, prior to discharge E made statement that he would have gotten rid of Ee but for U, and E exhibited virulent hostility toward ex-strikers generally)

6793 TIMING OF DISCRIMINATORY ACTION

Harper and Arterburn Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 692 F.2d 402 (C.A. 6, June 1982)
(timing alone is not sufficient evidence upon which to sustain ULP since fact that Ee was dismissed shortly after complaining about absence of U steward could not, by itself, erase just cause which otherwise existed for discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Naum Brothers, Inc. 637 F.2d 589 (C.A. 6, Mar 17, 1981)

Harvey's Wagon Wheel, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 550 F.2d 1139 (C.A. 9, 1980)

6793-1100 After employee questioned employer about benefits

Grocery Carts, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 140
(discharging Ee for unsatisfactory work one month after she asked general manager whether U would work, not violative as there was no evidence of U animus nor does question indicate Ee or any other Ee interested in or active on behalf of U)

General Meats, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 153
(harassment and assignment to less desireable job of Ee who asked critical questions at E sponsored meeting called to discuss profit sharing plan, found violative and her subsequent quitting found constructive discharge)

J. Teixeira Construction, Inc. JD-(SF)-265-80
(discharge of Ee who protested E's failure to pay him for stand by time as provided under contract, violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern Plasma Corp. 626 F.2d 1287 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(discharge of Ee for conduct at E-Ee meeting violative as Ees were discussing employment terms with E)

6793-1200 After employer gained knowledge of union activity

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(layoff of U adherents because of E's concern about the economy and lack of work caused by alleged loss of principal customer, held violative where E's concern with the economy had apparently been no more than academic until inception of U activity; principal customer was not lost, it was not paying (E) according to schedule (customer's account was 90 days past due). U activity was straw that broke the camel's back rather than principal customer's delinquency)

6793-1200—Cont.

Safety-Kleen Corporation 265 NLRB No. 011
(discharge of one of E's best salesman assertedly for falsification of records showing services performed as of certain time, which in fact, had not then been performed, held violative where Ee was discharged 1 day after E learned Ee was U adherent; several of Ee's improprieties were rejected by E himself as reason to terminate Ee; there was no evidence that Ee's actions harmed E or benefited Ee, and Ee had at time he turned in report informed supervisor that work had not been performed w/o reaction from supervisor)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146
(discharge assertedly for cause of Ee whose U activities had become known to E a few days earlier considered most convincing in finding discharge unlawful)

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(sudden termination of U adherent w/i two days of U's request for recognition w/o notice and before end of his work week together with E's interrogation of, and threats to, its Ees warranted inference of discriminatory motive)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001
(layoff of U adherents two days after E learned large extent of Ees' U activity held violative absent legitimate justification for E's action)

Caffe Giovanni, Inc. d/b/a Giovanni's 259 NLRB No. 031
(discharge of Ee, who had previously been offered permanent employment and a raise, only after E became aware of Ee's picketing, not unlawful, notwithstanding fabricated nature of E's defenses, timing of discharge, and Ee's knowledge of Ee's picketing activities, where Ee was discharged in normal course of his temporary employment on a summer vacation relief basis; and, while offer of permanent employment and raise may have constituted unlawful inducement to forego supporting U, such was not intended as a genuine offer)

A-W Washington Service Station, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of Ee violative where it was ordered in phone call from main office when that office called supervisor to ask about omission in employment application of new hire and was told that Ee was on leave to negotiate for U in regard to Ee's former place of employment)

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162
(circumstances, including timing of discharges upon E's learning of Ees' U activity and false explanation for discharges, size of plant, and fact Ees not circumspect in their discussions of U warrant inference that E's reference to Ees' attitude, as grounds for action, was allusion to their U sympathies)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(timing of discharge is persuasive evidence as to E's motivation)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(inference of discriminatory motive warranted where E would not reinstate Ee allegedly because E would no longer get along with Ee after Ee threatened ct action against E and, when considering how valuable Ee was to E, E would not so summarily have allowed Ee to leave had it not been for certain knowledge that E had of his very recent U activities)

Nevada County Publishing Co., d/b/a The Union 251 NLRB No. 143
(close timing of Ee's discharge and his engagement in U activities as well as unlawful interrogation of Ee supported finding that E unlawfully discharged Ee)

Mark J. Leach d/b/a Mark J. Leach Electrical Contractors 251 NLRB No. 151
(inference of discriminatory motive for Ees' discharges warranted in view of closer scrutiny of Ees' work performance which followed closely in time on advent of Ees' U activities and resulted in sudden and constant criticism of their work, numerous threats of discharge, and close timing of discharges in relationship to Ees' U activities)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharges unlawful since for U activities rather than for lack of business in view of E's U animus and ULPs and where it failed to act when surplus of Ees arose but acted only after it acquired knowledge of U organizing campaign, and, after discharges, hired new Ees)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153
(failure to promote leading U proponent known to E and advising him he was not eligible for promotion until he became more versatile in his work held violative where E assigned Ee only one type of work (welding) and two full time Ees were needed to perform work which discriminatee had performed with only part-time assistance)

Hadison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(final decision arrived at to lay off Ees)

The Halloran House 249 NLRB No. 113
(discharge violative, where E had knowledge of Ee's U activity, acted immediately against Ee w/o warning, and failed to provide any plausible explanation for its conduct; under circumstances, it was proper to infer that E's motive was discriminatory)

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073
(reassignment of U officer from machine operation where her work and performance were satisfactory, to bench work which was distasteful to her, held violative, where purposes was to discourage Ee so she would quit)

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of Ee w/i very short time E knew Ee was U officer held violative where E's reasons for discharging Ee were shifting and somewhat contradictory)

Digital Paging Systems of Toledo, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 015
(discharge of Ee unlawful since motivated by E's belief that she was sponsoring U activity rather than for lack of sales in view of discharge soon after U demanded recognition, notwithstanding Ee might have been discharged for cause at later date)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(suddenly transferring waiter and U organizer from his first choice station to another station for no reason and w/i 5 days after headwaiter learned of Ee's attending U meeting held violative)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(suspending two waiters, principal U organizers, w/i 5 days after learning of their U activity, for no reason during busiest day of week, violative)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(layoff of dishwasher, U solicitor of Spanish-speaking Ees, assertedly because business was really falling off drastically, violative, since layoff occurred soon after E learned of Ee's U activity; layoff actually was discriminatory discharge since E had no intention to recall Ee)

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 248 NLRB No. 037
(discharge of two Ees two days after manager learned they were leading contenders for vacant (U) steward's job, allegedly because of their poor workmanship, tardiness and absenteeism held violative where Ees' time cards and register tapes were not offered into evidence; management's reasons for firing Ees were shifting, belated and unsubstantiated)

Kenneth and Mary M. McGlaughlin, Copartners, d/b/a Hudson-High Super Duper 247 NLRB No. 199
(refusal to hire qualified job applicant because he was on strike at store where held part time job held violative where applicant's overall qualifications for position were unchallenged by E)

American Petrofina Company of Texas 247 NLRB No. 015
(Fact almost year had passed between U activity of alleged discriminatee and his discharge did not preclude finding of violation since mere passage of time does not gainsay discriminatory intent)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(discharge of Ee, U's financial secretary, assertedly because Ee had driven forklift at speed in excess of that permitted, damaged E's machinery and had record of habitual tardiness held violative since other Ees were not disciplined for same conduct; all discipline issued for damage to E's property occurred after Ee was discharged; E did not demonstrate same action would have taken place absent protected conduct)

Normike Contractors, Inc. JD-(NY)-51-81
(where E tolerated Ee's absences by rehiring him and rewarding him with wage increases, discharge of said Ee at time when U activity becomes known warrants inference that Ee's U activities rather than his attendance motivated discharge)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 666 F.2d 238 (C.A. 5, Jan. 1982)
(discharge of U activists, assertedly for faulty work, unlawful, in view of E's history, if not policy, of suffering these experienced Ees' minor infractions -- until the U ferment began; by contrast less outspoken Ees with comparably blemished records remained on payroll)

Anserphone, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 4 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee violative, where despite her conflicts with fellow workers and fact that she was subject to discharge for long period prior to actual discharge, circumstances support conclusion that timing of her discharge was more a result of her U activity than her work performance)

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(discharging U activist one day after E received written report of U activity, 2 days after Ee became actively involved and 4 days after E received polygraph report which showed Ee refused to cooperate in investigation of thefts is substantial evidence that Ee was discharged for U activity rather than polygraph report)

6793-1200—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(discharge of Ees active in obtaining signatures to U authorization cards, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that discharges were for economic reasons, where discharges were followed by E's statements that Ees had been too obvious in their U activities and that more workers would not be employed until this U thing was over)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)

(lapse of time between E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and Ee's change in duties and discharge did not negate inference of E's anti-U motivation, since supervisor's harassment of Ee (U adherent) originated during, and continued throughout, unionization period)

6793-1300 After union complained on behalf of employee

O'Devero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101

(layoff and failure to recall Ees who were members of craft U, unlawful, where motivated by Ees, complaining to management and U about E's failure to abide by contract in regard to coffee breaks, overtime pay and increased payrate prescribed therein, and performance of their work by members of another U, rather than for business reasons, in view of amount of work to be done and hiring of other Ees during layoff, and absent evidence laid off Ees less efficient than other Ees)

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast Divison 260 NLRB No. 061

(layoff of Ees in retaliation for U's pressing of legitimate complaint under contract, violative)

6793-2500 Coincidence with critical period in union movement

6793-2511 At height of union membership or organizational drive

Fairleigh Dickinson University 264 NLRB No. 098

(E withdrawing recognition from representative for its clerical and technical workers and barring its representatives from further participation on official university committees in retaliation against outside U's organizing campaign of these workers with assistance from representative violative, contention that representative was dominated organization, and therefore, E's action proper, rejected, in view of long time representative functioned; and E attempted to provide substitute organization; E may not exculpate itself for its violations on ground that its conduct was attempt to cure established pattern of conduct violative of Act)

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 007

(illegal motivation inferred from timing of E's conduct in discharging 2 Ees one day after they were interrogated about their U activities, and discharging third Ee two weeks after he had requested Ee-agent of E to sign U authorization card)

Dutch Boy, Inc., Glow-Lite Division 262 NLRB No. 001

(layoff of U adherents two days after E learned large extent of Ees' U activity held violative absent legitimate justification for E's action)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097

(mass discharge of unit members of window and door installation crew which worked under supervision of Ee who had special incentive arrangement with E, unlawful, since E failed to overcome GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation where discharge was 4 days after majority signed authorization cards, notwithstanding crew's unacceptable work and failure to work on weekend, where E rehired crew members for jobs outside unit; nor did cancellation of agreement by crew's leader justify discharge absent agreement that crew went if leader left)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

(leading U advocate being assigned to undesireable night shift, his demotion, disciplinary reprimands and eventual discharge held unlawful where valid grounds for E's actions were frequently false or exaggerated, adverse action against Ee occurred when Ee became in-plant spokesman for U and Ee who opposed advocate's election to U office was more tenderly treated for his acts of misconduct)

Lou Awald Chevrolet, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 113

(discharge unlawful where date of discharge was accelerated because of U activist's attempt to organize Ees; although activist was next in line for termination due to E's declining sales, timing of sudden and immediate discharge indicated E's frustration with Ee's U activities)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 153

(changing location, during U campaign, of coffeebreaks from Ees' cafeteria to E's maintenance department in order to more closely observe Ees, not violative where record contained insufficient evidence to show E's motives were for purpose proscribed by Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Porta Systems Corporation 625 F.2d 399 (C.A. 2, 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Dillon Stores, Division of Dillon Companies, Inc. 643 F.2d 687 (C.A. 10, Mar 2, 1981)

(lapse of time between E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and Ee's change in duties and discharge did not negate inference of E's anti-U motivation, since supervisor's harassment of Ee (U adherent) originated during, and continued throughout, unionization period)

6793-2517 Following demand for recognition

Coll-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012

(sudden termination of U adherent w/i two days of U's request for recognition w/o notice and before end of his work week together with E's interrogation of, and threats to, its Ees warranted inference of discriminatory motive)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Avis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 118

(during the week following, U's demand for recognition, Ee was discharged, two Ees were transferred to night shift, one Ee had hours reduced and monetary rewards and bonuses were withheld)

Mastell Trailer Corporation 258 NLRB No. 167

(E who closed up shop and discharged all Ees as soon as it was informed of impending U demand for recognition violated Act)

Liberty Homes, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 169

(E contracting out over-the-road delivery of its mobile homes and discharging drivers who performed delivery, not unlawful, notwithstanding subcontracting implemented after U had demanded recognition, where E had begun exploration of subcontracting and reached decision to subcontract prior to Ees seeking U representation and in view of E's financial losses and large capital outlay which would be required for desired replacement of inefficient gasoline powered tractors with diesel tractors)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176

(discharge of U activist assertedly because he was under doctor's restrictions from lifting heavy weight and such restriction prevented him from properly performing his work, violative where discharge occurred on day after U demanded recognition, E had demonstrated U animus, and E had knowledge of Ee's U activities)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176

(discharge of Ee, assertedly because he was not learning his machinist job fast enough, violative where discharge occurred on day after U demanded recognition, E had demonstrated U animus, and E had knowledge of Ee's U activities)

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 116

(violation where 3 days after U's demand for recognition, E discharged 7 Ees, the 7th being one of most competent and the principal U activist; E showed discriminatory motivation by retaining less competent Ees, by the timing and impact of discharges on organized Ees and inconsistent explanations)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 630 F.2d 928 (C.A. 2, 1980)

(removal of U adherent from driving assignment after U representatives communicated desire for recognition held violative where timing and circumstances supported finding that action was retribution for Ees U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)

(termination of Ees, unlawful, since for U activity, notwithstanding E had decided on staff reductions for economic reasons prior to knowledge of U activity; where after U's demand for recognition, E increased number of Ees to be laid off in department for which U sought recognition, made selection on basis of seniority rather than on basis of work performance as in other departments in order to reach U adherent, contrary to usual custom termination forms contained no indication of Ees' eligibility for rehire, and terminations were w/o advance warning)

6793-2533 Following election of union

Tru-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089

(E's propogating oral and written work rules, after election of U, prohibiting smoking, personal telephone calls and reception of visitors on company premises, etc. which rules were more arduous and onerous than work rules in effect before advent of U held violative, since rules were propogated solely in retaliation for Ees' voting for U)

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 039

(E's changing Ees' work week from four 10-hour days to five 8-hour days w/o notifying U held unlawful, since E was motivated by desire to punish its Ees because they voted for U to represent them and E did not afford U opportunity to bargain over action)

6793-2533—Cont.

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030

Huttig Sash and Door Company 263 NLRB No. 163

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150

(discharge, soon after U election, of known U advocate whom supervisors considered to be admirable Ee, assertedly for violating plant rule against knowingly altering, or falsifying time cards and reports, as well as payroll records violative where E had displayed considerable animus towards Ee it considered to be U kingpin; E never previously discharged any Ee for similar violation except two Ees found guilty of embezzlement and forgery respectively)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120

(cancellation of wage program, discontinuation of Christmas bonuses and turkeys, dismantling women's lounge w/o notice to U and in retaliation for U victory, violative)

Howard Johnson Company, d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 250 NLRB No. 071

(withholding wage increase from Ees who had chosen U held violative where Ees would have been granted raises under E's usual business practice; E intended to punish Ees because they voted for U)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167

(discharge of E's senior, most trusted Ee, immediately after E learned U won election violative where E had previously interrogated Ee and learned that he had voted for U)

6793-2555 Following union organizational meeting

Hassly Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-285-81

(layoffs of U adherents not unlawful, notwithstanding layoffs closely followed U meeting, absent E's knowledge of U activity and where justified by business considerations in view of order cancellations and declining sales)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)

(discharge of U advocates assertedly for disparaging E, inducing parents to withdraw their children from E's day-care center and unsatisfactorily performing their work, violative where discharge followed immediately upon U organizing activity and E's anti-U bias was amplysupported by record; false assertions of lawful purpose support inference that declarant's motive was unlawful)otive was unlawful)

6793-2566 Following unsuccessful election

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138

(post-election discharge assertedly because of Ee's poor attitude toward supervisors and fellow Ees, unlawful, where GC established prima facie case that Ee's U activity was motivating factor for discharge in view of E's knowledge of Ee's U activity, threats made to Ee and other Ees, and unlawful grant of bonus to Ee; and E failed to rebut GC's case in view of fact that E either ignored or condoned Ee's misconduct and failed to discipline him and, instead, promoted him and gave him bonus, and the only visible change in Ee's conduct was his U activity)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(E's imposition, after U had lost two certification elections, of so-called captain system and revised captain system which changed working conditions and method of compensating waiters and waitresses, not violative where new systems, although unpopular with some Ees, were no basis for constructive discharge, and were imposed equally upon all Ees, not only U sympathizers; E's motive was to increase sale of food and lack of discrimination detracted from E's anti-U animus)

6793-2588 Imminence of representation election

Anju Engineering Corporation 256 NLRB No. 161

(termination of known U activist allegedly for violating unwritten rule that indefinite medical leaves, such as she was given, were granted for only 3 months and if overstayed resulted in automatic termination, unlawful where there was no evidence that rule was clearly established or uniformly enforced, and E, who routinely gave extensions of medical leave freely, terminated excellent Ee, known to be extremely ill, for technical breach on election day, 11 days after she allegedly should have returned to work)

Sameric Corporation 253 NLRB No. 043

(terminating one Ee by eliminating his shift and transferring another Ee and subsequently promoting him to supervisory status, violative, where both were U adherents seeking representation election for unit comprising of only themselves)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 051

(unprecedented reshuffling, prior to election, of automobile salesmen's jobs, transferring them from new to used cars sales or vice versa and replacing or augmenting salesmen with untrained novices with little or no qualifications unlawful, in view of salesmen's experience and expertise in jobs they held; E's actions were prejudicial to salesmen's earnings, based on commissions)

Southern Farmers Association JD-47-82

(discharging Ee minutes before election, violative where E's reason, smoking in no-smoking area, was found pretextual)

R.E. Peterson Products, Inc., and Will Products, Inc. JD-285-80

(discharge of U adherent, driver-warehouseman, assertedly because E could not insure its vehicles if Ee, with poor accident record, continued to drive for E held violative where Ee's termination was accelerated to prevent Ee from voting in impending R election)

St. Regis Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 487 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(discharge and failure to reinstate Ees who struck E during critical period to gain recognition for U, rival of petitioner, not unlawful, since if E, during pendency of election proceedings, had recognized rival U as bargaining agent, it would have been guilty of interference with Bd's election procedures as well as ULP in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Circo Resorts, Inc., d/b/a Circus, Circus 646 F.2d 403 (C.A. 9, May 1981)

(while wage increases granted prior to election generally carry a presumption of illegal motive, E is entitled to justify timing of increase and, under unusual circumstances herein involving E's dilemma of choosing between Ees' protests over disparity in their wages or risk losing Ees when they were badly needed, Bd should have considered justifications offered and should not have based finding of violation solely upon timing of increase)

6793-5000 Coincidence with other unfair labor practices

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001

(suspension of U adherent who threw supervisor's hard hat into trash can for disorderly conduct and discourtesy to supervisor violative, since reason was U activity, in view of E's attempt to replace U with Ee committee, and further Ee thought hat belonged to another Ee rather than supervisor inasmuch as hat was color of hats worn by Ees rather than color of hats worn by supervisors)

Mark J. Leach d/b/a Mark J. Leach Electrical Contractors 251 NLRB No. 151

(inference of discriminatory motive for Ees' discharges warranted in view of closer scrutiny of Ees' work performance which followed closely in time on advent of Ees' U activities and resulted in sudden and constant criticism of their work, numerous threats of discharge, and close timing of discharges in relationship to Ees' U activities)

6793-5040 Discharge of other employees for union activity

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130

(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his support for drive to change bargaining representative to U not desired by E rather than for his insistence on having his lawyer present at interview regarding theft of company car where E had embarked on course of conduct aimed at dissuading Ees from changing bargaining representative which included previous unlawful termination, failed to give Ee explanation for discharge at time and then at hearing and in brief suggesting Ee was suspended or quit in addition to intimating he was discharged because of insistence on presence of lawyer)

6793-5060 Interrogation

Jones Ceilings, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 053

(timing of discharge 2 days after dischargee's conversation concerning U with E's president who solicited his grievance was sufficiently coincidental for GC to arguably make out a prima facie case that dischargee's protected activity was a motivating factor in discharge but insufficient to establish that discharge was discriminatorily motivated where E did not need or subsequently use 3 drivers, and dischargee was least senior driver)

Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107

(subjecting Ee to polygraph test because of his U activities and then discharging him after discovering from test that he was involved in theft of E's property violative because discharge direct product of unlawfully motivated test)

6793-7500 Following conspicuous union activity of discriminatees

M K Laboratories, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 021

(unlawful motive shown by timing of discharge of most active U steward who was discharged right before succeeding to position of enhanced authority over grievances and contract enforcement)

6793-7512 Active solicitation for union

IMCO/International Measurement & Control Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 180

(discharge of Ees who supported U in organizing effort and signed U cards, unlawful, particularly in view of E's expressed U animus as evidenced by giving of bonus/raise after U withdrawal of R ptn and use of unlawful shutdown as excuse for discharges and layoffs)

6793-7512—Cont.

Wayne Construction, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 082
(termination of truck driver, active U adherent with allegedly poor driving record, who walked off job after E's project superintendent admittedly told Ee that he would close down job before going U and said that Ee was through for good, we've got ways of taking care of things like this, and admitted driving record of Ee was used as pretense to discharge Ee, held violative)

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 053
(discharge of key U activist, in E's desire to reduce hours to cut expenses, assertedly because of Ee's poor attitude towards his work, his lateness and improper care of E's equipment held violative where E's records during this critical period showed Ees' hours were increasing rather than decreasing and 1 day after Ee was discharged E hired another experienced driver at same rate of pay as U activist)

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 053
(discharge of U activist, during economic downtown in E's business, assertedly for lack of work held violative where, during this critical period, E increased rather than decreased Ees' hours and only 7 days before U activist was discharged, E hired new driver after using activist on intermittent basis)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 651 F.2d 438 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(discharge of leading U advocate, whom supervisor said was good and dependable worker for 8 years prior to U campaign, assertedly because of business retrenchment and Ee's poor performance held violative, since Ee was never recalled when subsequent increase in (E's) business neccesitated hiring several new Ees and only w/i year prior to discharge did E find fault with Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(disciplinary warning notices issued by E to Ee (U ringleader) because of Ee's lateness, held violative where notices did not begin until commencement of U campaign; Ee had frequently been late prior to U campaign and had received no such notices)

6793-7519 Sponsoring or circulating petition regarding union

North State Supply Co., Inc. 247 NLRB No. 181
(discharge of Ee immediately after he embarked on U organizational campaign violative)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had circulated ptn for U and filed charge with NLRB, unlawful, where for U activity and invoking Bd processes rather than for insubordination in bringing E's broken truck back to E's headquarters w/o proper authorization where Ee had tried to obtain authorization from proper party, and unauthorized individual who told him to bring truck in was not reprimanded)

6793-7531 Participation in prior ULP proceeding

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for making changes in schedule sheet unlawful, since steward was performing customary duty in enforcing contract, and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(discharge of Ee allegedly for attending Bd hearing instead of getting bed rest for fatigue resulting from working and then filing workman's compensation claim, unlawful, since no evidence Ee ever filed claim and also in view of timing, E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and baselessness of E's asserted reason)

6793-7535 Wearing union insignia or button

Quality Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 142
(discharging new Ee, assertedly for opening packages with her teeth, violative where other Ees did this; furthermore, she spoke out against open shop at E meeting, was asked her name when she wore U button on election day and was discharged same day)

6793-7537 Attendance at union meeting

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(discharge of two long-term Ees, who were U adherents, because of E's planned redistribution of their functions held violative where they were only Ees E was able to identify from enlarged photograph of Ees who attended U sponsored rally and those two were immediately replaced by other Ees with little or no experience at work they assumed)

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(removal of 6 temporary Ees from regular part-time Ee list because they were not available for work on specified day, violative where reason for such action was based on fact that two of temporaries attended final U meeting before election)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(transfer of Ee-staff members by U council to different locations in their assignment of servicing U locals, unlawful, where action was in retaliation for their protected U and concerted activities; action came on heels of unlawful suspension of Ees for attending U meeting and for soliciting aid outside of labor organization, and closely followed council's attempt to prevent second U meeting involving U's attorney called to address, among other things, Ees' suspensions)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(discharge followed Ee's participation in U meetings called to consider E's disciplining of Ees and which E tried to prevent Ees from attending)

6793-7550 Membership on bargaining committee

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-319-82
(refusal to rehire principal dancer, member of U team negotiating with E for contract, for coming ballet season, assertedly because his technical ability was not as strong as needed, held violative where E's artistic director was shown to be unhappy with manner in which Ee carried out his representative functions)

6793-7562 Following bargaining efforts

Humes Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 159
(joint meeting between U and management at worksite)

6793-7563 Processing of grievances

Artley Incorporated 260 NLRB No. 107
(U steward who asserted good faith claim for premium pay under contract provision did not forfeit protection of Act when claim turned out not to be covered by contract and discharge violative)

Container Corporation of America 255 NLRB No. 184
(suspension of U steward for refusing to obey orders to return to work after general supervisor terminated grievance meeting, not unlawful, since general supervisor had acted in accordance with contractual grievance procedure in terminating grievance meeting and had not acted precipitously or in reprisal for steward's belligerent conduct or interfered with his protected participation in grievance meeting)

United States Postal Service 252 NLRB No. 083
(U steward's suspension after attempting to perform her duties as steward, unlawful where she was engaged in protected activity, notwithstanding she did not seek permission of supervisor as required under contract and refused to obey several direct orders to return to work as supervisor was bent on preventing steward from performing her official duties so any request would be futile and neither refusal to work nor distuption of work production and her conduct did not exceed acceptable bounds to lose protection of Act)

Swift and Company 250 NLRB No. 182
(discharge of U steward, who prior to stewardship was considered excellent Ee, assertedly because he disregarded E's rule concerning unexcused absences held violative where rule had been disobeyed by other Ees w/o E taking any disciplinary action of E failed to investigate defense to discharge that answering machine which received absentee reports had malfunctioned)

United States Steel Corporation 230 NLRB No. 069

United States Postal Service 250 NLRB No. 083
(suspending U steward for uttering obscenity toward supervisor in course of discussing possible grievance on behalf of unit Ee, unlawful)

Peavey Company 249 NLRB No. 110
(discharge of Ee unlawful in view of E's U animus and where motivated by Ee's protected activities as E had tolerated Ee's poor job performance for over 18 months until Ee instituted inquires into Ees' work grievances)

Hanson Rubber Company JD-290-82
(discharge of Ee for uttering obsenity during course of meeting with E dealing with contract provision concerning pay for negotiating sessions violative as Ee was engaged in protected concerted activity and his conduct was not so egregious to remove it from protection of Act where it was uttered in heat of an argument)

McLean Trucking Company JD-460-81
(refusing clerical unit Ees' U steward access to E's private offices to investigate grievence not violative where steward was provided with information he sought or was (credibly) told information would be provided on (his) request)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3
(E's singling out U steward for discharge for participation in work stoppage in violation of no strike clause and in contravention of his obligation as U officer to take steps to terminate work stoppage, not unlawful, since E entitled to take into consideration U official's greater responsibility, and

6793-7563—Cont.

hence greater fault, where basis for discharge was duty imposed by his office and not office as such; fact contract provision regarding obligation of U officers did not provide for discharge did not render discharge unlawful)

6793-7578 Leadership in union movement

GB's Trucking, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 131
(timing of termination held significant where Ee, who was leading U advocate, was terminated 8 days after conversation with E during which Ee expressed dissatisfaction with his employment and preference for U and E made a number of anti-U statements; E's reference to such prior conversation at time of discharge indicated his true motivation)

Public Service Planning and Analysis Corporation, d/b/a Airport Connection JD-(SF)-310-79
(discharge of Ee after he showed that he seriously intended to pursue what had earlier been a less-than-consistent interest in achieving collective representation for Ees which threatened to lead to breakdown of family relationship which E tried to maintain among its Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 651 F.2d 438 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(discharge of leading U advocate, whom supervisor said was good and dependable worker for 8 years prior to U campaign, assertedly because of business retrenchment and Ee's poor performance held violative, since Ee was never recalled when subsequent increase in (E's) business necessitated hiring several new Ees and only w/i year prior to discharge did E find fault with Ee)

6793-7581 Filing grievance

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170
(discharge of Ee unlawful, where for repeatedly complaining to U about working with another Ee in another department several hours a week who had serious body odor problem, rather than for insubordination for refusing to work with other Ee; Ee's statement in informal grievance meeting that she would not work with other Ee not insubordination since such postering not unusual in grievance meetings, Ee never actually refused assignment, and Ee had right to pursue grievance; further, E admitted Ee's work satisfactory)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 063
(discharge of truck driver lawful, since was for taking extended and unauthorized breaks, falsifying records required by E and government, idling tractor for long periods, rather than for filing grievances where Ee not militant U supporter and other Ees disciplined for similar offenses, and discharge would have taken place absent protected activity)

Denny's Foods, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 197
(E violated Act when it removed Ee from her substitute position as alternate receiver, a higher paying job, and used her solely as cashier because this was in retaliation for her having filed a grievance under the contract)

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast Division 260 NLRB No. 098
(issuance of warning to U steward for use of profane language violative where issued in retaliation for having filed grievance over supervisor's alleged opening of U mail)

American Interstate Freight Lines 258 NLRB No. 131
(refusing assignment of work to Ee on many occasion because he went to U concerning his employment complaints, including contract provision that called for guaranteed work week, violative)

Ran Tags, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 099
(where pattern of harrassment against two discriminatees did not begin until after E learned they were urging other Ees to grieve about E's underpayment of contractual wage rate and where the two Ees were not laid off until after E raised wages to level agreed upon in contract)

Valley Cabinet & Mfg., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 088

Burgess Mining & Construction Corp. 250 NLRB No. 033
(layoff of Ee, lawful, notwithstanding GC's contention that E laid off Ee because he had filed grievances, where there was no substantial evidence establishing animosity toward grievance procedure and against those who would invoke it and there was no disparate treatment demonstrating unlawful motivation)

Moro-Young Construction Company, A Division of Olsen Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-12-82
(discharging Ee from one jobsite and limiting duration of his employment at different jobsite by discharging him again held violative as reason for discharge was Ee's filing of U grievance involving rain gear two years earlier)

Home Life Insurance Company of America JD-111-81
(discharge of probationary Ee for filing grievance violative, notwithstanding Ee had no standing by virtue of terms of collective-bargaining agreement to file grievance during his probationary period)

J. Tolative Construction, Inc. JD-(SF)-265-80
(discharge of Ee who protested E's failure to pay him for stand by time as provided under contract, violative)

Anchor Contracting Corp. JD-231-80
(discharge of Ee who had filed grievances, unlawful, since for his protected activity rather than for alleged taking of unauthorized vacation or poor work where vacation authorized and in view of shifting reasons)

N.L.R.B. v. Eaton Corporation 623 F.2d 479 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for filing grievance rather than for failure to give proper notice of absence in view of evidence Ee told fellow Ee he would be absent and information was passed along to foreman)

N.L.R.B. v. Mr. A's Restaurant 647 F.2d 171(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 1981)
(unlawful to discharge Ee for filing grievance since filing of grievance protected under Act)

6793-7589 Acting as union election observer

N.L.R.B. v. First National Bank of Pueblo 623 F.2d 686 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(discharge of Ee not unlawful, since for unauthorized absence rather than for acting as U observor at election and attending U meetings, where Ee had received pay raise before and after election, and Ee had not asked for time off but simply informed supervisor she was taking day off)

6795 UNUSUAL SURROUNDING CIRCUMSTANCES

6795-1500 Formality and summary nature of dismissal

Traverse City Osteopathic Hospital 260 NLRB No 147
(violation where no credible evidence that leading Ee organizer refused direct work order, supervisor was aware of Ee's U activities and discharge was effectuated in summary fashion w/o talking to her or making any investigation)

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 056
(discharge of chief U organizer assertedly to make way for E returning from disability leave whom Ee herein had replaced, unlawful, in view of abruptness and timing of discharge, absence of explanation for summary termination a week before replaced Ee's scheduled return, and failure to give reason why Ee could not complete workweek)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(discharge occurred only 7 days after Ee had returned to work following his unlawful suspension)

6795-4000 Failure to consult supervisor regarding discharge

Virginia Apparel Corporation 264 NLRB No. 030
(discharging U activist for allegedly wasting time and showing contempt for supervisors held pretext where E demonstrated vindictiveness by publicly and loudly humiliating Ee by discharging her on work floor in presence of other Ees, did not consult with immediate supervisor before discharging her, and E did not discharge, suspend or warn other Ees for poor performance or work habits even in flagrant cases)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 260 NLRB No. 048

6795-5000 Refusal to reinstate employee who allegedly quit

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(E was under no obligation to rehire Ee upon withdrawal of her notice to quit, where E denied Ee's rescision of her resignation because E had made decision to close its store's bakery section in which Ee was employed)

6795-7000 Severe penalty for trivial offense

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 154
(discharging one of key U organizers 2 weeks before election assertedly for chipping brick from customer's loading dock held pretext as safety supervisor reported that no damage occurred, customer's E and Ee both laughed about incident at time and E never sought Ee's version of accident)

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 068
(while discipline may be extreme it does not follow ascribed reason for discharge is pretextual)

Luk, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 136

Industrial Label Corporation JD-(SF)-127-81
(discharge of Ee who solicited for U lawful, where for lying; contention E's defense not sufficient to overcome GC's prima facie case in view of fact discharge harsh penalty for offense, rejected; where stated in E's policy manual dishonesty grounds for automatic dismissal, E had not condoned similar behavior previously, E consistently relied on same grounds as reason for dismissal, and no prevasive U animus; where unlawful motive not proven, Bd will not substitute its judgment for E's even if E's decision seems unreasonable)

Gladwin Corporation JD-568-80
(sudden layoff of U activist assertedly for violation of E's rule restricting carrying and consumption of alcoholic beverages oncompany premises held violative where Ee was seen drinking beer on his own time on E's parking lot, an admitted borderline violation, which behavior was treated w/same severity as obvious case of intoxication 12 years previously)

6795-7000—Cont.

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of U adherent who, as result of sloppy compressed appearance of vacation sign up sheet, mistakenly thought he was to be on vacation and failed to report to work, where after error was discovered supervisor could have requested him to work and did not, there was interferance with production, and in view of e's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority and triviality of error)

6795-8000 Suddenness of employer's decision

Mills Patrol Service, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 065
(discharging valuable Ee immediately after he asked E about obtaining sick benefits, medical coverage and U representation held prima facie showing that E was motivated by desire to discourage U activities)

Mueller Insulation Co. and The Mueller Company of Missouri, Inc., Successor Employer and/or Alter Ego 263 NLRB No. 095

Jacobo Marti & Sons, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 007
(illegal motivation inferred from timing of E's conduct in discharging 2 Ees one day after they were interrogated about their U activities, and discharging third Ee two weeks after he had requested Ee-agent of E to sign U authorization card)

Cera International Corporation 262 NLRB No. 071
(discharging Ee, who had distributed cards, peremptorily in middle of pay period violative where plant manager admitted quality of Ee's work was good and that no Ee in stable workforce had been discharged for 9 months)

Coil-Aer, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(sudden termination of U adherent w/i two days of U's request for recognition w/o notice and before end of his work week together with E's interrogation of, and threats to, its Ees warranted inference of discriminatory motive)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 260 NLRB No. 048

A-W Washington Service Station, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of Ee violative where it was ordered in phone call from main office when that office called supervisor to ask about omission in employment application of new hire and was told that Ee was on leave to negotiate for U in regard to Ee's former place of employment)

Western Marine Electronics, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of Ee who had joined U and filed grievance contending he was covered by bargaining contract and was not receiving contract wage or benefits, unlawful, since motivated by hostility towards Ee and unionization in non-U sector of plant, in view of E's other ULP's including transfer of Ee, recent good evaluation of Ee, and suddeness of discharge while Ee's assignment incomplete and prior to end of pay period)

Harrison Steel Castings Company 262 NLRB No. 059
(percipitous discharge of 2 Ees w/o any investigation of their side who were not included in unit being organized for not attending anti U rally, violative)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(discharge)

Elizabeth Motors, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 161

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(for Ee's first violation)

The Halloran House 249 NLRB No. 113
(discharge violative, where E had knowledge of Ee's U activity, acted immediately against Ee w/o warning, and failed to provide any plausible explanation for its conduct; under circumstances, it was proper to infer that E's motive was discriminatory)

Norman Mauerhoff, Receiver in Bankruptcy for Mid-State Broadcasting Co., d/b/a WHLW 248 NLRB No. 155
(severe reaction and total intransigency to alleged problem (leaving on long scheduled vacation) which at best was precipitated by E's own management is clear evidence of pretext)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(suddenly transferring waiter and U organizer from his first choice station to another station for no reason and w/i 5 days after headwaiter learned of Ee's attending U meeting held violative)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(suspending two waiters, principal U organizers, w/i 5 days after learning of their U activity, for no reason during busiest day of week, violative)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(suspension of U committeeman for allegedly stealing customer receipts, violative, when made w/o prior warning and Ee told that you have a lawyer referring to U's counsel)

Irwin County Electric Membership Cooperative 247 NLRB No. 195
(discharge by utility company of Ee allegedly for criticizing company in violation of rule for showing favoritism in restoring service w/o payment to those customers on whose behalf members of its board intervened, unlawful, since discharge was for Ee's U activities in view of E's U animus, plus threats of discharge or suspension for U activity, precipitousness of discharge, delay in discharging after Ee's criticism of it, and fact no other Ee had been discharged for voicing criticism)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because of his insubordination when he showed his displeasure over learning his hours had been reduced by exhibiting nonverbal show of temper, held violative, since he was good Ee fired w/o warning, his show of temper was not serious and E, upon learning of Ee's U activity, suggested Ee seek other work)

K.T.V.B., Inc. JD-(SF)-53-81
(E failed to show that U leader would have been discharged absent his U activity, in view of haste of discharge and inferm reasons advanced by E)

Gladwin Corporation JD-568-80
(sudden layoff of U activist assertedly for violation of E's rule restricting carrying and consumption of alcoholic beverages oncompany premises held violative where Ee was seen drinking beer on his own time on E's parking lot, an admitted borderline violation, which behavior was treated w/same severity as obvious case of intoxication 12 years previously)

Albany Steel and Brass Corporation JD-227-80
(discharge of admittedly very knowledgeable Ee assertedly because of his absenteeism and for his job deficiencies held violative where E terminated Ee forty minutes after being notified that Ee intended to seek assistance from Bd concerning his pension dispute with E; discharge was precipitous and in middle of pay period)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(termination of Ees, unlawful, since for U activity, notwithstanding E had decided on staff reductions for economic reasons prior to knowledge of U activity; where after U's demand for recognition, E increased number of Ees to be laid off in department for which U sought recognition, made selection on basis of seniority rather than on basis of work performance as in other departments in order to reach U adherent, contrary to usual custom termination forms contained no indication of Ees' eligibility for rehire, and terminations were w/o advance warning)

6795-9000 Transfer of department to new plant without offer of transfer to employee

N.L.R.B. v. Borg Warner Corporation, et al. 660 F.2d 324 (C.A. 6, Oct. 1981)
(termination of Ees as result of transferring operations from unionized subsidiary to nonunionized subsidiary, violative, where E wished to hold wages paid to Ees at non-unionized subsidiary to levels below those then paid to unionized Ees; such refusal to transfer unionized Ees to other subsidiary w/o prior negotiations held inherently destructive of Ee rights)

8300 AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES TO CHARGES OF DISCRIMINATION

8301 GENERALLY

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(treating E's plea of legitimate business reason for discipline as affirmative defense was consistent with Bd's method of deciding cases involving violation of Section 8(a)(3))

8301-2000 Act does not interfere with normal rights of employer to select employees or discharge them

Former Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035
(E did not violate Act by failing to discharge its permanent replacements when it reinstated striking Ees as there is not duty to discharge permanent replacements when reinstating economic strikers)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 1, Sep. 1981)
(purpose of section 10(c) is to make it abundantly clear that Bd is not to interfere with exercise by Es of their traditional right to discharge Ees for adequate cause)

8301-4000 Act permits discharge for any reason other than union activity

Blue Bird Body Company 251 NLRB No. 196
(discharge of active U adherent for goofing off not violative where GC failed to prove by preponderance of evidence that discharge was motivated in whole or part by Ee's U activity)

Liberty Parking, Inc. JD-4-81
(discharge of Ee who attended grievance proceeding for fellow Ee, not unlawful, where E denied Ee permission to be absent after being informed that Ee had not contribution to make at grievance hearing, and Ee left job anyway leaving it understaffed; contrary to contention Ee's shop steward candidacy was not factor in his discharge)

8301-4000—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(in given discharge case it must be decided whether E acted because of Ee's U affiliation, or whether he acted because of some factor unrelated to Ee's U status)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(Act is violated only when E with anti-U animus discharges Ee he would not have fired but for Ee's U activity)

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(discharge of 13 of 16 unit Ees for leaving work during working hours, contrary to express orders from E, to attend en masse R hearing, not unlawful, notwithstanding Ees agreed to makeup time lost since E had volunteered to permit one Ee to attend hearing in representative capacity and permitting essentially entire production force to defy E's instructions would disrupt E's productive ability; E's rights in instant case were paramount to Ees' rights; discrimination not in issue)

8301-4033 Employer's mistaken belief as to existence of valid cause precludes discharge being violation of Act

Ferry Cap & Set Screw Company JD-671-80
(suspension of U committeeman allegedly for walking off job because management failed to meet with him and other Ees, violative, where Ee tried to arrange meeting between Ees and management about working conditions and he had informed his supervisors of medical appointment and would not work that day of meeting)

8301-4067 Employer's mistaken belief as to protected nature of activity immaterial

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U member on day after E was mistakenly informed that she told Ees to walk out in protest over working conditions, unlawful, where E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, never asked Ee what she had told Ees; moreover, if Ee had tried to organize walkout, it would have constituted protected concerted activity, and discharge in mistaken belief that Ee was engaged in such activity is unlawful)

8301-6000 Mixed motives; other grounds immaterial if encouragement or discouragement was also purpose

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(ALJ's statement that by Bd's decision in Wright Line Bd has obviated the 'perceivable significance' between pretext and dual motive cases held overly broad; see Limestone Apparel Corp., 255 NLRB No. 101)

Royal Development Company, Limited 257 NLRB No. 149
(Bd found no need to decide here whether Wright Line test of dual-motivation discharges was appropriate for analyzing 8(a)(4) cases, since, although ALJ used Wright Line causation test in analyzing motivation for both 8(a)(3) and 8(a)(4) complaint allegations herein, there was no proof that E relied on any legitimate reason for its refusal to employ charging party)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discipline decision in dual motive case involves: (1) legitimate business reason, and (2) E's reaction to its Ees' engaging in U or other protected activities)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(difference between dual motive case and pretext case is that in latter case E's affirmative defense of business justification is wholly w/o merit)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(Mt. Healthy, 429 U.S. 274 (1977), procedure accomodates legitimate competing interests inherent in dual motivation cases, while at same time serving to effectuate policies and objectives of Section 8(a)(3) of Act)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(causation test to be followed in all cases alleging violations of Sec. 8(a)(3) or Sec. 8(a)(1) turning on E motivation: (1) GC required to make out prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected activity was a motivating factor in E's decision; and after this is established, (2) burden shifts to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place in absence of protected conduct)

Alfred M. Lewis, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 183
(Bd held that Ee's discharge, allegedly for his bad attitude and low production, was instead solely a result of E's unlawful production quota and disciplinary systems, since Ee's attitude toward E's unlawful production quotas caused his low production, and his attitude had developed, as reaction to E's counseling implemented as part of unlawful disciplinary system; Ee had refused counseling, as was his right, and his failure to accept it was not legitimate basis for discharge)

Charles Dean d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154
(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation may be inferred from record as whole; economic justification no defense to discriminatory discharges or lay offs if selection of those Ees effected was because of their U activities)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(discharge motivated only in part by anti-U discrimination is illegal)

Digital Paging Systems of Toledo, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 015
(discharge of Ee unlawful since motivated by E's belief that she was sponsoring U activity rather than for lack of sales in view of discharge soon after U demanded recognition, notwithstanding Ee might have been discharged for cause at later date)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(result of partial motivation test was to immunize U activists against legitimate discipline for genuine offenses, and to deprive Es of freedom to apply their own rules uniformly to all their Ees)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(ct here noted another ct's observation that in pretext case, the asserted business reason is discredited leaving only impermissible reason, while in mixed motive case the relative causative force of E's reasons is compared against impermissible reason to determine whether latter is moving cause; Lippincott Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 661 F.2d 112, cited)

Behring International, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 675 F.2d 83 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)
(Wright Line but for test satisfies ct's requirement that Bd seek real motive or real cause for Ee's discharge)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(mere U membership or concerted activity does not insulate Ee from being disciplined for just cause, and when E has come forward with evidence of legitimate and substantial business justification for disciplining Ee, burden is on Bd not simply to declare disciplinary action pretextual because there is some evidence of improper motive, but to find an affirmative and persuasive reason why E rejected the good cause and chose a bad one; in carrying such burden, Bd must produce substantial evidence of anti-U motivation)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1168 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(where valid reason to discharge Ee exists, it is not sufficient in order to establish violation for Bd to declare that reasons were pretextual but burden which is on Bd is not simply to discover some evidence of improper motive, but to find affirmative reason why E rejected good cause and chose bad one and to present substantial basis of believable evidence pointing toward unlawful one)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(fact that GC bears burden of persuading Bd improper motive moved E to discharge Ee means that Bd must find against GC if its collective mind is equipoise on question whether discharge stemmed from proper or improper motive)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(if Bd makes finding of discriminatory discharge, ct must enforce finding if reasonable person might have concluded from entire record that improper motive moved E to discharge Ee; but if ct decides that reasonable person could only have either concluded that proper motives moved E to discharge or been unable to conclude whether proper or improper motives moved E, ct must refuse to enforce Bd's finding of discriminatory discharge)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(E can best show improper motives did not move it to discharge Ee by adducing proof that other Ees were discharged for same reason that Ee was discharged, where there is no suggestion that other Ees were discharged for improper motive)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(illegality of discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because of his refusal to obey order to assist with heavy unloading work upheld where substantial evidence justified Bd's conclusion that asserted reason for discharge was pretextual; discharge was mixed motive firing; E's anti-U animus and other anti-U actions justified Bd's conclusion)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, Mar 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Nevis Industries, Inc., d/b/a Fresno Townehouse 647 F.2d 905 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(Wright Line rule found consistent both with legislative history showing intent to require E to reveal that Ee was discharged for cause and with reality of [illegible] having best access to proof of motivation; also it strikes acceptable [illegible]ance between protecting Ees' rights and preserving E's rights to discharge Ees for valid business reasons)

8301-6000—Cont.

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(if discharge is motivated by both legitimate business consideration and protected U activity, improper motive must be shown to be dominant one for discharge to be violative)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Bank of Pueblo 623 F.2d 686 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(once E comes forward with legitimate motive for dismissal, burden that discharge was unlawfully motivated, or improper notice contributed to discharge, on Bd; burden of establishing discharge was unlawfully motivated must be met by substantial evidence)

8301-6020 Valid cause for discrimination no defense

Rose's Stores, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 076
(mere presence of possible valid reason (bad attitude) for discipline does not insulate discharge (for protected activity) if those reasons were not, in fact, reasons for discharge)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(E's unlawful reasons for action must be motivating factor in its decision rather than constituting only part of reason; GC must make prima facie showing to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor... once this is established, burden shifts to E to demonstrate same action would have taken place absent protected conduct)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discipline decision in dual motive case involves: (1) legitimate business reason, and (2) E's reaction to its Ees' engaging in U or other protected activities)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(causation test to be followed in all cases alleging violations of Sec. 8(a)(3) or Sec. 8(a)(1) turning on E motivation: (1) GC required to make out prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected activity was a motivating factor in E's decision; and after this is established, (2) burden shifts to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place in absence of protected conduct)

Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107
(subjecting Ee to polygraph test because of his U activities and then discharging him after discovering from test that he was involved in theft of E's property violative because discharge direct product of unlawfully motivated test)

RMX, Inc. JD-383-80
(termination of Ee unlawful, notwithstanding E had legitimate cause to discharge Ee for his insubordination, where Ee would not have been discharged absent his U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(E in section 8(a)(3) discharge case has no more than limited duty of producing evidence to balance, not to outweigh, evidence produced by GC; E has burden of going forward to meet prima facie case, but not burden of persuasion on ultimate issue of existence of violation; i.e., that there would be no discharge but for E's protected activity)

8301-6025 8(a)(3) not sustained where lawful and illegal motive may be equally inferred

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(test of causation for cases alleging violations of Section 8(a)(3) of act found through analysis akin to that of SCt in Mt. Healthy City School District Board of Education v. Doyle, 429 U.S. 274 (1977))

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(causation test to be followed in all cases alleging violations of Sec. 8(a)(3) or Sec. 8(a)(1) turning on E motivation: (1) GC required to make out prima facie showing sufficient to support inference that protected activity was a motivating factor in E's decision; and after this is established, (2) burden shifts to E to demonstrate that same action would have taken place in absence of protected conduct)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 2, Sep. 1981)
(result of partial motivation test was to immunize U activists against legitimate discipline for genuine offenses, and to deprive Es of freedom to apply their own rules uniformly to all their Ees)

McLean Trucking Company v. N.L.R.B. 626 F.2d 1168 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(where valid reason to discharge Ee exists, it is not sufficient in order to establish violation for Bd to declare that reasons were pretextual but burden which is on Bd is not simply to discover some evidence of improper motive, but to find affirmative reason why E rejected good cause and chose bad one and to present substantial basis of believable evidence pointing toward unlawful one)

8301-6027 Inference of discrimination not overcome

RAHCO, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 030
(Bd affirmed ALJ's findings of ULPs where GC's prima facie showing was sufficient to support inference that protected conduct was motivating factor in E's decision and E failed to show same decision to change Ees conditions of employment would have occurred even in absence of protected conduct)

Allied Eastern States Maintenance Corporation, A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Allied Maintenance Corporation 261 NLRB No. 107
(fact that unlawfully discharged Ee was subsequently re-hired 4 months later and after charges filed, not conclusive proof of E's unlawful motivation)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 066
(discharge of U advocates assertedly because one was unmarried woman and other was most undesirable Ee who did mediocre work in E's accounts receivable department, held violative, since unmarried woman argument was unjustified and other Ee had received very good to outstanding performance rating from her supervisor; defenses were contrived and incredible)

8304 DISCRIMINATEE'S ACCEPTANCE OF OTHER EMPLOYMENT PRIOR TO TIME FOR RECALL

Waveline, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 087
(economic striker did not abandon his job with struck E by taking temporary job with another E during strike; moreover, Ee was discharged by other E before strike ended and Ee subsequently informed E of his interest in returning to work)

8305 NO VACANCY

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(initial failure to reinstate economic striker justified where position was open only occasionally, but later failure to reinstate him when vacancy in position existed and was filled by promoting strike replacement, unlawful)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(no violation by transferring guards to production jobs instead of reinstating economic strikers where guards had originally been hired as permanent replacements in production jobs before strikers offered to return to work, were temporarily transferred to jobs as guards, then returned to their original production jobs)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(E's policy of offering special-rated jobs to unreinstated strikers only if none of permanent strike replacements were qualified for and wanted jobs, violative as these job openings were vacancies and required posting under expired contract; effect was to make it less likely that strikers would be reinstated to higher-paying positions and amounted to preference to those who did not strike; such preference was inherently distructive of Ee rights eliminating necessity of proving discriminatory motivation of E)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(recall of permanent replacements from alleged leave of absence instead of reinstating economic strikers, violative because none of departures was originally placed on official leave of absence and retroactive grant of such leave cannot be permitted to avoid reinstating strikers)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(filling temporary job with strike replacements who had quit held not violative as temporary job was not vacancy to which striker should have been reinstated)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(transfer of security guards into production jobs because E didn't need them after strike, violative because they were hired as temporaries. E's asserted good faith in hiring them and not wishing to terminate them does not constitute business reason for transferring them into available production positions instead of reinstating strikers)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(where E failed to offer strikers reinstatement as vacancies arose, finding of anti-U motivation unnecessary as harm to strikers is relatively great and no business justification shown by E)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(layoff of permanent replacement who had been given definite expectation of recall did not create vacancy notwithstanding striker had greater seniority than replacement)

8307 BUSINESS MANAGEMENT CONSIDERATIONS

House of Cycle, Inc., t/a Key Motors 264 NLRB No. 137
(E's imposing new rules that prohibited salesmen from using their demonstration cars after drinking any liquor and restricted use of general manager's office to cross from one showroom to another after U requested recognition, not unlawful where rules had legitimate business objectives of minimizing hazardous operation of company owned vehicles and curtailing unnecessary traffic through general manager's office)

8307—Cont.

Tempglass, Inc. JD-80-82
(no violation where, layoff of 20% of work force was because of 20% decrease in orders and in anticipation of recession rather than because of Ees' U activities)

8307-0100 Generally

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 027
(fact layoffs may be economically justified is no defense if selection of laid off Ees is for discriminatory reasons)

Miami Foundry Corporation 252 NLRB No. 002
(termination of Ees, not unlawful, where not motivated by anti-U animus but by legitimate financial considerations)

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(treating E's plea of legitimate business reason for discipline as affirmative defense was consistent with Bd's method of deciding cases involving violation of Section 8(a)(3))

East Wind Enterprises 250 NLRB No. 101
(burden on E to show layoff was motivated by business considerations where GC had established prima facie case of unlawful layoff)

Safety Line, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 075
(discharge of U adherent working only part-time not violative where he was given choice of working full time to fulfill E's need for greater production or being discharged, and he did not choose to work full time)

Texas Instruments Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 1067 (C.A. 1, 1979)
(E's asserted defense of business justification to discharge pursuant to valid rule is to be weighed with some delicacy and deference; Bd may not substitute its business judgment for E's, rather there must be weighing of relative strengths of good and bad motivations, not to determine how Bd would have behaved under similar circumstances, but to determine what in fact motivated E)

Midwest Stock Exchange, Inc., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1255 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(ct held contrary to Bd that change in sick leave policy shortly after U victory in representation election was not unlawful, since timing alone did not justify conclusion that change was discriminatory, and record showed E's economic reason was to make department's policies on sick leave uniform with those of other departments)

8307-0150 Economic necessity does not justify ULP

Milwaukee Spring Division of Illinois Coil Spring Company 265 NLRB No. 028
(E's decision to relocate work from U to non-U plant, to layoff Ees as consequence during term of agreement solely because of higher labor costs, absent U's consent, is midterm repudiation of agreement in violation of Sec. 8(d), Sec. 8(a)(1), (3), (5); moreover, U did not waive right to bargain notwithstanding managements rights clause; such clause reserves for E right to decide whether and how products will be manufactured; it does not grant E right to transfer its operation. Thus, absent explicit language, U has not waived its right to object to E's decision)

Albion Corporation d/b/a Brooks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 104
(on ct remand, Bd affirmed ALJ's conclusion that refusal to reinstate strikers during negotiations except on condition that U agree to contract acceptable to E was not justified by its precarious financial situation; while E's economic situation may have justified its proposing reduction in wages, it was not established that economic necessity justified its refusal to reinstate strikers except on its own terms; E's position that to reinstate strikers at higher rates was unrealistic was w/o merit, since mutually acceptable agreement may have been reached if E had met its statutory obligation)

Albion Corporation d/b/a Brooks, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 104
(on ct remand, Bd affirmed ALJ's conclusion that refusal to reinstate strikers during negotiations except on condition that U agree to contract acceptable to E was not justified by its precarious financial situation; while E could avoid such a situation by discharging strikers and replacing them with individuals willing to work at lesser rates, such conduct would constitute a unilateral action frustrating negotiations and an evasion of duty to bargain on questions which are subject to compulsary bargaining)

Charles Dean d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154
(direct evidence of discriminatory motivation may be inferred from record as whole; economic justification no defense to discriminatory discharges or lay offs if selection of those Ees effected was because of their U activities)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)
(under section 8(a)(3) test is whether U activity was moving cause behind Ee's discharge; E may not use business reason as pretext for discharge which is motivated by anti-U animus. Bd need not credit E's selfserving statement that Ee was discharged for cause)

8307-1300 Subcontracting

Liberty Homes, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 169
(E contracting out over-the-road delivery of its mobile homes and discharging drivers who performed delivery, not unlawful, notwithstanding subcontracting implemented after U had demanded recognition, where E had begun exploration of subcontracting and reached decision to subcontract prior to Ees seeking U representation and in view of E's financial losses and large capital outlay which would be required for desired replacement of inefficient gasoline powered tractors with diesel tractors)

8307-1400 Change to independent contractor system

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016
(institution of changes in methods of operation designed to change Ees' status to that of independent contractors, violative)

8307-2200 Reorganization

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(discharge of two long-term Ees, who were U adherents, because of E's planned redistribution of their functions held violative where they were only Ees E was able to identify from enlarged photograph of Ees who attended U sponsored rally and those two were immediately replaced by other Ees with little or no experience at work they assumed)

Union Packing Co. 260 NLRB No. 064
(temporary transfers of Ees, not unlawful since they were not motivated by Ees' minimal U activities, as alleged, but by business considerations where unanticipated absence of one experienced Ee resulted in chain of temporary transfers throughout plant)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(U council's transfer of Ee-staff members to different locations in their assignments of servicing U locals held not motivated by legitimate business considerations, where Ees were experienced lobbyists for council in state legislature in their original assignments; Ees were not given notice of intent to transfer them; only after council had taken issue with Ees' attendance at U meeting and after their return from unlawful suspension were transfers announced; and only Ees herein were singled out from among other Ees E intended to reassign)

8307-2800 Discontinuance of department, operation, or shift for economic reasons

Division of Plessey Materials Corporation, Plessey Micro Science, A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Plessey Inc. 263 NLRB No. 182
(no violation where E effectively rebutted GC's prima facie case that night shift was eliminated in response to U organizing; proof of engineering turnover, inexperience and opposition to night work dealing with new process, was conclusive that decision was made for nondiscriminatory reasons)

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001
(discharge of Ee who signed U card at request of supervisor allegedly because he closed one theatre for winter and, therefore, needed to reduce staff, biolative where E traditionally employed 3 during winter and discharge left him with only 2 Ees; E had not discharged anyone in 18 years, and Ee was hired as replacement for another)

U.S. Contractors, Inc., and The Dow Chemical Company, U.S.A., Texas Division 257 NLRB No. 192
(contractor, engaged in providing maintenance and construction services for facility of petro-chemical industry, who terminated its custodial business entirely and laid off its entire janitorial work force w/o consulting with certified U representing custodial Ees, not in violation of Act where marginal profitability of janitorial division had turned into loss; E's actions were founded upon substantial economic factors rather than being motivated by unlawful considerations)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-292-80
(changing starting time for Ee for allegedly refusing to withdraw several grievances, not unlawful, where grievant was not only Ee put on later starting time and change in mode of delivery of product from use of railroad to use of trucks made it unnecessary for Ee to report to work early; no evidence cast doubt of E's decision to effect small financial saving by cutting hour off combined shifts of Ees involved)

8307-2850 Not real reason

Behring International, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 055
(E's economic defense to layoff of warehouse Ees on ground that subcontracting its warehouse labor ultimately could be financially beneficial, rejected, where E was motivated , at least in part, by desire to reduce possibility of another U election in future)

8307-3800 Efficiency drive

The Long Island Radio Company d/b/a All Shores Radio Corp. JD-(NY)-71-81
(discharge of U adherents, not unlawful, where discharges were result of E's desire, upon acquisition of radio station, to improve performance, ratings, and competitive position in industry by course of conduct which included review and consideration of staff replacements, changes in music format opposed by these Ees, and initiating regular critiques of each Ees' performance)

8307-3500—Cont.

Modular Designs, Inc. JD-(SF)-271-81
(no violation where new manager's course of conduct involving oral and written reprimands which eventually lead to discharges was motivated by desire to improve efficiency and started when he obtained authority to run plant at least a month prior to U organizing campaign)

8307-3550 Not real reason

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(transfer of U leader to less desirable job assertedly in the interest of increasing production, violative where her pre-transfer job was reassigned to less-experienced person, E was hostile toward U adherents, and the transfer came about the next working day after she testified for U in RC-case)

8307-3700 Avoidance of travel pay

Heck's Properties, Incorporated, Engineering Division and/or Mountaineer Investment Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 071
(Ee's quitting after his reinstatement pursuant to settlement agreement when E refused to continue its prior policy of furnishing free lodging for non-resident Ees when utlized on non-U jobs beyond commuting distance from their homes held unlawful constructive discharge since E's action had intent of frustrating settlement agreement so as to discourage Ees from seeking redress under Act)

8307-4200 Poor productivity

Knogo Corporation 265 NLRB No. 130
(demotion and reduction in salary of U adherent not violative where such actions were taken because of Ee's poor work record and not because Ee engaged in U activities)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001
(discharge of Ee assertedly for being out of his work area and for nonproductivity held not unlawful, even though Ee had engaged in protected concerted activity, where Ee's claim that he had to use toilet facility because of diarrhea was rejected where Ee admitted his need was not imminent; he had ample time to take care of his needs before then; and his testimony was untrustworthy leading to conclusion that pique about overtime work, not physical illness, caused his unprotected action in refusing to work and defying foreman's instructions to go to work)

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054
(discharge of Ee assertedly for poor productivity and Ee's statement vowing not to meet production standard, not unlawful, absent evidence of E's knowledge of, or animus against Ee's U activity; moreover, no basis exists for concluding that reason given at time of discharge was not sole motivating cause for discharge)

N.L.R.B. v. Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 646 F.2d 706 (C.A. 1, Apr 1981)
(discharge of two U adherents assertedly for low productivity violative, where although plans had been made to fire some Ees for inefficiency, E failed to substantiate claim that U adherents herein fell into that category; and E had warned these Ees about their U activity two days before their discharge)

8307-4250 Not real reason

Humes Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 159
(dischafge of lineman, U steward, assertedly for his lack of production and attitude held violative where E's decision to terminate lineman was grounded in Ee's participation in joint meeting of U and management wherein Ee sought larger crews to install utility poles over rugged terrain of jobsite contrary to E's economic interest; E did not establish Ee would have been discharged absent Ee's participation in joint meeting)

Delta Faucet Company, a Division of Masco Corporation of Indiana 251 NLRB No. 071
(E giving Ee written warning and 3 day suspension in reprisal for his leading role in U organizational campaign, unlawful; E's contention that Ee produced less than other department Ees was pretext for warning and suspension)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

Stearns-Roger, Inc. JD-10-81
(layoff of qualified pipefitter assertedly because his production was low held violative where other pipefitters were hired from U hall one week after Ee was laid off and precipitating cause of layoff was Ee's complaint that lifting of iron grates was being done by pipefitters rather than ironworkers which work Ee, and others considered to be w/i jurisdiction of ironworkers)

Garden State Motors Co. JD-160-80

8307-4800 Suitability of probationary employee

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 111
(refusal of E to process grievance over discharge of probationary Ee because of his absenteeism not violative, since probationary Ee had no rights to such proceeding and grievance was not presented in conformity with contract terms)

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011
(probationary Ee held not unlawfully discharged for lack of U membership where E's letter to Bd agent, regarding instant case and infelicitously equating probationary status with lack of U membership, was not related to such status but used common parlance to describe Ee as being terminated during his probationary period while not yet having protection of just cause provision of contract)

Kansas City Power & Light Company v. N.L.R.B. 641 F.2d 553 (C.A. 8, Feb 4, 1981)
(termination ofprobationary Ees who had not completed six months continuous service required to become regular Ees prior to their participation in protected economic strike and reinstating them as new hires, unlawful, in view of discouraging effect on concerted activities; further, E's contentions that action justified by business consideration of requirement that six months probationary period be continuous and compelled by bargaining agreement, rejected, since probationary policy unwritten and flexible, waiver of probationary Ees' right to strike was not explicit and in view of meager bargaining history)

8307-4900 Shortage of essential materials

8307-4950 Not real reason

GE's Trucking, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 131
(termination of Ee allegedly because of decline in quantity of product E was carrying, and Ee's failure to follow E's trucking delivery rules, unlawful in view of E's admitted laxity in enforcing rules, lapses by other Ees, and E's U animus; selection for termination for valid economic reasons of Ee can only be explained as motivated by E's concern that Ee's influence as leading U advocate would lead to unionization)

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(layoffs by E engaged in packing and wholesale distribution of meat allegedly because of shortage of meat, unlawful; since motivated by antagonism to U where it took place four days after U filed R ptn; subsequent recall of Ees was based on amount of adherence which was designed to scare Ees and exclude U sympathizers)

8307-5200 Overstaffing

Albertson's Inc. JD-(SF)-104-80
(no violation, where E would have faced problems trying at another store to hire Ee who had filed grievance, because of E's full work force)

8307-7700 Shutdown because of operational difficulties

8307-7750 Not real reason

Smedberg Machine & Tool, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 076
(layoff of Ee assertedly because of breakdown and shutdown of machine Ee principally operated, unlawful, where Ee did not spend significantly greater amount of time on affected machine than on others, machine was not shutdown prior to or at time of layoff and, following layoff, it was operated off and on until taken out of service 3 or 4 months later)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(layoff of Ees, unlawful, notwithstanding contention layoff due to problems with production process, as layoffs took place w/o regard to seniority after Ees had rejected E's contract proposals to Ee committee and E gained knowledge of Ees' support of outside U, production problems had existed for some weeks prior to layoffs and E hired new Ees during period; further, Ees were recalled day after committee signed contract with E)

8307-8000 Absorption or elimination of work duties

Conagra, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 085
(elimination of U adherent's job as bathroom relief, not unlawful, where necessity for position was eliminated by remodeling, adherent was offered another job by E but rather than bump incumbent took voluntary layoff and went on unemployment compensation, and upon expiration of unemployment benefits returned to work in another position)

8307-8400 Slack work or other economic necessity

Service Spring Company, A Division of Garlock, Inc., A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Colt Industries 263 NLRB No. 103
(E whose new president implemented more rigid enforcement of discipline with respect to absenteeism and production mistakes coincident with U winning election did not violate Act where evidence established that policy was undertaken by E in attempt to improve production efficiency)

Jo-Wex Sportswear, Ltd. and Iris Sportswear, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 172
(layoff of U supporters, assertedly for economic reasons, not discriminatory, where E rebutted E's prima facie case by producing evidence showing that number of other Ees had also been laid off at same time which was E's slow season as evidenced by large drop in volume of sales; and GC, who did not produce any sales figures for previous years to show that E seized upon normal fall off in business to lay off U supporters, failed to show that E's proffered reason was pretextual)

8307-8400—Cont.

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 056
(discharge of chief U organizer who assertedly was selected for discharge because there was insufficient work for all Ees, unlawful, where E, who claimed during hearing that it could produce records showing insufficient work for Ees, failed to do so, thereby giving rise to inference that such records would not have substantiated E's claim)

Midwest Electric Manufacturing Corporation 260 NLRB No. 032
(layoff of Ee, not unlawful, where layoff was economically motivated, E followed established seniority policy, Ee was one of two most junior Ees at time of layoff and one Ee jurnior to him was laid off at same time as he, there was no recall of any Ee junior to Ee before he was recalled, he engaged in limited U activity of signing authorization card and attending one U meeting, and no other Ee who attended meeting was alleged to have been unlawfully selected for layoff)

Mineola Ford Sales, Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 052
(discharge of Ee assertedly because of Ee's uncooperative attitude and low sales performance, and E's heavy losses and requirement to reduce overhead, not unlawful, where E was aware of Ee's U activities for many months prior to his discharge; Ee's activities as shop steward were minimal; no adverse action was taken against Ee for refusing to cross another unit's picket line, and even if GC had made prima facie showing that protected activity was motivating factor, discharge would have taken place, even in absence of protected conduct, because of Ee's attitude and E's economic status)

Vee Cee Provisions, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 125
(discharge of Ee, allegedly because of E's economic problems, violative where real reason was that he sought assistance from U in pressing wage claims)

Kuno Steel Products Corp. etc. 252 NLRB No. 127
(Es failed to rebut GC's prima facie case establishing that Es did not meet their obligation to reinstate economic and unfair labor practice strikers to conditions current at time of strike by showing substantial business justification and thereby violated Act)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook
Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(layoff of Ees assertedly because E lost contract with major customer, unlawful, where E failed to explain circumstances involved and to mention layoffs or any likelihood of loss of contract to Ees prior to layoff, and supervisors admitted to Ees that E would rather close operation than deal with U)

Convenience Stores Distributing Company, a Partnership of Marsh Supermarkets, Inc. and King Kwix Minit Market, Inc. JD-745-80
(discharge of Ee not violative, notwithstanding GC's contention that Ee was terminated because she or her husband were associated with U, where Ee's job was eliminated for economic reasons in connection with E's overall plan to reduce cost)

8307-8433 Not real reason

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(layoff of U adherents because of E's concern about the economy and lack of work caused by alleged loss of principal customer, held violative where E's concern with the economy had apparently been no more than academic until inception of U activity; principal customer was not lost, it was not paying (E) according to schedule (customer's account was 90 days past due). U activity was straw that broke the camel's back rather than principal customer's delinquency)

Dennis G. Maietta and Frank M. Maietta t/a
Maietta Contracting 265 NLRB No. 161
(failure to reinstate discriminatees, violative where lack of work was result of unlawful reduction of operations by selling several trucks in order to avoid recalling discriminatees and by unlawful subcontracting)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(layoff of Ees assertedly for economic reasons, unlawful, where reason for action was to retaliate against Ees for their U activity; E's haste in concluding, upon learning of U activity and while investigating its impact upon its other facilities and in sending its refusal of recognition to U, all w/i same day, that immediate layoff was necessary w/o any supporting business reports or even inquiry at other sources, clearly indicated causal relationship and illegal motivation of layoffs)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(additional layoff of Ees, following prior layoff assertedly for economic reasons but found in retaliation for Ees' U activity, held unlawful, where E effected layoff w/o any studies or evaluation of business conditions and, instead, used fictional formula created from its own guesses; and claim that decision to layoff was based on giving remaining Ees living wage was belied by fact that no consideration of Ees' earnings was claimed at time of decision nor any consideration given to partial study that was being worked up)

O'Dovero Construction, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 101
(layoff and failure to recall Ees who were members of craft U, unlawful, where motivated by Ees, complaining to management and U about E's failure to abide by contract in regard to coffee breaks, overtime pay and increased payrate prescribed therein, and performance of their work by members of another U, rather than for business reasons, in view of amount of work to be done and hiring of other Ees during layoff, and absent evidence laid off Ees less efficient than other Ees)

Martin City Ready Mix 264 NLRB No. 066
(violation as layoffs were not for economic reasons where 60-75% of orders were called in on day of delivery, E failed to document claim, no warning that layoff was imminent, and Ee hired one month earlier was told to expect 30-40 hour work week)

Vincent Brass & Aluminum Co. 264 NLRB No. 070
(layoff and refusal to reinstate Ees, unlawful, since for assertion of their contractual right to job bidding procedure rather than for economic reasons, in view of E's U animus established by other violations and where layoffs occurred while orders increasing and overtime worked by other Ees during layoff, notwithstanding layoff in accord with contract and fact those laid off included Ees who had not attempted to assert their rights under contract)

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(layoff and refusal to reinstate U adherent assertedly for lack of work held violative where E had plentiful supply of raw materials and there was no evidence E's inventories were excessive; day after U adherent was terminated, he was replaced by new Ee who performed same work as U adherent)

Parker-Robb Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 058
(discharge of salesmen at auto dealership, assertedly for economic reasons, unlawful, where amount of sales per person over period of time preceding discharges was not greater than at time discharges occurred, as claimed by E; E testified he had prior belief sales would increase in month discharges occurred and, in anticipation thereof, E expanded its sales force prior to discharges; and recent hires with no sales record were retained while senior Ees with average or above average production records were laid off)

Indian Head Lubricants, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 003
(E who laid off U adherent claiming economic necessity and when business improved failed to recall him, violated Act where shortly after layoff it created new position of warehouse manager, bringing Ee complement up to 2 Ees, same as before layoff, thus creating inference that layoff and failure to recall were motivated by U animus)

Timberline Energy Corporation 258 NLRB No. 037
(violation where layoffs were not for economic reasons but after E had knowledge of U activity and on same day that Ees met with U agent; past layoffs were never at this time of year)

Timberline Energy Corporation 258 NLRB No. 037
(layoffs at first of month were not due to business decline, where decline began only at end of month, inventory was 10 times greater than preceding year and during preceding 5 months, E's sales were higher than preceding year)

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 171
(discharge allegedly for lack of work, violative where E looked around for troublemaker after U filed election ptn and E selected Ee because he was consurrently working part-time for U firm)

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 053
(discharge of key U activist, in E's desire to reduce hours to cut expenses, assertedly because of Ee's poor attitude towards his work, his lateness and improper care of E's equipment held violative where E's records during this critical period showed Ees' hours were increasing rather than decreasing and 1 day after Ee was discharged E hired another experienced driver at same rate of pay as U activist)

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 053
(discharge of U activist, during economic downtown in E's business, assertedly for lack of work held violative where, during this critical period, E increased rather than decreased Ees' hours and only 7 days before U activist was discharged, E hired new driver after using activist on intermittent basis)

Gorman Machine Corporation 257 NLRB No. 010
(discharge of leading U advocate, allegedly for excessive talking, lack of work for him to perform, and unsuitable work, violative in light of pretextual nature of E's asserted reasons for discharge)

Welfare, Pension and Vacation Funds, Blasters,
Drillrunners and Miners Union Local No. 29,
etc. 256 NLRB No. 170
(E's contention that it discharged bookkeepers and contracted out their work to reduce administrative expenses because it lost insurance coverage rejected, where E found another carrier long before discharges and presented no evidence of insurance or economic problems after finding other carrier)

8307-8433—Cont.

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176
(discharge of Ee, assertedly because of decline in business and customer complaints about his work, violative where Ee was discharged 2 days after refusing E's request that he withdraw his U authorization card, E had knowledge of Ee's U activities and had demonstrated U animus)

Discatron Equipment Inc., d/b/a Xenon 250 NLRB No. 024
(where only one Ee out of 60 was terminated)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharges unlawful since for U activities rather than for lack of business in view of E's U animus and ULPs and where it failed to act when surplus of Ees arose but acted only after it acquired knowledge of U organizing campaign, and, after discharges, hired new Ees)

Hedison Manufacturing Company 249 NLRB No. 096
(asserted seasonal decline rejected as reason for layoffs where assertion was merely an after-thought and was not basis for layoffs where E failed to prove any business consideration for layoffs as indicated by almost total absence of records to support E's position)

Capriccios Restaurant, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 100
(E's defense of economic necessity for layoff or discharge of Ees rejected as pretextual, where E failed to submit any documentary evidence of alleged adverse business conditions claimed as reason for its action; and, although E asserted it had decided to lay off Ees several weeks prior to date layoffs were effected, E did not mention such decision or alleged underlying business conditions to Ees until date of their termination)

Smedberg Machine & Tool, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 076
(discharge of Ee assertedly because of lack of work, unlawful, where, at time of layoff, Ee had not run out of work and was laid off w/o advance notice in the middle of a job before end of work week and pay period, no documentation substantiated E's position, and supoenad records indicated no downturn of business at time of layoff)

Wisconsin Beef Industries, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 034
(layoffs by E engaged in packing and wholesale distribution of meat allegedly because of shortage of meat, unlawful; since motivated by antagonism to U where it took place four days after U filed R ptn; subsequent recall of Ees was based on amount of adherence which was designed to scare Ees and exclude U sympathizers)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(layoff of dishwasher, U solicitor of Spanish-speaking Ees, assertedly because business was really falling off drastically, violative, since layoff occurred soon after E learned of Ee's U activity; layoff actually was discriminatory discharge since E had no intention to recall Ee)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 051
(E's economic defense of business decline rejected where chose not to introduce into evidence documentation of its annual reports, profits and loss figures etc. or any data for comparative purposes regarding personnel and income levels; failure to introduce such evidence justified inference that it would not support or assist contentions of party who originated them)

Bio-Medical Applications of New Orleans, Inc., d/b/a Greater New Orleans Artificial Kidney Center 247 NLRB No. 136
(E's contentions in defense of its failure to reinstate discharged strikers that it was economically justified and operated normally w/o them found contradicted by significant increase in costs for overtime paid remaining Ees and hiring of nonunit Ees whose primary function was same as that of strikers)

International Business Systems, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 102
(violation where E reduced Christmas bonus by half because of Ees' U activity and not because available cash was insufficient, as asserted)

C-F Air Freight, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 060
(failure to recall strikers to work assertedly because of financial losses at E's facility, unlawful, where E unlawfully threatened to close plant, contention that decision to do so was made before U activity began was patent contrivance, E made statement to Ees that if they unionized E would padlock door and expressed antagonism toward U, and disparate nonclosure of another facility was based on lack of U activity threat)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(discharge and layoff of U activist truck drivers because discharged Ee abandoned employment when he refused to drive unrepaired truck and other driver was laid off for lack of work held violative, since respondents did not show that Ees would have been discharged or laid off even if they had not been U activists or U sympathizers; no attempt made to recall discharged Ee after truck was repaired and 2 or 3 new drivers given opportunity to drive for Es before attempting to recall laid off Ee)

AVJ Graphics, Inc., d/b/a Manhattan Graphic Productions JD-(NY)-2-81

N.L.R.B. v. Jack August Enterprises, Inc. 583 F.2d 575 (C.A. 1)
(business was slow)

N.L.R.B. v. Allen's I.G.A. Foodliner 631 F.2d 430 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(discharge of leading U advocate, whom supervisor said was good and dependable worker for 8 years prior to U campaign, assertedly because of business retrenchment and Ee's poor performance held violative, since Ee was never recalled when subsequent increase in (E's) business necessitated hiring several new Ees and only w/i year prior to discharge did E find fault with Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Midland Ross, Inc. 644 F.2d 606(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 8, 1981)
(discharge violative where E discharged Ee for lack of work immediately after supervisor stated that Ee was needed at work and had completed mortgage information form stating that his probability of continued employment was good)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(discharge of known Ee-initiator of organizational effort purportedly because of lack of work, unlawful, where Ee was discharged shortly after such effort began, accompanied by E's commission of ULPs soon thereafter; Ee was competent Ee with good work record and was discharged as last man hired when retained fellow Ee was in that category; and instead hired new Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Brooks Cameras, Inc. 691 F.2d 912 (C.A. 9, Nov. 1982)
(termination of Ees, unlawful, since for U activity, notwithstanding E had decided on staff reductions for economic reasons prior to knowledge of U activity; where after U's demand for recognition, E increased number of Ees to be laid off in department for which U sought recognition, made selection on basis of seniority rather than on basis of work performance as in other departments in order to reach U adherent, contrary to usual custom termination forms contained no indication of Ees' eligibility for rehire, and terminations were w/o advance warning)

Stephens Institute, a corporation d/b/a Academy of Art College v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 720 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(violation where moving cause for discharge of instructor was continuation of their U activities following faculty strike rather than under-enrolled classes, as alleged)

8307-8450 Adequately established

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(E failure to submit successful bid for work and consequently laying off Ees because of lack of work, not unlawful, where number of Ees laid off was reasonably related to amount of work lost and absent evidence of unlawful motivation)

Champion Road Machinery International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 123
(action by E's banker precipitated discharge)

Trend Construction Corporation and General Electric Corporation, Individually and as Joint Employees 263 NLRB No. 044
(layoffs lawful where E had hired excess Ees to pack unit with anti-U Ees to thwart U representation but election had been indefinitely postponed; furthermore, E experienced slowdown because noncompletion of other work)

Colorado Forge Corporation 260 NLRB No. 004
(layoffs not violative where they were motivated by economic necessity rather than U's organizational demands, as contended)

U.S. Contractors, Inc., and The Dow Chemical Company, U.S.A., Texas Division 257 NLRB No. 157
(contractor, engaged in providing maintenance and construction services for facility of petro-chemical industry, who terminated its custodial business entirely and laid off its entire janitorial work force w/o consulting with certified U representing custodial Ees, not in violation of Act where marginal profitability of janitorial division had turned into loss; E's actions were founded upon substantial economic factors rather than being motivated by unlawful considerations)

Mini-Industries, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 123
(discharging all Ees in midst of U campaign and rehiring only certain former Ees on or after plant reopened, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's undisputed anti-U animus and suspicious timing of discharges, where GC did not meet initial burden of making prima facie showing to support inference that U activity was a motivating factor, in view of record evidence that showed reason for E's actions was its deteriorating financial condition which was consistent with decisions made and production standards set prior to E's awareness of U campaign)

Highway Express, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 102
(discharging Ees day after U lost election not violative, as E had lost business and one week earlier had discharged half Ees of another unit for same reason, yet their U did not file charge)

Simpson Steel Fabricators & Erectors, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 164
(layoff not unlawful absent evidence of E's knowledge of U organization activity, where layoff due to sharp drop in orders and Ees who were laid off not qualified to perform available work)

8307-8450—Cont.

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016

(discharge of truckdriver for quitting work early w/o permission, not unlawful, where Ee did so knowing that E was under pressure for economic reasons to have as much hauling work done as possible on day Ee left early)

Lovard Industries, Limited JD-293-82

(post-election layoff of U adherents not violative where GC conceded that evidence of discrimination was not too clear and E's evidence of lawful economic causes preponderated over that of GC)

Scoggin, Inc. JD-433-81

(E's reduction in work week of U adherents who had testified at Bd hearing from 40 to 20 hours, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's other ULPs, since for business reasons, where E was in dire financial situation to point of using monies withheld for payroll taxes for capital and E's president taking out personal loan when taxes due; further, Ees were not replaced)

Mendon Pipeline, Inc. JD-422-81

(no violations where Ees were laid off, selected for layoff, and not recalled because of sound economic reasons rather than for contractual and statutory wage claims and request for water on jobsite as alleged)

Hassly Hardwood Lumber Co. JD-205-81

(layoffs of U adherents not unlawful, notwithstanding layoffs closely followed U meeting, absent E's knowledge of U activity and where justified by business considerations in view of order cancellations and declining sales)

Wunderwear, Inc. JD-(NY)-6480

(after contract was cancelled, layoff of Ees who worked primarily on that contract, not violative)

N.L.R.B. v. Lloyd Wood Coal Co., Inc. 585 F.2d 752 (C.A. 5)

(layoffs not unlawful where E had incurred substantial losses and facility had been listed for sale before onset of U activity; and site of new operation was not ready for use at time of closing)

Motor Inn of Perrysburg, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Perrysburg v. N.L.R.B. 647 F.2d 692 (C.A. 6, May 1981)

(E's imposition, after U had lost two certification elections, of so-called captain system and revised captain system which changed working conditions and method of compensating waiters and waitresses, not violative where new systems, although unpopular with some Ees, were no basis for constructive discharge, and were imposed equally upon all Ees, not only U sympathizers; E's motive was to increase sale of food and lack of discrimination detracted from E's anti-U animus)

8307-8467 Reasonable basis for selecting those to be laid off first, recalled first or discharged

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201

(no unlawful discrimination in selection of Ees for recall absent evidence E used any criteria other than experience, ability, attendance, and disciplinary record; further, E recalled U supporters)

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099

(concentration of selection for layoff on second shift, where E lost government contract, lawful, notwithstanding fact U activity centered on second shift, since second shift smaller, subject to limited supervision on regular basis by single individual, and in terms of unit costs less productive since second shift Ees were paid on parity with first shift Ees while working half hour less each day)

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 006

(permanent layoffs of extra Ees hired to deal with additional work associated with particular order which was deferred, not unlawful, notwithstanding occured shortly after ptn for election filed at time E was contracting out work since for business reasons, E had prior policy of contracting out work, selection made on basis of seniority except in case of Ee who had indicated her intention to quit where selection made to permit retention of Ee who would otherwise been laid off)

John Cuneo, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 110

(upon their unconditional offer to return to work, economic strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement to their former positions, or, if those positions have been filled by permanent replacements, to full reinstatement upon departure of their replacements, unless E can show legitimate and substantial business reasons for not reinstating the Ees)

C. Cowles & Company JD-(NY)-52-82

(layoff of active U protaganist because of downturn in sales of automotive parts manufacturer, not violative, since Ee was least senior in E's department being cut back because of depressed sales in automotive industry and E's usual custom was to use departmental seniority w/o bumping other Ees; E satisfied burden of proving lawful justificatiion for discharge)

Tempglass, Inc. JD-80-82

(method of selecting Ees for layoff based on attendance and productivity not unlawfully discriminatory)

Mendon Pipeline, Inc. JD-422-81

(no violations where Ees were laid off, selected for layoff, and not recalled because of sound economic reasons rather than for contractual and statutory wage claims and request for water on jobsite as alleged)

8307-8800 Completion of work for which employees hired

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Melba Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001

(discharge of Ee who signed U card at request of supervisor allegedly because he closed one theatre for winter and, therefore, needed to reduce staff, biolative where E traditionally employed 3 during winter and discharge left him with only 2 Ees; E had not discharged anyone in 18 years, and Ee was hired as replacement for another)

8307-9100 Transfer of department to new plant

M & G Convoy, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 145

(failing and refusing to transfer to new facility any former Ees of closed facility, violative as decision accomplished no legitimate business goal because it required hiring inexperienced Ees who required 3 weeks training and was motivated by E's expressed desire to keep new facility pure of U Ees at closed facility whom E viewed as troublemakers because they actively enforced contract terms)

Universal Security Instruments, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 092

(discharge of Ees because of their refusal to accept transfer to E's new plant not violative where no evidence that discharges were based on any discriminatory motives, or refusal of Ees to transfer because of change in conditions of employment or absence of U at new plant, notwithstanding the transfers of willing Ees were violative because E failed to bargain with U)

8307-9600 Likelihood of claims against employer

American Display Manufacturing Co., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 006

(fact laid off Ees offered reinstatement to diminish possible financial liability does not negate finding that layoffs were permanent in accordance with E policy)

8311 BUSINESS DISRUPTION

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)

(discharge of 13 of 16 unit Ees for leaving work during working hours, contrary to express orders from E, to attend en masse R hearing, not unlawful, notwithstanding Ees agreed to makeup time lost since E had volunteered to permit one Ee to attend hearing in representative capacity and permitting essentially entire production force to defy E's instructions would disrupt E's productive ability; E's rights in instant case were paramount to Ees' rights; discrimination not in issue)

8311-3300 Refusal of other employees to work with discriminatee

N.L.R.B. v. Eldorado Manufacturing Corporation and United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO 660 F.2d 1207 (C.A. 7, Sep. 1981)

(in finding that E was justified in discharging Ees for engaging in serious and disruptive conduct at E's operation as result of intra-U dispute, ct stated fact that E once tolerated Ees' blatant misconduct does not mean E must tolerate such conduct forever; there must be room in law for right of E somewhere, sometime, at some stage, to free itself of continuing unproductive, internal, and improper harassment)

8314 EMPLOYER POLICY AGAINST HIRING

8314-2500 Discharged employee

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 1380 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(ALJ who, as trier of fact, may choose between conflicting views of evidence, properly found w/o merit E's business justification for making new hires instead of recalling unlawfully discharged Ee, purportedly because of E's policy not to reassign personnel from one job classification to another)

8318 EMPLOYER POLICY AGAINST HIRING FORMER EMPLOYEES

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073

(refusal to rehire U adherent who had resigned twice, violative, since reason for refusal to rehire was Ee's U adherence, where E had promulgated no policy against rehire of Ees who had resigned twice, and in view of E's other unlawful conduct)

8320 ALTERNATIVES TO ACTION WOULD VIOLATE OTHER NLRB SECTIONS OR OTHER STATUTES

Fairleigh Dickinson University 264 NLRB No. 098

(E withdrawing recognition from representative for its clerical and technical workers and barring its representatives from further participation on official university committees in retaliation against outside U's organizing campaign of these workers with assistance from representative violative, contention that representative was dominated organization, and therefore, E's action proper, rejected, in view of long time representative functioned; and E attempted to provide substitute organization; E may not exculpate itself for its violations on ground that its conduct was attempt to cure established pattern of conduct violative of Act)

8320—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Howard Johnson Company d/b/a Howard Johnson Distribution Center 637 F.2d 373 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(E's contention that it withheld regularly scheduled wage increase because it feared ULP charge if it granted raises, rejected since contention ignores well-settled principle that E runs risk of violating Act when it unilaterally changes terms of employment)

St. Regis Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 487 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge and failure to reinstate Ees who struck E during critical period to gain recognition for U, rival of petitioner, not unlawful, since if E, during pendency of election proceedings, had recognized rival U as bargaining agent, it would have been guilty of interference with Bd's election procedures as well as ULP in violation of Section 8(a)(1) of Act)

8322 CONTRACT PROVISION

Geary Motor Sales, d/b/a Geary Ford 261 NLRB No. 168
(discharge of Ee for joining U, unlawful notwithstanding management's apparently good faith, albeit mistaken, belief that Ee's joining U while continuing to perform duties for which she was hired would cause E to violate contract)

Cowlitz Studd Company JD-(SF)-141-80
(U's action in seeking removal of new Ee not violative where Ee was hired in abbrogation of collective-bargaining agreement which required vacant positions to be filled by seniority unless outside applicant highly qualified; U was fulfilling its duty to represent its constituency)

8322-2000 Discriminatory enforcement of provisions

Tower Hotel Company, d/b/a Holiday Inn Riverfront 250 NLRB No. 010
(discharge of Ee because he failed to meet age requirements of U's apprenticeship program not violative where insufficient evidence exists to establish that contract provision is illegal)

N.L.R.B. v. Maui Surf Hotel Company and ILWU Local 142 601 F.2d 603(T) (C.A. 9, 1979)
(where all non-essential Ees were required by contract to either sign out or attend work stop meeting, no discrimination as all Ees, including ones who protested were treated same way)

8322-3000 Superseniority

N.L.R.B. v. Stanley H. Egan and Donald R. Egan 658 F.2d 746 (C.A. 10, Aug 1980)
(application of contractual superseniority provision to U trustee and U guard for purpose of layoff and recall held violative, as these duties do not contribute in any meaningful way to implementation of collective bargaining agreement)

8322-5000 Union security or checkoff

Big Rivers Electric Corporation 260 NLRB No. 059
(E's refusal to accept Ee's tender of delinquent dues not violative where Ee had already missed deadline and discharge process had been completed day before tender of dues)

Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company 253 NLRB No. 096
(E's continuing to remit dues to U pursuant to checkoff agreement, unlawful, where Ees had revoked checkoff authorizations via letters notwithstanding bargaining agreement required revocations to be on form provided by U; particularly where forms were only available at U headquarters which was inconveniently located and prior to revocation activity Ees were not informed regarding procedures to follow to obtain forms)

Glass Container Corporation JD-572-81
(discharge violative where Ee who was demoted from supervisor and returned to status of nonsupervisory Ee was discharged at U's request because she had not obtained U withdrawal card when she became supervisor as provided for in contract; therefore, discharged based on considerations of U status)

Peninsula Shipbuilders' Association v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 488 (C.A. 4, Sep. 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order holding E and incumbent U jointly and severally liable to reimburse Ees who had effectively revoked their check-off authorizations although on non-U forms in contravention of provision in extended bargaining agreement, where substantial evidence showed that such provision which required use of U revocation forms was facially invalid under LMRA Sec. 302(c)(4) and revocation procedure as actually enforced was ULP, in view of Ees' lack of easy, general access to U forms, Ees were not sufficiently informed about revocation requirement, and Ees had to appear personally at U hall to sign forms)

8322-8000 No-strike agreement

Servair, Inc. 268 NLRB No. 014
(an ordinary no-strike clause does not constitute legitimate, substantial business reason that justifies discharge of Ees who strike in response to serious ULPs; therefore discharge of 19 strikers who were protesting discriminatory discharge of Ee violative)

Richmond Tank Car Company 264 NLRB No. 025
(discharging U steward alone of 40 Ees who walked out to protest inadequate protection against runaway freight cars and toxic fumes because he induced walkout through his leadership position in the Union, unlawful notwithstanding no-strike clause, since walkout in good faith because of abnormally dangerous working conditions by express terms of Sec. 502 does not constitute a strike and discipline for violating no-strike clause violated 8(a)(3) where imposed on a leader because of his U status as steward)

Consolidation Coal Company 263 NLRB No. 188
(discharging U officers because they participated in unauthorized work stoppage with other rank-and-file Ees based on their status as U officers, violative)

Metropolitan Edison Company 252 NLRB No. 147
(disciplining U officers more severely than other Ees for participating in sympathy strike in violation of no-strike clause, violative)

Andersen Sand & Gravel Company JD-655-80
(discharge of strikers, unlawful, since work stoppage protected ULP strike; E's contention unprotected since in contravention of no-strike agreement, rejected, where asserted no-strike agreement was in contract which expired by its own terms)

Metropolitan Edison Company v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 478 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)
(ct enforced Bd order where E disciplined U officers more harshly than other Ees who participated in illegal work stoppage since (1) agreement did not expressly impose duty on U officers to attempt to halt illegal work stoppage, and (2) ct is not bound by two previous arbitral interpretations of no-strike clause placing greater responsibilities on U officials to take affirmative steps to end illegal work stoppage; furthermore, substantial evidence supports Bd finding that U officers were not leaders of strike)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)
(where bargaining agreement contained 2 no-strike clauses: (1) for arbitrable issues, and (2) for nonarbitrable issues, Ees unmistakeably waived their right to strike notwithstanding nonarbitrable issue which percipitated strike was not enumerated during negotiations as being covered by latter clause)

The Dow Chemical Company v. N.L.R.B. 636 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(E's termination of strikers who walked out in protest over E's unilateral change in work schedule, in breach of contract's no-strike clause, not unlawful, where Boys Markets injunctive relief was not available to E because arbitration provision was not coextensive with no-strike clause, E resorted to operating plant with new Ees and rule protecting illegally striking Ees' employment status would effectively prevent E's resort to new hires, and SCt in its Mastro Plastic decision expressly acknowledged that U members violating no-strike clause lose their Ee status)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)
(suspension of U stewards for mere participation in strike and/or for not taking affirmative steps to end strike in violation of no-strike agreement for longer period than supensions of other participants in strike, unlawful, absent affirmative contractual waiver of U officers' rights and/or breach of contractually imposed affirmative duties)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(where safety issue is one that must be submitted to binding arbitration, obligation not to strike over matter is considered to be coterminus and any stoppage violates implied no-strike clause unless safety hazzard suddenly arose and presented immediate threat; i.e., Washington Aluminum situation)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(2 requisites required for finding no-strike obligation; (1) contract imposes upon both parties duties of submitting to final and binding arbitration; and (2) matter is one which it has been agreed to will be covered by compulsory terminal arbitration)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 140 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(strike protesting E's unlawful discontinuance of allowing Ees to request transfers which involved demotions, not ULP strike, since contract waived right to strike where underlying dispute being processed through grievance procedure and herein grievance pending; further, unlawful unilateral change was not serious labor dispute (destructive of foundation on which bargaining must rest) w/i Mastro Plastics so as to preclude waiver of right to strike regarding ULP since E in good faith relied on management rights clause, and U neither called nor ratified strike)

8326 DELAY IN DISCHARGE AFTER KNOWLEDGE OF UNION ACTIVITY CARRIED ON BY EMPLOYEE NO DEFENSE

American Petrofina Company of Texas 247 NLRB No. 015
(Fact almost year had passed between U activity of alleged discriminatee and his discharge did not preclude finding of violation since mere passage of time does not gainsay discriminatory intent)

N.L.R.B. v. Spielberg Manufacturing Company 673 F.2d 244 (C.A. 8, Mar. 1982)
(discharg for tardiness of key organizer in election U lost almost one year earlier in which E expressed intent to resist afterwards any further U activity violative, where shortly before discharge Ee told vice president that dissatisfaction with new controller's efforts to correct attendance problems might generate renewed U organizational effort, controller told her he would build case of absenteeism and discharge her unless her attitude improved, and supervisor told her she had been discharged for U activity)

Metro-Young Construction Company, A Division of Olson Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-12-82
(discharging Ee from one jobsite and limiting duration of his employment at different jobsite by discharging him again held violative as reason for discharge was Ee's filing of U grievance involving rain gear two years earlier)

8329 FAILURE OF EMPLOYEE TO APPLY FOR REINSTATEMENT

Bedelay Packaging Machinery, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 038
(E's obligation to reinstate discriminatee not extinguished by Ee's failure to respond to registered letter mailed to him offering reinstatement where evidence showed Ee never received letter)

8329-0600 Unconditional application

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(offer to return to work which is conditioned on removing cause of strike, not unconditional offer)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(no valid offer to return to work on behalf of all strikers by former U steward since steward not designated as representative of strikers where Ees had withdrawn from U for which had been steward and former steward at time of alleged offer was not acting as steward for any U's nor had strikers requested that former steward speak for them)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(offer not unconditional where strikers' offer to return to work was clearly stated to be in order to facilitate negotiations)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(unconditional offer to return to work where strikers went to plant and stated they were coming back to work)

Owen Joint Corporation 248 NLRB No. 076
(returning strikers' actions and statements, held to be broad enough to constitute unconditional offers, where they came to shop superintendent's office and one of them told superintendent, I'm ready to go back to work, while another asked him for my timecard and my job and, upon learning that they were replaced, another striker asked superintendent, when a job came open, would he give me a call)

8329-0900 Timeliness of application

Kuno Steel Products Corp. etc. 252 NLRB No. 127
(E's defense to its refusal to offer strikers reinstatement is that U's offer to return to work is untimely, is without merit where unremedied ULPs committed by Es prolonged strike; U was involved in protracted Bd proceeding and offer to return to work made just over a month after ct decision)

8329-1200 After non-ULP strike or layoff

Chromalloy Mining and Minerals Alaska Division, Chromalloy American Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 1120 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(no violation by failure to recall U adherent absent proof that such Ee ever expressed desire to be rehired or that E had affirmative policy of rehiring Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Vitronic Division of Penn Corporation 630 F.2d 561 (C.A. 8, 1979)
(E's refusal to retain replaced economic strikers on preferential hiring list and reinstate where former strikers had failed to comply with its requirement stated on initial request for reinstatement form sent to strikers that strikers renew their continued interest in reinstatement after six months, unlawful, since burden of notifying former strikers and verifying their continuing interest in reinstatement placed on E who may at most require former strikers, in response to appropriate notice, to indicate whether they continue to desire reinstatment)

8329-3000 Mass application sufficient

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(unconditional offer to return to work where U representative said to E there's men outside. They want to go back to work. Would you put them back to work and stated later he wanted to put strikers back to work and U had authorization cards from 65 out of 66 strikers)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(unconditional offer to return to work where U representative asked E why don't you put workers back to work and offer not conditioned on increased wages or other improvements in working conditions nor on reinstatement of all strikers; notwithstanding Ees' revocation of membership in U which had made offer on their behalf where revocation not conveyed to U nor had U abandoned striking Ees prior to offer)

8329-6000 No defense where employee unlawfully discharged striker

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079
(E did not fulfill his obligation to offer reinstatement to unlawfully discharged Ee by requesting another Ee to tell dischargee that he was not fired and should return to work)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(where E unlawfally discharged striker and did not show that Ee was unwilling to return to work or that he would have refused offer of reinstatement as required by Abilities and Goodwill 241 NLRB 27 which shifted burden of proof to wrongdoer, backpay was awarded to date of ULP discharge rather than end of strike)

8329-6200 No defense when application would have been useless

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121

8329-7500 No defense where illegally conditioned

Don Pizzolato, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 136
(where Ee did not return application form to former E, this was not considered rejection of valid offer of reinstatement as application clearly indicated interview was needed and was conditional offer)

8338 FALSIFICATION OF JOB APPLICATION

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146
(discharge of Ee assertedly for falsifying employment application, not unlawful, where E met burden that discharge would have occurred even in absence of Ee's protected activities by showing discharge of 2 other Ees for same reason, which GC was unable to rebut with any evidence; and while E discriminated against other Ees for their U activity, discharge herein is not assessed in that light)

Service Garage, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 153
(although Bd disagreed with ALJ's finding that unlawfully discharged Ee admitted lying about his age at initial hearing for fear of losing current job was sufficiently egregious to amount to abuse of Bd procedures and to warrant forfeiture of Ee's right to reinstatement and limitation of bockpay; Bd, however, held that Ee's original falsification of same critical information on employment application barred his entitlement to reinstatement and any backpay where E proved that it would not have hired Ee but for its reliance on application information whose falsity was discovered subsequent to Ee's unlawful discharge)

8347 FAILURE TO APPLY FOR JOB

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of formerly striking Ee purportedly for taking E's money for personal use, unlawful, where discharge was in retribution for Ee's striking as evidenced by E's animus toward ex-strikers and resolve to discharge them, misleading nature of termination notice implying that money was taken in clandestine manner, and fact that Ee acted with consent of immediate supervisor and had returned money w/i agreed upon time and before being confronted by E about what he had done)

8351 MISCONDUCT OF EMPLOYEE

Bedford Farmers Cooperative 259 NLRB No. 165
(discharge of U activist violative notwithstanding it occurred shortly after E and Ee engaged in argument in front of customers as no prior warning given; several weeks earlier E unlawfully warned activist about his U activities and E's desire to get rid of U. E did not establish that discharge would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected activities)

8351-0100 Generally

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(discharge of U adherent for pushing supervisor in chest with hand, unlawful, since conduct was not so unreasonable in relation to E's provocative harassment as to justify discharge, where Ee neither fought with nor slapped supervisor, and moderate, almost reflexive action was result of campaign of unlawful intimidation and harassment by supervisor for U activities, which included forcing adherent to work harder and take fewer breaks than other Ees, and trumped up reprimands)

8351-0100—Cont.

Artley Incorporated 260 NLRB No. 107

(U steward who asserted good faith claim for premium pay under contract provision did not forfeit protection of Act when claim turned out not to be covered by contract and discharge violative)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 261 NLRB No. 099

(E's disciplining Ees for alleged misconduct during strike, violative, where E failed to detail in record activity for which each striker was accused; E's honest belief that misconduct had occurred required some specifity in record linking particular Ees to particular allegations of misconduct in order to satisfy E's burden of proof)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072

(E cannot provoke an Ee to point where Ee commits an indiscretion, and then rely on this to terminate the employment of Ee)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072

(E will not be allowed to rely on Ee's offensive conduct as basis for discharging Ee since, but for E's ULPs, conduct attributed to Ee and relied on by E for discharge, would not have occurred)

8351-0114 Condonation vitiates defense

Tra-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089

(discharge of principal U adherent, after election where U certified as bargaining representative, for having used profanity towards E, held violative, since prior to discharge of Ee no other Ee had ever been disciplined or discharged for use of profanities, use of profanity common, and E presented no evidence to indicate such conduct had not been previously condoned; E did not meet burden of showing Ee's discharge for using profanity would have occurred in absence of Ee's U activities; Fibracan Corp., 259 NLRB 161 (1981) inapplicable in instant case)

Allied Eastern States Maintenance Corporation, A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Allied Maintenance Corporation 261 NLRB No. 167

(fact that unlawfully discharged Ee was subsequently re-hired 4 months later and after charges filed, not conclusive proof of E's unlawful motivation)

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(even if E honestly believed that ULP strikers were guilty of picket line misconduct, its conduct in sending mailgrams offering them reinstatement might well constitute condonation of strikers' actions)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094

(where E had stated at hearing that it had reinstated striker discharged for strike misconduct to minimize backpay liability and would discharge him again after hearing if original discharge were found lawful, and ALJ declared that reinstatement constituted condonation, Bd did not rule on issue of condonation in view of its policy not to prejudge factual or legal issues)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120

(E did not condone picket line misconduct where it consistently warned strikers about their conduct, obtained temporary injunction against strike, and discussed with U disciplining 12 strikers for their misconduct notwithstanding notice to strikers that all would be reinstated)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-279-81

(discharge of U adherent, bus driver, assertedly because he had no school bus driver's permit from state held violaive where E had retained Ee on payroll for at least 5 months after learning Ee had no permit, retained Ee on payroll after E learned Ee could not timely obtain such permit and then discharged Ee after he received his permit and had conversed with suspected U activist)

The Royal General Company JD-17-80

(discharge of U adherent unlawful since for U activities rather than for absenteeism where E had condoned his absenteeism until he actively engagd in U activities)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 943 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

(condonation theory not applicable to E's revocation of reinstatement of discharged U activists upon discovering that they were discharged as result of fight with supervisors; to hold otherwise would seriously interfere with E's right to govern his own business)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(where E, after promptly imposing sanctions on Ee at time of alleged misconduct, specifically informed U that no further discipline would be imposed on Ee for his behavior that 1 day, ct held such statement demonstrates that E had condoned Ee's alleged misconduct)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(where following Ee's alleged strike misconduct E specifically informed Ee that she was being given 2-day suspension w/o pay and then scheduled her to return to work and carried her w/o comment on its Ee roster, ct held such actions on part of E are sufficient to show condonation for Ee's alleged strike misconduct)

St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1173 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(Bd not precluded by Section 8(g) from finding condonation for Ees' alleged strike misconduct, where Ees' actions neither involved type of massive U activity contemplated by 8(g) nor implicate concerns about endangering health of patients Congress intended to voice thereby)

8351-0128 Good-faith belief as to misconduct may be defense

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-98-82

(direct evidence that Ee committed acts constituting alleged misconduct not necessary in order to establish E's honest belief Ee committed acts; circumstantial evidence sufficient, and absent any proof by GC that punishment could be ascribed to motives other than alleged misconduct, E's motive held not to be unlawful and discipline lawful where misconduct (dropping nails against 2 trucks and damaging 1 tire) sufficient to warrant discipline imposed)

Schreiber Manufacturing Co., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 154

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(E's honest belief, albeit mistaken, that strikers have engaged in misconduct during strike provides adequate defense to charge of discrimination in refusing to reinstate such Ees unless GC affirmatively proves that alleged conduct did not occur; and, although Ee may actually have engaged in misconduct, such Ee may not be denied reinstatement absent showing that misconduct was so violent or of such a serious nature as to render Ee unfit for future service)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 176

(termination of striking Ees for serious misconduct, not unlawful, where E reasonably believed that strikers were guilty of improper conduct in view of their gathering outside E's gates in contempt of ct injunction, damage done to suppliers' trucks by rocks thrown by Ees and subsequent guilty pleas in ct to charge of disorderly conduct)

Page Airways of Michigan, Inc. JD-862-79

(no violation where E discharged Ee in good faith belief that he was guilty of serious strike misconduct justifying discharge and GC has not shown that such misconduct did not, in fact, occur)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 18, 1981)

(discharging strikers who threw rocks damaging truck, not unlawful, since such conduct amounted to serious strike misconduct because it created substantial risk of bodily injury and caused property damage)

8351-0142 Mistaken belief as to misconduct no defense if conduct did not in fact occur

Niagara University 264 NLRB No. 183

(refusal to reinstate economic striker, unlawful where he was only permanently non-probationary Ee not reinstated and did not engage in conduct mistakenly attributed to him which might have removed him from protection of Act)

Convair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(E's honest belief, albeit mistaken, that strikers have engaged in misconduct during strike provides adequate defense to charge of discrimination in refusing to reinstate such Ees unless GC affirmatively proves that alleged conduct did not occur; and, although Ee may actually have engaged in misconduct, such Ee may not be denied reinstatement absent showing that misconduct was so violent or of such a serious nature as to render Ee unfit for future service)

Volkswagen of America, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 606

(violation, where Ee was discharged because of his status as U committeeman, and discharge was not justified by E's mistaken belief that U committeeman had actively encouraged Ees to participate in illegal walkout where he had merely apprised them of dangerous situation developing outside the plant, thus enabling them to assess situation facing them at end of work day while he himself stayed on the job; rather than being encouraged to leave, Ees also remained on the job)

Giant Food, Inc. 282 NLRB No. 183

(Ee who urged another Ee to aid U by supporting its objections to election involved in protected activity not harrassment and discharge violative; moreover, E's belief that had Ee engaged in misconduct does not justify discharge where in fact he had not engaged in such misconduct)

Carolina Yachts 280 NLRB No. 048

(violation by discharge of U activist for urging two Ees to vote for U; dischargee was engaging in protected activity, notwithstanding E may have believed he had threatened fellow Ees with being reported to immigration services, as asserted)

Page Airways of Michigan, Inc. JD-862-79

(no violation where E discharged Ee in good faith belief that he was guilty of serious strike misconduct justifying discharge and GC has not shown that such misconduct did not, in fact, occur)

8351-0156 Waiver vitiates defense

8351-0184—Cont.

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(no reinstatement of strikers though engaged in protected activity where bargaining agreement contained 2 no-strike clauses: (1) for arbitrable issues, and (2) for nonarbitrable issues as Ees unmistakeably waived their right to strike under agreement notwithstanding nonarbitrable issue which percipitated strike was not enumerated during negotiations as being covered by latter clause)

8351-1200 Breach of no-strike agreement

Richmond Tank Car Company 264 NLRB No. 025

(discharging U steward alone of 40 Ees who walked out to protest inadequate protection against runaway freight cars and toxic fumes because he induced walkout through his leadership position in the Union, unlawful notwithstanding no-strike clause, since walkout in good faith because of abnormally dangerous working conditions by express terms of Sec. 502 does not constitute a strike and discipline for violating no-strike clause violated 8(a)(3) where imposed on a leader because of his U status as steward)

Consolidation Coal Company 263 NLRB No. 188

(discharging U officers because they participated in unauthorized work stoppage with other rank-and-file Ees based on their status as U officers, violative)

Volkswagen of America, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 036

(violation, where Ee was discharged because of his status as U committeeman, and discharge was not justified by E's mistaken belief that U committeeman had actively encouraged Ees to participate in illegal walkout where he had merely apprised them of dangerous situation developing outside the plant, thus enabling them to assess situation facing them at end of work day while he himself stayed on the job; rather than being encouraged to leave, Ees also remained on the job)

South Central Bell Telephone Company 254 NLRB No. 032

(imposing longer suspensions on U stewards, who participated in sickout in violation of no-strike clause, than on other Ees who also participated held violative, since there was no evidence to indicate that U stewards engaged in activities different from those engaged in by other Ees such as urging support of or seeking to induce Ees to participate in work stoppage)

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 045

(strike protesting unlawful discharges held not in contravention of no-strike agreement which was limited to matters subject to resolution by grievance procedures, since dischargees were not covered by contract and grievance procedures therefore applied neither to the discharges nor the strike itself)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 252 NLRB No. 138

(where Ees participated in work stoppage in violation of no-strike provision of contract and E disciplined U official with 10 day suspension and all others with 5 day suspension it violated Act as his punishment based on his position in U)

Hammermill Paper Company 252 NLRB No. 172

(discharge of Ee for participation in unprotected work stoppage solely because of his position as U steward, violative)

Metropolitan Edison Company 252 NLRB No. 147

(disciplining U officers more severely than other Ees for participating in sympathy strike in violation of no-strike clause, violative)

Guy F. Atkinson Company and Wright-Schuchart-Harbor, A Joint Venture 251 NLRB No. 043

(discharge and refusal to reemploy U steward for causing walkout in violation of no-strike clause, not unlawful)

C. H. Heist Corporation 250 NLRB No. 185

(discharge of only U steward out of 25 Ees who engaged in work stoppage in violation of no-strike clause, unlawful, since discharge based on his being U official and not for his role in strike where steward was reluctant participant, not leader, in strike, counseled against strike and urged Ees to return to work though he did transmit messages to strikers from U)

Illinois Bell Telephone Company JD-178-82

(suspension assessed against Ees who had engaged in work stoppage in response to disciplinary suspension of fellow Ee, not violative where strike was in violation of no-strike clause and was not initiated nor authorized by contracting U; strike was unprotected activity for which E was entitled to institute discipline of participating Ees)

Anderson Sand & Gravel Company JD-658-80

(discharge of strikers, unlawful, since work stoppage protected ULP strike; E's contention unprotected since in contravention of no-strike agreement, rejected, where asserted no-strike agreement was in contract which expired by its own terms)

Metropolitan Edison Company v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 478 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)

(ct enforced Bd order where E disciplined U officers more harshly than other Ees who participated in illegal work stoppage since (1) agreement did not expressly impose duty on U officers to attempt to halt illegal work stoppage, and (2) ct is not bound by two previous arbitral interpretations of no-strike clause placing greater responcibilities on U officials to take affirmative steps to end illegal work stoppage; furthermore, substantial evidence supports Bd finding that U officers were not leaders of strike)

Pacemaker Yacht Company, A Division of Mission Marine, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 663 F.2d 455 (C.A. 3, Oct. 1981)

(no reinstatement of strikers though engaged in protected activity where bargaining agreement contained 2 no-strike clauses: (1) for arbitrable issues, and (2) for nonarbitrable issues as Ees unmistakeably waived their right to strike under agreement notwithstanding nonarbitrable issue which percipitated strike was not enumerated during negotiations as being covered by latter clause)

Hammermill Paper Company v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 155 (C.A. 3, 1981)

(E's discharging U steward with clean work record for participation in refusal to perform assigned task rather than merely suspending him as it did other Ees involved who also had clean work records, unlawful since E may not single out for harsher punishment U officials who merely participate in illegal strike where bargaining agreement did not impose explicit duty on U officers and stewards to end any illegal work stoppage, and further, Ee was not serving as steward at time of work stoppage)

Gould Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 612 F.2d 728 (C.A. 3)

(E's singling out U steward for discharge for participation in work stoppage in violation of no strike clause and in contravention of his obligation as U officer to take steps to terminate work stoppage, not unlawful, since E entitled to take into consideration U official's greater responsibility, and hence greater fault, where basis for discharge was duty imposed by his office and not office as such; fact contract provision regarding obligation of U officers did not provide for discharge did not render discharge unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. South Central Bell Telephone Company 688 F.2d 345 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1982)

(suspension of U stewards for mere participation in strike and/or for not taking affirmative steps to end strike in violation of no-strike agreement for longer period than supensions of other participants in strike, unlawful, absent affirmative contractual waiver of U officers' rights and/or breach of contractually imposed affirmative duties)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(where safety issue is one that must be submitted to binding arbitration, obligation not to strike over matter is considered to be coterminus and any stoppage violates implied no-strike clause unless safety hazzard suddenly arose and presented immediate threat; i.e., Washington Aluminum situation)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(where safety issue is one that must be submitted to binding arbitration, obligation not to strike over matter is considered to be coterminus and any stoppage violates implied no-strike clause unless safety hazzard suddenly arose and presented immediate threat; i.e., Washington Aluminum situation)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)

(2 requisites required for finding no-strike obligation; (1) contract imposes upon both parties duties of submitting to final and binding arbitration; and (2) matter is one which it has been agreed to will be covered by compulsory terminal arbitration)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 140 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1980)

(discharge of Ees who participated in strike not unlawful since strike unprotected, notwithstanding contention strike ULP strike and no waiver, where contract provided there would be no strikes until grievance procedure exhausted and grievance on underlying dispute was pending; nor was E's unlawful unilateral changes regarding transfers serious labor dispute w/i Master Plastics so as to preclude waiver of right to strike regarding ULP)

John H. Fournelle v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 331 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1982)

(no violation by suspending U committeeman along with other Ees for breach of no-strike agreement, since, notwithstanding committeeman left premises to go to dentist, before doing so he joined strikers at U hall and gave TV interview in support of strike, thus violating contractual clause which precluded encouragng and sanctioning strike; ct rejected contentions that ALJ did not base finding on above-mentioned clause and that justifying suspension on basis of said clause constituted impermissible waiver of Sec. 7 rights)

8351-1900 Breach of company rules

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101

(discharge not violative where, notwithstanding GC made prima facie showing that E had unlawful motive for discharging Ee, E proved Ee would have been discharged because of long history of Ee's problems of discussions with other Ees while Ee was working, even in absence of Ee's protected activity; Ee was issued numerous lawful warnings concerning violation of E's lawful policy on solicitation in work areas on E's time)

8351-1500—Cont.

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(warning letters and counselling various Ees for actions contrary to E's work rules and policies not violative where other Ees were warned and counselled for same offenses which were work related, were not discriminatory and did not involve Ees' protected activity)

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-82
(discharge of Ee for violating rule prohibiting removal of company property w/o authorization, not unlawful, where prior to U campaign at least one other Ee was discharged for violating rule, E fully investigated incident involving Ee prior to his termination, and Ee was aware of Ee's prior U affiliation when he was hired)

United States Postal Service JD-(SF)-273-79
(supervisor's attempt to enforce lawful rule proscribing Ees talking U business on company time, w/o permission of supervisor held not violative, since attempt did not unlawfully interfere with Ees' protected rights notwithstanding U steward was talking to Ee about grievance)

Charge Card Association v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 272 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(GC did not make out prima facie case that E unlawfully suspended Ees for walkout protesting working conditions since Ees called E and falsely stated they were sick. In view of high absenteeism that day, E had right to demand Ees support their assertion of illness even if E suspected Ees were protesting working conditions. Had Ees said they were going to be absent in protest of working conditions, different result would obtain)

N.L.R.B. v. Westinghouse Electric Corporation 412 F.2d 1072 (C.A. 8)
(ct upheld Bd's determination that Ee was unlawfully discharged specifically for passing out authorization cards and not because Ee breached company's no-solicitation rule; furthermore, instances of solicitation for non-U purposes proscribed by rule were tolerated at plant)

8351-1580 Not real reason

Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 150
(discharge, soon after U election, of known U advocate whom supervisors considered to be admirable Ee, assertedly for violating plant rule against knowingly altering, or falsifying time cards and reports, as well as payroll records violative where E had displayed considerable animus towards Ee it considered to be U kingpin; E never previously discharged any Ee for similar violation except two Ees found guilty of embezzlement and forgery respectively)

Knapp Foods, Inc. d/b/a Hi-Lo Foods 247 NLRB No. 146
(discharging leading U in-house organizer shortly before Bd-conducted election, assertedly because he violated no-solicitation rule, violative, since E did not have valid no-solicitation rule, but conjured up a no-solicitation rule for purpose of terminating U organizer)

Plaza Bay Enterprises, Inc. JD-(SF)-273-82
(discharge of Ee assertedly for punching out another Ee's timecard unlawful, where immediately upon being advised that Ee had attended U meeting the day before and also that she was instigator of the U, E directed her discharge, and to legitimaze such discharge directed discharge of the Ee whose timecard was punched out)

8351-3100 Illegal strike or interference with operations

Charge Card Association v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 272 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(GC did not make out prima facie case that E unlawfully suspended Ees for walkout protesting working conditions since Ees called E and falsely stated they were sick. In view of high absenteeism that day, E had right to demand Ees support their assertion of illness even if E suspected Ees were protesting working conditions. Had Ees said they were going to be absent in protest of working conditions, different result would obtain)

N.L.R.B. v. Armour-Dial, Inc. 638 F.2d 51 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(suspension of 3 members of U executive committee who refused to unload truck of company which U had requested E to c/d/b not violative as their actions violated Section 8(b)(4) and their contract; committee members were disciplined not because of their illegal activities)

8351-3700 Obtaining information from employer's private files

Texas Instruments Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 822 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(discharge of U adherents for violation of E's valid security rule not violative where: Ees published E's confidential wage survey report which Ees had obtained outside of normal course of employment (each page of report was stamped strictly private), Ee manual set forth E's rule against disclosure of confidential information; moreover, Ees' organizing activity not dependent on access to confidential information)

8351-4300 Intermittent, recurrent, or partial strike

Lake Development Management Co. 259 NLRB No. 089
(discharging Ees for refusing to accept overtime assignments in form of beeper duty, not violative where beeper duty was mandatory in past, on day of Ees' refusal E fully apprised Ees that it was mandatory and, furthermore, there was no allegation or evidence that imposition of beeper duty was for discriminatory reasons, it was not shown that Ees were selected for beeper duty on discriminatory basis, and that Ees intended their refusal to accept beeper duty to be on continuing basis)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1015 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)
(discharging Ees for concertedly refusing to work specific job on Saturday because it did not pay time and half held not violative where Ees knew that E would pay only straight time and rule that Saturday work was voluntary but if Ee signed up for that day must work on any job assigned by E and penalty for not working was discharge. Claim that Ees were engaged in 1 day strike rejected, since Ees only refused to work that specific job that day and not other jobs which was equivalent to Ees seeking to work under terms prescribed by them which is not protected activity)

8351-4900 Refusal to perform assigned duties

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170
(discharge of Ee unlawful, where for repeatedly complaining to U about working with another Ee in another department several hours a week who had serious body odor problem, rather than for insubordination for refusing to work with other Ee; Ee's statement in informal grievance meeting that she would not work with other Ee not insubordination since such posturing not unusual in grievance meetings, Ee never actually refused assignment, and Ee had right to pursue grievance; further, E admitted Ee's work satisfactory)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 1015 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)
(discharging Ees for concertedly refusing to work specific job on Saturday because it did not pay time and half held not violative where Ees knew that E would pay only straight time and rule that Saturday work was voluntary but if Ee signed up for that day must work on any job assigned by E and penalty for not working was discharge. Claim that Ees were engaged in 1 day strike rejected, since Ees only refused to work that specific job that day and not other jobs which was equivalent to Ees seeking to work under terms prescribed by them which is not protected activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Armour-Dial, Inc. 638 F.2d 51 (C.A. 8, 1981)
(suspension of 3 members of U executive committee who refused to unload truck of company which U had requested E to c/d/b not violative as their actions violated Section 8(b)(4) and their contract; committee members were disciplined not because of their illegal activities)

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(discharge of 13 of 16 unit Ees for leaving work during working hours, contrary to express orders from E, to attend en masse R hearing, not unlawful, notwithstanding Ees agreed to makeup time lost since E had volunteered to permit one Ee to attend hearing in representative capacity and permitting essentially entire production force to defy E's instructions would disrupt E's productive ability; E's rights in instant case were paramount to Ees' rights; discrimination not in issue)

8351-5800 Strike in violation of 8(g) notice requirements

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(striking Ees were not required to comply with 10-day notice requirement of Sec. 8(g) since strike was already in progress on effective date of health care amendments and absent proof of specific individual misconduct E may not deprive a protected Ee of any rights under Act)

8351-6200 Strike misconduct

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 69
(picket line activity is generally protected, and the duty of going forward with evidence of conduct which would remove mantle of statutory protection is upon Respondent if, upon such alleged misconduct, it bases its post-strike employment decisions)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 10, 1981)
(discharging striking Ee for alleged involvement in rock-throwing incident which damaged truck, violative, where Bd found that Ee had left scene prior to incident)

North Cambria Fuel Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 177 (C.A. 3, Apr 10, 1981)
(discharging strikers who threw rocks damaging truck, not unlawful, since such conduct amounted to serious strike misconduct because it created substantial risk of bodily injury and caused property damage)

Methodist Hospital of Kentucky, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 563 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(striking Ees were not required to comply with 10-day notice requirement of Sec. 8(g) since strike was already in progress on effective date of health care amendments and absent proof of specific individual misconduct E may not deprive a protected Ee of any rights under Act)

8351-6201 Generally

8351-6201—Cont.

Syrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82

(direct evidence that Ee committed acts constituting alleged misconduct not necessary in order to establish E's honest belief Ee committed acts; circumstantial evidence sufficient, and absent any proof by GC that punishment could be ascribed to motives other than alleged misconduct, E's motive held not to be unlawful and discipline lawful where misconduct (dropping nails against 2 trucks and damaging 1 tire) sufficient to warrant discipline imposed)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(E's honest belief, albeit mistaken, that strikers have engaged in misconduct during strike provides adequate defense to charge of discrimination in refusing to reinstate such Ees unless GC affirmatively proves that alleged conduct did not occur; and, although Ee may actually have engaged in misconduct, such Ee may not be denied reinstatement absent showing that misconduct was so violent or of such a serious nature as to render Ee unfit for future service)

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111

(denial of reinstatement to ULP strikers for alleged misconduct, unlawful where E failed to carry burden on this issue)

8351-6233 Not real reason

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 087

(discharging striker because he threw rock, violative, where nonstrikers were also involved in rock throwing and not discharged)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191

(discharge of and refusal to reinstate strikers for allegedly violently assaulting fellow Ee during strike, not lawful, where Ee alleged to have been assaulted had swung her pocketbook at strikers and in fact assault as alleged had not taken place; notwithstanding dischargees found guilty of alleged assault in municipal ct)

N.L.R.B. v. Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. 675 F.2d 1004 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1982)

(Ees who merely attended demonstrations during strike at which violent and destructive acts occurred type which had been found violative of Section 8(b)(1)(A) by Bd and against repetition of which ct had issued inj did not participate in misconduct warranting their discharge; E's contention discharge justified by Ees participation in crowd activity designed to block access to E's plant in violation of inj, rejected, since scope of Act's protection not defined by scope of inj)

8351-6290 Insufficient to justify discharge or other discipline

Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 265 NLRB No. 192

(discharge of economic striker for alleged misconduct on picket line involving offensive language, not violative since Bd has consistently held that use of such language on picket line by economic strikers is not sufficient justification for discharge)

Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 265 NLRB No. 192

(discharge of economic striker, violative notwithstanding striker had in his possession ice pick at time of arrest away from picket line)

Syrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82

(warning striker based on his alleged placing nail on ground, unlawful, since insufficient evidence to establish E's good faith belief in striker's misconduct where E failed to produce or explain its failure to produce either nail which it alleged striker had placed on ground or guard who allegedly found nail)

Syrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82

(suspension of striker for damaging winter front and bug screen of truck, unlawful, since E had honest belief that striker was responsible for damage, notwithstanding striker's statement that he only unsnapped two snaps on canvas winter front which held it to bug screen, in view of photograph of truck showing extensive damage, there was no reason to believe E was responsible for aggravation of damage between time striker admittedly touched it and when photograph taken and GC failed to prove striker's innocence)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(strike misconduct of strikers held insufficient to bar their reinstatement notwithstanding contention E should not be required to reinstate strikers since they had been convicted of misdemeanors and engaged in at least one of the following: implied or stated threats of physical contact with nonstriker, actual physical contact with nonstriker, caused or attempted to cause property damage, or has directly interfered with police officers attempting to maintain public order)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker deliberately walking into Ee who was trying to cross picket line insufficient misconduct to justify his suspension and subsequent termination, absent evidence non-striking Ee was injured or prevented from proceeding toward his destination, or bumping of Ee was accompanied by threats to remain away from E's premises, notwithstanding striker was arrested, police found marijuana on his person and striker cursed police)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker informing non-striking Ee smile so I can take that shit off your teeth insufficient this conduct to justify striker's termination, since no physical abuse nor was non-striking Ee progress impeded)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker cursing non-striking Ee and yelling in non-striking Ee's ear insufficient misconduct to justify striker's suspension and subsequent termination absent proof of damage to non-striking Ee's ear)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker calling non-striking Ee scab and brushing him with elbow, insufficient misconduct to justify termination of striker)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker shouldering w/o words worker crossing picket line insufficient misconduct to justify termination of striker, where no injury nor was non-striker diverted from intended path)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker threatening to beat up Ee crossing picket line when Ee left that night insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and later discharge of striker, absent evidence striker had commited any violence on non-striking Ees but merely issued threat of deferred physical harm conditioned on finding victim later)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(picketing with sheathed hunting knife on his belt, part of time exposed and part of time covered by jacket but at no time calling attention to knife, held insufficient evidence of misconduct to justify his termination)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker throwing 1 tack among quantity of tacks into street in front of entrance to plant and being arrested for violation of state right to worklaw, insufficient misconduct to justify strikers termination where tack caused no damage)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker bumping non-striking Ee leaving work insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and later discharge of striker absent evidence non-striking Ee injured)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker calling non-striking Ee scab and informing him his shit faced wife was scab too, and obstructing entrance of vehicle, insufficient misconduct to justify discharge of striker, notwithstanding striker convicted of breach of peace)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker blocking passage of non-striking Ee and informing him you ain't shit and resisting arrest, insufficient misconduct to justify discharge of striker since non-striker was not detered from proceeding, language was not accompanied by any threat of physical injury, and resisting arrest occured away from picket line, and did not involve non-strikers; scuffle with police in isolation or together with verbal abuse of non-striker did not warrant termination)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker blocking ingress and egress of non-strikers at gate of plant insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and subsequent discharge of striker where E based discharge on memo which failed to disclose how long striker had blocked entrance (it was approximately 5 minutes duration) since Bd has recognized that pickets who interfere with ingress or egress of nonstrikers for few minutes do not by such conduct alone, remove themselves from Act's protection)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker pushing over motorcycle which caused two other motorcycles to topple over insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and later discharge of striker since single isolated incident w/o resulting damage)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker throwing roofing nails on road entering E's premises through gate sufficient misconduct to justify discharge of striker; however discharge could not be based on presence of switchblade knife in striker's pocket which was discovered upon his arrest since striker did not brandish or display knife)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(discharge of striker who blocked egress of vehicle from plant through several light changes depriving driver of two opportunities to make left turn and consequently was arrested and convicted for violation os state right to work law, unlawful, since memo on which decision to discharge based did not provide basis for honest belief striker had engaged in sufficiently serious misconduct to justify discharge where memo gave no details of conduct on which charge and conviction based)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104

(striker calling non-striking Ee scab, threatening Ee if he didn't join strike, waving fist, and spitting at automobile of non-striking Ee not sufficient misconduct to justify discharge of striker)

8351-6250—Cont.

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(where E only has report of conviction w/o facts supporting that conviction so that E can determine whether striker's misconduct was trivial or so serious as to impair his value as Ee, E can not deprive striker of reinstatement)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(striker shouting over loudspeaker from across street from picketing that he was playing music for pickets, not scabs, calling police in strike area fucking pigs, and resisting arrest, insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and subsequent discharge of striker, since use of obscene language not accompanied by threats of force or violence, talk did not incite pickets; nor did brief scuffle with police either by itself or in combination with his use of loudspeaker justify striker's discharge)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB N . 104
(striker blocking progress of 2 vehicles attempting to leave E's premises and beating on window of vehicle yelling scab, and scuffling with police at site of picketing, insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and subsequent discharge of striker, since no threats of violence, nor injury caused, nor damage to vehicles and scuffles with police were of brief duration)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(striker blocking entrance of non-striking Ee into work and calling non-striking Ee obscene name insufficient misconduct to justify suspension and subsequent discharge of striker since single isolated incident and striker did not threaten non-striker with harm)

Authur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(striker temporarily blocking passage into plant by E's owner who was attempting to assist Ee in crossing picket line by striker spreading his jacket and forcing supervisor to reach around him, raising arm, and verbal confrontation with owner, not sufficient misconduct to justify refusal to reinstate, particularly in view of E's condonation when he subsequently offered to allow striker to return to work if he would get rid of U)

Catalytic, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 154
(refusal to reinstate economic striker for strike-related behavior violative although striking Ee made profane, vulgar phone call to wife of non-striking Ee, this single, brief, anonymous phone call contained no threats and does not rise to level of misconduct so violent or serious as to render him unfit for futher service)

Catalytic, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 154
(refusal to reinstate economic striker who allegedly threw rocks at non-strikers cars violative where striker, in fact, did not throw any objects at nonstrikers and only raised his hand in protest, conduct not serious enough to warrant discharge)

Schreiber Manufacturing Co., Inc. 262 NLRB No. 154
(discharging economic strikers for throwing missiles in direction of office entrance on final day of strike, violative where no showing of what object was thrown, at what and how hard it was thrown, lack of physical damage, and recovery of only one items, i.e., ball bearing from area which was not attributable to Ee did not amount to strike misconduct of a serious nature)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(discharge for alleged strike misconduct, unlawful where Ee's only misconduct was to be nearby holding picket sign when nonstriker's truck was damaged by others)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(discharge of striker who merely disconnected air hose (which only took few seconds to reconnect)from tractor to trailer on truck entering E's plant held violative, since incident not significant enough to justify discharge)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(strikers, in drunken state and in presence of non-striker's wife and daughter, said non-striking Ee was screwing them out of their—damn money and that they would take care of non-striking Ee if he returned to work; action of strikers was isolated incident of verbal abuse; remarks were ambiguous and unaccompanied by violence or physical gestures)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(discharge of strikers for calling industrial relations manager f— bitch when she crossed picket line and on other occasions, not violative, since conduct, although insulting and abusive was not accompanied by violence and was not sufficiently egregious to warrant discipline)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(strikers' stopping only 2 trucks, while on picket line, out of 125 vehicles entering and leaving E's plant daily, held insufficient to prove blocking of access to plant or to establish mass picketing)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(picketing with motorcycle chain in hand and no evidence of threat to anyone but E's security dogs)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(planned, but unexecuted slowdown)

Chevron U.S.A., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 100
(suspension of striker who jumped on hood of car leaving E's premises which was driven by one of E's gate guards and refused to alite from hood until car was involved in rear-end collision not justified by alleged misconduct absent evidence vision of driver was imparied for any great distance and since isolated incident with no resulting bodily injury or property damage)

Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 177
(discharge of striker violative where E claimed Ee unfit for further service due to his involvement in alteration at another job he had during strike, but where no physical injuries occurred; no criminal charges filed and long delay existed between incident which allegedly caused discharge and discharge itself; moreover, discharge occurred on same day as other unlawful discharges)

Limestone Apparel Corp. 255 NLRB No. 101
(failure to reinstate ULP strikers who made unconditional offer to return to work and whose actions during strike were demonstrations of animal exuberance (lying down is front of truck or standing in front of truck) violative, since there was no violence, damage to persons or property, or actual or implied threats of harm in Ees' strike behavior)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 087
(discharge of striker who allegedly drove his motorcycle around vehicles driven by management personnel so as to impede and interfere with safe use of highway violative, where evidence was infufficient to establish that striker's conduct endangered safety of vehicles' occupants since he did not attempt to drive vehicles off road, albeit he verbally insulted and abused the drivers; verbal abuse and offensive language did not turn striker's driving tactics into hazardous conduct)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(refusal to reinstate ULP striker who had served prison term for manslaughter and who allegedly had threatened nonstriking Ee, violative, where nonstriker did not work in vicinity of striker; E knew that apology had been effected between striker and nonstriker and there was no apparent reason for residuary bad blood between them; misconduct of striker not so violent or serious as to render him unfit for employment)

Midwest Solvents, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 171
(refusal to reinstate three economic strikers allegedly for egregious strike misconduct violative, where first striker's isolated threat to customer making deliveries to blow up, or burn up his combine w/o attempt to interfere with deliveries held type of minor misconduct Congress contemplated in providing right to strike; second striker's isolated mild intimidation of strike breaker to watch himself, that some of the boys might get rowdy held impulsive trivial misdeed; and third striker's parking his car in authorized parking place where it inconvenienced customer did not warrant job loss)

Furr's Cafeterias, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 125
(refusal to reinstate ULP strikers, violative, where their alleged misconduct of making statements critical of E's sanitary conditions at food preparation facilities and of temporarily blocking path of customers were so infrequent and isolated as to not lose protection of Act)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. [illegible]
(although Ee may actually have engaged in misconduct he or she may not be denied reinstatement absent showing that misconduct was so violent or of such serious nature as to render Ee unfit for future service)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. [illegible]
(mere verbal abuse, unaccompanied by any physical actions or gestures that add meaning to words, does not arise to level justifying disqualification from reinstatement)

Owens Joint Corporation 248 NLRB No. 076
(returning striker's action of jumping and lying flat out on automobile hood of non-striking Ee when the latter was attempting to cross picket line, not sufficiently serious to justify denial of reinstatement)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(involvement in exchange of words and threats with nonstriker not bar to reinstatement and backpay where nonstrikers were agressors and strikers act was in self defense, further, incident too minor to bar reinstatement or backpay where no blows struck, and no damage to property or person)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(striker following car of non-striker insufficient to bar reinstatement and backpay where no threats made nor was there any attempt to run striker off road and non-striker not followed home)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Roy L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(striking auto of non-striking Ee with picket sign impulsive trivial incident which did not bar reinstatement)

§351-6250—Cont.

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Ray L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(ULP striker spitting at foreman and using profane language towards superintendent not sufficient misconduct to bar reinstatement, particulary since ULP striker)

Matlock Truck Body & Trailer Corp., and Its Agent Ray L. Matlock 248 NLRB No. 075
(ULP striker striking side of non-striking Ee's car as non-striking Ee passing through gate of E's plant)

Sahara Tahoe Corporation d/b/a Sahara Tahoe Hotel JD-(SF)-269-82
(discharge of and refusal to reinstate striker, unlawful since his possession of concealed billy club on picket line was not misconduct so violent or serious as to justify refusal to reinstate him where there was no evidence of agressive conduct against nonstrikers, public or peace officer; as sole early morning picket he probably carried it as defensive weapon, as he testified, and there was no evidence that he knew he should not have it; he did not resist confiscation of club or arrest and would not have been arrested but for his refusal to tell the sheriff his age)

Sahara Tahoe Corporation d/b/a Sahara Tahoe Hotel JD-(SF)-269-82
(striker's alleged threat of physical harm to non-striking Ee held not sufficiently serious to justify E's failure to reinstate striker, where evidence failed to show that striker made any gesture or other move which would lead one to think he was going to carry out threat)

Page Airways of Michigan, Inc. JD-862-79
(no violation where E discharged Ee in good faith belief that he was guilty of serious strike misconduct justifying discharge and GC has not shown that such misconduct did not, in fact, occur)

N.L.R.B. v. E-Systems, Inc., ECI Division 642 NLRD No. 118 (C.A. 5, Apr 4, 1981)
(where striking Ee accidently scratched car of nonstriking Ee, E's refusal to reinstate violative as E lacked good cause for denying reinstatement)

Star Meat Company v. N.L.R.B. 640 F.2d 13 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(E's failure to reinstate economic striker who had grabbed replacement Ee and pushed him backward to prevent him from going to work, unlawful where his actions were limited in time and did not produce violent retaliation by other Ees, and he had limited language ability and stated that he was ignorant of Act's provisions not allowing him to physically restrain nonstriking Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Iowa Beef Processors, Inc. 675 F.2d 1004 (C.A. 8, Apr. 1982)
(Ees who merely attended demonstrations during strike at which violent and destructive acts occurred type which had been found violative of Section 8(b)(1)(A) by Bd and against repetition of which ct had issued inj did not participate in misconduct warranting their discharge; E's contention discharge justified by Ees participation in crowd activity designed to block access to E's plant in violation of inj, rejected, since scope of Act's protection not defined by scope of inj)

§351-6253 Sufficient to justify discharge or other discipline

Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 265 NLRB No. 192
(discharge of economic striker for throwing rocks, not violative)

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82
(E warning striker because of its good faith belief that striker had repeatedly flashed his vehicle lights from high beam to low beam while following E's truck, lawful, in view of danger caused by actions)

Styrest Nursing Home JD-(ATL)-95-82
(striker opening drain on trailer carrying oil leaving only dust cap as protection which might cause hot oil to spill on remover of dust cover sufficient misconduct to justify suspension of striker)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(striker pulling up to truck of non-striking Ee and displaying firearm sufficiently serious misconduct to justify termination of striker)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(striker threatening to sleep with wife of non-striking Ee insufficient misconduct to justify discharge to justify discharge of striker, absent evidence striker made any effort to carry out threat)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(throwing bobjacks on roadway in front of plant which were major source of damage to tires on cars driven by nonstriking Ees held serious misconduct sufficient to justify termination)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(striker throwing roofing nails on road entering E's premises through gate sufficient misconduct to justify discharge of striker; however discharge could not be based on presence of switchblade knife in striker's pocket which was discovered upon his arrest since striker did not brandish or display knife)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company 265 NLRB No. 104
(striker deliberately inflicting damage on automobiles of two non-striking Ees sufficient misconduct to justify striker's discharge notwithstanding striker made restitution to owners of cars)

Author Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(striker jamming locks of E's plant so that E's owner was unable to enter and services of locksmith were required, held misconduct that justified refusal to reinstate)

Overhead Door Corporation (Todco Division) 261 NLRB No. 094
(discharge assertedly for strike misconduct, lawful where, contrary to complaint allegations, misconduct was found to have occurred; ALJ's reliance on delay in discharge to find discharge unlawful, unwarranted; complaint alleged nonoccurrence of misconduct rather than delay in discharge, neither party addressed delay issue, and record was silent as to reason for delay)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(hitting non-striking Ee outside plant)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(punching passenger in car and trying to pull him out amounts to serious strike misconduct)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(throwing rock at, and hitting, supervisor's car as he was leaving E's plant grounds for discharge)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(striker's clenching his fist and pointing gun at plant manager)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(threatening statements made to other Ees rather than to supervisors themselves not grounds for discharge)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(insulting and abusive remarks about supervisor made to other Ees but w/i hearing of supervisor)

IPCO Hospital Supply Corporation, Cheshire Labs Division 255 NLRB No. 116
(strikers who showed up at ball game held away from plant during nonwork time, carried on in obscene manner and on having ball park after being told to do so threw nails on roadway, not entitled to reinstatement because of strike misconduct)

Castle-Pierce Printing Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 172
(refusal of E to reinstate discharged U steward because of his total course of serious strike misconduct after U terminated its strike and offered unconditionally to return strikers to work including 5 other discharged strikers, not unlawful notwithstanding contention that he was singled out from among other Ees who also engaged in strike misconduct because of his U activities, where he committed far more frequent acts of misconduct and far more serious acts of misconduct than did other strikers)

General Telephone Company of Michigan 251 NLRB No. 099
(E's suspension of Ee for striking security guard and trespassing on company property during course of strike held not violative where GC failed to establish either that conduct did not occur or that alleged conduct was protected activity)

Sahara Tahoe Corporation d/b/a Sahara Tahoe Hotel JD-(SF)-269-82
(picketing striker's vile, profane and obscene remarks directed at vacationers and guests at E's hotel, effort to picke a fight with some of them and unprovoked physical assault on others found sufficiently serious to justify denial of reinstatement to striker)

Temp Tech Industries, Inc. JD-288-82
(discharge of striker not violative, where there was no showing that motivation was anything other than striker's flagrant and egregious picket line misconduct)

Glyden's, Inc. JD-(SF)-142-81
(failure to reinstate wrongfully discharged Ee who captained strike during which rocks and bottles were hurled into E's parking lot, E's operations manager was spat upon and obscenities yelled at him, and strike captain was arrested and booked by police, not violative since Ee was involved in sufficiently serious misconduct warranting denial of his reinstatement)

Presbyterian-University Hospital JD-123-81
(discharge of and refusal to reinstate striker justified by his breaking windshield and wiper blades of delivery truck, blocking egress of supply truck, and threatening nonstriking Ees with physical violence)

Triple A Machine Shop, Inc. JD-(SF)-220-80
(discharge of 3 striking Ees not violative where they engaged in life threatening picket line violence; fact that other nonstrikers engaged in some violence and were not discharged is not inconsistent where their behavior did not reach same level of violence)

Quaker Rubber Company, Division of Minnesota Rubber Company JD-607-80
(Ees' acts of violence and specific threats of bodily harm during economic strike justified their discharges)

8351-6255—Cont.

Horner-Waldorf Corporation, A Division of Champion International Corporation JD-(SF)-106-80
(discharge of six Ees, not unlawful, where all six Ees engaged in picket line misconduct)

Vass Steel Corporation JD-216-80
(E delaying reinstatement of economic striker by suspending him beginning on date on which he would have returned to work with other strikers, not unlawful, where for throwing rock at truck entering E's property during strike)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(where strike replacement and 2 strikers engaged in rock throwing during strike, discharging only one striker who was on bargaining committee, not violative where E lacked knowledge of misconduct of strike replacements and failure to discharge other striker was inadvertent)

Chevron U.S.A. Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 359 (C.A. 3, Mar. 1982)
(10-day disciplinary suspension of returning striking Ee not violative where Ee had jumped on hood of nonstriker's car and pounded on windshield as driver attempted to drive down public road and Ee remained on hood for 1.3 miles, as this conduct is unprotected for following reasons: activity occurred away from picket line; misconduct was prolonged in duration and consisted of physical act which could have resulted in serious injury; objective standard used to determine whether conduct serious enough to allow E to impose sanction)

N.L.R.B. v. E-Systems, Inc., ECI Division 642 NLRB No. 118 (C.A. 5, Apr 4, 1981)
(striking Ee who impulsively bent car antenna of one of E's vendors not engaged in conduct which would warrant protection of Act and E's refusal to reinstate not violative)

N.L.R.B. v. E-Systems, Inc., ECI Division 643 NLRB No. 118 (C.A. 5, Apr 4, 1981)
(striking Ee who blocked passage of Ees going to and from work and who struck one Ee engaged in conduct not protected by Act and E's refusal to reinstate not violative)

'Totes' Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 688 F.2d 26 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(enforcement of Bd's backpay order to striker, denied and E found justified in suspending him for six weeks since striker's physical violence removed him from protection of the Act where his participation in throwing at least one of three lit firecrackers at convoy of cars carrying non-striking Ees at midnight was clearly calculated to instill fear in Ees)

8351-6267 Misconduct of other striker no defense

Triple A Machine Shop, Inc. JD-(SF)-220-80
(discharge of 3 striking Ees not violative where they engaged in life threatening picket line violence; fact that other nonstrikers engaged in some violence and were not discharged is not inconsistent where their behavior did not reach same level of violence)

8351-6900 Strike unprotected

Bethlehem Steel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 138
(where Ees engaged in unprotected work stoppage in violation of no strike provision of contract, Ee who left work for different reason but later joined strikers in their activity found striker also)

Illinois Bell Telephone Company JD-178-82
(suspension assessed against Ees who had engaged in work stoppage in response to disciplinary suspension of fellow Ee, not violative where strike was in violation of no-strike clause and was not initiated nor authorized by contracting U; strike was unprotected activity for which E was entitled to institute discipline of participating Ees)

Irvin H. Whitehouse & Sons Co. v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 830 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(where safety issue is one that must be submitted to binding arbitration, obligation not to strike over matter is considered to be coterminous and any stoppage violates implied no-strike clause unless safety hazard suddenly arose and presented immediate threat; i.e., Washington Aluminum situation)

Caterpillar Tractor Co. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 140 (C.A. 7, Sept. 1981)
(discharge of Ees who participated in strike not unlawful since strike unprotected, notwithstanding contention strike ULP strike and no waiver, where contract provided there would be no strikes until grievance procedure exhausted and grievance on underlying dispute was pending; nor was E's unlawful unilateral changes regarding transfers serious labor dispute w/i Mastro Plastics so as to preclude waiver of right to strike regarding ULP)

Ervin Stevenage and Gerald Treichel v. N.L.R.B. 686 F.2d 962 (C.A.D.C., Aug. 1982)
(discharge of U stewards rather than less severe discipline imposed on rank and file Ees for participation in unprotected walkout, violative, where stewards were not leaders of strike nor was there reasonable basis for E to believe they were leaders, and bargaining agreement imposed no special duty on stewards in connection with forbidden work stoppage; further, not clear that arbitrator's decision upholding discharges based on contract interpretation of required higher duty of stewards)

John H. Fournelle v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 331 (C.A.D.C., Feb. 1982)
(no violation by suspending U committeeman along with other Ees for breach of no-strike agreement, since, notwithstanding committeeman left premises to go to dentist, before doing so he joined strikers at U hall and gave TV interview in support of strike, thus violating contractual clause which precluded encouraging and sanctioning strike; ct rejected contention that ALJ did not base finding on above-mentioned clause and that justifying suspension on basis of said clause constituted impermissible waiver of Sec. 7 rights)

8355 NONUNION EMPLOYEE SIMULTANEOUSLY DISCHARGED, LAID OFF OR OTHERWISE DISCIPLINED

Knogo Corporation 265 NLRB No. 19
(harsher discipline to pro-U employees)

Vincent Brass & Aluminum Co. 264 NLRB No. 07
(layoff and refusal to reinstate Ees, unlawful, since for assertion of their contractual right to job bidding procedure rather than for economic reasons, in view of E's U animus established by other violations and where layoffs occurred while orders increasing and overtime worked by other Ees during layoff, notwithstanding layoff in accord with contract and fact those laid off included Ees who had not attempted to assert their rights under contract)

Roach Manufacturing Corporation JD-15-81
(layoff of Ees including U organizer and U partisans as well as nonU supporters, violative; E's contention that layoffs were for economic reasons rejected, as E recalled 1 Ee next day and work of other laid off Ees assigned to night shift, an unusual practice; furthermore, layoff of nonU supporters also done to give color of legitimacy to E's action)

N.L.R.B. v. Jack August Enterprises, Inc. 683 F.2d 575 (C.A. 1
(discharge of Ee organizer for U assertedly because business was slow, violative, where shortly after the discharge E fired another Ee, not involved in U activity, to cover up termination of U organizer, and subsequently hired additional four Ees w/o recalling any of the discharged Ees)

8356 OTHER UNION ADHERENTS NOT DISCHARGED

Wayne Construction, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 08
(discriminatory motive, otherwise established, is not disproved by E's proof that it did not weed out all U adherents)

8363 PENDENCY OF PETITION FOR ELECTION

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 11
(Shea Chemical 121 NLRB 1027, which required E to withdraw from bargaining with incumbent U after ptn had been filed by outside U overruled; E neutrality is best preserved by continued bargaining with incumbent, thus E will not violate Sec. 8(a)(2) by postpetition negotiation or execution of contract with incumbent U and will not violate Sec. 8(a)(3) even if it contains U-security clause; however, if contract is executed and incumbent loses election, contract with incumbent will be null and void)

8365 REINSTATEMENT OR OFFER OF REINSTATEMENT

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 259 NLRB No. 14
(E's offer of reinstatement to striking Ees held proper, where they were all offered reinstatement to substantially equivalent working conditions to those existing before Ees struck; although type of work performed upon reinstatement was not the same as that performed before strike began because latter work had been removed to another facility, work at facility herein was subject to fewer layoffs and irregularity than that performed at other facility, it involved substantially same production skills as before, and other products had been previously produced at facility herein)

[illegible] Insulation Service, A Division of [illegible] Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 0
(whether E had made sufficient offer of reinstatement of strikers left to compliance stage)

[illegible] Insulation Service, A Division of [illegible] Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 0
(where reinstatement offers are made regarding all striking Ees, or the members, and similar collective designations or lists of Ees, Bd does not infer that reinstatement of one is conditional on reinstatement of all)

8365—Cont.

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 256 NLRB No. 050

(in determining whether E has made proper offer of reinstatement discriminatee must have been granted reasonable period of time to consider whether to accept such offer, length of which depends on factual circumstances of each case)

California Pacific Signs, Inc. JD-(ATL)-76-81

(E who in good faith mails bona fide offer of reinstatement to discriminatorily discharged Ee at Ee's last known address is relieved of further backpay liability whether or not offer is received by addressee)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)

(letters offering reinstatement to constructively discharged illegal aliens on condition that reemployment would not subject E to any violation of immigration laws were unconditional offers of reinstatement and Ees must fulfill legal requirements for re-employment)

8365-0100 Generally

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035

(qualified unreinstated striker is entitled to offer of reinstatement to newly created position resulting from expansion of unit; thus where E retained two permanent replacements and reinstated two strikers it essentially expanded size of unit and its failure to offer newly created positons (which were substantially equivalent to those strikers occupied before strike) to strikers awaiting reinstatement before placing in those positions new Ees hired after striker's unconditional offer to return to work violative)

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(in order to comply with principle that ULP strikers upon their unconditional application to return to work are entitled to reinstatement to former or substantially equivalent positions, E must present probative evidence showing good-faith effort to communicate such offer of reinstatement to Ee and must show that he has taken all measures reasonably available to him to make known to striker that he is being invited to reutn to work; and Ee is entitled to reasonable period of time in which to consider reinstatement offer)

8365-1300 No obligation to reinstate absent indication of employees' wish to return

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(E's failure to reinstate, w/o any business justification striker when replacement left after striker had unconditionally offered to return to work, unlawful, where E reinstated other strikers with less seniority and strikers who made later offers to return to work, nor did fact striker had taken another job justify E's failure to reinstate him since unlikely striker would have preferred other job inasmuch as he had less seniority at that job than had with E)

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 145

(failure to recall Ee to former position violative, not withstanding Ee had made statement that she was not really interested when this statement had been made at time when no job offered to her)

8365-2000 No obligation to reinstate if for sufficient, legitimate, and substantial business reasons

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080

(burden on E to establish that it had sufficient, legitimate, and substantial business reasons for refusing to take back economic striker)

Graphic Components, Inc. JD-377-80

(no obligation of reinstatement of non-ULP striker if E decides not to fill position)

8365-2500 Offer not made in good faith no defense

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080

(original rejection of unconditional request for reinstatement with No, we don't have a job for you, but then after ULP charge filed E informed Ee that it had a position available and inquired whether he wanted to return to work, violative as offer vague and not tendered in good faith)

8365-3000 Conditions attached to offer

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(no valid offer to return to work on behalf of all strikers by former U steward since steward not designated as representative of strikers where Ees had withdrawn from U for which had been steward and former steward at time of alleged offer was not acting as steward for any U's nor had strikers requested that former steward speak for them)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107

(offer not unconditional where strikers' offer to return to work was clearly stated to be in order to facilitate negotiations)

Southland Knitwear, Inc. and Metropolitan Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 087

(sending telegram urging ULP striker to come back to work immediately or be replaced constituted offer conditioned upon acceptance and return w/i unreasonably short period of time and therefore not unconditional)

Joyhill Steel Products, Inc.; etc. 258 NLRB No. 157

(E's conditioning reinstatement of two unlawfully discharged U adherents upon relinquishment of right to support U in election, unlawful)

A–1 Building Materials 256 NLRB No. 114

(conditioning discriminatee's reinstatement on doctor's verification of ability to perform work held not valid offer where initial offer was made when E believed that Ee would reject offer contained no such requirement)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137

(no unequivocal and unconditional offer of reinstatement notwithstanding E had announced at meeting that Ees who had been discharged could return to work, where E subsequently told Ee he would call Ee if everything cooled down)

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. 005

(notwithstanding substantial strike violence, requirement that economic strikers, as precondition to reinstatement, must take polygraph test, violative, where most questions asked involved employment relationship (stealing, slowdowns, etc.) and were required only of strikers for which E furnished no justification; thus, strikers had to prove their innocence of both strike-related and nonstrike related misconduct)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120

(requiring ULP strikers to fill out availability for work forms as precondition to reinstatement violative)

8365-3300 Reinstatement to position not substantially same no defense

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178

(E's offer to returning ULP strikers of jobs on assembly line instead of reinstatement to their former service jobs held not offer of substantially equivalent employment and unlawful, even though E offered to pay Ees same salary as they had previously received, since assembly line and service jobs are different, with latter being more desirable job, and Ees are usually transferred from assembly service department and not the reverse)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137

(defense rejected since offer was for desireable and less frequent employment)

Lion Uniform, Janesville Apparel Division 247 NLRB No. 123

(settlement agreement which did not require E to resume its original operation at plant not approved by Bd where replacement operation only provided Ees with seasonal work and was thus not substantially equivalent)

Graphic Components, Inc. JD-377-80

(where only part time or temporary positions available, E does not need to offer these positions to returning non-ULP strikers as positions not considered substantially equivalent)

8365-4000 Offer of reinstatement but with different terms of employment

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035

(offers of reinstatement to economic strikers not valid where offers were to positions much less desireable than those strikers' left)

Randall, Burkart/Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 001

(requiring former strikers to wait 90 days after reinstatement for resumption of health insurance coverage, unlawful, notwithstanding pursuant to provisions of pre-existing health plan regarding E coverage for Es who had ceased active work and E's contention that in view of administration of plan by third party it had no right to unilaterally change provisions, since no business justification and inherently destructive even absent U animus)

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-219-82

(offer of reemployment to principal dancer for coming season at salary which was less than salary he received from E during past season, not valid offer of reinstatement, since offer, in effect, required Ee to take demotion; Ee's refusal to accept offer cannot be deemed willful loss of employment)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)

(treating returning strikers as new Ees for purposes of department and shift assignments, violative; contention that E can unilaterally cease abiding by provision in expired contract rejected and, while adverse effect on Ee rights may have been comparatively slight, E did not demonstrate business purpose for action)

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)

(treating returning strikers as new Ees for purposes of department and shift assignments, violative; contention that E can unilaterally cease abiding by provision in expired contract rejected and, while adverse effect on Ee rights may have been comparatively slight, E did not demonstrate business purpose for action)

8365-4000—Cont.

Randall, Division of Textron, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 1240 (C.A. 8, Sept. 1982)
(treating returning strikers as new Ees for insurance purposes wherein no coverage for first 60 days, not violative as insurance contract did not permit their coverage w/o new waiting period; therefore, E had legitimate and non-discriminatory business reason)

8365-5000 Offer of reemployment as new employee no defense

Conair Corporation 261 NLRB No. 178
(placement of words new hire on timecards of reinstated ULP strikers and change of original dates of hire to date of reinstatement following strike, unlawful, since E thereby apparently rehired strikers w/o their accrued seniority rights)

Frozen Queen Foods, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 045
(E assigning new hire dates upon recall to probationary Ees among strikers causing them to lose credit towards completion of probationary period for time employed prior to strike unlawful, notwithstanding no U animus or intent to discriminate, since action was inherently destructive of Ees' rights; E's contention that since contract required 60 consecutive days probation it was not possible to achieve its purpose by tolling probationary period during strike, rejected)

8365-6300 No valid offer made

American Olean Tile company, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 206
(offering reinstatement to job at plant 20 miles from where returning economic strikers formerly worked not offer of substantially equivalent position)

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035
(E who offered economic striker reinstatement but only gave him 24 hours to consider offer did not validly offer striker reinstatement)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(E's failure to reinstate striker when opening occurred after striker's unconditional offer to return to work, unlawful, since E failed to establish business justification for failure to reinstate, or that striker had obtained equivalent employment elsewhere and where striker had decided to get out of business he had started during strike, and had never informed E he wished to continue venture; further, it is E's responsibility to ascertain availability of striker, nor is it defense to E's backpay liability that it sent letter to striker inquiring if still interested in job)

Mid-County Transit Mix, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 107
(E's telephone call to striker to report to work next morning at 6 a.m. not valid offer of reinstatement since did not allow reasonable period of time to consider whether to return)

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079
(E did not fulfill his obligation to offer reinstatement to unlawfully discharged Ee by requesting another Ee to tell dischargee that he was not fired and should return to work)

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(offer of reinstatement which required economic strikers to report to work immediately on day following mailgram containing offer sent, not valid offer since did not constitute reasonable notice or allow reasonable time for striking Ees to consider whether to accept offer, further insufficient evidence that offers received)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(no unequivocal and unconditional offer of reinstatement notwithstanding E had announced at meeting that Ees who had been discharged could return to work, where E subsequently told Ee he would call Ee if everything cooled down)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(where Ee had been discriminated against on 2 occasions valid offer of reinstatement must include reassurance that no further discrimination would occur)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(where subject of returning to work is put as question to Ee and not as offer, burden is not on discriminatee to inquire whether or not offer was to reinstate him to his former position inasmuch as offer does not constitute unconditional offer of reinstatement)

Flatiron Paving Company d/b/a Flatiron Materials Company 250 NLRB No. 080
(original rejection of unconditional request for reinstatement with No, we don't have a job for you, but then after ULP charge filed E informed Ee that it had a position available and inquired whether he wanted to return to work, violative as offer vague and not tendered in good faith)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 054
(offer of reinstatement communicated to discriminatee's roommate not valid offer)

Safeway Trails, Inc. JD-[illegible]
(letter from E to discriminatee (striker) that he would be considered for reinstatement, not valid offer, since it did no more than inform discriminatee that he would be considered for rehire)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-283-80
(E's offer of reinstatement conditioned on admission of U error and Ees' waiver of backpay not effective to toll backpay; nor is Bd bound by waiver of backpay made by Ee in order to regain job)

N.L.R.B. v. Shaw Industries, Inc., A Division of Crystal Springs Shirt Corp.; etc. 671 F.2d 1377(T) (C.A. 5, Mar. 1982)
(refusal to reinstate sympathy strikers who held status of ULP strikers, violative, where E's letter offering return to work was mere invitation to apply for work and thus did not discharge E's obligation to make unconditional offer and in fact those Ees who did respond to offer were place on preferential hiring list rather than obtaining immediate reinstatement)

N.L.R.B. v. Sure-Tan, Inc., and Surak Leather Co. 672 F.2d 592 (C.A. 7, Feb. 1982)
(offers of reinstatement to constructively discharged illegal aliens written in English and mailed to last known Mexican address were inadequate because delivery was not verified and Ees' native language was Spanish; new offers will terminate back pay accrual)

8365-7500 Subsequent reinstatement no defense

Allied Eastern States Maintenance Corporation, A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Allied Maintenance Corporation 261 NLRB No. 167
(fact that unlawfully discharged Ee was subsequently re-hired 4 months later and after charges filed, not conclusive proof of E's unlawful motivation)

8372 REPLACEMENT

8372-0100 Generally

Associated Grocers 253 NLRB No. [illegible]
(temporary strike replacements' status converted to permanent status when E communicated such change to replacements who then acknowledged such change in writing; however, as to Ees hired thereafter as temporary and received no assurance that their employment was permanent regardless of intention of E, they retained their temporary status)

8372-5000 Non-ULP strikers may be replaced

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(help wanted ads placed by E in local newspaper seeking replacements for striking Ees, not violative, since strike was not ULP strike and E did not threaten to deprive ULP strikers of their rights)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Southern California Edison Company 646 F.2d 1352 (C.A. 9, Jan 1981)
(when refusal to cross stranger picket line results in only partial work stoppage, E must demonstrate legitimate business reason for replacing Ee)

Zapex Corporation and BDM Services Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 328 (C.A. 9, 1980)

8372-5033 Replacement no defense where discriminatory

Consolidated Dress Carriers, Inc., et al. 259 NLRB No. 083
(E who refuses to reinstate economic strikers who make unconditional offers to return to work has burden of proving that strikers have been permanently replaced; burden not met where payroll records indicated E had work available for all striking Ees, no evidence of hiring of permanent replacements, or of decline in business or elimination of jobs)

8372-7500 ULP strikers may not be permanently replaced

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 260 NLRB No. 037
(E's failure to terminate ULP striker replacements, unlawful where E had to terminate them in order to make room for strikers)

AMPAC, a subsidiary of Kane-Miller Corp. 259 NLRB No. 151
(help wanted ads placed by E in local newspaper seeking replacements for striking Ees, not violative, since strike was not ULP strike and E did not threaten to deprive ULP strikers of their rights)

Gulf Envelope Company 256 NLRB No. 058
(E's refusal to discharge strike replacements in order to reinstate ULP strikers to same or substantially equivalent jobs upon strikers' unconditional request for reinstatement, unlawful)

Atlas Metal Parts Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 039
(upon unconditional offer to return to work, ULP strikers are entitled to immediate reinstatement to their former jobs or if such jobs no longer exist to substantially equivlanet positions; further, burden is upon E to offer immediate and unconditional reinstatement, even if striker replacements must be terminated to make room for returning strikers)

8372-7500—Cont.

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(permanently replacing and refusing to reinstate ULP strikers, unlawful)

Sanders Bus Line, Inc. JD-(SF)-120-82

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

8376 RETENTION OR REEMPLOYMENT OF UNION MEMBERS

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009
(E violated Act where reason for denial of reemployment after voluntary quit, pretextual, and Ees' U activity real cause)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)
(where U activist quit in protest over discharge of another U activist, refusal to rehire was not violative as his quit was serious breach of his employment obligation in that E was left with only one of three furnaces attended)

8380 SENIORITY

Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 254 NLRB No. 109
(on reconsideration, Bd applied dual motivation theory and reaffirmed violation finding; although this is pretext case, layoffs were violative under any analysis in view of E's knowledge of Ees' U activities, U animus, timing w/i 3 weeks of R ptn filing, and E's false reason that both were least senior Ees)

C. Cowles & Company JD-(NY)-52-82
(layoff of active U protaganist because of downturn in sales of automotive parts manufacturer, not violative, since Ee was least senior in E's department being cut back because of depressed sales in automotive industry and E's usual custom was to use departmental seniority w/o bumping other Ees; E satisfied burden of proving lawful justificatiion for discharge)

Gerber Scientific Instrument Company, Inc., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Gerber Scientific, Inc. JD-188-82
(layoff of U adherent not unlawful in view of cancelled orders and since E properly used as seniority basis rehire date where adherent had previously left E's employment voluntarily)

Noryen Company, Inc. JD-847-79
(selection of Ees for layoff out of seniority and refusal to reinstate them by E who manufactured knit shirts, not unlawful, where selection was for poor attendance record and due to anticipated move from area, and there had been no U activity on part of Ees during 10(b) period; nor was hiring of new Ees subsequent to lay off indicative of unlawful motive where E had, meanwhile, installed new type of machine requiring different skills to operate)

N.L.R.B. v. Concord Furniture Industries, Inc., d/b/a Bradford Furniture Company 675 F.2d 426 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(discharge of two U adherents unlawful since for U activity rather than on basis of seniority, notwithstanding one adherent was lowest in seniority, where E failed to calculate seniority of other adherent and supervisor had stated that they had been discharged for U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Campo Slacks, Inc., and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 659 F.2d 1069(T) (C.A. 3, May 1981)
(no error in Bd's determination that Ee was discharged because of anti-U animus rather than, as contended, on basis of her lack of seniority)

8384 UNION OR OTHER CONCERTED ACTIVITY, NO DEFENSE

Robert Bosch Corporation JD-220-81
(E's refusal to credit strike time as time worked for purpose of granting step progression increases and delayed such increases for period of time commensurate with strike did not violate Act as E handled laid-off Ees and those absent for other reasons in same manner and there was no showing of anti-U animous)

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(ct rejects Bd's theory that Ee's wrongdoing, however serious, is automatically immunized from results of polygraph test given for impermissible reason, i.e., Ee was ordered to take test on day E received written report of his U activity)

8384-3300 Employer may discipline employee for union activities during work hours

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(E posting notice requesting that Ees notify supervisors if any members of U organizing committee or anyone else attempted to bother Ees during working time about U, not unlawful; notwithstanding tone of notice, which also advised Ees against signing authorization cards and warned that members of U organizing committee would be held to full compliance with company rules, was hostile to U)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(warning Ees against talking while working, not violative, since working time is for work and particularly since warnings not a policy initiated during U's campaign)

8384-6700 Illegal objective invalidates discipline

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(remand for Bd finding whether or not it agrees with ALJ that polygraph test implicated Ee in thefts and he would have been discharged in absence of U activity, as meaning of written report of test is unclear)

8384-8300 Particular activities

8384-8337 Display or wearing of union insignia

St. Joseph's Hospital of The Franciscan Sisters of Milwaukee, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 135
(supervisor requesting Ee to remove arm band with U insignia, not unlawful, nor was Ee's leaving work rather than remove it unlawful suspension, since E's prohibition against arm band was not discriminatory particularly in hospital setting where arm band superimposed on uniform was highly obtrusive)

8384-8375 Refusal to cross picket line

Joseph Charles Tafarella A.K.A. Steve Rossi, and Total Productions Concepts, Inc. JD-(SF)-212-81
(discharge of U musicians for refusing to cross picket line of another U at hotel at which they were working)

8387 UNSATISFACTORY BEHAVIOR OF EMPLOYEE

8387-0300 Absence from work or lateness

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(no violation where probationary Ee was discharged after being twice warned about his attendance problem and being denied pay raise prior to start of any U activity)

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040
(discharge not violative since for excessive lateness and absences, rather than for U activity, particularly where Ee's only U activity was to sign authorization card)

Talbert Manufacturing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 138
(discharge of laborer, reinstated former striker, after numerous questionable absences and repeated violations of E's call-in policies not violative, since other Ees who were not discharged had numerous absences, but no one's exceeded that of discharged laborer; no evidence that E condoned similar behavior on part of any other Ee; laborer given ample warning informally and in writing E demonstrated Ee would have been discharged in absence of protected activity on his part overcoming GC's prima facie case)

Grumman Flxible Corporation 264 NLRB No. 034
(no violation for discharging probationary Ee for poor attendance record (tardy or absent 11 days during his 31 days of employment) as it was in accord with past practice; contention that discharge was motivated by Ee's intention to file workman's compensation claim, rejected)

Federal Management Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 023
(discharge of Ee, who was leading U activist, assertedly for unexcused absence from work for short period of time during working day, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's hostility to U, where there was no question that Ee had violated well understood rule; only a week before discharge E had spoken to Ee about similar episode; evidence of anti-U animus shows only statements by E shortly before and after election with last statement being made approximately 5 months before discharge; and evidence in support of finding unlawful discharge was insufficient to warrant conclusion that Ee was discharged because of U activities)

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099
(selection of Ee for layoff where E lost government contracts, lawful, in view of her excessive absenteeism record; notwithstanding Ee was among those Ees initially contacted by U, solicited signatures on U authorization cards and had recently been given above average wage increase)

Mobile Home Estates, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 102
(U activist had received many written warnings during 90-day period)

Georgia Kraft Company, Woodcraft Division 258 NLRB No. 121
(discharge of probationary Ee, U adherent, for absenteeism, not violative)

Micro Mell Corporation 257 NLRB No. 005
(discharge of Ee, assertedly for his U activities, not violative where real reason for discharge was Ee's excessive absenteeism)

8387-0300—Cont.

German Machine Corporation 257 NLRB No. 010
(discharge of Ee, not violative where Ee engaged in no U activities in proximity to his discharge and E's decision to terminate him was motivated only by his absences due to alcoholism)

The Swingline Company, Spotnails, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 119
(discharge of very active U adherent not violative where E proved cause for discharge was Ee's continual lateness and absenteeism, moreover, E was very lenient with U campaigners regarding pro-U activities on work time)

Fruehauf Corporation 255 NLRB No. 125
(discharge of U steward not violative, where reason was her irregular attendance and not because of her U position or activities, as contended, in view of absence of U animus on part of E)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 056
(discharge of known U adherent not violative in absence of disparate treatment; fact that E's policy on absenteeism was not uniform did not lead to inference that discharge was for U activity since no one with more absenteeism had been retained, nor fact that E ignored its recently enacted absenteeism procedure can be ascribed to anti U reasons since E has never utilized this procedure for any of its Ees)

Alfa Leisure, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 088
(issuance of warning notices to and suspension of Ee not violative where reason was Ee's lateness in returning from lunch after celebrating U victory in election for which he had been an observer, and for his insubordinate attitude)

Ben Franklin Division of City Products Corporation 251 NLRB No. 200

Sumco Manufacturing Co., Inc. Summit Grinding Company 251 NLRB No. 046
(discharge of Ee for absenteeism not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that Ee was active U organizer, where her final warning on absenteeism preceded any alleged U activity)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(warning given to Ee over lateness, not violative, where alleged hostility against Ee arose from incident too remote in time (2 months) to have been significant factor)

Western Care, Inc. d/b/a Western Care Nursing Home (United Food and Commercial Workers International Union, Local 684, AFL-CIO-CLC) 250 NLRB No. 084
(discharges in drive to correct absenteeism, not unlawful, where U activity of alleged discriminatees was small, some dischargees were not alleged to be discriminatees, corrective action had been planned prior to U campaign, and E did not fire known U activist when presented the opportunity to do so)

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009

Streamway Division of The Scott & Fetzer Co. 249 NLRB No. 054
(discharge assertedly for excessive absenteeism, not unlawful, where E had no knowledge of, or animus toward Ee's U activity; E had evidence that Ee, who was chronically absent and repeatedly forewarned, had taken river boat cruise while he was supposed to be incapacitated; and such absence, whether caused by injury or irresponsibility, brought Ee's absenteeism record to point of being excessive)

Landmark Beef Processors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 041
(discharge of lead person, who was U advocate, for single unexcused absence held not violative where E had demonstrated no anti-U animus and Ee held position of some resfonsibility for which she received higher pay than others)

Alpha Beta Company JD-201-82

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-89-82
(discharge of U adherents not unlawful where they failed to maintain regular work schedules)

United Parcel Service, Inc. JD-644-81
(discharge not unlawful where it was not, as alleged, for aiding in writing and distributing an article in U newsletter criticizing E's management, but was pursuant to E's disciplinary policy regarding stealing time by overextending lunch period, which policy was not disparately applied herein)

Muncie Newspapers, Inc. JD-452-81
(warning former U president for not giving proper notification as required by rules that he would not show up for his shift, not unlawful, where warning pursuant to disciplinary system agreed to by E and U, former president knew prior to warning that he had broken rule, and absent evidence of discriminatory enforcement of rules)

Aluminum Cruisers, Inc. JD-497-80
(discharge of U adherent not violative where it was not, as contended, for protected activities but was for excessive absenteeism)

Arco Chemical Company, A Division of Atlantic Richfield Company JD-(SF)-174-80
(discharge of Ee for absenteeism not unlawful, notwithstanding GC's contention that absenteeism was E's pretext for discharge and real reason was Ee's U activity)

Coastal Volkswagen, Audi JD-(SF)-104-80
(discharge of U activist because of repeated unexcused absences, not violative, notwithstanding that E's earlier warning letter to him for absences violated 8(a)(3); it was not incumbent upon E thereafter to ignore unexcused absences)

Charge Card Association v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 272 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(GC did not make out prima facie case that E unlawfully suspended Ees for walkout protesting working conditions since Ees called E and falsely stated they were sick. In view of high absenteeism that day, E had right to demand Ees support their assertion of illness even if E suspected Ees were protesting working conditions. Had Ees said they were going to be absent in protest of working conditions, different result would obtain)

Delco Air Conditioning Division, General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(discharge of U committeeman for leving plant w/o signing out in violation of company rules, not unlawful; substantial evidence on record did not support Bd finding of unlawful discharge in light of Ee's bad employment record which included absenteeism, tardiness, and falsification of travel card, and in light of fact that five other Ees, one of whom was U committeeman, had been discharged in past for engaging in similar fraudulent acts)

Grief Brothers Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 531 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee for absenting himself from work to attend U meeting not violative, where he did so in face of denial of his request for leave and warning that his absence from work would result in disciplinary measures)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Bank of Pueblo 623 F.2d 686 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(discharge of Ee not unlawful, since for unauthorized absence rather than for acting as U observor at election and attending U meetings, where Ee had received pay raise before and after election, and Ee had not asked for time off but simply informed supervisor she was taking day off)

8387-0350 Not real reason

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 201
(discharge of active U supporter for his failure to call in when absent and insubordination (calling supervisor a brown nose –) held violative, since, although Ee's violation of absentee rule was valid reason to discharge Ee, credited testimony was clear that E had decided to discharge Ee before Ee's absences)

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(layoff of U adherent, who was third most senior Ee on project, because he had worst absentee record..... of the crane operators, held violative, since reason was relatively slight for long-time Ee with nearly 12 years' experience)

Ford Paint and Varnish Company 264 NLRB No. 156

Mueller Insulation Co. and The Mueller Company of Missouri, Inc., Successor Employer and/or Alter Ego 263 NLRB No. 095
(discharging Ee with history of lateness 3-4 days each week violative, where he had done extremely good work for 8 years, E gave no warning, did not inquire reason for lateness that morning and Ee had agressively enforced bargaining agreement for 3 months)

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of known U adherent shortly after her transfer to one of E's other stores, assertedly for tardiness and long coffee breaks, unlawful, where Ee was admittedly good Ee with whom E had no problems prior to transfer; while claiming Ee had been tardy for a week before discharge, E said nothing to her about it until day of discharge; that day was to be Ee's last day at store as she had already been directed to report for work at another store; and supervisors' comments subsequent to discharge disclosed that Ee's U activity was motivating factor)

Universal Veneer Mill Corp. 261 NLRB No. 110
(discharge of U adherent, assertedly for unexcused absences in violation of E rules, and refusal to reinstate him, violative where real reason was his U activities)

Dimensions in Metal, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 078
(discharge of U adherent assertedly for unauthorized absence from work, violative)

C. W. Sweeney & Co. 258 NLRB No. 096
(discharge of U steward for excessive absenteeism violative where GC established prima facie case showing that discharge was motivated by E's antagonism toward her U activities and E failed to rebut this by showing that Ee would have been discharged notwithstanding her U activities; moreover, incident immediately preceding her discharge when she protested E's request that she leave work on grounds that contract did not require her to do so was protected and her conduct was not so outrageous (no disruption of production or any Ee heard her remarks) as to remove her from protection of Act)

8387-0350—Cont.

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 053
(discharge of key U activist, in E's desire to reduce hours to cut expenses, assertedly because of Ee's poor attitude towards his work, his lateness and improper care of E's equipment held violative where E's records during this critical period showed Ees' hours were increasing rather than decreasing and 1 day after Ee was discharged E hired another experienced driver at same rate of pay as U activist)

Granam Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 103
(discharge of active U steward, violative, where E's contention that Ee was discharged for absenteeism was pretext)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(discharge of U adherents assertedly for excessive absences and tardiness effecting production, unlawful, where old absenteeism rule was not enforced until after U activity began, new rule was not communicated to Ees and was not implemented in other departments, practice under new rule was one of tolerance rather than discipline at least for Ees other than discriminatees, method by which Ees were determined to be tardy was inconsistent, and if production were factor, new rule would not have been limited to department herein and would have been communicated to Ees needing to improve their punctuality and productivity)

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(suspension of known U adherent assertedly for violating rule on reporting in for absences, not unlawful, where Ee's intent was to report absences at his convenience w/o regard for rules; Ee's reliance on laxity in enforcement of rules was not supported by record; even assuming such laxity, an Ee would be held to higher degree of responsibility than that shown by Ee; and Ee's failure to report in prevailed in face of prior discipline for identical infraction)

Guardon Industries 255 NLRB No. 086
(discharging Ee for lateness violative as discharge was made for lateness on day following anti U speech and appeal for greater work from Ees, and before U activity Ee had been late w/o calling in, and Ee had understanding with his supervisor about lateness because he had no car)

Guardon Industries 255 NLRB No. 086
(discharging Ee for lateness, violative, as previously Ee had been discharged for absenteeism and rehired because he was good worker; E's refusal to rehire him found evidence of anti U animus in his discharge)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 056
(discharge of known U adherent not violative where Ee was confronted by two supervisors about pro-U stence; earlier E unlawfully discharged two Ees; E examined Ee's file, to find enough absenteeism and tardiness to justify discharge; and one Ee with more absences and another Ee with more tardiness were not discharged)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(discharge of U adherents for alleged lateness after having been beeped, unlawful)

Taylor-Dunn Manufacturing Company 252 NLRB No. 118
(discharge assertedly for absenteeism and tardiness, violative where he had long history of such behavior yet was rehired after leave of absence, and recent warning of discharge if late again was issued soon after he was prevented from distributing U leaflets and became member of U steering committee)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121
(discharge of driver, unlawful, where motivating factor in action was his circulating letter opposing provision in proposed bargaining agreement which would substitute mileage for number of hours worked as basis for computing drivers wages, rather than for three consecutive days failing to report his availability for work while awaiting call from dispatcher)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(poor attendance)

Logan Coca Cola Bottling Company 250 NLRB No. 164

Swift and Company 250 NLRB No. 152
(discharge of U steward, who prior to stewardship was considered excellent Ee, assertedly because he disregarded E's rule concerning unexcused absences held violative where rule had been disobeyed by other Ees w/o E taking any disciplinary action of E failed to investigate defense to discharge that answering machine which received absentee reports had malfunctioned)

Harowe Servo Controls, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 120
(unilateral reduction in length of grace period for lateness and disciplining Ee because her late arrival was outside protection of more stringent grace period but w/i original grace period guideline, violative)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(discharge of Ee assertedly for absenteeism, unlawful, where real reason was E's desire to rid itself of Ee primarily responsible for bringing U into plant and to let his discharge, publicly announced, serve as dramatic example to other Ees of what they could expect if they supported U)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(discharge of Ees assertedly because of their absences immediately prior to and after vacation period, unlawful, where real motive for discharge was revealed through E's comments to one of the Ees that all this would not have happened if Ees had not tried to get U in plant)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 053
(discharge of formerly striking Ee assertedly for reporting to work 5 minutes late, unlawful, where E exhibited animus toward ex-strikers, pettiness of asserted reason for discharge demonstrated reason was pretextuous, and E betrayed intention to retain Ee only temporarily after her reinstatement)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of suspected U smypathizer allegedly for poor attendance, unlawful, since discharge for U activities where she had never been warned regarding attendance and her record was not materially different from Ees retained)

Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 047
(discharging Ee assertedly for his tardiness, absenteeism, and unreasonable demand for individual contract, violative, when E had rejected Ee's demands for improvements of wages, pensions and health benefits, had forbidden him to involve other Ees or to seek U assistance in regard to his demands, and discharged Ee only when he insisted that he would pursue the course of concerted action he had outlined contrary to E's order)

Pizza Pizzaz, Inc., d/b/a Jacob Wirth Restaurant 248 NLRB No. 037
(discharge of two Ees two days after manager learned they were leading contenders for vacant (U) steward's job, allegedly because of their poor workmanship, tardiness and absenteeism held violative where Ees' time cards and register tapes were not offered into evidence; management's reasons for firing Ees were shifting, belated and unsubstantiated)

Siro Security Service, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 137
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his opposition to U as bargaining representative, objection to deduction of U dues w/o his consent, and filing charges with Bd rather than for his tardiness particularly in view of his prior excellent record and recommendation)

General Warehouse Corp. 247 NLRB No. 142
(discharge of vociferous leader of Ees opposed to waiving E's cost of living increase, assertedly because of his absenteeism, held violative where discharge came on heels of Ees' rejection of E's attempts to avoid cost of living increase, followed by E's changing its check cashing policy and eliminating rotating Ees for work they considered undesirable)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E tolerated habitual tardiness for a long time but then imposed crackdown on tardiness after onset of U)

Michael Behm Jr., d/b/a M & M Behm and Associates JD-638-81
(discharge of painter, leading U advocate, because of his chronic tardiness, erratic performance, complaining, attitude and insubordination held violative where tardiness was general problem, and Ee was singled out for discharge; there was no evidence that other reasons for discharge were significant influence upon E in discharging Ee; in discharging Ee, E said this talk of U is the last straw)

Ace Electrical Construction Corporation Advance Electric of New York, Inc.; et al. JD-(NY)-79-81
(discharge of U adherent assertedly for being late one day violative where evidence established it was first time Ee was late and other Ees who had been late in past were neither discharged, suspended, or otherwise disciplined)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-279-81
(discharge of U adherent, bus driver, assertedly because Ee, w/o permission, took day off to be with his hospitalized daughter held violative where Ee had only 1 day off in prior year, was never admonished for absenteeism, and E relied on Ee to relieve sick drivers or to run charters)

Normike Contractors, Inc. JD-(NY)-51-81
(where E tolerated Ee's absences by rehiring him and rewarding him with wage increases, discharge of said Ee at time when U activity becomes known warrants inference that Ee's U activities rather than his attendance motivated discharge)

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81
(discharge of U adherent for absenteeism violative where other Ees with poorer attendance records than discriminatee were not discharged)

Elco Electric, Inc. JD-520-80
(violation where E refused to hire applicant because of his filing grievance alleging U contract infraction by E on prior job rather than, as contended, because of his tardiness or poor productivity during prior employment with E)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of U adherent who, as result of sloppy compressed appearance of vacation sign up sheet, mistakenly thought he was to be on vacation and failed to report to work, where after error was discovered supervisor could have requested him to work and did not, there was no interferance with production, and in view of E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority and triviality of error)

8387-0350—Cont.

The Royal General Company JD-17-80
(discharge of U adherent unlawful since for U activities rather than for absenteeism where E had condoned his absenteeism until he actively engagd in U activities)

Public Service Planning and Analysis Corporation, d/b/a Airport Connection JD-(SF)-310-79
(purported incidents of tardiness on Ee's part no defense to his unlawful discharge where such incidents occurred 1 or more months prior to discharge, and other Ees were routinely guilty of similar infractions w/o being disciplined or discharged)

Herman Brothers, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 201 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had actively sought defeat of proposed contract which both E and U desired violative where Ee was ostensibly discharged for his failure to call in after excused absence when he had never been required to do so prior to this, which was only 3 days after defeat of proposed contract)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(E's suspension of Ee assertedly because of his deliberate insubordination in twice absenting himself from work w/o leave, unlawful, where E denied leave in order to prevent Ee from participating in U's attempt at coordinated bargaining at another plant, discipline was disparately applied in Ee's own case, and E evidenced overall hostility to coordinated bargaining attempt; moreover reason for suspension was question of fact which was to be decided by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles H. McCauley Associates, Inc. 687 F.2d 685 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had engaged in protected concerted activity and who had a bad record for tardiness and had been warned about it, unlawful, where E tolerated Ee's attendance problems and had never considered them serious enough to warrant an official reprimand; at previous salary review, although tardiness was discussed, Ee was given a raise; tardiness was not mentioned at time Ee was discharged; and Bd properly concluded that Ee's attendance problems were neither sole reason nor any significant part of reason for discharge)

The Timken Company v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 886(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 8, 1981)
(violation where Ee was discharged for his U activities and not because of his absence from work as alleged)

N.L.R.B. v. Eaton Corporation 623 F.2d 479 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for filing grievance rather than for failure to give proper notice of absence in view of evidence Ee told fellow Ee he would be absent and information was passed along to foreman)

N.L.R.B. v. Gold Standard Enterprises, Inc., et al. 679 F.2d 673 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(disciplinary warning notices issued by E to Ee (U ringleader) because of Ee's lateness, held violative where notices did not begin until commencement of U campaign; Ee had frequently been late prior to U campaign and had received no such notices)

N.L.R.B. v. Spielberg Manufacturing Company 673 F.2d 244 (C.A. 8, Mar. 1982)
(discharg for tardiness of key organizer in election U lost almost one year earlier in which E expressed intent to resist afterwards any further U activity violative, where shortly before discharge Ee told vice president that dissatisfaction with new controller's efforts to correct attendance problems might generate renewed U organizational effort, controller told her he would build case of absenteeism and discharge her unless her attitude improved, and supervisor told her she had been discharged for U activity)

N.L.R.B. v. Heatilator Fireplace, Division of Vega Industries, Inc. 646 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 8, Apr 1981)
(although absenteeism was problem, Ee was unlawfully discharged day after he attended U meeting of which company had advanced knowledge and asked 2 Ees not to attend, wives of 2 supervisors attended meeting, meeting was discussed at plant on next day, and E did not follow new policy of warnings and discharges for absences)

8387-0400 Abuse of sick leave

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 159
(discharge of known U adherent for failing to comply with E's policy requiring Ees on paid sick leave to report for light duty, if possible, not unlawful, where in the professional opinion of doctor treating dischargee, he was fit for light duty during relevant period; dischargee's own testimony revealed he was able to perform minor duties for himself; and E was entitled to enforce its normal work rules against all Ees, including most active U adherent; and fact that E was happy to rid itself of active U adherent did not make discharge discriminatory)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 687 F.2d 812 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(discharge of Ees, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention discharges were for excessive absenteeism and that it was unaware of U activity at time of discharges, since reasons given are pretexts in view of timing, knowledge of U activities, and U animus)

8387-0450 Not real reason

7 Up Bottling Company 261 NLRB No. 128
(issuing unexcused absence slip, allegedly for failure to provide doctor's excuse although one had never before been required, in retribution for U activities, violative of 8(a)(3))

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 128
(discharge assertedly because Ee did not return to work from extended sick leave on specified date, unlawful, where Ee, who had good work record, followed E's sick leave procedure by forwarding doctor's medical reports to E; E, while calsiming nonreceipt of reports, made no effort to find out why Ee failed to report for work; and only other possible reason for discharge, after E had received doctor's letter clarifying matter, was E's demonstrated U animus)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 084
(requiring Ee to produce doctor's certificate for absence as pretext so that E could get rid of Ee, unlawful where real reason for requiring certificate was Ee's activities on behalf of U)

8387-0500 Accidents

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(notwithstanding Ee's overt involvement with U and E's unlawful threats and interrogations which supported finding of GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, discharge was not violative where E justified discharge on ground that Ee was responsible for series of mishaps when driving truck for E; E would have discharged Ee even if Ee had not engaged in U activities)

K & B Mounting, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 071
(no violation where U activist who had accident on icy road was laid off until Spring because she can't handle this kind of driving in the winter)

Alpha Beta Company JD-281-82

Central Freight Lines, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 1023 (C.A. 5, Aug 1981)
(discharge of driver, a leader in U's organizational effort, not violative where discharge was pursuant to E's policy of discharging drivers after three chargeable accidents in 12 months)

The Martin-Brower Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1161 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of U adherent not violative, where he was discharged for third preventable accident)

8387-0550 Not real reason

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 154
(discharging one of key U organizers 2 weeks before election assertedly for chipping brick from customer's loading dock held pretext as safety supervisor reported that no damage occurred, customer's E and Ee both laughed about incident at time and E never sought Ee's version of accident)

Arthur H. Fulton, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 134
(discharge violative where Ee was subjected to disparate treatment as of 46 reasons asserted for discharge were common to undischarged drivers; another, failure to turn in logs for one month was suspect in view of E's policy of withholding pay when logs were overdue; and failure to report accident promptly was excuse as it was broken mirror which occured when vehicle was parked and unattended which Ee did not consider to be an accident)

Wisdom Industries, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 164
(discharge of principal U advocate and Ees' chief contact with U, driver of E's tractor-trailer, assertedly because he had too many costly accidents held violative where prior history of E's treatment of Ees involved in more than one costly vehicular accident showed that no Ee was ever fired for having such accidents)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 063
(discharge of truckdriver, prominent supporter of U, allegedly because he had too many accidents held violative where other Ees with poor driving records were transferred to work on loading dock rather than being discharged)

Mid-East Consolidation Warehouse, A Division of Ethan Allen, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 090
(suspension of driver, who had been involved in several accidents, held in reprisal for his U activities where other drivers had more serious accidents and were not disciplined, suspension closely followed Ee's request to attend Bd hearing and was in middle of number of discriminatory discharges, and latest accident was seized upon to disguise E's real motive in suspending Ee)

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)

8387-0600 Overstaying vacation or leave

8387-0650 Not real reason

Logan Coca Cola Bottling Company 250 NLRB No. 144
(unauthorized vacation)

8387-0700 Slowdown

8387-0700—Cont.

NAB Construction Corporation 258 NLRB No. 090
(discharge of Ee who engaged in slowdown to try to convince E to pay him more money not violative)

Power Contractors, Ltd. JD-(SF)-109-82
(discharge of all U electricians comprising work force at jobsite and replacing them with work force drawn from non-U phase of operations, not violative where U electricians engaged in tacit refusal to work at rate and proficiency commanded by their craft status; to counter this impermissible conduct, E acted defensively to achieve work force necessary to meet approaching deadlines and demands of job)

Valley Forge Flag Company JD-757-80

8387-0800 Accumulated objections or complaints regarding employee

Richdel, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 064
(discharge of Ee, not violative, notwithstanding supervisor's comment to other Ee that he could get fired for U organizing, where reason for discharge was Ee's violation of work rules)

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-08-82
(discharge of U adherent reporter not unlawful, where he consistently failed to conform to editor's requirements for conduct of reporters)

8387-1200 Arrest or conviction

Howard Press, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 181

Interstate Paper Supply Company, Inc. 251 NLRB NO. 109
(discharge of Ee who was criminally convicted of harassment as result of his picket line conduct directed at E's president, not unlawful; there is a difference between threats and aggresive gestures between strikers and nonstrikers, and threats of violence against owner himself; moreover, there should be a measure of mutual respect between Bd and local cts, and it cannot be said that E seized upon conviction to give vent to anti-U animus in view of its reconciliation with Ee)

Ansaphone, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 4 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee violative, where despite her conflicts with fellow workers and fact that she was subject to discharge for long period prior to actual discharge, circumstances support conclusion that timing of her discharge was more a result of her U activity than her work performance)

8387-1300 Assault on fellow employee

Neptune Waterbeds, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 168

Paramount Mining Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 346 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1980)
(no violation where U supporter was discharged for making volgar threats and shaking or patting the head of fellow Ee in effort to persuade him to sign U card)

8387-1350 Not real reason

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(discharge and refusal to reinstate picket who defended herself against attack by Ee who, after driving through picket line to parking lot, returned to picket line to seek satisfaction because of names she had been called by pickets and struck out at first picket she reached, resulting in hair pulling and brief scuffle, unlawful, since incident trivial, isolated, and no injury resulted; E may not rely on picket's past record when E considered it only when U came on scene)

Steets and Steets, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 105
(discharge of three U adherents assertedly because they left their work stations and engaged in altercation with anti-U sympathizer, held violative where anti-U Ee had no legitimate business at site of encounter nor was anti-U Ee discharged for fighting or leaving his work station)

Jacques Syl Knitwear, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 191
(discharge of and refusal to reinstate strikers for allegedly violently assaulting fellow Ee during strike, not lawful, where Ee alleged to have been assaulted had swung her pocketbook at strikers and in fact assault as alleged had not taken place; notwithstanding dischargees found guilty of alleged assault in municipal ct)

8387-1500 Coercion and intimidation of other employees

Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 009

Flambeau Micro Company JD-38-82
(discharge of Ee not unlawful where he was fired mainly, if not entirely, for threatening jobs of all Ees if he did not get 100% cooperation from them in signing U cards; other factors such as his poor work performance and his sexual harassment of co-worker may have played minor role, but fact that he was seeking to unionize E was not even a minor factor)

Albertsons, Inc. - Southco Division JD-(SF)-244-80
(discharge of U adherent, not unlawful where for threatening to throw egg on other Ee's car)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)
(no violation, where Ee was discharged for threatening violence to another Ee)

8387-1550 Not real reason

Cutting, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 076
(suspension of U supporters based on untrue information from Ee-informant, that she had been threatened by one of the discriminatees, used as pretext for suspension)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee who was U organizer allegedly for Ee's safety in view of threats of violence made against him, completion of Ee's work assignment, Ee's lying to E about another Ee, and his hassling of other Ees, unlawful, where fears for his safety proved unjustified, Ee had seniority for retention of job, information concerning other Ee passed on not as facts but mere repetition of another Ee's statement, and fact Ee may be persona non grata among certain Ees because of his U activities no basis for discharge)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(although ct held record did not support Bd finding that two written warnings issued to U adherent unlawful, two other written warnings held unlawful since record supported discriminatory motivation in that E issued immediate warnings to U adherent for harassing fellow Ees while only giving anti-U Ee verbal warning for threatening and physically assaulting U adherent)

Clear Pine Mouldings, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 632 F.2d 721 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(violation where Ee was reprimanded, not as alleged because of her U activities during working hours, and harassment of other Ees, but because of her status as a leading U activist)

8387-1600 Disparaging fellow employees

8387-1650 Not real reason

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(warning Ee at nursing home who was former striker against using word scab to describe other Ees and discussing U with patient, unlawful, since use of word scab in context of labor dispute protected activity; E was mistaken as to any conversation with patient, and particularly in view of E's prior statements that E knew Ee had been one of the instigators in getting U into nursing home and if Ee was caught doing anything in connection with U she would be asked to leave)

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(discharge of Ee involved in protected activity, assertedly for making disparaging remarks regarding fellow Ees, and for failing to demonstrate initiative and follow instructions, unlawful, in view of E's pattern of unlawful conduct, prior discriminatory treatment of Ees, and timing and precipitate manner of discharge)

8387-1800 Damage to goods and machinery because of carelessness

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(discharging U activist for throwing down his respirator in anger and breaking it after being told that his lunch breaks and other breaks were being rescheduled)

Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 086
(discharge of U adherent who received three written reprimands for damaging rugs in 6 months pursuant to E procedure not violative where no evidence that other Ees who caused damage were treated differently)

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(notwithstanding Ee's overt involvement with U and E's unlawful threats and interrogations which supported finding of GC's prima facie case of discriminatory discharge, discharge was not violative where E justified discharge on ground that Ee was responsible for series of mishaps when driving truck for E; E would have discharged Ee even if Ee had not engaged in U activities)

Fuelgas Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 104

Arnold Ready Mix Corporation 259 NLRB No. 026

Debarnardi Brothers, Inc. JD-(SF)-286-82
(discharge of Ee not violative where GC failed to establish that E discharged Ee for protected rights under the Act; Ee was discharged for reasons arising out of what was perceived to be threat to damage E's equipment and because of excellent Ee's announced change in his work habits because of his failure to receive pay raise)

Alpha Beta Company JD-301-83

8387-1880 Not real reason

8387-1850—Cont.

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 237 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of key U activist, in E's desire to reduce hours to cut expenses, assertedly because of Ee's poor attitude towards his work, his lateness and improper care of E's equipment held violative where E's records during this critical period showed Ees' hours were increasing rather than decreasing and 1 day after Ee was discharged E hired another experienced driver at same rate of pay as U activist)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 083
(suspension of formerly striking Ee assertedly because of damage to E's rental vehicle due to Ee's improper checking out of equipment before delivery to customer, unlawful, in view of E's animus toward ex-strikers, timing of suspension to Ee's activities as steward, absence of evidence of negligence on Ee's part and of precedent for punishment herein, E's predisposition to be punitive, and E's failure to place in evidence any written statement attributable to customer)

C & G Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of reinstated Ee assertedly for damaging truck door after arbitrator found Ee's initial discharge to have been defective, held violative where Ee had asked E if he could join U and E replied that he started out with a four Ee U and that's just the way it was going to be)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(discharge of Ee, U's financial secretary, assertedly because Ee had driven forklift at speed in excess of that permitted, damaged E's machinery and had record of habitual tardiness held violative since other Ees were not disciplined for same conduct; all discipline issued for damage to E's property occurred after Ee was discharged; E did not demonstrate same action would have taken place absent protected conduct)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81
(3 day suspension of Ee, U president, violative where conduct of Ee neither constituted willful violations of E's safety rule, nor did E establish habitual carelessness or recklessness on part of Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Proler International Corporation 635 F.2d 351 (C.A. 5, 1981)
(sufficient circumstantial evidence to sustain Bd's finding that E's proffered reason for discharge of driver, i.e. that he drove truck with flat tire, was pretextual, whee Ee had participated in strike and had been reinstated only week prior to discharge, E's vice-president had seen E holding U handbill, tire was not damaged, and Ee was told he was seen by wrong man)

McDonnell Douglas Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 655 F.2d 932 (C.A. 9, 1981)
(discharge of transport pilot, leading U advocate, assertedly because he had blown out two vacuum pumps during flight subsequent to his U organizing efforts held violative, since Ee was regarded as competent pilot by fellow pilots and his immediate supervisor, other pilots who were guilty of same or worse conduct were not fired)

8387-2000 Discourtesy to patrons

8387-2050 Not real reason

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of store Ee who was U adherent assertedly for being rude to customer at check-out resulting in customer's rescission of his purchases, unlawful, where customer complaints about Ees were rather common, other Ees had not been fired because of such conduct; and E reacted to incident and made decision to discharge Ee w/o any further investigation of incident or w/o obtaining Ee's version)

Kroton Char-Broil, Inc., d/b/a Coram Pond Diner 248 NLRB No. 152
(violation, where Ee who was demanding that E pay its Ees their minimum legal wage and improve other terms and conditions of employment, was discharged assertedly because she antagonized customers by refusing to serve them)

General Rental Co. d/b/a Avis Rent–A–Car 247 NLRB No. 188
(violation where soon after election E discharged U campaign organizer assertedly because E had received letter from customer complaining that U supporter kept the customer waiting while U supporter drank coffee)

8387-2200 Customer complaints about work

Arnold Ready Mix Corporation 259 NLRB No. 026

8387-2250 Not Real Reason

Cecil Walker Machinery Co. 257 NLRB No. 061
(transfer of Ee from truck to warehouse assertedly because E was concerned that Ee's attitude would have adverse effect on customer relations violative where there were no customer complaints about Ee and Ee was transfered for speaking out at U meeting)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176
(discharge of Ee, assertedly because of decline in business and customer complaints about his work, violative where Ee was discharged 2 days after refusing E's request that he withdraw his U authorization card, E had knowledge of Ee's U activities and had demonstrated U animus)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 097
(mass discharge of unit members of window and door installation crew which worked under supervision of Ee who had special incentive arrangement with E, unlawful, since E failed to overcome GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation where discharge was 4 days after majority signed authorization cards, notwithstanding crew's unacceptable work and failure to work on weekend, where E rehired crew members for jobs outside unit; nor did cancellation of agreement by crew's leader justify discharge absent agreement that crew went if leader left)

Dimo Ambulette Service, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 002
(discharge of Ee ambulette driver violative, notwithstanding E's contention that it discharged Ee because of customer complaint, where real reason for discharge was his circulation of ptn for U)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of formerly striking Ee assertedly for servicing customer improperly, unlawful, where customer was brought in as ringer by E to provoke and discredit Ee and create pretext for discharge)

John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 128
(violation, where E, in recalling U adherent, warned her regarding deficiencies in grooming, abuse of other Ees, and customer complaints, since motivated by U activities and decision influenced by prior unlawful warning letters)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-279-81
(discharge of U adherent allegedly because of complaints from customers of E held violative where E failed to testify as to complaints and failed to produce at hearing letters of complaint from somebody...over at the University (customer of E))

8387-2300 Dishonesty

Alcar Industries, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 094
(discharge of most active U supporter who assisted U as election observer and testified at Bd hearing, not unlawful, where there was ample cause for discharge in that E believed that E had twice lied in same month when he called in sick in order to attend to personal business; no threats were made by E at time of election when tension existed at plant; and if E had wished to use any pretext that readily came to hand, it could have relied on first instance of E's abuse of sick leave)

Truck Stations, Inc., d/b/a Woody's Truck Stops 258 NLRB No. 094
(discharge of two Ees who did repair work for E's customers during working hours and kept the money received for themselves).

Wyman-Gordon Company 252 NLRB No. 168
(discharge of U adherent for failing to notify E that he did not attend classes for which he was subsequently paid, violative, where E's record keeping difficult to understand, Ee offered to return unearned money to E which offer refused and anti-U attitude of E)

Industrial Label Corporation JD-(SF)-127-81
(discharge of Ee who solicited for U lawful, where for lying; contention E's defense not sufficient to overcome GC's prima facie case in view of fact discharge harsh penalty for offense, rejected; where stated in E's policy manual dishonesty grounds for automatic dismissal, E had not condoned similar behavior previously, E consistently relied on same grounds as reason for dismissal, and no prevasive U animus; where unlawful motive not proven, Bd will not substitute its judgment for E's even if E's decision seems unreasonable)

Shuttle Motor Corporation JD-327-80
(discharge of mechanic, not unlawful, where for general poor work record and specifically for submitting false warranty claim in order to avoid dispute with customer and be paid by manufacturer for labor; rather than for inquiring of state agency regarding legality of threatened back-stubbing, or as result of E's belief Ee had or was about to invoke NLRB processes)

Neuhover Trailer Manufacturing Company JD-256-80
(Ee's attempted fraud of work time)

Wyman-Gordon Company v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 134 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(E rebutted prima facie case and proved Ee discharged for accepting payments for classes he did not attend)

Charge Card Association v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 272 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(GC did not make out prima facie case that E unlawfully suspended Ees for walkout protesting working conditions since Ees called E and falsely stated they were sick. In view of high absenteeism that day, E had right to demand Ees support their assertion of illness even if E suspected Ees were protesting working conditions. Had Ees said they were going to be absent in protest of working conditions, different result would obtain)

8387-2350 Not real reason

Industrial Label Corporation 261 NLRB No. 038
(defense to prima facie case of discriminatory discharge that it was pursuant to E's policy on dishonesty and prior warning given Ee about lying, rejected where, although dischargee had lied to fellow Ee about work-related matter, he had done so in order to comply with E's directive to avoid arguing with such Ee, and he had told E the truth about the matter; moreover, E failed to show that its policy or warning was intended to reach lies to fellow Ees that did not adversely affect management)

8387-2350—Cont.

15 East 48th Restaurant, Inc., d/b/a Sagapo Restaurant and Sagapo Restaurant, Inc., its agent 257 NLRB No. 156
(discharge of U adherent ostensibly for shortage in cash register violative where Ee had been short in his daily register many times, and never even received warning and discharge occured 2 days after he signed U card)

Continental Distributing Co., Inc. 256 NLRB No. 091
(discharge of Ee after he made inquiries about joining and attempted to join U, and called Bd to find out how to join U, violative where E's allegations about Ee's stealing goods from E not supported by evidence)

Fleet Carrier Corporation JD-372-81
(discharge of U adherent, assertedly for dishonesty, violative where Ee was discharged for his U activities)

8387-2500 Disloyalty

8387-2550 Not real reason

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(denying reinstated U advocate holiday leave pay and suspending her for three days w/o pay assertedly because she had typed letter announcing impending U meeting on company typewriter during working hours held violative where record established that other Ees made frequent use of company equipment w/o rebuke)

Anstell Box Board Corporation 249 NLRB No. 044
(E's suspension and discharge of Ee violative, where explanation advanced by E was pretextual and real reason was Ee's stated intention to complain to Bd about allegedly discriminatory treatment, in view of shifting reasons proferred by E, weakness of work deficiencies cited against Ee for which he was not disciplined at time of occurence and their remoteness in time, and fact that E's decision to suspend Ee came immediately after he threatened to go to the Bd)

Suburban Ford, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 051
(discharge of U adherent salesman for disloyalty because he tried to explain why he loaned demonstrator to customer, held violative where Ee was experienced salesman with unexceptionable performance record and E was attempting to harass Ee and cool ardor of all Ees for U representation)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discharge of U advocates assertedly for disparaging E, inducing parents to withdraw their children from E's day-care center and unsatisfactorily performing their work, violative where discharge followed immediately upon U organizing activity and E's anti-U bias was amplysupported by record; false assertions of lawful purpose support inference that declarant's motive was unlawful)otive was unlawful)

Stephens Institute, a corporation d/b/a Academy of Art College v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 720 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(violation where moving cause for discharge of instructor was his remarks to student group regarding ongoing labor dispute rather than for disparagement of E, as alleged)

8387-2600 Violation of confidentiality

Grocery Carts, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 140
(discharging leading U adherent because she was caught in unauthorized examination of document containing confidential information about another Ee which she surreptitiously obtained from store manager's desk, not violative notwithstanding Ees had access to desk to obtain supplies)

Clinton Corn Processing Company, A Division of Standard Brands Inc. 253 NLRB No. 084
(discharge of Ee not violative where for disclosure of confidential wage information rather than for attending U meeting)

High Performance Tube, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 181
(discriminatorily discharged Ee denied reinstatement and backpay where took photographs of E's machines on which patents were pending and also of blueprints in E's office which he had entered w/o permission when at time Ee committed above acts he was on probation for copying list of E's competitor's engineers, backpay entitlement ends as of date E could have lawfully discharged him for above misconduct)

Bullock's 251 NLRB No. 082
(discharge of Ee assertedly for demoralizing E's personnel by having copies of performance reviews in her possession and discussing them with fellow Ees, not unlawful, where dischargee surreptitiously and wrongfully obtained and copied fellow Ee's review, disseminated reviews' contents to another Ee, advising latter that her review was unfavorable in comparison with others, and dischargee's remarks leading Ee to believe that her job could be in a precarious position support conclusion that dischargee's conduct had disruptive and demoralizing effect on E's personnel)

Texas Instruments Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 822 (C.A. 1, 1981)
(discharge of U adherents for violation of E's valid security rule not violative where Ees published E's confidential wage survey report which Ees had obtained outside of normal course of employment (each page of report was stamped strictly private), Ee manual set forth E's rule against disclosure of confidential information; moreover, Ees' organizing activity not dependent on access to confidential information)

8387-2650 Not real reason

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 183
(discharge of confidential Ee allegedly for leaking information, violative where real reason was her husband's U activities)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1981)
(discharging district manager's former confidential secretary held violative where all confidential duties were withdrawn on day ptn was filed and her position thus was admittedly not confidential, and asserted grounds of incompetence and slow business were pretextual where real reasons were that E suspected her of supporting U and being source of salary leaks)

8387-2800 Dissension with other employees

Tri-City Electric Company, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 182
(discharge of traveler, assertedly at request of local U, not violative notwithstanding Ees had problems with traveler that created dissension and local U caused E to demote traveler prior to discharge, where problems which Ees had with traveler were not associated with his status as traveler, E did not let him go because of his status as traveler but as part of reduction in force and demotion occurred outside 10(b) period and was neither alleged in C nor did ALJ find it to be violation)

Giant Food, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 182
(Ee who urged another Ee to aid U by supporting its objections to election involved in protected activity not harrassment and discharge violative; moreover, E's belief that had Ee engaged in misconduct does not justify discharge where in fact he had not engaged in such misconduct)

Albertsons, Inc. - Southco Division JD-(SF)-244-80
(discharge of U adherent, not unlawful where for threatening to throw egg on other Ee's car)

Albertsons, Inc. - Southco Division JD-(SF)-344-80
(discharge of Ee not unlawful, where discharged for making false statement to another Ee that other Ee was going to lose her job, with intention of upsetting her coworker and disrupting E's operation)

8387-2850 Not real reason

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee who was U organizer allegedly for Ee's safety in view of threats of violence made against him, completion of Ee's work assignment, Ee's lying to E about another Ee, and his hassling of other Ees, unlawful, where fears for his safety proved unjustified, Ee had seniority for retention of job, information concerning other Ee passed on not as facts but mere repetition of another Ee's statement, and fact Ee may be persona non grata among certain Ees because of his U activities no basis for discharge)

8387-3000 Drunkenness

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(discharge of U adherent who came to work drunk not violative where E first ordered Ee to take day off, Ee insisted upon remaining and then he was discharged)

Greentree Furniture Rental Corporation JD-(SF)-383-80
(discharge of high producing furniture salesman with proU background because he had misappropriated company funds not violative where record proved Ee had withheld company funds to obtain higher commission rate, had committed three prior infractions of rule against intoxication which resulted in two written and one oral reprimand by store manager, and had falsified his employment application)

8387-3050 Not real reason

United Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association v. N.L.R.B. 633 F.2d 1054 (C.A. 3, 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(discharge of U adherent unlawful since for U activity rather than for drinking while operating E's trucks in view of lack of investigation by E of alleged drinking and other Section 8(a)(1) violations by E)

8387-3200 Falsification of production or timecard

Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corporation 255 NLRB No. 076
(no violation for disciplining U representative for filing false statement of time worked, where Ee accepted E's position in grievance settlement that he banked or falsified records and ALJ separately found that false report was not mistake, and E had announced that he would strictly enforce rules to stop practice)

8387-3200—Cont.

Electron Tube Division of Litton Systems, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 140

(discharge of Ee for falsifying time card not unlawful, where he would have been fired for his actions in any event, regardless of his U activity)

Clarklift of St. Louis, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 002

(discharge of U steward for instructing Ees to falsify work tickets and using his office as steward to gain special favors for himself not violative where sole cause for discharge was unprotected activity of steward)

Prentice-Hall, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 184

(discharge of Ee for breaking E's rule against one Ee's punching out another Ee's timecard, not unlawful, where Ee was relatively inactive U supporter, Ee was defiant, and other more active U supporters escaped discipline)

Sturm, Ruger & Company, Inc. JD-418-81

(where Ee is paid on piece-work basis, discharging Ee for recording falsely on his job card amount of work performed, not violative)

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 8, 1980)

(discharge of Ee, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's knowledge that Ee had filed grievance seeking higher wages prior to discharge, where Ee had falsified time card, breach of E's rules for which E had never used any penalty less severe than discharge, and had done unsatisfactory work)

8387-3250 Not real reason

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107

(discharge of known U adherent assertedly for cheating on his production count, unlawful in view of Ee's hostility to U, uncertain nature of evidence that Ee had cheated, minimal amount involved, failure to follow standard warning policy, Ee's record as top operator, fact that no operator had been discharged for such offense over 10 year period, and summary nature of discharge)

Grimes Manufacturing, Division of Midland-Ross, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 041

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087

(discharge of U advocate-waiter, who had served as interpreter for U organizing committee assertedly for error in his sign-in time on time sheet, violative, where time sheet was closely monitored by headwaiter and testimony of headwaiter and manager to effect they had no knowledge of U waiter's U activity, was discredited)

Earl Kuhns d/b/a Frenchy's K & T and Earl's News Stand 247 NLRB No. 167

(reinstatement of discriminatorily discharged Ee ordered notwithstanding Ee guilty of falsifying time card as E had no knowledge of Ee's action until after discharge and no evidence presented to prove that Ee would have been discharged for this action)

8387-3300 False statement regarding employer's business

8387-3350 Not real reason

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(demotion unlawful where for U adherence rather than for customer complaints)

8387-3400 Falsification of insurance claim

8387-3450 Not real reason

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-285-80

(discharge of Ee allegedly for attending Bd hearing instead of getting bed rest for fatigue resulting from working and then filing workman's compensation claim, unlawful, since no evidence Ee ever filed claim and also in view of timing, E's knowledge of Ee's U activities and baselessness of E's asserted reason)

8387-3500 Falsification or alteration of employer's records

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 063

(discharge of truck driver lawful, since was for taking extended and unauthorized breaks, falsifying records required by E and government, idling tractor for long periods, rather than for filing grievances where Ee not militant U supporter and other Ees disciplined for similar offenses, and discharge would have taken place absent protected activity)

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015

(discharge of active U supporter, lawful, where he was discharged for not performing work, falsifying production records, and giving false information when confronted by supervisor, since he would have been discharged even absent protected activity and notwithstanding protected activity prompted supervisor to scrutinize work and reports, results of which lead to discharge, inference is not warranted that Ee would have been discharged if less than dischargeable offense had been uncovered and where other Ees had been discharged for similar offenses)

Pacific Intermountain Express 250 NLRB No. 180

(discharge of 3 sales representatives who were U supporters assertedly for stealing company time, refusal to cooperate in an investigation, and suspected falsification of company records, not unlawful where, on reliable information as to one representative's on-job drinking habit, E had him followed 5 days, discovered that he and the 2 other representatives met 3 days for 2 hours at coffee shop but covered up fact on their work and expense reports, E promptly questioned the three Ees and discharged them when 2 refused to answer and 1 answered untruthfully)

MGM Grand-Reno, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 158

(discharge of U advocate for falsifying work order 4 days prior to his termination, not violative notwithstanding Ee was discharged on same day he solicited for U; no evidence in record that anyone responsible for Ee's discharge knew that he engaged in U activity)

8387-3550 Not Real Reason

Safety-Kleen Corporation 266 NLRB No. 012

(discharge of one of E's best salesman assertedly for falsification of records showing services performed as of certain time, which in fact, had not then been performed, held violative where Ee was discharged 1 day after E learned Ee was U adherent; several of Ee's improprieties were rejected by E himself as reason to terminate Ee; there was no evidence that Ee's actions harmed E or benefited Ee, and Ee had at time he turned in report informed supervisor that work had not been performed w/o reaction from supervisor)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134

(discharge of drivers preceded by extraordinary surveillance, unlawful, where real reasons were for filing charges with Bd in prior case, U adherence, distribution of materials for dissident branch of U rather than for overstaying breaks on road and thereby failing to meet schedules, and for falsifying logs)

N.L.R.B. v. Wright Line, A Division of Wright Line, Inc. 662 F.2d 899 (C.A. 1, Sep. 1981)

(E's discharging U advocate assertedly for violating E's rule against falsifying inspection reports, violative where apparent insignificance of rule along with E's history of treating rule as unimportant support inference that something more was involved than just breach of rule)

8387-3600 Making embarrassing or harmful statements about employer

8387-3650 Not real reason

Irwin County Electric Membership Cooperative 247 NLRB No. 198

(discharge by utility company of Ee allegedly for criticizing company in violation of rule for showing favoritism in restoring service w/o payment to those customers on whose behalf members of its board intervened, unlawful, since discharge was for Ee's U activities in view of E's U animus, prior threats of discharge or suspension for U activity, precipitousness of discharge, delay in discharging after Ee's criticism of it, and fact no other Ee had been discharged for voicing criticism)

8387-3700 Falsification of employment application

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146

(discharge of Ee assertedly for falsifying employment application, not unlawful, where E met burden that discharge would have occurred even in absence of Ee's protected activities by showing discharge of 2 other Ees for same reason, which GC was unable to rebut with any evidence; and while E discriminated against other Ees for their U activity, discharge herein is not assessed in that light)

Tube Turns, A Division of Chemetron Corp. 260 NLRB No. 062

Service Garage, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 183

(although Bd disagreed with ALJ's finding that unlawfully discharged Ee admitted lying about his age at initial hearing for fear of losing current job was sufficiently egregious to amount to abuse of Bd procedures and to warrant forfeiture of Ee's right to reinstatement and limitation of backpay, Bd, however, held that Ee's original falsification of same critical information on employment application barred his entitlement to reinstatement and any backpay where E proved that it would not have hired Ee but for its reliance on application information whose falsity was discovered subsequent to Ee's unlawful discharge)

Grantree Furniture Rental Corporation JD-(SF)-308-80

(discharge of high producing furniture salesman with proU background because he had misappropriated company funds not violative where record proved Ee had withheld company funds to obtain higher commission rate, had committed three prior infractions of rule against intoxication which resulted in two written and one oral reprimand by store manager, and had falsified his employment application)

8387-3750 Not real reason

Chapel Transportation Company 256 NLRB No. 170

(reinstatement of discriminatee, because he had violations on his driver's license, prior felony conviction which was unrevealed on his job application, and caused security problems for U.S. Postal Service with which E had contracted, not barred, since E was aware of Ee's misconduct and had not disciplined or discharged Ee on such grounds; Ee had been declared good

§387-3750—Cont.

Ee before discharge and problems with Postal Service had been resolved before discharge)

§387-3800 Going into other departments

Amoco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/ Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 038

Apco Insulations, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of insulation installer because he had left his work area to observe insulating work being done by another contractor in nearby furnaces because of possible jurisdictional work question, not violative notwithstanding Ee told to check up on this matter by U, where other Ees had been discharged for leaving their work areas and there was no need for installer to inquire into any work jurisdictional question)

Apollo Corporation, Vector Division JD-528-80
(no violation for suspending U officer for going to another work area when she was told not to go)

§387-3850 Not real reason

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(reprimanding U adherent for leaving his department and talking to other Ees held violative where reprimand was given as final warning notice, departing from E's usual policy concerning discharge after three written warnings; other Ees continually talked to each other outside department w/o reprimand)

Art Steel of California, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 140
(issuing warning notice to U adherent assertedly for leaving his department and going into another department w/o permission and —talking to a government person— in violation of E's rule, held violative, since Ee was involved in taking inventory and was not assigned to particular department, but instead, had to go from department to department; warning notice was given Ee after Ee had spoken to Bd agent investigating ULP charges against E)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(suspension of known U adherents for absence from their work area, unlawful, where they were absent no longer than 10 minutes during their break period, their casual greeting of other Ees in another department did not constitute a work interruption, and no other Ee had been disciplined for asserted reason)

§387-4000 Hostility or bad attitude toward employer

Dobernuell Brothers, Inc. JD-(SF)-286-82
(discharge of Ee not violative where GC failed to establish that E discharged Ee for protected rights under the Act; Ee was discharged for reasons arising out of what was perceived to be threat to damage E's equipment and because of excellent Ee's announced change in his work habits because of his failure to receive pay raise)

Pavco Industries, Inc. Trutel Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-89-81
(no prima facie case in view of E's lack of knowledge of U activity, absence of U animus and valid reason for discharge, i.e., Ee-E heated discussion about wage increase and E's conclusion that Ee would not be satisfied with granted 30 cent raise)

Public Service Company of New Mexico JD-(SF)-157-80
(discharge of former U officer, not unlawful, where discharge not motivated by his U activities and was not for protected activity since his actions, statements and letters which precipitated discharge were not concerted nor for object of enforcing contract)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 943 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(discharge of U activist driver for not immediately going out on his route after co-worker's fight with supervisor, not unlawful)

§387-4050 Not real reason

Stone Electric, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 159
(discharge of lineman, U steward, assertedly for his lack of production and attitude held violative where E's decision to terminate lineman was grounded in Ee's participation in joint meeting of U and management wherein Ee sought larger crews to install utility poles over rugged terrain of jobsite contrary to E's economic interest; E did not establish Ee would have been discharged absent Ee's participation in joint meeting)

Pay 'N Save Foods, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 162
(circumstances, including timing of discharges upon E's learning of Ees' U activity and false explanation for discharges, size of plant, and fact Ees not circumspect in their discussions of U warrant inference that E's reference to Ees' attitude, as grounds for action, was allusion to their U sympathies)

Builders Distributors Sand and Gravel, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 053
(discharge of key U activist, in E's desire to reduce hours to cut expenses, assertedly because of Ee's poor attitude towards his work, his lateness and improper care of E's equipment held violative where E's records during this critical period showed Ees' hours were increasing rather than decreasing and 1 day after Ee was discharged E hired another experienced driver at same rate of pay as U activist)

Spielberg Mfg. Co. 256 NLRB No. 197

§387-4300 Hot-headed, surly, and ill-tempered

W. W. Grainger, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 148

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(discharge not violative where for temper outbursts about which Ee had been warned earlier; further, weight must be given to ALJ's conclusion there was no discriminatory motive for discharge)

§387-4350 Not real reason

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001
(suspension of U adherent who threw supervisor's hard hat into trash can for disorderly conduct and discourtesy to supervisor violative, since reason was U activity, in view of E's attempt to replace U with Ee committee, and further Ee thought hat belonged to another Ee rather than supervisor inasmuch as hat was color of hats worn by Ees rather than color of hats worn by supervisors)

Michael Bohm Jr., d/b/a M & M Bohm and Associates JD-638-81
(discharge of painter, leading U advocate, because of his chronic tardiness, erratic performance, complaining, attitude and insubordination held violative where tardiness was general problem, and Ee was singled out for discharge; there was no evidence that other reasons for discharge were significant influence upon E in discharging Ee; in discharging Ee, E said this talk of U is the last straw)

§387-4400 Improper attire or appearance at work

Caterpillar Tractor Company 257 NLRB No. 029
(suspending Ee, who had testified in Bd proceeding, for failing to get haircut not unlawful, where such discipline was not unprecedented and evidence showed that Ee's hair was in fact too long for employment standards)

§387-4450 Not real reason

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of bartender-U adherent, assertedly for being away from his work, using customers', rather than Ees', restroom and not being properly attired held violative where shifting reasons were adopted by E to conceal discriminatory motive)

John Rooney, David Hinman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 125
(issuing warning letter to U adherent regarding wearing dirty uniform and abuse of other Ees, unlawful, notwithstanding adherent's admitted grooming deficiencies, since warning motivated by her U activities, reporting of alleged violations by E to government agency, owner also threatened layoff and offered Ee adherent severance pay to induce her to seek other employment)

§387-4500 Inefficiency

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 019
(discharged for failure to achieve reasonable production level)

§387-4550 Not real reason

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of known U adherent during reduction in force assertedly because, notwithstanding his greater seniority, he was less efficient, unlawful, where it was not until E learned of Ee's support for U that it could no longer tolerate his inefficiency; moreover, Ee refused supervisor's request to report to supervisor activity at U meeting)

Notre Dame Hills Medical Services, Inc., d/b/a Notre Dame Hills Convalescent Center 247 NLRB No. 126
(violation where Ee was terminated assertedly because his efficiency and performance deteriorated)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Elco Electric, Inc. JD-820-80
(violation where E refused to hire applicant because of his filing grievance alleging U contract infraction by E on prior job rather than, as contended, because of his tardiness or poor productivity during prior employment with E)

§387-4600 Malingering

Keister Coal Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 049
(discharge of oiler, alleged U adherent, for failing to properly oil machinery and malingering on job not violative where Ee's only U activity was singing a U song and Ee's predecessor in job was discharged for identical reasons)

8387-4650 Not real reason

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

8387-4700 Violating specific instructions concerning work

Armored Transport of Nevada, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 209
(discharging Ee for unjustly implicating another Ee of wrongdoing rather than owning up to Ee's own error, not violative)

Grocery Carts, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 140
(discharging Ee for being cold and indifferent to customer not violative where rule requires greeting customers or making eye contact, and she had previously been warned)

Henry J. Kaiser Company 259 NLRB No. 001
(discharge of Ee assertedly for being out of his work area and for nonproductivity held not unlawful, even though Ee had engaged in protected concerted activity, where Ee's claim that he had to use toilet facility because of diarrhea was rejected where Ee admitted his need was not imminent; he had ample time to take care of his needs before then; and his testimony was untrustworthy leading to conclusion that pique about overtime work, not physical illness, caused his unprotected action in refusing to work and defying foreman's instructions to go to work)

Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 257 NLRB No. 177
(discharge of Ee for taking extended breaks and insubordination to E not violative notwithstanding Ee was strong U-steward where E met Wright Line test and proved dismissal was precipitated and motivated by Ee's misconduct)

Thom Brown Shoes, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 027

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 180
(discharge of U adherent for failure to report accident as required by E's rules not violative)

The Wackenhut Corporation JD-60-81
(notwithstanding E's U animous, U adherent lawfully discharged for insubordinate acts by failing to follow his E's rules and contacting, on his own, company whose site he was assigned to guard, rather than his superiors)

8387-4750 Not real reason

Parker-Robb Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 058
(discharge of salesman at auto dealership after U demanded recognition, assertedly for failing to follow company policy requiring referral of customers to sales manager before allowing customers to leave dealership, unlawful, where referral was not mandatory but discretionary on part of salesmen, no one had ever been discharged for similar conduct, E's testimony concerning prior warning to salesman was inconsistent and salesman testified he had not received such warning, E conducted no investigation of salesman's conduct prior to dismissal nor sought an explanation from him, and E engaged in various other ULPs only days before discharge)

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center 256 NLRB No. 064
(discharge of assistant teacher, allegedly for leaving child alone by himself in breach of E's rules, violative where real reason was his U activities, membership and support)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004
(discharge of U activist for taking his lunchbreak when scheduled rather than to remain in his work area until malfunctioning press was repaired as instructed, held violative where Ee had compelling medical reason for disregarding instruction and other Ees who had left their work stations w/o permission were not similary disciplined)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(discharge of Ee involved in protected activity, assertedly for making disparaging remarks regarding fellow Ees, and for failing to demonstrate initiative and follow instructions, unlawful, in view of E's pattern of unlawful conduct, prior, discriminatory treatment of Ees, and timing and precipitate manner of discharge)

Peavey Company 249 NLRB No. 110
(discharge of Ee unlawful in view of E's U animus and where motivated by Ee's protected activities as E had tolerated Ee's poor job performance for over 18 months until Ee instituted inquires into Ees' work grievances)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(discharge of waitress, assertedly for refusing to abide by restaurant rules, engaging in gum chewing, and using business phone for personal calls, unlawful, where surrounding facts preponderated in favor of finding that E, in effecting discharge, was motivated by knowledge that discriminatee was U adherent and that E's reasons for discharge were false)

8387-4800 Insubordination

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. [illegible]
(discharge of active U supporter for his failure to call in when absent and insubordination (calling supervisor a brown nose –) held violative, since, although Ee's violation of absentee rule was valid reason to discharge Ee, credited testimony was clear that E had decided to discharge Ee before Ee's absences)

Great Western Coca-Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca-Cola Bottling Company 265 NLRB No. 186
(allegation that active U adherent was assigned a more onerous task and was subsequently discharged for insubordination in refusing to perform such task, dismissed, where evidence was insufficient to show that job assignment was discriminatorily motivated or that it was unreasonably onerous)

Bridgeport Hospital 265 NLRB No. 054
(E lawfully issued warning notices to security guards solely for walking out of meeting on instructions of U representative because E denied Ees request to have steward present at meeting to discuss vandalism on E's property and suspicions that guard themselves might be involved in such incidents; though walkout was concerted, Ees had been assured meeting was not disciplinary investigation, and thus, walkout not protected because not done to protest term or condition of employment)

McLean Hospital, A Division of Massachusetts General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 088
(no violation where suspension and discharge were not because dischargee had filed charges with Bd as alleged but because he failed to respond adequately to E's legitimate questions about his unauthorized entry with unidentified person into E's hospital's psychiatric unit contrary to rules against access by off-duty Ees and unauthorized entry by non-Ees; fact dischargee was accompanied by Bd attorney investigating his charge did not make entry protected or give him right to disregard rules)

Federal Management Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 023
(discharge of Ee, who was leading U activist, assertedly for disrespectful behavior toward supervisor and for insubordination, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's hostility to U, where E had cause to conclude that Ee had refused to perform work assignment ordered by supervisor; Ee's disrespectful language directed toward supervisor was clear violation of E's instruction to treat supervisor with respect; and difference in treatment of Ee from treatment of other Ees does not lead to conclusion that Ee would not have been discharged absent his U activities)

John R. Harland Company of Puerto Rico, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 187
(no violation where Ee was insubordinate in protesting assignment to clean presses, part of his assigned duties as pressman, on two consecutive days when he had not operated presses and said that next week he would be told to clean them again and he would not clean them, as there was no basis in which to infer E knowledge that he had signed card)

Rickel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 263 NLRB No. 98
(discharge of U steward who was attempting to press grievance, not unlawful, where steward refused to discuss grievance with immediate supervisor as provided in grievance procedure, and instead of obeying order to return to work by supervisor upon steward's refusal to discuss grievance with him, left area to discuss with overall supervisor and vented intense anger in abusive language)

Parker Hannifin Corporation 259 NLRB No. 033
(discharge of U activist not violative where E rebutted GC's prima facie case of discrimination; Ee was warned, and then discharged, not because of her U activities, but because of her consistent refusal to stay at her work area and do her job and her defiance of instructions of her supervisors to return to work)

Caffe Giovanni, Inc. d/b/a Giovanni's 259 NLRB No. 031
(discharge of U-activist waiter in E's restaurant for refusing to work following altercation between fellow U supporter and anti-U Ee resulting in former's departure, not unlawful, where, regardless of dischargee's protected activities, he would have been terminated for insubordination, since E justifiably concluded that shortage of waiters at the time required dischargee to work remainder of shift which latter must have realized, E undoubtedly assumed fellow Ee's leaving was cause of dischargee's conduct, and, while discharge seems to be extreme penalty, it does not make ascribed reason pretextual)

Schwan's Sales Enterprises, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 165
(discharge of U adherent, not unlawful, where E had no knowledge of Ee's U activity at time of discharge and discharged Ee after his insubordinate outburst)

Lamar Advertising Associates of Dayton d/b/a Lamar Outdoor Advertising 257 NLRB No. 022
(discharge of U adherent who came to work drunk not violative where E first ordered Ee to take day off, Ee insisted upon remaining and then he was discharged)

Container Corporation of America 258 NLRB No. 184
(suspension of U steward for refusing to obey orders to return to work after general supervisor terminated grievance meeting, not unlawful, since general supervisor had acted in accordance with contractual grievance procedure in terminating grievance meeting and had not acted precipitously or in reprisal for steward's belligerent conduct or interfered with his protected participation in grievance meeting)

§387-4800—Cont.

IPCO Hospital Supply Corporation, Cheshire Labs Division 295 NLRB No. 116
(discharging Ees for sitting in cafeteria and refusing to leave plant, not violative)

Badische Corporation 254 NLRB No. 164
(discharge of U adherent not unlawful, where reason was his insubordination in refusing to return E's booklet despite his knowledge that failure to return it could result in disciplinary action against him)

I.T.O. Corporation of Ameriport 254 NLRB No. 018
(discharge of guard, U adherent, because he was not on his post and was insubordinate to-(assistant chief of security), not violative where guard's testimony that he was away (from his post) for 15-20 minutes could be considered excessive by E and record disclosed two prior incidents of discipline of Ees for leaving their post w/o permission)

United States Steel Corporation 253 NLRB No. 083
(suspension and subsequent discharge of Ee for refusing to meet with supervisor, not unlawful, since Ee was guilty of insubordination)

General Thermodynamics, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 021

Wilson Freight Company 252 NLRB No. 128

Blue Bird Body Company 251 NLRB No. 196
(discharge of active U adherent for goofing off not violative where GC failed to prove by preponderance of evidence that discharge was motivated in whole or part by Ee's U activity)

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016
(refusal to perform required task)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(suspension of U steward for making attacks on foreman and use of obnoxious obscenities while processing (Ee) grievances held not violative, since remarks were carried to point of insubordination and steward, by his continuing actions, interfered with foreman's job performance)

IML Freight, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 111
(E's threat of termination to U steward, not unlawful, where U steward refused to return to work after discussion about grievance)

Bechtel Incorporated 248 NLRB No. 158
(E's issuance of warning slips for Ees' quitting early and subsequent discharge for their refusing to sign warning slips, not unlawful since discipline was for Ees' insubordinate refusal to obey supervisor's direct order to comply with work rules while eschewing available contractual grievance process)

Lemon Electric Corporation 247 NLRB No. 203
(discharge of Ee lawful, since for his refusal to obey safety rule which required tying long hair up and back to prevent it from being caught in machinery, where Ee was not outstanding U activist and other Ees had been warned for refusal to abide by same rule)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of U adherent, not violative, where adherent had long history of reprimands before and after his involvement with U activity and discharge was precipitated by his failure to pay close attention to delicate job, responding sarcastically to supervisor when warned and stopping work to write note, notwithstanding note was in connection with Ee's announced intention to file ULP charges)

Roadway Express, Inc. JD-(SF)-258-82
(discharge of U steward, assertedly for insubordination, who was engaged in protected activity of asserting his interpretation of U contract to supervisor, not unlawful, since steward's opprobrious conduct removed him from protection of Act, where he implicitly threatened supervisor, w/i hearing of other Ees, to resolve differences by private violent confrontation and did so w/o sufficient provocation from supervisor in refusing steward's demands who unjustifiably overreacted to such refusal; animal exuberance or impulsive behavior did not excuse steward's conduct under circumstances herein and in view of E's right to maintain order)

Hayes International Corporation JD-(ATL)-29-81
(discharge of U activist, not unlawful where Ee had been warned about possibility of discharge for refusing to obey supervisory instructions but continued to be insubordinate)

Mohr's Telephone Secretarial Service JD-(SF)-43-81
(discharge of Ee for refusal to obey E's instruction to leave production floor and go to back office, w/o assurance that her request for witness would be honored, not unlawful; E's reasons for seeking to counsel Ee was based on legitimate business considerations)

Huron Cement Division, National Gypsum Company JD-770-80
(suspension of Ee not unlawful, since for cause rather than for presenting grievance, where after being reprimanded for absenteeism Ee threatened to file grievance over supervisors doing unit work, repeatedly called supervisor approbrious term in abusive and hostile fashion in front of other Ees and refusing direct order to leave premises thereby losing protection of Section 7)

Aydin Corporation, Vector Division JD-526-80
(no violation for suspending U officer for going to another work area where she was told not to go and for refusing to see supervisor about pay check error w/o written note or U witness present to hear grant of permission to go as Ee cannot set conditions to compliance with order from supervisor)

Aydin Corporation, Vector Division JD-528-80
(no violation for suspending U officer for going to another work area when she was told not to go)

Datacomp Corporation, A Division of Herbick and Held Printing Company JD-594-80
(Ee's warning, suspension, and discharge not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that Ee was initially engaged in protected activity of charging E with racial discrimination where Ee lost protection of Act by opprobrius and insubordinate manner in which he pursued activity)

Industrial Chemical Corporation JD-473-80
(discharge of leading U supporter assertedly for insubordination, not unlawful, where Ee refused to obey instructions of his supervisor to perform work directly affecting vital operation of plant, there was no evidence of disparate treatment, and E had been insubordinate on several prior occasions)

Tourism and Development Corporation d/b/a Newport Jai Alai JD-290-80
(E's refusal to reemploy Ee, lawful, notwithstanding E's knowledge of Ee's U activity, where Ee had been insubordinate and E had changed Ee's work schedule after U election, action it was not required to take, thus belying any animus against Ee because of her U activity)

Public Service Company of New Mexico JD-(SF)-187-80
(discharge of former U officer, not unlawful, where discharge not motivated by his U activities and was not for protected activity since his actions, statements and letters which precipitated discharge were not concerted nor for object of enforcing contract)

Signode Corporation JD-161-80
(discharge for public racially offensive insubordination toward supervisor, not unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Memphis 616 F.2d 949 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(no violation, where E was discharged for insubordination and not because of her support of U)

Nacker Packing Company v. N.L.R.B. 615 F.2d 486 (C.A. 7) (1980)
(one-week and part-day suspension of discriminatee reinstated pursuant to Bd order after his initiating Bd proceedings not unlawful where suspensions were due to discriminatee's failure to follow E's instructions, substandard production, and unresponsive attitude)

N.L.R.B. v. Alumina Ceramics, Inc. 690 F.2d 136 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1982)
(discharge of Ee, not unlawful, since Ee would have been discharged for insubordination even if not a U member; although Ee's reporting to work intoxicated or hung over and talking back to foreman alone might not be grounds for discharge since such practices were condoned by E, Ee disobeyed clear order to go home and instead attempted to do his work endangering himself and fellow Ees, and such conduct was too flagrant to ignore; moreover, although known U member, E was not particularly active, and E had promoted and given wage increases to other U adherents)

§387-4950 Not real reason

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 179
(discharge of Ee unlawful, where for repeatedly complaining to U about working with another Ee in another department several hours a week who had serious body odor problem, rather than for insubordination for refusing to work with other Ee; Ee's statement in informal grievance meeting that she would not work with other Ee not insubordination since such postering not unusual in grievance meetings, Ee never actually refused assignment, and Ee had right to pursue grievance; further, E admitted Ee's work satisfactory)

Huttig Sash and Door Company 263 NLRB No. 163
(violation for discharging initiator of U drive for delivering mudstained products and insubordination by not completing delivery, in view of timing soon after election, his assistant carried product through mud and was not disciplined, supervisor was unable to complete deliver for same reason next day and was not disciplined)

Aher Plastics Company, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 147
(E's discharge of U proponent, assertedly for insubordination as result of Ee's offensive conduct directed at E's substitution of Christmas party for bonus, unlawful, where E did not maintain formal or informal work conduct policy, there were no past discharges because of Ee insubordination or misconduct, and E's tolerance of Ee's alleged misconduct, as shown by Ee's acceptance of Ee's apology, was in accord with E's past practice of preferring retention of good workers over inconvenience of obtaining and training a replacement)

8387-4850—Cont.

Traverse City Osteopathic Hospital 260 NLRB No 147
(violation where no credible evidence that leading Ee organizer refused direct work order, supervisor was aware of Ee's U activities and discharge was effectuated in summary fashion w/o talking to her or making any investigation)

Isla Verde Hotel Corporation d/b/a Hotel Holiday Inn De Isla Verde 259 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of Ee, assertedly for insubordination, violative where Ee was discharged for invoking grievance procedure and for complaining about casino operations to gambling inspector)

T.R.W. Bearings Division, A Division of T.R.W., Inc. 257 NLRB No. 047
(discharge of U activist assertedly for insubordination as result of his being uncooperative and engaging in harassment of management, unlawful, since reasons advanced were pretextual where E did not apply its progressive disciplinary procedures and did not follow applicable rules, and E enforced its rules on selective basis as evidenced by E's treatment of admittedly lukewarm U adherent whose discipline for infraction of company rules could hardly be considered a penalty)

Marlene Industries Corporation; et al. 255 NLRB No. 192
(discharge of Ees, allegedly for insubordination, violative where discharge was for Ees' strong expression in heat of controversy of their common concern and position identical with that of earlier discharged Ee in protesting changed working conditions)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 153
(discharge of Ee allegedly for refusing to obey order, violative where real reason was Ee's U activities)

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001
(suspension of U adherent who threw supervisor's hard hat into trash can for disorderly conduct and discourtesy to supervisor violative, since reason was U activity, in view of E's attempt to replace U with Ee committee, and further Ee thought hat belonged to another Ee rather than supervisor inasmuch as hat was color of hats worn by Ees rather than color of hats worn by supervisors)

Intermountain Rural Electric Association 253 NLRB No. 164
(suspension and discharge of U adherent assertedly because she was absent from work w/o authorization and for her insubordination held violative where Ee's U sympathies were source of discomfort to manager who felt Ee's duties as his secretary were incompatable with her having U representation and E was intent upon building case against Ee; she was considered by manager to be very productive and valuable Ee)

United States Postal Service 252 NLRB No. 083
(U steward's suspension after attempting to perform her duties as steward, unlawful where she was engaged in protected activity, notwithstanding she did not seek permission of supervisor as required under contract and refused to obey several direct orders to return to work as supervisor was bent on preventing steward from performing her official duties so any request would be futile and neither refusal to work nor distuption of work production and her conduct did not exceed acceptable bounds to lose protection of Act)

St. Francis Hospital 252 NLRB No. 174

Clayton Construction Corporation 250 NLRB No. 121
(U steward's assertion that E's work assignment was contrary to contract and demand that it be rescinded found not insubordination meriting discharge)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026
(discharge of waitress, assertedly for insubordination, unlawful, where surrounding facts preponderated in favor of finding that E, in effecting discharge, was motivated by knowledge that discriminatee was U adherent and that E's reasons for discharge were false)

Lone Trenching, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 183
(discharge of admittedly good Ee assertedly for incompetence and insubordination held violative where Ee had attempted to assert contractural overtime claims, his work was satisfactory, he was never warned or disciplined during his employment, and E's excuse that truck which Ee drove was broken down was frame up to lay groundwork for discharge of Ee)

Hinky Dinky Super Markets, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 169
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because of his insubordination when he showed his displeasure over learning his hours had been reduced by exhibiting nonverbal show of temper, held violative, since he was good Ee fired w/o warning, his show of temper was not serious and E, upon learning of Ee's U activity, suggested Ee seek other work)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(refusing to follow work instructions)

Michael Bohm Jr., d/b/a M & M Bohm and Associates JD-630-81
(discharge of painter, leading U advocate, because of his chronic tardiness, erratic performance, complaining, attitude and insubordination held violative where tardiness was general problem, and Ee was singled out for discharge; there was no evidence that other reasons for discharge were significant influence upon E in discharging Ee; in discharging Ee, E said this talk of U is the last straw)

Brockway Glass Company, Inc. JD-(SF)-117-81
(discharge of probationary Ee, hired to do carton assembling, assertedly for complaining about this being assigned to janitorial work, for going to the U, and refusing to perform assigned janitorial work, held unlawful, where other unsatisfactory probationary Ees were granted extensions of their probation when their work was unsatisfactory, there was no credible evidence to support finding that Ee refused to do assigned work or was insubordinate, and Ee had statutory right to engage in U activities)

RMX, Inc. JD-583-80
(termination of Ee unlawful, notwithstanding E had legitimate cause to discharge Ee for his insubordination, where Ee would not have been discharged absent his U activity)

Dick Seidler Enterprises, d/b/a Joe & Dodie's Tavern JD-(SF)-220-80

N.L.R.B. v. Savin Business Machines Corporation 649 F.2d 89 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(finding that allegedly insubordinate Ee would not have been discharged but for his U activities, affirmed where E had never disciplined Ee for other alleged past offenses or placed reprimand in his file notwithstanding its policy of providing documentation in support of its position in case of charges of discrimination)

The Procter & Gamble Manufacturing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 658 F.2d 968 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1981)
(E's suspension of Ee assertedly because of his deliberate insubordination in twice absenting himself from work w/o leave, unlawful, where E denied leave in order to prevent Ee from participating in U's attempt at coordinated bargaining at another plant, discipline was disparately applied in Ee's own case, and E evidenced overall hostility to coordinated bargaining attempt; moreover reason for suspension was question of fact which was to be decided by Bd)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)
(discharge of Ee who had circulated ptn for U and filed charge with NLRB, unlawful, where for U activity and invoking Bd processes rather than for insubordination in bringing E's broken truck back to E's headquarters w/o proper authorization where Ee had tried to obtain authorization from proper party, and unauthorized individual who told him to bring truck in was not reprimanded)

N.L.R.B. v. Clayton Construction Corporation 652 F.2d 6 (C.A. 8, June 1981)
(U steward's inquiry into circumstances of work assignment does not constitute insubordination meriting discharge)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discharge of U advocates assertedly for disparaging E, inducing parents to withdraw their children from E's day-care center and unsatisfactorily performing their work, violative where discharge followed immediately upon U organizing activity and E's anti-U bias was amplysupported by record; false assertions of lawful purpose support inference that declarant's motive was unlawful)otive was unlawful)

8387-4900 Emotional outburst

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(discharge not violative where for temper outbursts about which Ee had been warned earlier; further, weight must be given to ALJ's conclusion there was no discriminatory motive for discharge)

8387-5000 Interference with other employees

Datamax Corporation, A Division of Herblick and H & A Printing Company JD-594-80
(Ee's warning, suspension, and discharge not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that Ee was initially engaged in protected activity of charging E with racial discrimination where Ee lost protection of Act by opprobrious and insubordinate manner in which he pursued activity)

Albertsons, Inc. - Southco Division JD-(SF)-344-80
(discharge of Ee not unlawful, where discharged for making false statement to another Ee that other Ee was going to lose her job, with intention of upsetting her coworker and disrupting E's operation)

Harper and Arterburn Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 693 F.2d 482 (C.A. 6, June 1982)
(discharge of Ee, allegedly because he requested that U steward be placed on company jobsite, not unlawful, where Ee was difficult worker whose complaints and demands disrupted other Ees, and even U steward who was appointed to that position as result of one of Ee's requests, complained to management about Ee's inability to work with others; moreover, fact that Ee was dismissed shortly after complaining about absence of U steward cannot, by itself, erase just cause which otherwise existed for his firing since timing alone is not sufficient to sustain ULP charge)

8387-5000—Cont.

8387-5080 Not real reason

Harper & Arterburn Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 105
(discharge of Ee unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention that reason for discharge was Ee's alleged disruption of other Ees' work where real reason was Ee's enlisting U's assistance in appointment of steward and talking about U on job)

Elk Brand Manufacturing Company 253 NLRB No. 132
(discharge of leading U advocate allegedly for threatening another Ee, violative where she had engaged in no misconduct and E seized upon alleged threat to other Ee as pretext to hide its real and unlawful motivation)

Maywood, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 139
(visiting with other Ees and keeping them from doing their work)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee who was U organizer allegedly for Ee's safety in view of threats of violence made against him, completion of Ee's work assignment, Ee's lying to E about another Ee, and his hassling of other Ees, unlawful, where fears for his safety proved unjustified, Ee had seniority for retention of job, information concerning other Ee passed on not as facts but mere repetition of another Ee's statement, and fact Ee may be persona non grata among certain Ees because of his U activities no basis for discharge)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(incident was a minor one not warranting discharge)

8387-5300 Leaving early

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099
(selection of Ee for layoff where E lost government contract, lawful, where Ee had received formal reprimand for leaving work w/o notifying supervisor and was on 30 day warning period when laid off and E retained Ee who had engaged in same U activity)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(discharge of truckdriver for quitting work early w/o permission, not unlawful, where Ee did so knowing that E was under pressure for economic reasons to have as much hauling work done as possible on day Ee left early)

American Freight System, Inc. JD-481-81
(issuance of warning letter to Ee (who had long history of filing grievances) documenting his absences and stating that any further absences would result in discharge not violative notwithstanding prior to receipt of letter Ee had asked for and been refused permission to take time off to attend upcoming U meeting and subsequent discharge of Ee was found not to be violative)

Cedarwood Care Center JD-(SF)-315-79
(walking off job w/o complying with order to report to supervisor proper grounds for discharge)

8387-5380 Not real reason

Knego Corporation 262 NLRB No. 171
(discharge of active U adherent for failing to get permission before leaving work early due to illness, violative where G.C. presented prima facie case of unlawful motivation and E offered no evidence to prove that other Ees who failed to obtain permission were similarly discharged and that Ee would have been discharged absent his U activities)

Knapp Foods, Inc. d/b/a Hi-Lo Foods 247 NLRB No. 146
(discharging card signer shortly before Bd-conducted election assertedly because of his early departure, violative in view of E's delay in discharging him, fact that on several occassions prior to his discharge Ee was unlawfully interrogated, and fact that E threatened that plant would shut down if U's campaign were successful)

8387-5500 Loafing

Marathon Letourneau Company, Longview Division 256 NLRB No. 054
(discharges assertedly for wasting production time by failing to start working soon enough after shift started, unlawful, where accumulation of discipline points necessary to support discharge under E's rule was whatever E's preference was at the time; rule and its application showed disparate treatment of discriminatees; discharges were not automatic consequences of events as claimed by E; and E tolerated one discriminatee's prior habits over period of time but then discharge Ee shortly after he displayed U button)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(suspension of U adherent who had filed charges with Bd, not unlawful, in view of Ee's stealing time by wasting time on job and continuing disregard for company rules despite several warnings, thereby prompting E to file notice of intent to arbitrate disciplinary action against Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee and then suspending Ee after receiving arbitrator's advice to do so)

Pacific Intermountain Express 250 NLRB No. 180
(discharge of 3 sales representatives who were U supporters assertedly for stealing company time, refusal to cooperate in an investigation, and suspected falsification of company records, not unlawful where, on reliable information as to one representative's on-job drinking habit, E had him followed 5 days, discovered that he and the 2 other representatives met 3 days for 2 hours at coffee shop but covered up fact on their work and expense reports; E promptly questioned the three Ees and discharged them when 2 refused to answer and 1 answered untruthfully)

8387-5580 Not real reason

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Better-Bilt Aluminum Products Co., Inc. JD-223-80
(issuing warnings to U activist to correct her unsatisfactory work and taking prolonged breaks or more serious action will be taken held violative where supervisor had advised Ee that E was going to get rid of Ee because of her U activity and reasons for warnings smacked of pretense)

8387-5600 Loss or theft of employer's property

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080
(E's requiring that its drivers take polygraph test about missing vending machine keys discovered in their trucks, suspending those who refused, and discharging those who failed test repeatedly held not unlawful retaliation for U organizing activity, in view of prior policy of administering polygraph tests, nondiscriminatory application of test-taking requirement, and fact that vending machines appeared to have been robbed by use of keys)

Crown Cork & Seal Company, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 004

General Electric Company 253 NLRB No. 156
(discharging Ee because company believed that he had knowledge of thefts of company property by other Ees, not violative)

Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 251 NLRB No. 107
(subjecting Ee to polygraph test because of his U activities and then discharging him after discovering from test that he was involved in theft of E's property violative because discharge direct product of unlawfully motivated test)

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company 251 NLRB No. 061
(reinstate discharged Ee where information leading to discharge obtained during interview at which Ee was unlawfully denied his Weingarten rights; notwithstanding Ee confessed to theft of company property during interview as E relied solely on confession in making his decision)

Ben J. Mauro d/b/a Warehouse Food Distributing Company 250 NLRB No. 177
(discharge of Ee, whose U activities were not remarkable, for failure to check on all items being taken out of store by fellow Ee resulting in loss to E found reasonable basis for E's belief in Ee's complicity with fellow Ee's theft or at least that she had been negligent)

Blue Goose Growers, Inc. d/b/a Yuma Citrus Company JD-(SF)-290-81
(discharging Ee for insisting on taking lunch break at specified time, not unlawful where doing so would have caused damage to fruit left in processing tank at processing plant and resulted in unnecessary loss to fruit grower or E-packer)

Grantree Furniture Rental Corporation JD-(SF)-383-80
(discharge of high producing furniture salesman with proU background because he had misappropriated company funds not violative where record proved Ee had withheld company funds to obtain higher commission rate, had committed three prior infractions of rule against intoxication which resulted in two written and one oral reprimand by store manager, and had falsified his employment application)

Neckover Trailer Manufacturing Company JD-256-80
(blatant infraction of rule regarding use of scrap metal by Ees both as it related to use of material for own purposes and taking of material from plant)

8387-5680 Not real reason

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025

Thurston Motor Lines 258 NLRB No. 048
(discharge of U adherent, assertedly for removing tractor from E's premises w/o permission, violative where real reason for discharge was his U activities)

Blackstone Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 124

McLane/Western, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 185
(violation and interference where E was discharged, allegedly for breach of no-stealing rule by eating one cracker from damaged, unsalvageable carton, since E applied the rule in retaliation for Ee's suspected U support and as warning to other Ees)

8387-5850—Cont.

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(discharging U activist one day after E received written report of U activity, 2 days after Ee became actively involved and 4 days after E received polygraph report which showed Ee refused to cooperate in investigation of thefts is substantial evidence that Ee was discharged for U activity rather than polygraph report)

8387-6000 Neglect of work

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(discharge of active U supporter, lawful, where he was discharged for not performing work, falsifying production records, and giving false information when confronted by supervisor, since he would have been discharged even absent protected activity and notwithstanding protected activity prompted supervisor to scrutinize work and reports, results of which lead to discharge, inference is not warranted that Ee would have been discharged if less than dischargable offense had been uncovered and where other Ees had been discharged for similar offenses)

Interstate Security Services, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 002
(discharge of Ee who was active in U activities and was guard at power plant, for being away from her post w/o permission not violative where she had also engaged in other unsatisfactory behavior)

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009
(discharge of mail carrier, U adherent, who filed ULP charges against E with Bd, for failure to deliver postage due letters, loss of registered mail, and poor work held not violative absent evidence of anti-U motivation, or any evidence of disparate treatment)

I.T.O. Corporation of Ameriport 254 NLRB No. 018
(discharge of guard, U adherent, because he was not on his post and was insubordinate to (assistant chief of security), not violative where guard's testimony that he was away (from his post) for 15-20 minutes could be considered excessive by E and record disclosed two prior incidents of discipline of Ees for leaving their post w/o permission)

Logan Coca Cola Bottling Company 250 NLRB No. 164

Schwebel Baking Company 249 NLRB No. 005
(termination of U steward held lawful for refusal of proper order to return to work during walkout over firing of fellow worker, rather than for his handling of discharged fellow worker's grievance as alleged)

Anaconda Ericsson Inc. JD-720-80
(3-day disciplinary suspension during contract negotiations of Ee-member of negotiating committee for leaving his position before being replaced at time Ee was needed to assist in completing expiramental operation for E, held not violative, since Ee's disregard of (his) responsibility required discipline and Ee's known (U) activities were no factor in E's decision to suspend Ee)

Naryon Company, Inc. JD-847-79
(discharge of Ees, not unlawful, since for excessive restroom breaks rather then for any protected activity where supervisor who discharged Ees had no knowledge of their prior U activities which has taken place over six months previously, and breaks were not for purpose of discussing U nor any other protected activity)

8387-6050 Not real reason

United Plastics, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 181
(upon reconsideration sua sponte before commending enforcement proceedings, Bd again found violation where E's president discharged Ee upon being told that Ee had not done his work and that, when asked why by a fellow Ee, dischargee had mentioned that he had a U card or was member of U; Bd found one instance of Ee's failure to complete a work assignment was pretext put forth by E to justify discharge in view of E's president's repeated and vehement statements to dischargee and other Ee about dischargee's U involvement, and his other anti-U statements)

Penn Color, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 088
(discharge of Ee assertedly for neglecting to properly perform cleaning task on job, unlawful, where Ee was leading U advocate known by E to have solicited U authorization cards; Ee was threatened with discharge shortly before his termination; other Ees who neglected to properly perform similar work had not been discharged; and inasmuch as E's stated motive was found to be false, it gives rise to inference that E desired to conceal unlawful motivation)

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 028
(discharging Ee stopping briefly at home en route to garage at end of work day, violative, as E did not confront him with evidence, warn him with evidence, warn him of possible disciplinary action, or follow its regular practice of three written warnings before discharge)

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 025
(discharging Ee for taking unauthorized coffee breaks, violative as breaks were normal practice among drivers and were tollerated unless job performance was affected)

E & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(discharge of U adherent who was shool bus driver for congregating with other drivers during standby time and leaving bus while children in it, unlawful, where Ees had never previously been disciplined for congregating during standby time and two other adherents discharged that day; fact there were children on bus did not change nature of incident so as to require such severe penalty)

Steets and Steets, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 185
(discharge of three U adherents assertedly because they left their work stations and engaged in altercation with anti-U sympathizer, held violative where anti-U Ee had no legitimate business at site of encounter nor was anti-U Ee discharged for fighting or leaving his work station)

Chicago Daily Defender JD-186-82
(discharge of newspaper reporter assertedly for failure to be responsive to all assignments made by editors held violative where less than 30 days earlier he was characterized as strongest reporter on staff and discharge followed Ee's leadership in Ee meeting and letter to editor asking for wage increases and other benefits)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-28-82
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Power Service Co., T and T Truck and Trailer Leasing, Inc., Night Hawk Motor Transportation, Inc., and York Motor Transport, Inc. JD-161-82
(discharge and layoff of U activist truck drivers because discharged Ee abandoned employment when he refused to drive unrepaired truck and other driver was laid off for lack of work held violative, since respondents did not show that Ees would have been discharged or laid off even if they had not been U activists or U sympathizers; no attempt made to recall discharged Ee after truck was repaired and 2 or 3 new drivers given opportunity to drive for Es before attempting to recall laid off Ee)

Manifold Services, Inc. JD-734-80
(discharge of U adherent assertedly for poor work habits held violative where no evidence that Ee, prior to election, was thought to have bad work habits; Ee was precipitately discharged following trivial incident concerning assignment of work orders)

L. R. Bob Spillers Painting Co. JD-(SF)-169-80
(discharge of Ee for vigorous pursual of duties as U steward violative)

Public Services Planning and Analysis Corporation, d/b/a Airport Connection JD-(SF)-310-79
(discharge of driver purportedly for leaving his bus unattended during working hours, unlawful, where alleged conduct occurred at least 1 or more months prior to discharge, and other Ees were routinely guilty of similar infractions w/o being disciplined or discharged therefor)

N.L.R.B. v. Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 651 F.2d 57 (C.A. 1, June 1981)
(E who suspended Ees for taking too long coffee break violated Act where GC made prima facie case that Ees were disciplined for their U activity and E could not rebut presumption because when incident occurred it made no attempt to reprimand Ees, but was more concerned with documenting delay)

N.L.R.B. v. Max Factor and Company 640 F.2d 197 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(discharge of U steward who vigorously processed grievances, violative, notwithstanding she spent more than 50 percent of work time doing so (much more than other stewards) and at meeting with E where he issued disciplinary warning to her for not working enough she responded with profane language, because excessive time spent on nonproduction activities and conduct at meeting were not so indefensible as to cause her to forfeit protection of Act)

N.L.R.B. v. Max Factor and Company 640 F.2d 197 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(discharge of U steward who vigorously processed grievances, violative, notwithstanding she spent more than 50 percent of work time doing so (much more than other stewards) and at meeting with E where he issued disciplinary warning to her for not working enough she responded with profane language, because excessive time spent on nonproduction activities and conduct at meeting were not so indefensible as to cause her to forfeit protection of Act)

8387-6300 Negligence

Arthur H. Fulton, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 134
(discharge of Ee who had distributed cards and attended U meeting held not violative as real reason was damage to tractor engine which could only have been caused by negligent driving)

8387-6300—Cont.

Gerald M. Martin and Kathleen R. Martin, a Partnership Doing Business Under The Trade Name and Style of Liberty Pavilion Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 169
(no violation in discharge of leading U adherents where Ees were negligent toward patient which resulted in her sustaining serious injury)

Pork King Company, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 004
(E's discharge of driver of delivery truck, not unlawful where discharge was for abandoning E's truck at unauthorized stop and leaving keys on seat so as to permit theft of valuable quantity of E's products, rather than for actively processing Ee grievances against E as U shop steward; E's decision to follow driver, which resulted in his discovery of driver's abandoning truck, was due to legitimate concern about driver's work habits in light of his earlier record)

Ben J. Mauro d/b/a Warehouse Food Distributing Company 250 NLRB No. 177
(discharge of Ee, where U activities were not remarkable, for failure to check on all items being taken out of store by fellow Ee resulting in loss to E found reasonable basis for E's belief in Ee's complicity with fellow Ee's theft or at least that she had been negligent)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of U adherent, not violative, where adherent had long history of reprimands before and after his involvement with U activity and discharge was precipitated by his failure to pay close attention to delicate job, responding sarcastically to supervisor when warned and stopping work to write note, notwithstanding note was in connection with Ee's announced intention to file ULP charges)

Keister Coal Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 049
(discharge of oiler, alleged U adherent, for failing to properly oil machinery and malingering on job not violative where Ee's only U activity was singing a U song and Ee's predecessor in job was discharged for identical reasons)

8387-6380 Not real reason

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146
(discharge of E assertedly for negligent work, unlawful, where Ee was competent Ee for 5 years who had never been disciplined and whose U activities had become known to Ee a few days before discharge, timing of which was most convincing; and E's immediate action against Ee w/o oral or written reprimand gives rise to inference that E was discriminatorily motivated in terminating Ee)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(discharge of U adherent who was school bus driver for congregating with other drivers during standby time and leaving bus while children in it, unlawful, where Ees had never previously been disciplined for congregating during standby time and two other adherents discharged that day; fact there were children on bus did not change nature of incident so as to require such severe penalty)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 056
(discharge of prominent U adherent allegedly for unsafe driving practices, including leaving scene of accident, violative in view of U animus, E was engaged in purge of pro-U ees, E's policy of discharge after minor accidents was discretionary, and E did not learn that Ee had left scene of accident until after discharge decision was made)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U advocate assertedly because his machine had suffered oil leak held violative where other Ees were not punished for same offense and disparate treatment followed E's threat of reprisal for Ee's U activity)

8387-6400 Unwarranted complaints against supervisory personnel

8387-6480 Not real reason

Savannah Wholesale Company 251 NLRB No. 087
(suspension of known U adherent for unwarranted complaint against supervisor and for improper procedures in taking delivery of assertedly damaged merchandise, unlawful, where it was not shown that E had unusual policy of punishing Ees because their grievance against supervisor was not meritorious, Ee's testimony that merchandise was not damaged was credited, and E adduced no evidence of business motivation for its sudden decision to enforce work rules more stringently following U's victory in election)

8387-6500 Use of obscenity or profanity or engaging in other indecent conduct

St. Rita's Medical Center 261 NLRB No. 057
(suspension warranted where prompted by Ee's improper conduct and of cursing and otherwise being abusive to supervisor and not by her U activities)

Fibracon Corp. 259 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of Ee who, with other Ees, walked off job in protest over termination of shift supervisor, because Ee used profane and abusive language to plant manager, held not violative where profanity was directed at manager prior to walkout and again at interview to discuss Ee's continued employment; repeated and blatant use of profanity in reply to manager's statement of its objectivity amounted to insubordination) ation)

Robert Bosch Corporation 256 NLRB No. 188
(discharge of male U adherent for physical abuse of female coworker, not unlawful)

Hotel St. Moritz, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 015
(no violation where E filed charges seeking discharge of hotel housemen's U delegate because of his threats and derogatory remarks to E when latter questioned his delegate status at E's meeting with lobby porter concerning porter's changing from membership in his own U to membership in delegate's U; accepting, arguendo, E's obligation to recognize and deal with delegate as representative of porter, who belonged to another U, delegate's actions were nevertheless so opprobrious as to render his conduct unprotected)

New Process Gear, Division of Chrysler Corporation 249 NLRB No. 158
(suspension of U steward for making attacks on foreman and use of obnoxious obscenities while processing (Ee) grievances held not violative, since remarks were carried to point of insubordination and steward, by his continuing actions, intefered with foreman's job performance)

Browning-Ferris Industries of Ohio and Michigan, Inc. JD-(SF)-313-80
(discharge of U steward and other Ee not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that U steward was in process of attempting to secure paycheck for other Ee at time of discharges, where Ees invited E outside to fight, repeatedly threatened to beat him up and persisted in obscene threats and gestures)

Coastal Volkswagen, Audi JD-(SF)-144-80
(no violation where Ee who had felony record was fired not when E first learned of his U activity, but only after E learned of his personal conduct involving incident of heated and profane argument about burglary of which Ee was a strong suspect)

N.L.R.B. v. Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 671 F.2d 657 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(discharge of U adherent who struck out with obscene, cutting, and insulting phrases at those Ees he thought had had a hand in defeating U in election, not unlawful)

8387-6580 Not real reason

Traverse City Osteopathic Hospital 260 NLRB No 147
(discharging Ee for profane outburst in cafeteria of hospital held violative where Ee was discussing formation of U with other Ees and was provoked by another Ee, use of profanity was tolerated and outburst was made during nonworking time outside of patient care area, few non Ee visitors were in cafeteria and only one Ee complained to E)

Art Steel of California, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 140
(discharge of U activist assertedly for saying bad words to female Ee held violative, since U activist was not confronted by female Ee personally or at trial; E's evidence did not rebut GC's prima facie case of discrimination with regard to termination of U activist)

Oakwood Manor, Inc., d/b/a Danville Nursing Home 254 NLRB No. 108
(discharging Ee for using profanity with supervisor violative, where Ee had previously used profanity in her presence, it was not heard by patients, supervisor used profanity and another Ee used profanity in talking with supervisor and was not reprimanded)

I/O Optics Limited, U.S.A. 251 NLRB No. 037

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 007
(vulgar language used by Ee toward his supervisor found to be pretextual reason for discharge where such language had been used in past with no discipline being imposed and Ee was actively engaged in U solicitation)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(E attempted to magnify common use of profanity in plant into dischargeable offense)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-272-80
(suspending U president for replying None of your goddam business to supervisor who asked why he was on plant floor after shift and ordered him to get the hell out held violative, where swearing was common, language was part of res gestae of protected activity, Ee was gathering job data for International and E had refused data to U and Ee)

Coors Container Company v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 1283 (C.A.D.C.)
(discharge of Ee assertedly for useof vulgar language during confrontation with guards at plant gate over Ee's display in his vehicle of sign urging boycott ofE's product, unlawful; although Ee's conduct was vulgar and not to be condoned, it was an example of impulsive behavior for wich some leeway is permitted under Ee's right to engagein concerted activity; moreover there was no other instance ofdischarge of Ee for use of vulgar language alone)

8387-6700 Refusal to accept job assignment or promotion

Church's Fried Chicken, Inc. JD-(SF)-301-79

Excavation-Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1015 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)

(discharging Ees for concertedly refusing to work specific job on Saturday because it did not pay time and half held not violative where Ees knew that E would pay only straight time and rule that Saturday work was voluntary but if Ee signed up for that day must work on any job assigned by E and penalty for not working was discharge. Claim that Ees were engaged in 1 day strike rejected, since Ees only refused to work that specific job that day and not other jobs which was equivalent to Ees seeking to work under terms prescribed by them which is not protected activity)

8387-6750 Not real reason

H. B. Zachry Company 261 NLRB No. 098

(contention that U activist was discharged for refusal to work on skyclimber, rejected where Ee was justifiably concerned with safety of equipment)

15 East 48th Restaurant, Inc., d/b/a Sagapo Restaurant and Sagapo Restaurant, Inc., its agent 257 NLRB No. 156

(discharge of Ee for failure to comply with transfer to day shift violative where transfer itself was motivated by anti U animous and was violative)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044

(E attempted to magnify simple complaint about a job assignment into a refusal to perform the job)

Manifold Services, Inc. JD-734-80

(discharge of U adherent assertedly for poor work habits held violative where no evidence that Ee, prior to election, was thought to have bad work habits; Ee was precipitately discharged following trivial incident concerning assignment of work orders)

N.L.R.B. v. Brewton Fashions, Inc., a Division of Judy Bond 682 F.2d 918 (C.A. 11, Aug. 1982)

(discharging two women for refusing to push heavy cart separately violative, in view of timing with E's awareness that they were actively involved with U, they had been reprimanded for refusal three months earlier, and they believed they would be physically injured by pushing it alone)

8387-6800 Refusal to work overtime

Peppin Fresh Pies, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 051

(discharging Ees not violative)

Castle-Pierce Printing Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 172

(E's discharging Ees for refusing to work overtime, not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that U objected to absence rule, where E's institution of absence rule was found to be lawful)

8387-6850 Not real reason

The Moore Company, Inc., Div. of Emco Corp. 264 NLRB No. 159

(discharge of Ee for refusing to work mandatory overtime, unlawful, since E motivated by U animus where E knew of Ee's U sympathies and had committed other ULPs, Ee attempted to get substitute, was never warned she would be discharged if she did not work and no written policy dictating discharge; further, another Ee had refused to work overtime and was not discharged, and fact other Ee obtained substitute did not alter nature of her refusal)

United States Gypsum Company 259 NLRB No. 145

(discharging U leader for refusing to work overtime, violative where E has no fixed policy regarding degree of discipline for violating mandatory overtime rule, no Ee had ever been discharged for violating rule, E did not follow its procedures in arriving at its decision to discharge, i.e. investigate incident, review personnel file; furthermore, Ee had 7 years of skilled experience and E was overly hostile to U)

Arrow Automotive Industries 258 NLRB No. 116

(suspension of Ee for alleged refusal to work overtime unlawful, since true motivating factor for suspension was Ee's known and admitted U support, where period of overtime involved was about 1-1/2 hours, E had no written policy regarding overtime, and over proceeding period of many months Ee had displayed no proclivity towards avoiding overtime)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 285 NLRB No. 097

(mass discharge of unit members of window and door installation crew which worked under supervision of Ee who had special incentive arrangement with E, unlawful, since E failed to overcome GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation where discharge was 4 days after majority signed authorization cards, notwithstanding crew's unacceptable work and failure to work on weekend, where E rehired crew members for jobs outside unit; nor did cancellation of agreement by crew's leader justify discharge absent agreement that crew went if leader left)

Reinauer Fuel Transportation Corporation 281 NLRB No. 210

(discharge held solely for Ee's U activities and refusal to work overtime held to play no role in the discharge; no Ee had ever been disciplined for refusal to work overtime, Ee did not state at any time that he would no longer work overtime, and there was no conclusive evidence Ee had refused to work overtime as alleged)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-88-81

(refusal to rehire former U steward, who had held highest labor grade position at E's plant because he was hazard to himself and those around him, he had refused to work overtime and did not like overtime, held violative where E did not demonstrate refusal to rehire and would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected conduct; real motivation shown by unlawful interrogation of another Ee and comment that things would be quieter w/o him)

8387-6900 Poor attitude at work

8387-6950 Not real reason

Howard and Roberta Feldman Corporation d/b/a L. A. Baker Electric 265 NLRB No. 201

(Bd has considered E comments regarding Ee's purportedly poor attitude as patently euphemistic references to Ee's presumptive or known pro-U activities; absent particularized specification by E persuasively supportive of its judgment with respect to Ee's attitude, such comment by E may reasonably be considered calculated to convey E's displeasure with respect to Ee's U activities)

Mark I Tune-Up Centers, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 138

(post-election discharge assertedly because of Ee's poor attitude toward supervisors and fellow Ees, unlawful, where GC established prima facie case that Ee's U activity was motivating factor for discharge in view of E's knowledge of Ee's U activity, threats made to Ee and other Ees, and unlawful grant of bonus to Ee; and E failed to rebut GC's case in view of fact that E either ignored or condoned Ee's misconduct and failed to discipline him and, instead, promoted him and gave him bonus, and the only visible change in Ee's conduct was his U activity)

8387-7000 Profanity or abusive language used against supervisor

Federal Management Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 023

(discharge of Ee, who was leading U activist, assertedly for disrespectful behavior toward supervisor and for insubordination, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's hostility to U, where E had cause to conclude that Ee had refused to perform work assignment ordered by supervisor; Ee's disrespectful language directed toward supervisor was clear violation of E's instruction to treat supervisor with respect; and difference in treatment of Ee from treatment of other Ees does not lead to conclusion that Ee would not have been discharged absent his U activities)

Host Services, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 086

(notwithstanding GC presented prima facie case of unlawful motive in Ee discharge, Bd noted that case was weak one and that E had met its burden of persuasion, proving that it would have discharged him in absence of protected conduct where Ee's conduct-cursing supervisor-provided legitimate grounds for discharge and GC did not prove that other Ees were not discharged for similar misconduct and therefore E did not engage in disparate treatment)

Rickel Home Centers, Division of Supermarkets General Corporation 262 NLRB No. 93

(discharge of U steward who was attempting to press grievance, not unlawful, where steward refused to discuss grievance with immediate supervisor as provided in grievance procedure, and instead of obeying order to return to work by supervisor upon steward's refusal to discuss grievance with him, left area to discuss with overall supervisor and vented intense anger in abusive language)

Lehner Corporation 260 NLRB No. 020

General Thermodynamics, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 021

Clark Equipment Company 280 NLRB No. 170

(no violation by suspension of leader of U organizing campaign for calling supervisor bastard and threatening to whip him if he caught him on the street; contention rejected that action was protected because it occurred during E's anti-U meeting)

Medi-Mart, A Division of Stop & Shop Company, Inc. JD-314-82

(discharging U observer for swearing at supervisor not violative where he had received written warning two months earlier for swearing)

Salem Gravure Division of World Color Press, Inc. JD-152-81

(suspension and reprimand of U shop steward for use of obscenity towards supervisor when supervisor handed him as U representative copy of notice relating to strict enforcement of E's rules towards Ees, not unlawful where U requested that it be given all notices that E made applicable to its Ees, and E voluntarily complied with request; U representative is not thereby authorized to spout every kind of obscenity which comes to mind and then request and obtain protection of Act)

8387-7000—Cont.

Huron Cement Division, National Gypsum Company JD-770-80
(suspension of Ee not unlawful, since for cause rather than for presenting grievance, where after being reprimanded for absenteeism Ee threatened to file grievance over supervisors doing unit work, repeatedly called supervisor approbrious term in abusive and hostile fashion in front of other Ees and refusing direct order to leave premises thereby losing protection of Section 7)

8387-7050 Not real reason

Tra-Mar Communications, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 089
(discharge of principal U adherent, after election where U certified as bargaining representative, for having used profanity towards E, held violative, since prior to discharge of Ee no other Ee had ever been disciplined or discharged for use of profanities, use of profanity common, and E presented no evidence to indicate such conduct had not been previously condoned; E did not meet burden of showing Ee's discharge for using profanity would have occurred in absence of Ee's U activities; Fibracan Corp., 259 NLRB 161 (1981) inapplicable in instant case)

S.M.C. Rest. Corp. d/b/a Poletti's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 051
(discharge of waiter, unlawful where for U adherence rather than for alleged assault on woman general manager of restaurant)

TRW-United Greenfield Division 260 NLRB No. 013
(demotion of Ee who engaged in U activity violative; subsequent discharge also violative where Ee was discharged for using profane language when he protested unlawful demotion as supervisor humiliated Ee and by his conduct provoked Ee)

Bedford Farmers Cooperative 259 NLRB No. 165
(discharge of U activist violative notwithstanding it occurred shortly after E and Ee engaged in argument in front of customers as no prior warning given; several weeks earlier E unlawfully warned activist about his U activities and E's desire to get rid of U. E did not establish that discharge would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected activities)

United States Postal Service 250 NLRB No. 002
(suspending U steward for uttering obscenity toward supervisor in course of discussing possible grievance on behalf of unit Ee, unlawful)

F.W.I.L. Lundy Bros. Restaurant, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 057
(discharge of well known U adherent assertedly because he used profanity against restaurant hostess after he broke E's rule regarding seating customers held violative where reasons for discharge were fabricated and shifting)

Hansen Rubber Company JD-290-82
(discharge of Ee for uttering obscenity during course of meeting with E dealing with contract provision concerning pay for negotiating sessions violative as Ee was engaged in protected concerted activity and his conduct was not so egregious to remove it from protection of Act where it was uttered in heat of an argument)

8387-7100 Harassing, threatening, etc. of supervisors

Ameco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/ Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 038

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009
(discharge of mail carrier, U adherent, because postmaster could have reasonably believed Ee was about to attack him during emotional meeting concerning Ee's work assignment, not violative absent anti-U motivation, and any evidence of disparate treatment)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 007

Thermo King Corporation 247 NLRB No. 048
(discharge of known active U adherent for using abusive language towards supervisor and threatening him with physical violence, not unlawful, where plant rule prohibited threatening and abusive language, language used was unusual occurrence in plant and, even if it were commonplace, context in which it was used neutralized any commonplace meaning it might have had, Ee continually repeated threat, and decision to discharge was reached only after careful consideration and investigation of incident)

Ohio Ferro - Alloys Corporation JD-246-81
(discharging U steward for inflicting savage beating on supervisor not violative where beating was sole motivation for discharge)

Amcar, Division of ACF Industries, Inc. JD-206-81
(discharging 2 Ees for assaulting supervisor away from plant not violative, notwithstanding finding of not guilty verdict in trial on criminal assault complaint)

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company JD-(SF)-322-80
(discharge of U steward, not unlawful, notwithstanding evidence of supervisor's ill will toward him for presenting grievances, where steward's subsequent threat to have supervisor's throat cut was found sole reason for discharge)

8387-7150 Not real reason

R. P. Scherer (Southeast) Corporation 258 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of Ee for threatening supervisor violative, where supervisor informed E that Ee had threatened him but actually supervisor had threatened Ee and true reason for threat was Ee's U activity)

Laredo Packing Company 254 NLRB No. 001
(suspension of U adherent who threw supervisor's hard hat into trash can for disorderly conduct and discourtesy to supervisor violative, since reason was U activity, in view of E's attempt to replace U with Ee committee, and further Ee thought hat belonged to another Ee rather than supervisor inasmuch as hat was color of hats worn by Ees rather than color of hats worn by supervisors)

8387-7400 Refusal to work assigned hours

Liberty Men's Formals, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 179
(E's discharge of Ee for refusal to work 40-hour week she was hired for not violative notwithstanding she had been involved in protected concerted activity where E met its burden and proved that it would have fired her absent her protected activity)

8387-7450 Not real reason

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097
(mass discharge of unit members of window and door installation crew which worked under supervision of Ee who had special incentive arrangement with E, unlawful, since E failed to overcome GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation where discharge was 4 days after majority signed authorization cards, notwithstanding crew's unacceptable work and failure to work on weekend, where E rehired crew members for jobs outside unit; nor did cancellation of agreement by crew's leader justify discharge absent agreement that crew went if leader left)

St. Joseph's Hospital of The Franciscan Sisters of Milwaukee, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 135
(Ee's resignation resulting from E's refusal to reduce Ee's hours to accomodate his school schedule contending there were no part-time positions available and citing Ee's absenteeism record constituted unlawful constructive discharge where E's actual reason was Ee's recent support of U)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-203-80
(suspension of steward for allegedly permitting Ee to sign up for vacation during week E had designated as unavailable for vacation and upon his reinstatement failing to offer him backpay and assigning him to double shifts where there were others with less seniority not so assigned resulting in his quitting, unlawful, absent evidence steward had told Ee to take week off and in view of steward's testimony for GC in prior ULP hearing and E's ongoing dispute with U regarding steward's scheduling authority)

8387-7500 Sales record low

Mineola Ford Sales, Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 052
(discharge of Ee assertedly because of Ee's uncooperative attitude and low sales performance, and E's heavy losses and requirement to reduce overhead, not unlawful, where E was aware of Ee's U activities for many months prior to his discharge; Ee's activities as shop steward were minimal; no adverse action was taken against Ee for refusing to cross another unit's picket line; and even if GC had made prima facie showing that protected activity was motivating factor, discharge would have taken place, even in absence of protected conduct, because of Ee's attitude and E's economic status)

8387-7550 Not real reason

Digital Paging Systems of Toledo, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 015
(discharge of Ee unlawful since motivated by E's belief that she was sponsoring U activity rather than for lack of sales in view of discharge soon after U demanded recognition, notwithstanding Ee might have been discharged for cause at later date)

8387-7800 Sleeping on job

Caterpillar Tractor Company 257 NLRB No. 029
(discharging U adherent not unlawful where reason was his sleeping while on duty as security guard)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 251 NLRB No. 156
(discharge of known U supporter for sleeping on worktime, not violative notwithstanding contention that E reprimanded rather than discharged one other Ee for sleeping on worktime, where E terminated 34 Ees in past 10 years for sleeping on job, and sleeping on job was against company policy; moreover, U supporter who had not asked for permission as required by E to take his break in a work area was discovered sleeping in secluded area of plant 10 minutes after his break was scheduled to end, and had to be awakened by supervisor)

Savannah Wholesale Company 251 NLRB No. 087
(discharge of Ee assertedly for sleeping on job, not unlawful, even taking into consideration fact that Ee brought U into plant, E had knowledge of his U activity, and discharge occurred in same month that first U meetings were held for Ees; sleeping on job was actual cause of discharge, and there was no evidence of condonation or evidence that other Ees were permitted to engage in such activity)

8387-7800—Cont.

Sweetheart Cup of Texas 251 NLRB No. 057

8387-7850 Not real reason

American Metal Processing Company JD-199-80
(discharge of known U organizer allegedly for sleeping on job, unlawful since, under ordinary circumstances, this was not dischargeable offense and a few days later another Ee was caught sleeping while still on the clock, and nothing happened to him)

8387-8000 Smoking

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of U adherent, not violative, where adherent had long history of reprimands before and after his involvement with U activity and discharge was precipitated by his failure to pay close attention to delicate job, responding sarcastically to supervisor when warned and stopping work to write note, notwithstanding note was in connection with Ee's announced intention to file ULP charges)

Arthur N. Stephenson v. N.L.R.B. 614 F.2d 1210 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(Ee was discharged for smoking on job and not because of U activity, where Ee had once been previously warned about smoking w/i work area, he admitted he was smoking near solvent container, an Ee had previously been burned by solvent coming into contact with hot engine, and E had been warned by fire officials regarding smoking in work area; moreover, there was no prior history of trouble between E and U)

8387-8050 Not real reason

Custom Wood Interiors, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 023
(discharge of leading Ee bargaining negotiator unlawful where, contrary to past practice, president identified and personally selected Ee for layoff rather than selecting production classification which was overstaffed and leaving selection of Ees to supervisor; alleged reason of objectionable smoking habits of Ee rejected as E has tolerated Ee's smoking habits for years)

8387-8100 Use of narcotics and drugs

Howard Press, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 181

8387-8150 Not real reason

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025

8387-8300 Talking during working hours

Sambo's Restaurants, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 054

8387-8350 Not real reason

Daniel Construction Company, A Division of Daniel International Corporation 264 NLRB No. 079
(reprimanding U adherent for leaving his department and talking to other Ees held violative where reprimand was given as final warning notice, departing from E's usual policy concerning discharge after three written warnings; other Ees continually talked to each other outside department w/o reprimand)

German Machine Corporation 257 NLRB No. 010
(discharge of leading U advocate, allegedly for excessive talking, lack of work for him to perform, and unsuitable work, violative in light of pretextual nature of E's asserted reasons for discharge)

8387-8500 Troublemakers and agitators

Lakewood Mechanical Contractors, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 024
(discharging or failing to rehire Ee not violative, where E told Ee that he would not be employed unless requested by foreman on particular project as Ee had long history of inability to get along with supervisors)

Albertsons, Inc. - Southco Division JD-(SF)-244-80
(discharge of U adherent, not unlawful where for threatening to throw egg on other Ee's car)

Albertsons, Inc. - Southco Division JD-(SF)-344-80
(discharge of Ee not unlawful, where discharged for making false statement to another Ee that other Ee was going to lose her job, with intention of upsetting her coworker and disrupting E's operation)

8387-8550 Not real reason

The Rosicrucian Press, Ltd. 264 NLRB No. 170
(discharge of Ee unlawful, where for repeatedly complaining to U about working with another Ee in another department several hours a week who had serious body odor problem, rather than for insubordination for refusing to work with other Ee; Ee's statement in informal grievance meeting that she would not work with other Ee not insubordination since such posturing not unusual in grievance meetings, Ee never actually refused assignment, and Ee had right to pursue grievance; further, E admitted Ee's work satisfactory)

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing &
Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 061
(warning Ee at nursing home who was former striker against using word scab to describe other Ees and discussing U with patient, unlawful, since use of word scab in context of labor dispute protected activity; E was mistaken as to any conversation with patient, and particularly in view of E's prior statements that E knew Ee had been one of the instigators in getting U into nursing home and if Ee was caught doing anything in connection with U she would be asked to leave)

Clark Manor Nursing Home Corp. 254 NLRB No. 084
(discharge of U adherent, assertedly for his disruptive and offensive behavior, unlawful where GC made prima facie showing that Ee's U activity was motivating factor in E's decision to discharge him and E failed to demonstrate that it would have taken same action against him had he not engaged in U activities)

Levi Strauss & Company JD-188-80

8387-8800 Uncooperativeness

McLean Hospital, A Division of Massachusetts
General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 068
(no violation where suspension and discharge were not because dischargee had filed charges with Bd as alleged but because he failed to respond adequately to E's legitimate questions about his unauthorized entry with unidentified person into E's hospital's psychiatric unit contrary to rules against access by off-duty Ees and unauthorized entry by non-Ees; fact dischargee was accompanied by Bd attorney investigating his charge did not make entry protected or give him right to disregard rules)

Mineola Ford Sales, Ltd. 258 NLRB No. 082
(discharge of Ee assertedly because of Ee's uncooperative attitude and low sales performance, and E's heavy losses and requirement to reduce overhead, not unlawful, where E was aware of Ee's U activities for many months prior to his discharge; Ee's activities as shop steward were minimal; no adverse action was taken against Ee for refusing to cross another unit's picket line; and even if GC had made prima facie showing that protected activity was motivating factor, discharge would have taken place, even in absence of protected conduct, because of Ee's attitude and E's economic status)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080
(E's requiring that its drivers take polygraph test about missing vending machine keys discovered in their trucks, suspending those who refused, and discharging those who failed test repeatedly held not unlawful retaliation for U organizing activity, in view of prior policy of administering polygraph tests, nondiscriminatory application of test-taking requirement, and fact that vending machines appeared to have been robbed by use of keys)

Pacific Intermountain Express 250 NLRB No. 180
(discharge of 3 sales representatives who were U supporters assertedly for stealing company time, refusal to cooperate in an investigation, and suspected falsification of company records, not unlawful where, on reliable information as to one representative's on-job drinking habit, E had him followed 5 days, discovered that he and the 2 other representatives met 3 days for 2 hours at coffee shop but covered up fact on their work and expense reports; E promptly ques[illegible] the three Ees and discharged them when 2 refused to answer and 1 ans[illegible]ed untruthfully)

N.L.R.B. v. Fixtures Manufacturing Corporation 669 F.2d 547 (C.A. 8, Jan. 1982)
(discharging U activist one day after E received written report of U activity, 2 days after Ee became actively involved and 4 days after E received polygraph report which showed Ee refused to cooperate in investigation of thefts is substantial evidence that Ee was discharged for U activity rather than polygraph report)

8387-8850 Not real reason

15 East 48th Restaurant, Inc., d/b/a Sagapo
Restaurant and Sagapo Restaurant, Inc., its agent 257 NLRB No. 136
(discharge of Ee for failure to comply with transfer to day shift violative where transfer itself was motivated by anti U animous and was violative)

Bandag, Incorporated v. N.L.R.B. 583 F.2d 765 (C.A. 5)
(illegality of discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because of his refusal to obey order to assist with heavy unloading work upheld where substantial evidence justified Bd's conclusion that asserted reason for discharge was pretextual; discharge was mixed motive firing; E's anti-U animus and other anti-U actions justified Bd's conclusion)

8387-9000 Union or other concerted activity no defense

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(denying reinstated U advocate holiday leave pay and suspending her for three days w/o pay assertedly because she had typed letter announcing impending U meeting on company typewriter during working hours held violative where record established that other Ees made frequent use of company equipment w/o rebuke)

8387-9000—Cont.

United States Postal Service 252 NLRB No. 083

(U steward's suspension after attempting to perform her duties as steward, unlawful where she was engaged in protected activity, notwithstanding she did not seek permission of supervisor as required under contract and refused to obey several direct orders to return to work as supervisor was bent on preventing steward from performing her official duties so any request would be futile and neither refusal to work nor distuption of work production and her conduct did not exceed acceptable bounds to lose protection of Act)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073

(discharge of U adherent, not violative, where adherent had long history of reprimands before and after his involvement with U activity and discharge was precipitated by his failure to pay close attention to delicate job, responding sarcastically to supervisor when warned and stopping work to write note, notwithstanding note was in connection with Ee's announced intention to file ULP charges)

Grief Brothers Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 635 F.2d 531 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(discharge of Ee for absenting himself from work to attend U meeting not violative, where he did so in face of denial of his request for leave and warning that his absence from work would result in disciplinary measures)

8387-9200 Unauthorized behavior on job

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 157

(discharge of U adherent for stealing time during lunch and breaks, not unlawful, where, notwithstanding Ee's unblemished past record and receipt of several safety awards, record showed that E had consistently terminated other Ees in past for same offense)

J. J. Security, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 180

(refusal to reinstate unlawfully discharged Ee not violative where Ee engaged in conduct on E's premises in violation of E's rules)

8387-9300 Unsatisfactory work

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144

Decoration, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 052

(prima facie case of discriminatory layoff not estalbished where there was evidence of job deficiencies of laid-off senior Ees but not of Ees retained, and seniority was not shown to be a basis for selection for layoff by E previously)

Onan, a Division of Onan Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187

(Bd held that Ee's job performance after returning to work from sick leave had been poor and was basis for discharge; moreover any adverse inference of unlawful motivation arising from E's assignment of arduous task to Ee upon his return was overcome by fact that Ee had not engaged in U activities since year before and that U had not campeigned at plant until after Ee was discharged)

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029

(reduction in hours of waitress who let customers leave before they paid their bill not violative especially when incident before E was aware of Ees U activities)

United States Postal Service 260 NLRB No. 009

(discharge of mail carrier, U adherent, who filed ULP charges against E with Bd, for failure to deliver postage due letters, loss of registered mail, and poor work held not violative absent evidence of anti-U motivation, or any evidence of disparate treatment)

Complas Industries, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 186

(discharge of U organizer, not unlawful where he was not good Ee, and E's knowledge of his U activities was not proved)

Monterey Drilling Company 255 NLRB No. 074

(discharge of two Ees assertedly for unsatisfactory work, not violative where evidence was insufficient to establish that they were discharged for any other reason)

Taylor-Dunn Manufacturing Company 252 NLRB No. 118

(discharge of leadman not violative where he had received three written warnings of deficiencies in job performance and had been offered another job in unit)

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056

(E's filing of notice of arbitration with regard to its intention to discharge Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee, not unlawful, since E's action was not prompted by Ee's U activities or filing of charges with Bd, where Ee's misconduct on job and disregard for company rules justified E's action)

La Habra Dodge, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 001

(discharge of Ee mechanic at automobile dealer for doing faulty work, not unlawful, where E had no knowledge of Ee's U activities)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 053

(discharge of formerly striking Ee assertedly for failing to detect errors in vehicular rental contracts made by other ex-strikers, unlawful, where there was no evidence that Ee exercised less scrutiny in reviewing work of ex-strikers than nonstrikers, and Ee's even-handedness is apparent from long period of time it took E to build case against her)

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-[illegible]

(no violation, where U adherent reporters were discharged for decline in their production)

Herb's Orchard Inn, Inc. JD-647-81

(discharge not violative where E had received customer complaints and E's knowledge of E's U activities was not proved)

State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company and State Farm Fire and Casualty Company JD-176-80

(discharge of U adherent, not unlawful, where Ee repeatedly showed poor judgment in preparing estimates for automobile repair claims)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilker Brothers Company, Inc. 652 F.2d 660 (C.A. 6, June 1981)

(discharge of Ee not for U activities, but for not being very good worker and always being reprimanded, including being written up in three reports w/i 2 weeks of discharge date)

N.L.R.B. v. Axton Candy and Tobacco Company 645 F.2d 555 (C.A. 6, Apr 8, 1981)

(discharge of Ee not unlawful since not supported by substantial evidence where there had been complaints about work of Ee for several months and supervisor informed E's president that he no longer wished Ee to work under him)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(discharge of U adherent who was poor Ee not violative where E had decided to discharge Ee before it had any knowledge of U activity)

8387-9350 Not real reason

Quality Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 142

(discharging new Ee, assertedly for opening packages with her teeth, violative where other Ees did this; furthermore, she spoke out against open shop at E meeting, was asked her name when she wore U button on election day and was discharged same day)

Quality Packaging, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 142

(discharging probationary Ee because her machines were always breaking down, violative where Ees are not responsible for machines and she was told that she was permanent Ee, as motivating factor for discharge was U activity at E meeting where she questioned E's vice president that he would bargain in good faith)

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 139

(suspension of Ee assertedly for workplace deficiencies, unlawful, where Ee, who acted as U observer and was otherwise ardent and active U supporter, was disciplined w/o opportunity to rebut charges and asserted deficiencies did not involve any serious expenditures by E; co-worker, who was equally responsible for workplace, was not suspended; and E seized upon workplace deficiencies as pretext to punish Ee because of his U activities and to make it clear to him and others so inclined that advocacy of U would meet with same or similar treatment)

Gentile Pontiac 260 NLRB No. 056

(discharge of chief U organizer, who assertedly was selected for discharge because he was less skilled and productive than other Ees, unlawful, where Ee was employed in his job category over lengthy period of time, Ee's previous E's job reference to E contained no negative comments about Ee's job performance, and if E was concerned with productivity, which depended on type of work performed, E could have shifted Ee to other work)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040

(where successor E operating nursing home interviewed but never hired nurse who was U member employed by predecessor, E held to have unlawfully failed to hire Ee because it sought to get rid of all U supporters as soon as possible; E's asserted reason for not retaining Ee, on ground that she had abused patients, held pretextual since, during approximately 3 years that nurse had worked for predecessor, there was no convincing proof that she was unsatisfactory Ee)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass
Division 260 NLRB No. 048

(discharging U activist assertedly for poor performance, violative where Ee had 5 years service, other Ees with poor performance records were not discharged, Ee had recently been praised over public address system for superior performance, and discharge decision followed and was occasioned by Ee's signature on and distribution of handbill about U's local activities)

Loy Food Stores, Inc. d/b/a Ken's IGA 259 NLRB No. 035

(discharge of two Ees assertedly for failure of one to re-mark unidentified off-sale items at E's store and the other for his failure to rotate outdated dairy products, violative where they were discharged because of their known or suspected U sympathies and activities)

Union Oil Company of California, Polymer PLant 258 NLRB No. 100

Pentax Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113

(discharge of Ee held for engaging in U activities and not as contended for dereliction of duty)

8387-9350—Cont.

Gorman Machine Corporation 257 NLRB No. 010
(discharge of leading U advocate, allegedly for excessive talking, lack of work for him to perform, and unsuitable work, violative in light of pretextual nature of E's asserted reasons for discharge)

Fashiontime Ltd. 256 NLRB No. 067
(discharge of Ee, allegedly because here work was very slow and she earned too much money, violative where real reason was her U activities)

Castle Instant Maintenance/Maid, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 039
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because he was unable to perform his assigned maintenance work according to GSA standards, held violative where preponderance of credible evidence showed that Ee was terminated for moving the U in his leading role in U's organizing effort)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 176
(discharge of Ee, assertedly because he was not learning his machinist job fast enough, violative where discharge occurred on day after U demanded recognition, E had demonstrated U animus, and E had knowledge of Ee's U activities)

Doug Hartley, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 097
(mass discharge of unit members of window and door installation crew which worked under supervision of Ee who had special incentive arrangement with E, unlawful, since E failed to overcome GC's prima facie case of unlawful motivation where discharge was 4 days after majority signed authorization cards, notwithstanding crew's unacceptable work and failure to work on weekend, where E rehired crew members for jobs outside unit; nor did cancellation of agreement by crew's leader justify discharge absent agreement that crew went if leader left)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 056
(discharging Ee, allegedly for accumulation of poor driving performance factors including popping clutch, violative as Ee had 10-year award for safety, personnel director made special trip to facility to authorize discharge which was made day after Ee was observed with U materials)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(discharge of U advocates assertedly because one was unmarried woman and other was most undesirable Ee who did mediocre work in E's accounts receivable department, held violative, since unmarried woman argument was unjustified and other Ee had received very good to outstanding performance rating from her supervisor; defenses were contrived and incredible)

Best Distributing Co., Inc. 255 NLRB No. 024
(discharge of Ee violative, notwithstanding E's contention that it discharged him for unsatisfactory work, where real reason was because he joined U)

Glover Bottled Gas Corp. 255 NLRB No. 011
(supervisor's discharge of probationary Ee, assertedly for poor work performance, unlawful, where E's refusal to cross picket line in furtherance of sympathy strike directed at Ee's E was motivating factor as evidenced by supervisor's admission to other Ees that he was directed by E to fire Ee because of his refusal; contention that other probationary Ees who did not cross picket line were not fired, rejected, where they had worked part of the time during picketing or had worked in E's yard w/o taking trucks out)

GE's Trucking, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 131
(termination of Ee allegedly because of decline in quantity of product E was carrying, and Ee's failure to follow E's trucking delivery rules, unlawful in view of E's admitted laxity in enforcing rules, lapses by other Ees, and E's U animus; selection for termination for valid economic reasons of Ee can only be explained as motivated by E's concern that Ee's influence as leading U advocate would lead to unionization)

Savannah Wholesale Company 251 NLRB No. 087
(suspension of known U adherent for unwarranted complaint against supervisor and for improper procedures in taking delivery of assertedly damaged merchandise, unlawful, where it was not shown that E had unusual policy of punishing Ees because their grievance against supervisor was not meritorious, Ee's testimony that merchandise was not damaged was credited, and E adduced no evidence of business motivation for its sudden decision to enforce work rules more stringently following U's victory in election)

Petroleum Electronics, Inc. and/or Cook Enterprises, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 042
(layoff of Ees assertedly because they devoted too much time in repairing E's vehicle as result of which customer was not serviced, unlawful, where Ees were known active U supporters, they had attended U meeting shortly before layoff, and E had profound U animus)

Purvey Company 249 NLRB No. 110
(discharge of Ee unlawful in view of E's U animus and where motivated by Ee's protected activities as E had tolerated Ee's poor job performance for over 18 months until Ee instituted inquires into Ees' work grievances)

James F. Stanford, Inc. d/b/a Ace Machine Co. 249 NLRB No. 073
(discharge of Ee w/i very short time E knew Ee was U officer held violative where E's reasons for discharging Ee were shifting and somewhat contradictory)

Notre Dame Hills Medical Services, Inc., d/b/a Notre Dame Hills Convalescent Center 247 NLRB No. 126
(violation where Ee was terminated assertedly because his efficiency and performance deteriorated)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 064
(Ee's mistakes on job were isolated, and similar mistakes were not subject of warnings or discharge and were not uncommon at plant)

The Ballet Foundation of Milwaukee, Inc. JD-219-82
(refusal to rehire principal dancer, member of U team negotiating with E for contract, for coming ballet season, assertedly because his technical ability was not as strong as needed, held violative where E's artistic director was shown to be unhappy with manner in which Ee carried out his representative functions)

U. S. Gypsum Company JD-(ATL)-20-81
(discharge of leading U advocate assertedly because Ee lacked skills and ability to perform his work and required constant supervision, violative where discharge followed shortly after manager's unlawful anti-U speech; Ee was not given disciplinary warning before discharge as was E's custom; other Ees who had received disciplinary warnings were not discharged; and E's records showed that Ee was performing well and had been granted wage raises for his work)

Don Dzakciorius, Stan Dzak, and Al Dzakciorius d/b/a Multi Purpose Coatings Company JD-636-81
(E's refusal to hire Ee, assertedly because he was poor worker and inexperienced, violative, where real reason was because he had frequently made his attitude of strict adherence to U contract well known by repeated refusals to work for E under non-U conditions)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-80-81
(refusal to rehire former U steward, who had held highest labor grade position at E's plant because he was hazard to himself and those around him, he had refused to work overtime and did not like overtime, held violative where E did not demonstrate refusal to rehire and would have taken place even in absence of Ee's protected conduct; real motivation shown by unlawful interrogation of another Ee and comment that things would be quieter w/o him)

Better-Bilt Aluminum Products Co., Inc. JD-228-80
(issuing warnings to U activist to correct her unsatisfactory work and taking prolonged breaks or more serious action will be taken held violative where supervisor had advised Ee that E was going to get rid of Ee because of her U activity and reasons for warnings smacked of pretense)

World Wide Press, Inc. JD-(SF)-12-80
(discharge, assertedly because of poor work performance, of Ee who had given testimony in Bd proceeding and who supported U disfavored by E, unlawful, where Ee's job mistakes were not known to E at time of discharge, Ee had never been told that her work was unsatisfactory, and E harbored desire to retaliate against Ee for testimony in Bd proceeding)

N.L.R.B. v. Jack August Enterprises, Inc. 583 F.2d 575 (C.A. 1)
(Ee's performance and attitude)

Eastern Engineering & Elevator Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 191 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(layoff of Ee assertedly because he was not performing his duties adequately, not unlawful, where Bd's finding that Ee was laid off because he filed an internal U charge against fellow Ee was not supported by substantial evidence inasmuch as Bd's conclusion was improperly based on testimonial evidence not credited by ALJ)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 638 F.2d 676 (C.A. 4, 1980)
(issuing written warning to U adherent, violative; this was first written warning he had received for unsatisfactory work in his fifteen year career barely a week after announcing his support of U in presence of plant manager)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1981)
(discharging district manager's former confidential secretary held violative where all confidential duties were withdrawn on day pin was filed and her position thus was admittedly not confidential, and asserted grounds of incompetence and slow business were pretextual where real reasons were that E suspected her of supporting U and being source of salary leaks)

Golden Day Schools, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 644 F.2d 834 (C.A. 9, May 8, 1981)
(discharge of U advocates assertedly for disparaging E, inducing parents to withdraw their children from E's day-care center and unsatisfactorily performing their work, violative where discharge followed immediately upon U organizing activity and E's anti-U bias was amplysupported by record; false assertions of lawful purpose support inference that declarant's motive was unlawful)otive was unlawful)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(E's statement to supervisor that he should find out who had been talking about U and get rid of her proof that motivation was illegal and fact that discriminatee was poor Ee irrelevant)

8387-9600 Violence or threat thereof

La Mouse, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 007
(discharge of legal alien Ee, assertedly because E suspected she supported U, not unlawful where reason for discharge was Ee's threat to get E for calling the immigration service which resulted in a raid 2 days before scheduled representation election and voluntary deportation of illegal aliens who were U supporters)

Great Western Coca Cola Bottling Company, d/b/a Houston Coca Cola Bottling Company 256 NLRB No. 080
(discharge of U activist for hitting supervisor not unlawful, notwithstanding some provocation for dischargee's action)

Clark Equipment Company 250 NLRB No. 178
(no violation by suspension of leader of U organizing campaign for calling supervisor bastard and threatening to whip him if he caught him on the street; contention rejected that action was protected because it occurred during E's anti-U meeting)

Clark Equipment Company 250 NLRB No. 178
(no violation by discharge of leader of U organizing campaign for so recklessly driving truck that he struck a plant security officer and later threatened to get him)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(physical assault upon supervisor held cause for discharge, where discharge was immediate and spontaneous reaction to attack, a normal reaction of supervisor with such authority, regardless of aggressor's U sympathies)

Schwebel Baking Company 249 NLRB No. 005
(discharge of U steward held lawful for assault on company official, rather than, as alleged, for carrying out his duties as U steward)

Thermo King Corporation 247 NLRB No. 048
(discharge of known active U adherent for using abusive language towards supervisor and threatening him with physical violence, not unlawful, where plant rule prohibited threatening and abusive language, language used was unusual occurrence in plant and, even if it were commonplace, context in which it was used neutralized any commonplace meaning it might have had, Ee continually repeated threat, and decision to discharge was reached only after careful consideration and investigation of incident)

Routh Packing Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 083
(requirement of reinstatement held precluded by picketer's threats of bodily harm to nonstriker's wife and participation in threats to nonstriker)

A & M Insulation Co. JD-335-81
(discharge of U steward not violative where E's general foreman discharged Ee only after Ee assaulted him)

Ohio Ferro - Alloys Corporation JD-245-81
(discharging U steward for inflicting savage beating on supervisor not violative where beating was sole motivation for discharge)

Amcar, Division of ACF Industries, Inc. JD-205-81
(discharging 2 Ees for assaulting supervisor away from plant not violative, notwithstanding finding of not guilty verdict in trial on criminal assault complaint)

Browning-Ferris Industries of Ohio and Michigan, Inc. JD-(SF)-313-80
(discharge of U steward and other Ee not unlawful, notwithstanding fact that U steward was in process of attempting to secure paycheck for other Ee at time of discharges, where Ees invited E outside to fight, repeatedly threatened to beat him up and persisted in obscene threats and gestures)

Neckover Trailer Manufacturing Company JD-256-80
(threats against supervisors)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 943 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)
(discharge of U activist for fighting with supervisor, not unlawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)
(no violation, where Ee was discharged for threatening violence to another Ee)

N.L.R.B. v. Consolidated Freightways Corporation of Delaware 651 F.2d 436 (C.A. 6, Mar 1981)
(E's refusal to hire former president of local U who had threatened to break E's manager's arms and legs and informing applicant who was later hired that it did not hire U president because of his protected activities, not unlawful, notwithstanding existence of mixed motive for refusal to hire, absent evidence threats were pretext for refusal to hire or that explanation for refusal interfered with Ee's rights under Act)

8387-9680 Not real reason

E. I. Dupont De Nemours 263 NLRB No. 015
(discharge of U adherent for pushing supervisor in chest with hand, unlawful, since conduct was not so unreasonable in relation to E's provocative harassment as to justify discharge, where Ee neither fought with nor slapped supervisor, and moderate, almost reflexive action was result of campaign of unlawful intimidation and harassment by supervisor for U activities, which included forcing adherent to work harder and take fewer breaks than other Ees, and trumped up reprimands)

S.M.C. Rest. Corp. d/b/a Polenti's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 081
(discharge of waiter, unlawful where for U adherence rather than for alleged assault on women general manager of restaurant)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 183
(discharge of Ee assertedly for threatening shop foreman, violative where real reason was Ee's leading role in organizing U and filing ULP charges)

Firmat Manufacturing Corp. 255 NLRB No. 183
(discharge of Ee, assertedly because he threatened life of E's president and owner, violative where real reasons were Ee's U activities and having been mentioned in charge)

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of formerly striking Ee after engaging in fight with nonstriker, unlawful, where fight had been arranged by E as device to purge Ee, in view of E's animus toward ex-strikers and general predisposition to discharge them, E's encouragement of conduct to provoke Ee into violent conduct, and haste with which Ee was fired while nonstriker was not even warned about his part in fight))

Carter of California, Inc., d/b/a Carter's Rental 250 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of formerly striking Ee assertedly for threatening violence against E's wife and house, unlawful, where Ee's denial of threat was credited, prior to discharge E made statement that he would have gotten rid of Ee but for U, and E exhibited virulent hostility toward ex-strikers generally)

Henry A. Young, d/b/a Columbia Engineers International 249 NLRB No. 144
(discharge of Ee who was U organizer allegedly for Ee's safety in view of threats of violence made against him, completion of Ee's work assignment, Ee's lying to E about another Ee, and his hassling of other Ees, unlawful, where fears for his safety proved unjustified, Ee had seniority for retention of job, information concerning other Ee passed on not as facts but mere repetition of another Ee's statement, and fact Ee may be persona non grata among certain Ees because of his U activities no basis for discharge)

Lester Industries, Inc. JD-97-80
(suspension of chief U protagonist purportedly for threatening anti-U fellow Ee, unlawful, where E seized upon anti-U Ee's belated, implausible account of purported threat as pretext for suspension of Ee for engaging in U organizing and protected concerted activity)

8387-9700 Illegal activity

High Performance Tube, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 181
(discriminatorily discharged Ee denied reinstatement and backpay where took photographs of E's machines on which patents were pending and also of blueprints in E's office which he had entered w/o permission when at time Ee committed above acts he was on probation for copying list of E's competitor's engineers, backpay entitlement ends as of date E could have lawfully discharged him for above misconduct)

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-88-81
(discharge of U adherent not unlawful where E had reasonable cause to believe that he was implicated in burglary)

8387-9800 Sabotage

Arthur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 008
(striker jamming locks of E's plant so that E's owner was unable to enter and services of locksmith were required, held misconduct that justified refusal to reinstate)

Fibracan Corp. 259 NLRB No. 014
(discharge of leading U supporter because plant manager believed she was responsible for malfunctions and breakdowns of production machinery not violative, since, facts of case failed to establish hostility or opposition to U strong enough to conclude that E was willing to violate law by discharging Ee to keep U out of plant)

AAR Technical Service Center 269 NLRB No. 176

8387-9880 Not real reason

Borco Industries, Inc. JD-94-82
(discharge of Ee, assertedly for sabotage, violative where real reason was Ee's U activity)

8387-9900 Other

Belcher Towing Company 265 NLRB No. 159
(issuance of warning letter to Ee assertedly for use of unauthorized color in painting his workplace, unlawful, where Ee, who acted as U observer and was otherwise ardent and active U supporter, was disciplined w/o opportunity to rebut charges, and E seized upon paint incident as pretext to punish Ee because of his U activities and to make it clear to him and others so inclined that advocacy of U would meet with same or similar treatment)

8387-9900—Cont.

Onan, a Division of Onan Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187
(discharge of U adherent not unlawful where reason was his sexual harassment of female Ees rather than his U activities)

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(failure of successor E operating nursing home to hire Ees who were U members employed by predecessor E, assertedly because E was overstaffed and Ees lived too far away from work and had no telephones, unlawful, since E's purpose was to undermine U; at the time E could not know that he would be overstaffed, other Ees lived farther away from work, and there was no showing why telephone issue suddenly became a problem; moreover, E was required to negotiate with U on which Ees, if any, should be laid off)

High Energy Corporation 259 NLRB No. 097
(permanent layoff of known principal U activist assertedly for attending to personal business away from plant while on company time, unlawful, in view of E's hostility to U expressed through various ULPs, some of which were directed at discriminatee, timing of layoff just 4 days before election in context of previous toleration of his prolonged errands; layoff, w/o prior warning, which did not conform to E's published system of progressive discipline; and discriminatee's usefulness to E as skilled maintenance Ee)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 258 NLRB No. 072
(Ee's conduct consisting of what E termed use of abusive language, total attitude, and improper performance of work duties held not to justify discharge, where E, through its ULPs, made Ee's working conditions burdensome and then relied on Ee's response to justify discharge, and Ee's conduct was not so unreasonable in relation to E's provocative ULPs; E will not be allowed to transfer onus for discharge to Ee, for to do so would permit E to benefit from its wrongdoing)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(suspension of Ee for engaging in horse play with air hose, which was potentially dangerous to fellow Ee, not unlawful, where E investigated incident, thereupon reduced discharge to suspension, and exercised reasonable exercise of its business judgment in maintaining proper discipline with due regard for safety of its Ees)

Courier Life Publications, Inc. JD-88-82
(discharge of U adherent reporter not unlawful, where she did not wish to limit her reportorial functions to one of E's five newspapers and thus to local area of an individual newspaper)

Eastern Steel Company 253 NLRB No. 163
(discharging Ee on grounds he was looking for another job and E did not want Ee who would not be permanent, violative as E knew months earlier he was looking for another job and real reason was Ee's U activities)

8390 UNSATISFACTORY QUALIFICATIONS OR CHARACTERISTICS

8390-1700 Disease and physical incapacity

8390-1750 Not real reason

Amoco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/ Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 038
(after first imposing unlawful onerous working conditions and then forcing U adherent to take leave of absence because she was unable to perform work, violative)

C. E. Wilkinson & Sons, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 176
(discharge of U activist assertedly because he was under doctor's restrictions from lifting heavy weight and such restriction prevented him from properly performing his work, violative where discharge occurred on day after U demanded recognition, E had demonstrated U animus, and E had knowledge of Ee's U activities)

PPG Industries, Inc., Lexington Plant, Fiber Glass Division 261 NLRB No. 156
(where known U activist with chronic back problems was limited by doctors to doing lighter lifting with no lifting above her head, E's discharging her assertedly because she is unable to perform her job due to personal physical reasons, violative; E had granted leaves of absence to other Ees with medical problem w/o discharging them)

Rex Corp. JD-077-81
(contention that Ee had continued memory loss and work performance was dangerous to self and others rejected as contradicted by expert medical testimony and fact that discharge conversation was related to economic conditions and that Ee was unproductive due to earlier accident)

8390-3300 Failure to qualify for bond or insurance

Butler-Johnson Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 608 F.2d 1303 (C.A. 9)
(Bd's finding that discharge of Ee violative not supported by substantial evidence where his driving record resulted in problem in insuring him; further, ALJ's finding that there was insufficient evidence of discriminatory motive entitled to weight)

8390-3350 Not real reason

Golden Beverage of San Antonio, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 0
(E's defense that drivers were discharged not for U activities but because insurance carrier, after requesting their motor vehicle records, excluded them from coverage, rejected where they were still covered 1-2 weeks after discharge, E was short of drivers, E did not try as it had before for another Ee to get insurance company to change its mind and E was not consistent in selecting Ees to have their driving records checked by insurance company)

Kenbin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his U activities, rather than for suspension of necessary driver's license, where E had accomodated Ee during prior similar problem by giving him inside work and assisting him in obtaining hardship license; subsequent refusal of E's insurance carrier to issue liability coverage for vehicle driven by Ee did not justify discharge since not true at time of discharge)

R.E. Peterson Products, Inc., and Will Products, Inc. JD-280-80
(discharge of U adherent, driver-warehouseman, assertedly because E could not insure its vehicles if Ee, with poor accident record, continued to drive for E held violative where Ee's termination was accelerated to prevent Ee from voting in impending R election)

N.L.R.B. v. Laredo Packing Company 625 F.2d 593 (C.A. 5, 1980)

8390-5000 Incompetence

John Geer Chevrolet Co., Inc., d/b/a Parkwood Chevrolet 263 NLRB No. 184

Hadco Aluminum & Metal Corp. JD-146-82
(discharge of Ee not violative, notwithstanding Ee's strong U support, E's strong anti-U feelings, and timing of discharge 11 days after U's demand for recognition, since Ee was discharged solely because he was no longer able to perform his work and represented a financial drain on the company)

8390-5050 Not real reason

Lane Trenching, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 185
(discharge of admittedly good Ee assertedly for incompetence and insubordination held violative where Ee had attempted to assert contractural overtime claims, his work was satisfactory, he was never warned or disciplined during his employment, and E's excuse that truck which Ee drove was broken down was frame up to lay groundwork for discharge of Ee)

8390-7500 Failure to qualify due to government regulation

8390-7550 Not real reason

United Sanitation Services, Division of Sanitas Service Corp. 262 NLRB No. 175
(discharge of truckdriver, assertedly because his chauffeur's license had been suspended, violative where real reason was Ee's U activities)

Together We Stand Women's Guild Day Care Center 256 NLRB No. 064
(discharge of Ee, allegedly because audit conducted by U.S. Department of Agriculture revealed her deficiencies, violative where real reason was her U membership, support and sympathies)

Logan Coca Cola Bottling Company 250 NLRB No. 164
(Ee underage to be employed in hazardous occupation)

Kenbin Charter Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 117
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for his U activities, rather than for suspension of necessary driver's license, where E had accomodated Ee during prior similar problem by giving him inside work and assisting him in obtaining hardship license; subsequent refusal of E's insurance carrier to issue liability coverage for vehicle driven by Ee did not justify discharge since not true at time of discharge)

Transportation By La Mar, Inc. JD-619-81
(discharge of U adherent, bus driver, assertedly because he had no school bus driver's permit from state held violaive where E had retained Ee on payroll for at least 5 months after learning Ee had no permit, retained Ee on payroll after E learned Ee could not timely obtain such permit and then discharged Ee after he received his permit and had conversed with suspected U activist)

8390-7900 Illegal alien status

8390-7950 Not real reason

A & B Janitorial Service, Inc. JD-(SF)-160-81
(E's refusal to rehire Ee who was illegal alien, unlawful, notwithstanding contention employment of illegal alien would be illegal, since Bd has authority to order reinstatement of illegal aliens and E motivated by Ee's grieving discharge, and would not have reached same decision absent protected conduct in view of fact E had knowingly hired illegal aliens in past and had never exhibited concern with compliance with law as could have been shown by demanding green card rather than relying on assertion of applicant)

8390-8100 Alien employee's expiring visa

8390-8100—Cont.

Townsend and Bottum, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 077
(layoff of non-U Canadian Ees, not unlawful, where E explained reason they were no longer employed was because their visas were expiring and would have required them to be laid off anyway, and E thereby met its burden by showing it would have taken the same action against them even absent nonmembership in U or absent preference for U members)

[illegible] Prison or arrest record

[illegible] Not Real Reason

Campi Transportation Company 256 NLRB No. 173
(reinstatement of discriminatee, because he had violations on his driver's license, prior felony conviction which was unrevealed on his job application, and caused security problems for U.S. Postal Service with which E had contracted, not barred, since E was aware of Ee's misconduct and had not disciplined or discharged Ee on such grounds; Ee had been declared good Ee before discharge and problems with Postal Service had been resolved before discharge)

[illegible] Lack of proper credentials for job

[illegible] Not real reason

C & D Transfer 256 NLRB No. 080
(discharge of U adherents allegedly because they did not have class 3 drivers' licenses, violative, where record showed that E had always been indifferent to whether Ees had class 3 driver's licenses)

8393 VIOLATION OF RULES AND STANDARDS

Classic Truck Rental Corp. 251 NLRB No. 056
(suspension of U adherent who had filed charges with Bd, not unlawful, in view of Ee's stealing time by wasting time on job and continuing disregard for company rules despite several warnings, thereby prompting E to file notice of intent to arbitrate disciplinary action against Ee because of his inefficiencies as Ee and then suspending Ee after receiving arbitrator's advice to do so)

Louisiana Council No. 17, AFSCME, AFL-CIO 250 NLRB No. 072
(suspension of Ees by administrator of U council on ground that meeting called by Ees' U and held at parent organization's facility violated council's policy curtailing Ees' contacts with such organization, unlawful, where administrator knew that meeting was called for purpose of addressing fellow Ee's discharge, which was protected activity; unlawful motivation was shown by attempt, following suspensions, to prevent Ees from meeting with their attorney; and administrator's concern about U meeting included Ees' taking issue with his disciplining of Ees and soliciting aid from other sources)

8393-0100 Generally

8393-0111 Conduct not within scope of rule

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(warning letters and counselling various Ees for actions contrary to E's work rules and policies not violative where other Ees were warned and counselled for same offenses which were work related, were not discriminatory and did not involve Ees' protected activity)

8393-0122 Existence of rule not established

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U members after they called in sick on a Saturday, unlawful, where E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, stated to one of them that he would not tolerate any Ee calling in sick on a Saturday; however, Ees were not told of E's alleged sick leave policy prior to their discharge and such policy did not exist under predecessor E for whom Ees and had worked; moreover, it was very doubtful that E's policy on sick leave was bona fide)

8393-0133 Not real reason

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U members after they called in sick on a Saturday, unlawful, where E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, stated to one of them that he would not tolerate any Ee calling in sick on a Saturday; however, Ees were not told of E's alleged sick leave policy prior to their discharge and such policy did not exist under predecessor E for whom Ees and had worked; moreover, it was very doubtful that E's policy on sick leave was bona fide)

8393-0144 Rule commonly violated and not similarly punished

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 025
(discharging Ee for leaving keys on school bus parked in garage in violation of company policy, held pretext as E made decision to discharge before learning that Ee left his keys that day and it was common practice for drivers to leave keys on bus)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046
(E's initial denial of vacation leave to reinstated U activist stemming from unlawful motive held violative although E subsequently reversed its decision; E's rule concerning vacation leave had been bent on more than one occasion)

American Thread Company v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 316 (C.A. 4, Sept. 1980)
(discharge of known U advocate assertedly because he urinated outside the plant, but on the premises, in violation of E's indecent conduct rule, violative, in view of E's lack of concern when similar use was made of plant area in the past and E's failure to discharge or otherwise discipline two other Ees who were guilty of indecent conduct involving incident herein)

8393-0155 Rule discriminatorily or arbitrarily applied

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 000
(overreaction by E in diciplining Ee for violating work rule, even if valid, especially when rule had not been evenly enforced or necessary to maintain production standards, supports inference that Ee's violation of rule has been seized upon as pretext, and is supported only by invidious and discriminatory motive)

Fieldcrest Mills, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 090

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045
(rigid enforcement of rule against unauthorized absence from work area or plant during U campaign only, unlawful)

Monroe Medi-Trans, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 107
(discharge of U activist, unlawful notwithstanding E's contention that it had policy of discharging Ees after three infractions of its rules, since E's testimony showed variations in applications of the alleged policy and failed to show Ees knew of the policy)

Gladwin Corporation JD-565-80
(sudden layoff of U activist assertedly for violation of E's rule restricting carrying and consumption of alcoholic beverages oncompany premises held violative where Ee was seen drinking beer on his own time on E's parking lot, an admitted borderline violation, which behavior was treated w/same severity as obvious case of intoxication 12 years previously)

8393-0166 Rule invalid

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(discharge of Ees assertedly for violating unlawful rule, prohibiting dissemination of company information by providing Ee, whose discharge was subject of ULP charge herein, with information regarding company's operations, unlawful, even if rule was found not unlawful, where E knew that disclosure assertedly constituting misconduct occurred during U activity yet E presented no evidence that it, in good faith, believed that Ees engaged in breach of rule nor evidence upon which it based belief that Ees were involved other than that obtained in instant proceeding as to their participation therein; and Ees did not in fact commit suspected offense)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-380-80
(violation, where supervisor refused to grant Ee's request that he be rotated during shift to different machines because he was taking medication that might make him drowsy and endanger himself and others and subsequently terminated Ee pursuant to unlawful unilaterally instituted rule that prohibited rotation during shift)

Great Lakes Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 131 (C.A. 6, July 1980)
(ct upheld Bd finding that Ee's possession of pamphlet critical of E's ambulance policy with intent to distribute among other Ees was protected activity and subsequent discharge for such Ee activity violative as supported by substantial evidence on record)

8393-0177 Rule not communicated to employees

Magnolia Manor Nursing Home, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 040
(discharge of U members after they called in sick on a Saturday, unlawful, where E, who was engaged in conduct to undermine U, stated to one of them that he would not tolerate any Ee calling in sick on a Saturday; however, Ees were not told of E's alleged sick leave policy prior to their discharge and such policy did not exist under predecessor E for whom Ees and had worked; moreover, it was very doubtful that E's policy on sick leave was bona fide)

8393-0188 Rule not enforced

Chromalloy American Corporation-Liberty Radiator Division JD-(SF)-383-82
(supervisor's issuance of written warning for violation of plant rule against gambling unlawful, where plant rule had never been enforced and supervisor admittedly believed Ee was strike instigator and wanted to get rid of him and had threatened to issue warning in retaliation for Ee's filing of a grievance)

8393-2000 Discipline always meted out for breach of rule

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(warning letters and counselling various Ees for actions contrary to E's work rules and policies not violative where other Ees were warned and counselled for same offenses which were work related, were not discriminatory and did not involve Ees' protected activity)

8393-2500—Cont.

Abilene Sheet Metal, Inc. et al. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 332 (C.A. 5, 1980)

(discharge of Ee, not unlawful, notwithstanding E's knowledge that Ee had filed grievance seeking higher wages prior to discharge, where Ee had falsified time card, breach of E's rules for which E had never used any penalty less severe than discharge, and had done unsatisfactory work)

8393-5000 Types of rules

8393-5007 Prohibition against interfering with production

United States Steel Corporation 253 NLRB No. 083

(reassignment of Ee who refused to repair crane w/o safety man held not due to his filing charges or protected activity as contended but to his impeding work in violation of the contract with his demands and causing work stoppage)

8393-5013 Prohibiting unauthorized presence in work area

Schreiber Manufacturing Co., Inc. 263 NLRB No. 154

(discharging pro-U Ee for violating rule disturbing other Ees on their jobs, so as to disrupt production by entering plant on off-duty hours, not violative where Ee had received 2 prior warnings for violating rule)

Ajello Corporation, Vector Division JD-638-80

(no violation for suspending U officer for going to another work area when she was told not to go)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-272-80

(after E refused to supply data on job classification, brackets assigned to jobs, and wages to U president per request by International, his speaking with Ees on plant floor to obtain data, after end of shift, held protected, notwithstanding he violated plant rule by not securing foreman's permission to talk on plant floor)

8393-5018 No smoking, no eating, etc.

Southern Farmers Association JD-47-82

(discharging Ee minutes before election, violative where E's reason, smoking in no-smoking area, was found pretextual)

8393-5027 No-solicitation and/or no-distribution and/or no-access rule

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083

(discharge of Ees assertedly for violating rule, herein found unlawful, prohibiting dissemination of company information by providing Ee, whose discharge was subject of ULP charge herein, with information regarding company's operations, unlawful, in view of disparity of treatment and severity of discipline, E's U animus and knowledge of Ees' U activity and knowledge that information was obtained in course of concerted and U activity, that it was obtained for purpose of prosecuting instant case, and that Ees had or would testify in proceedings herein)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004

(promulgation and posting of no-solicitation/no-distribution rules, which prohibited Ees during entire work day to engage in such activities unlawful where rules were invalid because they did not clearly indicate that Ees may engage in protected activity during periods of work day when they are properly not engaged in performing their work tasks, and rules were issued next work day after U won election thereby, in absence of explanation for issuance of rules to coincide with U activities, giving rise to inference that rules were discriminatorily motivated in retaliation for Ees' U activities)

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 004

(E's no-access rule denying off-duty Ees access to any of plant's facilities, including plant lunchroom, invalid and unlawful, since no business reasons were advanced to justify no-access policy to parking lots, gates, lunchrooms, and other nonworking areas, and was issued in retaliation for Ees' support of U)

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146

(discharge of U adherent assertedly for violating valid no-solicitation rule, unlawful, where Ee's protected activity of soliciting U cards occurred in non-work area on non-work time; E offered no explanation for its instantaneous action against Ee w/o ever giving Ee opportunity to be heard; on prior occasions when Ee had engaged in conduct worthy of discharge, Ee was only reprimanded after consultation; and violation existed even though Ee's U activity was limited to only one incident)

Allied Stores Of N.Y., Inc., d/b/a Gertz 262 NLRB No. 129

(issuing written reprimand to Ee for posting U notice violative where Ees were permitted to post personal messages)

Cadiz Convalescent Centers 258 NLRB No. 077

Clinton Corn Processing Company, A Division of Standard Brands Inc. 253 NLRB No. 084

(warning Ee for failure to comply with unlawful overly broad no-solicitation rule which was not clarified to permit solicitation during break times and Ee had been soliciting only on his own time, violative)

Centre Engineering, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 038

(suspension of Ee for distributing U literature in work area during working time not violative)

Neptune Waterbeds, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 163

(discharge of U adherent not unlawful where he was shown to have many work-related problems including solicitation in working areas of plant in violation of no-solicitation rule)

Great Lakes Steel, Division of National Steel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 131 (C.A. 6, July 1980)

(ct upheld Bd finding that Ee's possession of pamphlet critical of E's ambulance policy with intent to distribute among other Ees was protected activity and subsequent discharge for such Ee activity violative as supported by substantial evidence on record)

N.L.R.B. v. Westinghouse Electric Corporation 612 F.2d 1072 (C.A. 8)

(ct upheld Bd's determination that Ee was unlawfully discharged specifically for passing out authorization cards and not because Ee breached company's no-solicitation rule; furthermore, instances of solicitation for non-U purpose proscribed by rule were tolerated at plant)

8393-5030 Confidentiality

Texas Instruments Incorporated 247 NLRB No. 037

(discharges based on E's invalidly applied dissemination of classified material rule, violative, since Ees were penalized for asserting their statutory rights by publishing confidential area wage survey; application of rule interfered with those rights and tended to inhibit Ees' protected activity)

Texas Instruments Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 637 F.2d 822 (C.A. 1, 1981)

(discharge of U adherents for violation of E's valid security rule not violative where: Ees published E's confidential wage survey report which Ees had obtained outside of normal course of employment (each page of report was stamped strictly private), Ee manual set forth E's rule against disclosure of confidential information; moreover, Ees' organizing activity not dependent on access to confidential information)

8393-5031 Lunch period rules

South Nassau Communities Hospital 262 NLRB No. 146

(warning letters issued to U activists for infraction of E rule by overextending their lunch breaks, unlawful, notwithstand that similar punishment was given to Ees not actively supporting U, where extension of lunch break was common practice engaged in by supervisors and Ees, of which E was well aware; and, as shown by E's remarks in answer to Ee's inquiry about her similar situation, discipline of Ees herein was directly related to their U activities)

8393-5045 Reporting absences

A & T Manufacturing Company 265 NLRB No. 288

(discharge of active U supporter for his failure to call in when absent and insubordination (calling supervisor a brown nose –) held violative, since, although Ee's violation of absentee rule was valid reason to discharge Ee, credited testimony was clear that E had decided to discharge Ee before Ee's absences)

Beverly Enterprises, Inc. t/a Cumberland Nursing & Convalescent Center 263 NLRB No. 068

(discharge of former striker who had been reinstated but failed to report to work on date she was to report or notify E of intended absence, but instead reported on following day and contended she misunderstood date she was to report, lawful, where in fact was told and understood date she was to report, E had rule requiring reporting intended absences and other Ees had been discharged for failure to comply)

Eaton Corporation 262 NLRB No. 038

(discharge of U adherent for ignoring 3-day call in rule when he was ill, not unlawful)

Howard Johnson Motor Lodge 261 NLRB No. 123

(reprimanding Ee for not calling in to notify E he would not be in to work, not unlawful, absent nexus to U activity of Ee, or evidence of disparity)

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 260 NLRB No. 087

(E's discharge of ULP strikers, unconditionally offering to return to work, allegedly for violating company rule for failure to notify E that they were not reporting for work on first day of strike, unlawful, where E had received prior written notice of U's intent to strike made in compliance with Act's requirements, U identified itself on picket line as striking against E, and E's reasons for discharging strikers was mere pretext to mask its intention of discharging them for engaging in protected concerted activity)

Sherman Brothers, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 131

(discharge of driver, unlawful, where motivating factor in action was his circulating letter opposing provision in proposed bargaining agreement which would substitute mileage for number of hours worked as basis for computing drivers wages, rather than for three consecutive days failing to report his availability for work while awaiting call from dispatcher)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 026

(discharge of waitress, assertedly for failure to call in on disignated day off, unlawful, where surrounding facts preponderated in favor of finding that E, in effecting discharge, was motivated by knowledge that discriminatee was U adherent and that E's reasons for discharge were false)

8393-5045—Cont.

Delco Air Conditioning Division, General Motors Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 649 F.2d 390 (C.A. 6, May 1981)
(discharge of U committeeman for leving plant w/o signing out in violation of company rules, not unlawful; substantial evidence on record did not support Bd finding of unlawful discharge in light of Ee's bad employment record which included absenteeism, tardiness, and falsification of travel card, and in light of fact that five other Ees, one of whom was U committeeman, had been discharged in past for engaging in similar fraudulent acts)

N.L.R.B. v. Eaton Corporation 623 F.2d 479 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of Ee unlawful since for filing grievance rather than for failure to give proper notice of absence in view of evidence Ee told fellow Ee he would be absent and information was passed along to foreman)

8393-5047 Leave of absence rules

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 256 NLRB No. 046
(E's initial denial of vacation leave to reinstated U activist stemming from unlawful motive held violative although E subsequently reversed its decision; E's rule concerning vacation leave had been bent on more than one occasion)

Hamilton Die Cast Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 113
(discharging 2 Ees on same day for taking leave w/o written notice held violative as other Ees have not been similarly terminated; E's motivation was to penalize them for concerted activities as one Ee filed OSHA charge and other Ee was U steward whose performance E was critical)

Hamilton Die Cast Company, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 113
(discharging 2 Ees on same day for taking leave w/o written notice held violative as other Ees have not been similarly terminated; E's motivation was to penalize them for concerted activities as one Ee filed OSHA charge and other Ee was U steward whose performance E was critical)

N.L.R.B. v. First National Bank of Pueblo 623 F.2d 686 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(discharge of Ee not unlawful, since for unauthorized absence rather than for acting as U observor at election and attending U meetings, where Ee had received pay raise before and after election, and Ee had not asked for time off but simply informed supervisor she was taking day off)

8393-5048 Break time or use of restroom

Standard Motor Products, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 068
(discharge of Ee assertedly for taking an unauthorized break, unlawful, since E failed to rebut GC's prima facie case that E was discharged for U activity, in view of E's knowledge of such activity, timing of discharge w/i week of acquisition of such knowledge, and absence of valid justification, coupled with E's admitted opposition to Ee organization; taking of improper break was flimsy excuse and impugns asserted basis for discharge, gravity of punishment greatly outweighed offense, and there was disparate treatment of Ee when compared to reprimand issued to another Ee for same offense)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 063
(discharge of truck driver lawful, since was for taking extended and unauthorized breaks, falsifying records required by E and government, idling tractor for long periods, rather than for filing grievances where Ee not militant U supporter and other Ees disciplined for similar offenses, and discharge would have taken place absent protected activity)

United Parcel Service, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 134
(discharge of drivers preceded by extraordinary surveillance, unlawful, where real reasons were for filing charges with Bd in prior case, U adherence, distribution of materials for dissident branch of U rather than for overstaying breaks on road and thereby failing to meet schedules, and for falsifying logs)

Huntington Rubber Company, Division of New Idria, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 133
(E's imposition of rule which prohibited all discussion of U in E's restroom violative of Sec. 8(a)(1) and issuing warning to Ee who violated rule also violative)

Lincoln Technical Institute, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 032
(temporary suspensions not violative where Ees did in fact break E rule and leave premises during floating time)

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 025
(discharging Ee for taking unauthorized coffee breaks, violative as breaks were normal practice among drivers and were tollerated unless job performance was affected)

Norge Company, Inc. JD-647-79
(discharge of Ees, not unlawful, since for excessive restroom breaks rather than for any protected activity where supervisor who discharged Ees had no knowledge of their prior U activities which has taken place over six months previously, and breaks were not for purpose of discussing U nor any other protected activity)

8393-5050 Safety Rules

Hudson Oxygen Therapy Sales Company 264 NLRB No. 090
(issuing and posting on bulletin boards, after U won election, of rule authorizing safety committee to issue warnings to fellow Ees for infractions of safety rules, not unlawful, where committee existed and was described in Ee handbook before U campaign began, and change in enforcement of rule imposing new penalties was mere change in form rather than substance and was such minuscule part of committee's function as to preclude finding of retaliation against Ees' U activities; while questionably post-election timing was present, other circumstances combined to outweigh inference of discriminatory conduct or intent)

H. B. Zachry Company 261 NLRB No. 098
(contention that U activist was discharged was discharged for breach of safety rules, rejected where another Ee had merely been warned for same breach, and no Ee had been discharged in the past for same reason)

Amoco Fabrics Co., Patchogue-Plymouth Division/ Nashville Mills 260 NLRB No. 038
(discharge for failure to wear safety goggles while using air hose not violative as such conduct was proscribed by company rules as well as OSHA)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(discharge of U adherent who was shcool bus driver for congregating with other drivers during standby time and leaving bus while children in it, unlawful, where Ees had never previously been disciplined for congregating during standby time and two other adherents discharged that day; fact there were children on bus did not change nature of incident so as to require such severe penalty)

Gemco Company, a Division of the United States Gypsum Company 254 NLRB No. 041
(discharge for alleged violation of safety rules where Ees engaged in horseplay, unlawful, since in retaliation for Ee changing his mind about voting against U where no other Ees had not been discharged for recent violations of safety rules)

Vogt-Conant Co. 258 NLRB No. 027
(discharge of truckdriver who was guilty of numerous incidents of improper and unsafe driving during his period of employment, not violative, notwithstanding that previously Ee was threatened with discharge if he persisted complaining about E's elimination of certain contractual overtime payments; E had in past discharged other Ees for unsafe driving, E bore no animus against complaining Ees generally, and Ee ceased his protests 3 weeks before his discharge and gave E no further cause for concern)

Lemco Electric Corporation 257 NLRB No. 203
(discharge of Ee lawful, since for his refusal to obey safety rule which required tying long hair up and back to prevent it from being caught in machinery, where Ee was not outstanding U activist and other Ees had been warned for refusal to abide by same rule)

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-60-81
(3 day suspension of Ee, U president, violative where conduct of Ee neither constituted willful violations of E's safety rule, nor did E establish habitual carelessness or recklessness on part of Ee)

Hayes International Corporation JD-(ATL)-29-81
(application of rule against wearing of open-toed footwear by U activist not unlawful, since application was not disparate, was for reason of safety, and took place after election and not in context of U activities)

The Martin-Brower Company v. N.L.R.B. 623 F.2d 1161 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(discharge of U adherent not violative, where he was discharged for third preventable accident)

Edward Kopack, Sr. and Edward Kopack, Jr. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 946 (C.A. 7, Jan. 1982)
(discharge of truck driver employed by E performing contractual services for another company held not unlawful where Bd's inference that discharge was not for protected activity was supported by evidence that dischargee violated contracting company's traffic regulations by engaging in dangerous driving, contracting company expressed increasing dissatisfaction with dischargee's driving, and there was possibility that company would cancel E's contract as a result)

8393-5054 Rule against leaving machine or work area

American Steel Works 263 NLRB No. 100
(suspending for insubordination U safety officer for leaving work station to approach OSHA inspection team and for ignoring for only few minutes order to return to work held violative as such insubordination in context of protected activity cannot justify disciplinary action)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 048
(rigid enforcement of rule against unauthorized absence from work area or plant during U campaign only, unlawful)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(discharge of U adherent who was shcool bus driver for congregating with other drivers during standby time and leaving bus while children in it, unlawful, where Ees had never previously been disciplined for congregating during standby time and two other adherents discharged that day; fact there were children on bus did not change nature of incident so as to require such severe penalty)

8393-5054—Cont.

I.T.O. Corporation of Ameriport 264 NLRB No. 018
(discharge of guard, U adherent, because he was not on his post and was insubordinate to (assistant chief of security), not violative where guard's testimony that he was away (from his post) for 15-20 minutes could be considered excessive by E and record disclosed two prior incidents of discipline of Ees for leaving their post w/o permission)

Anaconda Ericsson Inc. JD-720-80
(3-day disciplinary suspension during contract negotiations of Ee-member of negotiating committee for leaving his position before being replaced at time Ee was needed to assist in completing expiremental operation for E, held not violative, since Ee's disregard of (his) responsibility required discipline and Ee's known (U) activities were no factor in E's decision to suspend Ee)

8393-5060 Rule regarding searching employees property

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 068
(discharge of U adherent for refusing to allow her purse to be searched by supervisor, rather than by security guard, upon leaving Es warehouse, not violative, absent discriminatory motivation; fact E's vice-president offered to reemploy adherent and then withdrew offer not evidence of discriminatory motivation where withdrawal because vice-president felt personally insulted)

8393-5061 Rule against destruction of property

Halliburton Services (Coffeyville, Kansas), A Division of Halliburton Company 265 NLRB No. 144
(discharging U activist for throwing down his respirator in anger and breaking it after being told that his lunch breaks and other breaks were being rescheduled)

8393-5062 Rule against leaving work without permission

Levi Strauss & Company JD-139-80

8393-5065 Rule concerning employees' personal use of company material

Neckover Trailer Manufacturing Company JD-284-80
(blatant infraction of rule regarding use of scrap metal by Ees both as it related to use of material for own purposes and taking of material from plant)

8393-5067 Rule against leaving before quitting time

Westinghouse Electric Corporation JD-(ATL)-40-81
(U steward's refusal to work overtime in order to attend U meeting concerted activity notwithstanding Ee acted alone where E had contractual obligation to honor steward's request to leave job for U business)

8393-5070 Rule against drinking of alcoholic beverages on job

Evans Brothers Barber & Beauty Salons, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 023
(discharge of U adherent not unlawful, where Ee drank beer after E terminated practice of drinking beer in shop during business hours and after Ee had been personally warned that such activity would lead to termination)

Gladwin Corporation JD-565-80
(sudden layoff of U activist assertedly for violation of E's rule restricting carrying and consumption of alcoholic beverages oncompany premises held violative where Ee was seen drinking beer on his own time on E's parking lot, an admitted borderline violation, which behavior was treated w/same severity as obvious case of intoxication 12 years previously)

8393-5072 Rule against wearing union insignia

John Rooney, David Hisman and Beverly Foster, d/b/a Rooney's At The Mart 247 NLRB No. 125
(ordering waitress to remove U button while she was waiting on customers in E's restaurant and sending her home when she refused, violative, notwithstanding fact button was of size and design to detract from uniform and bore feminist statement that might offend some customers, in view of E's other ULPs and fact E had previously taken actions motivated by Ee's U activities to induce her either to quit or to change ways)

8393-5083 Rule concerning work assignments

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-283-80
(violation, where supervisor refused to grant Ee's request that he be rotated during shift to different machines because he was taking medication that might make him drowsy and endanger himself and others and subsequently terminated Ee pursuant to unlawful unilaterally instituted rule that prohibited rotation during shift)

Excavation-Construction, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1015 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1981)
(discharging Ees for concertedly refusing to work specific job on Saturday because it did not pay time and half held not violative where Ees knew that E would pay only straight time and rule that Saturday work was voluntary but if Ee signed up for that day must work on any job assigned by E and penalty for not working was discharge. Claim that Ees were engaged in 1 day strike rejected, since Ees only refused to work that specific job that day and not other jobs which was equivalent to Ees seeking to work under terms prescribed by them which is not protected activity)

8393-5084 Rule against fighting

Danish Creamery Association 265 NLRB No. 004
(discharge pursuant to company rule because Ee was engaged in fight with another Ee, not unlawful)

Danish Creamery Association 265 NLRB No. 004
(discharge pursuant to company rule because Ee was engaged in fight with another Ee, not unlawful)

8393-5085 Rule against personal conversations during working time

East Texas Motor Freight 262 NLRB No. 101
(discharge not violative where, notwithstanding GC made prima facie showing that E had unlawful motive for discharging Ee, E proved Ee would have been discharged because of long history of Ee's problems of discussions with other Ees while Ee was working, even in absence of Ee's protected activity; Ee was issued numerous lawful warnings concerning violation of E's lawful policy on solicitation in work areas on E's time)

Champion Parts Rebuilders, Inc., Northeast Division 260 NLRB No. 098
(issuance of warning for talking on job to U vice-president and another Ee violative notwithstanding they were talking for prolonged time and E had past practice of warnings for such conduct where E observed conversation for a time and never ordered Ees back to work but merely issued warning notices in retaliation for vice-president status and activities)

Central Freight Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 056
(during hiatus in trial, suspending prominent proU Ee for two instances of talking and wasting time, violative as E did not admonish other Ees talking and Bd chairman's involvement indicated special consideration and delicate handling)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(warning Ees against talking while working, not violative, since working time is for work and particularly since warnings not a policy initiated during U's campaign)

Wilson Foods Corporation JD-(SF)-272-80
(after E refused to supply data on job classification, brackets assigned to jobs, and wages to U president per request by International, his speaking with Ees on plant floor to obtain data, after end of shift, held protected, notwithstanding he violated plant rule by not securing foreman's permission to talk on plant floor)

8393-5086 Rule against use of profanity or improper behavior

Standard Motor Products, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 068
(discharge of active U adherent assertedly for violating plant rule against spitting on floor, not unlawful, since E rebutted GC's prima facie case based on knowledge of Ee's U activity and absence of prior discharges for infraction of rule, where record showed that Ee's action was dischargable offense under rule of which Ee was aware; and there was sensitivity on E's part to Ee's offense committed in open defiance; moreover, no mitigating circumstances existed nor was there evidence of disparate application of rule, and Ee had previously been warned about such conduct)

Richmond Tank Car Company 264 NLRB No. 025
(profanity in violation of plant rule which was provoked by E's unresponsiveness to Ees' well founded concerns about safety conditions and which were kind of language commonly heard in industrial workplace was not so egregious or flagrant as to remove protection of the Act or so violent or serious as to render Ee uttering it unfit for service and justify discharge)

Thermo King Corporation 247 NLRB No. 048
(discharge of known active U adherent for using abusive language towards supervisor and threatening him with physical violence, not unlawful, where plant rule prohibited threatening and abusive language, language used was unusual occurrence in plant and, even if it were commonplace, context in which it was used neutralized any commonplace meaning it might have had, Ee continually repeated threat, and decision to discharge was reached only after careful consideration and investigation of incident)

8393-5088 Rules concerning company vehicles or equipment

United Parcel Service, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 060
(discharge of truck driver lawful, since was for taking extended and unauthorized breaks, falsifying records required by E and government, idling tractor for long periods, rather than for filing grievances where Ee not militant U supporter and other Ees disciplined for similar offenses, and discharge would have taken place absent protected activity)

Transportation Management Corp. 256 NLRB No. 025
(discharging Ee for leaving keys on school bus parked in garage in violation of company policy, held pretext as E made decision to discharge before learning that Ee left his keys that day and it was common practice for drivers to leave keys on bus)

K & E Bus Lines, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 137
(discharge of U adherent who was school bus driver for congregating with other drivers during standby time and leaving bus while children in it, unlawful, where Ees had never previously been disciplined for congregating during standby time and two other adherents discharged that day; fact there were children on bus did not change nature of incident so as to require such severe penalty)

8393-5088—Cont.

Associated Milk Producers, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 104

(discharging Ee for removing equipment from damaged truck, violative as E's true reason was to punish Ee for his U activities and to influence other Ees to vote against U)

Five Star Air Freight Corporation 255 NLRB No. 046

(denying reinstated U advocate holiday leave pay and suspending her for three days w/o pay assertedly because she had typed letter announcing impending U meeting on company typewriter during working hours held violative where record established that other Ees made frequent use of company equipment w/o rebuke)

Thomas & Howard Company of Ashevills, Inc. JD-622-81

(discharging principal U organizer for failing to report that he caused damage to trailer and denying that he was involved in accident held not violative, where E's investigation showed that Ee had such accident and discharge was in accord with past practices)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(discharge of U adherent unlawful since for U activity rather than for drinking while operating E's trucks in view of lack of investigation by E of alleged drinking and other Section 8(a)(1) violations by E)

N.L.R.B. v. M & B Contracting Corporation 653 F.2d 245 (C.A. 6, July 1981)

(discharge of Ee who had circulated ptn for U and filed charge with NLRB, unlawful, where for U activity and invoking Bd processes rather than for insubordination in bringing E's broken truck back to E's headquarters w/o proper authorization where Ee had tried to obtain authorization from proper party, and unauthorized individual who told him to bring truck in was not reprimanded)

8393-5090 Speed regulations

Arthur H. Fulton, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 134

(discharge of Ee who had distributed cards and attended U meeting held not violative as real reason was damage to tractor engine which could only have been caused by negligent driving)

Thurston Motor Lines, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 171

(discharging Ee, assertedly for violating rule mandating discharge for driving over 65 mph, violative where Ees had no knowledge of such rule, and E threatened reprisal ten days earlier, when U won election)

8396 VOLUNTARY QUIT OR LAYOFF

Hillside Avenue Pharmacy, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 205

(discharge of Ee who initiated U's drive at E's facility and who E claimed had quit, unlawful, where E specifically asked Ee whether he had signed U card when U's representative visited E's place of business; E thereafter committed series of ULPs; and 2 weeks after U demanded recognition, Ee was terminated 2 hours before end of his workday; moreover, E told one Ee that vengeful person was trying to bring U in and E had placed want ad in newspaper for filling E's position)

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 040

(unlawful discharge where E's production manager informed U adherent who had been ordered to work night shift that he had quit when Ee handed production manager letter stating he had been hired for day work and requesting that E find another Ee to work night shift)

Remodeling By Oltmanns, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 169

(unlawful constructive discharge where strikers upon returning to work at E, which although not member of multiE association had abided by associations contract with U and had paid U wages and benefits, quit when told by E it was in process of withdrawing from U, was joining non-U E association and that if strikers returned to work they would be paid less than U wage scale and would not receive U benefits)

Remodeling By Oltmanns, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 169

(unlawful constructive discharge of striker who quit when informed by other Ees that E which previously had memorandum agreement with U and had paid U wages and benefits, was withdrawing from U and was joining non-U E association and if strikers returned to work they would be paid less than U wage scale and would not receive U benefits; unnecessary for constructive discharge that striker be directly confronted by E and further E meant its terms to be transmitted to striker)

The Martin-Brower Company 263 NLRB No. 025

(voluntary resignation held to have been unlawful discharge where U adherent resigned in order to obtain good reference from E rather than be discharged on grounds of suspected theft as asserted by E)

International Computaprint Corp. 261 NLRB No. 099

(layoff of Ee where E lost government contract, not unlawful, since Ee had volunteered for lay off, notwithstanding E had prepared termination slip on Ee, where Ee had also prepared termination on Ee it retained)

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 115

(ULP striker found not to have quit as claimed by E but to have stated he would take another job if he could find it; his failure to take issue with E's self-serving letter confirming his alleged quit found proper since he was subsequently seen picketing by E, and was obviously available for work, making E's refusal to reinstate him on application unlawful)

Union Packing Co. 260 NLRB No. 064

(no unlawful discharge for U activities, as alleged, but voluntary quit where Ee, whose U activities were little more than minimal, mistakenly perceived his job transfers as reprisal for his U activities, complianed to E that his last job was too hard and that E was firing him, and left plant in spite of E's assurances that he was not fired)

Downtown Ford Sales 260 NLRB No. 051

G.T.A. Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Restaurant Horikawa 260 NLRB No. 029

(Ee who was leader of U campaign not constructively discharged when he resigned 2 weeks after election where reason behind resignation was loss of election by U and not E's harassment of Ee as harassment, though unlawful; was not so egregious as to cause him to quit and also lengthy hiatus between end of harassment campaign and resignation)

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079

(I'm kind of in a way sorry I quit)

King Trucking Company 259 NLRB No. 079

(irregular fill-in Ee who would contact E when he wanted work was not discharged but voluntarily discontinued his established employment arrangement since he has not bothered to contact E further)

Caffe Giovanni, Inc. d/b/a Giovanni's 259 NLRB No. 031

(rather than quiting, Ee was discharged by E who loosely utilized term quit to place onus for result of conduct leading to termination of Ee's employment on Ee rather than on E; E was discharged for refusing to work and did not quit merely because he had a choice of working or not working; and while Ee may have engaged in conduct warranting discharge, his actions did not evidence any intent to sever his employment relationship with E)

Brilliant Electric Signs, Inc. 298 NLRB No. 018

(discharge of Ee, U member, by his supervisor for not paying his U dues and who thought Ee, recuperating from work accident, had quit held violative where there was no basis to assume Ee's status had changed and no evidence that Ee had quit his employment with E)

Lucky Stores, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 179

(discharge of Ee who had complained about application of seniority principles not unlawful where he recklessly abandoned job w/o requesting leave of absence or stating how long he would be gone)

Genko & Meyer, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 098

(E entitled to construe Ee's absence as voluntary quit where after strike Ee returned to work, thereafter failed to appear and was given full further opportunity and invitation by E to confirm his desire for continued employment but Ee failed to do so, told E to suit himself, hung up phone and continued to absent himself from job)

Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co. 253 NLRB No. 072

(Ee found to have quit rather than have been constructively discharged for U activity where after period of light duty due to injury, she was transferred back to her own more onorous position; Ee was fully healed, other Ees performed same work, and Ee had originally asked to be placed in that position)

Herman Brothers, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 121

(driver not deemed to have voluntarily quit pursuant to rule that would consider drivers as having quit where they failed to report their availability for work for three days, but rather discharged, since motivating factor in E's action was driver's circulating letter opposing provision in proposed bargaining contract which would substitute mileage for number of hours worked as basis for computing drivers' wages)

La Habra Dodge, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 001

(held voluntary quit and not constructive discharge notwithstanding painter's helper in accordance with industry custom assumed he too was terminated when E discriminatorily discharged painter with whom he worked as E never discharged helper and E was his E and not painter)

Logan Coca Cola Bottling Company 250 NLRB No. 164

(E's insistance that U adherent with back injury had quit his job rejected and held constructive discharge where Ee was injured on job, notified E, saw physician and received workman's compensation)

Charles Deen d/b/a Hopp Topp Mfg. Co. 250 NLRB No. 154

(defense that Ee (U card signer) quit rather than was discharged for U activity, rejected where E not allowed to return to work from being off sick after E knew Ee was U adherent)

Sentry Investigation Corp. 249 NLRB No. 130

(Ee discharged rather than quit or suspended where he was asked to turn in his badge, gun and uniform, and E never notified Ee he was suspended but only raised possibility of suspension in brief to Bd; there may be discharge

8396—Cont.

even in absence of words; where such can be reasonably inferred from circumstances)

Conagra, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 085

(elimination of U adherent's job as bathroom relief, not unlawful, where necessity for position was eliminated by remodeling, adherent was offered another job by E but rather, than bump incumbent took voluntary layoff and went on unemployment compensation, and upon expiration of unemployment benefits returned to work in another position)

Mason-Dixon Recycling Corp. JD-083-82

(no violation where individual was supervisor at time of alleged unlawful discharge and voluntarily quit supervisory job to avoid hassles of supervising Ees, absent evidence individual was promoted to supervisor to eliminate him from bargaining unit, of U animus, or of knowledge of individual's U activity; nor has individual subsequently applied for another job with E)

Ferry Cap & Set Screw Company JD-671-80

(refusal to rehire or recall Ee who, after being unlawfully suspended for walking off his job, voluntarily quit, not violative, where there was no direct evidence that Ee was refused rehire for discriminatory reasons; refusal to rehire Ee was based in large part upon fact that Ee had walked out immediately after giving his 2-week notice of quitting)

N.L.R.B. v. Cumberland Farms Dairy, Inc. 674 F.2d 943 (C.A. 1, Mar. 1982)

(no violation where U activist voluntarily quit in protest against discharge of his brother for cause)

N.L.R.B. v. Charles Batchelder Company, Inc. 646 F.2d 33 (C.A. 2, Mar 1981)

(where U activist quit in protest over discharge of another U activist, refusal to rehire was not violative as his quit was serious breach of his employment obligation in that E was left with only one of three furnaces attended)

Electric Machinery Company v. N.L.R.B. 653 F.2d 958 (C.A. 8, Aug 1981)

(Ees who quit their employment after first bargaining session and following E's proposals for new contract, were not constructively discharged, since they were informed by their own U officers to remain on job even if U and E had not yet arrived at agreement for new contract when current contract expired; U and E were still negotiating; facts did not support inference that E acted with anti-U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)

(termination of ULP strikers who had been threatened with discharge during strike for recognition upon their failure to report to work in response to E's request held unlawful discharge rather than voluntary quit in view of total atmosphere of hostility engendered by E's ULPs)

Bill Johnson's Restaurants, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 1335 (C.A. 9, Nov 1981)

(discharge rather voluntary quit where Ees as they walked out told manager they objected to discharge of U adherent and treatment of Ees and were told to pick up their checks next day)

Cartwright Hardware Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 268 (C.A. 10, 1979)

(ct held no unlawful constructive discharge where Ees who were U members quit, not because E imposed intolerable conditions but because they believed they could not under, U by-laws, work in open shop w/o sacrificing their U membership, where E did not know of bylaw provision and in allowing U shop provision to lapse was not motivated by U animus but by desire to hire more competent Ees than hiring hall had provided)

8398 STRIKE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

Airport Parking Management 264 NLRB No. 082

(contention that parties should defer to strike settlement agreement that ULP strikers and unlawfully discharged Ee be reinstated according to seniority as jobs filled by replacements became available rejected, where ULP nature of strike and its effect on reinstatement had not been discussed, agreement did not include usual Bd remedy of reinstatement and backpay, U and Ees did not know of separate unconditional offer by three Ees to return to work prior to U's offer for all strikers)

8399 GRIEVANCE/ARBITRATION PROCEEDINGS AND/OR AWARD

Metro-Young Construction Company, A Division of Olson Construction Co., Inc. JD-(SF)-12-83

(filing action in U.S. District Court joining discharged Ee as respondent along with U and seeking order to compel arbitration of Ee's discharge as provided for in collective bargaining agreement, violative, as Ee has Sec. 7 right to seek vindication of his discharge with NLRB; E's lawsuit was coercive under Sec. 8(a)(1) and discriminatory under Sec. 8(a)(4) as Bd does not defer under Collyer charges filed under Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3))

The Perlman-Rocque Company JD-513-81

(supervisor telling Ee who had filed grievances and charges with Bd that Ee should not listen to other Ees, that he should be careful and report to supervisor incidents or problems because he was Ee's superior, unlawful, where in context of conversation and preceding events, it could be construed by Ee as admonition not to go to Labor Bd with his problems)

Newspaper Printing Corporation JD-283-80

(while failure to arbitrate discharge violative of 8(a)(5), ALJ refused to rule on whether discharge itself violative of 8(a)(3) where GC failed to allege discharge violation of Act and GC's position that parties should be required, as remedy for 8(a)(5) violation to go to arbitration concerning discharge)

Vesuvius Crucible Company v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 162 (C.A. 3, Nov. 1981)

(whether Bd correct in refusing to defer to arbitration question of E's refusal to grant accrued vacation pay under expired contract, mooted, since parties informed ct that accrued vacation benefits for time period in question eventually were awarded under new contract; no arbitrable dispute remained)

530 EMPLOYER OBLIGATION TO BARGAIN

0100 GENERALLY

0167 APPROPRIATENESS OF UNIT AS PREREQUISITE

The Medical Center at Bowling Green 261 NLRB No. 120
(contention that E was not obligated to bargain because unit placement of certain Ees was unresolved, rejected since neither basic appropriateness of the certified unit was affected nor parties obligation to bargain with respect to that unit)

Broadway Catering Corp. d/b/a Studio 54 260 NLRB No. 166
(refusal to bargain allegation dismissed where requested unit of stagehands at E's public dance hall was inappropriate because of unique nature of E's business which set it apart from cases involving traditional stage shows in which Bd has found stagehand unit appropriate)

Al Bryant, Inc., Harrisburg Drywall and Construction Corporation, and Al Bryant Associates, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 010
(Ees of U and non U firms, found single E herein; constitute appropriate unit in view of identical subcontracting services provided in construction industry, Ees perform similar work and possess common skills, centralized management, supervision and labor relations policies, and high incidence of temporary Ee interchange)

Malcolm Boring Co., Inc. R. C. Malcolm and Bruce C. Malcolm 259 NLRB No. 081
(refusal of construction equipment company to honor construction company's contract with U, not unlawful notwithstanding companies were found double-breasted operation of single E herein, where construction equipment Ees were found to comprise separate unit from construction Ees' unit and not to be covered by latter's contract)

N.T. Enloe Memorial Hospital 250 NLRB No. 078
(withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain because of doubt as to appropriateness of bargaining representative violative where in fact association was appropriate organization for collective bargaining)

A-1 Fire Protection, Inc., and Corcoran Automatic Sprinklers, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 034
(E's refusal to extend collective-bargaining agreement which describes scope of unit represented by U to Ees in its non-U company not violative as parties voluntarily entered into agreement with full knowledge of double breasted operation of E; therefore use of clear and unmistakable waiver standard is not applicable as parties never intended to include Ees of non-U company in bargaining unit)

United Oil Manufacturing Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 672 F.2d 1208 (C.A. 3, Feb. 1982)
(fact that E rejected the U's demand for recognition at time when it had no knowledge that unit sought was inappropriate did not affect finding violation where subsequent ptn described unit differently)

Road Sprinkler Fitters Local Union No. 669, Plumbers v. N.L.R.B. 676 F.2d 826
(Bd could reasonably have concluded that agreement between U and double breasted E's U company weighed substantially in favor of appropriateness of bargaining unit limited to U company Ees; if U had no independent statutory right to represent Ees of E's non-U company, Bd was correct that it need not inquire into whether U has waived such right)

2000 CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO OBLIGATION TO BARGAIN

2025 REQUEST FOR RECOGNITION AND BARGAINING

2025-0100 Generally

2025-0167 Bargaining demands not waived by filing petition

Ja-Wex Sportswear, Ltd. and Iris Sportswear, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 172
(no violation, where no evidence was offered to show that U ever requested E to bargain; fact that U filed R ptn did not relieve it of obligation to make such request inasmuch as Bd has held that mere filing of ptn does not constitute requisite demand to establish a violation of 8(a)(5))

J. J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation 249 NLRB No. 126
(filing of representation ptn is not proper demand for recognition or bargaining)

2025-0183 Request not necessary where futile

Fairleigh Dickinson University 253 NLRB No. 143

Sunnyland Refining Company, Inc. (International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Shipbuilders, Forgers and Helpers, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 146
(once U requests bargaining and an E states it is refusing to bargain in order to test the certification, it is futile and unnecessary for U to continue to request bargaining)

2025-0190 Failure to request

Honda of America Mfg., Inc. 259 NLRB No. 023
(in view of E's anticipatory repudiation of its bargaining obligation, absence of allegation in C that U made formal request on E to meet with it for purposes of bargaining, immaterial)

Injected Rubber Products Corp. 258 NLRB No. 092
(no request necessary once election held since it is election, not U's demand for bargaining, that creates E's obligation to bargain prior to making unilateral changes)

Grandee Beer Distributors, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 163
(E did not violate Act by refusing to bargain where U never made proper demand for bargaining in an appropriate unit)

2025-3300 Elements of request

2025-3317 Implied request to bargain

2025-3317-2800 Demand for recognition

Cell-Ace, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 012
(failure to recognize and bargain with U violative where E had duty to recognize U as of date U requested recognition; 100 percent of E's Ees had executed valid authorization cards)

2025-3317-8700 Request for information

Grand Islander Health Care Center, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 109
(request on E to furnish U with information in order that it could prepare for contract negotiations is tantamount to request for bargaining)

2025-3367 Must request appropriate unit

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 003
(demand for recognition held not defective since addition of classification, not mentioned in U's demand, in stipulated unit does not establish that initial unit request was inappropriate, nor was addition of 3 individuals a substantial variance from bargaining request)

Home Insulation Service, A Division of Sunstate Wholesalers 255 NLRB No. 060
(E's refusal to recognize and bargain with U, not unlawful, where U demanded recognition for production and maintenance Ees at single branch of E's operations rather than for production and maintenance Ees at all 8 branches of E's business which Bd found to be the appropriate unit)

2025-3383 Must specify unit sought

Lacks Industries, Inc. JD-346-83
(U's demand for bargaining in appropriate bargaining unit held not necessarily fatal because it did not set forth description of unit; Bd has held that a claim to represent Ees was sufficient; moreover, appropriate unit was subsequently determined)

2025-8000 Forms of request

2025-5000—Cont.

Jensen's Motorcycle, Inc. d/b/a Honda of San Diego 284 NLRB No. 165
(E's refusal to accept registered letter from U which it knew contained U's statement that it represented majority of Ees and requested bargaining violated Act as refusal of acceptance amounted to refusal to bargain)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 283 NLRB No. 023
(demand for recognition made where U representative informed E U represented majority of Ees and proffered recognition agreement and demand letter, notwithstanding E refused to read documents, since their import was clear)

Magnesium Casting Company, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 107
(U's demand for recognition held inadequate where it was made vocally through bull horn during course of rally in front of E's premises, and it was not established that responsible officials of E were aware of demand)

2025-6700 Continuing request

Aircraft Magnesium, A Division of Grico Corporation 265 NLRB No. 172
(request for bargaining is continuous and need not be repeated)

Enterprise Products Company 265 NLRB No. 083
(Sec. 8(a)(5) charge not barred because filed more than 6 months after initial request to bargain was made, where U's demand was continuing one in view of U's actions in diligently pursuing R proceeding and in pressing ULP charges)

Iowa Electric Light & Power Company 264 NLRB No. 021
(explicit refusal to bargain—made in order to test (U's) certification—is considered continuing refusal to bargain)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(E's refusal to bargain concerning E's unilateral change in Ees' shift hours, unlawful, where U's request was made w/i 10(b) period and, even though shift change occurred outside 10(b) period, such request revived E's original unlawful refusal to bargain concerning shift change)

Dardanell Enterprises, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 050
(Bd treats request as continuing, at least for period of certification year further explicit refusal to bargain made in order to test certification will be considered as continuing refusal to bargain)

2025-6800 Absence of request

Hirsch Casting Company 260 NLRB No. 060
(after E granted benefits to nonbargaining Ees and U was aware of this fact, it is U's responsibility to request that E bargain with it relative to benefits given to nonunit Ees)

Southern Newspapers, Inc., d/b/a The Baytown Sun 255 NLRB No. 022
(U's assertedly oral request to bargain during negotiating session concerning E's unilateral shift change held not to constitute proper request to bargain, where questions by U representative during session were ambiguous and were not directed toward bargaining; and, in any event, GC did not establish date of alleged conversation and finding cannot be made that date was not outside 10(b) period)

2050 Majority status of representative

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 260 NLRB No. 037
(since certification year would begin to run from date of ct of appeals' decision sustaining Bd's holding that E unlawfully refused to bargain, there was consequently an irrebuttable presumption that U enjoyed majority status for period of one year from date of ct's decision; moreover, U continued to enjoy majority status after end of such one-year period because of E's ULPs found herein)

2050-1200 Majority status as prerequisite

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115
(duty of strict E neutrality and necessarily for Bd conducted election attaches only when properly supported pts has been filed by 1 or more of competing Us; where no pts has been filed, E free to grant recognition to labor organization with uncoerced majority, so long as it does not render assistance which would otherwise violate Sec. 8(a)(2) of Act)

Phelps Cement Products, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 004
(withdrawing recognition from and refusing to bargain with U which had authorization cards from majority of Ees in appropriate unit held violative where credited testimony demonstrated E had recognized U for agreed upon unit)

Le Roy Fountains, Inc., and Hardwicke's Plum, Inc., A Joint Venture, d/b/a Maxwell's Plum 256 NLRB No. 006
(refusal to recognize and bargain with U as majority representative of laundry Ees violative, notwithstanding E's contention that its bargaining agreement with another U constituted contract bar to U's claim, in view of facts which reflected that it was not w/i contemplation of E and other U that their bargaining agreement should apply to laundry Ees)

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021
(no violation where U lacked majority status at time it requested bargaining and demand was not continuing demand)

Gordon L. Rayner and Frank H. Clark, d/b/a Bay Area Sealers 251 NLRB No. 087
(E held obligated to recognize and bargain with U for prospective as well as current jobsites, since (a) E's Ees had tendered their designation cards w/i determinative payroll period, and (b) U had signed authorization cards from majority in unit of E's permanent Ees when it demanded recognition, so that contract was not 8(f) prehire contract valid only for current jobsites as E contended)

2050-1800 Determination of status

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(GC's request for application of adverse inference doctrine on ground that payroll records, which E failed to produce pursuant to GC's subpoena enforcement of which was not sought by GC, would have been adverse to E and would have established that U had majority status, denied; no case authority exists for applying adverse inference doctrine to determine U's majority; burden of proof is upon GC to establish by affirmative probative evidence that U had majority; and potential of thrusting minority representation upon Ees is too great when done so by application of adverse inference doctrine)

American Spring Bed Manufacturing Co., d/b/a American Chain Link Fence Co. 255 NLRB No. 090
(Ees whose terminations were discriminatory included in calculation of total unit composition and their cards counted in calculation of majority)

English Brothers Pattern and Foundry 253 NLRB No. 087
(where U made demand for recognition and E polled Ees, discovering majority support for U, never indicated any doubt as to majority status, never asked for election, it is bound by results of poll and failure to bargain violative)

Construction Erectors, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 045
(Bd held U achieved majority status under 9(a) in stable unit at time of execution of multisite contract, where payroll charts established a permanent complement of at least six unit ironworkers, U dispatched through its hiring hall at least a majority of E's ironworkers, such referrals switched from one project to another, and U-security provisions applied to all unit Ees' thus stable work force on date off execution of contrract was distinguishable from those hired by a construction industry E on project-by-project schedule with no personnel carryover)

Saks & Company d/b/a Saks Fifth Avenue 247 NLRB No. 128
(fitters not counted for purpose of determining if E which was alleged successor had hired majority of Ees in alterations unit at alleged predecessor E since fitters had been historically excluded from alterations unit at alleged predecessor)

Royce Lindsay d/b/a Royce Lindsay Plumbing, Heating, and Refrigeration Supply Company, etc. JD-(SF)-3-83
(where owner of individual proprietorship formed new business entities to replace individual proprietorship which had E-association agreement with U and thereby unlawfully sought to avoid ramification of U contract in order to compete with non-U companies, U's majority status in historically appropriate unit was presumed to continue since there was no showing that unit had changed)

2050-5000 Exclusive power of Board to determine

2050-5067 May be determined in ULP proceeding

Coll-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 013
(failure to recognize and bargain with U violative where E had duty to recognize U as of date U requested recognition; 100 percent of E's Ees had executed valid authorization cards)

2075 PROOF OF DESIGNATION

2075-0100 Generally

Carlina Knitting Co., Inc., et al. JD-321-80
(card signed after demand not to be counted)

2075-0167 Membership in union

Swanson-Nunn Electric Company 256 NLRB No. 131
(membership cards of Ees who signed them and who paid U dues and initiation fees valid and counted to show majority support; willingness of Ees to become members makes their adherence to U more binding)

2075-0175 Testimony of employees or union representative

Tarran Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 053
(lost card not counted since w/o card it cannot be determined if individual authorized U to represent him on any of the critical dates litigated)

2075-0700 Authorization cards

2075-0701 Generally

2075-6701—Cont.

United Supermarkets, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 179
(dispute over inclusion of certain Ee category in unit for purposes of determining U's card majority resolved by structuring unit in manner most favorable to GC by including in unit only 7 disputed Ees who had signed authorization cards, rather than all 32 disputed Ees who E claimed should be included; nevertheless, U was still found not to have a card majority)

Carlina Knitting Co., Inc., et al. JD-321-80
(card of Ee sent to seek employment with E in effort to organize plant should be counted and she should be included in unit, where there was no evidence that she took job solely to organize, that her job was only temporary or that she was not bona fide full-time Ee; she had same duties, worked same hours and earned same rate of pay as any other unit Ee)

2075-6717 Form of card

2075-6717-3300 Single purpose designation of representatives

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(refusing to recognize and bargain with U which achieved card majority violative, where, contrary to E's contention, contested cards were valid since U representative told Ees that cards were intended for collective bargaining which did not undercut pure phraseology on face of cards)

Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization 261 NLRB No. 132
(cards were valid where Ees were told that cards would be used by U to seek recognition)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(card counted, notwithstanding Ee's testimony that it was not his understanding that card was to apply for U membership, where solicitor's statement to Ee was not representation that election was card's sole purpose)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(unambiguous single purpose cards counted where signers were told signing would result in election or one purpose of card was to obtain election, but cards not counted where signers told only purpose of card was to obtain election, or that Ee had to sign card in order to vote in election)

2075-6717-6700 Dual purpose designation of representative and to obtain election

Advanced Mining Group, Div. of Republic Corp., Lucerne Facility 260 NLRB No. 073
(authorization cards signed by Ees allegedly because of misrepresentations by U solicitors that purpose of card was to get an election held to have been valid for purposes of determining U's majority status, since Ees voluntarily signed cards, understood that cards were in support of U, and language on cards was unambiguous)

2075-6733 Proof of validity

2075-6733-2000 Method of authentication

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(secondary evidence is sufficient to establish identity of card signer and his/her act of signing card; witness providing such secondary evidence need not have actually seen Ee sign card so long as he can identify the card as having been executed by signatory Ee)

2075-6733-2014 Testimony of solicitor

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(notwithstanding fact that 2 cards were destroyed by card solicitor after he was discharged, cards were counted on basis of testimony of solicitor)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 007
(where signer identified card and signature, fact that solicitor did not witness his signature does not invalidate card)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(although solicitor did not witness signing of Ee's card, solicitor's testimony that Ee delivered completed card to him indicates that Ee designated U)

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-65-82

Burlington Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 680 F.2d 974 (C.A. 4, June 1982)
(cards necessary for card majority found improperly solicited and not counted where solicitor, according to his own testimony, represented to Ees that cards would be used solely to obtain election)

2075-6733-2028 Testimony of signer

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(authorization card held valid even though Ee could not recall when he signed card and even volunteered that date was on a day different from date appearing on card; this did nothing to in any way change plain statement on card showing date prior to date of recognition request)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(convoluted testimony of U card signer as to when card was signed did not impugn authenticity of card where there was no showing by E that signature was induced by misrepresentation or coercion or other fraudulent methods)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(card counted which did not bear signer's signature, but rather her name printed, when submitted, where U later obtained her signature on another card and Ee testified and identified original card as hers)

Marcus J. Lawrence Memorial Hospital 249 NLRB No. 090
(validity upheld where Ee testified to signing and returning card to U, notwithstanding U either never received it or misplaced it)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 007
(where Ee identified card and signature fact that signature printed rather than written in script does not invalidate card)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 007
(where signer identified card and signature, fact that solicitor did not witness his signature does not invalidate card)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(Ee's card which was lost counted as valid designation of U when he testified he signed card and his name appeared on E's list of U supporters who had identified themselves as such to E; testimony of Ee is itself probative of U's majority status in circumstances where card has been misplaced)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(where Ee had signed second card after U's demand for recognition, his first card signed prior to U's demand counted as valid designation of U, even though such card was lost, where E testified that he signed card before demand date and his testimony was corroborated by other evidence)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(although misdated, card held valid where Ee credibly testified she signed card well before date of U's demand for recognition, and signer's name appeared on E's list of U supporters dated prior to U's demand)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(card questioned as to whether it was signed before U's demand for recognition not counted in view of signer's inconsistent testimony, fact that he did not know date, and GC's failure to call signer to elucidate matter)

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-65-82
(for cards to be considered valid it is not necessary for signee to identify signature where they are identified by other individuals who either witnessed signing or received cards from purported signer)

Guardian Industries Distribution Center, Inc. JD-(NY)-45-80
(Ee's signature found valid where, although Ee could not read the card, he testified that his brother-in-law, a card signer himself, read his card to him and that he signed it)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(contention that cards were invalid because Ees did not realize that they were signing dual purpose cards rejected, since language of card was unambiguous, and most Ees testified that they had read cards before signing)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(-Ee's thoughts (or afterthoughts) as to why (she) signed a U card, and what (she) thought that card meant, cannot negative the overt action of having signed card designating U as bargaining agent)

2075-6733-2042 Affidavit of signer

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)
(where signatures on W-4 form and authorization card different, Ee's affidavit explaining that he had authorized another Ee to sign his authorization card admissible since E was informed that affidavit would be used as soon as GC learned Ee would be unavailable to testify)

2075-6733-2056 Testimony of witness to signing

Onan, a Division of Onan Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187
(testimony of alleged witness to signing of card rendered incredible by discrepancy between testimony and witness' own affidavit, necessity of relying on leading questions for authentication, and fact that signer of card was not called as witness)

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 230 NLRB No. 016

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-65-82

J.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82
(witnesses to signing of cards competent to testify as to authenticity of cards)

Guardian Industries Distribution Center, Inc. JD-(NY)-45-80
(U authorization cards found valid where two card signers did not testify but U representative testified that he gave them U cards, and observed them read and sign these cards; authorization cards may be authenticate by the person who solicited its signer and observed him sign it)

2075-6733-2070 Signature comparisons

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(contention that handwriting expert's authentication of authorization card was invalid because he had no exemplar of Ee's signature in form it appeared on card with initial for first name, rejected, since expert used excellent exemplar in form of affidavit signed by Ee with first name spelled out, and expert testified he had sufficient points of similarity between signature on card and exemplar to satisfy him signature on card was genuine)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(fact that handwriting expert did not authenticate authorization card authenticated by Ee who signed it, thereby making his expertise suspect, does not affect reliability of his judgment regarding card in question and all other cards, since handwriting analysis efforts devoted to studying 37 cards are not necessarily open to question because expert was not shown to be infallible in 100% of all specimens studied, and it was to expert's credit professionally that he manifested objectivity rather then biased rigidity in face of E's strongly suggestive examination into card in question)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(E's contention that handwriting expert was impeached because he did not authenticate Ee's signature on authorization card which Ee later authenticated, rejected, since expert had been given wrong exemplar for analysis and he correctly stated that signatures were not authentic)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 084
(U authorization cards with signatures on W-4 forms)

Permanent Label Corporation 248 NLRB No. 021
(signature comparisons done by handwriting expert proper method of authenticating cards)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(card questioned as to date because assertedly bearing handwriting style of date different from that of telephone number on card held valid since writing sample taken at trial showed no significant difference from that of date on card)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(even though Ee's testimony and comparison of his signature on W-4 form as well as other documents left considerable doubt as to who signed card, card held valid where Ee's U activity and presence of his name on E's list of U supporters is convincing and reliable evidence of Ee's designation of U)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(card held invalid where there was some discrepancy between signature on Ee's card and her W-4 form, Ee's name did not appear on E's list of U supporters, and there was no other corroborating testimony from Ee)

Consumer Enterprises, Inc. JD-342-80
(card not counted where signature on card and signatures on W-2 form and payroll checks showed total lack of similarity)

2075-6733-2084 Due course delivery of card to union

Marcus J. Lawrence Memorial Hospital 249 NLRB No. 090
(notwithstanding Ee denies mailing card, validity upheld where U in possession and pretrial affidavit contains admission that Ee mailed card)

2075-6733-4000 Adequacy of card on its face

2075-6733-4017 Unsigned or missigned cards

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(E's contention that authorization cards were invalid either because of being filled in with pencil, indications of erasure attempts, or signatures improperly placed on card and not signed in normal uncramped fashion on signature line, rejected; cards in question were either authenticated by signer, signature was not contested by signer when called as E witness, and signature was authenticated by handwriting expert)

Pilgrim Life Insurance Company 249 NLRB No. 140
(card counted which did not bear signer's signature, but rather her name printed, when submitted, where U later obtained her signature on another card and Ee testified and identified original card as hers)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 097
(where Ee identified card and signature fact that signature printed rather than written in script does not invalidate card)

2075-6733-4033 Alterations

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(E's contention that authorization cards were invalid either because of being filled in with pencil, indications of erasure attempts, or signatures improperly placed on card and not signed in normal uncramped fashion on signature line, rejected; cards in question were either authenticated by signer, signature was not contested by signer when called as E witness, and signature was authenticated by handwriting expert)

2075-6733-4080 Undated or misdated cards

Zero Corporation, Zero East Division 262 NLRB No. 064
(E waived its right to contest authenticity of cards which, may have been dated at different times than they were signed, where it did not object to admission of cards into evidence during hearing but raised objections to authenticity in brief to ALJ)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(undated authorization card probably signed when bulk of cards were executed and received by Regional Office whose date stamp showed that latest date would be date of U's recognition demand, invalid, since date stamp did not indicate that card was not stale, and such limited factual question cannot be resolved by unsupported inference rather than by testimony of signer or recipient of card, evidence of which was lacking herein)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(contention that Ee's authorization card was not valid because it contained no exact date, rejected, since card showed month and year for applicable period with some what uncertain figure for the day)

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(authorization card held valid even though Ee could not recall when he signed card and even volunteered that date was on a day different from date appearing on card; this did nothing to in any way change plain statement on card showing date prior to date of recognition request)

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045
(correction of misdated card's date found not to destroy card's validity)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 020
(fact card undated does not destroy its validity. Collateral evidence may be relied upon to establish when undated card was signed and such evidence may include officially noticed Regional Office time and date stamps if card was submitted to Bd in support of R ptn)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 097
(card dated 1 day earlier than its actual execution found valid where otherwise properly authenticated as such minor variances do not affect validity of card)

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112
(card dated one month after date when U was alleged to have had majority status shown to have been misdated one month later than date when actually signed)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(although misdated, card held valid where Ee credibly testified she signed card well before date of U's demand for recognition, and signer's name appeared on E's list of U supporters dated prior to U's demand)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(card questioned as to date because assertedly bearing handwriting style of date different from that of telephone number on card held valid since writing sample taken at trial showed no significant difference from that of date on card)

2075-6733-4099 Cards dated subsequent to date of request

Greyhound Food Management, Inc. d/b/a Burger King 258 NLRB No. 178
(authorization card held not invalid even though it showed signing date 2 days after Regional Office date-stamped its receipt; in deciding whether bargaining order based upon 8(a)(1) violations should be issued, it is irrelevant whether or not a demand was even made, it is common experience for Ees to misdate card, and month and year appearing on card coincided with month and year appearing on all cards)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 084
(Regional Office's stamped date of receipt on reverse side of U authorization cards w/o more, establishes that card was signed prior to date indicated by stamp)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 084
(U authorization card signed on date subsequent to GC's self-imposed termination date)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 044
(card questioned as to whether it was signed before U's demand for recognition not counted in view of signer's inconsistent testimony, fact that he did not know date, and GC's failure to call signer to elucidate matter)

2075-6733-4067 Language of card

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 080
(authorization cards held valid where Ees told purpose of card signature solicitation was to get election since Ees were not told obtaining election was only purpose of card signature solicitation, and unambiguous language of card authorized U as Ee's bargaining representative)

2075-6733-4067—Cont.

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(where purpose of card is set forth on its face in unambiguous language, Bd will not in absence of misrepresentation inquire into subjective motives of signer to determine signer's intent; statements made to signers by solicitors that purpose of card is to get election, or that it is for U to come in, did not constitute misrepresentations since one purpose for which card may be used is to support R pts; only where there is deliberate effort on part of card solicitor to induce prospective signer to ignore express language of card and by telling him sole purpose of card is to get election should card be invalidated)

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073
(unambiguous single purpose cards counted where signers were told signing would result in election or one purpose of card was to obtain election, but cards not counted where signers told only purpose of card was to obtain election, or that Ee had to sign card in order to vote in election)

Bel-Air Bowl, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 003
(cards which clearly and concisely stated that signer wanted U, held valid)

J.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82
(signed authorization cards held valid, where cards contained words application for membership in large letters at top and in smaller letter statement that signatory voluntarily designates U as his/her representative for bargaining and solicitor said it was application for membership in Masonic lodge, absent evidence Ee incapable of reading card or was mislead as to what he/she was joining; since Ees will be bound by clear language of card, unless it can be shown that solicitor clearly sought to have individual executing card disregard clear language of card)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(authorization cards which clearly and unequivocally on their face authorized U to represent Ees not invalidated by U's representative's explanation of Bd's requirements for election, nor would his informing Ees that he could not file pts w/o signatures of 80% of Ees invalidated cards since he was merely stating his personal opinion or internal U rule designed to improve chance of success of campaign)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)
(contention that cards were invalid because Ees did not realize that they were signing dual purpose cards rejected, since language of card was unambiguous, and most Ees testified that they had read cards before signing)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)
(U card which states on its face that signer authorizes U to represent Ee for collective bargaining purposes, and not merely to seek an election, will be counted unless E can show that unambiguous language on card has been deliberately and clearly canceled by U adherent to direct signer to disregard and forget language above his signature; ct will look to totality of circumstances surrounding card solicitation)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 664 F.2d 1074 (C.A. 7, Nov. 1981)
(where terms on card are unambiguous, it must be counted unless U adherent deliberately and clearly cancels meaning)

2075-6733-4083 Other

Ona, a Division of Ona Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187
(numerous cards to which E objected because of testimony about manner of solicitation or authentication found valid where valid on their face, and no testimony was introduced to show that clear statement on card should be disregarded)

Ona, a Division of Ona Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187
(card valid on its face held valid notwithstanding signer's testimony that she just took card to get solicitor off her back, since examination of signer's mental process in deciding to sign was deberred, and card was valid even in absence of evidence that signer read it)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(notwithstanding that departmental designation was erroneous, and there were unaccounted for erasures on card, U card was valid absent some contradictory evidence that Ee's card bore forged signature or that purpose of card was misrepresented)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(Regional Office's stamped date of receipt on reverse side of U authorization cards w/o more, establishes that card was signed prior to date indicated by stamp)

2075-6733-6000 Failure to challenge after examination

N.L.R.B. v. Lyon & Ryan Ford, Inc. 647 F.2d 745 (C.A. 7, Apr 1981)
(E's request for federal election after voluntarily recognizing U based on E's examination of authorization cards signed by majority of Ees and subsequently negotiating over terms of proposed contract, violative; contrary to E's contention, agreement was reached on appropriate bargaining unit where parties had agreed on definition of unit)

2075-6733-9000 Unrevoked authorizations

Consumer Enterprises, Inc. JD-342-80
(card not revoked where Ee failed to notify U for revocation of card prior to U's request for recognition)

2075-6733-9050 Employer engaged in ULPs

Warehouse Groceries Management, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 021
(Ee's attempt to revoke authorization card found ineffective since E was already engaged in coercive conduct designed to undermine U support which raises presumption that revocation resulted from E's unlawful conduct)

2075-6733-9500 Untimely revocation/withdrawal of card

Alumbaugh Coal Corporation 247 NLRB No. 112
(Ees' request for revocation of his card dated day after U had majority status did not affect majority status on prior date)

2075-6767 Circumstances impeaching validity of cards

2075-6767-0100 Generally

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(revocations of authorization cards not recognized where occurred after E's program of ULPs began)

2075-6767-0150 Testimony of employees as to subjective intent of own designation not admissible

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(E's contention that where Ees were of low educational level GC could not rely on presumption which normally flows from E's authenticated signature on card to establish clear intent of authorization, but rather GC has burden of proving that each Ee who executed card clearly understood significance of document and intended to authorize U to represent him, rejected)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(where purpose of card is set forth on its face in unambiguous language, Bd will not in absence of misrepresentation inquire into subjective motives of signer to determine signer's intent; statements made to signers by solicitors that purpose of card is to get election, or that it is for U to come in, did not constitute misrepresentations since one purpose for which card may be used is to support R pts; only where there is deliberate effort on part of card solicitor to induce prospective signer to ignore express language of card and by telling him sole purpose of card is to get election should card be invalidated)

Carlina Knitting Co., Inc., et al. JD-331-80
(subjective testimony adduced at hearing held unreliable and does not prove that Ees, when they signed card, did not want U, or that they were tricked into signing cards)

Tipton Electric Company and Professional Furniture Company v. N.L.R.B. 621 F.2d 890 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(-Ee's thoughts (or afterthoughts) as to why (she) signed a U card, and what (she) thought that card meant, cannot negative the overt action of having signed card designating U as bargaining agent)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)

2075-6767-0800 Misrepresentation in solicitation

Washington Beef Producers, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 155
(refusing to recognize and bargain with U which achieved card majority violative, where, contrary to E's contention, contested cards were valid since U representative told Ees that cards were intended for collective bargaining which did not undercut pure phraseology on face of cards)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(notwithstanding that departmental designation was erroneous, and there were unaccounted for erasures on card, U card was valid absent some contradictory evidence that Ee's card bore forged signature or that purpose of card was misrepresented)

Gordonsville, Industries, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 054
(convoluted testimony of U card signer as to when card was signed did not impugn authenticity of card where there was no showing by E that signature was induced by misrepresentation or coercion or other fraudulent methods)

N.L.R.B. v. Hitchiner Manufacturing Company 634 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(validity of signed authorization cards upheld notwithstanding contention Ees advised that cards needed to secure election and, therefore, did not indicate support for U, since card stated that Ee authorizes U to represent him in collective bargaining and so card presumptively counts as indicating support of U absent misrepresentation to signer to disregard language above his signature)

2075-6767-0814 For election only

Windsor Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 148
(E's contention that Ees' cards should be invalidated because of alleged misrepresentation by U business representative rejected, since cards were signed before any alleged misrepresentation was made and Ees clearly expressed interest in U prior to U business representatives' comments about election, his comments did not negate clear and unambiguous statements on cards that signers authorize U to represent them, and he did not direct Ees to disregard clear language on cards, nor did he assure them that cards would be used for no purpose other than to get election)

2075-6767-0814—Cont.

Schnadig Corporation 266 NLRB No. 020

(authorization cards held valid where Ees told purpose of card signature solicitation was to get election since Ees were not told obtaining election was only purpose of card signature solicitation, and unambiguous language of card authorized U as Ee's bargaining representative)

Granite City Journal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 140

(cards signed by Ees who claimed not to have read them before signing in belief or on assurance of U proponents that cards were to be used to seek election, not invalid, where U agent explained purpose of cards which were clear and unambiguous on their face; and Ees, whose work required degree of literateness, would not be likely to ignore or fail to appreciate content of cards they were signing)

Onan, a Division of Ona Corporation 261 NLRB No. 187

(solicitor's reference to possibility of election found by itself not to invalidate card)

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 108

(E's contention cards invalid since Ee's believed signing cards only for purpose of obtaining election, rejected, where cards single purpose cards, unambiguously stating signer designated U as his/her bargaining representative; although solicitor may have stated to Ees in substance that cards would be used by U to support ptn for election, he said nothing that was calculated to direct Ees to disregard and forget equally clear language of cards, so as to deliberately or clearly cancel single purpose authorization support which U was seeking from them)

Penn Color, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 058

(Ees signing a simple and clear statement designating U as their chosen representative must be taken as meaning import of such language; it is only when later testimony convincingly proves Ee was told the only reason for signing card, despite what is written on it, is to bring about an election, that the card can be ignored in the majority count)

Stants and Stants, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 105

(Ees not told that this was only purpose of cards; cards were valid)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 062

(card valid, notwithstanding that month before being solicited, Ee was told by U representative that only purpose of cards was to get election and at hearing Ee testified that he did not read card given him prior to signing because it was unnecessary to do so as U representative had stated it was only for election, where circumstances surrounding actual solicitation of card revealed that no representations concerning card's use were made, Ee was told to read card and Ee's subjective intent in signing card w/o reading it is of no weight in determining purpose for which card was signed)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023

Stanley M. Feil, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 065

(card not counted where Ee informed it was to be used only to achieve election and that sole purpose of card was to get election; however, another card subsequently signed by same Ee counted where signed at time U officials present and no statements made that cards for sole purpose of obtaining election)

Amber Delivery Service, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 016

(statement that purpose of card is to make election possible is insufficient to render invalid unambiguously worded card)

Marcus J. Lawrence Memorial Hospital 249 NLRB No. 090

C & W Mining Co., Inc. and/or C. & W Hauling Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 030

(where most of Ees who signed cards participated in picketing is manifestation of their support for U and refutes charge that U told them signing card was only for purpose of election)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 007

(where language on card is unambiguous and provides that signer authorizes U to represent him, fact that solicitor alluded to use of card in obtaining election not enough to impeach validity of card because Ees were in no way directed to disregard express language on cards or otherwise assured that cards would only be used for purpose of getting election)

Tarten Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 073

(unambiguous single purpose cards counted where signers were told signing would result in election or one purpose of card was to obtain election, but cards not counted where signers told only purpose of card was to obtain election, or that Ee had to sign card in order to vote in election)

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-68-82

(cards are presumed valid absent specific evidence that signers were informed that sole purpose of cards was to get election)

Formaloy Corp. JD-(ATL)-67-81

(authorization card obtained because of solicitor's misrepresentation that card's purpose was only to obtain election, not counted in determining majority status of U)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(Ee's testimony on cross-examination that he thought ptn for U recognition would be given to plant manager because that was the only way election would be held and that U solicitor told him that ptn would be used only for an election held not to have invalidated his signature, where on redirect examination he testified it was his understanding that ptn was to show that workers wanted to be U)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(signature of Ees on ptn for U representation valid where they read ptn before signing it and did not recall any conversation about an election)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(Ees' signatures on ptn for U representation valid where Ees either did not read ptn, only read it up to a point, or had it read aloud, but they know that they were signing ptn for U to represent Ees)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(Ee's signature on ptn for U representation valid where, although on cross-examination he testified that U solicitor told him the only purpose of ptn was for an election, on redirect examination he testified that ptn was for an election, and that no one told him it was only for that purpose)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(Ee's signature on ptn for U representation valid where he testified that he read ptn before signing it, that ptn was read aloud, and that U representative told assembled Ees that those who signed ptn agreed to have U as their representative)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(Ee's signature on ptn for U representation valid where Ee testified that ptn was read to him, that an election was brought up, that U solicitor asked Ees to sign ptn if they wanted to have U represent them, and that, since he wanted U representation, he signed ptn)

J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc. JD-131-81

(Ee's signature on ptn for U representation valid where he testified that he read ptn before signing it, that ptn was to be shown to management, and that signers of ptn wanted to be represented by U)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80

(authorization cards which clearly and unequivocally on their face authorized U to represent Ees not invalidated by U's representative's explanation of Bd's requirements for election, nor would his informing Ees that he could not file ptn w/o signatures of 80% of Ees invalidated cards since he was merely stating his personal opinion or internal U rule designed to improve chance of success of campaign)

N.L.R.B. v. Keystone Pretzel Bakery, Inc. 674 F.2d 197 (C.A. 3, Apr. 1982)

(substantial evidence supported ALJ's conclusion that cards were invalid, and Bd's determination to contrary could not stand, where U agent told Ees he solicited that purpose of card was to get federal election into plant for purpose of negotiating contract and Ees were unaware of any differences between what they were told and what was on card)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 291 (C.A. 7, Dec. 1981)

(U card which states on its face that signer authorizes U to represent Ee for collective bargaining purposes, and not merely to seek an election, will be counted unless E can show that unambiguous language on card has been deliberately and clearly canceled by U adherent to direct signer to disregard and forget language above his signature; ct will look to totality of circumstances surrounding card solicitation)

L'Eggs Products, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 619 F.2d 1337 (C.A. 9, 1980)

(U's statement that cards would be presented to E to show Ees wished to be represented by U and if majority of Ees signed cards, there would be an election not statement that card was to be used solely to get an election)

N.L.R.B. v. Willow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 666 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)

(cards valid where no evidence that Ees were told cards would be used solely to gain election)

2075-6767-0828 Dual purpose cards

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 654 F.2d 944 (C.A. 4, 1981)

(contention that cards were invalid because Ees did not realize that they were signing dual purpose cards rejected, since language of card was unambiguous, and most Ees testified that they had read cards before signing)

2075-6767-0842 Ambiguous statement

De Queen General Hospital 264 NLRB No. 069

(telling Ee that purpose of card was to find out more about U, not misrepresentation)

2075-6767-0842—Cont.

Comet Corporation 261 NLRB No. 188
(E's contention cards invalid since Ee's believed signing cards only for purpose of obtaining election, rejected, where cards single purpose cards, unambiguously stating signer designated U as his/her bargaining representative; although solicitor may have stated to Ees in substance that cards would be used by U to support ptn for election, he said nothing that was calculated to direct Ees to disregard and forget equally clear language of cards, so as to deliberately or clearly cancel single purpose authorization support which U was seeking from them)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(statement to Ee that signing card did not mean he was joining U but just to get U representative to explain purpose of U at meeting not sufficient to cancel unambiguous language on card which Ee read)

N.L.R.B. v. Hitchiner Manufacturing Company 634 F.2d 1110 (C.A. 8, 1980)
(validity of signed authorization cards upheld notwithstanding contention Ees advised that cards needed to secure election and, therefore, did not indicate support for U, since card stated that Ee authorizes U to represent him in collective bargaining and so card presumptively counts as indicating support of U absent misrepresentation to signer to disregard language above his signature)

N.L.R.B. v. Steven Davis and Michael Provenzano, d/b/a Carlton's Market 642 F.2d 390 (C.A. 9, Apr 20, 1981)
(contention that purpose of authorization cards was misrepresented to signers, rejected, since cards were unambiguous and sufficient number were properly signed to obtain majority)

2075-6767-0886 Majority of employees already signed

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 078
(solicitor's statement, Everyone is going to sign found expression of hope rather than misrepresentation of fact impeaching card's validity)

Ed Chandler Ford, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 082
(telling Ee that everyone else had already signed cards , insufficient to invalidate clear and unequivocal designation card signed by Ee)

Chester Valley, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 190
(card signed by Ee who was told that everybody else had signed cards and that Ee was last to sign, while in fact 28 or 29 of 32 Ees had signed card, held valid)

N.L.R.B. v. Sanford Home For Adults 669 F.2d 35 (C.A. 2, Dec. 1981)
(Bd did not err in finding that Ee's U membership card was invalid because he was coerced into signing card, where U organizer, temporarily employed by E, solicited Ee to become U member, and management official told Ee that everyone had joined U and that anyone else who had not signed would be thrown out)

2075-6767-0884 Other

Gardnerville, Industries, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 084
(convoluted testimony of U card signer as to when card was signed did not impugn authenticity of card where there was no showing by E that signature was induced by misrepresentation or coercion or other fraudulent methods)

I.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82
(signed authorization cards held valid, where cards contained words application for membership in large letters at top and in smaller letter statement that signatory voluntarily designates U as his/her representative for bargaining and solicitor said it was application for membership in Masonic lodge, absent evidence Ee incapable of reading card or was mislead as to what he/she was joining; since Ees will be bound by clear language of card, unless it can be shown that solicitor clearly sought to have individual executing card disregard clear language of card)

Consumer Enterprises, Inc. JD-342-80
(no misrepresentation where statements made by U representative did not contradict message of card; Ee was clearly told that purpose of card was for U to take up fight with management for salary benefits)

Mooney Stores, Inc., d/b/a Kermit Super Valu v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 328 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1980)
(cards invalid where U organizer represented to Ees that contract covering E's other stores included after acquired clause which would apply to new store if majority of Ees at new store signed authorization cards and that Ees at new store would then be subject to security clause of contract, since organizer did more than explain consequences of unionization resulting in agreement containing security clause, and pursuant to district ct order parties had submitted question of whether contract covered Ees at new store to arbitrator who ruled that agreement not intended to apply to after acquired facilities)

2075-6767-1600 Coercion in solicitation

Gardnerville, Industries, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 084

N.L.R.B. v. Sanford Home For Adults 669 F.2d 35 (C.A. 2, Dec. 1981)
(Bd did not err in finding that Ee's U membership card was invalid because he was coerced into signing card, where U organizer, temporarily employed by E, solicited Ee to become U member, and management official told Ee that everyone had joined U and that anyone else who had not signed would be thrown out)

2075-6767-1617 Waiver of reduction of fees

Paul Distributing Co., Inc. 264 NLRB No. 179
(authorization card of Ee, who, even though went to U hall with objective of signing authorization card, but specifically asked U representative before he signed if his fee would be waived and on response by U representative that it would be waived for this group of Ees who came to U hall, singed, card held invalid as waiver was material factor in his decision to sign)

Chef's Pantry, Inc. 267 NLRB No. 018
where there is no prima facie showing of limited waiver of initiation fees, there is no requirement on GC to affirmatively prove universal waiver, before or after election)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(U's accepting authorization cards during organizing campaign w/o requesting initiation fees and in one case w/o requiring monthly dues did not invalidate cards where such arrangements only temporary)

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(authorization cards not invalidated by statements that initiation fees would be $25 if card signed now but would be $50 if signed after U won election where statements were made by rank-and-file Ees absent evidence U initiated, adopted, condoned or was even aware of statements)

N.L.R.B. v. Mike Yurosek & Sons, Inc. 597 F.2d 661 (C.A. 9, 1979)
(statement that any reduction in initiation fees would be available to all those signing authorization cards prior to execution of contract, lawful)

N.L.R.B. v. Wilhow Corporation, d/b/a Town and Country Supermarkets 646 F.2d 1294 (C.A. 10, Dec. 1981)

2075-6767-1633 Threats of job loss or other reprisal

Sav-On Drugs, Inc. JD-(SF)-214-81
(threats of loss of employment if Ees did not join particular U are ULPs sufficient to taint particular U's claimed majority status on basis of signed authorization cards)

2075-6767-2300 Inducements or promises in solicitation

Windsor Industries, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 145
(E's contention that cards solicited by U business representative should be invalidated because of his alleged misrepresentation as to benefits Ees would receive solely because U came in, rejected because comments revealed no promise of gifts or benefits to be granted by U but merely explanation of what U representative felt would occur if plant became unionized and if contract was signed with E)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(authorization cards of assisted U no basis for claiming majority support where cards solicited and obtained by management after certain inducements granted to solicited Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 624 F.2d 89 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(Ee's statement that U representative told her to sign authorization card right away because if she did she would not have to pay any initiation fee was prima facie proof of illegal fee waiver offer; E should have evidentiary hearing on issue)

2075-6767-3300 Capacity of signer

Schnadig Corporation 266 NLRB No. 030
(testimony of specialist in reading education as to level of difficulty of wording on authorization card, irrelevant, since has no practical application insofar as predicting whether individual Ees during organizing campaign would understand, upon reading and signing card, that they were authorizing U to represent them)

National King Coal, Inc. JD-(SF)-24-81
(card signed by Ee valid notwithstanding Ee was intoxicated when he signed where he had read and understood card prior to signing)

2075-6767-3317 Inability to read or write

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 045
(card valid notwithstanding Ee had his wife sign and complete it, since his effort to complete and return card indicated he knew what was being signed for him and intended that it be signed)

Jeffrey Manufacturing Division, Dresser Industries, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 087
(where wife of illiterate Ee read card to him and signed it upon his direction, card valid as purpose adequately communicated)

2075-6767-3317—Cont.

Gary Concrete Products, Inc. JD-(ATL)-49-82
(does not invalidate card when signer informed card was to get a U)

2075-6767-3300 Mental incapacity

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(E's contention that where Ees were of low educational level GC could not rely on presumption which normally flows from E's authenticated signature on card to establish clear intent of authorization, but rather GC has burden of proving that each Ee who executed card clearly understood significance of document and intended to authorize U to represent him, rejected)

2075-6767-4300 Solicitation by supervisors and/or management personnel

Granite City Journal, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 149
(cards signed by Ees in presence of supervisors, not invalid, since limited supervisory involvement in organizational activity is insufficient to vitiate validity of U's card majority unless there is a showing, not present herein, of substantial supervisory intervention designed to intimidate those who sign)

Parker-Robb Chevrolet, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 058
(contention that supervisors influenced majority of Ees to execute authorization cards in belief E favored their doing so, rejected, since supervisors were not instrumental in U's securing majority status but, rather, Ee was prime mover in U's successful organizational effort; moreover, supervisors' participation in U campaign was minimal and even negative, and Ees were openly advised at U meeting that supervisors were not eligible nor included w/i U's representational ambit)

Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc. d/b/a Mello Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 260 NLRB No. 001
(supervisor's asking Ee to sign U card did not taint cards as supervisor and son also signed cards and Ees had no cause to believe that supervisor would retaliate; therefore Ees were not deprived of their free choice in selecting bargaining representative)

Le Mouse, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 097
(supervisor's passing out cards to Ees and telling them that new cards were needed because U's name on first set was not complete not sufficient involvement to invalidate authorization cards)

Fenton Towing Corporation 258 NLRB No. 113
(no merit to tainted cards argument where although supervisor was present at time Ees signed U cards and also signed card himself, there was no allegation or proof that he solicited Ees to sign cards or that Ees were coercively induced to designate U through fear of supervisory retaliation)

Lyman Steel Company 249 NLRB No. 040
(authorization cards of assisted U no basis for claiming majority support where cards solicited and obtained by management after certain inducements granted to solicited Ees)

J.J. Newberry Co., A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of McCrory Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 645 F.2d 148 (C.A. 2, Mar 21, 1981)
(U's card majority held not tainted by supervisory solicitation where Bd's determination that experienced Ee involved did not possess supervisory indicia and its characterization of another Ee as a nonsupervisory leadman was a fair interpretation of facts; and Bd's findings with respect to supervisory determinations are entitled to special weight in light of its expertise in this area)

N.L.R.B. v. Wehrenberg Theatres, Inc., d/b/a Mello Theatre and Skyvue Drive-In 690 F.2d 159 (C.A. 8, Oct. 1982)
(supervisory support for U will invalidate U's majority only when supervisor's activities cause Ees to believe that they are acting on behalf of E and that E favors U or else lead Ees to support U because they fear future retaliation; here no showing that Ees believed supervisor was acting for E or that E favored U and no evidence that supervisor coerced or induced Ees to sign authorization cards)

2075-6767-6000 Multiple authorizations

N.L.R.B. v. Unit Train Coal Sales, Inc. 636 F.2d 1121 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(E's recognition of U not violative since U was validly designated as majority representative of the six unit Ees, of whom five had signed authorization cards for the U, nowithstanding contention that two of such five Ees had signed cards for another U while employed by E's predecessor, where dual card signers implicitly demonstrated repudiation of first cards by individually participating along with other members of unit in negotiating and signing agreement between E and U)

2075-6767-6600 Purported withdrawal of card

Marcus J. Lawrence Memorial Hospital 249 NLRB No. 069
(Ee's attempt to withdraw valid authorization card ineffective where revocation came after Ee attended meeting at which E made unlawful threats as E cannot derive benefit from its unlawful conduct)

2075-6767-7000 Nonmembership or nonpayment of dues and fees to designated union

N.L.R.B. v. Masonic Homes of California, Inc. 634 F.2d 98 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(Ee's statement that U representative told her to sign authorization card right away because if she did she would not have to pay any initiation fee was prima facie proof of illegal fee waiver offer; E should have evidentiary hearing on issue)

2075-6775 Lost or misplaced cards

Tartan Marine Company 247 NLRB No. 070
(lost card not counted since w/o card it cannot be determined if individual authorized U to represent him on any of the critical dates litigated)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 066
(Ee's card which was lost counted as valid designation of U when he testified he signed card and his name appeared on E's list of U supporters who had identified themselves as such to E; testimony of Ee is itself probative of U's majority status in circumstances where card has been misplaced)

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 066
(where Ee had signed second card after U's demand for recognition, his first card signed prior to U's demand counted as valid designation of U, even though such card was lost, where E testified that he signed card before demand date and his testimoney was corroborated by other evidence)

2075-6784 Designation of merged union

J. P. Stevens and Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 066
(consolidated U's use of authorization cards designating pre-merger U held not improper, where Ees were well-informed concerning merger and it must be inferred such fact was generally known among Ees, no card signers asked for return of their cards, Ees were not misled as to which U they wanted to represent them, and merger contemplated continuation of pre-merger U under new and different name)

2075-6785 Designation of international rather than local

CAM Industries, Inc. (Millmen-Industrial Carpenters Local 262) 251 NLRB No. 006
(E's refusal to bargain with U after card check established majority status violative notwithstanding authorization cards designated only International, for Bd has long held that such card serves as valid designation of affiliate when there was no confusion as to identity of potential representative in minds of signers)

N.L.R.B. v. Cam Industries, Inc. 666 F.2d 411 (C.A. 9, Jan. 1982)
(E's refusal to bargain with local U after third party verified U's majority status, from cards containing name only of International, violative, where local business manager solicited cards, Local was only appropriate representative and Ees did not intend other representation; rebuttable presumption allows affiliate to act when cards designate parent organization)

3000 EMPLOYER OBLIGATION TO RECOGNIZE ON REQUEST

3001 GENERALLY

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's refusal to bargain with U which had card majority, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention cards tainted by U's alleged representation that sole purpose of cards was for election and U's offers of waiver or reduction of fees to Ees who signed cards before election)

3033 EMPLOYER RESPONSE TO REQUEST

The Exchange Bank 264 NLRB No. 111
(E's refusal to recognize and bargain with U at time when it knew U had support of majority of its Ees and in furtherance of its design to defeat Ees' organizational efforts, violative)

Iowa Electric Light & Power Company 264 NLRB No. 021
(explicit refusal to bargain—made in order to test (U's) certification—is considered continuing refusal to bargain)

Checker Cab Company of Virginia, Inc., d/b/a Axis Rent-A-Car 260 NLRB No. 115
(violation where E refused U's bargaining request in unit in which U represented majority and thereafter engaged in flagrant ULPs including discharges, transfers to night shift, reduced working hours, threat of plant closure, interrogation, creating impression of surveillance, withhold monetary prize awards and insurance sales commissions)

M. A. Harrison Manufacturing Company, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 071

Precision Graphics, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 067
(E's refusal to recognize U, unlawful, where E declined to do so after receiving request for recognition from U having card majority designation, and then commenced and continued its course of illegal conduct)

The Arundel Corporation 262 NLRB No. 069
(E's refusal of charging U's request to recognize it as representative of portion of unit at new operation at which E had assertedly precipitously recognized another U, not unlawful, where there was no unlawful intent, no logical basis exists for assuming that matter was rigged so as to exclude charging U since only 2 or 3 of 15 Ees would have been represented by it, and there was no contention raised based on Midwest Piping doctrine or on recognition of contracting U before E had representative complement in its employ)

3033—Cont.

The Arundel Corporation 282 NLRB No. 009
(E's refusal of charging U's request to recognize it as representative of portion of unit at new operation at which E had recognized another U held not unlawful, where Ees sought by U were located substantial distance from other Ees covered by charging U's contract, they had no contact with such Ees, were employed in work situation in which their supervisor had considerable control over day-to-day personnel policies and employment, and they never expressed preference to be recognized by charging U rather than recognized U)

Massey Stores, Inc., d/b/a Kermit Super Valu v. N.L.R.B. 631 F.2d 336 (C.A. 4, Oct. 1980)
(E's refusal to recognize U on basis of card majority, not unlawful, since cards invalid where U organizer represented to Ees that contract covering E's other stores included after acquired clause which would apply to new store if majority of Ees at new store signed authorization cards and that Ees at new store would then be subject to security clause of contract, since organizer did more than explain consequences of unionization resulting in agreement containing security clause, and arbitrator ruled that contract did not apply to after acquired facilities)

3067 MAY DECLINE TO RECOGNIZE WITHOUT ELECTION

3067-1500 Unless right to election is waived

Lion Trucking Corporation JD-(NY)-66-82
(E's refusal to recognize U on showing of card majority, unlawful, where U's representative offered to show E's manager signed U autorization cards on condition E would recognize U if U's majority proven, and E's manager had agreed to recognize U if U's majority status proven by authorization cards)

3067-2000 Unless engaged in ULP precluding fair election

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(E's refusal to bargain with U that had care majority, notwithstanding E's asserted doubts about authenticity of authorization cards, unlawful, where E committed many and flagrant ULPs and any uncertainty E may have had about obligation to bargain after election was of its own making)

Arthur Briggs, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 038
(violation, where E refused to recognize U which had majority and subsequently committed various ULP's which resulted in election being set aside and issuance of bargaining order)

Larid Printing, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 049

Coil-Acc, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 012
(bargaining order, based on U's majority status as indicated by authorization cards, appropriate where E's ULPs tended to undermine U's majority strength and impede election process)

Scott Glass Products, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 129

Heads and Threads Company, a Division of MSL Industries, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 118

S.M.C. Rest. Corp. d/b/a Poletti's Restaurant 261 NLRB No. 051
(violation, where E upon demand for recognition by U refused to recognize and bargain and commenced upon course of ULPs including unlawful interrogation, promises of benefits in return for signing anti-U pin, unilateral granting of wage increases, discontinuance of benefits, threat of closure, layoff and closure w/o warning to Ees, and discharge of U adherent)

Pennant Towing Corporation 259 NLRB No. 113
(E's conduct violated Sec. 8(a)(5) under Gissel and Trading Port since E engaged in misconduct violative not only of Sec. 8(a)(1) and (3), but also of Sec. 8(a)(5))

Standard-Coosa-Thatcher, Carpet Yarn Division, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 048

Pace Oldsmobile, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 111

Samuel J. Wade, an Individual d/b/a Major Cab Company 255 NLRB No. 191
(refusal to recognize and bargain with U as duly designated majority representative of Ees while simultaneously engaging in ULPs which serve to undermine U's majority status, violative)

Sunion Care, Inc. d/b/a Parkview Acres Convalescent Center 255 NLRB No. 149
(refusal to recognize and bargain with U upon request, violative, where E engaged in unlawful conduct that undermined U's majority status and subverted Bd's election process)

Embro Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 070
(refusal to recognize and bargain with U, and thereafter engaging in unlawful conduct designed to erode Ee support for U, and thereby preventing holding of fair second election, unlawful)

Justak Brothers and Company, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 146
(E's refusal to recognize U upon demand, unlawful where U had achieved card majority)

Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc. 253 NLRB No. 023
(E's refusal to recognize and bargain with U which had card majority upon U's demand for recognition, unlawful, where refusal followed by commission of ULPs by E, particularly wage increases and attempts to redress greivances)

United Services For The Handicapped 251 NLRB No. 117
(U card majority rather than election provides more reliable test of Ees' R desires where E's ULPs precluded holding of fair election)

Brooks Cameras, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 116

Transitank Car Corporation JD-(ATL)-8-82

Guardian Industries Distribution Center, Inc. JD-(NY)-48-80
(no violation where E was found not to have committed ULPs alleged or other violations when it did not respond to U's demand for recognition)

N.L.R.B. v. Permanent Label Corporation 657 F.2d 512 (C.A. 3, 1981)
(E's refusal to bargain with U and instead engaging in ULPs which undermined U's majority)

N.L.R.B. v. Dadco Fashions, Inc. 632 F.2d 493 (C.A. 5, Dec. 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Berger Transfer & Storage Co. 678 F.2d 679 (C.A. 7, May 1982)
(when U requests recognition and bargaining from E which has been presented with cards showing majority support for U and E subsequently engages in ULPs which destroy laboratory conditions needed for fair election, E forfeits right to election and must bargain with U or violate Section 8(a)(5) of Act. Whether or not U maintains majority status is irrelevant to such a violation finding)

Robert J. Wilson, RD v. Liberty Homes, Inc. 664 F.2d 620 (C.A. 7, Oct. 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Bolsa Drainage, Inc. 639 F.2d 788(T) (C.A. 9, 1981)

3067-3700 Where not engaged in ULP precluding fair election

Garvey & Co., Inc. 261 NLRB No. 074
(withholding of recognition of U with card majority, not violative where wage increase and discharges alleged as ULPs rendering fair election impossible were found to be economically motivated and not unlawful)

The Long Island Radio Company d/b/a All Shore Radio Corp. JD-(NY)-71-81

Service Employees International Union, Local 250, AFL-CIO v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 930 (C.A.D.C., 1979)
(no obligation on E to bargain where only ULP charge dismissed and no election held)

3067-5000 Unless having independent knowledge of union majority

Gregory Chevrolet, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 034
(where E examined cards indicating U majority and with U's consent held Ee meeting to satisfy himself that Ees had not been conned into signing cards, E's refusal to bargain w/o election held violative as E may not disclaim results of that meeting)

Phelps Cement Products, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 094
(withdrawing recognition from and refusing to bargain with U which had authorization cards from majority of Ees in appropriate unit held violative where credited testimony demonstrated E had recognized U for agreed upon unit)

English Brothers Pattern and Foundry 253 NLRB No. 087
(where U made demand for recognition and E polled Ees, discovering majority support for U, never indicated any doubt as to majority status, never asked for election, it is bound by results of poll and failure to bargain violative)

Lion Trucking Corporation JD-(NY)-66-82
(E's refusal to recognize U on showing of card majority, unlawful, where U's representative offered to show E's manager signed U autorization cards on condition E would recognize U if U's majority proven, and E's manager had agreed to recognize U if U's majority status proven by authorization cards)

J.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82
(E had obligation to bargain where E agreed to meet and bargain with U if U could substantiate its claims to majority status, U presented to E authorization cards from majority of Ees in unit and E admitted names on cards were those of its Ees, and absent evidence E questioned authenticity of cards during meeting, since although generally E does not have to accept any method other than election to determine majority status of U, when E agrees to alternative method for establishing U majority and U demonstrates it represents majority of Ees, bargaining obligation exists)

3067-5000—Cont.

Hart Ski Mfg. Co., Inc. JD-11-80
(E's refusal to bargain with U which had card majority, unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention cards tainted by U's alleged representation that sole purpose of cards was for election and U's offers of waiver or reduction of fees to Ees who signed cards before election)

N.L.R.B. v. Lyon & Ryan Ford, Inc. 647 F.2d 745 (C.A. 7, Apr 1981)
(E's request for federal election after voluntarily recognizing U based on E's examination of authorization cards signed by majority of Ees and subsequently negotiating over terms of proposed contract, violative; contrary to E's contention, agreement was reached on appropriate bargaining unit where parties had agreed on definition of unit)

N.L.R.B. v. English Brothers Pattern and Foundry 679 F.2d 787 (C.A. 9, June 1982)
(E who conducted polls among its Ees both collectively and individually after U demanded bargaining, bound by affirmative results of polls and subsequent refusal to bargain violative)

4000 DURATION OF OBLIGATION TO RECOGNIZE AND BARGAIN

4020 CERTIFIED REPRESENTATIVE

4020-2000 Presumption of continued majority

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 038
(alter ego's refusal to bargain with certified U violative)

4020-2033 Irrebuttably presumed for 1 year

Boston Insulated Wire & Cable Co. 266 NLRB No. 044
(contention that summary judgment finding that E's refusal to bargain violated Act should be denied on grounds that E has experienced substantial Ee turnover in period following election held w/o merit, since such turnover is not special circumstance warranting attack on conclusively presumed majority status U enjoys during certification year)

Parkview Nursing Center II Corp. 269 NLRB No. 007
(since certification year would begin to run from date of ct of appeals' decision sustaining Bd's holding that E unlawfully refused to bargain, there was consequently an irrebuttable presumption that U enjoyed majority status for period of one year from date of ct's decision; moreover, U continued to enjoy majority status after end of such one-year period because of E's ULPs found herein)

Marriott In-Flite Service, A Division of Marriott Corporation 258 NLRB No. 099

333 Typographers, Inc. d/b/a Ace Typographers and AVJ Graphics, Inc. d/b/a Manhattan Graphic Productions 252 NLRB No. 017
(mtn for summary judgment granted, notwithstanding E assertedly refused to bargain on ground that it had been informed by written ptn that U did not have Ee majority, where alleged ptn was submitted w/i decertification year w/i which certified U's majority is irrebutably presumed)

Presco, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 093

Maywood Do-Nut Co., Inc. 248 NLRB No. 080
(where the only arguable date when bargaining agreement allegedly was reached between E and U fell w/i first year since Bd certification of U, E's question as to whether or not U represented majority of Ees in appropriate unit held w/o merit; in first year after certification, there is irrebuttable presumption that U has majority in appropriate bargaining unit)

Skycap Services, Inc., d/b/a Reed's Baggage Security Service JD-(SF)-289-80
(refusal to bargain with certified U, violative, where E was not free to terminate bargaining process merely because it had assertedly received information suggesting erosion of Ee support for U)

4020-2033-2000 Absent unusual circumstances

Carter-Glogau Laboratories, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 017
(E's contention that its refusal to bargain with U, occurring less than 3 weeks after it was certified by Bd, was based on good-faith doubt of U's majority status based on change in Ee complement at that time held w/o merit since, absent unusual circumstances as here, U's majority status is irrebuttably and conclusively presumed to exist for 1 year following certification)

Carter-Glogau Laboratories, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 017
(contention that striker replacements and newly hired Ees comprise majority of bargaining unit and that strikers who supported U are minority held insufficient to establish that U lacked majority support and does not constitute unusual circumstances)

Silverman's Men's Wear, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 023
(Bd upheld ALJ's refusal to allow testimony to demonstrate post-election changes in bargaining unit on ground that any issue of change in unit was beyond scope of hearing; furthermore, absent special circumstances, there is irrebuttable presumption that majority status of certified U continues for 1 year from date of certification; as E's refusal to bargain occurred during certification year, presumption was clearly applicable; moreover, even if E's refusal to bargain had not occurred during certification year, factor of Ee turnover did not establish that U had lost majority status)

Lexington Cartage Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 088
(ptn signed by all members of unit stating that they wished to renounce U not unusual circumstance that would justify E's refusal to bargain during certification year; further, ptn signed after E's discharge of leading U adherent and where E had made no counterproposals to U contract proposals during two and a half months and several bargaining sessions)

Sunnyland Refining Company, Inc. (International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Shipbuilders, Forgers and Helpers, AFL-CIO) 250 NLRB No. 146
(eight-month gap between dates of U's requests for bargaining does not constitute such unusual circumstances that would relieve E from obligation to bargain throughout certification year)

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)
(restructuring district from single plant unit where U certified into 2 plant district to include plant in another state and having labor management policy formed to cover expanded district is not kind of change that amounts to unusual circumstances that would make certification invalid because it does not cover aggregate Ees in expanded district)

4020-2033-5000 Where certification enforced in ULP proceeding, year dates from time employer commences bargaining

Firestone Wire & Cable Co., A Division of Firestone Tire & Rubber Company 249 NLRB No. 040

Mid-America Media, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 168
(initial period of certification construed as beginning on date E commences to bargain with U as recognized bargaining representative in appropriate unit)

Whitney Museum of American Art 247 NLRB No. 082

4020-2067 Rebuttably presumed after 1 year

Dresser Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 145
(overruling Telautograph rule, Bd held that mere filing of decertification ptn, like mere filing of rival U's ptn, would not require or permit E to withdraw from bargaining or executing contract with incumbent U, since such rule does not give due weight to incumbent U's continuing presumption of majority status and is not best way to achieve E neutrality in the election; E with good faith doubt based on objective evidence, e.g. decertification ptn supported by unit majority, may still withdraw; E's actions herein held not unlawful since E relied on then applicable Bd law of Telautograph)

Stratford Visiting Nurses Association 264 NLRB No. 136
(presumption of continuation of certified U's majority status upon expiration of its contract with E not rebutted by facts that: only 2 of 6 unit Ees were U members; only 2 of 6 unit Ees were on dues checkoff; and 2, or 3, of 6 unit Ees testified at Bd hearing that they did not want U to represent them as of refusal-to-bargain date. None of above facts established lack of majority support for U. As to last reason, none of Ees had communicated to U their desire not to be represented and such testimony is highly unreliable for it requests Ee to relate several months old uncommunicated states of mind, knowing that E's defense rests on reply)

Iowa Electric Light & Power Company 264 NLRB No. 038
(certified U's majority status not rebutted where E did not demonstrate that U no longer had majority or that its refusal to bargain was predicated on good faith doubt based on objective considerations)

Import Body Shop, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 150
(presumption of U's continued majority status following expiration of contract continues until it is rebutted)

Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 087
(defense that E withdrew recognition because certification year had expired and E allegedly believed U had lost its majority status because unit Ees did not support strike vote, rejected where E offered no evidence of lack of such support; moreover E had undermined U support with its ULPs)

Marriott In-Flite Service, A Division of Marriott Corporation 258 NLRB No. 099

Colson Equipment, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 019
(refusal to bargain with incumbent U unlawful since agreement was in effect and presumption of majority status was not rebutted, where E failed to show that U was unwilling or unable to represent Ees at time its status was called into question, and E's contention that U abandoned Ees was therefore rejected)

4020-2067—Cont.

Libbie Convalescent Center a/k/a Libbie Rehabilitation Center, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 116
(withdrawal of recognition 7 days following end of certification year violative absent actual evidence that U no longer represented majority of Ees)

Schmutz Foundry and Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 197
(presumption not rebutted that certified U's majority status continued after E reopened facility and resumed same operations with same Ees where closure was to get rid of U, was temporary, and amounted to lockout of strikers who had struck when no new contract was negotiated to replace expired one and were now offering to return to work; reopening was continuation of enterprise, and Ees, unit and Ees' represented remained the same)

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. (Hotel & Restaurant Employees & Bartenders Union, Local No. 235) 260 NLRB No. 188
(where 43 Ees had voted against U, expression in discussions with E's supervisors little more than a year after election of dissatisfaction with U by 33 Ees who, according to some testimony, had always been opposed to U found not to rebut presumption of U's majority status or to constitute objective basis for good faith doubt of U's continued majority status)

Pennco, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 063

P. A. Incorporated 248 NLRB No. 077
(E's breaking off negotiations for new contract and withdrawing recognition of U allegedly on basis of U's loss of majority status, unlawful since E failed to rebut presumption of continued majority representation after 1 year of certification where its doubt of majority status was based on decertification ptn by bare majority which it had promoted by promise to pay higher wages w/o U)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Triplett Corporation 619 F.2d 586 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct held E did not violate 8(a)(5) by withdrawing recognition from and refusing to bargain with certified U since E rebutted presumption of U's continued majority status by showing good faith doubt thereof where few eligible Ees became new members, grievances declined, and in one-week period one-sixth of unit Ees notified E that they were terminating membership and rescinding dues checkoff; Bd failed to distinguish or set forth acceptable reasons for not following this ct's decision in Automated Business Systems)

Colson Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 221 (C.A. 8, Mar. 1982)
(E held precluded from raising good faith doubt of incumbent U's majority status where, although U was dormant for period of time, it had resumed its role by the time E questioned its status)

N.L.R.B. v. International Medication Systems, Ltd. 667 F.2d 1031(T) (C.A. 9, Dec. 1981)
(E's refusal to continue bargaining violative where its evidence did not raise good faith reasonable doubt of U's majority support at time of its refusal)

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Es' contention that Bd demanded more evidence than required to rebut presumption of U's majority support rejected; substantial evidence on record supported Bd's decision and policies and goals of Act are best served by enforcement of Bd's orders on Es' refusal to bargain)

4020-6000 Certification by Board

Foodland, Inc., d/b/a Super H Discount 261 NLRB No. 143
(refusal to bargain, unlawful; E's defenses had been litigated in representation proceedings and E's request for review of RD's decision was denied by Bd constituting affirmance of RD's actions and precluding relitigation herein)

Mammoth of California, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 144
(parties herein entered into typical settlement agreement warranting application of Poole Foundry test of determining whether reasonable time has elapsed between execution of settlement agreement and refusal to bargain; under the circumstances, no reason exists for permitting E to bargain for undefined lesser period of time since to do so would allow E to take advantage of its own failure to carry out its statutory obligations, contrary to very reasons for establishment of rule that certification requires bargaining for at least 1 year)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(E must engage in one full year of bargaining following U's certification, regardless of any change in U's majority status; purpose of such insulated period is to give bargaining time to produce results and to promote stability in industrial relations, and if E refuses to bargain in good faith during certification year, Bd has power to extend or renew certification as remedy for 8(a)(5) violation)

Mammoth of California, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 1091 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(where E signed settlement agreement in April stating that it would bargain with U, certification year expired in June, Ees filed decertification ptn in July, and E withdrew recognition in August alleging it believed U had lost majority status based on said ptn, withdrawal was unlawful, since E by its settlement agreement had committed itself to bargaining for a reasonable period regardless of certification year and U's status and reasonable period extended 4 months)

4020-8000 Certification by other agency

Taylor Hospital 249 NLRB No. 091
(refusal to bargain, unlawful where certification by state labor board met Bd's standards for granting comity and there was no newly discovered evidence presented or lack of due process or other grounds found for refusing comity, and long passage of time since certification due to E's exhausting its remedies, does not warrant relieving E of its bargaining obligation)

4025 REPRESENTATIVES UNDER CONTRACT

KCW Furniture Company, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 079
(E's implementation of its last offer upon impasse, violative, since contract automatically renewed upon failure to give termination notice; contention that U's notice of opening of labor agreement to negotiate changes in wages, hours, and other forms and conditions of employment terminated contract by, in substance, asking for new agreement, rejected, where contract expressly provided w/o qualification that notice of opening does not terminate or forestall automatic renewal and imposed no limitation or restriction on extent or form which negotiations may take pursuant to such notice)

Marvin J. Schiff Trust R-501, Marvin J. Schiff, Trustee, d/b/a Nevada Palace Casino & Motor Inn JD-(SF)-277-81
(successor E must bargain with representative of his Ees regardless of whether such representative status (was) originally evidenced by a Bd certification or by recognition and the existence of a collective bargaining contract)

Cartwright Hardware Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 268 (C.A. 10, 1979)
(E implicitly withdrew recognition from U by its unilateral dealings and refusal to bargain)

4025-2000 Majority status irrebuttably presumed during term of contract

Redlands Construction Co., Inc., and Fein Construction Co. 265 NLRB No. 079
(U's failure to apply terms of bargaining agreement to E's unit Ees, violative since U enjoyed irrebuttable presumption of majority status for duration of applicable bargaining agreement)

Belder Electric Company 250 NLRB No. 188
(where majority of unit Ees voted to replace incumbent U with another U and E continued to recognize incumbent U and honor dues-checkoff authorization it did not violate Act as E is required to continue to recognize U with which it has contract so long as contract bars representation ptn; duty to bargain is not affected by U's loss of majority status and here where E faced with two tenable claims of representative status it should not be forced to choose between competing groups)

Hageman Underground Construction; etc. 253 NLRB No. 087
(non-U company found herein single E with company that executed 8(f) agreement held bound by agreement at all existing and future jobsites, where U at one time represented majority of Ees who constituted a permanent and stable group of backhoe operators and E did not generally hire on project-by-project basis; this established irrebuttable presumption of majority status during length of contract and whether U enjoyed such status at time E repudiated contract irrelevant)

Pearce Glass Company, Rolland Division 250 NLRB No. 144
(E's elimination of incentive pay system before contract term expired, violative, as E is statutorily required to wait until contract expires to implement changes in working conditions; moreover, fact that U had been willing to listen to E's proposal does not constitute waiver of its rights under Sec. 8(d))

Petroleum Contractors, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 094

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)

N.L.R.B. v. Quad C. Corporation & Associated General Contractors of California 639 F.2d 789(T) (C.A. 9, 1981)
(ct affd Bd finding of unlawful withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain collectively over new contract covering recognized units of drywall installers)

Sun-Maid Growers of California v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 56 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(terminating 3 Ees who comprised portion of overall unit for which E occupied joint E status w/o giving U notice and opportunity to bargain)

4025-5000 After expiration of contract

Pioneer Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 008
(E violated Act when it granted unilateral wage increases, created new driver sales routes, altered existing routes, and abolished helper position for 4 of its 5 package sales delivery routes after expiration of contract covering unit which was subject of decertification ptn, because E engaged in other unlawful conduct prior to filing ptn. See Autoprod, Inc. 223 NLRB 773 (1976))

4025-5000—Cont.

Stratford Visiting Nurses Association 264 NLRB No. 136
(presumption of continuation of certified U's majority status upon expiration of its contract with E not rebutted by facts that: only 2 of 6 unit Ees were U members; only 2 of 6 unit Ees were on dues checkoff; and 2, or 3, of 6 unit Ees testified at Bd hearing that they did not want U to represent them as of refusal-to-bargain date. None of above facts established lack of majority support for U. As to last reason, none of Ees had communicated to U their desire not to be represented and such testimony is highly unreliable for it requests Ee to relate several months old uncommunicated states of mind, knowing that E's defense rests on reply)

Remodeling By Oltmanns, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 169
(contractor's withdrawal of recognition from U after expiration of agreement with U to continue to maintain existing working conditions established by most recent contract between U and contractor's association of which it was not member, unlawful, notwithstanding no specific mention of recognition in agreement, where U had obtained majority in unit after having been recognized under Section 8(f) agreement, contractor never disavowed bargaining relationship, and continued to adhere to contractual terms)

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028

Wagner Distribution Services, Inc. d/b/a Distribution Services West 262 NLRB No. 096
(E's burden for rebuttal of presumption of continued majority after expiration of contract heavy one. E must come forward with evidence of objective considerations which would justify its claim of doubt of majority. It is insufficient that E merely intuits nonsupport and good faith doubt may not depend solely on unfounded speculation or subjective state of mind)

Digmor Equipment and Engineering Company, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 176
(where parties to bargaining agreement have agreed to subject certain matters to grievance and arbitration, parties duty to arbitrate survives termination of contract when dispute is over obligation arguably created by expired agreement)

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cumonics Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 068
(rebuttably presumed)

The Sacramento Union 258 NLRB No. 141
(E's duty to bargain not relieved by expiration of bargaining agreement. Although expiration of contract may permit E to negotiate new and different terms, it may not, absent impasse or waiver by U, unilaterally change established practices with respect to mandatory subject of bargaining even if these practices may have constituted deviation from letters of parties expired agreement)

Carmichael Construction Company 258 NLRB No. 032
(withdrawing recognition and refusing to bargain, violative where E did not have good faith doubt of U's majority status)

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(Bd presumes existence of continued majority status (of U) during and beyond term of collective-bargaining agreement)

Hudson Chemical Company 258 NLRB No. 009
(E's cessation of checking off U dues after expiration of U security agreement not violative, since agreement had expired; Section 302(c)(4) of LMRA provides that life of checkoff authorization shall not be irrevocable for one year or termination date of applicable bargaining agreement, whichever occurs sooner)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(after the expiration of valid collective bargaining agreement, U enjoys a rebuttable presumption that its majority representative status continues; such presumption may be effectively rebutted if E affirmatively establishes either (1) that at time of refusal to recognize U, U in fact no longer enjoyed majority support of unit Ees; or (2) that E's refusal was predicated on good faith doubt based on objective considerations; however, burden of rebutting presumption rests on party who would do so)

Gordon L. Rayner and Frank H. Clark, d/b/a Bay Area Sealers 251 NLRB No. 017
(where E had negotiated contract and it was automatically renewed, E's withdrawal of recognition and repudiation of contract's terms held unlawful for period after expiration of renewal period as well as period before expiration)

Petroleum Contractors, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 094

Rose Watch Corp. 249 NLRB No. 036
(refusal to recognize and bargain with certified U after expiration of contract, violative where E failed to rebut presumption or sustain good faith doubt of U's continued majority support following expiration of contract)

Strite-Anderson Mfg. JD-178-81
(E's admitted refusal to bargain, after contract expired, because of U's pending ULP charges, unlawful; no remedy ordered, however, since bargaining obligation had been rendered moot because U was no longer majority representative and to bargain with minority representative would have been unlawful)

The Workshop, Inc. JD-230-81
(E's failure to ans U's letter requesting meeting to negotiate new, modified contract, unlawful where presumption of majority status continued, and evidence did not support E's claim of doubt of U's majority status; E's poll of Ees was unlawful, decline in Ees' checkoff authorizations resulted from decline in unit size, Ees' decertification ptn was filed 3 month's after E's refusal to bargain, and failure to fill U office at E's facility did not support E's claim when Ees there were still represented by U)

N.L.R.B. v. Haberman Construction Company 618 F.2d 288 (C.A. 5, 1980)
(repudiation of contract unlawful, where 8(f) pre-hire agreement was transformed into bargaining agreement when U achieved majority status in relevant bargaining unit composed of Ees at E's two construction projects rather than on project by project basis, and rebuttable presumption of continuing majority status applied to unit notwithstanding potential change in its Ee composition and eventual relocation to other, future projects)

N.L.R.B. v. Mar-Len Cabinets, Inc. 659 F.2d 995 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(rebuttable presumption after expiration of contract)

N.L.R.B. v. The Saloon, Inc. 647 F.2d 171(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 1981)
(withdrawing recognition upon expiration of contract, violative since bargaining relationship was presumed to continue where only 4 or 5 Ees out of unit of 40 or 50 Ees had misgivings relative to U representation)

4025-7500 Contract of predecessor employer

Zylan Pontiac 262 NLRB No. 037

Patio Lodge, Inc., and Fountain Lodge, Inc. JD-(ATL)-40-82
(E obligated to bargain since it failed to rebut presumption of majority status by showing it has sufficient basis for good faith doubt of majority status notwithstanding its assertions of anti-U statement of Ee, decertification ptn, revocation of dues checkoff authorizations or change over in Ees)

4040 Voluntarily recognized representatives

J.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82
(E's refusal to bargain after its voluntary recognition of U based on demonstrated authorization card majority, unlawful, notwithstanding U had taken no action predicated on recognition)

J.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82
(E which has voluntarily recognized U based on card majority may not seek election)

4040-5000 Presumption of majority status

D'Angelo & Khan, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 062
(where E entered into 8(f) prehire agreement with local when it first worked at jobsite w/i local's jurisdiction, its refusal to apply agreement to Ees at succeeding jobsite held not unlawful, since prehire agreement did not give rise to presumption of local's majority status at original jobsite; furthermore, regardless of local's majority status at original site, provisions of 8(a)(5) do not apply unless U can demonstrate its majority status at succeeding sites, record here showed Local did not have majority support at the succeeding site)

The Saloon, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 106
(withdrawal of recognition upon expiration of contract, unlawful, where E failed to rebut contracting U's majority presumption by asserting that 10 percent of unit Ees lacked zeal for U, and by conclusionary observations to E by supervisor that lot of Ees did not care for U)

4040-5035 Voluntary recognition raises presumption of regularity that their representative had majority status

Construction Erectors, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 096
(on remand from U.S. Court of Appeals, Bd found E's repudiation of collective bargaining agreement before its termination date, unlawful, since workforce in bargaining unit had become permanent and stable and U obtained majority support w/i unit of Ironworkers during period w/i effective term of applicable contract; E moved its Ees from job to job and did not regularly assign Ees to single jobs and then to no subsequent jobs; 10 of 15 Ees in core group were U members and worked 75% of total days on which Ironworkers were employed)

4040-5037 Contract creates irrebuttable presumption of continuing majority status of union

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162

N.L.R.B. v. West Sand and Gravel Company 612 F.2d 1326 (C.A. 1)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied where Bd's presumption of majority status was found to be unreasonable since clear and objective understanding of scope of bargaining unit or desire to engage in genuine collective bargaining was not evidenced in explicit agreement nor actual practice of E and Ees in past)

4040-5037—Cont.

Precision Striping, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 642 F.2d 1144 (C.A. 9, Mar 23, 1981)
(only a rebuttable presumption of U's majority status is created when majority of Ees have become members pursuant to a U security clause and it is irrational to hold that U membership obtained pursuant to a U security clause creates an irrebuttable presumption of majority, since U security clause operates to compel Ees to join U because U membership is price for obtaining a job, and it is well established that U membership is not always an accurate barometer of U support)

Osteopathic Hospital Founders Association, d/b/a Oklahoma Osteopathic Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 633 (C.A. 10, 1980)
(withdrawal of recognition from U two months before expiration of its one-year bargaining agreement, violative even if replacement of discharged unit Ees gave rise to E's asserted good faith doubt as to U's majority; incumbent U enjoys virtually irrebutable presumption of majority status as long as its bargaining agreement is entitled to contract bar protection)

4040-5037-5000 Contract of predecessor employer

Saks & Company d/b/a Saks Fifth Avenue 247 NLRB No. 128
(presumption of continuing majority notwithstanding predecessor E's recognition of U was forty years ago and there has been no subsequent election or certification)

Pick-Mt Laurel Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 476 (C.A. 3, 1980)
(contention that presumption of continued majority status should not be applied because E was successor E and not E who originally accorded voluntary recognition to U, rejected; appearance of successor E cannot deprive U of its presumptive majority status, and successor E is not relieved from duty to bargain with U which had presumptive majority because of pending contract; however, successor E would not have obligation to bargain if it entertained good faith doubt of U's majority status)

4040-5042 Presumption resulting from long bargaining history

N.L.R.B. v. West Sand and Gravel Company 612 F.2d 1326 (C.A. 1)
(enforcement of bargaining order denied where Bd's presumption of majority status was found to be unreasonable since clear and objective understanding of scope of bargaining unit or desire to engage in genuine collective bargaining was not evidenced in explicit agreement nor actual practice of E and Ees in past)

4040-5048 Presumption arising from dealing with union

F.M.L. Supply, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 083
(notwithstanding that E did not have signed contract with U, E was estopped from denying it was bound by residential and commercial agreements between multiE group, of which E was not member, and U, since E held itself out to its Ees under U contract by hiring through U hiring hall and making payments into various U trust funds; E's conduct was consciously deceptive (to its Ees and U) over long period and manifest desire to take advantage of U's miscalculation concerning existence of contract)

4040-5050 Irrebuttably presumed for reasonable period

Eastern Food Service, Inc. d/b/a Stewart Sandwich Service 260 NLRB No. 103
(withdrawal of recognition after E voluntarily recognized U based on its acceptance of authorization cards as determinative of Ees' desire to be represented by U, violative)

Cardox Division of Chemetron Corporation 258 NLRB No. 159
(violation where E withdrew recognition and refused to bargain with voluntarily recognized representative. Reasonable period of time did not pass where U and E met only once during 3-1/2 months of recognition despite efforts by U to have more meetings. Furthermore, whether unit is appropriate or not is of no consequence where E voluntarily recognized bargaining representative of unit)

Landmark International Trucks, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 170
(successor E who voluntarily recognized U and withdrew recognition 3 weeks later violated Act as it did not give reasonable time for bargaining to succeed)

Fertilizer Company of Texas, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 183
(withdrawing recognition and polling Ees on their desire for continued recognition before reasonable time to allow for bargaining after voluntary recognition passed, violative absent showing that at time of recognition U lacked majority support of Ees)

J.A.G. Freight Systems, Inc. JD-(NY)-31-82

4040-5075 Rebuttably presumed after reasonable period

B & B Gallo Pest Control Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 075
(refusal to negotiate successor contract, violative, where E did not have reasonable good faith doubt of U's continued majority status)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonininos's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

4040-5080 Withdrawal from multiemployer bargaining unit

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(rebuttable presumption of majority U support survives Es' withdrawal from multi-E unit is grounded on policy determination by Bd that industrial peace is more like to be achieved by maintaining continuity in bargaining structure over enhancement of Ee free choice)

4050 SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT WITH BARGAINING PROVISION

WDIV Post-Newsweek Stations, Michigan, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 087
(E's withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain with U, unlawful where compliance agreement between E and U had not expired and E was not free to entertain challenge to U's majority status)

Mammoth of California, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 144
(E's contention that settlement agreement had reinstatement and backpay, rather than agreement to bargain, as quid pro quo for withdrawal of U's charges, rejected; support for E's contention would require going beyond 4 corners of settlement agreement which Bd does not attempt to do nor does it attempt to ferret out which of various concessions was real reason for settlement; to find merit in E's contention would fly in face of E's agreement to comply with all the terms and provisions of notice requiring bargaining upon request, and would allow E to renege on part of settlement agreement)

Mammoth of California, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 144
(GC not required to introduce supporting evidence to confirm what is clear on face of settlement agreement which states that it disposes of all allegations in cases involved, including refusal to bargain allegations, and agreement also states that E will comply with all terms of notice which states that E, upon request, will bargain with U; moreover, agreement covered only Bd charges with no outside matters involved; consequently, E's agreement was part of quid pro quo for U's agreement to withdraw charges and constituted typical settlement agreement)

Mammoth of California, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 144
(E's withdrawal of recognition from U during certification year, as extended, unlawful, where settlement agreement entered into by parties extended certification year, and as result of settlement agreement and E's commitment to bargain U withdrew its charges which had alleged, inter alia, a refusal to bargain; consequently, parties were entitled to and required to bargain for that portion of certification year to which U was entitled, free of any encumbrances)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(despite clear loss of majority by U, E may be compelled to continue to bargain with U for reasonable period by virture of entry into Bd approved settlement agreement with U concerning previous ULP charges)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(E's contention that parties' settlement agreement neither manifested Bd determination that remedial action was necessary nor contained agreement to bargain and was exchange of contract terms having no effect on certification year, rejected, where part of agreement resolved some allegations in complaint)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(if settlement agreement is valid, E must bargain in compliance with it for reasonable time w/o regard to whether U continues to have Ee majority)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(notwithstanding E's claim of U's loss of majority, parties' settlement agreement entered into at time of hearing before ALJ and surrounded by formalities held to have extended certification year for reasonable period embracing time in which E engaged in unlawful refusal to bargain, and E's withdrawal of recognition during such period, unlawful; Bd properly characterized ALJ's action as approval of the agreement, which is required by Bd's R/R, and extent of Bd involvement manifested administrative determination that some remedial action was necessary to safeguard public interests)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(parties' settlement agreement held to have extended certification year for reasonable period, embracing time in which E engaged in unlawful refusal to bargain, where Bd properly found that compelling consideration for U's withdrawal of charges against E was quid pro quo for E's concessions in agreement as well as its attendant commitment to bargain)

Mammoth of California, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 1091 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(where E signed settlement agreement in April stating that it would bargain with U, certification year expired in June, Ees filed decertification ptn in July, and E withdrew recognition in August alleging it believed U had lost majority status based on said ptn, withdrawal was unlawful, since E by its settlement agreement had committed itself to bargaining for a reasonable period regardless of certification year and U's status and reasonable period extended 4 months)

4055 REPRESENTATIVE SUBJECT TO BARGAINING ORDER IN LITIGATION

4055—Cont.

Eastern Market Beef Processing Corporation, Alfred and Scott Street Divisions 269 NLRB No. 019
(E's refusal to employ unit Ees at new location under terms and conditions of existing contract, violative)

Schnadig Corporation 265 NLRB No. 020
(E unilaterally changing absentee and tardiness policies, unlawful)

4070 TERMINATION BY LOSS OF VIABLE RELATIONSHIP

N.L.R.B. v. Schmutz Foundry and Machine Company 678 F.2d 655 (C.A. 6, May 1982)
(where, during negotiations for renewal of contract and 6 months after impasse had been reached, E closed its plant but then, approximately 1 year later, began limited production at plant, its refusal to bargain on U's demand at that time held unlawful, since E's closure, which E claimed constituted going out of business, was a lockout for purpose of getting rid of U, and operations were resumed only when E concluded it would no longer have to recognize U)

4075 TERMINATION BY WITHDRAWAL OF RECOGNITION

Redlands Construction Co., Inc., and Feitz Construction Co. 265 NLRB No. 079
(withdrawal of recognition from U, violative where U did not lose its majority support and E had no good faith belief that U had lost its majority support)

Loretto Heights College 264 NLRB No. 149
(withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain with U on behalf of unit of college faculty members on the ground that faculty members were managerial rather than Ees based on the Yeshiva University decision by the Supreme Court, unlawful, since they were found Ees herein)

Mobile Home Estates, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 182
(withdrawal of recognition from and refusal to bargain with U during economic strike violative, as U represented majority at time of strike, although 13 Ees including same U officers resigned prior to strike, some Ees abandoned strike and replacements were hired)

United States Gypsum Company 259 NLRB No. 145
(withdrawal of recognition violative where Ees ptns to E stating that they no longer wished U to represent them were tainted by E's refusal to disregard requests by U and mediator to set dates for bargaining)

Twin County Trucking, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 078
(both initial refusal to recognize U with majority status and withdrawal of recognition following agreement to meet to negotiate U contract--which constituted de facto recognition--unlawful)

Puerto Rico Hotel Association 259 NLRB No. 088
(E association and its member hotels' refusal to bargain regarding renewal contract with musicians U, unlawful, notwithstanding contentions that musicians were not Ees of hotels, that petitioned for unit of musicians, including bandleaders, (supervisors) at all hotels not appropriate, and that U lacked majority inasmuch as musicians' membership in U was not uncoerced)

Teamsters Local Union No. 574, a/w Teamsters (Lola Wheeler, an Individual) 259 NLRB No. 037
(as E-U's Secretary-Treasurer had authority under by-laws to hire office Ees and to fix their compensation, this is sufficient authority to permit him to establish wages, hours, and conditions of employment on collective basis and/or individual basis w/o Executive Board approval, and therefore, could sign contract recognizing U of office clericals, and such could not be repudiated by new administration)

J. D. Candler Roofing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 060
(withdrawal of recognition from U, violative where not explained by E as having been based on any objective considerations or loss of majority by U)

Belcon, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 178
(E's withdrawal of recognition two weeks after U accepted E's final offer and Ees unconditionally offered to return to work after economic strike, violative)

Phelps Cement Products, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 004
(withdrawing recognition from and refusing to bargain with U which had authorization cards from majority of Ees in appropriate unit held violative where credited testimony demonstrated E had recognized U for agreed upon unit)

Jax Mold & Machine, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 129
(violation where presumption of majority status after expiration of certified year was not rebutted as Ee ptns rejecting U were tainted by E who gave advice on how to prepare it, interrogated Ees concerning ptns solicited Ee to sign one with promise of benefit for signing or threat of reprimand if he did not; additionally, E engaged in ULPs aimed at causing and did cause disaffection from U)

Fertilizer Company of Texas, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 183
(withdrawing recognition and polling Ees on their desire for continued recognition before reasonable time to allow for bargaining after voluntary recognition passed, violative absent showing that at time of recognition U lacked majority support of Ees)

Mammoth of California, Inc. 253 NLRB No. 144
(E's withdrawal of recognition from U during certification year, as extended, unlawful, where settlement agreement entered into by parties extended certification year, and as result of settlement agreement and E's commitment to bargain U withdrew its charges which had alleged, inter alia, a refusal to bargain; consequently, parties were entitled to and required to bargain for that portion of certification year to which U was entitled, free of any encumbrances)

Finger Lakes Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc. 253 NLRB NO. 069
(E's withdrawal of recognition before contract expired and refusal to meet thereafter with U to negotiate new contract as requested, unlawful, where, contrary to E's contentions, bargaining unit did not cease, and U did not lose majority status)

Douglas & Lomason Company 253 NLRB No. 080
(E's withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain, unlawful since they occurred in context of ULP's committed by E)

Western Truck Services, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 096
(withdrawal of recognition, violative)

G and M Lath and Plaster Co., Inc. and Its Alter Ego, Central Texas Lath & Plastering Inc.; et al. 252 NLRB No. 137
(corporation and its alter ego's repudiation of contract and withdrawal of recognition of U, violative)

Corrugated Structures, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 079
(E's withdrawal of recognition from U with whom it had prehire agreement and execution of agreement with another U not violative, where there was no evidence that, at any relevant time, first U represented majority of substantial, stable work force of E's Ees at any of E's jobsites)

Construction Erectors, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 046

Libbie Convalescent Center a/k/a Libbie Rehabilitation Center, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 116
(withdrawal of recognition 7 days following end of certification year violative absent actual evidence that U no longer represented majority of Ees)

Cablevision Systems Development Company, A Partnership 251 NLRB NO. 176
(violation where cable TV company had entered into negotiations with U representing cable company's subcontractor, and upon becoming subcontractor's successor, as found herein, it withdrew recognition and refused to bargain with U)

Schmutz Foundry and Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 197
(withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain, unlawful where E failed to express its alleged doubt of U's majority status at time U requested bargaining after E announced forthcoming resumption of temporarily discontinued operations and where, when expressed, its doubts allegedly based on U's inactivity and Ee disaffection with U were not reasonably based on objective facts, and its own RM petition was not basis for doubt)

Gordon L. Rayner and Frank H. Clark, d/b/a Bay Area Sealers 251 NLRB No. 017
(where E had negotiated contract and it was automatically renewed, E's withdrawal of recognition and repudiation of contract's terms held unlawful for period after expiration of renewal period as well as period before expiration)

Nevada Resort Association; Summa Corporation, d/b/a Castaways Hotel; et al. 250 NLRB No. 118
(multi-E association's counterproposal for contract renewal with unwavering demand that lounge musicians be excluded from bargaining unit despite their inclusion for past decade held unlawful withdrawal of recognition; belief that lounge musicians were independent contractors and U's agreement to defer lounge musicians issue does not justify or legitimaze E's withdrawal of recognition)

J. M. Tanaka Construction, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 028
(alter-ego E who required rehired Ees to sign agreement stating that all fringe benefits would be paid directly to them instead of U and to hold them responsible for transfer of monies to U violated Act)

Farmingdale Iron Works, Inc., and Jerry Cardullo Iron Works, Inc. 249 NLRB No. 080
(alter ego E's withdrawing recognition from and refusing to bargain with U over transfer of unit Ees from E to alter ego E, unlawful)

Martinsburg Concrete Products Co. 248 NLRB No. 172
(E's refusal to continue recognition of U assertedly on ground that Ees had decided they no longer wished to be represented by U violative where E induced defection of U members by ULPs)

4075—Cont.

P. A. Incorporated 248 NLRB No. 077
(E's breaking off negotiations for new contract and withdrawing recognition of U allegedly on basis of U's loss of majority status, unlawful since E failed to rebut presumption of continued majority representation after 1 year of certification where its doubt of majority status was based on decertification ptn by bare majority which it had promoted by promise to pay higher wages w/o U)

B. N. Beard Company 248 NLRB No. 016
(E unlawfully withdrew recognition from Us before expiration of their contracts with E as evidenced by E's statements to the effect that E was getting rid of Us and would have no further contact with them)

The Saloon, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 196
(withdrawal of recognition upon expiration of contract, unlawful, where E failed to rebut contracting U's majority presumption by asserting that 10 percent of unit Ees lacked zeal for U, and by conclusionary observations to E by supervisor that lot of Ees did not care for U)

Bel-Air Bowl, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 003
(E's refusal to meet or arrange for future bargaining sessions after voluntarily recognizing U and agreeing to meet constituted unlawful withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain)

ABL General Systems Corp. JD-(NY)-67-82
(E's actions constituted unlawful withdrawal of recognition where, after being presented with U authorization cards, acknowledging that U represented majority of Ees, and agreeing to bargain later, E stated it had no interest in U and was not prepared to negotiate)

Gould, Inc. JD-409-81
(where E, pursuant to agreement with U, transferred unit Ees to U-contracting company engaged in joint venture with E, and E subsequently reemployed some of the transferred Ees, ALJ held E's refusal to recognize U as representative of reemployed Ees constituted unlawful withdrawal of recognition from U, since U had not waived its right to represent such Ees either under transfer agreement or by U's conduct, and Ees remained w/i scope of bargaining unit)

Carbon Specialties, Inc. JD-510-80
(attempting to withdraw recognition of U violative, where E and U had in being a bargaining agreement which when reduced to writing they were obliged to sign and which embraced recognition of U as bargaining agent; moreover, E had no basis to believe, as contended, that U had lost majority status in view of its promise and grant of benefits to induce Ees to defect from and disavow U)

Malibu Grand Prix Corp. JD-(SF)-90-80
(E's refusal to sign U contract on demand held not to constitute unlawful failure to bargain or withdrawal of recognition, notwithstanding unit was doubtless appropriate and assuming E had duty to bargain, where E had complied with pre-hire arrangement with U to pay U scale and cash equivalent of U fringe benefits; in addition, E's unlawful discharges were held not to constitute attempt to forestall U organizing drive or undermine U)

Prairie Glove Division, Advance Glove Company JD-164-80
(E's withdrawing recognition from, and refusing to bargain with, U assertedly because Ees at work during U strike said they would like to vote on union issue, or wanted to vote U issue, or could not understand why they could not vote on U issue, violative since, even if E's testimony concerning alleged statements by Ees was credited, the words attributed to Ees did not constitute rejection of U representation, and as such E did not have objective basis for doubting U's majority status)

Atlas Inc. JD-890-79
(violation where E withdrew its recognition of U, laid off all Ees, ceased operations and transferred all physical assets to corporation found herein to be successor to and alter ego of E, and the corporation refused to reinstate E's Ees, subcontracted work formerly performed by E's Ees, refused to recognize U selected by E's Ees, and unilaterally changed those Ees' existing conditions of employment w/o prior notice to U, all in order to avoid dealing with U)

N.L.R.B. v. United Optical Workers Union Local 408, Electrical Workers (Marine Optical, Inc.) 671 F.2d 11 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(E's withdrawal of recognition, refusal to bargain on demand, and unilateral changes after relocating operations violated 8(a)(5) and 8(d); contract's description of unit as consisting of Ees employed at address of E's old facility was not shown to be intended as geographical limitation, as contended, and continuity was sufficient for Bd to apply modified contract-bar doctrine and find contract effective at new facility where there was substantial continuity of operations and in bargaining unit after relocation, and new facility was near old facility and in same state)

Straus Communications, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 458 (C.A. 2, 1980)
(notwithstanding E's claim of U's loss of majority, parties' settlement agreement entered into at time of hearing before ALJ and surrounded by formalities held to have extended certification year for reasonable period embracing time in which E engaged in unlawful refusal to bargain, and E's withdrawal of recognition during such period, unlawful; Bd properly characterized ALJ's action as approval of the agreement, which is required by Bd's R/R, and extent of Bd involvement manifested administrative determination that some remedial action was necessary to safeguard public interests)

N.L.R.B. v. Triplett Corporation 619 F.2d 586 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(ct held E did not violate 8(a)(5) by withdrawing recognition from and refusing to bargain with certified U since E rebutted presumption of U's continued majority status by showing good faith doubt thereof where few eligible Ees became new members, grievances declined, and in one-week period one-sixth of unit Ees notified E that they were terminating membership and rescinding dues checkoff; Bd failed to distinguish or set forth acceptable reasons for not following this ct's decision in Automated Business Systems)

N.L.R.B. v. The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Memphis 616 F.2d 940 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(where Teamsters local was affiliated with Brewery Workers International at time E entered into bargaining agreement with Brewery Workers local and Brewery Workers International, E's subsequent withdrawal of recognition from Teamsters local, violative, since Teamsters local wascontinuation of Brewery Workers local)

Westwood Import Co. Inc., and Gamut Designs, Inc., d/b/a Westwood Import Co. v. N.L.R.B. 681 F.2d 664 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(where E, having contract with U, relocated its operations and then sold its business to another company, herein found to be successor E, ct held Bd properly found that E unlawfully withdrew recognition from U)

Mammoth of California, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 1091 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(where E signed settlement agreement in April stating that it would bargain with U, certification year expired in June, Ees filed decertification ptn in July, and E withdrew recognition in August alleging it believed U had lost majority status based on said ptn, withdrawal was unlawful, since E by its settlement agreement had committed itself to bargaining for a reasonable period regardless of certification year and U's status and reasonable period extended 4 months)

N.L.R.B. v. The Saloon, Inc. 647 F.2d 171(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 1981)
(withdrawing recognition upon expiration of contract, violative since bargaining relationship was presumed to continue where only 4 or 5 Ees out of unit of 40 or 50 Ees had misgivings relative to U representation)

Sahara-Tahoe Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 553 (C.A. 9, Nov 1980)
(E's refusal to bargain held unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention of good faith doubt of U majority, since ptn for decertification, of which E had knowledge, although it was not filed, did not by itself or together with other evidence unequivocally indicate U support had declined to minority; however, this decision did not imply that a ptn which unambiguously indicated desire not to be represented by U and signed by substantial number of Ees could not be considered in arriving at good faith doubt if that ptn had not been filed)

N.L.R.B. v. Circle T Corporation and Meat Men Inc. d/b/a Royal T Meat 614 F.2d 777 (C.A. 9) (1980)
(E who ceased operations at plant for 6 weeks and then resumed operations under different name violated Act by withdrawing recognition from U and repudiating contract since new business was disguised continuance of original and that they both constituted single E and purpose of shutdown and resumption was to evade bargaining obligation)

4080 TERMINATION OF OBLIGATION BY EMPLOYER BECAUSE OF REPRESENTATIVE'S LOSS OF MAJORITY STATUS

Wm. Chalson & Co., Inc. 252 NLRB No. 006
(E's withdrawal of recognition from U unlawful, notwithstanding fact that majority of E's Ees withdrew their support from U, since appropriate unit is multi-E association unit)

4080-0100 Generally

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 029
(violation, where following evasive and dilatory tactics to avoid bargaining for new contract, E stated it would not meet with U, that it would decertify U, refused to bargain with U pending resolution of decertification ptn, and withdrew recognition from U where U still had presumption of majority)

Marvin J. Schiff Trust R-501, Marvin J. Schiff, Trustee, d/b/a Nevada Palace Casino & Motor Inn JD-(SF)-277-81
(new E succeeds to predecessor's bargaining obligations when majority of new E's work complement is determined, as in instant case, to have come from predecessor's bargaining unit)

4080-0100—Cont.

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

(despite clear loss of majority by U, E may be compelled to continue to bargain with U for reasonable period by virtue of entry into Bd approved settlement agreement with U concerning previous ULP charges)

4080-0112 Loss of majority in recognized unit

Cobb Theatres, Inc. 260 NLRB No. 111

(E's withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain violative where not based on good faith doubt of U's majority support)

Baldor Electric Company 258 NLRB No. 183

(where majority of unit Ees voted to replace incumbent U with another U and E continued to recognize incumbent U and honor dues-checkoff authorization it did not violate Act as E is required to continue to recognize U with which it has contract so long as contract bars representation ptn; duty to bargain is not affected by U's loss of majority status and here where E faced with two tenable claims of representative status it should not be forced to choose between competing groups)

Mark Twain Marine Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 144

(withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain based on contention that U lost support of majority, violative, since any loss of majority was result of E's ULPs)

WDIV Post-Newsweek Stations, Michigan, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 067

(E's withdrawal of recognition from U, unlawful where, in light of bargaining history of unit, E could not have had, and did not have, good faith doubt of U's majority status when it received mediator's report of rival U card check)

Independent Association of Steel Fabricators, Inc.; etc. 252 NLRB No. 129

(on ct remand, Bd held withdrawal of two Es from E association and execution of individual contracts with outside U, not unlawful, where each E possessed objective basis for good faith belief that incumbent U by date of execution of contract had lost support of majority of unit Ees)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162

(purchaser of business held successor and obligated to bargain with U representing Ees of seller where it engaged in same business at same facility and sold to substantially same customers as seller and employed all of supervisory and nonsupervisory Ees in their same job classifications; further, purchaser may not justify its failure to bargain on basis of or basis of good faith doubt of Us majority where it acquired business with full knowledge of seller's unlawful refusal to bargain)

Victor Marsh, A Division of TCB, Inc. JD-272-82

4080-0125 Belief in loss of majority must be based upon objective consideration

Mingtree Restaurant, Inc. d/b/a Forbidden City Restaurant 265 NLRB No. 052

(after expiration of contract, withdrawal of recognition from voluntarily recognized U, unlawful; contention that U originally was unlawfully recognized and maintenance of contract with minority U constitutes continuing violation and any subsequent acquisition of majority status is attributable to earlier improper recognition, rejected, as E may not withdraw recognition unlawfully obtained outside Sec. 10(b) period)

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035

(E violated Act when it granted unilateral wage increases, created new driver sales routes, altered existing routes, and abolished helper position for 4 of its 5 package sales delivery routes after expiration of contract covering unit which was subject of decertification ptn, because E engaged in other unlawful conduct prior to filing ptn. See Autoprod, Inc. 223 NLRB 773 (1976))

Dresser Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 145

(overruling Telautograph rule, Bd held that mere filing of decertification ptn, like mere filing of rival U's ptn, would not require or permit E to withdraw from bargaining or executing contract with incumbent U, since such rule does not give due weight to incumbent U's continuing presumption of majority status and is not best way to achieve E neutrality in the election; E with good faith doubt based on objective evidence, e.g. decertification ptn supported by unit majority, may still withdraw; E's actions herein held not unlawful since E relied on then applicable Bd law of Telautograph)

Stratford Visiting Nurses Association 264 NLRB No. 136

(presumption of continuation of certified U's majority status upon expiration of its contract with E not rebutted by facts that: only 2 of 6 unit Ees were U members; only 2 of 6 unit Ees were on dues checkoff; and 2, or 3, of 6 unit Ees testified at Bd hearing that they did not want U to represent them as of refusal-to-bargain date. None of above facts established lack of majority support for U. As to last reason, none of Ees had communicated to U their desire not to be represented and such testimony is highly unreliable for it requests Ee to relate several months old uncommunicated states of mind, knowing that E's defense rests on reply)

Hutchison-Hayes International, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 16

(E who withdrew recognition based on fact that 11 Ees out of 40-Ee unit no longer desired U representation violated Act)

Iowa Electric Light & Power Company 264 NLRB No. 021

(certified U's majority status not rebutted where E did not demonstrate that U no longer had majority or that its refusal to bargain was predicated on good faith doubt based on objective considerations)

Robertshaw Controls Company 263 NLRB No. 128

(following objective considerations of E to support claim U no longer majority insufficient to rebut presumption of continuing majority status: only 1/3 Ees employed at election time still employed; only 46 of total complement of 330 were U members, annual turnover of 60-65%, E advised by many Ees of dissatisfaction with U insufficient because: Bd holds that showing less than majority of unit Ees are U members not equivalent to lack of majority support, turnover not sufficient to establish reasonable doubt due to presumption that new Ees support E in same ratio as old, conversations with Ees not enough to establish proof Ees do not support U)

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116

(E violates Sec. 8(a)(5) by withdrawing from bargaining with incumbent U based solely on fact that ptn has been filed by outside U; however, may still withdraw recognition if its good faith doubt based on other objective considerations)

Wagner Distribution Services, Inc. d/b/a Distribution Services West 262 NLRB No. 096

(E's burden for rebuttal of presumption of continued majority after expiration of contract heavy one. E must come forward with evidence of objective considerations which would justify its claim of doubt of majority. It is insufficient that E merely intuits nonsupport and good faith doubt may not depend solely on unfounded speculation or subjective state of mind)

Wagner Distribution Services, Inc. d/b/a Distribution Services West 262 NLRB No. 096

(E had no basis for good faith doubt of majority that would justify refusal to continue to recognize and bargain with incumbent U where it had mere suspicions of Ee dissatisfaction which it could confirm only through coercive soliciting Ees to sign decertification ptn, and reports of Ee's dissatisfaction came to E second hand through supervisors and E never called Ees themselves, and number of Ees expressing dissatisfaction was far short of majority)

J. D. Candler Roofing Company, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 063

(withdrawal of recognition from U, violative where not explained by E as having been based on any objective considerations or loss of majority by U)

Landmark International Trucks, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 170

(successor E who withdrew recognition from U w/o objective evidence of U's loss of majority status violated Act)

Chicago Magnesium Castings Company 256 NLRB No. 105

(E's withdrawal of recognition, unlawful since E was precluded from asserting doubt of U's majority status by prior unremedied ULPs, and, therefore Bd found it unnecessary to consider whether E's evidence would amount to objective considerations sufficient to support asserted doubt of good-faith doubt of U's majority status)

First National Maintenance Corporation 254 NLRB No. 028

(inference that U did not represent majority of E's Ees gleaned from facts that: (1) no Ees had signed cards for U; (2) no Ees had paid dues to any U; (3) no notices, meetings or information concerning U had been brought to Ees' attention; and (4) U representative failed to appear at Bd hearing with any testimony or cards concerning U membership)

International Medication Systems, Ltd. 253 NLRB No. 120

(fact, that members of Ees' negotiating committee became disinterested in further participation in contract negotiations does not, alone, establish general Ee disinterest in being represented by U)

Independent Association of Steel Fabricators, Inc.; etc. 252 NLRB No. 129

(on ct remand, Bd in issuing bargaining order overruled ALJ finding that member of E-association withdrew from association and executed contract with outside U while entertaining good faith doubt of incumbent U's continued majority, where record was devoid of any objective factors w/i E's knowledge on which it could have reasonably relied to conclude that majority of its seven Ees no longer supported incumbent U)

Independent Association of Steel Fabricators, Inc.; etc. 252 NLRB No. 129

(on ct remand, Bd held withdrawal of two Es from E association and execution of individual contracts with outside U, not unlawful, where each E possessed objective basis for good faith belief that incumbent U by date of execution of contract had lost support of majority of unit Ees)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 028

(E may lawfully insist on contract terminating with certification year only when it has reasonable belief based on objective considerations that U no longer possesses majority support, and here, where basis for E's belief was

4080-0125—Cont.

letter from some unit members expressing their dissatisfaction with U's conduct of ratification election in which U refused to allow nonmembers right to vote, does not constitute signers' opposition to continued representation by U and refusal to bargain violative)

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. (Hotel & Restaurant Employees & Bartenders Union, Local No. 235) 250 NLRB No. 185
(refusal to meet with U because of alleged doubt of U's continued majority status, unlawful where doubt was w/o sufficient objective basis or based on alleged but unproved admission by U)

Tri-State Carpenters & Joiners District Council 250 NLRB No. 125
(refusal to bargain violative where 3 Ee unit offered U option of bargaining for them or not but indicated their desire to remain members and U reassured members in letter that it would represent them; which letter E knew about; this along with E's unilateral promulgation of unlawful Ee rule indicates E did not have reasonable grounds based on objective consideration to doubt U's majority status)

Petroleum Contractors, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 094

Victor Marsh, A Division of TCB, Inc. JD-272-82

Prairie Glove Division, Advance Glove Company JD-164-80
(E's withdrawing recognition from, and refusing to bargain with, U assertedly because Ees at work during U strike said they would like to vote on union issue, or wanted to vote U issue, or could not understand why they could not vote on U issue, violative since, even if E's testimony concerning alleged statements by Ees was credited, the words attributed to Ees did not constitute rejection of U representation, and as such E did not have objective basis for doubting U's majority status)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)

Thomas Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 863 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(rapid or large decline in dues checkoff (from 63% to 31% in period of 10 months), negative comments about U by 1/3 Ees, resignations by Ees, U vice president and 5 other officials was substantial objective evidence of loss of U support in 102 Ee unit)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(although subjective evidence may be used to bolster E's argument)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)

N.L.R.B. v. Silver Spur Casino 623 F.2d 571 (C.A. 9, 1980)
(Es' contention that E's good faith belief that U no longer had majority support is all that is required to withdraw recognition, rejected; E's good faith doubt of U's majority status must be objective considerations and Bd's determination of whether defense is established will be upheld if supported by substantial evidence on the record)

4080-0150 Belief must be held in good faith and not advanced to gain time to undermine union

Iowa Electric Light & Power Company 264 NLRB No. 021
(certified U's majority status not rebutted where E did not demonstrate that U no longer had majority or that its refusal to bargain was predicated on good faith doubt based on objective considerations)

Carbon Specialties, Inc. JD-510-80
(attempting to withdraw recognition of U violative, where E and U had in being a bargaining agreement which when reduced to writing they were obliged to sign and which embraced recognition of U as bargaining agent; moreover, E had no basis to believe, as contended, that U had lost majority status in view of its promise and grant of benefits to induce Ees to defect from and disavow U)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(E's good faith doubt must not have been raised in context of illegal anti-U activities, or other conduct by E aimed at causing disaffection from U or indicating that in raising loss of majority issue E was merely seeking to gain time in which to undermine U; existence of ULP prior to refusal to bargain interjects element of uncertainty about whether E thus caused possible loss of majority; if it is shown that ULP did not significantly contribute to loss of majority, E may avoid bargaining order)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(in considering evidence of support for U, court will look at Ee attitudes before E's refusal to bargain occurred and was E aware of this)

N.L.R.B. v. Scott Printing Corporation and J&J House of Composition 612 F.2d 783 (C.A. 3)
(remand to Bd to determine if Bd should have allowed E to assert good faith doubt in U's majority status because ALJ failed to find that U did not represent majority of Ees and Bd adopted ALJ's findings, thus there are no findings on record concerning good faith doubt defense)

N.L.R.B. v. Mar-Len Cabinets, Inc. 659 F.2d 995 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(reasonable doubt as to majority status must only be asserted in good faith and may not, be in context of E's activities aimed at causing disaffection from U)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(E's contention it was not required to give U opportunity to bargain regarding changes in insurance plan since futile where U had erroneously asserted E bound by extension of multi-E bargaining agreement and had not requested bargaining once it learned of changes, since E was motivated by desire to undermine U where it had expressed intention to drop U and institute new insurance plan before U expressed belief E bound by bargaining agreement extension, and E refused invitation to meet with U and discuss its position, and U not so intransigent as to relieve E of duty to bargain)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)
(standard is good faith doubt, proof is not required)

4080-0175 Withdrawal of recognition must be at appropriate time in relation to

4080-0175-2000 Certification

Lexington Cartage Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 085
(ptn signed by all members of unit stating that they wished to renounce U not unusual circumstance that would justify E's refusal to bargain during certification year; further, ptn signed after E's discharge of leading U adherent and where E had made no counterproposals to U contract proposals during two and a half months and several bargaining sessions)

4080-0175-4000 Voluntary recognition

Cardox Division of Chemetron Corporation 258 NLRB No. 159
(violation where E withdrew recognition and refused to bargain with voluntarily recognized representative. Reasonable period of time did not pass where U and E met only once during 3-1/2 months of recognition despite efforts by U to have more meetings. Furthermore, whether unit is appropriate or not is of no consequence where E voluntarily recognized bargaining representative of unit)

Landmark International Trucks, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 170
(successor E who voluntarily recognized U and withdrew recognition 3 weeks later violated Act as it did not give reasonable time for bargaining to succeed)

4080-0175-6000 Contract

Construction Erectors, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 098
(on remand from U.S. Court of Appeals, Bd found E's repudiation of collective bargaining agreement before its termination date, unlawful, since workforce in bargaining unit had become permanent and stable and U obtained majority support w/i unit of Ironworkers during period w/i effective term of applicable contract; E moved its Ees from job to job and did not regularly assign Ees to single jobs and then to no subsequent jobs; 10 of 15 Ees in core group were U members and worked 75% of total days on which Ironworkers were employed)

Baldor Electric Company 258 NLRB No. 183
(where majority of unit Ees voted to replace incumbent U with another U and E continued to recognize incumbent U and honor dues-checkoff authorization it did not violate Act as E is required to continue to recognize U with which it has contract so long as contract bars representation ptn; duty to bargain is not affected by U's loss of majority status and here where E faced with two tenable claims of representative status it should not be forced to choose between competing groups)

Pacific Erectors, Inc. 256 NLRB No. 066
(violation, where contractor discharged Ironworker Ees, and rather than resolve dispute signed contract with Sheet Metal Workers over protest of Ironworkers, since E had short form contract with Iron Workers who had majority on job, notwithstanding Ironworker Ees walked off job, or that short form contract stated dispute provisions of master agreement were not binding; E's action could not be justified by existence of any jurisdictional dispute nor could Sheet Metal Workers contract be considered pre-hire contract under construction industry proviso for job herein where job between 34 to 40 percent complete when signed)

Royce Lindsay d/b/a Royce Lindsay Plumbing, Heating, and Refrigeration Supply Company, etc. JD-(SF)-3-82
(where owner of individual proprietorship formed several business entities to replace individual proprietorship which had E-association contract with U, and new entities were found to constitute single E, E held to have unlawfully refused to recognize and bargain with U and to have unlawfully withdrawn recognition of U, since new entities are disguised continuance of individual proprietorship, were admittedly formed to avoid higher costs of U contract, and are subject to all legal and contractual obligations of predecessor)

4080-0175-8000 Refusal to negotiate renewal of contract while continuing recognition under current one

4080-0175-8033—Cont.

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 170
(where E had withdrawn recognition and then reestablished bargaining relationship, withdrawal of recognition again and continued refusal to meet and bargain with U violative)

The Workshop, Inc. JD-230-80
(E's failure to ans U's letter requesting meeting to negotiate new, modified contract, unlawful where presumption of majority status continued, and evidence did not support E's claim of doubt of U's majority status; E's poll of Ees was unlawful, decline in Ees' checkoff authorizations resulted from decline in unit size, Ees' decertification ptn was filed 3 month's after E's refusal to bargain, and failure to fill U office at E's facility did not support E's claim when Ees there were still represented by U)

4080-0175-8067 Timely filing of petition for election

Abbey Medical/Abbey Rents, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 129
(during term of collective-bargaining agreement, E cannot withdraw recognition from U so long as valid election ptn cannot be timely filed)

4080-0175-9000 Settlement agreement

Mammoth of California, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 673 F.2d 1091 (C.A. 9, Apr. 1982)
(where E signed settlement agreement in April stating that it would bargain with U, certification year expired in June, Ees filed decertification ptn in July, and E withdrew recognition in August alleging it believed U had lost majority status based on said ptn, withdrawal was unlawful, since E by its settlement agreement had committed itself to bargaining for a reasonable period regardless of certification year and U's status and reasonable period extended 4 months)

4080-9000 Objective Considerations Evaluated in Establishing Employer's Doubt of Majority Status

4080-9001 Generally

Volcan-Hart Corporation (St. Louis Division) 262 NLRB No. 017
(rejection of U induced by E is opposite of what is called objective consideration for questioning majority)

Farr's Cafeterias, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 125
(withdrawal of recognition from U, violative, where E cannot base good faith doubt of U's majority status upon anti-U petitions or Ees subsequent filing of decertification petition since such Ee defections resulted from E's own misconduct)

Schmutz Foundry and Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 197
(withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain, unlawful where E failed to express its alleged doubt of U's majority status at time U requested bargaining after E announced forthcoming resumption of temporarily discontinued operations and where, when expressed, its doubts allegedly based on U's inactivity and Ee disaffection with U were not reasonably based on objective facts, and its own RM petition was not basis for doubt)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(sum total of: 70% turnover in personnel, statements of Ees regarding dissatisfaction with U, extremely low attendance at U meetings, lack of any grievance activity, during first contract term or of visits by U to E's facility, cumulatively was sufficient to shift burden to GC to establish U's majority; ct refused to place burden on E of possibly committing ULP of bargaining with minority)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)
(cumulative effect of all evidence of loss of majority is what is relevant consideration, not each element)

4080-9006 Claims asserted by rival union

4080-9006-2000 By representation petition

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033
(no violation where E withdrew recognition from U after expiration of contracts and made unilateral changes in working conditions where 124 Ees out of unit of 130 Ees signed ptn stating they no longer desired U to represent them, since withdrawal of recognition based on objective considerations to support good faith doubt of U's continuing majority; good faith doubt justified withdrawal notwithstanding another U had filed R ptn since these circumstances constitute exception to Bd's modification of Midwest Piping, in RCA del Caribe that normally E must continue to bargain with incumbent U during processing of ptn by outside U)

Dresser Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 145
(overruling Telautograph rule, Bd held that mere filing of decertification ptn, like mere filing of rival U's ptn, would not require or permit E to withdraw from bargaining or executing contract with incumbent U, since such rule does not give due weight to incumbent U's continuing presumption of majority status and is not best way to achieve E neutrality in the election; E with good faith doubt based on objective evidence, e.g. decertification ptn supported by unit majority, may still withdraw; E's actions herein held not unlawful since E relied on then applicable Bd law of Telautograph)

RCA del Caribe, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 116
(E violates Sec. 8(a)(5) by withdrawing from bargaining with incumbent U based solely on fact that ptn has been filed by outside U; however, may still withdraw recognition if its good faith doubt based on other objective considerations)

Abraham Grossman d/b/a Bruckner Nursing Home 262 NLRB No. 115
(Bd will no longer find Sec. 8(a)(2) violations in rival U, initial organizing situations when an E recognizes U which alone represents uncoerced, unassisted majority, before valid ptn for election has been filed with Bd; however, once notified of valid ptn, E must refrain from recognizing any of rival Us)

4080-9006-9000 By other means

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(signed representation cards of rival U are better evidence of loss of majority support than decline in dues payment as these are unambiguous indications that Ees have rejected U itself as their bargaining agent)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(where E told Ees that they would henceforth be represented by another U, they picketed for 5 minutes on behalf of that U and then with E signed collective-bargaining agreement with U, this is not evidence of good faith support for U)

4080-9012 Employer's information concerning employee dissatisfaction with union

Marriott In-Flite Service, A Division of Marriott Corporation 258 NLRB No. 099
(E's withdrawal of recognition based on decertification ptn filed after certification year, unlawful, in view of its previous failure to bargain in good faith, and where, notwithstanding it could only identify handfull of Ees who had indicated desire to get rid of U, E planted idea of decertification in minds of Ees by holding meetings on work time at which supervisors spoke time at which supervisors spoke in favor of decertification, distributed booklets regarding decertification procedure and suggested actual language for ptns)

4080-9012-0100 Generally

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(E has burden of producing clear and convincing evidence of loss of U support)

H & D, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 670 F.2d 120 (C.A. 9, Feb. 1982)
(ct upheld Bd's finding violation in E's unilateral withdrawal from and refusal to bargain as part of multi-E group where bargaining to impasse and mass resignation of E's Ees from U were not unusual circumstances justifying withdrawal from multi-E bargaining unit; test is not whether majority of Ees of one E resign from U but whether majority of all Ees represented in contract negotiations resign)

4080-9012-0150 Must come from employees and not employer on their behalf

Lincoln Hills Nursing Home, Inc.; et al. 257 NLRB No. 140
(proof of Ees dissatisfaction must be documented by objective evidence and lacking such evidence, E's withdrawal of recognition violative)

KPNX Broadcasting Company, Inc. d/b/a KSD-AM Radio 262 NLRB No. 080
(E who withdrew recognition from incumbent U based on ptn signed by majority of unit Ees did not violate Act where E played no part in circulating ptn and had never been involved in any ULPs)

Hydro Conduit Corporation 264 NLRB No. 048
(circulation of anti-U ptn signed by 34 out of 38 Ees in unit and withdrawal of recognition of U based on ptn, not unlawful, since not attributable to E even if individual who circulated ptn held supervisor where individual was member of U and bargaining unit, was acting in concert with fellow Ees and not as representative of management in circulating ptn)

4080-9012-1700 Through statements of employees

Mingtree Restaurant, Inc. d/b/a Forbidden City Restaurant 265 NLRB No. 082
(supervisors' affidavits stating that majority of Ees expressed strong antiunion sentiments w/o stating what those statements were held not sufficient to show good faith doubt of U's majority status since affidavits merely tantamount to allegations but not proof of discontent)

Stratford Visiting Nurses Association 264 NLRB No. 136
(presumption of continuation of certified U's majority status upon expiration of its contract with E not rebutted by facts that: only 2 of 6 unit Ees were U members; only 2 of 6 unit Ees were on dues checkoff; and 2, or 3, of 6 unit Ees testified at Bd hearing that they did not want U to represent them as of refusal-to-bargain date. None of above facts established lack of majority support for U. As to last reason, none of Ees had communicated to U their desire not to be represented and such testimony is highly unreliable for it requests Ee to relate several months old uncommunicated states of mind, knowing that E's defense rests on reply)

4080-5012-1700—Cont.

Pick-Mt. Laurel Corporation 239 NLRB No. 094
(expression of dissatisfaction with U made to supervisors by at least 29 out of 103 Ees; and notwithstanding occurred outside Section 10(b) period, predecessor E's illegal practice of requiring Ees to join U and sign dues checkoff on first day of work and continuing this practice into 10(b) period, and its recognition of U and negotiation of agreement w/o designation by any member of unit, sufficient to support successor E's good faith doubt justifying its withdrawal of recognition)

Landmark International Trucks, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 170
(statements by two Ees that they were disenchanted with U and no longer wished to be members or pay dues insufficient to establish rejection of U - even by 2 Ees who made statements)

Landmark International Trucks, Inc. 257 NLRB No. 170
(Ee's statement to E that everyone in service department had resigned from U not sufficient to provide E with objective evidence of Ee dissatisfaction with U and are merely hearsay)

Kenyon Printing and Office Supply, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 184
(anti-U comments of one Ee out of unit of five did not signify loss of majority or warrant good faith doubt)

Schmutz Foundry and Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 197
(supervisor's report of conversation with one allegedly disaffected Ee and uninvestigated hearsay not valid basis for doubt)

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. (Hotel & Restaurant Employees & Bartenders Union, Local No. 235) 249 NLRB No. 155
(where 43 Ees had voted against U, expression in discussions with E's supervisors little more than a year after election of dissatisfaction with U by 33 Ees who, according to some testimony, had always been opposed to U found not to rebut presumption of U's majority status or to constitute objective basis for good faith doubt of U's continued majority status)

The Saloon, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 186
(withdrawal of recognition upon expiration of contract, unlawful, where E failed to rebut contracting U's majority presumption by asserting that 10 percent of unit Ees lacked zeal for U, and by conclusionary observations to E by supervisor that lot of Ees did not care for U)

Victor Marsh, A Division of TCB, Inc. JD-272-82
(E had objective basis for good faith doubt of U's majority that justified withdrawal of recognition, in totality of circumstances, where strike replacements crossed picket line and there were conflicts on picket line between pickets and replacements, and in view of 12 resignations from U during strike out of unit of 105 and expression of applicants for positions replacing strikers that they prefered to work w/o U representation)

Patio Lodge, Inc., and Fountain Lodge, Inc. JD-(ATL)-40-82
(statement of Ee that she was glad to be out of U not basis for doubt of majority status)

International Total Services, Inc. JD-66-81
(successor E's refusal to recognize and bargain with U, not unlawful, where E could reasonably doubt that U was representative of majority of its Ees in light of U's waiting several months after successor took over facility before demanding recognition and by that time complement of current Ees no longer comprised majority of predecessor's Ees; moreover, there were no ULPs and majority of Ees interviewed by E stated they did not want U)

Prairie Glove Division, Advance Glove Company JD-164-80
(E's withdrawing recognition from, and refusing to bargain with, U assertedly because Ees at work during U strike said they would like to vote on union issue, or wanted to vote U issue, or could not understand why they could not vote on U issue, violative since, even if E's testimony concerning alleged statements by Ees was credited, the words attributed to Ees did not constitute rejection of U representation, and as such E did not have objective basis for doubting U's majority status)

Cain's Generator and Armature Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 620 F.2d 933 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement granted where substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that none of factors relied upon by E justified withdrawal or recognition from U; E had relied upon U's alleged loss of majority status where (1) 10 of 23 Ees were new Ees, (2) lack of Ee requests for dues checkoffs--a voluntary action, and (3) several unidentified Ees had expressed dissatisfaction with U--, not objective factor in determining majority status)

N.L.R.B. v. Mar-Len Cabinets, Inc. 659 F.2d 995 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(Ees' expression of dissatisfaction with U's failure to report bargaining developments and to respond to questions about consequences of working behind picket lines not valid basis for doubt where, taken in context, did not indicate repudiation of U but only displeasure with U's handling of bargaining negotiations)

N.L.R.B. v. The Saloon, Inc. 667 F.2d 1707(T) (C.A. 9, Mar 1982)
(withdrawing recognition upon expiration of contract, violative since bargaining relationship was presumed to continue where only 4 or 5 Ees out of unit of 40 or 50 Ees had misgivings relative to U representation)

4080-5012-4000 Poll by employee

Petroleum Contractors, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 084
(contention of E which had prior bargaining agreement with U that its refusal to sign new agreement justified since negotiations conducted subject to condition precedent that U demonstrate majority status, rejected, where Ees approved contract and presumption of majority not rebutted by Ees' lack of membership or check off authorizations, nor by written poll taken by Ee where no valid decertification ptn filed)

4080-5012-5000 Polling by employer

Mingtree Restaurant, Inc. d/b/a Forbidden City Restaurant 265 NLRB No. 082
(poll conducted for E by accounting firm for E after expiration of contract which showed lack of Ee support for recognized U, unlawful, notwithstanding properly conducted w/i guidelines of Struksnes Construction Co., where E did not have sufficient objective considerations upon which to base a reasonable doubt of U's majority status prior to conducting poll)

Hutchinson-Hayes International, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 148
(before E can poll Ees about their desire for continued U representation, it must demonstrate it has objective basis for doubting U's majority status)

Thomas Industries, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 094
(withdrawal of recognition based on poll of Ees as to whether they wished to continue to be represented by U, unlawful, where poll was violative since neither minority number of Ees' expression of dissatisfaction with U, decline in U dues check-off authorizations, nor resignations of U officers or members, provided requisite objective basis for doubting U's majority required for polling where U was certified and bargaining agreement in effect; further, atmosphere not conducive to free choice was created by E by delivering captive audience speech urging Ees to vote against U immediately prior to poll)

N.L.R.B. v. A.W. Thompson, Inc. 651 F.2d 1141 (C.A. 5, July 1981)
(E who has not engaged in ULPs or otherwise created coercive atmosphere may, after giving notice to certified bargaining representative, poll Ees for their U sentiment if there is substantial, objective evidence of loss of U support (even if evidence by itself not sufficient to justify withdrawal), and if poll meets procedural guidelines set out in Struksnes Construction Co. 165 NLRB 1062 (1967))

Thomas Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 863 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)
(polls to test Ees' U sentiments are justified only if E has substantial, objective basis for doubting in good faith U's majority status even if that basis is insufficient in itself to justify withdrawal)

4080-5012-6700 Written communications from employees

Signal Transformer Co., Inc. 265 NLRB No. 033
(no violation where E withdrew recognition from U after expiration of contracts and made unilateral changes in working conditions where 124 Ees out of unit of 130 Ees signed ptn stating they no longer desired U to represent them, since withdrawal of recognition based on objective considerations to support good faith doubt of U's continuing majority; good faith doubt justified withdrawal notwithstanding another U had filed R ptn since these circumstances constitute exception to Bd's modification of Midwest Piping, in RCA del Caribe that normally E must continue to bargain with incumbent U during processing of ptn by outside U)

Hutchinson-Hayes International, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 168
(ptn signed by 9 Ees indicating that they did not want to be represented by U sufficient to prove that those Ees did not desire U representation)

Abbey Medical/Abbey Rents, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 129
(E who withdrew recognition from U based on information received from Ees that they were no longer interested in U representation violated Act as assertion of doubt of majority status was tainted by its commission of Sec. 8(a)(5) ULP of unilaterally ceasing contractually mandated fringe-benefit contributions)

Antonopoulos, Incorporated d/b/a Roger's of Santa Clara 261 NLRB No. 040
(E's withdrawal of recognition from U based on petition solicited by supervisory Ee violative as petition tainted and E did not have good faith doubt of majority status)

United States Gypsum Company 260 NLRB No. 148
(withdrawal of recognition violative where Ees ptns to E stating that they no longer wished U to represent them were tainted by E's refusal to disregard requests by U and mediator to set dates for bargaining)

Lexington Cartage Company, Inc. 259 NLRB No. 088
(ptn signed by all members of unit stating that they wished to renounce U not unusual circumstance that would justify E's refusal to bargain during

best copy available

4080-5012-6700—Cont.

certification year; further, ptn signed after E's discharge of leading U adherent and where E had made no counterproposals to U contract proposals during two and a half months and several bargaining sessions)

Staats and Staats, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 105
(ptn signed by Ees stating they no longer wanted U rejected as reliable guage of Ee sentiment towards U where ptn followed in wake of E's unremedied ULPs)

Hydro Conduit Corporation 254 NLRB No. 048
(circulation of anti-U ptn signed by 34 out of 38 Ees in unit and withdrawal of recognition of U based on ptn, not unlawful, since not attributable to E even if individual who circulated ptn held supervisor where individual was member of U and bargaining unit, was acting in concert with fellow Ees and not as representative of management in circulating ptn)

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. 290 NLRB No. 028
(E may lawfully insist on contract terminating with certification year only when it has reasonable belief based on objective considerations that U no longer possesses majority support, and here, where basis for E's belief was letter from some unit members expressing their dissatisfaction with U's conduct of ratification election in which U refused to allow nonmembers right to vote, does not constitute signers' opposition to continued representation by U and refusal to bargain violative)

Petroleum Contractors, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 094
(contention of E which had prior bargaining agreement with U that its refusal to sign new agreement justified since negotiations conducted subject to condition precedent that U demonstrate majority status, rejected, where Ees approved contract and presumption of majority not rebutted by Ees' lack of membership or check off authorizations, nor by written poll taken by Ee where no valid decertification ptn filed)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(Ee ptn signed by almost half of Ees asserting interest in representation by in-plant committee held not evidence of U's loss of majority as ptn was tainted by superintendants' suggestions that Ees sign or they might lose jobs, use of E's time and premises in support of ptn; thus, E did not demonstrate neutrality)

Crestline Memorial Hospital Association, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 668 F.2d 243 (C.A. 6, Jan. 1982)
(letter from non-U Ees to hospital protesting U ratification procedures which denied them vote not enough to support good faith doubt of majority status of certified bargaining representative which is conclusively presumed for 1 year, especially where letter silent on question of continued support of U itself)

N.L.R.B. v. Half-Century, Inc. d/b/a Holiday Inn of Niles, Michigan 644 F.2d 885(T) (C.A. 6, Jan 21, 1981)
(ct denied enforcement of bargaining order, reversing Bd finding of bad faith bargaining, where successor-E had met with U but did not reach agreement and during course of negotiations ptn signed by 2/3's of Ees was presented to E indicating they no longer wished U representation and E refused to bargain further)

Sahara-Tahoe Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 648 F.2d 553 (C.A. 9, Nov 1980)
(E's refusal to bargain held unlawful, notwithstanding E's contention of good faith doubt of U majority, since ptn for decertification, of which E had knowledge, although it was not filed, did not by itself or together with other evidence unequivocally indicate U support had declined to minority; however, this decision did not imply that a ptn which unambiguously indicated desire not to be represented by U and signed by substantial number of Ees could not be considered in arriving at good faith doubt if that ptn had not been filed)

N.L.R.B. v. Sacramento Clinical Laboratory, Inc. 623 F.2d 110 (C.A. 9, July 1980)
(no violation by withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain or basis of U's loss of majority status where part-time Ee initiated and urged other part-time Ees to sign antiU ptn while predicting dire consequences of unionization, which predictions could not be attributed to E and could be evaluated by fellow Ees over whom Ee-petitioner had neither influence nor control)

4080-5012-8300 Employee support of rival union

Baldor Electric Company 258 NLRB No. 183
(where majority of unit Ees voted to replace incumbent U with another U and E continued to recognize incumbent U and honor dues-checkoff authorization it did not violate Act as E is required to continue to recognize U with which it has contract so long as contract bars representation ptn; duty to bargain is not affected by U's loss of majority status and here where E faced with two tenable claims of representative status it should not be forced to choose between competing groups)

4080-5012-9900 From other sources

International Medication Systems, Ltd. 253 NLRB No. 128
(fact, that members of Ees' negotiating committee became disinterested in further participation in contract negotiations does not, alone, establish general Ee disinterest in being represented by U)

Hospitality Motor Inn, Inc. (Hotel & Restaurant Employees & Bartenders Union, Local No. 235) 250 NLRB No. 158
(U official's statement in newspaper article that few of E's workers employed during election and on bargaining committee remained because of E's harrassment found not to constitute objective basis for good faith doubt of majority status since it was not admission by U of loss of majority but accusations of ULPs of E; moreover, E's asserted high turnover was not abnormal)

N.L.R.B. v. A.W. Thompson, Inc. 651 F.2d 1141 (C.A. 5, July 1981)
(lack of Ee participation in U affairs, Ee turnover, U's failure to process grievances, post notices on bulletin boards, appoint stewards, absence of Ee conversations about U and change in ownership of company are insufficient factors to support a good faith doubt in majority status as, unlike in industrial setting, nature of oil-drilling industry and wide dispersion of Ees did not lead to conclusion of lack of U support on part of Ees)

4080-5018 Employee support or lack thereof of incumbent's strike

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156
(expression of Ee sentiment against engaging in strike falls far short of providing sufficient objective evidence that U no longer represented majority of E's work force)

Hutchison-Hayes International, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 168
(non participation in strike is not enough to indicate lack of support for U)

Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc. 261 NLRB No. 087
(defense that E withdrew recognition because certification year had expired and E allegedly believed U had lost its majority status because unit Ees did not support strike vote, rejected where E offered no evidence of lack of such support; moreover E had undermined U support with its ULPs)

Pennco, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 093
(new Ees, including replacements for strikers, are presumed to support incumbent U in same ratio as those they replaced, notwithstanding crossed picket line on which violence had occured; Bd refused to presume U would not be able to accomodate interests of striking and non-striking Ees)

Victor Marsh, A Division of TCB, Inc. JD-272-82
(E had objective basis for good faith doubt of U's majority that justified withdrawal of recognition, in totality of circumstances, where strike replacements crossed picket line and there were conflicts on picket line between pickets and replacements, and in view of 12 resignations from U during strike out of unit of 105 and expression of applicants for positions replacing strikers that they prefered to work w/o U representation).

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(no good faith doubt exists that U lost majority notwithstanding strike replacements plus number of Ees not on strike exceeds number of strikers, as Ees' refusal to cross or join picket line does not create such presumption)

N.L.R.B. v. Mar-Len Cabinets, Inc. 659 F.2d 995 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)
(fact no Ee joined in picket line established by U, not valid basis for doubt, where refusal to join was for economic reasons)

4080-5024 Checkoff authorizations

4080-5024-2500 Voluntary

Stratford Visiting Nurses Association 264 NLRB No. 136
(presumption of continuation of certified U's majority status upon expiration of its contract with E not rebutted by facts that: only 2 of 6 unit Ees were U members; only 2 of 6 unit Ees were on dues checkoff; and 2, or 3, of 6 unit Ees testified at Bd hearing that they did not want U to represent them as of refusal-to-bargain date. None of above facts established lack of majority support for U. As to last reason, none of Ees had communicated to U their desire not to be represented and such testimony is highly unreliable for it requests Ee to relate several months old uncommunicated states of mind, knowing that E's defense rests on reply)

Cain's Generator and Armature Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 628 F.2d 983 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(enforcement granted where substantial evidence supported Bd's finding that none of factors relied upon by E justified withdrawal or recognition from U; E had relied upon U's alleged loss of majority status where (1) 10 of 23 Ees were new Ees, (2) lack of Ee requests for dues checkoffs–a voluntary action, and (3) several unidentified Ees had expressed dissatisfaction with U–, not objective factor in determining majority status)

4080-5024-5000 Pursuant to union security

4080-5024-5000—Cont.

Pick-Mt. Laurel Corporation 259 NLRB No. 034

(expression of dissatisfaction with U made to supervisors by at least 29 out of 103 Ees; and notwithstanding occurred outside Section 10(b) period, predecessor E's illegal practice of requiring Ees to join U and sign dues checkoff on first day of work and continuing this practice into 10(b) period, and its recognition of U and negotiation of agreement w/o designation by any member of unit, sufficient to support successor E's good faith doubt justifying its withdrawal of recognition)

Petroleum Contractors, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 094

(contention of E which had prior bargaining agreement with U that its refusal to sign new agreement justified since negotiations conducted subject to condition precedent that U demonstrate majority status, rejected, where Ees approved contract and presumption of majority not rebutted by Ees' lack of membership or check off authorizations, nor by written poll taken by Ee where no valid decertification ptn filed)

4080-5024-6700 Decrease in authorizations

Patio Lodge, Inc., and Fountain Lodge, Inc. JD-(ATL)-40-82

(dues checkoff revocations not basis for good faith doubt of majority status where no showing of substantial number of revocations shortly before withdrawal of recognition and particularly in right to work state)

Thomas Industries, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 687 F.2d 863 (C.A. 6, Sept. 1982)

(rapid or large decline in dues checkoff (from 63% to 31% in period of 10 months), negative comments about U by 1/3 Ees, resignations by Ees, U vice president and 5 other officials was substantial objective evidence of loss of U support in 102 Ee unit)

N.L.R.B. v. Triplett Corporation 619 F.2d 586 (C.A. 6, 1980)

(ct held E did not violate 8(a)(5) by withdrawing recognition from and refusing to bargain with certified U since E rebutted presumption of U's continued majority status by showing good faith doubt thereof where few eligible Ees became new members, grievances declined, and in one-week period one-sixth of unit Ees notified E that they were terminating membership and rescinding dues checkoff; Bd failed to distinguish or set forth acceptable reasons for not following this ct's decision in Automated Business Systems)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 625 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)

(E had insufficient evidence to overcome presumption of continuing majority support where withdrawal of recognition based on decline in U dues check-off authorization in right-to-work state, high Ee turnover and U's seeming willingness to agree to almost any E contract proposal and fact that E acted in good faith is necessary but not sufficient element to justify withdrawal)

4080-5024-7500 Revocations

Hutchison-Hayes International, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 168

(revocation of dues checkoff authorization not sufficient to prove lack of support for U)

Strite-Anderson Mfg. JD-175-82

(E's changes in working hours and punching in and disregard of old contract's seniority requirements regarding recall from layoff, not unlawful in absence of new contract or renewal of expired contract where E had reasonable doubt of U's majority status based on U shop steward's circulation of decertification ptn and Ees' revocation of checkoff authorizations)

4080-5030 Internal union activities as evidence of lack of support

4080-5030-3300 Nonpayment of dues or fees

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)

(decreased dues payments alone cannot rebut presumption of majority support)

4080-5030-5000 Nonmembership in Union

Robertshaw Controls Company 263 NLRB No. 128

(following objective considerations of E to support claim U no longer majority insufficient to rebut presumption of continuing majority status: only 1/3 Ees employed at election time still employed; only 46 of total complement of 330 were U members, annual turnover of 60-65%, E advised by many Ees of dissatisfaction with U insufficient because: Bd holds that showing less than majority of unit Ees are U members not equivalent to lack of majority support, turnover not sufficient to establish reasonable doubt due to presumption that new Ees support E in same ratio as old, conversations with Ees not enough to establish proof Ees do not support U)

Petroleum Contractors, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 094

(contention of E which had prior bargaining agreement with U that its refusal to sign new agreement justified since negotiations conducted subject to condition precedent that U demonstrate majority status, rejected, where Ees approved contract and presumption of majority not rebutted by Ees' lack of membership or check off authorizations, nor by written poll taken by Ee where no valid decertification ptn filed)

Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc. 267 NLRB No. [illegible]

Victor Marsh, A Division of TCB, Inc. JD-272-82

(E had objective basis for good faith doubt of U's majority that justified withdrawal of recognition, in totality of circumstances, where strike replacements crossed picket line and there were conflicts on picket line between pickets and replacements, and in view of 12 resignations from U during strike out of unit of 105 and expression of applicants for positions replacing strikers that they prefered to work w/o U representation)

Bellwood General Hospital, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 627 F.2d 98 (C.A. 7, 1980)

(refusal to allow E to introduce into evidence U's membership list obtained after withdrawal of recognition improper, notwithstanding membership not correlative with U support, since low membership is clearly probative to issue of U's continued majority and admissibility is not determined solely by what evidence E could have relied on upon in making decision to withdraw recognition)

4080-5030-5500 Resignations from union

N.L.R.B. v. Mar-Len Cabinets, Inc. 659 F.2d 995 (C.A. 9, Oct. 1981)

(fact 4 out of 6 Ees in unit resigned from U not valid basis for doubt where sufficient evidence to support Bd's conclusion that Ees resigned from U to avoid potential fines rather than to oust U and resulted from Es unlawful refusal to bargain)

4080-5036 Inactivity by union

N.L.R.B. v. A.W. Thompson, Inc. 651 F.2d 1141 (C.A. 5, July 1981)

(lack of Ee participation in U affairs, Ee turnover, U's failure to process grievances, post notices on bulletin boards, appoint stewards, absence of Ee conversations about U and change in ownership of company are insufficient factors to support a good faith doubt in majority status as, unlike in industrial setting, nature of oil-drilling industry and wide dispersion of Ees did not lead to conclusion of lack of U support on part of Ees)

4080-5036-2500 Lack of communication with employer

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078

(notwithstanding impasse reached, neither stalled negotiations, hiatus in bargaining requests, U's alleged inactivity, nor filing of RD and RM petitions, taken separately or together, suffice to raise good faith doubt of U's majority status)

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cummins Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 065

(record does not support finding of U inactivity to question U's majority status where: U's showing of interest was tainted by E's ULPs; U had notified E of dues increase for checkoff purposes; several Ee grievances had been processed by U during term of its contract with E; and U had active shop steward who quit her job because of too many complaints)

Schmutz Foundry and Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 197

(U's failure to demand bargaining over closing and its effects not valid basis for doubt where closing was fait accompli)

International Total Services, Inc. JD-66-81

(successor E's refusal to recognize and bargain with U, not unlawful, where E could reasonably doubt that U was representative of majority of its Ees in light of U's waiting several months after successor took over facility before demanding recognition and by that time complement of current Ees no longer comprised majority of predecessor's Ees; moreover, there were no ULPs and majority of Ees interviewed by E stated they did not want U)

4080-5036-5000 Lack of communication or contact with employees

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cummins Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 065

(record does not support finding of U inactivity to question U's majority status where: U's showing of interest was tainted by E's ULPs; U had notified E of dues increase for checkoff purposes; several Ee grievances had been processed by U during term of its contract with E; and U had active shop steward who quit her job because of too many complaints)

First National Maintenance Corporation 284 NLRB No. 028

(inference that U did not represent majority of E's Ees gleaned from facts that: (1) no Ees had signed cards for U; (2) no Ees had paid dues to any U; (3) no notices, meetings or information concerning U had been brought to Ees' attention; and (4) U representative failed to appear at Bd hearing with any testimony or cards concerning U membership)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)

(2 year lapse of time between strike and E's refusal to bargain does not prove U had any lack of interest in Ees of E and E did not have good faith doubt of majority status based on this reason)

4080-5036-7500 Failure to file grievances

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cummins Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 065

(record does not support finding of U inactivity to question U's majority status where: U's showing of interest was tainted by E's ULPs; U had notified E of dues increase for checkoff purposes; several Ee grievances had been processed by U during term of its contract with E; and U had active shop steward who quit her job because of too many complaints)

4080-5036-7500—Cont.

4080-5042 Union animus

4080-5042-3300 Employer's ULP as affecting asserted reasonable grounds

Elias Mallouk Realty Corp. 265 NLRB No. 156

(E's granting recognition to another U and negotiating contract with it after contract with incumbent U had expired, unlawful, in view of E's unlawful refusal to bargain with incumbent U and unlawful assistance to favored U and absent objective considerations to rebut U's presumption of continuing majoirty status)

Abbey Medical/Abbey Rents, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 129

(E who withdrew recognition from U based on information received from Ees that they were no longer interested in U representation violated Act as assertion of doubt of majority status was tainted by its commission of Sec. 8(a)(5) ULP of unilaterally ceasing contractually mandated fringe-benefit coutributions)

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor
Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cummins Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 065

(ULPs preclude E from asserting doubt of U's continued majority status)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 087

(withdrawing recognition and refusing to execute bargaining agreement, violative, where E's doubt that U represented Ee majority was based on disaffection ptn which E unlawfully induced and aided in its circulation)

Mark Twain Marine Industries, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 144

(withdrawal of recognition and refusal to bargain based on contention that U lost support of majority, violative, since any loss of majority was result of E's ULPs)

Kuno Steel Products Corp. etc. 252 NLRB No. 127

(E's defense to its refusal to offer strikers reinstatement was that U lost its majority, rejected, where any loss of majority attributable to ULPs of E who cannot reap benefits from such conduct)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162

(purchaser of business held successor and obligated to bargain with U representing Ees of seller where it engaged in same business at same facility and sold to substantially same customers as seller and employed all of supervisory and nonsupervisory Ees in their same job classifications; further, purchaser may not justify its failure to bargain on basis of or basis of good faith doubt of Us majority where it acquired business with full knowledge of seller's unlawful refusal to bargain)

Osteopathic Hospital Founders Association, d/b/a
Oklahoma Osteopathic Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 618 F.2d 633 (C.A. 10, 1980)

(E's withdrawal of recognition assertedly because of its doubt as to U's majority status, violative, since U's loss of majority was at least partly attributable to E's refusing to promote and hire U supporters into bargaining unit and engaging in other conduct designed to convey a coercive message to a U member)

4080-5046 Prior bargaining relationship

WDIV Post-Newsweek Stations, Michigan, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 067

(E's withdrawal of recognition from U, unlawful where, in light of bargaining history of unit, E could not have had, and did not have, good faith doubt of U's majority status when it received mediator's report of rival U card check)

4080-5051 Unlawful recognition of and relationship with union

Arpame Electric Corp. 248 NLRB No. 049

(E's recognizing and contracting with U which picketed E at construction site at time when E and another U were bound by current contract which E refused to honor held violative of Sections 8(a)(2), (3), (5) and (1) of Act)

4080-5066 Change in unit composition

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v.
N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)

(no good faith doubt exists that U lost majority notwithstanding strike replacements plus number of Ees not on strike exceeds number of strikers, as Ees' refusal to cross or join picket line does not create such presumption)

Peoples Gas System, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 629 F.2d 35 (C.A.D.C., 1980)

(E had insufficient evidence to overcome presumption of continuing majority support where withdrawal of recognition based on decline in U dues check-off authorization in right-to-work state, high Ee turnover and U's seeming willingness to agree to almost any E contract proposal and fact that E acted in good faith is necessary but not sufficient element to justify withdrawal)

4080-5066-2500 Economic turnover

Carter-Glogau Laboratories, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 017

(contention that striker replacements and newly hired Ees comprise majority of bargaining unit and that strikers who supported U are minority held insufficient to establish that U lacked majority support and does not constitute unusual circumstances)

Robertshaw Controls Company 263 NLRB No. 12

(following objective considerations of E to support claim U no longer majority insufficient to rebut presumption of continuing majority status: only 1/3 Ees employed at election time still employed; only 46 of total complement of 330 were U members, annual turnover of 60-65%, E advised by many Ees of dissatisfaction with U insufficient because: Bd holds that showing less than majority of unit Ees are U members not equivalent to lack of majority support, turnover not sufficient to establish reasonable doubt due to presumption that new Ees support E in same ratio as old, conversations with Ees not enough to establish proof Ees do not support U)

Cardinal Systems, A Division of Hospitality Motor
Inns, Inc., d/b/a Cummins Component Plant 259 NLRB No. 065

(turnover of Ees insufficient basis to question U's majority status, since it is presumed new Ees will support U in same ratio as those whom they have replaced)

International Medication Systems, Ltd. 253 NLRB No. 12

Kenyon Printing and Office Supply, Inc. 252 NLRB No. 15

(Ee turnover held not proof that U no longer represented majority since new Ees are presumed to support U in same ratio as those they replaced)

Pennco, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 093

(fact only 42 striking Ees out of unit of 173 sought reinstatement at conclusion of strike not basis for good faith doubt of majority where E had withdrawn recognition from U 10 months prior to start of strike)

Patio Lodge, Inc., and Fountain Lodge, Inc. JD-(ATL)-40-82

(economic turnover after election not basis for doubt of Us majority status since, absence evidence to contrary, new Ees are presumed to support U in same ratio as those they replaced)

Cartwright Hardware Company, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 600 F.2d 268 (C.A. 10, 1979)

(bargaining order appropriate notwithstanding voluntary quit of three U members since presumption of continuing majority after expiration of contract justifies enforcement of order)

W & W Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 934 (C.A. 10, 1979)

(where U certified for company-wide unit of P&M Ees employed in predecessor's 7 plants and new E purchases one of these plants, latter E held not successor and its refusal to bargain with certified U not violative, where certification over 2 years old; only 8 of 49 presently employed revealed themselves to be U adherents, 13 had worked for predecessor but did not participate in strike and rest hired by predecessor after strike or new E; no ULPs or U animus by new E, all of which gave rise to good faith doubt of majority status in changed bargaining unit)

4080-5066-3000 Retirement

Kuno Steel Products Corp. etc. 252 NLRB No. 127

(retirement of striking Ees not indication that U no longer represented majority since their replacements are presumed to support ratio as those whom they replaced)

N.L.R.B. v. Koenig Iron Works, Inc.; et al. 681 F.2d 130 (C.A. 2, June 1982)

4080-5066-3700 Change in Operations

Air Express International Corporation v. N.L.R.B. 659 F.2d 610 (C.A. 5, Oct. 1981)

(restructuring district from single plant unit where U certified into 2 plant district to include plant in another state and having labor management policy formed to cover expanded district is not kind of change that amounts to unusual circumstances that would make certification invalid because it does not cover aggregate Ees in expanded district)

4080-5066-7500 Substantial increase in work force

Suburban Ford, Inc. 240 NLRB No. 051

(E's sudden and unprecedented attempt to pack bargaining units of salesmen and clerks with new Ees prior to election in two appropriate units held violative, since action was attempt to dilute, emasculate and destroy Us' majority status)

4080-5072 Replacement of economic strikers

I T Services, Division of I T Corporation 263 NLRB No. 18

(E had adequate objective basis to support good faith doubt of U majority after contract expired and during strike where majority in unit were strike replacements and told supervisor that they did not want U, picket line violence had been directed against them, and they knew of U demands that they be discharged)

Pennco, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 093

(new Ees, including replacements for strikers, are presumed to support incumbent U in same ratio as those they replaced, notwithstanding crossed picket line on which violence had occured; Bd refused to presume U would not be able to accomodate interests of striking and non-striking Ees)

4080-5072—Cont.

Pittsburgh and New England Trucking Co. 249 NLRB NO. 104
(withdrawal of recognition, after E had threatened striking Ees with statements that replacements would be hired and that these replacements' seniority would be superior to that of returning strikers, unlawful, where Ees felt continued concern about potential loss of employment)

Victor Marsh, A Division of TCB, Inc. JD-272-82
(E had objective basis for good faith doubt of U's majority that justified withdrawal of recognition, in totality of circumstances, where strike replacements crossed picket line and there were conflicts on picket line between pickets and replacements, and in view of 12 resignations from U during strike out of unit of 105 and expression of applicants for positions replacing strikers that they prefered to work w/o U representation)

Soule Glass and Glazing Co., et al. v. N.L.R.B. 652 F.2d 1055 (C.A. 1, May 1981)
(E's withdrawal of recognition based on loss of majority resulting from replacement of strikers, not violative, where there were 29 permanent replacements and 22 strikers, since replacements thus constituted majority, replacements are not presumed to support U whose picket line they cross, and herein replacements stated they wanted nothing to do with U; U took risk strikers would be replaced, knew replacements were being hired and E's actions, including those held ULPs not motivated by U animus)

N.L.R.B. v. Pennco, Inc. 684 F.2d 340 (C.A. 6, Mar. 1982)
(ct held E had not demonstrated good faith doubt that U represented majority of Ees when it withdrew recognition from U, and expressly declined to adopt both Bd's presumption that new hires support U in same percentage as strikers they replaced and E's presumption that new hires do not support U when violence occurs on picket line as herein; ct found E's evidence was sufficient only to put parties in equipoise and not enough to demonstrate E's good faith doubt of U's majority status)

4080-5078 Lapse of time since bargaining relationship established

4080-5078-7500 Remedial order

Knox Steel Products Corp. etc. 252 NLRB No. 127
(passage of time not justifiable cause for E's asserted doubt of U's majority status where passage of time was due to protracted litigation in which U actively participated, U engaged in at least occasional picketing and in meetings with Ees to keep them abreast of litigation)

4080-5080 Deauthorization movement

Hemet Casting Company 260 NLRB No. 060

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170
(supervisor's circulation of decertification ptn violative)

Hydro Conduit Corporation 254 NLRB No. 048
(circulation of anti-U ptn signed by 34 out of 38 Ees in unit and withdrawal of recognition of U based on ptn, not unlawful, since not attributable to E even if individual who circulated ptn held supervisor where individual was member of U and bargaining unit, was acting in concert with fellow Ees and not as representative of management in circulating ptn)

4080-5084 Decertification movement

Dresser Industries, Inc. 264 NLRB No. 145
(overruling Telautograph rule, Bd held that mere filing of decertification ptn, like mere filing of rival U's ptn, would not require or permit E to withdraw from bargaining or executing contract with incumbent U, since such rule does not give due weight to incumbent U's continuing presumption of majority status and is not best way to achieve E neutrality in the election; E with good faith doubt based on objective evidence, e.g. decertification ptn supported by unit majority, may still withdraw; E's actions herein held not unlawful since E relied on then applicable Bd law of Telautograph)

Taurus Waste Disposal, Inc. 263 NLRB No. 028
(filing of decertification ptn, three months after expiration of contract and E's cessation of payments to benefit funds, not objective basis for good faith doubt since mere filing of decertification ptn does not destroy presumption of continued majority)

Wagner Distribution Services, Inc. d/b/a Distribution Services West 262 NLRB No. 096
(decertification ptn not basis for good faith doubt where form letters renouncing U were prepared by E and circulated by supervisors)

Marriott In-Flite Service, A Division of Marriott Corporation 258 NLRB No. 099
(E's withdrawal of recognition based on decertification ptn filed after certification year, unlawful, in view of its previous failure to bargain in good faith, and where, notwithstanding it could only identify handfull of Ees who had indicated desire to get rid of U, E planted idea of decertification in minds of Ees by holding meetings on work time at which supervisors spoke time at which supervisors spoke in favor of decertification, distributed booklets regarding decertification procedure and suggested actual language for ptns)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 170
(withdrawal of recognition based on unlawfully circulated decertification ptn violative)

Arcadia Foods, Inc. 254 NLRB No. 128
(withdrawal of recognition from, and refusal to bargain with U after E had heard rumor that decertification ptn was being circulated among Ees held violative, since mere filing of decertification ptn is, of itself, insufficient justification for refusal to bargain)

Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc. 247 NLRB No. 085
(anti U ptn signed by 15 out of 26 Ees in unit not basis for doubt where supervisor had unlawfully solicited signatures)

Nordstrom, Inc. JD-(SF)-142-82
(E's refusal to execute contract based on decertification ptn violative where decertification ptn is invalid as result of E's improper promises of benefits to Ees)

Patio Lodge, Inc., and Fountain Lodge, Inc. JD-(ATL)-40-82
(decertification ptn filed when E's predecessor was operating facilities not sufficient basis for good faith doubt absent sufficient facts in record to determine weight information should receive, where predecessor E subsequently signed contract with U and since E held successor with obligation to bargain)

C. Langenfelder & Sons, Inc. JD-422-79
(E's refusal to take any action regarding executing contract until qcr resolved justified by decertification ptn signed by majority of unit Ees, absent evidence E or its representatives assisted in obtaining signatures or unlawfully enmeshed itself in decertification movement)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B 681 F.2d 127 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(E not responsible for actions of Ee who circulated decertification ptn, notwithstanding E supplied Ee with names of 4 attorneys to contact for information about decertification where such referral not improper; moreover, fact that E filed decertification ptn immediately after receipt of Ee's anti-U ptn may show condonation but it does not prove E played any role in securing Ee signatures)

Connecticut Distributors, Inc. v. N.L.R.B 681 F.2d 127 (C.A. 2, June 1982)
(if Ee found supervisor and is also member of U, E is responsible for his circulation of anti-U petitions only if it encouraged, authorized, or ratified supervisor's activities)

Garrett Railroad Car & Equipment, Inc. v. N.L.R.B. 683 F.2d 731 (C.A. 3, June 1982)
(Ee ptn signed by almost half of Ees asserting interest in representation by in-plant committee held not evidence of U's loss of majority as ptn was tainted by superintendants' suggestions that Ees sign or they might lose jobs, use of E's time and premises in support of ptn; thus, E did not demonstrate neutrality)

N.L.R.B. v. Maywood Plant of Grede Plastics 628 F.2d 1 (C.A.D.C.)
(E who had engaged in decertification campaign held not entitled to benefit of rule that filing of decertification may be by itself, a valid excuse for not bargaining with incumbent representative (provided that U's loss of majority status is not attributable to E's ULPs) but must also show some objective evidence of loss of majority status)

4080-5084-5000 Decertification petition majority support

Forester Beverage Corporation 265 NLRB No. 035
(E violated Act when it granted unilateral wage increases, created new driver sales routes, altered existing routes, and abolished helper position for 4 of its 5 package sales delivery routes after expiration of contract covering unit which was subject of decertification ptn, because E engaged in other unlawful conduct prior to filing ptn. See Autoprod, Inc. 223 NLRB 773 (1976))

KPNX Broadcasting Company, Inc. d/b/a KSD-AM Radio 262 NLRB No. 063
(E who withdrew recognition from incumbent U based on ptn signed by majority of unit Ees did not violate Act where E played no part in circulating ptn and had never been involved in any ULPs)

Strite-Anderson Mfg. JD-175-82
(E's changes in working hours and punching in and disregard of old contract's seniority requirements regarding recall from layoff, not unlawful in absence of new contract or renewal of expired contract where E had reasonable doubt of U's majority status based on U shop steward's circulation of decertification ptn and Ees' revocation of checkoff authorizations)

N.L.R.B. v. Antonino Carilli, d/b/a Antonino's Restaurant 648 F.2d 1206 (C.A. 9, June 1981)
(decertification ptn signed by 16 out of unit alleged in ptn to contain 26 Ees not basis for good faith doubt justifying E's termination of payments to pension and health funds, where payments terminated prior to circulation of ptn, GC never offered ptn into evidence to establish number of Ees in unit, and E did not attempt to establish accuracy of number, since E was not prevented from litigating majority status issue notwithstanding precluded from litigating administrative matter of whether showing of interest sufficient to support decertification ptn)

4080-5084-5000—Cont.

4080-5088 Loss of election

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 103
(violation where after U lost decertification election but prior to certification of results of election E unilaterally placed unit Ees on salary and fringe benefit schedule for unrepresented Ees)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 102
(U remains Ees bargaining representative until results of decertification election are certified)

The Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division 250 NLRB No. 102
(unilateral granting of raises and changes of Ee status done while validity of decertification election in doubt, violative)

Dow Chemical Company, Texas Division v. N.L.R.B. 660 F.2d 637 (C.A. 5, Nov 1981)
ct held transfers of former U members to salaried status immediately following decertification of U and before validation of election results, not unlawful, in light of Mike O'Connor Rule (209 NLRB 701); ct rejected Bd finding that E's obligation to bargain continues after U has lost decertification election and until election objections are reviewed by Bd, regardless of whether election is ultimately held lawful)

4080-5093 Filing of petition for election by employer

Flex Plastics, Inc. 262 NLRB No. 078
(notwithstanding impasse reached, neither stalled negotiations, hiatus in bargaining requests, U's alleged inactivity, nor filing of RD and RM petitions, taken separately or together, suffice to raise good faith doubt of U's majority status)

Schmutz Foundry and Machine Company 251 NLRB No. 197
(not valid basis for doubt)

N.T. Enloe Memorial Hospital v. N.L.R.B. 682 F.2d 790 (C.A. 9, July 1982)
(filing of RM ptn by E does not in itself suspend E's duty to bargain; moreover, duty to bargain not suspended when RD schedules hearing based on E's ptn alone; for RM ptn to provide basis it must ultimately be found to be based on sufficient objective grounds to establish good faith doubt as to U's majority status)

W & W Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 934 (C.A. 10, 1979)

4090 TERMINATION OF OBLIGATION BY EMPLOYER BY CHANGED CIRCUMSTANCES

4090-3000 Affiliation with an international union

Amoco Production Company 262 NLRB No. 160
(reversing prior decision in which Bd had held E unlawfully refused to bargain by repudiating contract with U after it affiliated with international U following affiliation election, Bd held E's repudiation of contract was not unlawful since affiliation election, permitting members only to vote, was invalid; in order to provide adequate due process safeguards in affiliation election, all unit Ees, whether U members or not, must be permitted to vote and participate in such election)

The House of The Good Samaritan and The Samaritan-Keep Nursing Home, Inc. 248 NLRB No. 048
(E's refusal to bargain with permanent international affiliate of U after two years' recognition as temporary affiliate, unlawful; no qcr arose where affiliation did not effect substantial changes in representation, and separate vote for affiliation was not required because of continuity of representation)

Aurelia Osborn Fox Memorial Hospital 247 NLRB No. 43
(when collective bargaining representative affiliated with International U and E refused to bargain with U after this point, E violated Act where successor U is same bargaining entity as predecessor U, and since it had right to make its own policy determinations, negotiate contracts, call strikes, and retained right to establish and keep its own dues, local U is autonomous from International; vote in favor of affiliation was unanimous, conformed to U constitution; moreover, fact that vote was not secret or separate vote by unit Ees not held does not negate validity as Us are not held to Bd's own election standards)

Palo Alto Medical Clinic JD-(SF)-282-80
(affiliation of local independent U (Council) with an AFL-CIO chartered U (AFT) did not result in new bargaining entity where no changes made in Council's 1) bargaining committee; 2) administrative structure; 3) authority over its bargaining, content of and administration of agreement; 4) name; 5) bylaws; and 6) authority to levy dues notwithstanding Council agreed to subject itself to AFT's a) constitution and bylaws; b) dues requirements; and c) strike fund and attendant regulations)

N.L.R.B. v. The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Memphis 616 F.2d 949 (C.A. 6, 1980)
(where Teamsters local was affiliated with Brewery Workers International at time E entered into bargaining agreement with Brewery Workers local and Brewery Workers International, E's subsequent withdrawal of recognition from Teamsters local, violative, since Teamsters local wascontinuation of Brewery Workers local)

4090-5000 Change in unit

Contract Carrier, Inc. 258 NLRB No. 043
(E's contention it had no obligation to recognize and bargain with U since scope of unit had substantially changed making only appropriate unit multifacility rather than single plant, rejected, since E did not rebut presumption of appropriateness of single plant unit, where facilities 130 miles apart, little interchange of Ees, separate day-to-day supervision, and bargaining history of single plant unit)

Finger Lakes Plumbing & Heating Co., Inc. 253 NLRB NO. 049
(E's contention that bargaining unit ceased and thus E's obligation to bargain ceased when last active Ee in unit ceased work, rejected, since in unit involving normal fluctuating demand for Ees, work force was deemed to consist of Ees on layoff with reasonable expectancy of further employment as well as Ees actively working, and therefore unit continued to exist and with it E's obligation to bargain; before contract expired, E continued to seek work of type normally performed by unit Ees and, after contract expired, obtained such work and employed Ees to perform it)

C.J.B. Industries 250 NLRB No. 184
(successor E's purchase of 1 of 2 predecessor's plants did not remove successor's bargaining obligation)

Campo Slacks, Inc. and J & E Sportswear, Inc. 250 NLRB No. 097
(withdrawal of recognition of U as bargaining agent for Ees transferred from subsidiary to parent organization in same building, unlawful, as they still remained part of bargaining unit)

W & W Steel Company v. N.L.R.B. 599 F.2d 934 (C.A. 10, 1979)
(where U certified for company-wide unit of P&M Ees employed in predecessor's 7 plants and new E purchases one of these plants, latter E held not successor and its refusal to bargain with certified U not violative, where certification over 2 years old; only 8 of 49 presently employed revealed themselves to be U adherents, 13 had worked for predecessor but did not participate in strike and rest hired by predecessor after strike or new E; no ULPs or U animus by new E, all of which gave rise to good faith doubt of majority status in changed bargaining unit)

4090-7500 Relocation of plant or certain operations

Marine Optical, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 158
(Ees, who constituted a majority at both old and new locations during relocation of operations during contract term, are presumed by reason of contract to continue their designation of U as their bargaining representative; and although Ees from former location no longer constituted majority at new location after old facility was completely closed, it is assumed that new hires in unit desired U representation in same proportion as Ees they replaced)

Marine Optical, Inc. 255 NLRB No. 158
(E's refusal to bargain with U at relocated operation on ground unit was limited to old operation, unlawful, where existing contract remained in effect at new location, operations and equipment at new location were substantially same as at old location, substantial percentage of Ees transferred to new location, and at time of move qcr could not appropriately be raised under existing contract)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(withdrawal of recognition and failure to honor contract at relocated plant 35 miles from old site during period contract served as bar and no qcr present, violative, otherwise, E could unilaterally eliminate or change representative at time when Bd would refuse to allow change; relocation, providing operations and equipment remain substantially same at new location and substantial percentage of Ees (though less than 50) at old plant transfer to new location, has little effect on bargaining obligation)

Westwood Import Company, Inc. 251 NLRB No. 162
(where E committs ULP by transferring only few Ees to relocated plant, Bd will then examine question of whether majority of unit Ees at new facility would have been comprised of Ees from old facility had it not been for E's unlawful activity)

Vitco Steel Supply Corp. JD-103-80
(refusal to recognize U at new location unlawful where new operation was substantial continuation of old operation with same Ees)

N.L.R.B. v. United Optical Workers Union Local 408, Electrical Workers (Marine Optical, Inc.) 671 F.2d 11 (C.A. 1, Feb. 1982)
(E's withdrawal of recognition, refusal to bargain on demand, and unilateral changes after relocating operations violated 8(a)(5) and 8(d); contract's description of unit as consisting of Ees employed at address of E's old facility was not shown to be intended as geographical limitation, as contended, and continuity was sufficient for Bd to apply modified contract-bar doctrine and find contract effective at new facility where there was substantial continuity of operations and in bargaining unit after relocation, and new facility was near old facility and in same state)

4090-7500—Cont.

4800 EFFECT UPON OBLIGATION OF CHANGE IN IDENTITY OF EMPLOYER

4825 OBLIGATION TO RECOGNIZE AND BARGAIN

4825-3300 Alter ego of employer

Fugazy Continental Corp.; Elite Services, Inc. 265 NLRB No. 165
(purchaser of part of E's operations as alter ego of E, obligated to recognize and bargain with victorious U in election, and both purchaser and E violated 8(a)(5) by engaging in bad faith effort to avoid bargaining with U, in view of sham purchase transaction herein intended to continue E's operations in disguised form to avoid its statutory obligations and to thwart Ees' successful organizational efforts; E's extensive and ferocious anti-U campaign up to and beyond time of alleged sale; and subsequent unlawful termination of Ees, refusal to reinstate them, and denial of accrued vacation pay)

Wintz Motor Freight, Inc./Wintz Transportation Company/U.S. Trustee William Westphal 265 NLRB No. 121
(violation where purchasing E, found herein alter ego of predecessor E, terminated Ees w/o advance notice to or bargaining with Us representing Ees of predecessor since it was obligated to recognize and bargain with Us, to honor contracts, and to honor noncontractual conditions of employment of unit Ees)

Wintz Motor Freight, Inc./Wintz Transportation Company/U.S. Trustee William Westphal 265 NLRB No. 121
(violation where purchasing E, found herein alter ego of predecessor E, refused to process grievance filed by U representing predecessor E's Ees)

